PRESIDENT A FIREMAN

Elected an Honorary Member of Brotherhood.

Makes Speech at the Chattanooga Convention.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 8.—President Roosevelt today was elected an honorary member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen. He attended the executive session of the order in the morning, walking from the hotel to the Auditorium, a distance of a few blocks, escorted by Grand Master Sargent, a committee of the brotherhood and a detachment of the state guard.

The brotherhood first held its executive session, which the president attended. Acting Grand Master Hannahan welcomed the president, stating that his attendance at the convention would do great good to organized labor, not only in this country, but in Canada and other countries as well.

The president returned his thanks for the welcome and said he was glad to be with the brotherhood. He said the firemen's brotherhood was the result which naturally comes from the application of the principle of common sense to their work. He said that organized labor never made an unreasonable request of him and that if it had he would have denied it. In speaking of the appointment of Grand Master Sargent, of the brotherhood, to be commissioner general of immigration, the president said it was one of the most satisfactory appointments to him and to the public he had ever made; that Mr. Sargent has a hard body and not a soft head.

John McNamee, of Columbus, Ohio, one of the grand officers and a Democratic member of the legislature, moved that the degree of grand honorary membership be conferred upon President Roosevelt and it was adopted unanimously amid great cheering.

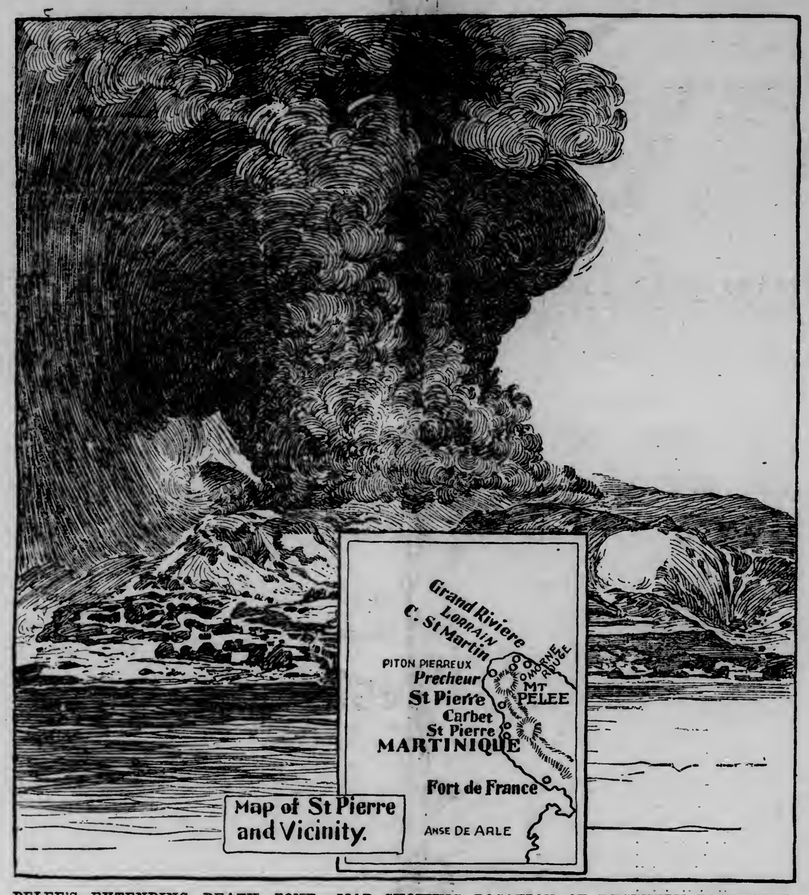

The president thanked the convention for the compliment paid him and Grand Master Sargent then gave him a pass to all meetings. At this point the brotherhood adjourned until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and the public was admitted to the Auditorium to hear the president's address. While the audience was being seated, the band rendered "America," the president and the others in the hall rising.

Mayor Chambliss delivered a short address of greeting in which he welcomed to Chattanooga all the firemen, whether they came from Canada, Mexico or Oyster Bay. Governor McMillan also spoke and Grand Master Sargent spoke. President Roosevelt was introduced by Acting Grand Master Hannahan. His reception was most enthusiastic, the audience rising to its feet and cheering. When the president addressed the convention as "My brothers," he was cheered again. He said he was glad to be here and joined with the others in extending a welcome to the visitors from Canada and Mexico. He needed no pressing, he said, to come to this meeting.

"I always have, gentlemen, admired greatly the railroad men of the country and I do not see how anyone who believes in the fundamental principles of citizenship can fail to do so."

He compared the railroad men to soldiers, who are accustomed to taking risks acting on their own initiative and obeying orders. In raising his own regiment, he said, he got a number of railroad men. Of course, the Several Martinique towns which escaped destruction during the May eruptions of Mont Pelee have been devastated by the recent tremendous explosions. Among these are Morne Rouge and Precheur, where hundreds of returned refugees are said to have been killed.

REGARDED AS PIRATE

Firminist Gunboat Sunk By German Warship.

Interest of Haytien Government Untouched.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—The German foreign office informs the Associated Press that the Haytien provisional government has communicated to Germany that Hayti regarded the Firminist gunboat Crete-a-Pierrot as a pirate and that the interests of Hayti were untouched by the action of the German gunboat Panther in sinking the Crete-a-Pierrot at the entrance of the harbor of Gonaives.

The marine ministry has given out the following official report of the sinking of the Firminist gunboat Crete-a-Pierrot:

"Capt. Eckerman, of the Panther, had received orders to capture the piratical vessel. The Panther went there from Port au Prince to Gonaives, where it completely surprised the Crete-a-Pierrot. The German commandant sent the following ultimatum:

"'Strike your colors within fifteen minutes and disembark from your ship without undertaking any defensive measures whatever, otherwise an immediate attack will follow.'"

"The Panther had already cleared for action. The Crete-a-Pierrot hauled down her flag within the allotted time and the crew disembarked. The Panther then intended to take the Crete-a-Pierrot in tow, but an explosion of her after powder magazine soon occurred, which was evidently effected by the Crete-a-Pierrot's crew. The explosion destroyed her stern and set the vessel on fire, rendering taking her in tow impossible, especially as further explosions followed. As this was regarded as a hostile act and as the guns afore were still in condition, the Panther's captain caused the forward magazine to be exploded through a cannonade. After this was exploded the Crete-a-Pierrot broke up and sank. The admiral was on board with the rebels.

London, Sept. 8.—A few of the afternoon newspapers in commenting on the subject, seem to anticipate that the sinking of the Firminist gunboat Crete-a-Pierrot by the German gunboat Panther at the entrance of Gonaives harbor may prove controversial. "So summary a revenge for a breach of international courtesy," says the St. James Gazette," is like breaking the frailest butterfly on the largest wheel. Supposing the butterfly's big neighbor takes a hand in the game, matters may become almost serious."

The Westminster Gazette, speculating on the matter, holds that "nothing in Monroeism prevents a big continental power from boxing the ears of a troublesome boy on the other hemisphere, so long as the big boy does not proceed to eat or otherwise annex the small one."

Port Au Prince, Hayti, Sept. 8.—The German gunboat Panther arrived here Sept. 5 and received instructions from the German government to capture the Firminist gunboat Crete-a-Pierrot. She left immediately for Gonaives, the seat of the Firminist government. The Panther found the Crete-a-Pierrot in the harbor of Gonaives and the commander of the German gunboat informed Admiral Killick on the Crete-a-Pierrot, that he must remove his crew and surrender his vessel in five minutes' time. Admiral Killick asked that this time be extended to fifteen minutes. This request was granted on the condition that the arms and ammunition on board the Crete-a-Pierrot should be abandoned when her crew left her.

The crew of the Crete-a-Pierrot left that vessel amid great disorder. At the end of fifteen minutes the Panther sent a small boat carrying an officer and twenty sailors who were to take possession of the Firminist gunboat. When these men had arrived at a point about thirty yards from the Crete-a-Pierrot, flames were seen to be issuing on board of her. She had been fired by her crew before they left her. The Panther then fired on the Crete-a-Pierrot until she was completely immersed. Thirty shots all told were fired.

There is much feeling here against the Firminists, and their cause is considered to be a bad one. Soldiers are leaving here to attack St. Marc. Port au Prince is calm.

IMMENSE SUM OF GOLD

Now In the United States Treasury Exceeds Any Previous Amount and Beats the World's Record With One Exception.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The sum of gold now in the United States treasury exceeds that of any previous time in the history of the country and with one possible exception, it exceeds that of any country at any time in the history of the world. The single reported exception is that of Russia about eight years ago, when that country was preparing to resume gold payments. At that time Russia is said to have had in its treasury $558,000,000 in gold. Last Saturday the vaults of the United States treasury contained $573,926,194, an increase since July 1, 2901, of $79,087,897. This stock of gold is now being added to at the rate of from $250,000 to $300,000 a day with no immediate prospect of a cessation in the rate of deposits. This condition of things is eminently satisfactory to the treasury officials who regard it as the best possible evidence of prosperity and of confidence in the financial stability of this country.

The gold now coming in is being replaced by gold certificates. United States notes and silver certificates, the former being supplied where the denominations wanted are $20 and over, the United States notes for tens and silver certificates for fives, twos and ones.

A CONTEST AT DENVER

A Warm Time Is Expected at the Colorado Democratic State Convention Over the Nomination For Governor.

Denver, Sept. 8.—There promises to be a warm fight in the state Democratic convention which meets in Denver tomorrow over the nomination for governor. The leading candidates are Governor James B. Orman, Judge C. E. Stimson, of Cripple Creek, and Judge T. Stevens, of Ouray. Ormen will probably receive over 400 votes on the first ballot. To be nominated he must have 451 votes and his opponents anticipate that he will lack the requisite number on the first ballot and will not be able to hold his forces together on subsequent ballots. More than 200 delegates are instructed for Stimson and 125 for Stevens. Other candidates are Samuel C. Spencer, of Gunnison; Gen. Joseph Maupin, of Fremont, and R. H. Malone, of Denver.

SUPPOSED TO HAVE SUICIDED

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Petzold, a teamster formerly employed by Jacob Lauer, a stone contractor, is supposed to have committed suicide yesterday by jumping from the high bridge. Petzold was a man of 58. He formerly lived at 339 Webster street, and has a wife and family, but has not been living with them for some time.

Petzold's hat, coat and vest were found on the high bridge this morning, about 5:30, by J. H. Heald. Letters found in Petzold's room by the police tend to show that he committed suicide.

MANY MINERS RETURNING

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 8.—A telegram from New River at noon says that between 300 and 500 of the striking miners returned to work at the various mines this morning. Most of the accessions are at Red Ash, Rush Run, Prudence, Brooklyn and Red Star mines, although all the mines report accessions. Managers say the strike in New River will be entirely broken not later than Wednesday. The Kanawha field is not so successful, the report that Coalburg mines, working under Receiver McClintock, had agreed to sign the union scale having had the effect of holding the Kanawha men in line to a large extent.

MANY WARRANTS ARE ISSUED

St. Louis, Sept. 8.—J. K. Murrell, formerly a member of the lower house of the municipal assembly of this city, who fled to Mexico last spring after being indicted for bribery in connection with the alleged boodling operations of that body in relation to the granting of street railway franchises, has returned to the city and was taken before the grand jury today. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of eighteen former and present members of the house of delegates, all of whom are charged with bribery and fifteen of them are charged with perjury in having given false testimony before the grand jury several months ago.

IN MAINE.

State Election Brings Out Heavier Vote Than Usual.

Portland, Me., Sept. 8.—Splendid weather favored the voters of Maine today and reports from the larger cities of the state indicate a heavier vote than usual. The forces in all sections where the fight has been lively renewed their operations early this morning and continued active all day. Every possible vote was brought out in Cumberland and Androscoggin counties by the Prohibition, Republican and Democratic workers. In Portland city every stable horse and many private carriages were engaged in carrying voters to the polls. The Republicans claim that their majority will be at least 16,000 in the state.

ENGINEERS

Of United States and Canada Meet In Convention.

Pittsburg, Sept. 8.—The sixth annual convention of the International Union of Steam Engineers, composed of the marine, stationary and hoisting engineers of the United States and Canada, convened here today with 150 delegates present. The first session was devoted to the work of organization. Among the subjects to be considered will be extending aid to the striking miners, the establishment of a fund for accident, sick and death benefits, and the advisability of urging the adoption of laws requiring men employed about boilers to take out licenses. The convention will also be asked to take action refusing to accept any of the miners' strike funds in aid of the engineers' local that have gone out in the anthracite district.

VICTIM OF WRECK.

Mrs. Bickford Died Without Regaining Consciousness.

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Anna J. Bickford, of Albert Lea, died yesterday at Waseca, as the result of injuries received in the wreck of the Chicago & Northwestern train which was blown from the track near Meridan, a week ago Saturday.

Mrs. Mickford was unconscious from the time she was released from the wreck until her death.

A NEW GOLF RECORD.

New York, Sept. 8.—Marion Wright, a Philadelphia golfer, has made a new record in drives, says a Newport, R. I., dispatch to the Herald. He succeeded in driving a ball from the Newsport reading room to the Newport Golf club, a distance of three and four-fifths miles, in ninety-nine strokes.

MINE FIRE EXTINGUISHED.

Bramwell, W. Va., Sept. 8.—The fire in the West Pocahontas collieries is extinguished. The company has offered $1000 reward for information that will lead to the identity of the parties who set fire to the mines.

EARTHQUAKE IN FRANCE.

Pau, Department of Basse-Pyrenees, France, Sept. 8.—A strong earthquake shock, lasting six seconds, was felt here at 2:30 this morning.

BEAT OUT HIS BRAINS

Union Pickets Mistake Two Italian Miners For Non-Union Men, Kill One and Probably Fatally Injure the Other.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 8.—Two Italian striking miners named Frank Portay and Sistino Vancostello left their homes in Sawyersville near here, this morning to go on a hunting trip. As they approached the Harry E colliery, they were held up by the pickets who mistook them for armed non-union men going to work. The pickets at once attacked the Italians. Vancostello was shot in the leg and his brains beaten out with stones and clubs. His companion, Portay, was knocked down, his gun taken away and then his assailants beat him with clubs so that his life is despaired of. Sheriff Jacobs and a large number of deputies went on the scene. The friends of the dead Italians have sworn vengeance and threaten to kill the men, who committed the assault on their countrymen.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 8.—A crowd of striking miners, mostly foreigners, remained all night around the lockup at Edwardsville where Hiram Fisher was confined. The prisoner was held up last night as he was returning from one of the mines where he is employed as a coal and iron policeman. Thinking his life was in danger he fired into the crowd and two of the bullets struck Mrs. John Kasmaugh, a Polish woman, who was seated on her porch some distance away. After firing the shots, Fisher was set upon by the mob and beaten so badly that he was left for dead on the road. Later he was taken to the town lockup, where a physician was in attendance a greater part of the night. This morning Fisher was little better. Notwithstanding his condition the mob gathered on the outside of the lockup and wanted to beat down the place and lynch him. The guard prevented this.

DESPERADOES KILLED

A Tennessee Posse Runs Down Desperate Gang Killing Two of Them and Making the Third a Prisoner.

Rogersville, Tenn., Sept. 8.—Jim Wright and John Templeton, noted Hancock county desperadoes, were killed and Wright's son was captured by a posse of twenty-five, headed by Joe Moss, of Gate City, Va.

In the fight Wright shot and probably fatally wounded George Wolf, of Spears Ferry, Va., and Jack Rogers, of Rogersville, both of whom were members of the pursuing posse.

Two fights took place, and in the first, which occurred at 10 o'clock last night, Templeton was instantly killed and Wright's son was captured. Jim Wright, however, retreated to a nearby house, where he engaged the officers until daylight, when he was routed out and killed as he could not be taken alive. Wright was an escaped convict from the Tennessee penitentiary, where he was serving a sentence for murder. Wright and Tempelton are said to have killed as many as six men each.

The scene of the action was about eighteen miles east of Rogersville. Moss has been hunting for Wright and Templeton for many weeks.

FAIR GREATEST IN HISTORY

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of managers of the state fair held an informal meeting yesterday morning, when the superintendent of each department made a verbal report. The reports were eminently satisfactory and showed that in every department the fair had been the greatest in the history of Minnesota.

The secretary and treasurer were busy all day yesterday paying off help and premiums, and no detailed statement of the financial outcome of the fair will be possible for some days, as there are still many items to be settled. The profits of the fair will be about $5,000 and the attendance as stated yesterday was 230,000.

The state fair officials paid out about $40,000 Saturday and yesterday, the greater part of it in cash. All payments are made in cash except where checks are desired. The fair week pay roll of the association aggregates about $10,000.

TO UNITE PRESBYTERIANS

Washington, Sept. 8.—The Morgan presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian church unanimously passed a resolution in their annaul meeting here favoring the union of the Cumberland Presbyterian churches and the Presbyterian churches, as follows: As the Presbyterian church has revised its creed of faith so as not to be objectionable to the Cumberland Presbyterian church, therefore, resolved, that the Morgan presbytery expresses itself as being in favor of a union of the two churches as soon as practicable. Similar action was taken at Decatur, Ill., and it is thought united actions will cause the general assembly to take the matter up and discuss it favorably at their next meeting at Chattanooga in May, 1903.

TO ATTACK THE MOROS

Gen. Sumner Will Lead a Column Against the Hostile Natives In Mindanao and Compel Them to Be Good.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The war department has received a cable dispatch from Gen. Chaffee dated Manila, Sept. 6, stating that an attack was made upon the United States troops at Matiling Falls, seven miles from camp Vicars, by Moros Sept. 1. First Lieut. William M. Parker, Tenth Infantry, and two soldiers wounded and one soldier killed. Gen. Chaffee also says:

"Have authorized Brig. Gen. Samuel S. Sumner to move troops into Macin country and exact a promise of good behavior in the future from Datos and followers. Troops have been attacked twelve times since May 2, with loss to us of four killed and twelve wounded. We have remained all the time quiet, seeking friendship; in action, self defense only."

The last part of Gen. Chaffe's dispatch evidently is intended to inform the war department that the army has been acting wholly upon the defensive in the Moro country. His instructions have been to do nothing which would provoke a conflict with the Moros and the position of the war department is that if there is a conflict it must be justified by the aggressions of the Moros. Some time ago Gen. Chaffee asked for authority to attack the Moros immediately, but he was advised the department wished to avoid hostilities if possible. At the same time it has long been the belief of the officials of the department that an aggressive campaign in Mindanao is inevitable and it would not be surprising if there should be a forward movement of the United States troops in a short time.

SUPPLIES FOR INSURGENTS

New York, Sept. 8.—Loaded down with dynamite and carrying in her hold a large quantity of ammunition, it is alleged, the steamer Maid of Patuca has sailed from this port, says a Baltimore dispatch to the Herald. Every member of the crew of twelve carried rifles and cartridges. It was stated that she was to be used in building a jetty at the mouth of the Patuca river, in Honduras, but along the water front the impression prevails that the steamer is carrying ammunition for the insurgents in Columbia.

RAIN WILL CHECK CHOLERA

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—"A bountiful downpour of rain is the only remedy which will check the cholera epidemic now raging in the Philippines," so said Capt. E. H. Southall, a surgeon in the United States army, who has arrived here on the transport Buford. Capt. Southall was for a time in charge of the cholera hospital in Manila. In speaking of the epidemic he said: "The Americans in the Philippines seem unable to cope with the cholera plague. Despite the rigorous methods used to suppress it, the disease seems to spread and increase. It is very difficult to get correct figures of the mortality due to cholera because of the fact that the natives hide the dead and try to keep knowledge of the presence of the disease from the authorities."

JUMPED FROM MOVING TRAIN

New York, Sept. 8.—While on the way to New York from Kansas City, in the custody of a detective, Herman Neuman jumped through the window of an express train going at the rate of fifty miles an hour, at a point midway between Rhinecliff and Stattsburg, on the New York Central road today, and was so badly hurt that he will die. Neuman was a collector in this city for a brewing company, and, it is alleged, he was $1500 short in his accounts. Neuman left the city. The police declared that Neuman had also committed bigamy. He was arrested in Kansas City and left there on Saturday evening in custody.

DUE TO LITTLE JACK'S DEATH

New York, Sept. 8.—The death of John D. Rockefeller's grandson "Jack," two years ago, has enabled two students, one at Johns Hopkins and the other at the University of Pennsylvania medical schools to discover what is believed to be the organism or germ of disease that carries off so many little ones every summer and which is commonly called "summer complaint," says a Baltimore, Md., special to the World.

When little "Jack" died two years ago, Mr. Rockfeller is said to have offered a fund of $200,000 to be devoted to research. The outcome of this offer is the reported discovery of the fatal germ. In forty-two cases the organism found is nearly identical with that which produces dysentery in adults.

AT WEST DULUTH

William Crangle, the man who was arrested on a warrant sworn out by his wife for non-support, was bound over by Judge Stone Saturday evening in the sum of $100 bail, which he has been unable to secure. Crangle's case is a bad one and if his latest promise does not turn out well, a state's prison stares him in the face.

Some time ago Crangle was arrested on two charges, one of intoxication, and one of wife-beating. He was tried on the former charge and convicted. During his trial the judge said that he thought fifteen days would be about right, but in writing out the commitment papers, made it ten. When Crangle heard this he told Judge Stone that it had better be fifteen, so the accommodating judge made it twenty. When Crangle finished this, he went to his wife and persuaded her to withdraw the assault charge. This was done, after which Crangle took up his abode at a neighbor's and drawing a sum of money due him at the blast furnace, gave his wife $5 and went out for a good time. This was the only money that she received during the last two weeks, consequently she swore out the warrant for non-support.

Crangle said that he had a sum of money coming to him from a sister and telegraphed for it, but when he got an answer that there was none there, he discovered he had asked the wrong sister. This mistake he immediately rectified, but no word has since been received and the prisoner lies in the county jail.

What makes the case especially deplorable is that Mrs. Crangle is in a delicate condition and is unable to do anything towards her own support.

REPUBLICAN CLUB.

The meeting of the West Duluth Republican club which took place Saturday evening, was one of the best held for some time. A large number of the candidates were out, there being one or more for each office.

A smoker and love feast was held with no partisan feeling, and the members were highly delighted with the spirit displayed. There was a large attendance.

Among the speakers of the evening were: G. J. Mallory, Bert N. Wheeler, Judge Bonham, Odin Halden, A. T. Park, Judge Edson, and Ole Larson.

No particular business was done, it being a social gathering.

REAL ESTATE CIRCLES.

Several deals were closed in real estate circles during last week, while a number of others are pending. A healthy, steady demand has been noted for houses, while property is selling at good prices.

E. F. Belleperche purchased, through J. I. Frey, a lot on Central avenue, near the car shops. The consideration was $300.

M. Kemerer purchased, through the same agency, a house and lot on Fifty-first avenue. He also bought a house on Sixty-first avenue, which he will move on lot 8, block 35, on Fifty-seventh avenue.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS.

The West Duluth barbers say that the proposed early closing movement will come to nothing. There was never any serious thought over the matter and it was not even seriously discussed.

IN MICHIGAN.

Party on Yacht Had Hard Time on Lake Michigan.

Menominee—Isaac Stephenson's steam yacht Bonita, with the owner and a party of friends aboard, had a rough time on Lake Michigan last week. Midway between Gull and Poverty islands, on her return from Mackinac island, with a big sea running from the southwest and the waves dashing over her decks, one of the pipes in the Bonita's boiler burst. The engineer, who was back of the engine at the time and was required to pass in front of the furnace to get upon the deck, had a narrow escape from a severe scalding. The first attempt to mend the boiler proved ineffectual, a crack having been discovered in one of the pipe elbows. This finally was bound with wire and the fires were rekindled. She had at that time about four hours to steam up or run on shore, unless her flag of distress was heeded. She got up steam just off of Manistique and was sighted by a tug shortly before that time. There were ten women and seven men in the party. The bursting of the pipe was due to a clogged upright, whose condition is laid to the use of soft coal, dealers at the Soo having refused to part with hard coal at any price. The party returned to Menominee from Manistique by rail.

Escanaba—The 2-year-old daughter of Mrs. Secour, of Escanaba, was run down by a trolley car the other afternoon and instantly killed. Motorman M. B. Finney was arrested, but subsequently was released, being exonerated by the coroner's jury.

Crystal Falls—Work on the new plant of the Crystal Falls Woodenware company, at Crystal Falls, has been commenced, and the speedy completion of the job has been ordered. Frank E. Lucas, until recently superintendent and a large stockholder in the Escanaba Woodenware company, probably the largest woodenware manufacturing concern in the United States, is manager of the new concern.

Sault Ste. Marie—Miss Rose Adelaide O'Brien, one of the handsomest society girls in the Soo, was married to Edward Francis Burns, of Bay City, formerly of Chicago. The ceremony was performed at St. Mary's church. The groom has been awarded high degrees from the literary and scientific departments of Assumption college, Magill university and Toronto university. He is a brilliant orator and an active politician. Two years ago Mr. Burns made a tour of Michigan under the auspices of the Republican state central committee.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Northern Pacific and Soo Road Joint Tariff Is Out.

Important Reductions In Grain Rates Made Effective.

Northern Pacific Announces a New Reduced Potato Tariff.

The joint tariff rate of the Northern Pacific and the Soo roads on grains and flax from points in Minnesota and North and South Dakota to Duluth and Superior, have just been received at the local freight offices of the Northern Pacific company, although the rates became effective Aug. 28. The new rates are of no little interest for the reason that an important reduction has been noted from many non-competitive as well as competitive shipping points in the Western wheat country. The principal reductions have been made from Minnesota points, the largest cut being about 4 cents per hundred.

The Soo road, which has just completed its line to Bismarck, N. D., is quoting its first grain rate from that point to the head of the lakes, which is 18 cents per hundred, the same rate being made from intermediate points on the Soo line. The Northern Pacific makes the same rate from Bismarck.

The grain traffic over the Soo road is in conjunction with the Northern Pacific, the latter company's tracks being used from Glenwood, Minn., the junction point.

Following is a list of some of the principal grain shipping points on the two lines in Minnesota, showing the change in rates:

| | Old rate. | New rate. |
|---|---|---|
| Rockford..... | 13 | 10 |
| Dickinson..... | 13 | 10 |
| Buffalo..... | 13 | 10 |
| Eden Valley..... | 13 | 11½ |
| Painesville..... | 13½ | 12 |
| Glenwood..... | 14½ | 12½ |
| Elbow Lake..... | 14½ | 13½ |

The change from some of the Dakota points is noted as follows:

| | Old rate. | New rate. |
|---|---|---|
| Wyndmere..... | 15½ | 14½ |
| Kenmare..... | 22 | 19 |
| Burlington..... | 22 | 19 |

A POTATO TARIFF.

Northern Pacific Announces One Effective Sept. 10.

The receipts of Western Minnesota and North Dakota potatoes are growing larger daily, and as the reports indicate a good crop this season, it is expected that the receipts will be quite heavy at the head of the lakes during the fall and early winter.

The Northern Pacific road has just announced its special tariff on potatoes to Duluth and Superior from the western points, effective Sept. 10.

The new tariff supercedes the tariff issued in July, 1898, and notes a number of reductions in the rate per 100 pounds, although there is no change, practically, from the majority of potato shipping points. A large number of new shipping points are designated in the last issue. Some of the important changes in rates are noted, as follows:

| | Old Rate. | New Rate. |
|---|---|---|
| Little Falls .. .. ..... | 12 | 10½ |
| Sauk Rapids .. .. .. .... | 14 | 13 |
| Mandan, N. D. .. .. ..... | 21 | 20 |
| Glendive, N. D. ..... | 25 | 22½ |
| Dickinson, Minn. .. .. .... | 27 | 24 |

After G. A. R. Business.

The lines east of Chicago have already begun to hustle in the Northwest for business to the G. A. R. encampment at Washington this fall. Robert Haase, of St. Paul, northern passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio road, was among the visitors at the local railroad offices today and brought with him a goodsized bunch of Baltimore & Ohio literature relative to the encampment and the inducements offered by his road.

Advertise Fishing Trips.

Sidney J. Huntley, formerly in the newspaper business in Dessel, Minn., and now connected with Seipel & Huntley, of this city, will leave this week on a trip down the South Shore road, visiting the fishing and hunting points in the interest of some new advertising literature that the railroad company will soon issue.

Short Lines.

Yesterday the Omaha road ran the last of its special trains to Solon Springs, for the season. The Sunday excursions have been very convenient for the head of the lake people that have summer homes at the Wisconsin resort, and for many who have taken advantage of the rates for a day's outing. The excursion yesterday was a large one.

Louis W. Hill, of St. Paul, assistant to the president of the Great Northern road, was a visitor in Duluth yesterday, returning to St. Paul last evening.

MASONIC NOTICE.

All members of Ionic and Palestine lodges, A. F. & A. M., and sojourning Master Masons, are requested to meet at Masonic hall, Tuesday, Sept. 9, 1902, at 11 a. m. sharp, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, Robert O. Sweeny. By order W. M.

JNO. COX, Secretary.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Burglars Made a Haul at Hubbard, O.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 8.—The safe of the Hubbard, Ohio, postoffice, five miles north of here, was drilled open by burglars last night. The robbers secured $400 worth of stamps, $200 from the money order department, a certificate of deposit on the Newton Falls, O., bank for $300 and $150 belonging to the postmaster, William Evans. The cracksmen entered the postoffice through a window. The burglary was not discovered until this morning.

PREVENT DISEASE

Rev. A. F. Elmquist Thinks That Beats Curing It.

Advocates Much Closer Attention to Primary Health Conditions.

Good Record of Swedish Sick and Benefit Society.

The fifth annual meeting of the Swedish Sick and Benefit society was held Saturday evening in Columbia hall in the West End. There was a large attendance at the exercises and an enjoyable time was had.

The society was organized in 1897 and the membership now numbers 100. Since the organization of the society it has paid out over $2000 in sick benefits. Five members of the association have died since its organization—Rev. C. A. Cassel, Ludwig Gustafrom, J. W. Nelson, Ivenson Hagstedt and Albert Dahl.

The presidents of the society have been L. J. Willner, Rev. C. A. Cassel, F. W. Erickson, Andrew Horngren and Aldred Thoren. The latter is the presiding officer at the present time.

At the meeting Saturday night, Rev. A. F. Elmquist, pastor of the Bethany Lutheran church, spoke on the primary conditions of health and was heard with much interest. He said in part:

"It is better and cheaper to follow up the primary conditions of health than to allow them to suffer. The patent medicine man is frequently a millionaire, and the greater number of practioners are making money. I say not necessarily unjustly. But the time has come for the civilized people of the world to see to the primary conditions of health and hinder sickness, pestilence and the decadence of manhood and womanhood. The ancients understood these vital principles of health. Compare the glories of the perfect manhood of the ancient Greek with the man and woman of today."

Rev. Elmquist characterized the gymnasium as one of the best means of gaining health. He said that the doctors were all right in their place, especially as surgeons, but reasoned that their services could be avoided in thousands of cases.

"What we need now is a science for the prevention of disease more than the cure of it. The Chinese pay their doctors while well, we while sick. In the one case it pays for the physician to keep the person well, in the other it pays better to keep him sick. We have ample aid for the prevention of disease. We need only to mention the old standbys, fresh air, exercise and proper diet."

The speaker went into the microbe question to some extent and said that they spread chiefly through drinking water. Consequently there is great need for good sanitation.

"How then," continued the speaker, "can we prevent the scourge of sickness and live a normal and healthy life and without sudden and acute pain, enter at a ripe old age the eternal life promised us? We can do it by conquering predisposition and by prevention. We may be predisposed to some disease or other and this predisposition must be overcome. You probably have a predisposition to alcohol. You are not to blame for it. Your father and grandfather probably never touched the poison, but your great-grandfather did and therefore you are predisposed. I say kill the viper or he will kill you. You may be predisposed to avarice or to combativeness. In order to assist humanity in the laudable effort to conquer evil predisposition let it be incumbent on every woman never to become the mother of drunkard's children. If she does, she will have idiocy, insanity and drunkenness for haunting ghosts through life and their painful memories hereafter."

The speaker characterized typhoid fever as one of the most dreaded diseases. But this can be prevented with some degree of care. Ninety-nine per cent of the typhoid cases are caused by impure water, and if this matter were carefully watched there would need be no fear hereafter. Decayed teeth often cause disease, while eye diseases can almost always be prevented by the exercise of a little care.

Mr. Frederick Warde

will speak at Elks' hall Tuesday afternoon at 2:45, under the auspices of a committee of the Saturday club. Subject, "Shakespeare, an Apostle of Christianity." ADMISSION, 25c.

MORE MEN

Return to Work In the Collieries at Tamaqua.

Tamaqua, Pa., Sept. 8.—Today the Lehigh Coal & Navigation company claims to have more men at work than it has had on any other day since the strike began. The company, however, will not give out a definite statement as to the number of men who are mining coal. Only two of the collieries being operated, Nos. 1 and 2. This morning a company of soldiers and the governor's troop patrolled the valley. They report that there was no trouble.

United Mine Workers leaders deny that the company has made any gains. They say they can prove all the men are standing firm. The company, they assert, is making a strong effort to break the strike, but is not meeting with success.

SHOT BY SON-IN-LAW.

Boston, Sept. 8.—John C. Lehnemann was shot in the abdomen during a quarrel last night by his son-in-law, James C. Duane, a prominent business man of this city and Brooklyn, and died today. The shooting is said to have been the outcome of a series of family quarrels. Lehnemann was 50 years old. Duane is 26. He is under arrest.

Brain=hunger

Phosphates are food qualities which, when they have entered the system, give phosphorus for the gray matter of the brain and nerves.

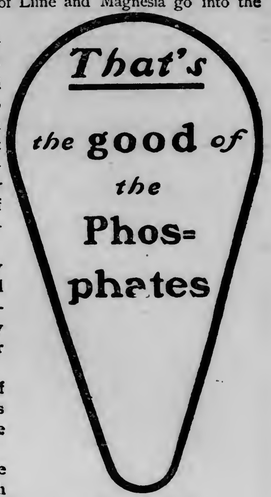

The brain is built in part of Phosphates and uses up Phosphorus in every thought. The nerves contain Phosphorus, and use up quantities of it daily. The greater the brain-strain and nerve-strain the greater is the amount of Phosphorus used.

Phosphorus of course cannot be eaten by itself. It can only be taken in in Phosphates (in which the Phosphorus is combined with other elements). These make the Myelin, Cerebrin and Kephalin of the brain and nerves. Phosphates of Lime and Magnesia go into the building of teeth and bones.

Phosphates are found in nearly all natural foods, but not in sufficient quantities;—like the gold in the clay under New York, too little of it and too far apart. In white flour for instance, the part of the grain which has the Phosphates in it is taken out in order to make the flour white. In beef the parts which are rich in Phosphate are not eaten.

The fact is that, for the busy modern man,—using his brain and nerves for all they are worth,—there has been no food that really supplies enough Phosphates for his needs.

Our bodies are products of what we eat, and "health" is merely the even running of the well-built and well-kept body.

APITEZO is a purely vegetable food, enriched with Natural Plant Phosphates,—giving a rich supply of energy for the greatest exertion of brain and nerves. You can face the hardest brain work and the severest nerve tension without a "strain," if your system is thoroughly nourished on APITEZO.

A crisp, dainty biscuit studded with crystals of plant sugar. Prepared for easy and complete digestion. In each crumb and mouthful is every element of human health and strength. With cream or without APITEZO is delicious. All grocers sell it.

first requisite was that a man should know how to ride and how to shoot. Giving them these two qualities he found there was no better group from which soldiers could be drawn than railroad men.

The president said he hoped and believed that the danger of war would be less in the future than it has been in the past. At the opening of the twentieth century we face conditions vastly changed from a century ago. We, as a people find awaiting us problems which need our best thoughts to solve them. The president referred to the good work accomplished by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

"I believe emphatically," he said, "in organized labor. The work of an organization depends upon its being handled with the courage, the skill, the wisdom, the spirit of fair dealing as between man and man and the wise self restraint which I am glad to be able to say your brotherhood has shown."

The president spoke of the necessity of work. "I pity the creature who does not work," he said, "at whichever end of the social scale he may regard himself as being." He said the law of work well done secures the successful American citizen. Discussing the benefits which have grown out of the organization of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the president said he firmly believed that the individual firemen, since the growth of the brotherhood, had been more, not less, efficient than he was twenty years ago.

"I feel that organizations like yours have a tonic effect upon the whole body politic. It is a good thing that there should be a large body of our fellow citizens who administer the old qualities of courage, daring and resolute, unflinching willingness to meet danger at need, and there should be a profession whose members must year in and year out display these qualities. I hope to see all our people develop the softer, gentler virtues to an ever-increasing degree, but I hope never to see them lose the sterner virtues that make men. The problem of good citizenship is a problem of producing good men and women.

"All the organizations in the world won't make a coward or a shirk of a good engineer or a good fireman, and the best constitution will work but ill if we have not in the average citizen something that stands as far above intellect as intellect does above mere brute strength—character that is composed of honesty, of courage and of hard common sense."

The president told of his trip over the battlefield of Chickamauga yesterday and drew a lesson of the heroism shown the armies of the North and South. He referred to the inscription on the monument raised by Kentucky to the Union and Confederate soldiers from that state, which fell on that battlefield. He read the inscription as follows:

"As we are united in life and they united in death, let one monument perpetuate their deeds and one people forgetful of all asperities, forever holding in grateful remembrance all the glories of that terrible conflict which made all men free and retained every star on the nation's flag."

"That is a good sentiment; that is a sentiment by which we can all stand. I firmly believe in my countrymen, and therefore I believe the chief thing necessary, in order that they should work together, is that they should know one another; that the men North should know the Southerners; that the men of one occupation should know the men of another occupation; so we may all realize that the things that divide us are superficial, are unimportant, and that we are and ever must be knit together into one indissoluble mass by common American manhood."

As the president concluded, he was roundly cheered.

LIGHTNING AT EAU CLAIRE.

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—A special from Eau Claire, Wis., to the Dispatch says: In a sharp electric storm, about 2 o'clock this morning, the high school was struck by lightning and slightly damaged. The residence of Beck Bostwick, nearby, was in the path of the bolt and all the family were severely shocked.

CANDIDATES AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION.

For Auditor.

ODIN HALDEN—The present county auditor, announces that he is a candidate for renomination at the hands of the Republican voters of St. Louis county at the primary election to be held Sept. 16. During his services as county auditor he has made a record as a careful, conservative and reliable official, one who has done what he thought to be right without fear or favor, and in asking the voters to support him at the primary election he rests his claims for support upon that record.

For Register of Deeds.

L. M. JOHNSON is a candidate for Register of Deeds. He is a member of the Typographical union, and is prominent in the West End of the city. He is a Swedish-American, and if nominated will bring strength to the ticket.

County Supt. of Schools.

SUPERINTENDENT ANDREW T. PARK asks your vote, Sept. 16, to make him the Republican nominee for county superintendent of schools.

BERT N. WHEELER, son of H. W. Wheeler, of Oneota, has resigned his position as principal of the Bryant school to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for county superintendent. His acquaintance with the needs of the schools fits him for the position. If nominated and elected he will do his duty.

W. H. STULTZ, with many years' experience in the school room, seeks the Republican nomination for county superintendent.

For Sheriff.

JOHN T. ARMSTEAD is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff at the coming primary election, and solicits the favor of voters on the ground that he always has been a consistent Republican.

JOHN R. MEINING is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and solicits the votes and support of all Republicans on his record as a persistent worker for the party and competent business man.

OLE LARSON is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and is the choice of the labor oranizations for this office. Vote for him Sept. 16.

JOHN A. HEALY, of Hibbing, announces himself as a candidate at the primary election for the Republican nomination for sheriff and solicits the support of Republicans throughout the county. He is a successful business man and is unqualifiedly endorsed by the leading Republicans of the Mesaba. He has served four years as deputy sheriff, with credit.

For County Commissioner.

LOUIS R. HELBING announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in the Second district. If nominated and elected, he pledges himself to devote his attention to a careful, economical and judicious administration of the county's funds, that the best results for the people may be secured with a minimum expenditure of public money.

For Congress.

M. L. FAY, of Virginia, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth district, subject to the decision of the voters at the primaries, Sept. 16. Capt. Fay has been a resident of the district for a number of years, and his record as a citizen and a Democrat is well known. He is especially well known in St. Louis county, having been a large employer of labor on the Mesaba range in St. Louis county and Itasca county. He has the respect of the men that have worked for him, and the consideration of his business associates and acquaintances, and if nominated and elected he promises to work for the best interests of the district.

For State Senator Fifty-First District.

HON. GEORGE R. LAYBOURN is a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator from the Fifty-first district, which he has ably served three terms as representative. His work and standing in the legislature reflect credit upon himself and his constituents, and his nomination as state senator will be only a well deserved promotion. Vote for him on Sept. 16th.

For Representative.

RAY T. LEWIS announces himself to the voters as candidate for the Republican nomination for representative for the Fiftieth district. He asks your votes and support on Sept. 16.

PECULIAR MAN

Was Panmure Gordon Who Died Recently.

New York, Sept. 8.—By the death, at Nauheim, of Panmure Gordon, the stock exchange has lost a most interesting personality, says a Herald dispatch from London. He was a great purveyor of successful trips to Mayfair—tips which circulated like magic. He lived both his business and his social life at top pressure. He had a passion for trousers, and when he went to America for a year he had one pair a day in his personal kit, with over 200 pairs thrown in, and he was the only man who ever developed an entire chapter in a serious travel book to the story of the loss and subsequent recovery of his favorite breeches. Besides an inordinate passion for clothes—his wardobe, when it perished in a fire at his county place a few years ago, is said to have included 1000 neckties and fifty new sticks and umbrellas—he had a craze for collecting all sorts of carriages. His coach house was thus an universal exhibition of the modern traveling and pleasure carriages. On his fishing and shooting tours in Scotland he frequently made use of a caravan, part of which were an elaborate dining car and a kitchen on wheels.

BATTLESHIPS AT NEW YORK.

New York, Sept. 8.—The battleships Massachusetts, Alabama and Kearsarge, and the cruiser Brooklyn, arrived today from the scene of the recent army and navy maneuvers at the eastern end of Long Island sound. Just prior to the arrival of this squadron, the torpedo flotilla of eight craft passed out the narrows bound to sea.

SHE HURT HER FOOT

Ina A. Nutting Therefore Wants $4000 From the City.

Claims Defective Sidewalk Gave Her a Wrenched Ankle.

William Searle Pleads Guilty to Carving His Niece.

The always present personal injury case was the first to get started in the district court this morning.

The trial was begun in Judge Dibell's room and was the first to get a jury.

The case is that of Ina A. Nutling against the city of Duluth. The plaintiff alleges that on Aug. 15, 1901, she was walking on East First street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues east, when she put her foot through the sidewalk. The planks, while they looked safe enough on their face, were insecure and the plaintiff was thrown to the ground, her foot being securely caught in the walk. The ankle, it is alleged, was very severely bruised and since that time the plaintiff has been able to use it but little, so severely was it wrenched.

In room No. 3, before Judge Ensign and a jury, the case of Edmund F. Krelwitz against Orrin D. Kinney was begun.

William Searle, a miner, pleaded guilty to assault in the second degree this morning, having been guilty of cutting his niece, Bessie Rowe, with a knife. The wounds inflicted were on the cheek and neck. Searle was jealous of his niece and didn't like the place where she was boarding. He wanted her to keep house for him, and she refused, when he decided that something more strenuous than mere persuasion was necessary. The cutting occurred at Eveleth.

A number of prisoners indicted by the grand jury pleaded this afternoon. The following said not guilty to the charge against them: Anton Schuster, manslaughter, second degree; Malaki Gylde, larceny, second degree; Nicholi Renditi, assault, second degree; William O'Toole, forgery, second degree; J. L. Rossiter, forgery, second degree; George Murray, George Cullen and John Gillis, grand larceny in the second degree.

The first criminal case to be tried comes up tomorrow morning when John Perschin, indicted as John Barcha, will defend himself against the charge of assault in the second degree. He is alleged to have cut a man severely at the town of Soudan.

A PARSON'S NOBLE ACT.

"I want all the world to know," writes Rev. C. J. Budiong, of Ashaway, R. I., "what a thoroughly good and reliable medicine I found in Electric Bitters. They cured me of jaundice and liver troubles that had cause me great suffering for many years. For a genuine all-around cure they excel anything I ever saw." Electric Bitters are the surprise of all for their wonderful work in Liver, Kidney and Stomach troubles. Don't fail to try them. Only 50 cents. Satisfaction is guaranteed by W. A. Abbett, druggist.

Slim Auction Sale at the Government Building.

Not a customer or even a prospective purchaser appeared at the federal building this morning when the auction sale of old filled out stationery and other used printed matter was to be disposed of.

Old records which long ago lost their usefulness were crowding the room devoted to them and a report was made to the Washington officials. This called forth a special act of congress which provided for the disposal of the matter at auction sale. As was expected, there were none on hand to buy it and the material will be burned.

Stubs of licenses, old passenger lists and other articles of that nature were up for sale.

THOMAS OLAFSON AGAIN.

Mayor Will Reappoint Him as City Assessor.

Mayor Hugo will tonight reappoint Thomas Olafson city assessor, to serve for the next two years.

Mr. Olafson is considered one of the best men that ever held this important office, and has made a good record in all assessment work.

The mayor may also announce the appointment of C. H. Troyer as chief of police. Mr. Troyer has been acting chief up to this time.

COMING HIS WAY.

Sheriff Sargent's Campaign Is Bringing Good Results.

Sheriff Sargent left this morning for the Mesaba range, where he will put in the first three days of this week in prosecuting the vigorous campaign that he has had under way for the past week. He will visit the different Mesaba range towns, including Hibbing, Eveleth and Virginia, and will return to Duluth Thursday morning to take up the work in this city again. His friends report that his work has been uniformly successful, and that he never in any of his campaigns received stronger assurances of support, or found his friends so well lined up for him as in this one.

Obstructed the Track.

Charles Kersten, a West Duluth young man, 18 years of age, was arraigned in district court on a bench warrant this afternoon. The warrant was issued on an indictment charging him with placing an obstruction on a railway track, and he is charged with putting a large slab on the track of the belt line railway at West Duluth to the peril of passengers and property. He was given to tomorrow to plead.

They Have Appealed.

Notice of the appeal to the supreme court of the case of the Fidelity & Casualty company against George P. Donohue and Michael Gallagher was filed in the clerk of the court's office this morning. The plaintiff brought action to recover $900 alleged to be due on insurance premiums. The defendants are contractors and the men in their employ were insured with the plaintiff in an old employers' liability policy. The plaintiff claimed that the defendants employed more men than were covered in the policy, increasing the risk. Hence they asked for additional premium. The court decided in favor of the defendants and a motion for a new trial was denied.

A Long Trip.

John L. Morrison expects to leave tomorrow night on an extended business and pleasure trip to the Pacific coast. He will go from here to Chicago and thence to Arizona, where he will inspect a mining property in Yavapai county, under development by a Duluth syndicate. From there he will visit San Francisco and then Los Angeles. At the latter place he has an uncle who is one of the heaviest oil operators on the Pacific coast. On the return trip, a stop will be made at the Grand Canon of the Colorado. In addition to other business and pleasure features of the trip, Mr. Morrison has commissions for a number of descriptive articles for several publications. He will not return to Duluth much before Nov. 1.

PIONEERS ARE DEAD

Dr. Robert Ormsby Sweeny, Minnesota Pioneer, Is Dead.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jeffery, Pioneer of Duluth, Passes Away.

Dr. Sweeny Was Designer of State Seal of Minnesota.

Dr. Robert Ormsby Sweeny, designer of the great seal of the state of Minnesota, died Saturday afternoon at Lester Park.

He was one of the most distinguished of the early settlers of this state, and although he has passed away his name will always occupy an unique place of honor in the state's history, while the seal he designed will remain the legal stamp of the state, probably forever—or at least as long as the state exists.

Dr. Sweeny's death was due to apoplexy. He has been in ill health for the past two years.

He was in the 72nd year of his age. When a young man he became one of the pioneer settlers of St. Paul, opening the first drug store there.

Minnesota became a state in May, 1858, and Governor Sibley discovered that the commonwealth was without a seal, except the old territorial seal, which had a farmer plowing one way and looking another, with what appeared to be a scared Indian riding rapidly across the background.

The authorities of the new state did not desire to continue to use this seal, and although several Eastern men offered to design a suitable emblem, the pioneers desired something that was strictly Minnesota. An artist named Buechner, then living in St. Paul, drafted a seal, which was submitted with that drafted by Dr. Sweeny, but the legislature decided in favor of the device of the latter.

Dr. Sweeny was one of the incorporators of the Minnnesota State Pharmaceutical association, serving many years as its secretary. He was president of the State Historical society for several years, and also served as chairman of the fish commission.

He has lived in Duluth for about seventeen years, and it was largely through his efforts that the Lester Park fish hatchery was established here. Not many in the state, and probably in the United States, knew more about fish or could discuss things piscatorial as interestingly as he could.

Besides being an epert with drugs and an expert on fish, Dr. Sweeny was a remarkable artist. His paintings are greatly prized by those that have them, and it is said that one by him is highly treasured by James J. Hill, who has the finest art collection in the West.

Dr. Sweeny also gathered together a collection of Indian relics during his lifetime, and this collection is supposed to be the finest outside the Smithsonian institute in Washington.

ELIZABETH JEFFERY DEAD.

Had Lived in Duluth For Thirty-three Years.

Another old and eminently respected pioneer passed away Saturday evening.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jeffry, widow of the late Simon Jeffry, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. F. Neff, of 22 West Fifth street.

She was in the seventy-third year of her age and came to the head of the lakes, settling at Oneota, thirty-three years ago.

At that time there was no such place as Duluth and it has been with a great dea of interest that she has watched the rapid growth of first the settlement, the village, then the town and now the city.

She is survived by eight children. Three of the four sons that survive her are well known tug captains. They are John Jeffry, William Jeffry and Simon Jeffry. The fourth son, Cullen Jeffry, resides on a farm near this city. The daughters are: Mrs. B. F. Neff, Mrs. M. C. Brown, and Mrs. A. F. Swanstrom.

The funeral service will be held tomorrow afternoon. There will be a short service at her late residence, 22 West Fifth street, and then the public service will be held in the Oneota Methodist church, conducted by Dr. S. P. Long and Rev. Saunderson.

IN SUSPENSE.

High School Athletes Waiting For Principal Smith.

"I have nothing particularly to say regarding the action of the board Friday evening with regard to athletics," said Principal C. A. Smith this afternoon. "It was taken because it was wished to place the Duluth Central high school on the same basis of other schools. Regarding the alleged tangle over the matter, I think that such a state of affairs is entirely unnecessary and that it is mainly newspaper talk."

The management of the team with some of the players will have a meeting with Professor Smith tomorrow afternoon when it is probable that the fate of the team this year will be settled. The players declare that they will brook no interference with their football team, otherwise than the keeping of athletics subsidiary to scholarship and the management of the team inside the school. What Professor Smith intends to do with the plenary powers granted him Friday evening will probably be brought out then. If the matter is to be pushed no further the high school will be represented on the gridiron, otherwise not, they say.

J. L. Washburn, who proposed the measure, said that he did so at the sugestion of Superintendent Denfeld and without looking into the matter himself.

ANOTHER NEW BANK

New National Bank Will Be Established Very Soon.

Charter Applied For, and Organization Is Under Way.

List of Directors Includes Some Strong Local Names.

Duluth is to have another bank.

Within sixty days a new institution with a capital of $500,000 will be established in the business world of this city.

From the men connected with it whose standing in the financial circles is unquestioned, success is expected to make its existence.

Application has been made to the comptroller of the currency for authority to establish a national bank with a capital of $500,000. The deal has been under consideration for some time and a number of meetings have been held. The men have devoted considerable time to studying the banking conditions of this city and feel that there is room here for another first class establishment. The field of Duluth is a growing one and the banks of this city are on a sound footing and in a prosperous condition.

A. R. Macfarlane, who is well known in this city by his long residence here, has been the prime mover of the project and will no doubt manage the new institution. He has a wide experience among the business interests of this section. Included in the board of directors are Maj. J. H. Upham, identified with many business enterprises of this city and elsewhere; A. S. Chase, the well known capitalist; A. H. Comstock, treasurer of the Marshall-Wells Hardware company; G. G. Barnum, president of the Barnum Grain company; R. F. Fitzgerald, of the Duluth Shoe company, and John Panton, of the Panton & White company. There will be a couple of others on the board of directors, but they have not yet been chosen.

Details of the new business house are lacking, but it is the intention to get established as soon as possible. It is calculated that within sixty days the new bank will be ready for business. No name has been selected for it, but this will be decided on at an early date. No place has been chosen for the home of the new institution, but quarters will be engaged as soon as possible. It is understood that there are several sites under consideration.

It will be noticed that the board of directors so far given is composed entirely of Duluth men. The other directors will also be from this city and the bank will be a Duluth institution, made up of Duluth men, backed by Duluth capital, and is destined to find a secure resting place in the Duluth business world.

MINNESOTA DELEGATES TO THE Y. W. C. A CONFERENCE, GENEVA LAKE, WIS.

The Duluth delegates to the late conference of the Y. W. C. A. at Geneva Lake, Wis., were Miss Maude Culver and Miss Ella Grieser. Below is a report of the conference furnished by Miss Culver.

In a grove of oaks on the northwestern shore of Lake Geneva, Wis., was held the conference of the Young Women's Christian association.

To this conference came young women from the different parts of the Central and northern states, who had been sent as delegates from different associations in cities and universities. From the Milwaukee institute came the students who had completed the course in association work, fitting each to take the position of secretary. At this convention courses in Bible study were given by prominent instructors and helpful ideas were freely exchanged on the various phases of association economy.

The social life of the camp was entirely free from formality and was happy, wholesome and distinctly Christian. Cordial Christian fellowship and spiritual harmony abounded. Enlivening games for mental and physical relaxation were the order of the recreation period of each day.

It was an inspiration to all the 200 girls from the different associations, all so eager and intent to carry home as many helpful ideas as possible, and so enthusiastic to do all in their power to aid in the mental, physical and spiritual uplifting of the girls.

Many of the girls were student volunteers, soon to be sent to new associations in foreign fields.

The time from 8:30 to 9 o'clock each morning was set aside as the "quiet hour," in which each in her own way had the opportunity to study her Bible and ask God's help in furthering the work so dear to the association girl. Every voice was hushed over the grounds and the stillness was impressive.

On Oct. 1 the Y. W. C. A. of Duluth will be a reality. The lunch room with the cafeteria system, reading and rest rooms, as well as the gymnasium, will be open to all members. It is expected that a depot matron will be appointed soon. Plans are being arranged by which Duluth will receive a secretary of unusual ability and wide experience. The physical director has already been engaged.

This evening at 8 o'clock a meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on East Superior street for furthering the plans of the organization.

It is earnestly hoped that all members, as well as all interested in work for the advancement of the young women of our city, will be in attendance.

SHIPMATE OF HENRY

Prince Henry Sends His Picture to Duluth Man.

Richard Richter Sailed With Him on Battleship Olga.

Talks Interestingly of His Career as Naval Officer.

When Prince Henry of Prussia visited America not long ago, Duluth was as much interested in the accounts of his doings as was the rest of the world, but it knew him only as an accomplished diplomat, a pleasant gentleman of royal birth, a titled visitor who bestowed diamond studded cigarette cases upon everyone he met, or presented people with his picture with his signature set with diamonds. But he came and went and Duluth read of his rapid traveling in magnificent private trains, his fatiguing banquets and his final departure from American shores, with the same amount of interest as any other American city.

But there is one man who makes his home in Duluth, who scanned every line of his doings eagerly, who looked at his pictures closely, a man who was once a friend of the prince when the latter was but a lieutenant in the navy.

This man is Richard H. Richter, of 218 West Fourth street, who has lived in Duluth for the past nine years, and it was through him that Prince Henry received the greetings of the Zenith City at the head of the great lakes, welcoming him to these broad lands.

Mr. Richter, when Prince Henry came to America, wrote him a letter, telling him where he had known him, what he was now doing and sent him one of the four-foot panels panorama pictures of Duluth. He was discouraged by his shipmates, for Mr. Richter is chef on the White Line steamer Iroquois, and all who knew of his project.

"What will Prince Henry care for you," they asked.

But Mr. Richter was not deterred and off went the picture and letter.

Time passed and Prince Henry returned to Germany. The gold cigarette cases began to arrive in Washington, but no package bearing his royal seal appeared in Duluth addressed to Richard Richter. But he waited, never fearing but his message would receive some acknowledgment, and last week it came in the shape of a photograph of Prince Henry von Prussen, signed at the bottom with the royal signature, and a letter from Richter's old captain, thanking him for his letter, in the name of the prince.

Then it was that Mr. Richter framed both letter and picture, and it occupies the proudest place in his home.

Mr. Richter is chef on the Iroquois, and between the sizzling of aromatic beefsteak and the odor of good coffee last night, just before the boat pulled out, he told a reporter for The Herald of his acquaintance with the prince.

"First and foremost," said Mr. Richter, "I want you to understand that I am an American citizen, and my feeling for my old officer does not interfere with my patriotism in the least. But I sailed with the Prince when he was nothing but a lieutenant in the Kaiser's navy and there is always a warm spot in my heart for the young man who corrected so many of the abuses on shipboard.

"It was in the year 1882, and we were cruising through the West Indies on the battleship Olga, when Prince Henry came aboard as a lieutenant. He was a very young man at the time—young and boyish—and the sailors didn't like him so very much at first on that account. He was not popular, but little by little, by his manly, unselfish actions, he won every heart aboard. He came aboard the ship as a lieutenant and left as a captain lieutenant.

"His most notable act while on the Olga, and the one which will be remembered longest by the men on the boat, was his correction of the evils of maltreation of the men by superior officers.

"The prince took up the matter and convinced the officers that more could be done, and better work secured, by kind words and good treatment, than by harshness and blows. By this action he gained the love of every man on the boat.

"On the Olga, I was nine months as wheelsman, after which I was promoted. Then I went on the school ship Alcouna and finally on the Frederick the Great.

"Another characteristic of the prince's which is not generally known, I believe, is that he is exceptionally unselfish. When he left the Olga as captain lieutenant, he resigned the position merely to give other men in line of succession a chance of promotion. I think that you would find very few men, even princes, that would give up things they had earned—and the prince certainly earned this—for the sake of his countrymen in arms.

"Well," said Mr. Richter, as a bell rang and the whistle gave a sharp toot, "he left us and we were all sorry. But when he came to this country I knew that if I wrote to him and told him that I sailed with him he would not ignore me. The prince is not that sort of a man, God bless him." And then the boat pulled out.

Mr. Richter is well known in Duluth, having lived here for the past nine years. For two years he was foreman in Gray Bros.' bakery, and two years was foreman on pastry in the Cresent bakery. He recently took charge of the culinery department of the Iroquois. He is one of the best cooks at the head of the lakes.

SULTAN ORDERS AN ARMY.

Must Be Ready to Leave Fez Dec. 1.

New York, Sept. 8.— Adispatch from Tangier says the sultan of Morocco has ordered that a large army be collected in readiness to leave Fez on Dec. 1, cables the London correspondent of the Times. Its destination has not been disclosed.

Recent dispatches from Spain stated that the revolt against the sultan of Morocco is spreading in an alarming manner, and that it may be necessary for the powers to intervene if they wish to preserve the statu quo in the country.

The revolt is headed by the sultan's brother, Mohammed, who is a pretender to the throne.

BOARD IS SATISFIED

State Board of Equalization Approves Assessment of Mines.

J. E. Cooley, Duluth Member, Found Sentiment That Way.

Increased Valuations May Lower the State Tax Rate.

The state board of equalization, which is now in session in St. Paul, is satisfied with the assessment of the iron mines, as turned in from St. Louis county.

J. E. Cooley, who represents this district on the board, is authority for the statement.

To a representative of The Herald he said that the members of the board, or at least the greater part of them, had expressed themselves as pleased with the assessment of the iron mines as fixed by the county board and it is not likely that there will be any changes. State Auditor Dunn, who was in the city when the county board made the assessment, said at the time that the figure was about right.

The state board met last week, but only made up its organization. The real work begins this morning. Mr. Cooley was elected secretary of the organization, a position which he held for a number of years prior to his present appointment. He is also chairman of the committee on transportation. This takes in the street railway business and the freight traffic and the committee is an important one.

"There will be a general increase over last year made by the board," said Mr. Cooley. "In some counties the assessment returned for the real estate is considerably less than last year. The rate of levy for state purposes will probably be one mill this year. It was one and a third of a mill higher last year, but it is expected that the lower rate can be made and still plenty of money will be secured for running the government of the state. This, of course, is outside of the rate for school purposes.

"The board will not finish its work for thirty days."

PHARMACISTS

Hold Their Fiftieth Annual Convention In Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8.—The fiftieth annual convention of the American Pharmaceutical association began here today. More than 700 representative chemists and druggists from every section of the country comprising the list of delegates are in attendance. The fiftieth anniversary is made the occasion of special exercises and the added social features will prolong the meeting until Monday of next week.

The proposed memorial to William Proctor, who is known as "the father of American pharmacy," is one of the most interesting subjects to come before the convention.

The council of the association, consisting of twenty-one members, met this morning to prepare the various reports for presentation to the convention. The golden jubilee session will be held Thursday at the Philadelphia college of pharmacy.

WAS WARM HEARTED

Generous Nature of Texan Congressman Who Recently Died.

Last Male Descendant of Greatest Jew In America.

Minister Wu's Successor Well Educated In English Language.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Sept. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Congressman De-Graffenreid, of Texas, died suddenly here a few days ago, one of the warmest-hearted men in America "passed over." When Paul wrote his first epistle to the people of Corinth he lead particular stress upon the virtue of charity. The apostle of Christianity pointed out that faith and hope were essentials of the religion which he practiced, but that charity was more necessary than the other two prime requisitons combined.

Charity has a twin sister, generosity, and Paul, the apostle, probably had her in mind when he addressed the people of the foremost Grecian city. But whatever may have been in the mind of the early Christian preacher, Reece C. DeGraffenreid certainly believed and practiced the two great virtues of charity and generosity. This paragraph is not written with the idea of preaching a sermon, but for the purpose of relating an incident which shows how large hearted was the man who is the latest congressman to be named in the necrology of the year.

When "De"—every one called him "De"—first came to congress he had several particular friends from his home state, Texas, in the newspaper gallery. Naturally he was introduced to many others, and inside of a month he was a writer for a number of northern papers. Somehow "De" persisted in calling this man "Frank," although that was not his name.

Two years ago during the recess of congress a newspaper reporter in Minneapolis, whose first name was Frank, and who bore the same surname as the Washington man, got into a controversy with a wealthy club man of the Minnesota city and the result was that the reporter killed his antagonist.

DeGraffenreid was at his home in Texas. He read of the affair in the newspapers and immediately went to the telegraph office and sent this dispatch:

"Frank ——, Jail, Minneapolis: Whatever I have in the way of time, money or the talents which God has given me are at your disposal.

Then he went to his bank, and to the cashier he said: "I do not know exactly what my balance is, but I expect a draft will be made upon me. I may not be home when it comes, but honor it and I will make good if it exceeds my balance."

That Washington correspondent, who did not kill a man in Minneapolis, mourns the loss of a friend today, and he believes that if Reece DeGraffenreid needs an advocate before the great white throne, the record of that one telegram will serve to wipe out pages of faults which may have been set down against the name of the big-hearted, charitable Texan, who has been so suddenly called before his Maker.

Sumner I. Kimball, general superintendent of the life saving service, received a telegram a few days ago officially advising him of the death of "Will" Noah, a clerk in the office of the New York city branch of the service. The New York and Washington papers published the formal notice of the demise of Mr. Noah, and that was all.

In the passing away of the modest clerk of the life saving service there departed from the world the last male descendant of the greatest Jew in America. Mordecai Noah served his country as few men have done. His entire fortune was placed at the disposal of his country in the early days of the republic, and a large sum of money was spent by him in aiding Americans who were imprisoned and maltreated by the Bey of Tunis, during the brief period in which Mr. Noah represented the United States in that country.

In the beautiful building of the historical society of Buffalo is treasured a stone which was to have been the corner stone of a new City of Jerusalem. Mordecai Noah, believing that the United States would prove a haven for the oppressed race of which he was so great a representative, conceived the idea of founding a Jewish city on Grand Island, in the Niagara river. The day chosen for the ceremony of laying the stone was so unfavorable that it was impossible to cross the river to the island. Therefore, the ceremonies occurred in the Episcopal cathedral in the city of Buffalo. The city was never built, because the people of the Hebraic race found a haven in every city and town in the republic and because no religious bar was raised against them anywhere.

Within the past few years Mordecai Noah's son, Jacob, J., who had had been a newspaper writer in Washington, after serving in the Union army as major, was laid to rest in Arlington cemetery by his associates. His brother, too, died and was buried in New York. One after another his sons passed away until now the last of them has gone to join the great majority. Only a grand-daughter and a great-grand-daughter remain of the descendants of Modecai Noah, the great American, who, a hundred years ago, was called the king of the Jews.

Minister Wu's successor, like that able diplomat himself, will not require the aid of an American secretary in the conduct of the affairs of the Chinees legation. Both the present and future representatives of the Flowery Kingdom in Washington have been well educated in the English language, and each thoroughly understands a great deal of the American slang which does duty for idioms. But until a few years ago an American was always attached to the Chinese legation, and he was usually a man with a knowledge of the Chinese language and of China itself. The position was filled for a long period by Col. Bartlett, who, during his stay in Washington, formed a warm friendship for Sevellon A. Brown, for many years chief clerk of the state department.

While lounging in Mr. Brown's office one day, Col. Bartlett said casually:

"Where do you propose to spend your vacation?"

"As usual," was the response. "I shall go to my boyhood home in Cayuga county, N. Y."

"I have very vivid recollections of that county," said Col. Bartlett. "I, too, spent my boyhood days there. One day while sitting on a bridge which crossed Cayuga Creek, a companion, drew his fish line up with such force that the hook attached was imbedded deep into my thumb. We ran to the nearest doctor, he holding my thumb tight and I yelling lustily. The hook was cut out and the pain left me, but the scar is here still and will remain with me for life."

"Shake," said Brown, "I'm the boy who jerked that line. But during these years that I have known you as a Chinese diplomat I never supposed that you were the boy I marked for life."

They had several cold bottles with their luncheon during that afternoon.

Some enterprising reformers in Boston are about to inaugurate an anti-tipping society. It will probably share the fate of the anti-treat society," which was formed here a few years ago. The prime mover in the organization was Dr. Hessel, the attache of the fish commission, who was largely responsible for the introduction of that hog among fishes, the German carp, into the waters of the United States.

Meeting the doctor one evening, an old friend said: "Have a glass of beer with me, Dr. Hessel?"

"No, sir! No, sir!" was the reply, "I am bresident ov der new anti-dreat society. Ve each bay in fife dollars to der dreasurer und if any von dreats anodder, or accepts a dreat, he vorveits der fife nud all der rest trinks it opp."

About ten days after the friend again met Hessel, who said, heartily, "Hullo, Sharley, coom und haf a peer."

"But, doctor, how about your anti-treat society? You may be expelled if you treat me."

"Oh!" replied Dr. Hessel, "der dreasurer vent oop mit some friends der odder night und dey trank opp a few boddles ov Rhein vein. Den he fergot to coom up und dreated. Und he dreated again; and den he dreated some more. Und bretty soon all der funds in der sociedy got broke oop. Now ve all trink veneffer ve git der shances. Let's haffer peer!"

That was the end of Washington's society for the discouargement of the treating habit.

One of the press associations has "split a pair" of the brightest newspaper writers and best news gatherers in the corps, Charles T. Thompson, formerly of Detroit, but for more than ten years a Washingtonian, has been sent to Paris to keep newspaper readers in the United States posted as to French affairs. Charles T. Thompson and Howard N. Thompson are not blood relations, so far as is known, but they have worked together like brothers and, in their respective fields, they worked admirably. During the Spanish war Charley remained in Washington, and acted as the chronicler of diplomatic affairs. Howard spent his time on board a press boat off the harbor of Santiago, and much of the information concerning the stirring events of the summer of '98 came from his pen.

Last year when President McKinley was murdered in Buffalo, Howard and Charley Thompson were sent there in haste, and both watched Mr. Milburn house during the week that the martyr lay there struggling against the wound. No better account of the last days of the president was sent out of Buffalo than that written by the two Thompsons. They have worked together in the house and senate and in the departments, and among the fraternity they have been regarded for years as the front rank team of news-writers. Charles T. Thompson speaks French, and has a circle of influential friends in the French corps diplomatique. He ought to be able to give an excellent account of himself in the important position which he is to fill.

THE DAKOTAS.

Enderlin Has a Scandal Which Is Shocking Society.

Enderlin.—The town is excited over the scandal caused by the alleged abduction of Llela Haynes, the 17-year-old daughter of Bandmaster Haynes. Jesse Dement and Mrs. Ed Henry were brought from Underwood on the charge of abducting a girl under 18 years of age from her "home and friends" for the purpose of prostitution. Mrs. Henry's case was taken up first, States Attorney Pierson, assisted by Attorney T. Curtis, prosecuting; and Attorney J. E. Burke, of Velva, and Gammons & Barrett, of Minot, appearing on behalf of Mrs. Henry. After fully investigating the facts the state withdrew the charges and Mrs. Henry was taken back to her husband and harmony reigns in that home. The case of Dement was called and J. E. Burke appeared for the defense and asked for a change of venue. The suit will come up for further consideration at Lisbon. The charge against Dement is a serious one and the state and the father of the girl are determined to give him the full extent of the law. Several "young bloods" of Enderlin are under subpoena to appear at the hearing in Lisbon and there is likely to be "house-cleaning" and general revision of calling lists in "Enderlin on the Soo."

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Sioux Falls.—Albert Griffin has returned to his home at Sisseton, S. D., from a horse selling expedition to Canada. He complains bitterly of his treatment by Canadian officials, and may decide to call the attention of the state department at Washington to the arbitrary methods of which he was the victim. He declares that he entered Canada with a large number of horses under the belief that he could pay duty on the animals after he reached his destination. However, he was captured by a Canadian revenue official, who informed him that he would not be permitted to dispose of the horses nor allowed to bring them back to the United States. Therefore Griffin was compelled to return to his native land without so much as one horse to convey him to the border.

At a meeting of the members of the Sisseton Presbyterian church it was unanimously decided to extend a call to Rev. D. M. Roberts, of New York, to become the permanent pastor of the First Presbyterian church at that place. He recently occupied the pulpit of the church temporarily.

Flandreau.—Patrick Jordan, an old resident of this county and for some years a citizen of Egan, but recently of Merrill, Wis., died at that place last week at the age of about 65.

Lead.—Towns in the Black Hills were recently visited by a quartet of sharpers, who worked the roulette wheels for sums ranging from $500 to $1,000. They played simultaneously, using chips of different denominations, in order to confuse the dealer as much as possible. Meanwhile one of the four would edge his way to the wheel and manipulate it with a wire, being so adept that he could make the ivory sphere fall almost where he desired. They were discovered in Deadwood, and left the Black Hills immediately for Denver. They confided to acquaintances here that they had practiced the trick all the way from the Pacific coast.

Pierre.—Commander Blanchard, of the state G. A. R., has just returned from Chicago, where he completed arrangements for the official route of the old soldiers who go from South Dakota to attend the national encampment at Washington next month. Special through Pullman sleepers will be provided, to start from Mitchell Saturday morning, Oct. 4, over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway and will continue over the "Pennsylvania" line east of Chicago, arriving at Washington the Monday afternoon following. The line taken will be from Mitchell to Sioux City, and those desiring to make the trip may join the party at any point along the line between Mitchell and Sioux City.

CITIZEN MISSING

Henry W. Page, of New Duluth, Mysteriously Disappears.

Comes to Duluth For Money and Is Not Seen Again.

No Reason Is Known For the Queer Proceeding.

Henry W. Paige, a prominent citizen of New Duluth, has mysteriously disappeared.

Ten days ago he came to Duluth for the purpose of securing money with which to purchase an interest in the new International hotel, of that place.

He failed to get the money when he expected to and he failed to return home. His bicycle was found by the police standing outside the Phillips hotel at West Duluth.

On the day of his disappearance, Friday, Aug. 29, he made a number of purchases in West Duluth, sending the merchandise to his home in New Duluth by train.

Mr. Page's family consists of his wife and three small children. Mrs. Page is extremely anxious and apprehensive, and would be very thankful for any information that any person could furnish regarding her missing husband.

Friends are very much puzzled over the disappearance. They say that the home-life of the missing man was ideal, and that there is not the slightest cause for his disappearing, unless it should be that he became despondent over his failure to get money to go in the hotel business.

Mr. Page has been employed as foreman for the Coolidge Fuel and Supply company. He is a medium-sized man, weighing about 140 pounds, has dark hair and eyes and is smooth shaven. When last seen he was wearing a suit of dark blue clothes and a gray soft hat.

EX-PRISONERS

Association In Field to Give Them Fair Play.

The Central Howard association, which Rev. F. Emory Lyon, of Chicago, the superintendent, is representing in Duluth this week, is a very interesting institution. Dr. Lyon spoke in several pulpits yesterday, giving short addresses explaining the purposes of the organization.

The objects of the association, as explained by Dr. Lyon yesterday, are as follows: To awaken public sentiment in behalf of the worthy ex-prisoner; to secure employment for them, especially acting as a friend to men entitled to parole; to extend the advantages of the parole law and the indeterminate sentence, and the juvenile court system; to encourage measures for the improvement of prisons and discipline, particularly in county and city jails, where such work is most needed; to facilitate the organization of local and state prisoners' aid associations and to act as a bureau of co-operation between them.

Dr. Lyon read some figures from the first quarterly report of the association for this year. These showed that 63 applications were received, that 56 men had been helped, that 23 had been given permanent employment, and that only one man violated his parole and was recommitted. Work was done in six states, and a list of 183 manufacturers and others willing to give employment to ex-prisoners was made up.

The aim of the association, as he explained it, is to teach people the distinction between habitual and accidental criminals. Much good has been done in extending the operations of the juvenile court system, whereby youthful offenders are saved the contamination of appearance in courts alongside their hardened elders in crime. Abuses in jails and prisons are searched out and reformed.

NORMALITES.

Superior Normal Football Team Shy of Good Material.

One of the former players in the Superior Normal school football team was in the city Saturday and said that while the Normalites were lining up for practice already, that there was evidently not the material available this season for so strong a team as the school had last year. He remarked that it was a question if the Normal would have a team that could compete with the Duluth Central High school team, if it is as strong this year as last.

The Normalites from West Superior are anxious to learn if there are enough young men attending the Duluth Normal school to make up a team this year.

The first football team of the season in West Superior will be organized this evening and it is claimed that it will be made up of some of the former old players in both the high school and the Normal school teams of that city. It will be the purpose of the new team to meet any and all of the strongest teams that are formed to play football in the Northwest this season.

SEEKING TO SAVE.

Many Religious Meetings on Superior Street Sunday.

Religious rivalry has reached a high state of development in Duluth.

This refers only to the outdoor open-air meetings, and if any one passing down Superior street last night couldn't get religion it was because such a thing was not desired by him.

At the request of the Spalding hotel management the Salvation Army left the corner of Fifth avenue west and moved farther down the street. This organization was succeeded by another gospel gathering, however. Four men and two boys formed the circle, and with hymn book in hand, they sang the songs of their faith while a hundred feet away, in front of the branch Bethel, another meeting was in progress. This attracted the most attention, two coronets, whose operators were strong of lung, aiding greatly in the work.

As soon as the gospel meeting on the corner commenced, the coronets, with an organ, started in on another tune and the result was that the Bowery fairly vibrated with inharmonious sounds. In the meantime the Salvationists were doing business at Second avenue, while another hall was holding religious services between Sixth and Seventh avenues west.

A little life may be sacrificed to a sudden attack of croup if you don't have Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil on hand for the emergency.

PIONEER PRINTER DEAD.

J. W. Walton Suffocated By Gas at Superior.

J. W. Walton, one of the pioneer printers at the head of the lake and well known among the printing fraternity of this city, was accidentally asphyxiated by gas at the home of Hugh McDonald, on Tower avenue, in West Superior, about 6:30 yesterday morning. Walton arrived in Duluth last Saturday from Fosston, where he has been a short time. He left Superior for Plainview in 1897, and recently sold out his paper there. He came to Duluth to take a position with C. H. Thornton & Co.

Saturday afternoon he went over to Superior to visit some old time friends, and remained at Mr. McDonald's for the night. Early yesterday morning Mrs. McDonald detected an odor of gas and an investigation showed Walton's room to be filled with it, while he was found lifeless. The indications are that death was caused purely by accident. The electric light and the gas jet are close together, and Walton's sleeve is supposed to have caught in some way and opened the gas jet when he turned out the electric light.

Walton was married and his wife expected to follow him to Duluth within a few days. His father, E. C. Walton, resides in Huron, S. D., where he is judge of probate. He has several brothers and sisters in South Dakota.

The body was taken to Coroner Dudley's undertaking rooms in West Superior to await word from relatives.

A BATTLE OF GIANTS

Capt. Marcus L. Fay Talks Interestingly on Strikes.

Coal Strike Is Struggle Between Organized Capital and Labor.

Coal Miners Have Sympathy of the American People.

Labor World: Capt. Marcus L. Fay, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress from this congressional district, was asked by the Labor World reporter what his views were of the great coal strike and what methods he would suggest to obviate these great strikes, and his views struck us so forcibly that we feel constrained to give them to our readers.

The captain said: "I consider this strike a battle between giants; organized capital and organized labor. Organized capital has the advantage because it can lie idle and suffer nothing but the loss of profits, while labor must suffer from the loss of earnings to buy necessities of life, but I believe the 147,000 mine workers in the coal fields of the East who are on this great strike have the sympathy of the American public, and if the public could, it would, by some feasible method or organized effort, give the miners moral and financial support in this fight.

'My own sympathy is certainly with the miners, for I believe that if 147,000 men are of one opinion that they are being wronged and will stand out in a fight like this, which has lasted as long as this strike has, and suffer what they have suffered, then these men must be in the right on the question which they are contending for and the coal trust is in the wrong.

"Of course, the coal trust suffers nothing. They have not so much coal on hand for the coming winter, but the people of the country will simply have to go down deeper in their pockets and shell out to them at an increased price for what they have.

"At the present time it would look as if the great trusts and the employers of labor in this country had a cinch on the thing. They may go into the courts and get an injunction preventing the men from influencing other laborers to take the place of strikers. The laws and courts seem to give capital about everything it wants.

"Congress could do something more. It could provide a law that would compel any corporation or employer who applied to any court for an injunction with the court before the court would issue any injunction, an agreement that it or they, would submit the matters in controversy between it and the strikers to the National Board of arbitration.

"It seems to me that this thing can be made feasible, and if I should be elected to congress from this district, I would advocate and use every effort in my power to have some action taken by congress along this line.

"The greed of some of these great trusts, and particularly the coal trust, has become unsatiable, and it certainly is high time the government was stepping in.

"I never had a hankering for political life and especially to be a congressman, but I do say this, that if there was anything that would make a man feel like jumping into the hot bed of politics, it would be with the idea that he might do some good towards remedying these great evils and curtailing the privileges and power of the great trusts.

"Now, it seems to me that the American public is almost as vitally interested in this great strike as the strikers themselves. The mass of the people who must use coal are now suffering as much almost as many of the miners who are out on the strike, and it seems to me that if congress has power to enact tariff laws which will protect these great trusts, and coal barons particularly, and allow them to fix high prices on their products and keep out foreign competitors and have the complete control of the markets of the United States, that it also has power to so regulate commerce that the laboringman who by his toil produces this wealth, shall have his fair share of it.

"It seems to me that it would be a feasible thing for congress to create a national board of arbitration, a board that would have some powers of inquisition; that could investigate all natural monopolies that are being controlled by the great trusts and corporations, and in cases of these strikes, that it could on application from either party, have a hearing in the matter, make a complete investigation, and compel and make a settlement of the differences between the employe and employer. This board could certainly be of this use. If the employer should be protected by our protective tariff laws, and it should appear that the men had reason to strike for higher wages and that the employer was not paying the employe fair wages, then this board of arbitration could, if the employer would not accede to fair terms, report the action to congress and congress could remove the protective tariff from such goods as this particular employer manufactured or produced."

AN "EXPANSIVE" GIRL.

Not Necessarily an Expensive One.

A little Kansas girl is called an "expansionist" because her clothes require "letting out" so often. She lives mostly on Grape-Nuts since recovering from a sick spell caused by too much greasy food.

Almost all ailments of children (and grown folks as well) are traceable to the wrong kind of food, and the surest cure is to quit the old part, the greasy, pasty, undercooked or overdone things, that ruin the stomach and bowels.

Put the children and adults on the perfectly cooked food, Grape-Nuts.

It is digested by the weakest stomach. Has the delicate flavor of the Grape Sugar and surely and quickly rebuilds the body, brain and nerves.

NOT SO MANY.

Wisconsin Excursion Over Omaha Disappointing In Size.

The excursion to the head of the lakes over the Omaha road yesterday from Southern Wisconsin points was not as large as was expected when it reached this city. The number of people that came clear through did not exceed 250, while a great many of the excursionists from the more distant points did not come to Duluth or Superior, but stopped off at Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire and other Wisconsin points.

The special train arriving here yesterday morning was made up of eight chair cars, and it will return this afternoon about 5 o'clock.

The people that did come yesterday were pretty well divided up between Duluth and West Suprior, and they seemed to enjoy themselves very thoroughly. The weather was all that could be desired, bright and with a cool breeze. Numerous excursions were taken about the bay, up the river and on the lake.

The people that came here yesterday were from the older settled portion of the state of Wisconsin, and were well-to-do, and looked it. Most of them have visited the head of the lakes on former occasions, and were not at a loss to find places to stay or to know where to go to see the sights. Many Duluth people met relatives on the excursion of yesterday.

HONORED HIM.

Southern Minnesota Thinks M. Fernandez a Spanish Grandee.

M. Fernandez, of the Ron. Fernandez Cigar company, has been getting all sorts of free advertising during a business trip through the southern part of the state, where the papers have printed stories to the effect that he is a Spanish nobleman, a kind of lord high chamberlain incognito.

With each statement of that kind the country editor or the wise and imaginative reporter wove a pretty tale of how the Spanish nobleman was alone in this country selling cigars, while his kin in the fatherland, dressed in silks and satins, occupied private boxes at the bull fights which are won to delight the court of Castile.

One paper described Mr. Fernandez as a gentleman who, owing to some difficulty with the government, presumably, came to this country, located in Duluth and engaged in the cigar business. They described his accent as silvery, his lustrous eyes and olive complexion giving evidence of his genteel birth. On one occasion Mr. Fernandez said that the hotel keeper made special preparations for him, his coming having been heralded. The waitresses lined up and courtsied as in the good old days when the distinguished guest entered the dining room, while huge bouquets were heaped upon the table.

Mr. Fernandez received the honors with a cheery smile and takes the whole affair as a big joke.

AMUSEMENTS.

WARDE AND JAMES.

This evening at the Lyceum local playgoers may anticipate the most novel, unconventional and alluring performance of the season. Reference is made to the joint appearance of Louis James and Frederick Warde in Wagenhals & Kemper's spectacular production of "The Tempest." The almost magical wonders of its magnificent scenic illusions, its atmosphere of mirth and melody, and its wealth of brilliant costumes, together with the fame of the stars and the exceptional talent of the supporting company has made the enterprise a big artistic sensation.

In the character of Caliban, Mr. James will be seen in one of the oddest character studies Shakespeare conceived. He is pictured as a sort of supernatural monster, part man and part brute, and yet a poet. The grimness of his humor, and his amusing ugliness of nature, are qualities few could assume so successfully as Mr. James. Prospero, on the other hand, is equally suited to Mr. Warde's more serious and subtle attributes. It is Prospero who, by his study of human nature, and his success in developing its noblest traits, becomes endowed with magic power, and can command tempests to rise and spirits of earth and air to do his bidding. Much has been made of the musical features of the performance, which will be rendered by a chorus.

Intending patrons will do well to heed the warning of the management in reference to being seated in good season, as the most elaborate scene of the play, in which is pictured the most realistic representation of storm and shipwreck, occurs almost at the rise of the curtain.

This will really be the first presentation of "The Tempest" this season in all its magnificence, as in the places visited so far there have been no such stage facilities as Duluth can offer. The house is entirely sold out, and standing room was being sold today.

"BROWN'S IN TOWN."

At the Lyceum Saturday afternoon and evening "Brown's In Town" was the attraction, and it was witnessed by two fairly large audiences. The farce is a bright one, with plenty of funny complications that in a measure act themselves out, leaving it to the actors to only lend themselves freely to the movement of the play. The company was not up to the standard, though its work was marred by considerable amateurish crudeness, some of the members of the cast being manifestly not long on the stage. Charles Horn as Abel Preston, Coralie Clifton as Freda Van Hollenbeck, and Fannie Midgely as Suzanne Dacre, were among those worthy of special mention.

WAR MADE ON PASTOR

Some of Rev. Knowles' People Want Him to Resign.

Others Hold Another Meeting and Rescind That Action.

Dissatisfied Ones Claim He Is Too Active Politically.

Rev. Harry Knowles is still pastor of the Grace Methodist church, despite constant reports that he has tendered his resignation by request.

It seems that while the church is not altogether divided against itself, there is a division as to the pastor.

Recently, at a meeting of the congregation, those opposed to Rev. Knowles decided to ask for his resignation.

Other members got together and requested him to remain in charge of the church. It is claimed that the resignation was asked by a minority of the church membership.

Hence Rev. Knowles will remain for the present, at least, and it is announced that those in the Grace Methodist church congregation that do not like him may seek spiritual comfort elsewhere.

It is claimed that those seeking his removal consider his preaching sensational and his political activity pernicious.

Rev. Knowles says that he considers it his mission to deal with politics and public questions in connection with his ministry and that he will not diverge from the pathway which he considers right.

Since he took charge of the Grace Methodist church, Rev. Knowles has always been more or less prominent. His announcements of subjects of sermons were calculated to attract public attention and did. He mixed pertinent public questions with the gospel and the gospel with pertinent public questions, until one of the dissatisfied members of the congregation says he got so mixed that he don't know whether Moses wrote the gold plank of the St. Louis platform or whether it was Mark Hanna that wrote the books of Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, and Numbers. This same member also says that he has a dull sort of impression that Pharaoh perpetrated "the crime of '73."

During the last session of the state legislature, Rev. Knowles was chaplain of the lower house.

During the spring months of the current year he organized what is known as the West End Civic Federation, for the purpose of preventing Sunday baseball in the West End. This movement succeeded in causing the abandonment of the Duluth team, for the reason that its promoters could only secure grounds in the West End and could only expect to make money on their investment by having the benefit of Sunday crowds. Every Sunday during the summer there have been from two to three Sunday games among amateurs in the West End and only on one occasion did the Civic Federation agents endeavor to stop the playing. On that occasion the game went on to the end and that was all there was heard of it.

Mr. Fernandez received the honors with a cheery smile and takes the whole affair as a big joke.

The Civic Federation has adopted an expansion policy by which it hopes to carry Sunday observance into all the towns and cities of Minnesota, but it is claimed that if Rev. Knowles should leave Duluth the movement is likely to dwindle away.

There has never been a church dissention in Duluth that will be watched with any keener interest than the present dispute in the Grace Methodist church, for the work of the pastor in the reform movement has made him many interested enemies among that class of people that would never think of keeping posted on church affairs under ordinary circumstances.

Members of the congregatiton will not speak about the matter, other than to say that the stories of the disruption in the church have been greatly exaggerated, and that the matter will be settled up at a church meeting to be held within two weeks.

Lakesiders Too Many For Court House Ball Team Saturday.

The Lakeside baseball team got the court house aggregation spinning Saturday afternoon, and before the ninth inning was in sight it was evident that the men from the building on the hill whom justice is meted out were up against it.

The score was 11 to 6, but that doesn't begin to tell about the poor playing, indulged in chiefly by the court house tribe. The team was handicapped by the absence of two of the regular men.

The county officials took one tally in their first half and another in the third. While but one man could be tallied an inning, the Lakesiders, on the other hand, were getting them in bunches. When the court house gang came to bat in the last inning the score was 11 to 3 in favor of the Lakesiders. The only ginger exhibited during the entire game by the hill players came in the ninth, when they made three runs. This was not enough to overcome the big lead taken by the Lakeside folk. Bonham and Spencer did the pitching for Lakeside and had good control. Crasswelter and Park did the backstop work. The court house team will play the city hall nine this coming Saturday.

The score by innings follows:

Court house ..... 0 1 1 0 1 0 0 0 3— 6

HIS SKIN DIVIDED.

Unusual Disposition of a Criminal's Body.

Missoula, Mont., Sept. 8.—Missoula is shaken to the center by information that has leaked out after a guarded silence of ten years. It pertains to the most unusual disposition of the body of a man hanged here for murder in 1892 and involves several prominent persons.

The reliability of the news is vouched for by a nephew of the trial judge, who alleges that the remains passed through a most peculiar process.

After they had been taken from the gallows and placed in the hands of the county physician, a scheme to secure souvenirs not excelled by the audacity of a collecteor of today was hatched and carried out.

To the sheriff of the county, William H. Houstonn, went a pair of suspenders manufactured from the tanned skin of the hanged man; Attorney Joseph K. Wood, late district attorney at Nome, drew a pair of slippers, also made of the tanned human skin. The head of the dead man is said to be in the possession of Dr. Hanson, of Butte, the county physician, preserved and lifelike. Another man secured a pocketbook from the skin, and to a dozen others went parts of the anatomy.

The man whose body was so widely distributed was known locally as John Burns, but thought to be Hugh Harrington, an Eastern crook, who chanced to be in town and quarreled with a man who gave information of an attempt to rob a business house. Maurice Higgins, the son of a millionaire banker, interfered and was shot and killed.

Burns, or Harrington, was arrested, tried and speedily condemned to death. He was a remarkable man and had some remarkable relatives. A sister and her husband came to the trial, and attended all proceedings, not omitting the hanging, but by no sign did they communicate a relationship or acquaintance with the defendant.

Without a tear or display of affection, the sister witnessed the hanging, and not for several years was the relationship of the mysterious pair who attended the case with the prisoner known.

MAUDE ADAMS ILL.

Will Not Return to Stage For Months.

New York, Sept. 8.—Maude Adams is so ill that she has been compelled to give up all her plans for the autumn and early winter and will not return to the stage for several months. Her ailment is an impaired nervous system.

Charles Frohman, Miss Adams' manager, has received news by cable from Switzerland of the condition of his leading star. He immediately cancelled all dates, including her annual engagement at the Knickerbocker theater, indefinitely postponing her coming production of "As You Like It."

In her message Miss Adams said her nerves had not been fully restored in strength. She is on her way from Switzerland to France. A decided change in her condition must have taken place.

A RICH LAND.

Mindanao an Excellent Field For the Prospector.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—According to James Wilson, at present second assistant engineer of the transport Lawton, all that is needed is adequate legislation regulating land and mineral claims to make of the island of Mindanao a rich field for the good prospector, the coal miner and the producer of India rubber and guttapercha. Already according to Wilson, who has spent a long time in the interior of the big island, there are many Americans prospecting and preparing to develop the long latent possibilities of the new possession.

Wilson claims that the coal found there is much superior to the Japanese coal so extensively used in the Orient.

THE WEATHER.

United States Agricultural Department, Weather Bureau, Duluth. Synopsis of weather conditions for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 a. m. (Central time), Sept. 6: A storm area of marked intensity moved rapidly to Lake Superior from the region north of Montana since Sunday morning, causing brisk and high westerly winds over the Dakotas and the western lake region, showers in Northwest Canada and the upper lake region and much higher temperature in the latter district. Pressures are rising rapidly with clearing and cooler weather from the Dakotas westward on account of the incoming high pressure central over the North Pacific coast. The barometer is also high over Atlantic states and showers fell also over New England and Eastern Gulf states. The winds in the lake region are southwesterly, high over portions of Superior.

Maneuvers By the Army.

While the navy has been working out problems on the Atlantic coast and the combined army and navy has engaged in mimic war and burned tons of powder in making a loud noise with the big guns, the regulars in the interior of the country have been preparing to get a little practice in field maneuvers. Many of these soldiers have seen active service in the Philippines, but in small detachments, and so beginning Sept. 10 at Fort, Riley, Kansas, there will be extensive maneuvers of troops in company, battalion, regimental and division formation. A large number of regulars will take part in the exercises, and will be aided by state organizations of Nebraska, Kansas and Iowa. This is the first time anything of this sort has been attempted by the United States army, and is only another step in the big program suggested by President Roosevelt for keeping both the army and the navy thoroughly active in times of peace. It is the intention to repeat the coming operations every year. The troops will be drilled in such heavy work as pontoon bridge building and road construction, and will be given a change to become proficient in scaling walls and other military tricks. The men will be maneuvered in large bodies and deployed to protect the movements of artillery and defend roads. The hospital corps will also be given plenty of practice. In a general way the drill will be fashioned after the work that the European armies are given every season, where the unit is a battalion, a regiment or a division. There can be but one outcome of these maneuvers on a large scale. The natural ability, courage and strength of our soldier boys, coupled with extensive practice, will render the army of the United States the most effective in the world for its size.

The Department of Commerce.

The exact reason for the failure of the house of representatives to pass the department of commerce bill at the last session was then a matter of conjecture, but it has since become apparent that one of the reasons and probably the chief one was the Littauer-Cortelyou contest for the secretaryship. Representative Lettauer was unable to bring to the leaders of the house the assurance of the president that he would be made the new cabinet official and the matter went over. The New York congressman had expressed to his friends a desire for this position when the recent discussion of the establishment of such a department broke out, and his close personal relations with President Roosevelt made it seem likely that he would be selected. All the members of the New York delegation signed a petition in his favor. The house leaders, with whom Mr. Littauer enjoys very great popularity, said they were perfectly willing to enact the bill, which had passed the senate, provided he were to be its first beneficiary. The president, when this situation was presented to him, felt that he could not see his way clear to disregard an implied obligation in favor of Mr. Cortelyou for this place. He cited as an objection to gratifying the wishes of the friends of Littauer that New York has one cabinet officer; this objection could not, however, be regarded as serious, since Iowa has two cabinet officers in Shaw and Wilson, and Pennsylvania had two in Knox and Charles Emory Smith, and New York had two in each of the Cleveland administrations. But this decision on the presidents pa'rt against Littauer and the practical announcement of his intention of appointing Mr. Cortelyou deadened the enthusiasm of the house leaders for the project. It had been under consideration for a great many years, they said, and could wait a little while longer without the country's going to pieces. Many persons predict tant the same deadlock will prevail during the coming short session. Many members of congress have objections to making Mr. Cortelyou a cabinet officer and it may yet be some time before the new department becomes a fact.

THE TORRENS SYSTEM.

The fact that but few property owners in St. Louis county have taken advantage of the state law providing for the registration of land titles according to the Torrens system cannot be regarded as an indication that the people do not like the system. The truth is that comparatively few people understand the great benefits derivable from registering their titles under this law. There was some doubt at first as to the constitutionality of the law, and this had a tendency to deter some people from registering under it, but a test case was brought in the courts and the supreme court has decided the law constitutional and valid in all respects.

It is certain that the Torrens system will steadily grow in favor. When it was introduced in Chicago, it was a long time before any titles were registered under it, but now it is extremely popular and the indications are that in the not distant future all titles there will be brought under this system. It is reported from Minneapolis that several of the large real estate firms are thinking of giving certificates of title with lots from tracts purchased this summer. The David C. Bell Investment company will have the title of 192 lots, in a tract purchased this summer, in Lynhurst, on Harriet boulevard, registered. This will be the largest registration under this system, and shows the feeling of this company toward the system. Every purchaser of a lot in this addition will be given a certificate of title, and the transaction of purchase and sale may be closed in an hour, instead of taking a week or two while the abstract is being examined.

The Torrens system of registering title to land is, in brief, a system that provides a certificate of title to real estate, guaranteed by the state, which may be negotiated as readily as railroad or other stocks or bonds. To secure a certificate of title, the owner of property goes into court—brings action petitioning to be declared owner of the property. He must have an abstract of the property, which is filed with the petition. The abstract is referred to the "examiner of titles," who is an officer appointed by the judge and paid by the county. The petition is duly published, and after a specified time has elapsed, if no counter claims are brought, the court enters the decree. After this, all previous defects in the title become inoperative. A certificate of title from the state of Minnesota is issued, which is registered. One great advantage to property-owners is where they wish to raise money quickly, or a purchaser wishes to close a deal without delay. In transferring a title, the deed is filed and the certificate canceled and a new one issued —a transaction that requires but a few minutes, whereas, under the old system of abstracts, anywhere from one to several weeks would be required to examine the title. If a mortgage is given on the property, the registrar records it and notes it on the certificate.

A LARGER NAVY WANTED.

The repeated allusions by President Roosevelt in his speeches to the Monroe doctrine and the need of a navy to back up the principle, shows that the executive believes that the United States is in need of more ships, and that he will advocate future liberal appropriations by congress to that end.

While there are no surface indications that any European nation contemplates any act in violation of the Monroe doctrine, the present administration believes it well to be prepared for whatever may come. In other words, we must have the power to enforce our principles. Should the United States become involved in a difficulty with a European power, we should have to figure on the opposition of two navies, for there would very likely be a combination of two nations against us. When our navy is equal to that of England, we will be in a position to stand off a combination of any two continental forces, for the basic principle on which the present British navy is founded is to have a fleet equal to the two strongest European navies.

It is a long road that must be traveled before our navy will approach the strength of the English fleet. At present we are rated about fifth, various authorities differing in their methods of calculating the strength of ships. England comes first, then France, Russia, Germany and the United States, although many think that our navy is now just as strong as that of Germany. Whether or not we will be Germany's match on the seas in four or five years will depend altogether on congress. We know how many ships the kaiser will have at that time, as his government is putting out battleships and cruisers according to a definite schedule. If congress is as liberal during the next four or five years as it was in the last session, there need be no fear of the condition of the American navy by the time Germany's building program is concluded.

President Roosevelt's first request to congress for warships received very generous treatment, and the men of the navy hope that his recommendations of the future will have the same fate. Of course the acquisition of possessions in the far East and to the south of us makes the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine more difficult than was the case when we were entirely isolated. Outlying possessions are always a source of tactical weakness to a nation, and this is a point that must be considered in reviewing the chances of probable war.

THAT "IOWA IDEA."

"Whenever the tariff is a prop to monopoly, knock it out." This is "the Iowa idea," which Walter Wellman, of the Chicago Record-Herald, who spends most of his time in Washington, has "discovered" during a trip to Des Moines and regards as a "new idea." It may be new to the men who live in Washington during the greater part of the year and are out of touch with public sentiment outside of official and congressional circles at the national capital, but it is not new to the people of the West. It is not new to the people of Minnesota, as the doctrine has been preached here and received with general favor ever since the people began to feel the effects of trust evils. The idea was not original with Iowa, but some of the Republican leaders in that state have been advocating it very strongly and have finally succeeded in making it the slogan of Iowa Republicanism. The people of Minnesota believe thoroughly in this plan to destroy the power of the trusts, but the Republican leaders in this state have lacked the courage to take up the idea. They have been content to re-echo the shrewd cry raised by the trust lobbyists of "letting well enough alone." The result is that the Iowa leaders are getting all the credit of originating this plan to cure the trust evils.

Minnesota Republicans are unfortunate because they lack a leader of courage and ability who is free from affiliations with the trusts and monopolies, and because a majority of the representatives they have elected to congress have been content to let Eastern leaders do their thinking instead of following the sentiment in their districts.

There is little probability that the Republican leaders who control congress will permit "the Iowa idea," as it is now called, to find expression in legislation, as long as congress has a Republican majority. If the people of the West want tariff revision, so that the protection which the tariff affords to trusts and monopolies will be removed, they must elect Democratic representatives to congress.

The Galveston News of Sept. 1 contains a synopsis of the commerce of the port of Galveston for the trade year just closed, and shows in spite of the unprecedented hurricane which visited Galveston in 1900 that business is being conducted on a greater scale than ever before. Galveston's total cotton receipts for 1901-02 were 2,696,710 bales, against 2,177,583 bales for 1900-01. Galveston's bank clearings for the year just closed amounted to $572,238,800, compared with $360,369,000 for the preceding year. During the season of 1901-02 the total shipping business of the port of Galveston was valued at $250,857,354, against $246,567,247 for the preceding year, showing an increase of $14,270,107. The resumption of business on such a scale would have been impossible if Galveston were not the most accessible and economical port for an enormous traffic. Galveston is the natural outlet for more than one-fourth of the area of the United States.

The Washington Post thinks that this is, more distinctly than any other that it can recall, a go-as-you-please campaign. Each congressional candidate will suit his speeches to the spirit and temper of the vicinage, regardless of the trend of public sentiment elsewhere or the consensus of opinion in the nation at large. Candidates for state offices will adopt the same policy, and imported speakers will take the local keynote, even if that requirement should necessitate frequent and radical changes as they travel from state to state. And why not? Why should not officials represent the sentiment of their own constituents?

The Age of Steel says that the recent publication of a statement that not a passenger was killed on English railroads in 1901, has brought out a claim for the Mexican National that that road, with its branches aggregating 1200 miles in operation, has for more than twenty years never killed a passenger, though it climbs more moutains and turns more curves than any road in the United States. In no civilized country in the world is human life held so cheap as it is in the United States.

The Pittsfield motorman saw the president's carriage in time, but expected it to get out of the way. It is these motorman expectations that make collisions certain. There is a whole lot of drivers of all sorts of vehicles who are hardly ever disposed to get off a track right away, and that is the chief cause of disasters of this kind.

The Kansas City Starbeam man either discovered or invented this item: "A school teacher back in Indiana told a little boy that unless he studied his lessons more diligently he would never be elected president. 'I don't expect to be,' said the boy. 'I'm a Democrat.'"

It is very good news that a force of only 13,000 men will be sufficient to take care of the Philippines. There could hardly be a worse place for our soldiers than these tropical islands, whose climate is much more to be dreaded than the poor little Filipinos with their American ideas of independence.

The people who remain on the island of Martinique show more courage than discretion. But perhaps many who would like to leave are financially unable to get away from their dangerous proximity to Mt. Pelee.

An Eastern newspaper warns the public that Carrie Nation has recited an original poem into a phonograph. They must be taking Carrie seriously in the East.

Whether the army or the navy beats, the Stars and Stripes will win.

In the Boer war, 23,029 of the British were wounded; 16,168 died of wounds or disease and 5,774 were killed. But life is cheap in expanding nations.

The collapse of the bicycle trust is an illustration of the fact that when the public stops buying trust products the trust goes to pieces.

The divine right of kings is not recognized in this country, and neither can the divine right of coal barons be acknowledged.

Somebody predicts "prosperity from the ground up" for the next few years. That is the only kind of prosperity there is.

President Baer, of the coal trust, may learn in time that "divine right" will not serve as an excuse for human wrong.

SMILING REMARKS.

Indianapolis Sun: "Do you take any interest in politics?" asked the professor.

"Why certainly not," answered the politician, indignantly. "All I want is the principal."

Washington Star: "I suppose that pugilists regard it as an advantage to get in the first blow."

"That used to be the case," answered the prize fighter, "but the ambition nowadays seems to be to have the last word."

Atlanta Constitution: "De devil is like a roarin' lion," said Bre'r Williams.

"No, he ain't," said Brother Dickey, "kase ef he wuz, dey ain't a sinner amongst you what wouldn't climb a tree w'en you heerd him comin'!"

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Our officials should understand that Uncle Sam expects every man of them to do his duty."

"All except the customs officials, of course. He expects them to collect it."

Philadelphia Record: "Funny thing about a man going out on a bat."

"What's funny?"

"Why, he generally comes home on an 'owl' car."

Detroit Free Press: "Is he competent?"

"I don't t.ink so. He was indignant when I offered to make a few suggestions."

Washington Star: "I never hear you say anything agin de trusts," said Plodding Pete.

"De trusts comes in very convenient to me," answered Meandering Mike, "in explainin' how de consolidation of industries forced me out of a job and turn me on de wide, wide world."

Chicago Tribune: "Wasn't is a terrifying experience," asked his friend, "when you lost your foothold and went sliding down the mountain side?"

"It was exciting, but extremely interesting," said the college professor "I could not help noticing all the way down, with what absolute accuracy I was following along the line of least resistance."

Philadelphia Press: "This is the weakest milk punch I ever tasted," said the customer, setting his glass down.

"You told me to put a dash of brandy in it," the bartender replied.

"I know it," the customer retorted, glaring at him. "And you haven't put even a hyphen in it!"

Philadelphia Catholic Standard: "Think of the suffering this coal strike will bring to the very poor people this winter."

"Yes, but it will bring some consolation to the very, very poor."

"The idea! How?"

"The people who never could afford to buy coal before will be glad to see some others in the same boat."

MAJESTIC MAN..

Majestic man! How proudly he goes ever on his way!
How firmly he maintains his course, with neither stop nor stay!
No petty curiosity can lead him from his path—
Inquisitiveness feminine awakes his caustic wrath.
He holds his way unswervingly • • • •
• • • • But, mark you seething crowd!
They struggle hitherward and yon, with objurgations loud,
What is it? Oh, what is it? Why, it is your men of might Observing with expressions tense two little newsboys fight!

Majestic man! He holds the world submissive to his sway;
The elements are harnessed for his pleasure night and day.
With calm unfaltering confidence he rules affairs of state,
And woman's wondering nature has his dislike strong and great.
The trivialities of life • • • •
• • • • Wait! Here's another mob,
Mark how within its boundaries the heads, excited bob,
What is it? Some debate on how to pay the nation's debts?
'Tis mighty man before a new display of cigarettes!

Majestic man! As we have said, he goes upon his way,
Unheeding all the little things that fret the hours of day.
The burden of the world is his—no moment must he lose;
His mind is ever working on • • • •
• • • • Look! Here they're shining shoes.
And one lone man is in a chair with boothlack at his feet,
While fifty mighty men are rubbernecking from the street!
• • • • • •
But, as we started out to say, man is too great to stop
And fool around, and look at things, like women when they shop.

Slow But Sure.

New York Tribune: American diplomacy with the porte, sometimes has to move slowly, but it generally gets there, all the same.

One Mild Surprise.

Saturday Evening Post: Beef went up on account of the scarcity of beef. Coal went up because of the scarcity of coal. The only surprising thing is that ice did not go up on account of the scarcity of water.

Some Cause For Thankfulness.

Kansas City Journal: One of the gratifying things about the naval encounter between Capt. Pillsbury and Admiral Higginson is the fact that it does not saddle the country with an additional pension roll.

He'll Never Get Left.

Brooklyn Eagle: Russell Sage is afraid that there are too many trusts, and there will be a grand collapse some morning when Morgan isn't looking. Uncle Russell believes, apparently, that there is going to be a brokers' trust. But he need not fear. He will be in it.

Old Wound Still Rankles.

Baltimore American: The feeling of the conquered provinces, exhibited by a deputation of citizens, from Lorraine who crossed the frontier to participate in a French celebration of a battle of 1870, shows that the old wound still rankles, and a wound which refuses to heal is as bad for international health as it is for individuals. The physical volcanoes may not be the only ones which have been silently working on the underside toward a disastrous explosion.

In Line For Another Jolt.

Washington Post: If Gen. Miles is able to distinguish the difference between the olive branch and a stuffed club, he may get back to a desirable place on the administration reservation.

Sugar Has Gone Up.

New York Press: Really Col. Watterson should stop nagging Cleveland. Is there something irritating in the Kentucky mint crop this year?

Reckless License.

Anaconda (Mont.) Standard: According to later reports it appears that the administration is sending Gen. Miles to the Philippines with all the powers and prerogatives of a private citizen.

Too Big a Handicap.

Washington Post: Hon. David B. Hill ought to know that a man who has never kissed a woman, and is foolish enough to admit it, can never be elected president of the United States.

AT THE HOTELS

J. E. Jopling, of Ishpeming, Mich., who is connected with the Cleveland-Cliffs iron company, registered at the Spalding this morning. Mr. Joplin is here in connection with the business of the iron company, which has recently made large purchases of ore property on the Messaba range. The Munising Paper company, which is a Cleveland-Cliffs company interest, has within the last few days let the contract for the erection of the new paper mill at Munising, Mich. The plant will be among the largest in the country and will cost in the neighborhood of $750,000. The contract was secured by the Northern Construction company, of Milwaukee, the bids being opened by President W. G. Mather, of the Cleveind-Cliffs company, on his return from the Lake Superior Mining institute. The mills are to be of steel, concrete and stone, the capacity will be 600 tons daily and contracts for about 15,000,000 feet of hemlock and other timber for pulp, are to be made at once.

F. L. Lindberg and W. Wahmanen, prominent residents of Haraboo, Wis., were among the excursionists that registered at the Spalding yesterday. Mr. Lindberg remarked on the growth of Duluth since he last visited it and said that the head of the lakes is far better better known for its commercial importance throughout Wisconsin than it was a few years ago. Both gentlemen report a satisfactory growth of their own city and claimed that business conditions there have been prosperous this past season.

W. M. Cain, of the Sauntry-Cain Lumber company, which is operating a large mill at Carlton, was in the city today a guest of the St. Louis. Mr. Cain reports the outlook good for a large cut at the company's mill this season, and predicts another good season next year. Lumber shipments by rail from Carlton this summer have been very brisk in spite of the mix-up in freight rates which made the market conditions uncertain to some extent for the manufacturers when they were called on to make prices for the buyers.

SWEARING BY TELEPHONE.

New York Press: A case has been decided in St. Louis and a physician who was made defendant was muicted in a substantial fine for relieving his feelings when exasperated beyond toleration by the vagaries of the telephone and pouring into it a stream of picturesque and variegated profanity. His defense was that he was not swearing at the operator but at the system. This did not avail. Central received the message and promptly curled up like a caterpillar on a hot shovel. Her ears were blistered and it needed a half holiday to restore her normal equanimity so that she could say "they're busy" with becoming calmness. The incident should be a warning to short-tempered people when they have the mouthpiece at their lips.

It is not only very wrong to swear into a telephone, but it is very foolish as well. Nothing is accomplished by it. Our advice to the man who cannot contain himself is to "ring off," reure to a safe distance, and then say what he thinks. Central has him at a hopeless disadvantage. She can cut him off just at the climax of his imprecation or connect him with some one else—his wife or his pastor, if the opportunity offers. There is absolutely no satisfaction in swearing into a "dead" instrument, nor, for that matter, in a feeling of uncertainty as to whether what you have said ..as been heard or not. The system does not care a rap how much you curse it, and the operators will probobly find it a diversion from the monotony of their occupation to make you pay for your fun in a police court. The only value of this kind of diversion is in its reflex influence upon the person who indulges in it. This he can experience with greater fullness and satisfaction if, when his internal pressure exceeds the weighting of his moral safety valve, he will go off by himself and, well —perhaps the best thing he can do then is to reflect whether it is worth while to swear at all.

A Hard Handicap.

A HARD HANDICAP.
The town hall always has a crowd
To near my Uncle Jim;
There ain't nobody in the state
That talks as well as him.
But when he run fur office once
I had to mourn his lot;
Mine and another feller's was
The only votes he got.

The man who beat him was a chap
Of ordinary mind;
He wa'n't particularly wise
Nor specially refined.
And all he said was, "Howdy-do!"
In accents mild and bland;
And all the work he ever did
Was shakin' some one's hand.

The voters said they'd tried to help
The weak an' not the strong;
A man as smart as Uncle Jim
Was sure to get along.
That's why that man of average mind
Finds life a restful joke;
And incidentally that's why
My Uncle Jim is broke.

How Thompson's Watch Cost Him a Wife

By William Bloss.

(Copyright, 1902, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

"Gentlemen of the leisure class don't carry watches, nowadays," said our host, Thompson, dogmatically, pausing to light a second cigarette. "James, since Capt. Barry wishes to be exact, you may look at the library clock and tell him what time it is."

"It is striking 8 o'clock, sir," replied James, respectfully, as he quietly filled the captain's glass.

There was a snug party of six lounging over their wine and tobacco after dining regally at Thompson's bachelor board. Barry had to catch a train for St. Paul at 9 p. m. He wanted to stay just as long as possible before summoning a cab to take him to the depot, and upon consultating his watch for the hour had been seized by forebodings as to the accuracy of the hands. His inquiry as to the 'right' time had led to the host's remark.

Barry flushed a little as it fell. The assertion seemed to his mind supercilious and barbarously un?American. Barry himself was a man of the people, and was proud of it. So, too, was Thompson, or nad been, once.

"What do you mean by 'gentlemen of the leisure class,' you gray-haired fraud,' he demanded, in half anger. "Do you mean to say I am no gentleman because I carry a watch and like to know what time it is when I have a train to make?"

"Certainly not," replied Thompson with placidity. "Of course not. You are a gentleman because you are a man of education, intelligence, good breeding and some ancestry——"

"Huh!" grunted the mollified Barry. "What then?"

"But you are not," continued the host, "a gentleman of the leisure class, because you busy yourself with your commercial affairs and even at your age continue——"

"At my age! I'm full five years younger than you are."

Thompson waved the interruption aside as irrelevant. "I was going to say that if you quit business and became a loafer——"

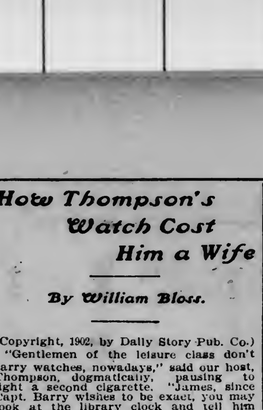

"As you have."

"Yes, as I have, then you might account yourself a gentleman of the leisure class."

"When I was a young person," continued Thompson, "just beginning life on the board of trade, after leaving Ann Arbor, my Uncle Jackson Thompson, who had sent me to school and had in fact reared me from boyhood as his own son, with much ceremony one day presented me with a timepiece known as the family clock, and told me, with moist eyes to cherish it as the apple of my eye; always to be exact and reliable, as true to duty, as honest, as industrious, as it was itself.

"Tom," said he, "You know how much we Thompsons think of this watch. It belonged to your great grandfather. He bought it in Liverpool before the revolution, and it has been in the family—and running, too—most of the time, ever since. Take it, my boy, and remember to live up to its principles."

"I was much affected, naturally for I knew Uncle Jackson regarded that watch as his chiefest treasure. I made all sorts of protestations of good behavior and careful solicitude for the ancient horologue. Uncle Jackson went back to his Michigan farm—and I went to work among the bears and bulls here in Chicago, on the old board.

"The watch, as you remembered, Carroll, was an enormous bull's eye, and weighed half a pound, easy. But I wore it, and laid aside my own more modern timepiece. The boys used to laugh at it a good deal, and got in the habit of asking me what tim it was, just to see me lug it out, and to pretend that I had selected to decide disputes as to the exact hour and second, and all that sort of nuisance, you know. But I didn't much care. Uncle Jackson could have any old thing he wanted from me then. He was getting old—and he had a bushel of deeds to good Michigan land.

"One Saturday afternoon, hurrying on to the boat, going over to visit Uncle Jackson, I took out my watch to see if I had time to run back upon some trifling errand had forgotten. The ancient chain parted a link, the watch rolled from my hand, fell upon the gangplank, quivered there an instant, and then plunged with a malicious plunk and gurgle into the Chicago river.

"I came near to diving after it, as it went down, so great was my consternation, but finally was content to hire two river roustabouts to try to recover it, with the promise of a big reward. Then the boat cast off her lines and I started for the lion's mouth, wondering what kind of a lie would go down with Uncle Jackson. Me always wanted to see the old watch, about the first thing, when I went over to visit him on Sunday.

"Have you brought the watch?" he gasped sternly.

"After deep thought I concluded to say it was in a jeweler's hands for repairs, trusting that my amateur divers would recover it for me by the time I returned. Perhaps I faltered a little in detail when I told him this tale. He was very inquisitive about it, and it seemed to me unduly suspicious. Nevertheless, he affected to believe me, and at last I breathed freely; then he confounded me again by announcing a desire to return with me on Monday morning to Chicago.

"As the boat landed my divers met me gleefully at the wharf, watch in hand, claiming their reward. They had recovered the old turnip at the first effort, I learned afterwards, but they prated much of their desperate search in the dirty river, and insisted upon receiving the promised $50. I was caught red-handed, so to speak. Uncle Jackson took in the situation at a single look. He was very grave.

"'I could have excused your heedlessness, Tom,' he said, 'but I hate to have you lie to me. Don't do it again, my son. Remember the old watch. It never told a lie in all its life.'

"He went home that very afternon, wearing a severe countenance. I was full of gloom. All my worldly prospects hung upon Uncle Jackson's good will. That night out of the pure perversity which makes a man do the wrong thing when he should be pursuing only the right one, I began a wild spree, the first and last one of my life. It lasted a whole week. When it was over my watch had disappeared and I had no knowledge of its whereabouts.

"At my lodgings, when I returned, I found a telegram, two days old, from Uncle Jackson, summoning me to Michigan. It was brief, but sufficiently pointed:

"Now wouldn't that have given you a chill? There was another communication as well. It was from Ethel. Ethel was the girl I was going to marry. She said she had become acquainted with my reckless conduct, that she perceived my indifference, and that our engagement, sir, was at an end forever. You can imagine I was sufficiently dispirited, as I hurried with my aching head and wretched, debile body to take a Michigan Central train for the other side of the lake.

"I found Uncle Jackson with the fingers of death at his throat, but his mind was clear enough. 'Have you brought the watch?' he gasped, sternly, as I bent to embrace him.

"I was about to murmur some maudlin excuses, but he checked me sharply. His lawyer was present. They were awaiting me, it seemed. My uncle called for his will. Under it was a clause leaving me $50,000 of his modest fortune. He grimly directed the cutting down of his neat sum by the excision of a cipher. The will then gave me $5000 instead of $50,000. The $45,000 bite thus taken from my plum was given to Ethel, on condition that she marry my cousin Charlie, whom I hated with true cousinly rancor. Uncle Jackson calmly signed the altered will; then he faced me to the wall and quietly departed for a better world.

"The story-teller ceased, and once more raised his half-filled glass with a gesture of invitation.

"What in the world do you suppose became of the old watch, anyway?" demanded Cusack, who possessed an inquisitive mind.

"Huh!" answered Thompson. "When I got home again a saloonkeeper sent me word he had my watch in his safe, waiting for me. He had taken it away from me noe night in fear I would lose it while on that costly spree. He knew its story and wanted to protect me."

"And then?"

"Then as soon as I got my hands on it again I walked deliberately to the Wells street bridge, and a second time consigned it to the Chicago river. It's there yet, I hope.

SETTING THE CLOCKS.

New York World: The most interesting moment of the day in crossing the ocean is that at which the ship's clocks are changed. On the stroke of eight bells the passengers set their watches and with the act they realize how many leagues of sea they have left astern in twenty-four hours.

It is with a similar feeling that we move from one round number to another in describing the population of the United States. When we could stop speaking of a nation of 40,000,000 people and begin instead to speak of one of 50,000,000, we all felt at few inches taller. We grew still further when we rose from 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 and from 60,000,000 to 70,000,000. And now the time has come for a new advance. We may henceforth refer confidently to our 80,000,000 inhabitants.

The increase in our population between the censuses of 1890 and 1900 was the least shade under 1½ per cent a year plus the year's immigration. The same rate of increase would have brought us to the 80,000,000 mark in July, or, to be perfectly safe, in August of the present year.

It will be several years before we shall need to set our national watches again, but, barring an unforseen and improbable interference with out present rate of advance, President Roosevelt, or whoever may be chosen to succeed him at the next election, will become the head of 90,000,000 people within the limits of the old continental United States some time in the year 1907, or at the very latest in 1908.

MEMORIES OF ONE GONE.

Sweet little maid with winsome eyes
That laugh all day through the tangled hair,
Gazing with baby looks so wise
Over the arm of the oaken chair,
Dearer than you is none to me,
Dearer than you there can be none;
Since in your laughing face I see
Eyes that tell of another one.

Here where the firelight softly glows,
Sheltered and safe and snug and warm,
What to you is the wind that blows,
Driving the sleet of the winter storm?
Round your head the ruddy light
Glints on the gold from your tresses spun,
But deep is the drifting snow tonight
Over the head of the other one.

Hold me close as you sagely stand
Watching the dying embers shine;
Then shall I feel another hand
That nestled once in this hand of mine;
Poor little hand, so cold and chill,
Shut from the light of stars and sun,
Clasping the withered roses still
That hide the face of the sleeping one,

Laugh, little maid, while laugh you may,
Sorrow comes to us all, I know;
Better perhaps for her to stay
Under the drifting snow.
Under the drifting robe of snow.
Sing till your baby days are done;
But, oh, the ache of the heart that longs
Night and day for the other one!

Tragedy Enacted By Colored Man at Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 8.—Thomas Burke lies dead at his home here with his head almost severed from his body while his wife is in a dangerous condition from either knife or razor wounds inflicted by Matthew Alexander, a colored man, who has been employed around the house for the past five years.

Alexander entered the room in which Mrs. Burke was sleeping with her 13-year-old daughter at midnight while her husband lay asleep on a couch on the other side of the room. Mrs. Burke was awakened by feeling the keen edge of a sharp instrument drawn across her cheek and her screams aroused her husband. Burke rushed to the rescue of his wife, but he was only partially awake when slashed across the neck and face by the negro. When Burke fell dying upon the floor, the negro rushed out a side door but attempted to re-enter the room after the door was bolted by Mrs. Burke. Burke died almost instantly. His wife held his head sobbing and moaning as the blood dropped from her face on that of her husband. No cause is known for the tragedy as Alexander had been well treated and trusted by the family. He is said to have become a slave of cocaine recently and he may have been under the influence of the drug.

Don't delay a minute. Cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea come suddenly. Only safe plan is to have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry always on hand.

COLLISION

Between Two Electric Cars at St. Paul Injures Several.

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—Two electric cars on the Fort Snelling line collided about 11:15 last evening and ten persons have been taken to the city hospital suffering from injuries received in the wreck. The accident occurred on the single track line, between the fort and Tuscarora avenue. A motor car and trailer were returning from the fort heavily laden with passengers. Approaching from the city was a heavy single car, the headlight of which had been extinguished. It is not known just who was to blame for the accident, but the cars met at fill speed on Hamline avenue. The motor car and trailer from the fort were broken into splinters and the passengers ground and crushed beneath the debris.

The list of those injured is as follows: J. F. Doty, motorman; Robert Burns, William Brown, Otto Benz, R. C. Henningor, R. Van Beeck, F. J. Strachota, F. W. Ollinshaw, Nels Johnson, Emil Gottwald.

None are fatally injured.

EXPLOSION.

Powder Magazine at Fort Winthrop Is Blown Up.

Boston, Sept. 8.—One of the powder magazines at Old Fort Winthrop on Governor's Island, upper Boston harbor, blew up last evening with a detonation that was heard at points twenty miles away. The explosion is supposed to have been caused by boys setting fires on the islands. One dead man and one injured were brought to the city by the police boat, and, while it is believed that this is the extent of the casualties, it is possible that others may be found suffering from the forces or the concussion. The dead man's name is Cotter, but further than this nothing is known about him.

Negotiations have been pending for some time for the release of the island to the city by the government for use as a park, and although notice of formal transfer has not been completed, the guard over the island has been relaxed and as a result numerous clubs and pleasure parties have made use of it, especially on Sundays, the government's only representative there being an ordnance sergeant who has to maintain a force on the entire island. There are several old ramshackle wooden buildings at the southern end of the island, but the fort there, only a little of which is visible above ground, is of stone, soft granite blocks being of immense size.

The force of the explosion is shown by the fact that some of these great blocks were hurled several hundred yards, while one of the largest was sent into the air and came down through the citadel in the center of the fort, making a hole large enough to drive a team of horses through. All over the island the effects of the explosion are visible, while in East Boston, South Boston and in the city proper the concussion was severe enough to break windows and shake buildings to the foundations.

ROACH DEAD.

Former North Dakota Senator Passes Away In New York.

New York, Sept. 8.—William Nathaniel Roach, who was United States senator from North Dakota, from 1887 to 1891, died here yesterday. He had been ill from cancer almost from his coming to this city, where he had made his home after retiring from the senate. Under special treatment here he progressed favorably, and about a month ago it was announced that he was out of danger. He suffered a relapse, however, and died after having been confined to his bed for ten months.

William N. Roach was born in Washington, September 29, 1840. He was graduated from Georgetown University. He served as a clerk in the United States quartermasters' department during the civil war. He removed to Dakota territory in 1879, and having secured all contracts, established a number of overland mail routes. He was the mayor of Larimore from 1883 to 1887. Mr. Roach was twice the Democratic nominee for governor, but was defeated on both occasions.

Mr. Roach was twice married, his first wife dying in 1885. In 1890 he married Mrs. Alexander L. Pollock, of Salt Lake City. A solemn requiem mass will be celebrated at St. Ignatius, R. C. church. The interment will be in Washington.

Parents' Responsibility Great

It is the right of every child to be well born, and to the parents it must look for health and happiness. How inconceivably great is the parents' responsibility, and how important that no taint of disease is left in the blood to be transmitted to the helpless child, entailing the most pitiable suffering, and marking its little body with offensive sores and eruptions, catarrh of the nose and throat, weak eyes, glandular swellings, brittle bones, white swelling and deformity.

How can parents look upon such little sufferers and not reproach themselves for bringing so much misery into the world? If you have any disease lurking in your system, how can you expect well developed, healthy children? Cleanse your own blood and build up your health, and you have not only enlarged your capacity for the enjoyment of the pleasures of life, but have discharged a duty all parents owe to posterity, and made mankind healthier and happier.

There is no remedy that so surely reaches deep-seated, stubborn blood troubles as S. S. S. It searches out even hereditary poisons, and removes every taint from the blood, and builds up the general health. If weaklings are growing up around you, right the wrong by putting them on a course of S. S. S. at once. It is a purely vegetable medicine, harmless in its effects, and can be taken by both old and young without fear of any bad results.

YIELD IS IMMENSE

Daniel Rogers Tells of Pacific Coast Wheat Raising.

Yield Per Acre Is Large, But Grain Is Inferior.

Many Former Duluthians Located In Western Country.

Daniel Rogers, a well known logging and mining man, has returned to the head of the lakes, after a visit of three or four months in Oregon, during which time he has secured some large pine tracts in that state. Mr. Rogers expects to return to Oregon in October and spend the winter there looking after his interests.

A. C. Campbell, of the Duluth Logging & Construction company, accompanied Mr. Rogers from Oregon, stopping in the Twin Cities for a visit.

Mr. Rogers spent a large part of his time at Portland, which he says is one of the most beautiful and prosperous of the Pacific coast cities. He met there a number of former Duluthians who had not forgotten their old home and who asked after the city's progress.

Speaking of the wheat crop of the Western coast states, Mr. Rogers said: "There was a bumper wheat crop on the coast this season, especially in Oregon and Northern Idaho. There are sections in those two states that will run from sixty to sixty-five bushels per acre. The grain there is a soft variety, unlike the hard wheat of Minnesota and Dakota, and very little of it comes this way. The Western wheat goes to the coast in sacks and is shipped to Asiatic countries. The wheat trade with the Orient is assuming immense proportions and is getting to be one of the principal factors in the Pacific ocean commerce.

"Large areas of wheat fields were found high up on the slopes of the Rocky mountains, where it did not suppose that wheat would ever grow. In these sections it is claimed that ten days of steady east wind will greatly curtail the wheat crop. It will stand nearly a week of east wind, but if it runs longer than that the ground will dry up to a depth of several feet. The west winds, laden with moisture from the Pacific ocean, is the wind that the wheat growers depend on for a heavy crop. The region practically has no rain after the first of June and were it not for the west winds there would be no wheat crop. I was told that after a week of steady west wind the ground would be found moist for a depth of several inches.

"There has been quite a large movement of people to the coast to pick up timber claims and in the past two or three years a large area of timber has been secured, particularly near the railroads and the towns. There is still, however, large tracts of standing pine miles from the cities and the railroads, which are available and which will be taken up in the next few years."

Rifle Range, Sea Girt, N. J., Sept. 8.—The most largely attended and successful rifle tournament ever held on the New Jersey range was terminated late Saturday with the close of the firing in the president's match for the military championship of the United States.

The champion is George E. Cooke, of the First District of Columbia regiment. In order to win the title he found it necessary to shoot better than forty-three other competitors. The victor scored a total of 189 out of a possible 210.

FIVE WRECKS

Occurred on the Pennsylvania Railroad on Sunday.

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 8.—Five freight wrecks occurred yesterday between Johnstown and Harrisburg on the Pensylvania railroad system. The first occurred at 2 o'clock yesterday morning and was caused by a runaway freight train crashing into another freight train at McGarvey's Station, three miles west of Altoona. Ten cars and the locomotive of the runaway train were derailed and broken. Fireman William G. Allison broke his left arm jumping from the engine, but no one else was hurt.

A short time later a freight train on the Cresson and Clearfield road parted near Frugality and the two sections coming together again with great force, several cars were wrecked. Brakeman J. E. Gutschall was taken from under the cars dead and Brakeman C. E. Steele died on the way to the Altoona hospital.

Nine cars loaded with valuable merchandise are said to have been destroyed. Shortly afterwards there was a wreck at Millerstown, and five loaded cars are said to have been broken to pieces, the result of a broken wheel. Another wreck occurred at Ryde, and several cars were broken up.

BARTHOLIN A SUICIDE

Body of the Chicago Murderer Found at Riceville, Ia.

He Had Been Working In Harvest Fields There.

Left an Alleged Confession, Saying He Had No Accomplices.

Riceville, Iowa, Sept. 8.—The body which was buried Saturday morning and which was believed to be that of William Bartholin was exhumed yesterday afternoon and positively identified as that of the Chicago double murderer. The identification was made by Willitm Mitchell, a brother of one of Bartholin's victims, and Detective Andrew Rohan, of Chicago, who arrived here yesterday morning from Chicago. Dr. A. J. Cody, of Chicago, who came here with Detective Rohan, cut out the lower jaw of the dead murderer which contained the two gold-crowned teeth, which have figured so largely in the descriptions sent broadcast throughout the country for purposes of identification. The jaw will be taken to Chicago by the detective.

Bartholin's body was found Friday afternoon about six miles from Riceville by J. G. Pratt, a resident of Riceville. Mr. Pratt was driving to Elma, and when passing a field saw the body lying against a straw stack. Thinking it was a man asleep, he paid no attention, but on returning found the man still there, and upon investigation found he was dead, with a revolver lying by his left hand. Coroner T. S. Carpenter was notified and the body was removed to an undertaking establishment at Riceville. There J. B. McCook, editor of a Riceville newspaper, discovered that the dead man bore a striking resemblance to the published pictures of the Chicago murderer.

Inquiry here develops that Bartholin came to Riceville Aug. 6, before the bodies of Mrs. Bartholin and Miss Mitchell were discovered. Thomas Phee, a contractor, doing some work for the Great Western road, advertised for laborers in Chicago on Aug. 5, offering free transportation to the place of work. Among those who responded was Bartholin, who passed under the name of George Edwards. He worked at the construction work for but half a day, and has since been working on a threshing machine and in the harvest fields until last Saturday morning, when he was last seen leaving Riceville in the direction of the place where his body was found.

"To whom it may concern: I want to state I am the Bartholin the police are looking for. Also wish to certify I had no assistance of any kind from anyone. Thompson, Claffey and Counselman are all as innocent as an unborn child, and should be freed at once.

"I cannot go into details in regard to the crimes. They were not planned. It was all done and I could do. My mind is wandering. Such a drop in life in a short time! Two months ago traveling in the best of company; today living the life of hoboes; a murderer!

"But above all things, it is to clear everybody from under suspicion. There is no second party; I am the last.

"W. J. BARTHOLIN."

"The charges preferred by the police against Claffy, Thompson and Counselman will be heard by the next grand jury, which convenes one week from Tuesday," said an attache of the state's attorney's office last night. "The confession of Bartholin is not a ukase guaranteed to free everybody. The fact that Bartholin killed three people, including himself, will add no great weight to this piece of written testimony he left behind. There may be other strong evidences involving these three men. This evidence must be heard, wherefore the accused must remain in jail in default of bail, unless released on habeas corpus, and I hardly believe that is possible."

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Rev. Morris Wilson, who yesterday morning murdered his wife and escaped to Woodlands, W. Va., is yet at large. The belief of many is that the aged parson has committed suicide and searching parties are scouring the woods in the vicinity of his home at Genoa.

A wife's interference prevented Louis Quinn from being shot to death Sunday morning at Whitmore, Ohio, by his brother-in-law, E. G. Dills. The former entered the latter's store and accused Dills of writing a communication against his candidacy for auditor of Sandusky county. A quarrel ensued and Dills shot Quinn in the head. The latter's wife then stepped between the men. Quinn may die and Dills is under arrest.

All the Louisville, Ky., ministers notified their congregations Sunday that a mass meeting would be held this week to take action looking to the prevention of the fight between McGovern and Young Corbett, scheduled for Sept. 22. At this meeting a petition will be drawn up for presentation to Governor Beckham, asking him to stop the fight.

ASHLAND HAPPENINGS.

W. H. Gilbert's Barn and Valuable Horses Burned.

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. H. Gilbert, the Norway lumber king, met with a heavy loss, his barn being burned, together with a beautiful span of driving horses and five elegant carriages. When the fire alarm was turned in the barn was a mass of flames. A man by the name of Grover, sleeping in the barn, barely escaped with his life. The fire was caused by spontaneous combustion in an oiled mop, which had been used for oiling the barn floor. The horses were valued at $800. Loss on barn and carriages $1000, partially covered by insurance.

The grand lodge of Good Templars of the state of Wisconsin will convene in Ashland, from Sept. 11 to Sept. 14. Among the prominent officers who will be in attendance are Col. B. F. Parker, grand counselor, and W. H. Clark, Ripon, grand chief templar.

Professor Brazelton and wife have returned from Chicago, where Mrs. Brazelton has been studying in the conservatory of music, as well as enjoying a number of weeks of pleasure.

Mr. Knapp, of the Brewer & Knapp Lumber company, returned from an extended trip through Washington exploring timber lands.

The Novelty Manufacturing company has started its mill with a full crew, Mr. Smeaton, the manager, was transacting business in Duluth last week.

MARCUS L. FAY,

Candidate For the Democratic Nomination For Congressman

The above is a picture of Marcus L. Fay, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman from the Eighth congressional district.

Mr. Fay is about 54 years old. His parents were old settlers in the state of Ohio, and Mr. Fay started out for himself when quite a young man, going into the lumber camps of Michigan, where he was employed in common labor, and gradually advanced until he became an operator in the logging business, and looked after large interests for Michigan lumbering men.

Some eighteen years ago his business brought him around the head of the lakes, and for the past ten years he has been in the lumbering and mining business in St. Louis county.

At present he is in the iron business exclusively, and in the past two or three years has opened up several new iron properties, and he is now vice president of the Pearce Mining company and is managing and operating the Laura and Winford mines at Hibbing and is supplying the West Duluth blast furnace with ore. He has had for a number of years several hundred men in his employ and has always treated his employes fair and liberally.

Mr. Fay is a hustler, and believes that anything that is worth accomplishing can be accomplished with a "little hustling." His success in the iron business during the last four or five years has certainly demonstrated that.

He has been a Democrat all of his life, has been more or less an active worker for his party, was a warm and staunch supporter of Hon. C. A. Towne, and spent his entire time during the several Towne campaigns hustling for Mr. Towne in the northern part of St. Louis county. He has been a student all of his life, is well posted in political economy, and although not an orator, is a ready and forcible speaker.

When the Democratic leaders were shying about for a candidate for the coming primaries, Mr. Fay was asked if he would make the run, but Mr. Fay preferred to have someone else carry the banner, and went with a number of Democratic friends to persuade Mr. Jenswold to enter the congressional field, and Mr. Fay only consented to run in case Mr. Jenswodl, who seeemed to be the last hope, would not enter the field. After Mr. Jenswold emphatically declined, and again at the urgent solicitation of a number of the leaders and friends, Mr. Fay filed his affidavit, and, as he puts it, "it is a good deal like a mining proposition where you have to dig down under the surface of the ground and do not know what you are going to strike. When you commence you have to invest; in order to win out, you have to go down and take your chances. If you back out you are sure to be a loser. Now, I am in this fight on the same kind of a proposition. I am in it to stay, just to see how the thing turns out."

Mr. Fay's friends, and they are numerous all over the city and particularly in the northern part of the county, predict his receiving the nomination.

ROUGH AND TUMBLE FIGHT

In the Union League Club at Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—The Union League club was the scene, a few days ago, of a rough-and-tumble fight between George E. Cole, president of the Legislative Voters' league, and Fred M. Blount, vice president of the Chicago National bank and Republican leader of the Twentieth ward. The affair was kept quiet by the friends of the two men and just leaked out today. The governing committee of the Union League club has taken up the matter and both partiepants in the fracas probably will be disciplined.

It has been an open secret for some time that bad blood existed between Messrs. Cole and Blount on account of political differences. Mr. Blount, who is prominently identified with the Republican machine, has never relished the fight made against the machine candidates by Mr. Cole as president of the Municipal Voters' league and of the Legislative oVters' league. The two met with some friends at the club and politics was discussed.

Before any of the group realized the serious turn of affairs, the lie had been passed and Blount, according to witnesses, had seized Cole by the throat and forced him to the floor. The rest of the group separated the enraged combatants and reminded them that their actions would reflect upon the club and that they were making a spectacle of themselves.

DECLINE IN WHEAT

Market Started Out Weak and Ruled Easy All Day.

Weather Conditions Had Much to Do With Weakness.

Flax Trading Was Active and the Market Lower.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 8.—The wheat market started out rather weak this morning under the influence of the weather conditions, the dry weather favoring the movement of the spring wheat, although the receipts were still light and the grading at Chicago continued poor. The cables were weak. Frost was predicted in the Northwest tonight, but this was not much of a factor. The world's shipments were bearish, being 11,276,000 bus, against 7,905,000 bus last week and 7,478,000 bus last year, while breadstuffs on passage showed an increase of 3,304,000 bus. Duluth December closed 3c off; Minneapolis lost 3c, Chicago closed a shade off, and Liverpool closed ⅝d lower.

The visible supply of wheat shows an increase of 450,000 bus, and corn shows a decrease of 554,000 bus. Primary receipts of wheat were 1,279,000 bus, against 1,262,000 bus last year, and shipments were 521,000 bus against 1,122,000 bus last year. Primary receipts of corn were 247,000 bus, against 342,000 bus last year, and shipments were 80,000 bus, against 323,000 bus last year. Clearance of wheat and flour equaled 428,000 bus.

Trading was fairly active on the Duluth board this morning. December wheat opened 3c off at 65¾c, sold off to 65c at 9:45, upto 65¼c at 10:19, and closed 1c off at 65¼c. September opened unchanged at 67⅞c, sold off to 67c at 9:50, up to 67¼-½c at 10:03, off to 67¼c at 10:27, up to 67⅝c at 12:46, and closed 1c off at 67¼c.

Cash trading amounted to 100,000 bus at unchanged premiums, le over September for wheat to arrive and September price for wheat in store.

Flax trading was active. October flax opened 2½c off at $1.30, sold up to $1.31 at 9:32, off to $1.30 at 9:34, up to $1.32½ at 10:20, off to $1.31 at 12:50 and closed 1½c off at $1.31.

The close: Wheat—Cash 1 hard, 69c; 1 northern, 68¼c; 2 northern, 66¾c; 3 spring, 64½c; to arrive, 1 hard, 68¾c; 1 northern, 67½c; September, 67¼c; December, 65¼c. Oats—September, 30½c; December, 29½c; to arrive, 30½c; on track, 30½c. Rye—September, 45½c; to arrive, 45½c; on track, 46c. Barley—42-60. Flax—Cash, $1.43; to arrive, $1.35½; on track, $1.43; No. 1, N. W., $1.43; September, $1.35½; October, $1.31. November, $1.29½.

Cars inspected: Wheat 150, last year 425; oats 18; rye 3; barley 29; flax 21.

Receipts: Wheat, 58,357 bus; oats, 9,149; rye, 10,452; barley, 6,792; flax, 22,912.

Shipments: Wheat, 164,653; barley, 5,500; flax, 869.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Weather Conditions Again Cause Break In Trading.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Weakness prevailed again today during the early hours of trading on the board of trade. Weather conditions had much to do with the breaks. Wheat started a trifle firmer on a little buying by one of the big houses, and on Washington predictions of frost in the Northwest tonight. The predictions were almost ignored, however, and dips followed on the dry weather for the spring movement. Cables were weak but grading, and receipts were still slightly bullish. September wheat started ⅛c down to ¼c up at 71¼c to 71⅝c and slumped to 70¾c. December opened ⅛@¼c to a shade higher at 68c to 67¾c, and fell off to 67⅜. Local receipts were 286 cars, one of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 617 cars, making a total for the three points of 903 cars against 1431 a year ago. World's shipments were very bearish at 11,276,000 bus, against 7,905,000 bus last week and 7,478,000 bus a year ago. Breadstuffs on passage increased 3,304,000 bus.

A good export demand, with 62 loads reported taken at the seaboard and 20 loads at Duluth, helped wheat in a slight rally late in day after the market had hung idle for sometime. September, however, closed weak, ½c down at 71¾c. December sold back to 67⅞ and closed steady a shade down at 67¾c.

The corn belt had warm weather yesterday, cables were lower and the crowd turned bearish. Nearly all traders felt that with another week of warm weather a big corn crop will be assured. September weakened nervously on this feeling, starting 9c to 10c off at 57¾c to 57¼c, slipping to 56c and rallying to 56⅞c. December opened ½@¾c down to a shade up at 42¾c to 42⅝c and declined to 42c. Receipts were 125 cars, 19 contract grade.

September corn ruled weak all session and closed 1¼c lower at 56¾c. December, however, was wanted for those who soon September and there was a late reaction to 42¾c. The close was firm, ⅛ @¼c up at 42⅝c.

Fair weather and liberal receipts depressed oats early. Grading was still poor, but elevators were making stiff trades. September opened dull, but unchanged at 28c to 28½c, and fell off in sympathy with other grains to 28¼c. December sold from 28c to 28½c. Receipts were 80 cars, 27 of contract grade.

Hogs were received liberally at the stockyards and sold lower. This induced some selling of hog products in the pit, and prices started 2c off all around, but rallied on a little support and held very steady. January pork sold from $14.99 to $14.80; January lard from $8.85 to $8.55@8.57½, and January ribs from $8.80 to $8.60.

Close: Wheat, October, 68⅝c; December, 67¾c; May, 69⅝c. Corn, September, 56¾c; December, 42⅝c; May, 42¾@42⅝c. Oats, September, 26c; new, 24c; December, 26c; new, 30¾@24c; May, 31c. Pork, September, $16.80; October, $16.95; January, $14.80; May, $14.00. Lard, September, $10.50; October, $9.72½; January, $8.35; May, $7.92½. Ribs, September, $10.50; October, $10.00; January, $8.87½; May, $7.85. Flax, cash Northwestern, $1.39; Southwestern, $1.35; September, $1.35; October, $1.31. Rye, September, 43c; January, cash, 39@39½c. Timothy, September, $4.45. Clover, October, $5.75@5.85. Cash wheat, No. 2 red, 70¾c; No. 3 red, 65½@68c; No. 2 hard, 69c; No. 3 hard, 65½@68c; No. 1 northern spring, 73½c; No. 2 northern spring 72½c; No. 3 spring, 70c. Corn, No. 2, 56c; No. 3, 55½@56c. Cash oats, No. 2, 29c; No. 3, 27@29c.

GRAIN GOSSIP.

Logan & Bryan, Chicago: Wheat—Market was rather easier early on the weak cables, bnut closed fairly steady. There was no great pressure to sell, and the Northwest movement is increasing but has not yet reached last year's propositions. The expectation is that primary receipts will continue to increase. A fair export demand was reported at the seaboard, but so far as cash markets developed anything, they were rather slow. Broomhall cabled that Liverpool was weak on improved weather and much-needed rains in Argentine. It is quite likely that the large world's shipments were also a factor. It still looks to us like a slow market with only scalping operations possible. Estimated cars, 900.

Corn—September corn was without much support and acted a little weak. Our own impression is that the holdings of September corn are scattered and that the short interest is unimportant. The new corn is beginning to move in a small way in the Southwest, and with continued favorable weather the movement of old corn is likely to increase. December closed a little firm, we think on the possibility of an outlook for frost on the morning map. The cash situation is slow as we expect, and users of corn will at this stage buy as sparingly as possible. Weather is generally favorable for maturing the crop, and the Kansas advices are that everything in that latitude is beyond the reach of damage. Every day of good weather now is of immense value. Estimated cars, 290.

Oats—The market was rather quiet. There is some uneasiness of the inability to fill September contracts, but the general tone of the market apart from that was not strong. With good weather, large receipts of oats seem probable. Estimated cars, 320.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN.

Liverpool, Sept. 8.—Wheat: Spot 1 northern spring firm, 6s 4d; 2 western winter dull, 5s 11½d; 1 California steady, 6s 4½d; futures dull; Sept. 5s 11d; December, 5s 9⅞d. Corn: Spot quiet; American mixed, 5s 11d; futures dull; October, 5s 3d; November, nominal; January, 4s 8d. The imports of wheat into Liverpool last week were 103,700 quarters from Atlantic ports, 1,000 from Pacific and 7,000 from other ports. The imports of corn from Atlantic ports last week were 19,000 quarters.

MARKET REPORT.

Received over private wire of H. E. Baker, grain and stock broker, 207 Board of Trade, Duluth, Minn.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—The wheat market after opening higher, because the morning newspapers predicted frost, later in the day sold down owing to discouraging advices from abroad and heavy general rains in the Argentine, but at the decline there was very good buying which absorbed the offerings and later when early settlers tried to cover they found little for sale. Prices rallied and the market closed firm. Liverpool reported their market as weak ⅝d to 1d lower for the day. Continental markets were also lower, affected by the favorable conditions in the Argentine. Cash demand here was quiet and the seaboard reported only a moderate business done there for export. The market for the time being will be governed a great deal by the weather conditions in the Northwest. If they remain favorable receipts undoubtedly will increase materially and probably depress prices. On the other hand if the weather turns unfavorable it will stop the movement to market and advance prices. Estimated receipts for tomorrow 400 cars.

The corn market during the early part of the session ruled weak on prospects of larger receipts in the near future. Country acceptances on bids made Saturday night were very liberal, especially in this state, and the elevator people and receivers reported a good deal bought to come here. This had a tendency to weaken the September option materially. Toward the end of the session the whole market rallied in sympathy with wheat. Foreign markets were weak: Liverpool closed ⅝d to 1d lower for the day. Cash demand was quiet and buyers generally holding off expecting lower prices with increased receipts. Weather generally favorable for the growing crop. Estimated receipts for tomorrow 290 cars.

Oats generally followed the course of corn. After ruling weak early, later in the session rallied and closed steady. Trade was fairly large and mostly all in a local professional character. With favorable weather receipts are expected to increase materially. Cash demand rather quiet. Estimated receipts for tomorrow 320 cars.

Provisions opened weak and lower on unexpectedly large run of hogs. Market was giving large usual support and rallied some, but later in the session bulls ran from their own shadows and the market closed weak. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 17,000 hogs.

FOOTBALL.

Madison Will Begin Practice on Wednesday Afternoon.

Madison, Sept. 8.—On Wednesday afternoon Jerry Riordan, assistant to Coach Phil King, will lead twenty-five candidates out upon the campus for the first football practice of the season. There will in all probability be a winter game Christmas day in California against Leland Stanford.

The schedule so far arranged is as follows: Sept. 27, open; Oct. 4, Hyde Park at Madison; Oct. 11, Milwaukee Medic, at Madison; Oct. 18, Beloit, at Milwaukee; Oct. 25, Kansas, at Madison; Nov. 1, Michigan, at Chicago; Nov. 8, Northwestern, at Madison; Nov. 15, Minnesota, at Minneapolis; Nov. 22, no game; thus giving Chicago, at Chicago.

ARE EXPECTANT.

A Challenge From Lipton Is Expected Soon.

New York, Sept. 8.—Members of the Royal Ulster Yacht club, through which Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge for the America's cup will be transmitted, are in a state of expectation, for Sir Thomas has made no arrangements with the club in any way in regard to the challenge, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune. One of the officials of the club is quoted as having said there is good reason to think that Sir Thomas will send a challenge this month.

FABRICATION SAYS MITCHELL.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 8.—President Mitchell stated today that the report sent out from Scranton to the effect that he told a friend that the strike would be over by Sept. 10, and that the strikers would have to go back to work to save the miners' union, was a "pure fabrication." He says he never made such a remark to any person. It is stated here the Parsons, Pa., local of the United Mine Workers, has passed a resolution to return to work on Sept. 15.

ATTENDANCE WILL BE LARGE.

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The eleven denominational colleges of St. Paul will open this year with a much larger attendance than last season. The instructors at all of the colleges expect a larger body of students than attended last year, and some report a larger percentage of increase during any year.

FIRES IN WYOMING.

Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 8.—Parties just in from the Rambler mine report a big forest fire just south of Holmes, in which the District mine is located. It is burning in the timber five or six miles south of the mine, and Thursday destroyed the property of the White Swan Mining company. Yesterday the fire was still raging in the timber, and was threatening properties in the Keystone district.

STRENGTH IN STOCKS

Was In Evidence During Latter Part of the Session.

Dealings Broader Than at Any Other Period of Day.

The Closing Was Fairly Active and Prices Firm.

New York, Sept. 8.—Business was fairly active at the opening, but the market lacked a definite tone. Most of the international stocks were heavy, but their weakness was offset by support to the industrials and coalers, especially Reading, which opened 1⅞ higher and then reacted a point. Canadian Pacific scored the widest loss of 1¼, but the changes otherwise were only slight fractions.

Professional operators selected the various metal stocks as bull leaders and bid them up materially as around on large transactions, something made a rise of 2¾ while Amalgamated, Pressed Steel Car stocks and Republic Steel stocks, United States Refining and Reduction and Cast Iron Pipe gained ½ to 2¼.

In the railroad list St. Paul and Missouri Pacific were bought heavily, the former gaining 1¾. Canadian Pacific recovered its opening loss while Baltimore Ohio lost an initial rise of a point. The market generally showed considerable firmness, but the demand was largely centered in the specialties.

Dealings became reactionary on the announcement that the first rate for call money was 7 per cent, the rate soon thereafter advancing to 8 and causing realizing sales and some short selling. St. Paul, amalgamated, New York Central and some of the specialties declined a point and prices generally in the road quarter fell from to the opening level. Pacific coast stocks were active and in demand, the common rising 3¼ and the second preferred 1⅝. By noon Monday's public advanced to 121 and there was a renewal of the heavy buying in Reading common, which carried it to 75. The balance of the list did not reflect the strength shown by other stocks. The bond market was steady.

St. Paul was bought freely and rose to 192 on the resumption of last week's rumors of a coming increase in the dividend on the stock. Missouri Pacific also rose about 2 points and the coincident strength of these stocks revived the old story of a deal being on. There was very little of interest to other prominent stocks, but the market's undertone was firm. Some of the usually inactive specialties were bid up vigorously, the gain reaching 2⅜ in Railway Steel Spring, 2 in United States Rubber preferred and 5 in Ann Arbor.

The demand for St. Paul slackened and the traders took profits, causing a slight recession and affected other prominent stocks slightly. Missouri Pacific, on the other hand, continued to work upward until it touched 122 with transactions of 1,000 and 2,000 shares appearing frequently on the tape. Other Gould stocks became stronger in sympathy, especially the Wabashes, the debenture B issue rising to 32, with on block of bonds of the par value of $3000 changing hands at that price. The Erie stocks showed a little activity and were quoted a point higher all around.

Dealings in the closing hour were broader and more active than at any other period of the day and the market displayed more general strength. Rock Island made a sensational jump of 5½ points while Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Atchison and Missouri Pacific were advanced rapidly, the last named touching 122¾. Amalgamated Copper also came into the usual demand and there was some fresh buying of the coal stocks on rumors of expected favorable developments. American ice preferred was notably weak and declined 3¾ to 97½. In the final dealings there was some realizing of St. Paul and Missouri Pacific which had some effect on other stocks. The closing was fairly active and firm.

STOCK GOSSIP

Ridgley to W. H. Laidley & Co.—I don't look for any trouble from tight money. Bankers can relieve the situation immediately when considered necessary to do so by importation of gold. Arrangements are being made top bring in $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 now and $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 a few weeks later on. Of course a temporary money squeeze, though not probable, is possible, and traders should protect their trades with good margins. Southern Pacific is perhaps the safest buy on the board. Union Pacific should sell higher. Pacific Mail is owned by Southern Pacific and Union Pacific, which should put this stock to a higher level. It could easily pay 4 per cent if the directors so desire. There is quite a short interest in Baltimore & Ohio and I am told by the highest authority that it will sell much higher on this present movement. C. & O. and Erie look the best among the low priced stocks. People's Gas looks like going higher and I hear that the long predicted move in Brooklyn Rapid Transit is on.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, Sept. 8.—The cotton market opened steady at prices 2 to 5 points higher, following a better ruling of the English market than anticipated. As compared with a decline of 2½ to 5 points in Liverpool at the time of the local opening, it was steady and net 1 to 1½ points lower only. Nevertheless, immediately after the call, active realizing set in and bear pressure became a prominent factor. Report spread that the Wall street bull clique had rushed up prices in Liverpool in order to make a good selling market here, and the action of the list after the call here seemed to give some color to these reports. On the decline the South, commission houses and room traders all sold freely. Receipts at the ports and estimates for receipts at interior towns tomorrow tended to disturb outsiders and to create bearish confidence; first wave of selling carried October to 8.33, January to 8.25 and March to 8.15, from which there was a slight rally later, though the undertone of the market continued weak. The weather chart showed showers in the belt, with normal temperatures. The forecast for tonight and tomorrow indicated generally fair, mild weather. Later cables from Liverpool were in keeping with the weakness here.

Cotton spot closed quiet. Middling uplands, 8⅞c; middling gulf, 9¼c; Sales, 534 bales. Cotton futures closed barely steady. September, 8.21; October, 8.19; November, 8.15; December, 8.13; January, 8.16; February, 8.06; March, 8.07; April, 8.05; May, 8.09.

COPPER GOSSIP.

Boston to Paine, Webber & Co.: Copper stocks were much more active and higher today, New York was a factor. Amalgamated copper and other copper stocks in this market, and local traders took an active part in helping along the advance. Copper rose again 1⅛ in New York and the equivalent of ¼c in London. I believe that the movement now started in coppers will lead on to considerably higher prices.

TREASURY BALANCES.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows available cash balance, $212,643,290; gold, $122,177,622; silver, $20,214,772; U. S. notes, $5,254,352; treasury notes of 1890, $93,573; national bank notes, $15,285,818; total receipts, $1,000 last night; $2,328,742; total receipts this month, $12,910,470; total receipts this year, $110,821,974; total expenditures this day, $1,570,000; total expenditures this month, $12,220,000; total expenditures this year, $112,147,178; deposits in national banks, $126,914,517.

BRANCH BANKS OPEN.

Tecumseh, Neb., Sept. 8.—The branch banks Graf and Vesta, of the Chamberlain bank, of this city, reopened for business today with sufficient funds, it is stated, to pay all depositors. Those two banks were closed last week on account of the embarrassment of the Chamberlain bank. State Bank Examiner Hartwell stated that their assets were not impaired by their former connection with the local bank.

Tug Strike Agreement Has Not Yet Resulted In Settlement.

President James Walsh, of L. T. P. A., Discusses Situation.

Says Association Will Not Take Non-Union Men Back.

"The tug strike has resulted in an agreement between the men and the company," said President James Walsh, of the L. T. P. A., today, "but it has not yet been settled, for it remains to have the agreement carried out by both sides.

"There is a misunderstanding current about the meaning of the provision by which men who were working for the company and in good standing with the association April 1 are to be kept on till Jan. 1. There is not one man working for the local company that this affects, though it seems to be generally understood that there are a number. In order to come under that provision they must have been working for the tug company April 1 and in good standing with the union, and that applies to none of them.

"The published report this morning that we understand this provision is incorrect. We understand it thoroughly. A committee consisting of Gordon O'Neil, Martin Cole and myself called upon Manager H. G. Inman yesterday and discussed the matter with him, but he has not yet received a copy of the agreement such as we have been furnished by the general officers of our association.

"This agreement that has been reached is perfectly satisfactory to the tugmen. All that is necessary is for the company to carry it out, as we shall do our part. The action has been misrepresented, the only correct statement being that which appeared in The Herald Friday morning.

"I am very glad that a settlement has been reached, and so are all of the men. I am especially glad that the men have behaved as they have throughout the strike. They have conducted themselves with dignity and with due regard to the rights of the public and buyer of our supplies of five months, not one of our men has been called before the courts, and we come to the settlement of the strike without a stain of blood on

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Barnes, accompanied by their granddaughter, Stella Prosser, left Saturday for their home in Cuba, N. Y., after spending several weeks with their son, C. S. Prosser, at 617 East Third street. Mr. Prosser has improved quite rapidly since his recent accident, and started yesterday with his sister, Miss Cornelia Prosser, for a trip of the lakes.

Miss Georgia Wolf left over the Great Northern Saturday for Sandstone, where she will teach this year.

Miss Eva MacLaggan, of Stillwater, who has been the guest of Mrs. S. W. Richardson, of Lester Park, during the summer, returned to her home Tuesday.

Mrs. J. Evans left yesterday on the Iroquois for Port Arthur, where she will spend a couple of weeks visiting with Mr. Evans' parents.

Rev. A. T. Ekblad, of Dubois, Pa., has been visiting Rev. A. P. Elmquist for a week and will make a trip to his old home in Kansas before returning East.

Mrs. Michael Lutz, Jr., and children have returned from a visit with friends at Grand Rapids, Wis.

Dr. R. R. Blakeman, of Indianapolis, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Kitchell, of 221 Fifteenth avenue east.

Peter Whitmore, a well-known citizen of Wabasha, is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Whitmore, of East Third street.

Robert Peers returned this morning from a day's shoot at Rush City, Minn. He brought back fourteen birds.

S. M. Campbell, the La Pointe Indian agent, arrived this morning from Ashland.

N. J. Flynn, of Bena, was a business caller here this afternoon.

C. A. Windaft, of Ashland, spent the day in the city.

J. H. Grube will leave this evening for St. Paul.

R. T. Raybourn, a mining man, left this morning for Guaymas, Mex.

J. M. Schwartz, of St. Paul, of the firm of A. Guthrie & Co., is a business caller here today.

Mrs. W. H. Kitchen, of Rogers City, Mich., is visiting her son, Charles J. Kitchen, of 132 West Fourth street.

CITY BRIEFS.

Tibbets, undertaker, 31 W. Superior St.

The A. H. Burg Lumber company moved their office to 121 East Michigan street. Zenith 'phone 219-2. Duluth 'phone, 995-2.

Private dance at Oatka auditorium tonight.

The September meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of Pilgrim Congregational church will take place Wednesday at 3 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Florida, 1231 East Second street. Mrs. John Callahan will address the meeting.

The slippery pavement at the corner of Fifth avenue west and Superior street was the cause of the fall of a horse attached to a light carriage this noon. The rig drove on to Superior street from the lower side, the horse falling and sliding in front of an interstate car, which was stopped in time to prevent a serious accident. After several ineffectual attempts to rise, the horse was finally unharnessed and assisted by several men witnessing the accident.

George Branch, one of the union tug strikers, was arrested today for assaulting Walter J. Cayo, a trust tug employe. The hearing will take place next Friday.

Any young man or old man who wants to enter the Indian service as an industrial teacher should apply to the United States civil service in Washington and he will get an opportunity to take the examination on Oct. 21. The salary for teaching buck Indians how to run a plow and other work is $900 a year and there is a vacancy at the Indian school at Colville, according to a notice received at the government building here.

Parlor theater, jolly fun tonight.

The St. Louis County Medical society will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Spalding hotel, Thursday evening, Sept. 11, 8:30 o'clock. Papers will be read by Dr. C. R. Keyes on the "Management of Abortion," and Dr. A. J. Braden, on the topic, "Osteomyletis."

Parlor theater, big program this week.

HODGE, JR. ANSWERS

Allegations of Steel Trust Attorneys Concerning His Suit.

Opposes Motion to Dismiss Suit As a Conspiracy.

Accuses Defendants' Attorneys of Tampering With Witnesses.

New York, Sept. 8.—A brief was filed today in Newark, N. J., by the complainants in the action of J. Aspinwall Hodge, Jr., and others against the United States Steel corporation, to prevent the retirement of $200,000,000 preferred stock and the issue of $250,000,000 bonds by the corporation. The brief filed opposes a motion by the corporation's attorneys that the suit be dismissed as a conspiracy.

Affidavits by Mr. Hodge as to his good faith in the suit, and by John H. Lancaster denying alleged admissions made by him to a clerk of Mr. Guthrie of counsel for the defendant corporation also were filed today.

The brief filed by the attorneys for Mr. Hodge accuses the United States Steel corporation and its attorneys of tampering with James H. Lancaster, a witness for the complainants, of being afraid to examine Mr. Hodge, of intimidating would-be complainants, and of attempting to delay a judicial decision on the merits of the case.

"As the position of these professional majority stockholders becomes more sate from ordinary attack, their boldness in violating equity and good morals proportionately increases," says Mr. Hodge, through his lawyers. "It is becoming more and more important for them to s... the inquiry in court, and therefore as a first step to make it so disagreeable to sue them that they will not be sued."

In conclusion, the complainants ask for an early decision on their motion for an injunction to restrain the proposed retirement of stock and issue of bonds.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Death of One of Washington's Prominent Lawyers.

Washington, Sept. 8.—While driving across the Baltimore & Ohio tracks near Takoma Park, several miles from this city this afternoon, Maj. Daniel O'Driscoll, one of Washington's prominent lawyers, was struck by a train and instantly killed. He came to this city from Chicago, where he was prominent both in the law and in politics.

JOHANSSEN LOSES.

He Was Only Sailingmaster of the America.

Tromsoe, Norway, Sept. 8.—The maritime court has found that Capt. Johanssen's claim that he was captain of the Baldwin-Ziegler Arctic steamer America is untenable, and that according to the contract signed at Franz Josef Land in August, 1901, he was only sailing master and subject to Evelyn B. Baldwin's orders both on land and sea.

THE UNION VETERANS.

Washington, Sept. 8.—A general order was issued today from the headquarters of Union Veterans calling the seventh encampment of the Union in this city Oct. 9, 10 and 11 next. The action is the result of the relinquishment by the Nebraska division of its right to the encampment this year, owing to a general desire of the veterans of the Union to meet in this city with the G. A. R.

STATE BOARD

Of Equalization Has Completed Its Organization.

St. Paul, Sept. 8—(Special to The Herald.)—The organization of the state board of equalization was completed today when Chairman Sprague announced the committees for the session. The experienced members of the board were, so far as possible, appointed chairmen. The committees are:

To Be Done In the German-Haytien Incident.

Washington, Sept. 8.—As was expected, Mr. Powell, United States minister to Hayti, reported promptly to the state department the sinking of the Haytien gunboat Crete-a-Pierrot by the German gunboat Panther. Both of the minister's dispatches are dated yesterday, at Port au Prince. In the first dispatch the minister said that it was reported that the Panther had called upon Killick to surrender; that he had refused, and that the Panther had sunk the Crete-a-Pierrot, and all the crew had been lost. The second and later dispatch corrected the statement as to the crew, saying that they had escaped. The minister promised to make an extended report by mail.

The navy department was also informed of the event in the following dispatch received from Commander McLean, in command of the United States cruiser Cincinnnati:

"Port Au Prince, Sept. 8.—Secretary of the Navy, Washington: German gunboat Panther sunk Crete-a-Pierrot at Gonaives. Crew escaped. The Panther returned to Port Au Prince. "McLEAN."

As matters stand there is nothing to be done by the state department at this juncture. The officials have not changed their view that the incident was one between the German and Haytien governments, and that it was not our business.

KNO AT PARIS.

ParisX, Sept. 8.—P. C. Knox, attorney general of the United States, who arrived yesterday, is stopping at the Hotel Ritz He declines to say anything on the subject of the negotiations for a clear title to the Panama company property.

TRADE OF INTERIOR

Growth of the International Commerce of the Country.

Large Increase In Tariff on the Great Lakes.

The Movement of Coke Is Greater Than a Year Ago.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Sept. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Information of timely value to the commerce of the country is brought together in the July summary of internal commerce, issued by the treasury bureau of statistics.

Of interior trade movements, the report states that for seven months ending with July, 1902, the receipts of livestock at the five markets of Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis and St. Joseph reached a total of 34,222,094 head, in contrast with 35,823,972 head for the corresponding period of 1901. There is a difference of 1,101,878 head to be supplied before the receipts of the current year shall have equalled those of last year.

Analyses of stocks of cut meats at the five markets of Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph and Milwaukee show, that on July 31 of the current year there were on hand 209,094,087 pounds, as against corresponding date of 1901 the combined stock consisted of 279,801,345 pounds.

Freight receipts at 121 points on the great lakes for the month of July, 1901, were 7,004,685 tons, and for the corresponding period of 1902 there were received 7,582,848 tons at 14 different ports. Shipments from 204 different points for July, 1901, were 7,031,357 tons, and for 1902, 7,436,548 tons from 217 ports. Total shipments for the first seven months of 1901 were 19,653,334 tons, and 26,876,004 tons for the same period of 1902, showing a gain of 7,222,670 tons, or 36 per cent; 16,568,899 tons passed the Sault Ste. Marie canals, against 11,548 tons in 1901, and 12,775,246 tons in 1900.

Trade movements at Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore show that for the first seven months of the current year the receipts of grain and flour, reduced to bushels, at New York were 56,626,630 bushels, compared with 83,510,688 bushels for the corresponding period of last year. At the three other ports of Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore the receipts were 57,266,043 bushels, compared with 121,685,795 bushels for the same period of 1901. Of receipts at New York in July of this year, 77 per cent came by rail and 23 per cent by water.

Traffic in iron and steel originating in southern producing territory during the first seven months of this year, amounted to 1,131,275 tons, compared with 857,70 tons for the corresponding period of 1901. There has been a decline in this traffic in July, the tonnage of 143,559 tons being the smallest in the course of the current calendar year, but considerably higher than the tonnage of 127,713 tons in July, 1901.

Coal shipments from New York for the month of June by water, as reported by six of the leading coal carriers to tide water, amounted to 196,497 tons, and for six months ending with June, 3,967,666 tons. Reported shipments from Philadelphia were as follows: For June, 102,600 tons; for six months ending with June, 1,271,191 tons. Coastwise coal shipments from Baltimore during June were 172,806 tons, and for six months to the end of June, 1,096,997 tons. The total amount reported from the three ports was 471,903 tons in June, and 6,245,854 tons for six months ending with June. Coal receipts at Boston, mostly by coastwise lines, for the first seven months of 1901 were 2,661,346 tons. This year's receipts were 2,497,737 tons.

During the half year to the end of June, 1901, there arrived at San Francisco 13,315,222 bushels of wheat. For the half year to the end of June, 1902, the total receipts were 17,125,773 bushels, being a gain of 28.6 per cent over the receipts of the preceding year.

The report of the Pacific coast salmon pack for a series of years gives the total for 1901 as 5,056,793 cases, including Columbia river, Sacramento river, Puget sound, and outside rivers, British Columbia and Alaska. The largest output for any preceding year was that of 1898, amounting to 3,138,046 cases of four dozen one-pound cans each.

Traffic on the Monongahela river, as reported by the engineers in charge, during the month of July, amounted to 5,471,069 tons. The tonnage movement at the Davis Island dam on the Ohio river south of Pittsburg for July was 1,123,991 tons. The tonnage moved through the New York state canals for the season ending with July shows a total of 1,333,628 tons, compared with 1,447,128 tons for the same period of 1901.

The Pennsylvania railroad's shipments to Aug. 2, originating east of Pittsburg and Erie, amounted to 22,305,910 tons, of which 1,612,659 tons were anthracite coal, 14,968,183 tons bituminous and 5,725,068 tons coke. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad coal and coke movement for the first six months of this year reached a total of 10,711,659 tons, of which 8,439,208 tons were bituminous, 409,466 tons anthracite and 1,863,209 tons coke. On the Norfolk & Western railroad the six months' tonnage was reported as amounting to 4,140,879 tons, of which 1,333,183 tons reached tidewater. For the twelve months ending with June, the Southern railway, embracing Tennessee and Alabama districts, handled 3,431,863 tons of coal originating on its lines. Receipts of coal and coke at St. Louis for the seven months ending with July of this year amounted to 2,819,313 tons, compared with 2,419,943 tons for the corresponding period of 1901. Receipts at Chicago, for seven months ending with July show a total of 5,138,062 tons this year, compared with 5,223,697 tons last year. The Connellsville weekly coke output still averages somewhat higher than during 1901.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.—

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage which was duly executed and delivered by Alfred Swenson and Sarah Swenson, his wife, mortgagors, to William E. Lucas, mortgagee, bearing date April first (1st), 1892, and which was duly recorded in the register of deeds' office for St. Louis County, Minnesota, on April seventh (7th), 1892, at eleven (11) o'clock a. m., in Book one hundred one (101) of mortgages, on page three hundred thirty-three (333) thereof; which mortgage, with the debt thereby secured, was thereafter duly assigned by said William E. Lucas to Clarence H. Esty, executor, by an instrument of assignment bearing date April fourteenth (14th), 1892, and duly recorded in said register of deeds' office for St. Louis County, Minnesota, on April twenty-second (22d), 1892, at eight (8) o'clock a. m., in Book eighty-three (83) of mortgages, on page one hundred fourteen (114) thereof; such default consisting in the non-payment of the principal sum thereby secured, with interest thereon from July 1st, 1901, no part of which has ever been paid.

And whereas there is therefore claimed to be due, and there is actually due, upon said mortgage debt, at the date of this notice, the sum of three thousand two hundred forty ($3240) dollars, principal and interest.

And whereas said mortgage contains a power of sale in due form, which has become operative by reason of the defaults above mentioned, and no action or proceeding, at law or otherwise, has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of said power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described therein, situate in St. Louis County, Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: All that part of lot numbered one hundred eighty-two (182), in block numbered twenty-seven (27), Duluth Proper, Second Division, according to the recorded plat thereof in the register of deeds' office for St. Louis County, Minnesota, which is described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a point in the southeasterly line of lot one hundred eighty-two (182), block twenty-seven (27), Second Division, situated fifty-two (52) feet in a westerly direction from the easterly corner of said lot; said point being the beginning of the description of the property intended to be conveyed, thence westerly along the northerly line of Piedmont avenue twenty-five (25) feet, then northerly at right angles to said Piedmont avenue, to the avenue at the north of said lot, then east along the south line of said avenue to a point twenty-five (25) feet easterly at right angles from the second line of this description, thence in a southerly line to the place of beginning; the intent of this deed is to convey a piece of land having a frontage of twenty-five (25) feet on Piedmont avenue, the sides of which are parallel with each other and at right angles to said Piedmont avenue; which premises will be sold by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the thirtieth (30th) day of September, A. D. 1902, at ten (10) o'clock a. m., at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said property, and seventy-five dollars attorney's fees, stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated July 5th, 1902.

VIEWS ON THE PRIMARY LAW

Duluth Candidates For the Legislature Give Their Views.

Machine Politicians Anxious to Have the Law Repealed.

It Has Destroyed Their Power to Dictate Nominations.

Shall the primary election law live or shall it die?

Will its present trial convince everybody that its admirable theory is practicable, or will it bring about a revulsion of feeling against the law that will result in its repeal next winter?

These are questions that will be live ones later, even though other matters are somewhat obscuring them now. There can be no question that there will be bitter opposition to the law at the winter session of the legislature, and that a determined effort will be made by the machine politicians to kill it.

A few days ago some Duluth men met Senator McKusick, of Pine county, on a train between Duluth and the Twin Cities, and in the course of a discussion he stated that if he was re-elected he should introduce a bill to repeal the primary election law at the coming session of the legislature.

If he does not somebody else will, and it can be set down as a certainty that such a bill will be introduced.

Thomas Shevlin, national committeeman, and other Republican leaders, are openly denouncing the law, because it destroys the power of the "machine" to dictate nominations.

With this in mind The Herald has interviewed a number of the local senatorial and legislative candidates as to their ideas on the subject. Some of them were cautious, and refused to discuss the matter. Others were outspoken in their approval of the law. Others wanted to see it tried before they expressed an opinion.

Generally the sentiment was favorable to the idea, though most people believe that some amendments will be necessary. The majority of those that discuss the matter are in favor of giving the law a fair trial, and they do not believe this can be done in one election. Many of the objections that might arise would be due to the unfamiliarity of the people with the system, and as they became better acquainted with it these objections would be cleared away.

Of course, the great point in favor of the law is that it takes nominations out of the hands of the party bosses. It prevents them from fortifying themselves and perpetuating their rule.

DEMOCRATS

Of South Carolina Will Select Their State Candidates.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 9.—Democrats of South Carolina today will, in the second primary, finally determine upon their candidates for United States senator, governor and other state officers. The first primary was held two weeks ago and the candidates for each office who polled the two highest votes were rendered eligible to enter today's contest.

The two aspirants for United States senator who will be voted on today are Congressman Latimer and former Governor John Gary Evans. The chances of Evans and Latimer are about even.

The two candidates for governor are Capt. Duncan C. Heyward and Congressman W. Jasper Talbert. Heyward's chances for election are said to be good.

In the city of Charleston great interest centers in the candidacy of George F. Von Kolnitz for state senator. He is bitterly opposed by United States Senator Ben R. Tillman, who charges that Von Kolnitz supported McKinley in 1896 and 1900. Mr. Von Kolnitz led by a large plurality in the first primary. His opponent today is John P. Grace, who is regarded as the Tillman candidate.

NO BEEF TRUST.

Packers Said to Have Been Badly Frightened.

Denver, Sept. 9.—President John W. Springer, of the National Live Stock association, has arrived at the conclusion that there will be no beef trust in the immediate future.

"The beef trust," said Mr. Springer, "has gone where the woodbine twineth. We sent letters to the packers which stated in plain terms what they could expect if they went into combine to control the price of beef.

"Coming from an organization of men who have paid their debts and are in a financial condition to put up a red-hot fight, this notice caused the packers to reach the conclusion that it would be the part of wisdom to go very slow. They quit talking about organizing a trust, and this is probably the end of it."

BISHOP VINCENT ARRIVES.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Bishop John H. Vincent, of the Methodist Episcopal church, arrived in Chicago from Zurich, Switzerland, last night. He will remain in Chicago several days and will call on Bishop Hartzell to discuss the missions in South Africa and to confer in regard to the twentieth century fund of the Methodist church.

HUMAN BODIES FOUND

One Adult and Two Infants Discovered In Chicago Lead Police to Investigate What May Prove to Be Murder.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—The discovery of three human bodies at 2709 and 2711 State street has started an investigation of the premises by the police, the coroner and the city health department.

One of the bodies was that of an adult, and the authorities are prepared to believe either that a murder was committed or that it is simply evidence of an illegal burial. It was found at 2711 State street.

The other two bodies were those of babies. They were found in a wooden box, covered with sawdust, in the undertaking establishment of Charles Johnson, 2709 State street. The undertaker declares there was but one body in the box, and he produced a burial permit for it. William McKissock, a plumber, who made the discovery, asserts that there were two bodies.

On account of the suspicion which the finding of the bodies has aroused, a thorough examination of the premises will be made today to discover by excavating whether other remains have been buried there.

There are surface indications which lead Coroner Traeger and the health authorities to suspect that the backyards of he two places may be found to contain the graves of other persons.

A BOOST FOR ALFONSO

Story From Spain Entirely Different From Reports of the Wild Antics of the Youthful King ---Says He Is Dignified.

New York, Sept. 9.—One of the most constant questions one hears today, says a Paris dispatch to the Herald, is, what is the king of Spain doing, how is he developing and what impression is he making on his countrymen?

A gentleman who has lived many years in Madrid, and whose business is to watch the development of matters in Spain, says:

"The young man is earning large popularity. If left alone he would be more popular still. Left to his own way, he loves to go everywhere, to talk with the people and to hear what they have to say. There is no country more democratic than Spain, and a king, to be popular, must mix with the people.

"The young king is full of dignity. While he thus loves to mix with the people to try to understand and make friends with them, he never for one moment loses sight and sense of his position and what is due to himself.

"But he is very often surrounded by old generals, men who do not go with the times, and do not understand the needs of the country. He has plenty of character and lots of good will and energy—rare qualities in Spain."

DISAPPROVES OF RACE

President Roosevelt Notifies People of Deadwood Not to Have Cowboy Match Between That City and Omaha.

Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 9.—President Roosevelt has put his stamp of disapproval on the proposed cowboy race from Deadwood to Omaha and the contest has been abandoned. In addition to the president's disapproval, there have been received several protests from humane societies.

The following is the telegram received from the chief executive's secretary:

"Oyster Bay, Sept. 5.—Capt. Seth Bullock, Deadwood, S. D.: Referring to the proposed horse race from Deadwood to Omaha the president would not be willing to have it take place unless it was possible to exercise supervision over the condition in which the horses would come in, and as this would be impossible, he asks you to say in his name that he requests the race not to take place.

"GEO. B. CORTELYOU, Secretary."

MUST SHOW GOV. STONE

That Pennsylvania Legislature Will Pass Constitutional Law to End Miners' Strike and He Will Call Special Session.

New York, Sept. 9.—Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, who arrived in the city last night, made a brief statement today relative to his presence here and the coal situation. He said:

"I am here on private business. I expect to return to Harrisburg today. I am as anxious to see the strike settled in Pennsylvania as any one can possibly be. I can only repeat what I have said in previous interviews, that if I can be satisfied that the legislature would pass a law that would be constitutional and that would settle the strike and prevent others, I would not hesitate to call it together, but I must be satisfied that such a law can be passed."

In reply to a question, the governor said he had no appointment to meet the coal operators or any other representatives in this city. He knew President Baer, of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad company, but there was no arrangement that he should meet Mr. Baer, should the latter come to the city today to attend an executive session of the coal operators. The governor said that he had no appointment with either Senator Platt or Governor Odell. When questioned about the situation in the coal fields and whether he intended to send more troops there, he replied that he had nothing to say. The governor was told of a report in circulation which was supposed to account for Senator Platt's prediction that the coal strike would be ended this week. It was to the effect that Senator Platt had knowledge of a plan to have a committee appointed representing New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, the committee to act in an advisory capacity and suggest legislation for the settling of the strike and the prevention of other labor troubles. Governor Stone refused to comment on this report.

MINERS UNUSUALLY QUIET

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 9.—Following yesterday's rioting and bloodshed the Wyoming region was unusually quiet today. There were no pickets out, and no crowds collected about the washeries and mines that are in operation.

Tamaqua, Pa., Sept. 9.—Although no soldiers were sent to patrol the Panther Creek valley today, the usual number of men went to work and the No. 4 and No. 12 collieries of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company are running as usual. Several of the district officers of the United Mine Workers visited the valley last night. They told the men that the strike was virtually won and asked them to stand together until the end. They were received everywhere with enthusiasm and were given the promise that if necessary the men would stay out until Christmas.

The Lehigh Coal and Navigation company shipped 1600 tons of coal to market yesterday.

FATAL LABOR RIOTS IN ITALY

Rome, Sept. 9.—Five persons were killed yesterday and ten were wounded in a conflict between the troops and strikers at Candela, a small town of Apulia, in extreme southeastern part of Italy. Owing to a dispute with the laborers on a question of wages, 400 peasants stopped work yesterday. The strikers occupied all the roads in the district and prevented others from proceeding to their work. The gendarmes in attempting to intervene were assailed with stones and sticks and a corporal was severely wounded. Troops were then called out nd were received with volleys of stones, which felled several of the soldiers. A couple of the latter were disarmed by rioters, who walked off with their rifles and revolvers. The troops then fired, killing five strikers and wounding ten. An official of the ministry of the interior has gone to Candela to open an inquiry into the disturbance. Order has been restored.

ST. LOUIS BOODLERS

Nine Indicted Men Are Still on the Missing List.

Thorough Search Thus Far Fails to Reveal Whereabouts.

Nineteen Members of the Combine Took a Solemn Oath.

St. Louis, Sept. 9.—The search for the nine indicted members of the alleged house of delegates boodle combine, who have thus far eluded the police and deputy sheriffs, became the principal business of both classes of officers today after the night had passed without the capture of any of the men sought.

The homes and accustomed haunts of Edmund Bersch, Julius Lehmann, Charles F. Kelly, Louis Decker, "Kid" Sheridan, Charles J. Denny and Emile Hartman were watched by policemen all night, and these watchers were relieved this morning by other policemen and deputy sheriffs. William H. Tamblin is in Cleveland, Ohio, and Adolph Madeira in Colorado. Chief Kiely has offered to place the entire police, if needed, at the disposal of the circuit attorney in addition to the deputy sheriffs. The places of egress from the city have been guarded and ferry and street car terminals are being watched closely. About Kelly and Lehmann, who are now under heavy bonds, Kelly in a pending trial, Lehmann on an appeal, the police feel less solicitude. They express the belief that these two are simply trying to find bondsmen.

Although two deputy sheriffs have been searching for him, Kelly of the Twentieth ward, former speaker of the house, seems to have disappeared. That he is still in St. Louis, however, and within a short distance of friends, is believed. He telephoned to Four Courts late Monday afternoon and stated to the sheriff that it would not be necessary to hunt for him, that he intended to appear and give bond today. The present status of the members of the alleged combine is as follows:

In Circuit Attorney Folk's custody—John K. Murrell, Ed E. Murrell, George F. Robertson.

In custody of police and sheriff—John H. Schnettler, J. J. Hannigan, John Helms, Otto Schumacher and Charles Gutke.

Released on bond—Harry A. Faulkner, T. E. Albright.

Not apprehended—Emile Hartman, Charles F. Kelly, Charles J. Denny, Louis Decker, Edmund Bersch, John A. Sheridan and Julius Lehmann.

Out of the city—William H. Tamblin, Cleveland; Adolph Moderia in Colorado.

It developed today that an oath was administered to each of the nineteen members of the combine whose identity was disclosed by the confession of J. K. Murrell yesterday. A copy of the oath has been given to Circuit Attorney Folk and the grand jury. It is as follows:

"I do solemnly swear before the Almighty God that in becoming a member of this combine, I will vote and act with the combine whenever and wherever I may be so ordered to do so.

"And I further solemnly swear that I will not, at any place or time reveal the fact that there is a combine, and that I will not communicate to any person or persons anything that may take place at any meeting of the combine.

"And I do solemnly agree that, in case I should reveal the fact that any person in this combine has received money I hereby permit and authorize other members of this combine to take the forfeit of my life in such manner as they may deem proper and that my throat may be cut, my tongue torn out and my body cast into the Mississippi river.

"All of this I do solemnly swear, so help me God."

John K. Murrell's statement that the house combine of 1899-1900 of which he was a member, accepted bribes of $2500 each for their votes on the lighting bill of 1900 made the lighting scandal the chief topic of investigation by the grand jury today.

PATENT ISSUED.

Washington, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A patent for a wire fabric machine has been issued to Thomas Sutherland, of Hutchinson, Minn.

LON WHITEMAN IN THE PULPIT

The Former Minnesotan Is Now a Methodist Preacher.

Is Meeting With Marked Success In New Role.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A stir has been caused throughout Livingston county by the news that Alonzo J. Whiteman, former state senator of Minnesota, whose numerous transactions with banks in various parts of the country, has in recent years brought him into notoriety and landed him in jail east and west, has turned Methodist preacher and now occupies the pulpits of country churches in Livingston county.

He has been rather busy during the summer season, as many of the Methodist clergymen were away on their vacations, and many were glad to get Whiteman's services, especially as he was sure to draw a large and interesting congregation.

Some of the clergy were, apparently, not at first favorable to the idea of having so notorious a personage in their pulpits, but yielded to the persuasive arguments of those who still believe in him. Whiteman preached last Sunday in the M. E. church at Byersville, choosing as his text, "Judge not, lest ye be judged."

He has considerable oratorical ability and preached three-quarters of an hour without a break. He also led the singing and read the Scripture lesson with marked dramatic effect. When he got through, one of the pillars of the church remarked in the hearing of several:

"Well, Lon Whiteman is either converted or he is a great deal worse than I took him to be."

In some of his addresses Whiteman has spoken of those who are persecuted for righteousness sake. He declared that they are the ones who are to receive the greatest rewards in heaven. The man who "bears false witness against his neighbor" is pictured by him as worthy of eternal punishment, and there is little chance of salvation for the person who "covets anything that is his neighbor's."

Whiteman has had marked success in the gathering of converts, and it is reported that several have "come forward" under the influence of his preaching and announced that they wanted to lead better lives. The former senator has his home in Dansville. That is where the family mansion is. In the old days when Lon Whiteman was one of the biggest men in the place many stories of his wild exploits were told. There are many among the old residents who think he was the victim of rich relatives, who were trying to get Whiteman's share of the property, and who trumped up charges of forgery. His mother still lives at the family residence in Dansville, and she has clung to her son in all his checkered career.

His friends say that Whiteman shows by his fervid preaching that he is in earnest, and they are waiting for time to tell that they have the right theory.

PUSHED HIM OVERBOARD

Woman's Conscience Compels Her to Reveal Cause of Drowning of New Orleans Man Whose Death Was Reported as Accidental.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—A dispatch to the Tribune from New Orleans says: "A woman's conscience has compelled her to reveal the mystery in the death of Earl C. Lukens, manager of the New Orleans branch of a correspondence school. Lukens was believed to have been accidentally drowned on the evening of Aug. 31.

"On that evening a party boarded the yacht Indian for a sail down the river. On the yacht's return it was announced that Lukens had accidentally fallen overboard and drowned. His body was recovered two days later.

"Mrs. Kate Jarreau, the young wife of a traveling man, has confessed to Coroner Richard that she pushed Lukens overboard.

"Mrs. Jarreau said that she had been bantered by Lukens and had warned him that if he kept on she would throw him overboard. He had continued and she made good her threat.

"Mrs. Jarreau went on to say that she had wished to tell the truth about the affair on the night of the drowning, but had been prevented by Hans Reig, a member of the party, who had warned everybody that in justice to her good name they should all stick to the accident theory.

"Mrs. Jarreau is held by the police as a witness. After she told her story a search was made for Reig, and it was discovered that he had left the city."

WIFE DOES THE SHOOTING

New York, Sept. 9.—Charles O'Neil, janitor of the New York Fruit and Exchange building, 76-78 Park place, was probably fatally shot early today by his wife, who then killed herself. The shooting occurred in an apartment of the building occupied by the janitor. After wounding her husband, Mrs. O'Neil turned the pistol upon herself. The bullet entered her right breast and she fell dead. O'Neil crawled down two flights of stairs, opened the door and pitched headlong to the sidewalk. Two men happened to be standing nearby. They ran to O'Neil's assistance, and he was hurriedly taken to a hospital. In the apartment two sealed letters were found. They are supposed to explain the shooting, which apparently was premeditated and carefully carried out. The janitor and his wife were about 26 years of age.

WISCONSIN STATE FAIR OPENS

Milwaukee, Sept. 9.—The Wisconsin state fair opened in Milwaukee today and will continue throughout the week. Secretary John M. True reports the largest line of exhibits on hand in the history of the Agricultural society. The horse and cattle stables are crowded. The horse exhibit far exceeds anything ever had and one additional barn had to be built for the overflow. Some of the best herds of cattle ever shown in the West are here. All of the other departments are also crowded. Among the special attractions of the fair will be a head-on collision between two locomotives on Wednesday, which it is expected will be viewed by 100,000 people. Aside from the exhibits, the program calls for three or four races daily.

DETERMINED TO OUST CASTRO

New York, Sept. 9.—Francis Loomis, at present United States minister to Portugal, but who formerly represented his government in Venezuela, has arrive in London, cables the correspondent there of the Herald. Talking about the present revolution in Venezuela, he said it is far more serious than any of its predecessors. The leaders are all men of affairs, who are determined to overthrow President Castro.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH

Minneapolis, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mystery shrouds the sudden death of Otto Pankopf, a well known Minneapolis musician, at his home, 901 Thirteenth avenue south last night. For several years Mr. Pankopf had been in ill health and no physician seems to have been able to rightly diagnose his case. Yesterday morning he appeared at the local theater box office, apparently as well as ever to make arrangements for the program of the orchestra, a member of which he had been for seven years. In the afternoon he was taken suddenly ill and a physician was called who administered morphine to alleviate the pain. He grew worse and soon became unconscious. The physicians worked over him for several hours, but he never regained consciousness and at 6 o'clock last evening was pronounced dead.

A CAROUSAL ENDS IN DEATH

Youngstown, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Mrs. James McGinn, aged 21, of Newcastle, Pa., was found with her throat cut from ear to ear in a pasture field at Hubbard, five miles from here at 5 o'clock this morning. She, with her husband, had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Martin Coyne, an uncle and aunt. A carousal occurred at the house and Mr. and Mrs. McGinn disappeared about midnight. McGinn was at the house this morning and the last seen of him was when he went out to get a bottle of whisky. He is suspected of the crime. He has but one leg and one eye.

QUARRELED.

President and War Minister of Colombia Fall Out.

New York, Sept. 9.—The latest advices which have reached here from Bogota, Colombia, are, cables the Kingston, Jamaica, correspondent of the Herald, that President Marroquin and Minister of War Fernandez have quarreled, and that the latter is developing a tendency to assume illegal and dictatorial powers.

Senor Martinez Silva, former Colombian minister at Washington, and other prominent conservatives have been imprisoned for publishing documents criticising the acts of Minister Fernandez and the general government's policy.

It is reported that a gunboat of about 250 tons left San Francisco Sept. 2 for Panama, where she is expected about Sept. 15, regarding which the insurgent war vessels have been already advised.

Advices from Carthagena report that the Magdalena river is still blocked. Only four steamers have come down, as passage is difficult, owing to the revolutionary forces holding Point Pinon with artillery. It is rumored that the government steamers Hercules and Cisneros have been either sunk or captured.

MOTHER'S AWFUL DEED.

Greenville, Miss., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Mollie Westrobe, of Clayton, Miss., who while insane, murdered and burned her five children, near Hazelhurst, on June 16, committed suicide here yesterday by jumping into the river.

CRACKSMEN

Secure Money and Stamps From Creston, O., Postoffice.

Creston, Ohio, Sept. 9.—The safe in the postoffice here was blown open early today by cracksmen, who secured a small sum of money and a large number of stamps. The explosion brought Dr. Hallingsworth, who lives near the postoffice, to the scene with a shotgun. He opened fire on the robbers and riddled the office with shot. The cracksmen returned the fire without effect and fled. It is believed that at least one of the cracksmen was shot.

MAINE'S ELECTION.

Little Change In Figures Since First Report.

Portland, Me., Sept. 9.—There was little change this forenoon in the complexion of the returns from the state election of yesterday.

Up to 10 o'clock figures had been received from 261 out of 521 cities, towns and plantations in the state, and the total votes for the candidaes of the two parties, compared with he totals for the same towns two years ago, indicated a probable Republican plurality of about 29,000.

ONE WEEK DISTANT

Primary Election to Be Held Tuesday of Next Week.

Good Vote Likely Owing to the Sharp Contests.

Big Bede Meeting at the Armory Friday Evening.

One week from today the primary election campaign will remove itself from the political stage and give way to the larger campaign of which it is merely the preliminary.

Therefore the last days of the primary fight will be warmer and more intense than those preceding, and every candidate that has any doubt about the result is bending every energy toward the goal which he or the other fellow will reach next Tuesday. For that matter, so are most of those who will not admit any doubt, for they realize that there is nothing more uncertain than an election, unless it is a primary election.

The prospects are now that there will be a good vote at the primaries, not only in Duluth, but in St. Louis county and the entire Eighth district. Just what the vote will amount to nobody is in a position to guess. It will probably be larger in proportion in this county than in any other county of the district, on account of the many warm fights that are in progress. The sheriff's contest alone ought to bring out a good vote, for there are ten Republican candidates to pull out the Republican votes, and as every one of them has his friends to help to do it, it hardly possible that there will be a light vote in the county, on the Republican side, at any rate.

On the Democratic side there are no county fights to bring out the vote, and it probably would not be large if it were not for the congressional fight, which is arousing more and more interest among the Democrats every day. Capt. M. L. Fay is showing himself to be a hustler from the word "go," and Mr. d'Autremont and their friends are showing a strong disinclination to permit grass to grow under their feet. Between the two sides they are getting the Democratic voters very much interested, so that it is probable that the vote will be fairly representative.

In a contest like that for the Republican nomination for sheriff there is not much to gauge conditions by. Each of the ten candidates says he is going to win, and each has friends possessed by the same idea. Nine of these sets of candidates and supporters are badly mistaken, and it is not an easy task to tell which is the best guesser. The betting odds are changing daily. Burnett and Bates have gone up on the bookmakers' slates, and the odds against both are less than they were a couple of days ago. On the books Sheriff Sargent still holds the top place, with odds of 1 to 2 in his favor. The odds run all the way to 17 to 1 against one candidate.

Capt. Ray T. Lewis, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for member of the legislature in the Fiftieth district, has lately returned from a visit East, and has opened his campaign. He will not make a personal canvass, however, as he is in a position to rely largely upon his record. A term as mayor of the city of Duluth, with an excellent record, together with his large acquaintance with the voters, will be important aids in his campaign.

The Two Harbors candidates for the Republican nomination for the house in the Fifty-first district are in Duluth in the interests of their candidacy. Dr. J. D. Budd and A. J. McGee both arrived yesterday and they have been putting in some hard work with the voters of the First, Second and Fourth wards, which are in the district they would like to represent, ever since. Both of them recognize need of work in Duluth, for there is a growing alarm among party managers that the primary election may result in the nomination of the two Duluth candidates, though the intentions are to give Lake county a candidate.

J. Adam Bede will have a big meeting at the Armory Friday night, as a sort of closing celebration of the campaign before the primaries. Frank M. Nye, of Minneapolis, a well-known attorney and a prominent Hennepin couty Republican, will speak, and O. D. Kinney and John H. Norton will also make short addresses. Thomas J. Davis, of the firm of Davis, Hollister & Hicks, will preside, and he will also speak briefly.

Mr. Bede will speak, of course, and a large crowd is expected. The Bede committee has assurances that there will be a number here from Aitkin and other nearby towns. The Third regiment band will parade and furnish music, and arrangements are also being made for a quartet to sing.

Mr. Bede was in Isanti county yesterday and today, and tomorrow and Thursday he will speak in Anoka county. Friday he will be here for the big meeting, and Saturday he will speak at Sandstone.

Judge Edson is not going to hold any meetings, according to his managers.

Carlos D. Sheiden, congressman from the Houghton, Mich., district, arrived in the city this morning on his way back from the Nepigon, where he has been fishing for two weeks. Mr. Sheiden was one of the insurgent congressmen from Michigan, and, like some of the others, he was defeated for nomination this time. He was beaten as the result of a fight in his home county, though he carried all of the other counties of the district, and was beaten only by a very narrow margin. Mr. Sheiden has been a very popular congressman, and he has a number of friends in Duluth of long standing.

The Democratic county committee has not yet selected its chairman. An impression seems to have gone abroad that Chairman Frank Crassweller of the Democratic county convention, when he named the county committee, appointed J. D. Ellis as its chairman. He did not appoint a chairman, but left it to the committee to select its own head. The mistake grew out of the fact that Mr. Ellis' name headed the list of committeemen-at-large. The committee, however, has asked Mr Ellis to act as chairman, and he has declined because he would not be able to give the necessary time.

IS IT AN EPIDEMIC?

Vital Statistics Show an Alarming Increase in an Already Prevailing Disease—Are Any Exempt?

At no time in the history of disease has there been such an alarming increase in the number of cases of any particular malady as in that of kidney and bladder troubles now preying upon the people of this country.

Today we see a relative, a friend or an acquaintance apparently well, and in a few days we may be grieved to learn of their serious illness or sudden death, caused by that fatal typo of kidney trouble—Bright's disease.

Kidney trouble often becomes advanced into acute stages before the afflicted is aware of its presence; that is why we read of so many sudden deaths of prominent business and professional men, physicians and others. They have neglected to stop the leak in time.

While scientists are puzzling their brains to find out the cause, each individual can, by a little precaution, avoid the chances of contracting dreaded and dangerous kidney trouble, or eradicate it completely from their system if already afflicted. Many precious lives might have been, and many more can yet be saved, by paying attention to their kidneys.

It is the mission of The Herald to benefit its readers at every opportunity, and therefore we advise all who have any symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble to write today to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a free sample bottle of Swamp-Root, the celebrated specific which is having such a great demand and remarkable success in the cure of the most distressing kidney and bladder troubles. With the sample bottle of Swamp-Root will be sent free a pamphlet and treatise of valuable information.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

DICE ARE BARRED

No More Shaking For the Drinks or Cigars.

Chief Troyer Issues General Order to Police Department.

How Alderman Moore Won His Fight For Resolution.

Surprise is rampant over the council's order for the removal of slot machines.

The owners of these petty gambling devices ,claimed yesterday, that the Moore resolution stood about as much show as a pair of deuces against a royal flush.

Today they are completely beaten at their own game and there will be no more gambling for cigars—not even with dice.

The practice of shaking for drinks in saloons has also come under the ban and the police have been ordered to suppress it.

The resolution for the removal of slot machines was beaten to a finish five minutes before the vote was taken.

The change of base by a majority of the aldermen, occurred even within two minutes of the vote.

Alderman Moore played the winning card of his great fight when he said that the mayor had requested an expression from the council on slot machine gambling.

It was only a short sentence, uttered in a calm, even tone of voice, but it overturned decisions like chain lightning.

An East End alderman today said that he was sure the resolution would have been turned down in a crushing way, had it not been for this statement of Mr. Moore's that the mayor desired an aldermanic expression.

This alderman said: "We could not have voted to excuse the mayor from enforcing ordinances that we had made. There was nothing for us to do but give a general answer that the laws should be enforced. This is what we did."

The slot machines are to disappear about as fast as the good, hard-earned money that has been put into them.

Chief Troyer today issued a general order to the members of the police department to see that no machines should be in operation, and the order was made sufficiently broad to bar all gambling with dice.

This will be an unexpected blow to the general saloon business, for within the past year or so dice gambling has played an important part in the local liquor traffic.

The slot machine men talk vaguely of fighting the council's order, but this talk is undoubtedly without legal advice, for the machines have no standing before the law, according to several of the best attorneys in the city.

It is confidently expected that within forty-eight hours every machine in the city will either be removed from its place in the stores and saloons to be effectually put out of commission.

THE Y. W. C. A. WORK.

Rooms Wanted In Bridgeman & Russell Building.

Last evening a large number of those interested in the Y. W. C. A. work met at the Y. M. C. A. hall to hear the reports of the delegates to the Geneva conference, Miss Maude Culver and Miss Ella H. Greiser. The effort of the delegates to secure Miss Mary L. Stever, of Grand Rapids, as secretary for the local association was reported and if possible Miss Stever will be secured.

The work of the association will begin as soon as possible. The committee is now trying to get a portion of the Bridgeman & Russell building on First street for the rooms. Miss Culver has already started her work in the physical culture classes and it is hoped that all departments will be in working order by Oct. 1.

Frederick Warde Lectures.

This afternoon Frederick Warde lectured at Elks' hall under the auspices of a committee of the Saturday club. This is the third lecture of the kind that Mr. Warde has given in Duluth and all have proved delightful. Two years ago, his subject was "Shakespeare's Women." Last year he spoke on "The Art of Oratory as Exemplified in Shakespeare," and today he spoke on "Shakespeare, An Apostle of Christianity." The lectures have all been very instructive and most thoroughly enjoyed.

MEMORIAL

Service For Late President Proclaimed By Governor Nash.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Governor Nash issued the following proclamation to the people of Ohio today:

"Next Sunday, Sept. 14, will be the first anniversary of the death of President McKinley. Many churches of all denominations throughout the country have voluntarily started a movement to hold a memorial service at their regular place of worship in remembrance of the late president. I desire to call attention to this fact and to express the earnest wish that the people of Ohio join in this movement, making it worthy of the splendid life and work of the late president.

SHEEPMEN LOSE HEAVILY.

Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 9—Reports from timber fire districts state that sheepmen will be heavy losers. Many of the bands have scattered, and thousands of sheep are now right in the burning timber country. Work in the Rambler mine has been suspended and all hands sent to combat the fire.

A REPORT FROM CASTRO.

New York, Sept. 9.—The consul general of Venezuela has received the following undated cablegram from President Castro: "A fierce battle was fought today at Finaquillo in which the revolutionary army under Gens. Luciano Mondoza and Riera was completely defeated, thus assuring national peace."

PRESIDENT

Receives a Warm Welcome From People of Ashville.

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 9.—Asheville extended a warm greeting to President Roosevelt today. Fully 10,000 people occupied the court house square where the president addressed them from an improvised stand. The special train arrived at 9:30 o'clock, schedule time. The night was passed at Hot Springs, and the run from there to Asheville this morning was uneventful. A short stop was made at Marshall, the home of Senator Pritchard, where a large number of people had assembled. The president thanked them for their greeting.

At Asheville he was met by a reception committee, of which Charles McNamee was chairman. Mayor Miller, Senator Pritchard and Congressman Moody were among those who greeted the president, the members of the committe being introduced to the president in his car by Senator Pritchard. Carriages were in waiting and under the escort of Vance company Confederate veterans with the battle flags and two companies of state militia and the First Regiment band, the party started for Court House square. At Battery park the school children were assembled on the lawn and sang "America" as the party passed. President Roosevelt stood on his carriage, bareheaded. The city was elaborately decorated, and hundreds of people had come in from the country to greet the president. When the president was introduced by Chairman McNamee he was enthusiastically greeted. The introduction followed a short address of welcome, by Former Congressman Gudger.

IN COLORADO.

Democratic State Convention In Session at Denver.

Denver, Sept. 9.—The Democratic state convention met in Coliseum hall at 10 o'clock for the selection of a full state ticket and congressman-at-large. The number of candidates in the field for the principal office had aroused the strongest interest throughout the state and there was a full attendance of the 900 delegates.

James B. Orman, of Pueblo, the present governor, and E. C. Stimson, of Cripple Creek, judge of the Fourth judicial district, are the leading candidates for head of the ticket. The convention is ordered to endorse Senator Teller for re-election. The convention was called to order by State Chairman Milton Smith and chose ex-Governor Charles Thomas as temporary chairman. Mr. Thomas reviewed the political situation in the state at much length.

The state convention of the People's party also met here today and will endeavor to effect fusion with the Democrats.

ASKS ROCKEFELLER

To Provide Fund To Discover Smallpox Germ.

Cleveland, Sept. 9.—Health Officer Friedrich of this city has sent a letter to John D. Rockefeller calling his attention to the fact that medical science had as yet failed to discover the smallpox germ, and that such a discovery would probably mean the elimination of much human misery and the saving of many lives. He asks Mr. Rockefeller to provide a fund for the purpose of having an investigation carefully carried on.

West Virginia Wife Murderer Has Been Captured.

Genoa, W. Va., Sept. 9.—Rev. Maurice Wilson, who almost severed his wife's head from her body with a razor, as he said: "Without the shedding of blood there can be no remission of sin," was found this morning in the woods a few miles from home. He had no food since the commission of the crime Saturday morning. He is unquestionably insane and will not be taken to jail. He is over 80 years old.

Bad Man at Escanaba Gets Off With Fine.

Escanaba—John Lindquist was fined $50 and costs or the alternative of going to jail for ninety days, by Justice Glaser of Escanaba, the charge against him being that of carrying concealed weapons. Lindquist decided to pay the fine. His troubles were the result of an attempt to kill Saloonkeeper Elmquist, who had ordered him out of his place, where he had been creating a row. Lindquist determined on revenge. He purchased a revolver and cartridges in a nearby hardware store and went back to the saloon with blood in his eye. The intoxicated man had tried to load the weapon in the store, but he was not allowed to do so. This did not deter him from attempting to accomplish what he had set out to do and he went back to the saloon. Entering the place, Lindquist, without a word, pulled his revolver point blank at Elquist and pulled the trigger three times. Fortunately for the latter, the weapons was not loaded or he would undoubtedly have been a corpse as Lindquist was not over three feet away from the man when he pulled his gun.

Menominee—Charles Vroman and Charles Sjoquist, arrested for complicity in the cedar frauds for which Archie Freeman is serving in Marquette prison, have been held in $2000 bonds at Menominee for hearing, set for Sept. 26.

Rev. Victor Vixell, pastor of the Swedish Bethel Lutheran church in Menominee, died last week from heart failure. He took a long walk Tuesday afternoon and returned to his home in a much overheated state. He refreshed himself with several glasses of ice water and was almost immediately seized with severe cramps. His condition became more and more aggravated until death came. A week before, Dr. Vivell had a narrow escape from drowning while sailing in a canoe, which suddenly capsized and threw him and his companions into the bay. All hands, however, succeeded in holding on to the overturned boat until the rescuing party arrived, but the shock and the thorough wetting had a dire effect upon the pastor's health.

Sault Ste. Marie—William Headling, of the Soo, had a close call from death the other morning. He either fell or was pushed off a dock into the river. Headling is a good swimmer and kept afloat fo. over two hours when at last he was noticed by two boys who came to the dock and succeeded in getting him out. After being rescued the man became unconscious and at present is in a hospital in serious condition.

Thieves visited the tug Adams at a Soo dock a few nights ago and stole several pounds of brasses. All the connections that could be taken off were carried away. The tug belongs to the Duluth Dredge company and has not been in commission for several days, but was to be fitted out this week. The thieves will only be enriched about $50, but the loss to the tug will be nearly $200. It was the second time within a few days that a raid of this kind had been made on boats in the Sco harbor.

Gladstone—Mrs. Louis Cobey, an old resident of Gladstone, died of paralysis. She was 46 years of age and moved here from Pennsylvania. Her husband is a well-known engineer on the Soo line.

CAME FROM NOME.

But One Vessel There When Centennial Left.

Seattle, Sept. 9.—The Northwestern Commerce company's steamer Centennial, Capt. C. F. Strand, has arrived from Nome. At the time of the Centennial's departure there was but one vessel, the United State's revenue cutter Thetis at Nome. The revenue cutters Bear and the Manning, the coast survey steamer Patterson, steamer Heller and the British revenue cutter Sherwater, were at Dutch harbor Aug. 31 the Centennial passed the steamship Senator, and two days later the steamer Oregon, both Nome bound.

FOR COALING STATION

Adakh Island Is Likely To Be Selected.

San Francisco, Sept. 9.—The revenue cutter Hugh McCulloch, Capt. Coulson, has arrived here from Dutch harbor. The McCulloch was under orders to examine Adakh island, 400 miles east of Dutch harbor, as a probable site for a United States coaling station. One of the United States gunboats returning from Alaska last year had visited the island and reported favorably upon the position, and Capt. Coulson, it is expected will coincide in all that was said of Adakh. The island is said to possess a harbor and landing sufficient to accommodate coaling vessels.

CANDIDATES AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION.

For Auditor.

ODIN HALDEN—The present county auditor, announces that he is a candidate for renomination at the hands of the Republican voters of St. Louis county at the primary election to be held Sept. 16. During his services as county auditor he has made a record as a careful, conservative and reliable official, one who has done what he thought to be right without fear or favor, and in asking the voters to support him at the primary election he rests his claims for support upon that record.

For Register of Deeds.

L. M. JOHNSON is a candidate for Register of Deeds. He is a member of the Typographical union, and is prominent in the West End of the city. He is a Swedish-American, and if nominated will bring strength to the ticket.

County Supt. of Schools.

SUPERINTENDENT ANDREW T. PARK asks your vote, Sept. 16, to make him the Republican nominee for county superintendent of schools.

BERT N. WHEELER, son of H. W. Wheeler, of Oneota, has resigned his position as principal of the Bryant school to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for county superintendent. His acquaintance with the needs of the schools fits him for the position. If nominated and elected he will do his duty.

W. H. STULTZ, with many years' experience in the school room, seeks the Republican nomination for county superintendent.

For Sheriff.

JOHN T. ARMSTEAD is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff at the coming primary election, and solicits the favor of voters on the ground that he always has been a consistent Republican.

JOHN R. MEINING is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and solicits the votes and support of all Republicans on his record as a persistent worker for the party and competent business man.

OLE LARSON is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and is the choice of the labor oranizations for this office. Vote for him Sept. 16.

WILLIAM J. BATES, of Duluth, at the earnest and long-continued solicitation of his friends, has become a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff of St. Louis county, and has resigned as deputy sheriff to enter the race. If he is nominated and elected he will devote his personal work to the discharge of the duties of the office, something that has not heretofore been done.

JOHN A. HEALY, of Hibbing, announces himself as a candidate at the primary election for the Republican nomination for sheriff and solicits the support of Republicans throughout the county. He is a successful business man and is unqualifiedly endorsed by the leading Republicans of the Mesaba. He has served four years as deputy sheriff, with credit.

For County Commissioner.

LOUIS R. HELBING announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in the Second district. If nominated and elected, he pledges himself to devote his attention to a careful, economical and judicious administration of the county's funds, that the best results for the people may be secured with a minimum expenditure of public money.

For Congress.

M. L. FAY, of Virginia, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth district, subject to the decision of the voters at the primaries, Sept. 16. Capt. Fay has been a resident of the district for a number of years, and his record as a citizen and a Democrat is well known. He is especially well known in St. Louis county, having been a large employer of labor on the Mesaba range in St. Louis county and Itasca county. He has the respect of the men that have worked for him, and the consideration of his business associates and acquaintances, and if nominated and elected he promises to work for the best interests of the district.

THE WIRES.

Electrical Commission Figuring How to Get Them Down.

The municipal electrical commission met this afternoon for the purpose of discussing ways and means of abolishing the dangerous overhead wire system.

A plat submitted by City Engineer Patton showed the commission that there were 1452 live wires overhead along Superior street between First and Fifth avenues west.

At Third avenue west and Superior street there are 407 electrically-charged wires and cables, which, in a general way, are considered a menace to life and property.

Mr. Patton's plat also showed the wires and poles on Michigan, Superior and First streets between Third avenue east and Eighth avenue west.

At Fifth avenue west and Fifth street there are 333 dangerous wires overhead. At Fourth avenue there are 210; at Second avenue, 271, and First avenue, 231 wires.

The commission has one of the most perplexing municipal problems that has arisen since the organization of the city government. The members spent practically the entire session in an effort to decide whether the city should build a system of conduits and charge the various telephone, telegraph and electrical concerns a rental for the compulsory use of these conduits, or whether each concern transmitting electricity should be given the right to construct its own subway system.

When the commission works out some feasible solution of the problem it will hold a conference with the various companies having wires on Superior, Michigan and First streets, and endeavor to get their co-operation in carrying out the plan without litigation, delay or unnecessary trouble.

MAUD AT IT AGAIN

Beaumont Woman Robs Another Who Played Good Samaritan.

Mrs. Anna Peterson, Moved By Sympathy, Sheltered Her.

Maude Repaid It By Stealing Wardrobe and Jewelry.

That seething brunette with the sizzling crepons and dizzy smile, known as Maude Beaumont, alias "The Human Sunburst," is again under the fierce white light of police publicity.

The recent grand jury failing to indict her for pocket picking, Miss Beaumont was released from the county jail and immediately started out to put dimples in society.

In company with a man who knew her sufficiently to leave his valuables at home, she attended a little entertainment at which she met Mrs. Anna Peterson, of 228 Ninth avenue east.

Noticing that Mrs. Peterson's jewelery was more scintilating than her own, Miss Beaumont fainted.

Mrs. Peterson is a good-hearted, sympathetic woman, and she immediately became interested in what she considered the sad condition of a guileless young girl.

The good woman with the aid of two gentlemen administered liquid surceas of sorrow in such strenuous doses that Miss Beaumont had to come to occasionally, but every time she got so she could notice the other woman's jewelery, she would faint away again.

At last she recovered to the extent of murmuring something about being without a home or friends, and Mrs. Peterson immediately offered her a place in her family until she should be feeling better.

Now what Miss Beaumont did to this good woman's hospitality is a matter of record at police headquarters.

When the Peterson family arose yesterday morning their beautiful guest was still apparently sleeping. Mrs. Peterson had errands down town and concluded not to disturb her till noon.

When she got back home—the house was still there. As much cannot be said of some silk shirt waists, the jewelry and a fine pearl-handled revolver. Miss Beaumont was also among the missing.

The Beaumont woman is recognized by the police departments of Minneapolis, Duluth, St. Paul and Chicago as a sort of queen of pickpockets and back alley soubrettes.

She came to Duluth from Sioux City about two months ago and began picking the pockets of men that were unable to resist the dizziness of her languorous smile. From one man she took a very valuable watch. She was arrested and bound over to the grand jury, but no indictment was returned against her.

She says her home is in Sioux City, but it is in Bay City. She also says that she has never been in jail before coming to Duluth. She served a sentence of ninety days in St. Paul last winter for picking a man's pocket.

WRATHY.

Wronged Woman Creates Scene In the District Court.

Wronged by the man who had promised to marry her, and imagining that everyone, court, jury and attorneys, had turned against her, Asula Turk, a young Austrian woman, worked herself into an angry passion in the district court this morning, and had she not been taken from the room, might have created a scene.

She left the building shortly after her exit from the court room, shouting curses against the authorities. Had she remained for thirty minutes when the jury brought in a verdict of guilty against the man who ruined her, she might have departed with a better feeling in her heart.

Stephen Gerzin was the defendant, and the crime for which he was tried was committed at Biwabik.

The complaining witness came to this country a couple of years ago, and had been here but a few weeks when she went to Biwabik. She could speak no English, but found employment as a domestic in a house kept by Mary Ann Skull, a notorious character. Gerzin worked at the establishment playing an accordeon. During his stay there he became very intimate with the girl, and after two months she went away.

Phillips' School Shoes

There's one thing we are proud of. We do know how to get more lasting wear into Boys' and Girls' School Shoes than most anybody else that ever tried it. Most everybody has caught on—and on top of it have found out that it actually costs less to buy our kind than the middling ones.

Footcoverers to All Mankind....

218 West Superior St.

She swore on the stand that he promised to marry her.

About six months later Gerzin married another young woman. Last spring a child was born unto Asula Turk, and she had Gerzin arrested. When he was brought to the county jail, Gerzin's wife spent many hours there and sympathized with him as only a devoted woman can.

During the trial this morning Asula Turk sat in the court room, her black eyes flashing angrily. He took the affair as something of an everyday occurrence and gave little heed to the surroundings. Once he mentioned the name of another man with whom he thought the complaining witness was unduly intimate. While she cannot speak English, the Turk woman uttered a scream when the name was mentioned and shook her fist angrily at the witness. She would have rushed to strike him had she not been restrained. After a few minutes se calmed down.

When County Attorney McClintock was presenting the state's case to the jury, another outbreak came from the young woman. While the county attorney stood before the jury giving his argument, the young woman talked hurriedly in the Austrian language and made many threatening jestures at him. Then she was taken from the room.

Going to one of the jury rooms she took her little child in her arms and left the building giving vent to her fury by loud curses in her native tongue. Those who saw her sympathized with her.

AN OLD WAR.

Pretty Near Time to Stop.

Wouldn't it make your friend mad to tell her she was in reality a drunkard, but many women are drunkards unconsciously from the use of coffee, which wrecks their nervous systems, and they seen unable to reform.

A lady in Philadelphia, Pa., was very badly affected by coffee, causing her to have nervous prostration, and she finally woke up to the fact that she was in reality a coffee drunkard. Her doctor had told her that she must give up coffee, but she seemed unable to do it.

One day she read an advertisement about Postum Food Coffee and thought she would give it a trial. She says: "Coffee had such a strong hold on me that at first I did not make it all Postum, but added a tablespoonful of coffee. After a while I quit putting coffee in at all, and soon found I felt much better. Continued use stopped my headaches and biliousness, and I soon noticed that my nervousness had evidently left me for good. Now I would not use anything else, and the smell of coffee makes me sick.

"I am using your Grape-Nuts also, and think it a wonderful food. I lately cured an attack of indigestion by eating nothing but Grape-Nuts and drinking Postum for two weeks and now I can eat solid food and feel no distress." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

FUNERAL OF ROACH.

The Interment Will Be Made at Washington.

New York, Sept. 9.—The funeral of Former United States Senator William N. Roach, took place today from his late residence in this city. The body was removed to the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola, where a solemn requiem mass was said. The mourners were the widow, three sons and a daughter and a few personal friends of the dead man. After the services the remains were taken to the Pennsylvania station, where they were put on a rtain for Washington. Tomorrow the last prayers will be said at St. Patrick's church in Washington and the interment will take place in the congressional cemetery.

INQUEST

Into Death of Secret Service Agent Craig Commences.

Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 9.—The inquest into the death of William Craig, the secret service agent who was killed here last Wednesday in the collision between an electric car and the carriage containing President Roosevelt, was begun today. As a large number of witnesses are expected to be examined, it is expected the inquiry will occupy more than a week.

The proceedings are being conducted in private. The president and Secretary Cortelyou will not be called upon to give testimony.

It is understood that Governor Crane will give testimony.

The governor has ordered the state board of railroad commissioners to make a thorough investigation of the accident. Special Justice Charles L. Higgard is conducting the inquiry.

FIRE AT OIL CITY.

Oil City, Pa., Sept. 9.—Rouseville, one of the oldest oil towns on Oil Creek, was visited by a serious conflagration today. Seven frame business blocks and two dwellings were destroyed, entailing a doss of $50,000. The town is without fire protection and engines were sent from this city. It is believed the fire was of incendiary origin.

EXPOSED BY GRIGGS

Is Unsoundness of Republican Claim as to Prosperity.

Says Prosperity Means Harmony Between Prices and Wages.

Figures Cited By Chairman of the Democratic Committee.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—"The workingmen of the country are hearing nothing from the Republican press now, and will hear nothing from the Republican spellbinders later on, except the cry of 'prosperity' and 'full dinner pail,'" said Chairman James M. Griggs of the Democratic congressional committee yesterday.

"This Republican cry is fallacious and misleading, and if any man with a fixed income will sit down and figure for fifteen minutes, he will find it is so.

"Prosperity, eh? What is prosperity? When times are truly prosperous, prices of everything are usually high, but wages are correspondingly so. They keep pace with high prices of necessaries and luxuries of life, and the high prices are not felt by the man with a fixed income. When a man has money in his pocket to buy what he needs, he does not ask the price, he buys it. When he has no money, a low price does not interest him, because he can't buy it. Prosperity means harmony between prices and wages. We have no such harmony, therefore: our present 'prosperity' is more apparent than real.

"The man with a fixed income from wages or salary has been having his income chopped ever since 1897 by the increase in prices. Every man knows whether his income has been increased during the past three or four years. If it has not been increased from 10 to 100 per cent, then he is losing money compared to his condition in 1897 and 1898 and that in 1902.

"Take, for instance, the thirty-second annual report of the Massachusetts bureau of statistics of labor. That is a document compiled by good Republicans. It shows the purchase power of a dollar for the years 1897 and 1902 on a number of articles of daily necessity in the domestic economy of the average man's home. In 1902 a dollar will buy less than in 1897 of the following articles by the following percentages:

|---|---|
| Common soap | 19 1-4 per cent less |
| Starch | 10 1-8 per cent less |
| Roasting beef | 16 2-3 per cent less |
| Soup beef | 17 2-3 per cent less |
| Rump steak beef | 8 per cent less |
| Corn beef | 7 per cent less |
| Forequarter veal | 23 1-3 per cent less |
| Hindquarter veal | 7 per cent less |
| Veal cutlets | 11 1-2 per cent less |
| Forequarter mutton | 23 1-3 per cent less |
| Leg mutton | 27 4-5 per cent less |
| Fresh pork | 25 1-5 per cent less |
| Salted pork | 25 2-5 per cent less |
| Hams | 3 per cent less |
| Shoulders | 11 per cent less |
| Sausages | 13 1-2 per cent less |
| Lard | 40 1-8 per cent less |
| Butter | 10 1-8 per cent less |
| Cheese | 12 1-2 per cent less |
| Milk | 11 1-8 per cent less |
| Potatoes | 12 1-8 per cent less |
| Coal | 10 per cent less |
| Brown sheeting | 35 1-8 per cent less |
| Bleached sheeting | 39 3-4 per cent less |
| Ticking | 15 1-2 per cent less |
| House rent | 40 per cent less |

"This report also contains a table of the earnings of the head of a family and their relation to the family expenditures. It comprehends the earnings and expenditures of 152 heads of families. The average weekly wage of 114 family heads is shown to be $13.75. In the other thirty-eight cases, the average weekly wage amounts to $11.31, the total yearly earnings of the head averaging for the 152 families $594. In twenty-one instances, the earnings of the head exceeded the amount expended. In four instances, the accounts balance, and in 127 instances, however, about four-fifths of the entire number, the earnings of the head were insufficient to meet the family expenditure.

"Does this look like prosperity for the workingmen? It must be remembered also that these figures were compiled in 1901 and the report issued early this year. The prices on all these necessaries of life are now much higher than in 1901. Especially is this true of coal and beef, the prices of both being manipulated by a trust. In proof of this, I submit the following letter from a miner in West Virginia:

"Fayette, Fayette County, W. Va., Aug. 19, 1902.—Hon. J. M. Griggs, Chairman Democratic Congressional Committee, Washington, D. C. Dear Sir: I take it that you are interested in trust prices and I send you the prices that a laboring man has to pay today for the necessaries of life, as compared with the prices of 1898. I am a coal miner and have been for twenty-seven years. Under this supposed 'properity' that we now hear so much about, I have received an increase of 20 per cent in wages, but have been on a strike, together with other miners, for now nearly three months, striking for an increase of wages in keeping with the prices we have to pay for the necessaries of life, and for recognition of our Union, which seems to be the only hope that labor (outside of voting right) has in these days of this 'imaginary prosperity' and 'government by injunction.' Everything else is in proportion, itemized as follows, for the years 1898 and 1902:

|---|---|---|
| Bank oil, per gal. | $ 55 | $ 80 |
| Powder, per keg | 1 20 | 2 25 |
| Flour, per bbl | 3 50 | 7 00 |
| Bacon, per lb | 08 1-3 | 16 2-3 |
| Beef, per lb | 06 1-3 | 18 |
| Granulated sugar, per lb | 06½ | 10 |
| Tea, per lb | 40 | 70 |
| Canned tomatoes, doz | 60 | 1 50 |
| Corn, per doz | 1 00 | 1 00 |
| Rice, per lb | 06 | 08 1-3 |
| Breakfast food, per box | 10 | 16 |
| Rolled oats, per box | 08 1-3 | 12½ |
| Currants, per lb | 06¼ | 12½ |
| Raisins, per lb | 08 1-3 | 12½ |
| Dried apples, per lb | 04 | 12½ |
| Meal, per bus | 50 | 1 00 |
| Lard, per lb | 07½ | 13 |
| Dried beans, per lb | 03 | 06 |
| Condensed milk, per doz | 1 00 | 1 50 |
| Coarse salt, per lb | 01 | 04¼ |
| Toilet soap, per box | 10 | 25 |
| Cheese, per lb | 08 1-3 | 25 |
| Butter, per lb | 16 2-3 | 35 |
| Vinegar, per gal | 20 | 40 |
| Potatoes, per bus | 75 | 1 40 |
| Kerosene oil, per gal | 10 | 20 |
| Laundry soap, doz bars | 25 | 50 |
| Ham, per lb | 12 | 18 |

"These are the prices that the average workingman pays now and what they had to pay in 1898. I trust that this statement may be of service in opening the eyes of the laboring men of this country so that when they go to vote against the trust and the party that makes it possible for them to rob the laboring man by charging these outrageous prices, and if they make any complaint, enjoin them from walking on the earth. Truly yours,

"WILLIAM CAMACK.

"This man is vouched for as reliable by Hon. C. W. Osenton, of Fayetteville, W. Va., a member of this committee. A glance at these figures shows an increase in the cost of living for the workingman of from 50 per cent to 325 per cent in the past four years. Has any man's income been increased that much in that length of time? If not, he is having a whole lot of 'prosperity,' isn't he?

"I also have a letter from Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, enclosing a statement from F. P. Sales, chief of the sanitary department of the city of Raleigh, N. C., who says that he interviewed a number of people on this subject with the following results:

"C. F. Cook, a printer, employed by the News and Observer Publishing company, says that the present prices of articles, such as beef, bulk meat, lard, flour and corn meal, are about one-third higher now than three years ago, and that his wages have not been increased during that period.

"H. J. Helling, janitor of the Tucker building, in that city, makes the same statement, and C. E. Crawford, of Crawford & Sons, butchers of that city, makes the statement that beef and pork are one-third higher now than three years ago.

"All of this goes to show that the cry of 'prosperity' and the 'full dinner pail' for the workingmen is a fake and fraud.

"If they call this 'well enough,' why, then, 'let it alone.' If not, they will vote the Democratic ticket and strike a blow at the trusts that are lowering wages by increasing the cost of living."

America's Greatest Dermatologist

Woman's beauty has been the theme of poets in all ages. Woman's influence over man is paramount. Personal beauty has always commanded love and admiration. Almost the first critique one woman pronounces upon another is her complexion.

The complexion, if clouded with blotches, liver spots, superfluous hair, moth, tan, freckles, can be speedily and completely cleared and made soft, smooth and white by Madame Tully's treatment.

Removing Wrinkles in One Treatment

Madame Tully is known in most of the large cities of America from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans, and wherever she has visited her name has become a popular household word. This famous woman's representative, Miss Daralis, is now visiting in Duluth, a fact that will be hailed with delight by a majority of the female sex in this city. This scientist must not be confused with the so-called beauty doctors so common in all large cities that resort to facial massage and other equally as useless expedients to restore lost beauty or to remove the tell tale wrinkles. Madame Tully has received the most flattering notices from the press of the United States and Europe.

Miss Daralis will be in Duluth one week, and it would be well for all ladies needing her services to call at once at her parlor at the Ralston.

MUCH LOOT

Found In the Possession of St. Paul Highwayman.

St. Paul, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The police have in their possession at the central station over $3000 worth of loot recovered from the home of John Wilson, the first of the highwaymen arrested.

Wilson was arrested Sunday morning soon after the Thirteenth street hold-up.

Yesterday he broke down under the severe cross-questioning by officials, and gav his St. Paul address as 318 Walnut street. Detectives Daly and Frazer searched the rooms and found over 300 separate articles of jewelry, apparel, etc. Most of the pieces have been identified. Many belong to Minneapolis people.

The inventory shows even thieves can be fooled by glitter for there are rings and brooches that are "phoney" and cheap glass. Many of the stones are expensive. One set of rubies is valued at $1000.

To Be Augmented By American-Asiatic Steamship Co.

Strong Financial Concern to Enter Competition For Trade.

The Ships Will Sail Monthly From New York.

New York, Sept. 9.—Increased interest in trade with China and elsewhere in the Orient is indicated, says today's issue of the Journal of Commerce by the announcement that another steamship company has been formed by strong financial and shipping interests of this city, and will soon enter into a competition for commerce between this port and the far East.

The new line from New York is to be operated by the American-Asiatic Steamship company, an organization formed under laws of Maine, with an authorized capital of $500,000. The sailings will be monthly, and the first vessel is expected to be dispatched from this port about the middle or latter part of October.

The officers of the new company are: William Barclay Parsons, president; D. Leroy Dresser, vice president; T. Ashley Sparks, secretary and treasurer. The directors, besides the officers named, are August Belmont, C. A. Tomes, Cornelius Vanderbilt and John D. Gluck. Luther Kountze, of Kountze Bros., Vermilye & Co., and J. Crosby Brown, of Brown Bros., are also shareholders.

Vessels of the new line will call at Singapore, Manila, Hong Kong, Shanghai, Nagasaki, Kobe, Moji and Yokohama.

The service will be inaugurated by the steamship Gibraltar, which has been chartered by the company. Shewan, Tomes & Co., who have their own officers in leading ports in the far East, have operated a steamship service from ports in China and Japan and the Straits settlements to New York, will become general agents in the Orient for the new company.

The American-Asiatic Steamship company will not only establish a new line from this port, but will also take charge of the business already established in the Orient.

The steamship Gibraltar is a new steamer, 344 feet long, 49 feet beam and 17 feet 9 inches depth.

In this connection the news may be of interest that the Union Pacific Railroad company, through the Oregon Short Line company, which it controls, has concluded to try for the carrying trade between the Pacific coast and Japan, China and the East. At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon Short Line to be held at Salt Lake City on Oct. 9, an amendment of the articles of association will be submitted to empower the company to "construct or acquire by purchase, lease or otherwise, and to maintain and operate, ferries, ferryboats, steamboats, steamships, warehouses and other property appurtenances to the business of ferries or of navigation. Also to engage generally in the business of transportation upon the navigable waters of the United States or other countries and upon the high seas, and to purchase or otherwise acquire and guarantee the capital stock and other obligations of any company having power to engage in such business or engaged therein."

A TRIUMPH.

England So Considers Negotiation of the Chinese Treaty.

New York, Sept. 9.—The Anglo-Chinese treaty is hailed as a signal triumph for British diplomacy, and Sir James Mackay's achievement in persuading the Chinese government to strike off the heaviest fetters that have hitherto impeded foreign commerce with the Celestial empire is lauded to the skies, says a London dispatch to the Tribune. It is fully recognized, however, that the abolition of the likin cannot become an accomplished fact without the concurrence of all the powers. Russia has not yet disclosed her hand. Her commercial interests in China are inconsiderable, and she may object to any arrangement which would be principally for the benefit of England. Certainly, whatever Russia does will be duly supported by France. On the other hand, the advantage to all nations of having important commercial relations with China is manifest, and no opposition is anticipated from America or Germany. It is hoped that Russia and France will consider the treaty on its merits and not allow economic reform to be blocked by any of the difficulties and jealousies which are only too apt to make the European concert inharmonious and ineffective. But even assuming that all the powers approve Sir James Mackay's agreement, the task of carrying it out cannot fail to be one of immense difficulty.

EAT MEAT FOR THE EYE.

Good Sight Dependent Largely Upon the Diet.

Boston, Sept. 9.—Dr. Edward Cutler, a well known New York physician, who has given a great deal of study to diseases of the eye, in an interview today credits Chicagoans with having the best eyesight of dwellers in large American cities. His belief is that the eating of liberal quantities of fresh meat has a beneficial effect upon the eyes. Boston has the worst eyes. Boston has what he terms the "pie crust" eye, because they do not allow themselves enough to eat of nourishing foods. They eat "pie" and pastry foods. There is not much nourishment, he claims, in pies, codfish and baked beans.

AT WEST DULUTH

Sympathizing with her recreant husband, William Crangle, who since last Saturday has been in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury, on the charge of non-support of his family, Mrs. Crangle started this morning for the court house to see if she could induce the court to release him. Yesterday Mrs. Crangle received some money from Crangle's relatives, and assurances from others that they would forward funds if sure that the husband was not to get the money. She believes that he has been sufficiently punished, and that he is willing to give the court a bond that he will support his family hereafter and not abuse her. If Crangle will do this the court has the right, under the new law, to release him under bond before a trial, or to suspend sentence after a trial. Crangle was employed at the blast furnace, where he was regarded as a fine workman, and the company is anxious to have him back at work.

SHORT OF LOGS.

The Duncan & Brewer company will close down this evening for about ten days on account of a shortage in its log supply. This is the second instance of the kind this season, the St. Louis mill having had a log shortage earlier in the year. The Duncan & Brewer company has about 23,000,000 feet of logs hung up on the Nemadji river, and a small number on Iron River, which are still to be rafted to the head of the lakes.

MRS. DAUGAARD DEAD.

Mrs. Mary Daugaard, of 302 Fifty-fifth avenue west, died at the Red Cross hospital last evening after an illness of about eight months. Mrs. Daugaard was 30 years of age, was born in Denmark, and has been a resident of West Duluth for the past eight years. She leaves a husband, Jens Daugaard, and two small boys, aged 12 and 8 years respectively. The funeral will be held from the German Lutheran church on Raleigh street, Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made at Oneota cemetery.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS.

The West Duluth Democrats are looking forward with no little degree of interest to a meeting that Capt. Fay, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman, is said to have been arranging for this part of the city. Capt. Fay is pretty well known among the Democrats of the western part of the city, and his vigorous methods of campaigning have made him many friends.

James Hunt, and a younger comrade by the name of Tracey, started out this morning to enliven matters along Central avenue. After imbibing freely at a number of the liquid dispensaries, they cut a wide swath up Central avenue, bracing each other up until Officer Victor Anderson took them in charge. This afternoon they are sobering up in the West Duluth police headquarters.

There will be a public meeting at 8 o'clock this evening in the Baptist church, corner of Bristol street and Sixtieth avenue west, under the auspices of the West Duluth lodge of Good Templars. J. M. Skinner will address the meeting.

Miss Laura Laurmann, one of the teachers in the Irving school, has returned from her home in St. Peter, where she spent the summer. Miss Laumann was accompanied by her niece, Miss Grace Hendricks.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Larson, of 314 Fifty-seventh avenue west.

Rev. James Feeheley is reported on the sick list.

Peter Jacques has returned from a several days' visit at St. Paul.

Adolph Butler returned this morning from a week's visit at the state fair.

Mrs. Ganley will leave on the South Shore excursion next Monday for a visit at Detroit and other points.

Charles Drake will leave the first of the coming week for a visit at Au Sable, Mich.

Mrs. Bartlett and daughter Lena will be among the South Shore company's excursionists next week. They will visit relatives at Oscoda and Au Sable, Mich.

Two West Duluthians, Emil Oette and H. R. Patterson, are serving on the petit jury at district court this week.

This evening the Catholic Order of Foresters will give a musical and literary entertainment at the Great Eastern hall for its members and friends.

THE DAKOTAS.

Two Aurora Girls Burned While Playing In Barn.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Aurora—Two little girls were burned here Sunday while playing in a barn, Edna, the only child of G. D. Cheatham, and Mary, daughter of Fred Lilly, both children about four years of age. The alarm was given by Mr. Lilly's little boy, who is supposed to have been playing with the little girls and set the fire. Although far beyond control when discovered, the fire was prevented from spreading to other buildings, and the bodies secured before they were burned beyond identification. A horse was also in the barn, and burned.

Pierre—M. C. Rousseau, one of the earliest settlers in this part of Dakota, was killed Saturday afternoon near Cheyenne river by his wagon overturning and crushing him. His body was not discovered until yesterday, when a halfbreed passing along the trail found him and reported the accident to his family.

Armour—J. S. Lucksinger was seriously wounded yesterday from the accidental discharge of a gun. A neighbor's boy was extricating a cartridge from a 22-rifle and the bullet lodged in Lucksinger's back, inflicting perhaps a fatal wound. The bullet cannot be located. The injured man lives just west of Armour.

Rapid City—Black Hills contractors refused to file bids for the construction of the new buildings at the government Indian school here for the reason that the total appropriation is only $46,000, and the specifications called for work that would cost at least $55,000.

Andover—As extra freight No. 1222 was coming from the north the air brakes failed to work when near the switch of the main line, and the locomotive crashed into a load of steel rails on the side track. The locomotive jumped the track and was completely demolished. Two cars loaded with wheat were dirafled and reduced to kindling wood. The engineer and fireman saved their lives by jumping.

Yankton—Louis Thrane, of Vermillion, who was held up and robbed at a negro dive here Sunday morning, died last night from his wounds. The coroner's jury found that death came from an assault with a murderous weapon in the hands of some person or persons unknown. The crime was committed about 2 a. m. Sunday at the back gate of the stockade about the negro dive. Thrane had been in the dive all the evening and had shown much money. He was not able to make any statement. When found his skull was fractured, probably with a club. There were also several deep cuts from a razor on his head.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Ayr—Wallace Heaton, of this place, was instantly killed Monday afternoon by the explosion of a threshing machine engine owned by James Hill and running on the farm of Willis Hill, five miles north of Ayr. He had a wife and brother here. His parents are residents of Illinois.

Fargo—North Dakota certainly has a Democratic governor. The executive has been on his farm near Litchfield, Barnes county, for several days, driving a binder. There is nothing of the kid-glove order about the man who led his troops in the Philippines. His work is not done for any grandstand play, but from love of the agricultural life and the interest he takes in his line farm, on which he assisted some months ago in the erection of a new barn, wearing a suit of overalls with the same grace he formerly wore Uncle Sam's uniform.

Business Relations Between United States and China.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—China and the United States are to be brought into closer business relations by commercial museums in the large cities of the country. Each country, New York and San Francisco, are the American cities in which permanent expositions of Chinese products will be established, and exhibits of American manufactories will be displayed in Canton, Pekin, Singapore, Hong Kong, Hankow, and, perhaps, other centers of population in China. Ho Yow, Chinese consul general at San Francisco, has arrived here to interest Chicago manufacturers.

Mr. Yow is now traveling, not in his official capacity, but as envoy of the Chinese-American Commercial company, and a new system of international trade development. He will spend all of his six weeks' vacation from consular duties in visiting manufacturers.

He will stay in Chicago a week, visiting all kinds of manufacturing plants, and will then go to St. Louis, Philadelphia, New York and Boston and other New England cities.

"The commercial museums we will establish in Chicago, New York and San Francisco," said Mr. Yow, "will contain exhibits of tea, silk, mattings, antique works and samples of the various handicraft of Chinese workmen. Every museum will be a sort of international commission house on an immense scale. Our object is to introduce American goods into China and Chinese goods into America, and we think that no only will trade be benefited, but international good will be promoted."

VIEWS ON PRIMARY LAW

which is, of course, an advantage because the rule of the bosses tends to become corrupt with age.

While their utterances are not all as decided as might be expected, the majority of the legislative candidates seem to favor the retention of the law, or at least they believe it should be given a fair and complete trial before it is discarded. Below are the interviews that have been gathered, it having been impossible to reach a few of the candidates because of illness or absence from the city:

Dr. David Graham, West Duluth, Republican candidate for the legislature, Forty-ninth district—I refuse to discuss the primary election law.

George J. Mallory, Republican candidate for the legislature, Forty-ninth district—I have nothing to say. The people know where I stand on the question. (Mr. Mallory voted against the law when it passed the legislature.)

T. M. Pugh, Republican candidate for senator, Fiftieth district—I believe that the law should be given a fair trial. It may possibly be that it will not prove satisfactory in the end, but it should be tried, and by that I do not mean that one election should be considered a full test.

E. R. Jefferson, Republican candidate for senator, Fiftieth district—I do not care to express an opinion until after the primaries, when I can see how it works.

Capt. Ray T. Lewis, Republican candidate for the legislature, Fiftieth district—I believe the law is a good thing, and that it should be maintained.

S. H. Eckman, Republican candidate for the legislature, Fiftieth district—I do not care to express an opinion until the law is tested. In theory it seems to be all right.

P. C. Schmidt, Republican candidate for the legislature, Fifty-first district—The theory is all right, but I shall withhold my opinion until after Sept. 16, when I can see the good or evil of it.

Dr. J. D. Budd, Republican candidate for the legislature, Fifty-first district—I do not think I should express an opinion, as a legislative candidate, upon a law that has not had a fair trial. It should have a fair trial, however, and I do not believe that one election will afford it, as some of the objections might be overcome when the people became more familiar with the law.

N. F. Hugo, candidate for representative on the Republican ticket from the Fifty-first district—The law may have to be changed somewhat later on, but not in the important features and the idea on which it is constructed. The law is for fairness to all and gives the people free expression. It does what I think it was designed to do, does away with political bosses and ring work. While I favor the law as a whole, there are certain amendments that might be made. For instance, I think that a shorter limit should be placed on the time between the filing of papers and the day of election. It makes too long a campaign and does little good. Men cannot give their time to the election for months ahead, and a limit of from two weeks to a month would suit me. Some of the candidates filed early last spring and they have been busy ever since. The system as it now stands gives us too much campaign. Neither do I think that the law will cause dissension in the party ranks. I feel that after election the different factions that may be opposing each other at this time will join hands and fight for the interest of the party. I am certain that any rough spots that may appear now will have disappeared a few days after the primaries.

A. J. McGee, Republican candidate for the legislature, Fifty-first district—I do not care to say anything about the law till I learn more about it.

Senator F. B. Daugherty, Republican candidate for state senator, Fifty-first district—No doubt the law will need amendment, but the theory is a good one, and I should not want to say anything against the law until it has had a trial.

Capt. John R. Randall, Republican candidate for the legislature, Fiftieth district—I believe the primary election law a good thing. It will cause the people to select fit men for office and turn out the masses to vote at the primaries. Still it is largely an experiment.

George R. Laybourn, Republican candidate for state senator in the Fifty-first district, is ill and could not be seen. However, he voted for the bill in the house and has always been understood to favor it.

Senator E. B. Hawkins, candidate for senator in the Forty-ninth district, is out of the city. P. E. Dowling, Republican candidate for representative in the same district, lives at Eveleth and could not be reached. This includes all of the Republican legislative candidates.

S. C. Murphy, Democratic candidate for senator in the Forty-ninth district, is out of the city, and James F. Kellogg, Democratic candidate for the house in the Fifty-first district, is at Two Harbors and could not be reached.

Frank E. Bradley, Democratic candidate for the house in the Forty-ninth district, could not be located.

TO DIVIDE DIOCESES.

Rome, Sept. 9.—The question of dividing several of the larger American dioceses is engaging the personal attention of the prefect of the propaganda, Cardinal Gotti. It is believed that ere long the existing dioceses and arch dioceses, numbering about 85, will be so reorganized as to increase the number to 100.

LEFT FOUR MILLIONS.

New York, Sept. 9.—An estimate estimated to be worth $4,000,000 was left by Bradford McGregor, son of the late Standard Oil magnate, who died yesterday at Mararoneck after a surgical operation. McGregor is said to have signed a deed shortly before death, which is said to have transfered to his deathbed bride, who was Miss Clara Schemmler, of New York, the bulk of the property.

BLINDFOLD.

Blindfold a woman and she loses all confidence in herself. Her step is slow, hesitating and uncertain. Her hands are raised to ward the imaginary blows which threaten her. When a sick woman seeks the means of health she is often like a woman blindfold. She has no confidence. She cannot tell what her effort will lead to. She turns now to this side and then to the other in uncertainty and doubt.

The sick woman who uses Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription may do so with absolute confidence. It invites open-eyed investigation. There need be no hesitation in following the hundreds of thousands of women who have found a perfect cure for womanly ills in the use of this medicine.

"Favorite Prescription" cures irregularity and dries weakening drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"With a heart full of gratitude to you for sending out over the land your wonderful medicine I send these few lines, hoping that some poor suffering women will try Dr. Pierce's medicines," writes Mrs. Cora L. Root, of Greenspring Furnace, Washington Co., Maryland. "I had suffered severly from female weakness and had to be in bed a great deal of the time. Had headache, backache, and pain in left side when lying down. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and had not taken two bottles when I was able to be around again and do my work with but little pain. Can now eat anything and it never hurts me any more. Have taken seven bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and one of his 'Compound Extract of Smart-Weed and several vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets.' Feeling better every day. My husband says I look better every day."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

RELIEF HAS COME

Cooler Weather Brings Joy to Hay Fever Sufferers.

Non-Resident Victims Are Returning to Their Homes.

Isle Royale Has Had Large Number This Year.

Joy has come again unto a goodly portion of Duluth's population.

And besides Duluthians there are a number of other temporary residents who are happy.

The hay fever season or epidemic is broken. The inflamed nostril, the buzzing head and the many other unpleasant features that accompany the summer malady will give way to a normal condition of things.

People who have come to Duluth during the past two or three weeks for a moment's rest, when the handkerchief would not be continually in use in twisting and wrenching their nasal organs, are again hurrying homeward, word having reached them from their respective homes that all danger of a relapse of the hay fever complaint has passed.

Many hay fever sufferers have been at Isle Royale this year, but they are leaving their summer places of residence for their homes. Hay fever is in a class by itself as a summer complaint. It transforms the blessings and satisfactions of life into tortures and distress.

The golden rod, the nation's floral emblem, is cursed by many sufferers as being partly responsible for their misery. One Duluth victim who receives his visit from hay fever as regularly as a young man falls in love thought he had discovered the real thing in the way of a cure this summer. It was a little patented device consisting of a screen and felt arrangement which was placed inside the nostrils. The screen was to breathe through while it served the purpose of keeping away the dust and other particles that float through the air and which bring tears to the eyes and sorrow to the hearts of the hay fever sufferer.

Even the rose with its delicious fragrance has no charms for the hay feverite. He inhales not the beautiful odor, but instead gets all the dust that the blossom inhales.

Duluth is fast becoming famed as a hay fever resort and it is safe to say that more people sought this city and vicinity for relief than ever before. It is conceded that a change of climate is necessary and in each case a cooler temperature is desired. The cool spell of the past few days has worked wonders in bringing a cure to the hay fever patient.

A. K. Tewkesworth, of Kansas City, is one man who has enthusiastic faith in the powers of this climate to cure the hay fever. He came to this city on Aug. 30 with weeping eyes and dripping nose and a headache besides.

"I find that the climate about here is just what I need," said he in speaking to a friend yesterday afternoon. "I came a considerable distance to reach it, but when a person is subject to hay fever no distance is too great, and no trouble too much when in search of relief."

FERRY FIRE.

The Belle Damaged to the Extent of $1000.

The Belle, of the Independent Ferry line, suffered a loss of $1000 by a fire last evening discovered in the boiler room about 8 o'clock.

The steamer was tied up at the Lake avenue dock for the night when the fire broke out. No one was on board. Capt. A. H. Fisher, of the steamer Bruna, heard the cry of fire and rushed to the boat. Buckets were brought into play and the fire checked until the arrival of the department.

The flames were not extinguished before a loss of $1000 had been wrought. It was partly covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is not known. The fires in the boat were out, although the boiler was still warm, which may have ignited the woodwork.

AMENDMENTS

Charter Commission to Consider Them This Evening.

The charter commission will meet in the council chamber this evening for the purpose of considering proposed amendments to be voted on at the special water plant election on Oct. 23.

The amendments to be considered are as follows:

Providing that when more than one person owns a single lot, they shall be considered a single person in petitioning for public improvements.

Providing that 75 per cent of the cost of a public improvement be levied as soon as the contract for the work is awarded.

Providing that the county treasurer shall collect interest and penalties upon assessments not paid within thirty days, and turn the money over to the city treasurer.

Providing that the common council may by a unanimous vote order street improvements without a petition from the property owners affected.

Authorizing the issue of $50,000 worth of bonds to obtain money for an increase in the permanent improvement fund.

Giving the council authority, by a seven-eighths vote, to order sewer outlets where the aldermen consider them necessary, with a petition from the property owners.

Establishing the rule that 10 per cent shall be added to contract prices, to cover necessary expenses, the 10 per cent to be deducted in case the assessment is paid within thirty days.

The Proper Treatment For a Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. For sale at Boyce's Drug store.

MACHINES MUST GO

Council Passes Resolution Against the Slot Devices.

Alderman Moore Makes Vigorous Fight For Its Adoption.

Asphalt Company Must Complete Its Contract on Time.

The council last night:

Demanded the removal of all nickel-in-the-slot machines by police.

Decided not to have city employes act on election boards.

Demanded prompt fulfillmentof Barber asphalt paving contract.

Decided to substitute bituminous for tar-macadam pavement.

Designated Thomas Olafson for reappointment as assessor.

Decided on new station for Seventh avenue west incline.

Decided to further investigate maximum tax levy for city.

Directed placing of electric sign on new Panton & White store.

Alderman Moore won the fight of his aldermanic career last night.

His resolution ordering the removal of all slot machines was adopted.

As a result, this apparently respectable form of petty gambling for cigars and merchandise, must cease.

In addressing the council the First ward alderman seemed to realize that he had a fight on. He said:

"Gentlemen, in introducing this resolution for the removal of slot machines, it is not my desire to pose as a reformer or anything of that sort. The notoriety it has gained me is distasteful.

"These slot machines have a tendency to demoralize the young men and children of the city. I do not desire to criticize Chief Troyer. I have great respect for him and know of no better man for the head of the police department, but I take issue with him if he says that he must exercise discretion in enforcing the law.

"Since last week I have received many messages commending the resolution. One woman even threatened me if I did not secure its adoption.

"I am also in receipt of an open letter from eight of the news and cigar stands having these trade machines, as they call them. In this communication, which is lamentably weak in its support of the devices, these agents acknowledge that they are sometimes patronized by children.

"Nowhere in the communication do they dare to claim that the machines are lawful or that they are square and honest.

"To me the most objectionable thing about these slot machines are that they cause so many young men to form gambling habits. In the interest of good morals and good citizenship all such devices should be suppressed.

"The most pernicious feature of the slot machine gambling is its apparent respectability."

Alderman Neff said that Mr. Moore's argument was admirable and logical, but he considered the rigid enforcement of police regulations a serious question. He believed in the enforcement of law so far as public sentiment permitted, but he did not believe that public sentiment would bear out the strict enforcement of the anti-slot machine laws.

"I agree," said the Fourth ward alderman, "that the slot machines are detrimental to the morals of minors. For that matter progressive euchre parties are pernicious. It is my candid belief that if it came right down to a point, you could not find 100 men in Duluth that would be in favor of a strict enforcement of all police regulations.

"The police administration as it is constituted today is most admirable and thoroughly satisfactory."

Mr. Neff then moved that the Moore resolution be laid on the table and his motion was seconded by Alderman Mannheim, of the Third ward. The motion was declared lost by a vote of 7 to 8.

Mr. Moore then called for a vote on the adoption of the resolution, and there was something of a stampede in its favor. The vote was:

Yeas—Barnes, Cullum, Haven, Krumsieg, McEwen, Moore, Olson, Swenson, Tischer, Wing—10.

Nays—Kern, Mannheim, Neff, Schaffer, Trevillion—5.

After the meeting Mr. Moore received many congratulations on the success of the fight.

Alderman Mannheim stirred up a breezy discussion by introducing a resolution to the effect that city employes should not act as judges or clerks of election.

Three employes were included in the primary election list selected a week ago, and the Third ward alderman desired to have these names stricken from the list.

City Attorney Mitchell held that once designated, the election judges were vested with rights that the council could not take away.

A substitute resoution by Alderman Barnes was then adopted expressing it as the sentiment of the council that in the future political committees should not certify to names of city employes in lists of judges of election and registration.

If the Barber Asphalt company fails to have East Superior street between Eighth and Sixteenth avenues paved by Oct. 15, the council will probably annul the contract and give the paving job over to some other concern.

The asphalt trust seems to have an impression that it can do the work whenever convenient, but the council adopted a resolution notifying the paving concern that it would be held strictly to its contract or else be compelled to give up that contract.

Instead of ordinary tar-macadam, the Nineteenth avenue east improvement between South and Fourth streets will be finished with Warren Bros.' patent bituminous macadam. The cost is 70 cents a square yard more, but it is believed that the bituminous macadam will be much more satisfactory, and it will save the city from threatened expensive litigation over alleged infringement of paving patent rights.

Thomas Olafson, of West Duluth, was reappointed to the position of city assessor. The appointment is made by the mayor and needs no confirmation, which fact was regretted by several of the aldermen who would have liked to compliment Mr. Olafson on his good work during the past two years by an official vote.

The conference committee formally notified the council of its action in fixing the maximum tax levy for city purposes at a rate of 17.2 mills, on which revenue amounting to $455,800 is anticipated.

The report was referred to Aldermen Krumsieg, Barnes and Mannheim.

Duluth has had many fine electric signs, but the sign to be placed on the remodeled Panton & White building will be the most elaborate. The council granted special permission for the erection of this sign, which will cost considerably over $700.

The street railway company was requested to install a suitable station at Fifth street on the Seventh avenue west incline.

Buys Barn Property.

H. L. Bilson closed a deal yesterday whereby he came in possession of the East End livery barn property at the corner of Seventh avenue east and Superior street. The property was sold by Louis Rechlean, through J. D. Howard & company, and the purchase price was $6500.

AMUSEMENTS.

"THE TEMPEST."

The theatrical season was auspiciously begun at the Lyceum last evening, when Louis James and Frederick Warde, accompanied by a most competent company, gave an elaborate presentation of Shakespeare's spectacular and idealistic drama, "The Tempest," before one of the largest audiences in the history of the house.

"The Tempest" is a somewhat surprising choice for these two players, who, as everybody in the Northwest knows, have been given somewhat to plays of a more strenuous character. One of Shakespeare's plays, though not one of his best, it depends more than any other classical play, with the possible exception of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," upon spectacular effects, and there are fewer and less exhaustive demands upon the art of the player in it than in almost any other Shakespearean drama.

The spectacular effects were decidedly the most striking feature of the performance. They were most elaborate, and it was evident that they had been prepared at great expense and with great attention to detail. The play is a succession of charming stage pictures, some merely pretty, some majestic and grand, like the tempest scene in the first act. This is a very pretentious effect, and it was put on in a very realistic manner. This in spite of the fact that last night was the first time the company had been able to give it sentire scenic effects, owing to limited stage facilities in the theaters in which it has been presented s ofar this season. The scenery was magnificent, the costuming handsome and glitteringly new. There was a pretty and graceful and tuneful chorus. One of the features, a set of demons and grotesques, gave the play something of the aspect of one of the Henderson extravaganzas.

It must be said that both Warde and James have appeared here in parts far better suited to them than Prospero and Caliban. The play is purely ideal, and the characters are ideally good or ideally bad. Caliban, played by Mr. James, is ideally bad. He is a hagborn monster, with just enough humanity to make his monstrosity more horrid. He has the appetites and hates of a human, and the moral nature of a fiend. Mr. James, it goes without saying, was completely satisfactory in the part, but it is an unpleasant and revolting one, and it was due to the character of the part and not to the actor that there was not one round of applause especially for him.

Mr. Warde has a more agreeable part, but not one that would gain laurels for any actor, however great. Aside from being an ideal of the highest wisdom and moral attainment, Prospero is simply the master of ceremonies for the spectacular features of the play. All that the part called for Mr. Warde performed in his customary ecellent manner.

The part of Miranda, Prospero's daughter, an ideal of pure and innocent girlhood, fortified by the isolation of her island home from the contamination of the world, innocently bold in her declaration of love for the first fair-looking young man she had ever seen, was taken by Teresa Maxwell, and she did it charmingly. The airy, trickay part of Ariel, lightest and daintiest and most charming of sprites, was beautifully done by Edith Fassett.

Norman Hackett was entirely acceptable as Ferdinand, his stage appearance and his capable acting making a most pleasing combination. As an actor of juvenile parts, Mr. Hackett is a thoroughly good artist. J. H. Hollingshead was excellent as the old counsellor, Gonzalo, an incarnation of humorous common sense. Thomas Coffin Cooke, as Trinculo, a jester, and Wadsworth Harris, as Stephano, a drunken butler, furnished the comedy in a most satisfactory manner.

The others were all satisfactory, and in short the play was given in a manner that touched the limit of its possibilities. And yet, in the interests of that will-o-the-wisp, perfection, it might be hoped that Mr. Hackett would not say "drowned" where the lines read "drown'd," and that Mr. Warde would not put the accent on the second syllable in the word "revenue."

Great Mortality From Plagues.

Pestilence of one kind or another is raging in nearly every quarter of the globe and the ignorant in some countries are inclined to view it as a visitation of God. Whatever the cause, the results are frightful and many small countries are becoming almost depopulated through disease. Asiatic cholera is devastating China and Western Russia and has extended into the Philippines. Yellow fever is prevalent in various South American countries, the state department having just received a dispatch from Para, Brazil, stating that the United States consular agent at Manaos has succumbed to this disease, which "is raging in the Amazon valley, leaving in its destructive path a long train of deaths and prostrations." Egypt is threatened with a scourge of Asiatic cholera. United States Consul Long having reported from Cairo that the authorities are making desperate efforts to keep the disease in check. It has broken out at Moucha, about 250 miles south of Cairo and a strong military cordon has been placed around the infected district. Plague is also prevalent in certain parts of Egypt, and the same disease is taking the people off in considerable numbers in Odessa, Russia, in British India, and in Cape Colony. Japan also has many cases of cholera, and the plague has even been reported by Sol Berliner, United States consul at Teneriffe, Canary Islands. While these plagues are to a certain extent common in many of these countries, they have not been so extensive in a long time. They are largely the natural result of methods of living and will probably continue until the countries become thoroughly modernized as to sanitation and habits.

Cripple Creek's Fame Is Waning.

The decline in the grade of gold produced at Cripple Creep during the past year or more, seems likely to cause the glory of this famous place as a mining field to vanish. It is evident at least that the limit of productiveness has been reached and it is practically certain that the high figures of 1900 will not be equalled again. Last year's record for the Cripple Creek district was $24,019,250, which was a decline from 1900. This was the first time in the history of the camp in which a year failed to score an increase over its predecessor. It is evident, despite the optimistic reports from the district, that 1902's yield will be somewhat below that of 1901. Along to the end of August last year the yield of the camp was $15,798,500, as compared with $14,230,609 in the corresponding time this year. Of course, this does not mean that the Cripple Creek district is anywhere near the end of its productiveness. A field of that size which turns over $14,000,000 of gold in eight months, as Cripple Creek has done this year, is a very productive district. But the indications are that the big figures of two years ago will not be touched again. Necessarily the life of every gold field has its limits. Except South Africa's Rand mines, no richer piece of earth was ever found on the globe than Cripple Creek. Since its discovery in 1891 it has sent Colorado to the front as a gold producer, putting it a long way ahead of California. The yield of California in 1901 was $16,891,400, and that of Colorado was $27,883,600. Colorado is still likely to continue far ahead of every other locality in the United States for years to come as a gold-producing region, but the fame of Cripple Creek im waning.

THE IRON ORE DUTY.

One of the most remarkable features of the congressional campaign in this district is the attempt of the Republican organ in this city to arouse prejudice against one of the candidates for the Republican nomination by asserting that he is in favor of "free iron ore" and that such a policy would injure "Hibbing and all mining towns like it."

The Herald has not advocated, and does not propose to do so now, the claims of any of the three candidates for the Republican nomination. But it cannot allow the ridiculous statement about removing the tariff on iron ore to pass unnoticed. It is probably the most absurd "argument" presented during the primary campaign, and could only have been advanced for the purpose of creating a prejudice against one of the candidates on the part of people who are not acquainted with the situation. This is the conclusion that must inevitably be reached when the News Tribune prints in a prominent position in its columns the following assertion:

"Certainly when ore is free, manufactures of ore will be. Then we will import vast quantities of goods made of Belgian, British and German ores, not Minnesota ores. Our mines will then close, at least in part, and our people will be idle."

Surely the News Tribune knows very well that our iron and steel manufacturers have invaded the foreign markets and sold large quantities of their products in the European countries, and British and German manufacturers have despaired of meeting their competition. When they can undersell the European manufacturers in their own markets, how would it be possible for the latter to undersell the American manufacturers in the United States? The idea is absurd, and no one knows it better than the Republican organ and others who are talking such clap-trap for campaign purposes.

The tariff duty of 40 cents a ton on iron ore is not of the slightest benefit to the iron ore industry or the iron and steel industry of the United States. A duty of $10 a ton would not be any benefit. The iron men know this, and they laugh at the idea that the 40-cent duty affords any protection from foreign competition or that any protection whatever is needed. There is not a reputable iron man in the country who will claim that the placing of iron ore on the tariff free list would injure any person. And all this talk about "free iron ore" closing the mines in Minnesota is pure buncombe.

PREVENTING ACCIDENTS.

How to prevent accidents has been a question of vital importance not only to the employer who has many men at work in places where danger lurks, but to the workman who faces the danger that lies before him. It is estimated that there are 1,000,000 accidents yearly in the industrial world, and to prevent them or even a part of them has caused much thought and study among many interested men. Much has been accomplished it is true. Many dangers have been guarded against, so that accidents resulting now and then are reduced to a minimum, but more can be done. Dr. William H. Tolman contributes an article on "The Prevention of Accidents" to Cassier's Magazine in which he commends the service rendered by the Amsterdam Museum of Security. It was the intention of its founders, he says, that it should be an object lesson as much for the employer as for the workman; that there should be as large a number as possible of models of the size in actual use in factories and workshops, and that the machines and appliances provided with safety devices should be in daily operation in order that manufacturers and superintendents might see how they worked and understand their value. The museum was opened in 1893 under the care of a mechanical engineer, A. C. M. Van Etten, charged with the supervision of the machinery and also of giving explanations to inquirers.

The labor inspectors of Holland find that the museum is of great service to them because it meets every objection on the part of a superintendent that a proposed safety device will interfere with the proper operation of his machinery. If the manufacturer is not satisfied with the photograph of the appliance which the labor inspector may show him, he can send his superintendent or go himself to the museum, where he can study every detail of the operation.

One of the rooms contains a workshop of half the natural size, equipped with approved systems of ventilation for disposing of noxious vapors or gases liberated in different lines of manufacture, such as making white lead, and for removing dust, in the preparation of flax, rag picking, grinding operations of various kinds, brush manufacturing and others. There are, too, all sorts of appliances for rendering as harmless as possible the use of acids, the latest forms of lamps for use in mines, devices for protecting the faces and eyes, respirators, the most serviceable material for workingmen's clothes, cases for dressing and drugs for emergency use in accidents, fire extinguishers of all forms, and appliances for rescue in case of a conflagration.

As indicating how such a museum serves as an object lesson outside of Holland, when the city of Toronto, Canada, sent the chief of its department of factory inspection abroad to study the latest methods of accident prevention, he found the Amsterdam museum so practical that he succeeded in obtaining a fund of $1000 from the manufacturers of Toronto for the purchase of models to bring back to Canada.

There is no doubt but what a similar institution would prove of great advantage in one or more of our large cities and the matter should receive the attention of interested parties.

THE ANTHRACITE MYSTERY.

A Boston dispatch to The Herald a few days ago stated that the Post editorially charged that the anthracite coal strike was brought on by operators for the purpose of weeding out the agents and reducing them everywhere to mere representatives of the coal combinations. The one thing necessary, the Post stated, was to get absolute control of the retailers by using up their supplies. A Duluth coal manager is quoted as saying with reference to this assertion: "The article is based on misinformation, to begin with. There has been no surplus anthracite coal for two years, at least. The operators got out enough hard coal for the trade last year, but it kept them busy to do it."

But, despite this very positive contradiction, the Boston paper's assertion may be correct.

A report of the mineral products of the United States for the calendar years 1892 to 1901 was recently issued by the Geological Survey. It contains some suggestive figures:

During the years 1892 to '98 inclusive the annual output of Pennsylvania anthracite averaged about 47,000,000 long tons. In 1899 it rose to 53,944,647 tons and in 1900 was 51,221,353. In 1901 the yield was 60,242,530 long tons.

All this may be regular and legitimate, but a question arises.

What drew out the increase of 9,021,207 tons in 1901? The current demand?

That seems unlikely. The increase is more than 17 per cent.

Does this mean that in 1901, and perhaps in 1899 and 1900, the operators were accumulating a surplus stock to sell at high prices during a strike then miraculously foreseen?

A handsome profit might be realized on 9,000,000 tons of coal sold at an advance of nearly 100 per cent.

The report suggests an inquiry which ought to be undertaken by authority and pressed to an answer. A mystery has surrounded this anthracite strike which nobody seems able to penetrate. A little light thrown into the dark places might serve a very useful public purpose.

The charge made by the Boston paper may be untrue, but there are many people who think that it is the correct explanation of the strike, and there is certainly some basis for this belief.

Referring to the report that President Roosevelt has assured the anti-imperialists that as soon as the Filipinos demonstrate their ability to govern themselves, they will be granted their independence, Secretary Ordway of the New York Anti-Imperialist League has written to a Duluth friend: "The report is absolutely false. Please have it denied in the strongest possible manner. One thing is important—it shows the weak spot, and that they regard it as such; and we should follow it up and hit hard."

For army and navy purposes, pensions, and contracts calling for military appropriations, voted in the last session of congress, $366,624,538.96 will be required. When these enormous figures are reached in a single congressional session the American taxpayer may get some idea of what war costs him. And yet we talk of European countries burdened by heavy military expenses!

The New York Herald states a fact plainly thus: "The significance of President Roosevelt's views on trusts is his evident conviction that the subject presents a momentous problem to statesmanship for solution and a vital issue with which the Republican party must deal if it is to command the support of the people and continue in power."

"I do know," says Mr. Vickery, of New Zealand, "that our compulsory arbitration law, by which all labor troubles are taken up and settled by the government, has proven very effective." And why should not this excellent idea be given a trial at least in the United States?

The Minnesota congressmen who voted against Cuban reciprocity are said to have changed their attitude and will stand by the president's policy at the next session. They have learned something since they returned from Washington and talked with the people.

The result of the 75 per cent tariff between the United States and the Philippines is a total of receipts so small as to scarcely meet the cost of collection. Of what use are colonial possessions if we cannot have any trade relations with them?

The story is going the rounds that David B. Hill never kissed a woman. But there is no evidence that the story is correct. The Herald will refuse to believe it until David B. himself says it is true.

Arkansas is trying to shorten its legislative sessions by paying its legislators a salary intead of paying them my the day. If the plan proves efficacious, Minnesota might adopt it with profit.

Referring to the accident to President Roosevelt, the Chicago Tribune says: "It was also a narrow escape for Secretary of State John Hay." And for the whole country.

All the big wheat yields are not confined to the Northwest. A farmer near Chillicothe, Mo., has raised 57 9-14 bushels of wheat to the acre this year.

The Grand Duke Boris came from Russia to investigate American industries, and of course the American chorus girl received careful attention.

And now there is talk of a big circus combine. If it will have the effect of merging the three rings into one the public will not complain.

President Roosevelt says he does not wish to interfere with any corporation that is doing what is right. Neither does anyone else.

The whisky tablet is said to be the latest invention. This will give the W. C. T. U. another foe to contend with.

Many people who are now hot over the coal situation, may not feel so warm next winter.

AT THE HOTELS

The approach of cool weather with a hint of frost in the air, while it is fresh and bracing and wholesome on land, is having a chilling effect upon lake passenger traffic, and the tourist business at the hotels if sailing off rapidly. There are a few people from the boats at the hotels this morning, but they were mostly from the Lake Superior vessels. There will be little more lake tourist business from now on, as the heat is not intense enough anywhere to drive people to seek so cool an atmosphere as that of Lake Superior for relief from it.

Whatsoever mars your life,
Rise above it.
Whatsoever brings you strife,
Rise above it.
Whatsoever brings you fear,
Whatsoever makes you veer
From the path of duty clear,
Rise above it.

Whatsoever checks your growth,
Rise above it—
Be it selfishness or sloth,
Rise above it.
Whatsoever bars your soul
From the kingdom of control
Keeps you from the final goal,
Rise above it.

In your past has error been?
Rise above it.
Be not slave unto your sin,
Rise above it.
Set your face unto the dawn,
Cry your motto, "Onward, on!"
Never mind the thing that's gone,
Rise above it.

Do you meet the knocking crew?
Rise above it.
Prove it false by what you do.
Rise above it.
Give out love and strength and light
And the carper's petty spite,
All will vanish out of sight.
Rise above it.

Naught without can keep you back.
Rise above it.
In yourself is all the lack.
Rise above it.
There is nothing that can mar
Life for you but what you are.
If there's any inward bar,
Rise above it.

Be the master; quell the beast.
Rise above it.
Till the voice of Self has ceased,
Rise above it.
This is truth the sages taught,
From the soul of being caught;
Evil rests within your thought.
Rise above it.

Isabel Crathmore's Revenge

By Alta Maye.

(Copyright, 1902, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

Society was on the "qui vive." Tonight was Mrs. Larkin's "grand annual ball" at her beautiful home, 45 Grand boulevard, acknowledged by all to be the most "swagger" thing of the South Side set. She was unquestionably the leader—vivacious, brilliant and such a charming personality. Her face indicated high ideals and such a womanly purpose in life, beautiful in contour and dazzling in the freshness of its tints. Every one loved her. Whenever she gave anything it was a social topic, every one vied with each other in artistic robes.

Isabel Crathmore was surprised to find an extra slip in her invitation. She picked it up and scanning it, read:

"Dearest Isabel: Do look your very, very best tonight. Harold Vance, my husband's college chum, is to be here. Frank says he is the 'Lion of New York;' fancy he will fascinate Chicago. Want you to captivate him. Lovingly,

"JENNIE LARKIN."

Isabel thought and pondered. Harold Vance, where have I met him! His name sounds so familiar; I certainly have heard of him. Finally it all came to her. West Baden—he was one of her friend's party of twelve, three years ago. She now remembered it all perfectly. How madly in love her dearest friend, Katharyn Frisbie, had been with him, the long glowing letters day after day telling her of Harold Vance, of his great superiority over other men; that he was "the one and only." Finally they were engaged and how happy she was. They were to be married in the summer. Then came the last letter, and such a sad one telling how cruelly he had left her without one word of explanation. Poor Katharyn! She had never heard from her since. She was doubtless pining away in some nunnery. Isabel's heart ached for her. She thought, how can I meet this man, this monster, who treated Katharyn so shamefully. But I cannot give up the ball; it is the one thing of the year. What shall I do? What can I do? She covered her face with both hands for some moments, then suddenly arose exclaiming, "I will go! I will do it! That's excellent! I'll avenge her; I'll make him love me, and oh! I'll despise him so. Then he must ask dear Katharyn's forgiveness."

The night was beautiful. Isabel had taken great precaution in her toilet—her maid thought she never knew her so exacting. Gowned in her gorgeous robe of heavenly blue she looked dazzling. As she walked into the room she looked brilliantly radiant, every movement of her graceful figure gave an instant impression of perfection. She saw Mrs. Larkin advancing with Harold Vance. Isn't he handsome, thought Isabel. Poor Katharyn shall be avenged; how I do despise him.

Her reflections were terminated by the introduction and Harold Vance saying, "An additional pleasure, Miss Crathmore, I have heard Katharyn speak of you so often." Isabel was stunned to think he would have the audacity to speak to her of one he had treated so heartlessly. He had autographed her program, and when after several dances he came to claim her, the soft strains of the music, the exquisite floor, the beautiful crowns, and such witching, such gracefulness, all tended to change the tenor of her mind. She had never met any one who danced so divinely. It seemed almost like fairyland. She regretted it must end so soon. In their little "tete-a-tete" after, she was fascinated against her will by the dark eyes of the picturesque youth by her side.

There was a touch of embarrassment in his manner now and then that seemed to exact sympathy. On every side was gaiety. Men laughed and women chatted. He was telling her of his hopes, of his ambitions. All too soon, she was claimed for the next dance.

Receptions, balls, dinners, they met almost daily, and with the magic of a woman's art, she consoled him. He always had a loyal friend, always had one great comforter. Amid such fidelity such constancy, Isabel forgot aught else. She determined to make him love her at any cost; she must avenge Katharyn.

Finally, Mrs. Larkin's last reception of the year, society had been doting on it. The house was brilliant in a sort of luminous haze—beauty and wit mingled.

Isabel looked charming in a fairy creation of pure white. What a moving scene of enchantment, she thought. After a moment she began to pick her friends out from the maze, in which every one at first seemed confused in one magic sensation.

Harold Vance came immediately to her, and speaking low said: "Miss Crathmore, there is something I must tell you tonight." "He loves me, oh! he loves me; it must be that he loves me," thought Isabel.

The reflection restrained her for a moment, but she was mastered by a fear that was far more terrible. Should he know her love? No, a thousand times, no. She would not fail, she would avenge Katharyn, no matter what the cost. She could keep her secret—it was hidden in the dark recesses of her heart. Then she began to chide herself for being in grief when she should be happy. Every plan was nearing fulfillment.

'Miss Crathmore, there is something I must tell you to-night."

She went to the farther end of the conservatory. She wanted to be alone, to think, to cool her burning face against the cool pane. She looked out into the night and asked the weird, silent vale of darkness to tell her—tell her what to do. No sound seemed to be in the transparent air, no cloud in the unveiling sky, just the night creeping off as if in fear of awakening the sleeping morn. She gazed across the soulless immensity, heard nothing, saw nothing but the dark abyss of her own despair. She fell to thinking of her love for him; then she could see his face outlined against the night. A face of marvelous sweetness and great spirituality, she thought, a man of implacable temper and imperious soul. Her great love for him came before her with such awful vividness, that her self-righteousness was overthrown; her pride seemed tottering. "I cannot cover my life with blackness, and leave such a blasphemous lie on my soul to avenge Katharyn. He is my life, my all. It is wicked, wicked, the abominable impulse for revenge is gone and something so sweet and tender has taken its place—a something that seems to lift the promise of hope. To-morrow to him now would be cruel. It would wound his beautiful faith in me. She must, she would show her love for him, she could not carry out this plan of revenge."

"He loves me, he loves me; that is surely what he longs to tell me. How happy I shall be in his love. There was only that one shadow on my contentment and happiness, and I am sure he can explain that. It begins to appear to me now like a gleam of sunshine."

She was attracted from her reverie by a slight rustling of palms, and looking up saw Harold in search of her. She could scarcely still her heart's wild beating. Every pulsation seemed like music telling her how deeply, how passionately he loved her. "I have been looking all over for you," Harold said, as he came up and seated himself beside her, "and really Miss Crathmore, this is the happiest day of my life."

"Why the happiest?" queried Isabel with the joyousness of love in her tone. "I must tell you," continued Harold, "Katharyn Frisbie and I were married secretly a year ago. She is coming from New York tonight. She is my life, my all, and tomorrow we can announce our marriage to the whole world. Read her telegram."

But Isabel with a strange inarticulate "Oh!" had fallen prostrate among the palms. The great strain of the social world had proved too much for her, society said.

WANTED A DRESS.

Failed to Get It and Took Her Life.

Minneapolis, Sept. 9.—Because her husband failed to give her $25 he had promised here for a new dress, Mrs. Louis Dahlstrom, of 217 Twelfth avenue south, swallowed a quantity of carbolic acid late yesterday. Physicians were called, but their efforts were unavailing, and in three hours she was dead.

AMERICAN ENTERPRISE

Is Approved By the Czar of Russia.

New York, Sept. 9.—Murray A. Verner, of Pittsburg, who will build the new trolley systems of St. Petersburg and Moscow, has returned from Russia. He went to St. Petersburg a year ago, backed by his own ample means and the capital of some of the big men of Pennsylvania.

When Verner arrived in St. Petersburg he made the bold announcement that he was prepared to invest $50,000,000 in street railways. Later he was granted a concession for an electric railroad from St. Petersburg to a suburb. He formed a partnership with Engineer Malinsky, who had demanded a concession for an elevated railway fifty miles long, which was to cost $98,000,000.

Malinsky gained an audience with the czar, who asked for the documents of the local street railway commission. The czar finally indorsed the documents with a recommendation for a concession to the financiers of the project. This act was construed to mean that Mr. Verner would be the main figure in the construction of the new railway systems. The cars and motors for the lines will be constructed in Pittsburg.

SHATTERED BY A METEOR.

Buena Vista, Col., Sept. 9.—Beaver Park was torn asunder Sunday morning by a meteor that descended on the twin mountain with a roar that awoke everybody in this place and precipitated a shower of meteorites over the surrounding country.

The visitor crossed the sky at 2:30 o'clock, traveling in a southerly direction, and disappearing down the horizon with a shrill screeching resembling a steamboat whistle. Apparently the aerial missile was not over two feet in diameter, but reports from the peak say a new canyon has been opened up between the peaks, a phenomenon that can only be ascribed to the impact of the meteor.

Searching parties will go out, and important scientific developments are expected. At the time of the contact the city was subjected to a severe vibration, resembling a seismic shock.

FOREST FIRES IN OREGON.

Oregon City, Ore., Sept. 9.—Extensive forest fires are destroying a large amount of property ten miles from this city, between Shubel postoffice and Clarkes. The fire covers three miles of country. It has been a strong north wind that has spread rapidly in a southerly direction, sweeping everything before it.

WISCONSIN WON

In First Round of Artillery Contest.

Camp Douglas, Wis., Sept. 9.—The first round of the artillery contest between teams from Wisconsin and Minnesota was a magnificent exhibition of marksmanship.

Considering the very unfavorable weather conditions, the results were little short of marvelous. The team of the Milwaukee battery won by the narrow margin of one point, the final score standing: Wisconsin, 27; Minnesota, 26.

Minnesota secured nine hits to Wisconsin's eight, though the former were not so well placed. Throughout the contest the teams alternated in the lead. The Wisconsin battery was handicapped by the use of the old-style rear sight, the new telescopic sights not having been previously used, were not depended upon. The Minnesota team, though equipped with and accustomed to modern sights, were handicapped by unfamiliarity with the range.

Yesterday's shooting was at ten shots per man, and the score stood:

Wisconsin: Sergt. A. J. Comstock, 3 hits, with total 13 points; Corp. O. Oftenbacher, 5 hits, with a total of 14 points, making a grand total of 27 points for the 20 shots.

Minnesota: Capt. Carl C. Bennett, 4 hits, 16 points; Sergt. Wilson, 5 hits, 10 points; total, 26 points.

COMING INTO LINE.

Congressmen Who Opposed President Change Attitude.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—A Washington special to the Chronicle says: The congressional campaign will open in the East and Middle West next week. Both party committees have made elaborate arrangements for sending speakers of talent and reputation into districts which give promise of close contests. The Republican committee has enlisted practically the entire New England delegation for service in Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Colorado, Kansas, and, later, in New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia.

Mr. Babcock has discovered that Wisconsin Republicans will need aid in at least two districts, notwithstanding that for eight years the state has returned solid Republican delegations to the house. One Michigan district is reported to be in doubt. The fierce fight between Senator Teller and Former Senator Wolcott for control of the next Colorado legislature has awakened hope in the Republican congressional organization that the fusion domination of the centennial state may be brought to an end. It is also Babcock's plan to send a number of effective spellbinders from both the senate and house to aid the Republicans of Idaho who feel that they have better than a fighting chance.

Of all the states whose delegations united to defeat Cuban reciprocity during the last session of congress, California alone seems to be standing by the policy of opposition. The Minnesota delegation has performed an about-face evolution which is so complete that not a member will return to Washington unpledged to support the president's bill. The Michigan delegation has become seriously divided. Wisconsin members who joined the insurgents are nearly all for reciprocity. The Kansas and Nebraska members who thought that their constituents preferred Oxnard to a reciprocal agreement with Cuba, have discovered that they were mistaken and are now engaged in making daily apologies for their conduct. One of their number, Mr. Curtis, has lost his chance of being elected United States senator, or even of being returned to his old seat in the house, because he opposed the president.

LUMBER MARKET

Prices of Lumber Highest Ever Known at Duluth.

Manufacturers Who Have Lumber to Sell Are Happy.

Lumber Sold Now That Once Went to the Burner.

Few sales of lumber have been made in the local market during the past week, but the manufacturers have practically finished their contract cuts and are getting out lumber as fast as possible for the fall trade. Prices of lumber by wholesale are probably higher than ever before known here and there has been an appreciable stiffening of prices for building lumber in the local retail yards. There is a large amount of building going on this fall and the demand promises to be steady locally all winter.

A number of cargo mills at the head of the lakes contracted their season's cut early in the year at prices seemingly high at that time, but it is claimed that manufacturers who will have new stocks not tied up this winter, expect to get at least $2 per thousand feet more than the same grade of lumber would bring last spring. The buyers who were far-sighted enough last winter to contract for lumber so far ahead will have the advantage of larger profits this coming winter than those who must buy stocks this fall and coming winter. Two general reasons are being advanced by the manufacturers for advancing prices in white pine, the heavy demand due to a general prosperity which makes the consumers willing to pay better prices, and the declining output.

Early estimates place the cut of the Lake Superior mills less this year than last, with a few exceptions, and it has been claimed that by the end of the season the cut of the Duluth mills will [illegible] 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 feet below that of last year. Predictions are being made that the cut of 1903 at the head of the lakes will show a falling off in the output of from 60,000,000 to 80,000,000 feet from the cut this year.

Reports from Minneapolis are to the effect that the lumber output of that district will fall below expectations, while low water below that city promises to seriously interfere with the mill operations in Southern Minnesota.

The changes that have been marked in the Northern pine market during the past few years are said to be the growing scarcity of white pine and the extension of the numbered grades down into the mill ends and scoots until No. 5 boards are recognized as a quotable factor in the market, is given as one proof of the strength situation.

It is a pretty well established fact that some lumber goes on the market now that a few years ago would have gone into the slab burners. There are still, however, some large tracts of white pine to be logged and sawed in this district, but the tremendous pace set by the Lake Superior mills in the past cannot be kept up for many years longer unless timber districts farther inland are reached and made tributary by railroad extension to the mills at this point.

The local docks are pretty well stocked up at the present time and shipments are rather slow. The August shipments from the lakes fell below expectation, the total movement amounting to about 60,000,000 feet.

The Scott-Graff mill, which has been closed down for some weeks for repairs, is being put in condition for an all winter run, and will be started up in about three weeks.

The Lesure Lumber company has sold a small tract of standing pine on Vermilion lake, to the Spruce Mining company. Timber is situated conveniently for the mining company, but could not be logged and transported to the Lesure company's mill here very readily. The purchase price was $500.

William O'Brien has bought some standing pine in towns 60 and 61, ranges 17 and 18 west, from Henry Turrish and Daniel McLeod, for $120,000. The timber is said to be tributary to the Duluth, Virginia & Rainy River road.

Charles Tippy, of Newcastle, and T. C. Wright, of Tonstrike, Minn., on the Northern Pacific extension above Bemidji, are said to be figuring on putting in a mill at Bemidji.

A number of loggers are getting into the woods for the preliminary fall operations. Men for the woods are scarce and high wages are being offered with a view of getting and holding the men for operations this winter. The wages offered in some localities are higher than ever before paid in this section of the country.

D. Cowle has started in preliminary work on the season's logging operations near Grand Marais on the north shore, and will employ about eighty men. Mr. Cowle has a contract with the Red Cliff Lumber company.

It is reported that the Duluth Log Salvage association has recently discovered a smooth scheme that was being worked by one of the men employed by the association to pick up and boom stray logs in the bay, belonging to members of the salvage association, and that the man has been summarily dismissed. The scheme was nothing more than the cutting of the boom chains that held the logs of some of the local lumber companies and even as the logs scattered over the bay before a stiff wind they would be gathered up and put in one of the salvage booms. As the association paid 10 cents each for all the logs thus salved, the profits accruing to the industrial individual were big wages for a day's work and the man's greed is said to have led to the investigation which showed the condition of affairs.

IN MAINE.

Republicans Claim Big Off-Year Plurality In State.

Portland, Me., Sept. 9.—Maine rolled up a big off-year plurality for the Republicans in the election yesterday, it approximating 27,000 in comparison with 12,000 for the average of other years. Complete returns will be very late, owing to the remoteness of many towns. Figures from 240 cities and towns give Hill (Rep.), 40,962; Gould (Dem.), 24,387. The same towns two years ago gave Hill (Rep.), 47,431; Lord (Dem.), 27,745.

The legislature, while as usual strongly Republican, will have an uncommon number of Democratic members, some of the strongest Republican towns of the state electing representatives of that party. The senate will have one Democrat in thirty-one members, L. M. Staples, of Knox county. In the First congressional district, Congressman Amos L. Allen, Republican, was re-elected over Dr. Seth C. Gordon, of Portland, Democrat, and Fred E. Irish, Socialist, with a plurality of about 5500, as against a plurality of 7000 two years ago. Mr. Allen, who succeeded Hon. Thomas B. Reed, for whom he was secretary, ran behind his ticket in York and Cumberland counties. Dr. Gordon's personal popularity contributed to this result. An incident was the increase in the Socialist vote, increasing from 70 of years ago to 300 this year, in Portland alone.

In the Fourth district, owing to its great area, the returns will not be completed until late, but the estimate is that Congressman Llewellyn Powers, Republican, had been re-elected by a plurality of 7000 over Thomas White, Democrat. In the Third district, Congressman E. C. Burleigh got the Prohibitionist vote, and ran slightly ahead of his ticket in defeating E. H. Henson, Democrat. In the Second district, Congressman C. A. Littlefield had no difficulty in defeating his Democratic opponent, running well ahead of his ticket.

The city and county contests nearly all presented features, but the most interesting was that in Cumberland county of which the late Rev. Samuel Pearson was sheriff.

The shrievalty fight was won by Pennell, Democrat, by 1000 in Portland, and nearly 2000 in the county.

HUNDREDS OF MORGANS

To Be Turned Out By Northwestern University.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Rivals of J. P. Morgan by the score are expected to be the outcome of the new "College of Finance and Commerce," which President Edmund J. James of Northwestern university plans to establish. Instead of dry books and lectures, the tape of the stock ticker and actual observation of business methods will, in so far as possible, form the basis of the new learning.

Students will be expected to learn the difference between a "bull" and a "bear" and a "put" and a "call." Options and margins must become simple to them.

LEARNED HER NAME

At Last and Has Been Restored to Her Father.

He Read Her Strange Story In the Toledo Papers.

Was Adopted From Asylum By Relatives of McKinleys.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 9.—Motherless and a wanderer over Ohio for many years, without the care and protection of home ties, beautiful little Pearl Evans, aged 15, has been restored to her father, John Evans, a hotel proprietor of Alligan, Mich., who had long since mourned his child as dead and had given up the search for the little one.

An interesting story is related of the girl's experience in roaming over the country, which included the names of prominent people, among them being relatives of Mrs. McKinley, wife of the late president, and with whom the child lived some time.

Eleven years ago Pearl Evans, who was then 4 years old, and who knew her right name, was placed in an orphan asylum by her father, her mother having died. Having no fixed home he made arrangements for her accommodation there, and promised to look after her wants. The father appeared much attached to the little girl and his visits were frequent, but, in the course of a year, he was taken down with a fever. It was reported to the asylum authorities that he had died.

About that time a family of the name of Bradshaw, of Cleveland, advertised in the papers for a child of her age, and the matron of the Children's Home answered it. The result was that Pearl was adopted in the family. Mrs. Bradshaw was a foster sister of Rev. James Bradshaw, a professor in Oberlin college, and one of the noted educators of the Western Reserve. The Bradshaws were closely related to the Saxtons, of Canton, who took an interest in the infant charge and gave her much attention. She had been in the Bradshaw family but a few months, however, when the mother died. The girl was then taken by another family of the name of Neuson, in the same city, but all was not well there, according to the girl's story. After living with the Neusons until recently she fled from their home and took passage to Toledo, where she told her story and it appeared in the public prints with all its pathetic features. She was taken care of by kindly disposed people there, but longed to return to some relative of the Bradshaw family. The only ones she knew was the Shreves family in Martin's Ferry, across the river from here. She was provided with funds and came from Toledo to Wheeling, but her arrival was kept secret.

She enlisted the efforts of the police force here, who found her relatives by adoption, and she was warmly welcomed into their family circle, for they had not forgotten the beautiful child of other days in Cleveland. In the meantime, however, the father had learned of the daughter through the story in the Toledo papers, and being forced to the conclusion that it was his child whom he had not seen for eleven years, he started an investigation. Being informed by the Toledo police that the girl had started to this city he wired the local police. A correspondence ensued, which resulted in his establishing proof that he was really Miss Pearl's father, and for the first time in her life the young woman knew who she was in fact. Evans sent transportation for her return home, and she joyfully left over the Wheeling and Lake Erie for her new abiding place.

IN THE STARS

Students of Occult Say They Saw Accident to Roosevelt.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Persons here interested in astrology and the study of things occult say that the accident to President Roosevelt was practically predicted in an article written last March and published in a psychological review here in May last. It was then predicted that President Roosevelt would meet with an accident about June 13 to 23 and again about Sept. 4 and 25.

It is also predicted that Oct. 20 or 21 and Dec. 20 are days on which accidents may happen to the president.

It was predicted that while the accident pending for early September would be a serious one the president would come through it without sustaining serious bodily injury. It was also predicted that President Roosevelt need not fear any attempt at personal violence.

The local patrons of astrology point to the fulfillment of scores of other predictions made in the same article, such as earthquakes, great strike, great upheaval in laws and constitutions and trouble over the Cuban and Philippine affairs. They say the big coal strike and the unheaval of the Ohio laws were fully foretold last March.

THE WISCONSIN FIGHT.

Why Rose May Draw Heavier Vote.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Wisconsin Republicans in Washington take no stock in a report that the stalwart faction at home is thinking of placing an independent state ticket in the field against Governor La Follette. It is denied by friends of Postmaster General Payne and Senator Spooner here that the stalwarts can possibly be drawn into a general movement to vote for Mr. Rose. They insist that they will see to it that the strongest fight that can be made is carried on in every senatorial and assembly district, and when they have secured a legislature favorable to the re-election of Spooner, they will make the struggle of their lives at the next opportunity to recover control of the party organization.

It is the expectation of Senator Spooner's Eastern friends that when he is once assured that a legislature is chosen pledged to elect him, he will come out in a declaration showing where he stands on the issues that the La Follette men put in the state platform and allowing his name to be placed before the legislative caucus. There will be no other name before the caucus, it is said, if a majority of Spooner men are re-elected to the legislature.

If the ultra-Spooner men in Wisconsin do anything directly to defeat Governor La Follette, which is unlikely, it is thought it will be either to refrain from voting or to vote for Rose, the Democratic nominee. It is said that Postmaster General Payne regards Rose as having made an excellent mayor of Milwaukee, and believes he would be a safe and judicious administrative officer anywhere he might be placed. It is also declared that leading officials of the two great railways of the state, the North-Western and the Milwaukee, both of which have big interests at stake in taxation, would prefer Mr. Rose to Governor La Follette. It is said as mayor of Milwaukee Mr. Rose has pursued such a firm and fair course toward the street railways of that city that he has made them his most steadfast friends.

HARVEST ENDED.

Manitoba's Wheat Is Now Practically Cut.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 9.—Wheat cutting in Manitoba is practically over, and in the territories the most of the grain will be cut by the end of the week. The work in the harvest fields has been somewhat delayed by the scarcity of labor. There was work for 25,000 men in Manitoba and the Northwest, but the Canadian Pacific railway returns show that the total number of Eastern harvesters booked out from Winnipeg to all points was scarcely 12,800. The Canadian Pacific railway is endeavoring to bring more men to assist with the threshing. Two thousand of the harvesters on their arrival notified the immigration department of their intention of remaining in the country, and many of them have since entered for homesteads.

Immigrants to the number of 10,787 arrived during August. Of these about 3000 were from the United States and about 1200 from the British isles.

The total number of immigrants to arrive since January last was 66,625, or 85 per cent more than came to the country during the corresponding period of 1901.

Advices from England indicate that the immigration from the British isles will be exceptionally heavy next year.

TO LAND ON IRELAND.

Port of Canadian Pacific Fast Steamship Line.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—It is planned by the Canadian Pacific railroad to make a landing on the west shore of Ireland for its proposed line of fast steamers from the eastern terminus of its line to the British islands. The English government is said to have approved the plan, after it was demonstrated by the railroad people that this scheme would give the best connections and the speediest route over which to reach the West India possessions and the colonies of the south sea. As an evidence of the ability of the road to make fast time across the continent from Montreal to Vancouver, a ninety-six-hour train was put on a few weeks ago. The fact that the line will, in connection with the Pacific steamers, fly the British colors, be under the flag of England from the coast of England, or Ireland to the termination of the journey in the South Pacific, is mentioned for its sentimental effect. Above all, however, is the capacity to make reported time for the transmission of mails, troops, munitions of war, or the ordinary freight of commerce, as well as passengers, who may have to pass between the home country and the colonies on private or public business.

MARCUS L. FAY,

Candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Congress.

Vote For Him on September 16.

Marcus L. Fay is vice president of the Pearce Mining company, and president of the Fay Exploration company, and is managing and operating the Laura and Winford mines at Hibbing. He supplies the West Duluth blast furnace with ore. Capt. Fay stands high with the laboring men for the reason that all of the several hundred men employed by him pronounce him fair and liberal.

His success in life has been marked and his hustling ability, affability and liberality are the causes of this success. He is widely liked and universally believed in as a sincere, upright man, and has as much influence as any single person in this county. He has always been a Democrat and has worked hard for his party in each succeeding campaign. Mr. Fay was a staunch supporter and valued counsellor of Former Senator Charles A. Towne, and during the memorable Towne campaigns championed his cause with fervor and unfailing zeal. Mr. Fay has always been of a studious turn of mind as his lofty forehead would indicate, he is well read and well versed in political economy and is a fluent and forceful speaker.

SLIGHTLY STRONGER

Wheat Started Slightly Higher and Ruled Quite Steady.

Frosts In Iowa and Nebraska the Chief Bullish Factor.

Flax Trading Was Active and the Market Weaker.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 9.—The report of light frosts in Iowa and Nebraska and general rains in the Mississippi valley were the chief bullish factor in the wheat market this morning, and served to keep prices firm. Southwestern receipts were liberal, but in the spring wheat country they are lighter, considerably than last year. In the Duluth market shippers were scrambling for wheat to make up cargoes. No export business was done here, but Chicago reported 60 loads taken and New York 25. The Liverpool market closed ¼@½d higher, Paris ½@¾c higher, and Berlin ¼c higher.

Primary receipts of wheat were 1,325,000 bus, last year, 1,683,000 bus. Shipments, 656,000 bus, last year, 778,000 bus. Clearances of wheat and flour aggregated 121,000 bus. Bradstreet reported an increase of 3,813,000 bus in the world's visible supply of wheat.

December corn in the Chicago market advanced ¾@¾c, and December oats, ¾c. Primary receipts of corn were 269,000 bus, last year, 566,000 bus. Shipments, 199,000 bus, last year, 349,000 bus. Clearances were 200 bus. Bradstreet reported a decrease of 647,000 bus in the world's visible.

Receipts of wheat at Duluth and Minneapolis, 72 cars, and at Chicago, 503, a total of 1215 cars, against 1355 last week and 1507 last year.

Trading in the Duluth market was active and prices stronger. December wheat opened 1c up at 65¼c, sold down to 65c at 9:25, advanced to 65½c at 10:30, fell off again to 65¼c at 10:38, and continued to the close at that price, which was also the high. This was an advance of ¼c. September advanced the same amount. December wheat in Chicago advanced ¼@¾c, and in Minneapolis was a shade higher.

Cash prices were unchanged at 1c over September price for No. 1 northern in store or to arrive by September 15 and September price for to arrive in fourteen days. No. 2 sold at 2c under No. 1 and No. 3 4c under. Sales were not heavy, aggregating only about 75,000 bus.

The flax market was active and lower. September was weakest, closing ¼c lower. October and November declined ½c. Cash seed fell off 3c. September and December oats and oats to arrive advanced ¾c, and oats on track advanced ½c 1½c advanced ¼c.

Following are the closing prices:

Wheat—Cash No. 1 hard, 69¾c; No. 1 northern, 68¾c; No. 2 northern, 66¾c; No. 3 spring, 64¾c; to arrive, No. 1 hard, 68¾c; No. 1 northern, 67¾c; September, 67¾c; December, 65¼c; macaroni No. 1, 68¾c; No. 2, 66¾c. Oats, September, 30¾c; December, 29¾c; to arrive 30¾c; on track, 31c. Rye, September, 48½c; to arrive, 49c; on track, 49c. Barley, 42@46c. Flax, cash, $1.40; to arrive, $1.35; on track, $1.40; No. 1 Northwestern, $1.40; September, $1.34½; October, $1.30½; November, $1.29.

Cars inspected—Wheat, 499; last year, 1066; oats, 32; rye, 13; barley, 51; flax, 70.

Receipts—Wheat, 189,672; oats, 11,903; rye, 10,848; barley, 9463; flax, 29,783.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Grain Trade Of a Somewhat Waiting Character.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Grain trade opened today with something of the waiting character that it assumed yesterday. Light frosts were reported from Iowa and Nebraska and rains fell generally in the Mississippi valley. These conditions together with slightly improved cables offset the bearish influences of more liberal receipts and kept prices slightly firmer. September wheat opened ¼c to ¼c lower at 71@70¾c on a little selling, induced mainly by the increase in receipts, but poverty of grading took the price to 71⅛c December opened ¼c higher to unchanged at 68@67¾c, dipped to 67¾c and steadied at 68c. Local receipts were 503 cars, 7 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 712 cars making a total for the three points of 1215 cars, against 1355 last week and 1507 cars a year ago. Local traders are somewhat skeptical over the reported expected increase in the spring movement.

Lighter primary receipts, fair strength in corn and a good export wheat business—79 loads taken at the seaboard—strengthened wheat prices. September sold to 71⅞c and closed ¾c up, firm, at 71¾c. December closed firm, ¼@¾c up at 68¼@⅜c.

Receipts of corn were increased to 279 cars today and 48 cars were of contract grade. This started a little selling early, but the weather and cables caused everything offered to be absorbed and prices firmed up. September started ½c lower at 56¾c, but reacted to 57¼c. December started unchanged to ¼@⅜c down at 42⅞ to 42¾@⅝c sold at 42¾c and steadied at 42⅝c.

December corn rallied well on poor stocks, selling at 43¼c and closing firm ¾@⅞c up at 43@43¼c. September sold to 57⅞c and closed firm, ⅝c up at 57¾c.

Heavy receipts of oats at 476 cars started some selling early but, as in other pits, offerings dried up and prices held steady. There were only six cars of contract grade in arrivals and reports from Iowa predicted damage to crops from the rains. Trade was dull. September opened ¼c down at 33⅜c and rallied ¼c. December started a shade up to ⅜@½c lower at 30⅝@30⅝c and reacted to 30⅞@31c.

Provisions were dull and steady with but few fluctuations. The hog situation was firm. January pork started 2½c up at $14.92½, but held steady and the January lard 2½c up at $8.35@8.37½ and sold at $8.35, and January ribs unchanged at $7.37½ and sold between $7.90 and 7.85.

Close, wheat, September, 71¾c; December, 68¼@⅜c; May, 69⅝@½c. Corn, September, 57⅝c; October, 52¼c; December, 43@43½c; May, 39½c. Oats, September, 29c; new, 34⅝@34½c; December, 29¼@29⅜c; new, 31⅝@31¾c; May, 31⅝@32c. Pork, September, $16.85; October, $16.87½; January, $14.95; May, $14.07½. Lard, September, $10.70; October, $9.67½; December, $8.45; January, $8.40; May, $8.02½. Ribs, September, $10.47½; October, $9.97½; January, $7.85. Flax, cash, Northwestern, $1.35; September, $1.33½; October, $1.30½. Rye, September, 49c. Barley, cash, 38@43c. Timothy, September, $4.45. Clover, October, $8.75. Cash wheat: No. 2 red, 71@72c; No. 3 red, 66@68c; No. 2 hard winter, 70c; No. 3 hard winter, 66@67½c; No. 1 northern spring, 74c; No. 2 northern spring, 70c. Corn, No. 2, 39½c; No. 3, 38½@39c. Oats, No. 2, 28@29c; No. 3, 27@27½c.

GRAIN GOSSIP.

Logan & Bryan, Chicago: Wheat—The tone of the market here was firm. The pit sentiment was bullish on the small Northwest movement. General speculative opinions are, however, is bearish, and the market is rather slow. The cash cash demand seems to be in no instance very light. The government report is not expected to be a factor to any extent in wheat. Conditions in this country might be construed as fairly favorable to a better market, but European markets seem to rest content with free offerings of wheat from Russian ports and within parts and with the favorable outlook for the crop in Argentine. It still looks to us like a scalping market only. Corn—The market is very dull and firm. No more frost was reported anywhere, but temperatures are low and traders were disposed to regard that fact as unfavorable and there was much buying for both short and long accounts. The weather predictions are, however, for generally fine and warmer weather. The Southwest markets advise the expectation of a liberal movement of new corn in the near future. Country offerings are not more or less than yesterday, but our judgment is that with good weather there will be an early free movement of old corn during the balance of this month. The cash demand was slow and limited to actual need.

Oats—The tone of the market is firm, partly on sympathy with strength in corn. The receipts are large. There was more or less covering of shorts put out yesterday. Cash demand is fairly good as accumulation of stock is likely. We are inclined to think we would sell oats on sharp rallies for moderate profits.

MARKET REPORT.

Received over private wire of B. E. Baker, grain and stock broker, 507 Board of Trade, Duluth, Minn.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—The wheat market ruled very firm all day, principally on covering by shorts, because receipts at the Northwestern were not as large as expected, also on the firmness in foreign markets. There was a better cash demand, and the seaboard reported a large business done there for export. Liverpool reported their market ¼d to ½d higher for the day. Continental markets were also higher. Contract stocks here are only 799,000 bus and stocks in private elevators show a moderate decrease from a week ago. As long as cash wheat continues to rule at such big premiums over the deferred futures, and stocks are so low in accumulating, it does not look reasonable to epect much if any lower prices. In spite of the large receipts in this market during the past week, the stocks together in public and private warehouses showed a decrease. Of course, if the weather keeps favorable in the Northwest, receipts up there should increase materially, but any pressure in that quarter will naturally fall on the current futures. We are inclined to think it is better to leave the short side alone for the time being and take the long side on weak spots, securing moderate profits on a fair advance. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 185 cars.

There was very good and influential buying of corn today, especially the December option and the market ruled strong. Country acceptances on bids sent out last night were very small and this had a stimulating effect on the market. Cash demand was good and No. 3 corn is still bringing a fair premium over the September. We believe the Decemeer should be bought on all weak spots. Estimatd receipts for tomorrow, 80 cars.

There was a large and active trade in oats today and the market ruled strong owing to prospects of falling off in receipts in the near future, also good cash demand. There was influential buying of both the December and May futures. We think well of buying December and May on all weak spots. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 160 cars.

Provisions opened rather firm and quiet.

Hogs were quoted higher but receipts exceeded estimates. Later there was an effort mad to advance near-by futures but they came from unexpected sources in large volumes and discouraged the buyers. The report was out to buy January pork but it was so easy to buy that outsiders retired. January pork at $15 is high, but it is too enrly yet to form any idea whether it is cheap or not. Everything depends upon feed and the number of hogs to come early or late. We may see $10 January or $17. We believe the May product a sale on all bulges for the immediate future. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 25,000 hogs.

CROP CONDITIONS

Shown By Agricultural Department's Weekly Report.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Following is the agricultural department's weekly summary of crop conditions:

Although the week was cool in the Central valleys and lake region with more than the average rainfall in portions of the Upper Mississippi valley, maturing crops have made generally favorable, though not rapid advancement. The greater part of Texas, in which state severe drought prevailed at the close of the previous week, has received abundant rainfall, and drought conditions in the Middle Atlantic coast districts have also been largely relieved but the interior of the Middle Atlantic states, Ohio valley and portions of the Gulf coast region and South Atlantic states continue to need rain. Light to heavy frosts were very general in the northern districts from Montana to New England and the Middle Atlantic states from third to the sixth, with but slight injury. Rain is much needed in Washington and Oregon, but otherwise the general conditions on the Pacific coast were favorable. Notwithstanding the prevalence of low temperatures throghout the corn belt and copious rain falls in portions of the Mississippi valley, the corn crop has made very satisfactory advancement toward maturity and wholly escaped injury in the states eastward of the Mississippi valley from frosts occurring on the fourth and fifth with but slight injury in the states to the westward.

The bulk of the corn crop in Missouri and Kansas and much of the early planted in Nebraska and the states of the Ohio valley, is now safe. In Iowa, where corn has ripened very slowly, two-thirds of the crop will probably be safe by Sept. 20 and the balance will require ten days longer.

The threshing of spring wheat, although further retarded, has made more favorable progress than in the previous week.

In the states of the upper lake region the reports respecting apples are favorable, while those from New York and New England are variable, indicating a very light crop in some sections, with plentiful yields in others. In the Ohio valley and most of the Middle Atlantic states, the outlook continues very poor.

Plowing for fall seeding has made more favorable advancement in the Southern states and Missouri valley, but in the Ohio valley and portions of the Middle Atlantic states and lake region the soil is too dry for this work.

LARGEST

In History Is Enrollment at the State University.

Minneapolis, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state university opened today with the largest attendance in its history, over 2000 students having already enrolled, insuring a total attendance of over 4000 for the year.

Professor McClumpha assumes charge of the department of English in the absence of Dr. Burton.

Professor Wilde becomes the head of the department of philosophy and pschycology, succeeding Professor Woodbridge, who has gone to Columbia.

ROBBED POSTOFFICE.

Two Garrison Citizens Must Answer to Charge.

St. Paul, Sept. 9.—A Brainerd, Minn., special to the Dispatch, says: Jesse Dalefield, and H. G. Hill, two citizens of Garrison, Crow Wing county, are in jail in this city and will have to answer to the charge of robbing the postoffice and store of Elos Ellason at Garrison Sunday night. The amount stolen is said to be $70. They forced an entrance by breaking a window.

ADVANCE IN STOCKS

Most of Leading Stocks Show Gains For the Day.

St. Paul and Southwesterns Bulged Under Good Buying.

Missouri Pacific Rose Rapidly and Atchison Heavily Bought.

New York, Sept. 9.—Substantial gains were made in the Southwestern group, led by Missouri Pacific, which advanced 1⅛ to 123¾. Kansas & Texas made a similar gain and there were sharp improvements in Southern Pacific, St. Paul and Amalgamated Copper. Business was in large volume and the general tone was strong.

Speculative interest centered in St. Paul and the Southwestern stocks which made further advances. St. Paul reached 192½, and there were some important gains in other leading railroads and specialties including Amalgamated, Anaconda, Canadian Pacific and Great Northern pfd., in which the advances run from 1 to over 3 points. There was very little interest displayed in the coal stocks and the Fuel issue were also very quiet. A sharp setback in St. Paul and Missouri Pacific caused some yielding at other points, but toward 11 o'clock heavy buying of the Southern stocks began, Louisville jumping 2½ and Southern Railroad crossing 40. The general list showed some inclination to better new.

Louisville rose 3⅜ and Southern Railway touched 40⅜ before the buying petered out. There was no definite news to account for the bulge in these stocks aside from vague intimation of impending favorable developments. The general market did not sympathize much with the movement and was spotty. Some of the low-priced shares, particularly Wheeling & Lake Erie common and the second preferred, Colorado & Southern, Chicago Great Western common preferred B and Hocking Coal rose a point or more. The Western and Southwestern stocks were quieter and somewhat below the best. The bond market at noon generally was firm. Wabash debenture B's continued buoyantly strong, rising 2⅜ to 86 on heavy.

Traders sold stocks all around the room causing the cancelling of early morning rise of St. Paul, Baltimore & Ohio, Missouri Pacific, Illinois Central, Amalgamated and Brooklyn Transit. Louisville yielded a point from the top and Reading sold as much below yesterday's close. A rise of 3⅛ in Rock Island to 200 was without effect elsewhere.

Stocks continued to give way until large supporting orders were placed in Missouri Pacific, which caused another outbreak of the bull movement in that stock. Buying was in enormous blocks and the price advanced rapidly to 125, a gaint over night of 2⅜. St. Paul and Brooklyn Rapid Transit rallied to the highest and there were heavy transactions in Atchison, which lifted it over a point. There was very little trading in the Pacifics, coalers or industrials.

Stocks which have been neglected in the earlier dull movements were taken up in the final hour, and especially Southern Pacific and Sugar, all of which made gains of over a point, in addition there was much buying of low-priced Southwestern stocks particularly the Wabash issues. New debenture bonds moved up nearly 6 points. Toward the close heavy profit-taking sales in St. Paul, Missouri Pacific and a few specialties unsettled the market. The closing was irregular.

STOCK GOSSIP.

Waldorf to Edwards, Wood & Co.: The way the market acts in the face of tight money has increased favorable sentiment and it is no exaggeration to say that it completely demoralized speculators for the fall. The latter came down town today more confident of a break following the bank statement than at any time in months and were fairly astounded to see all stocks that were offered readily absorbed at advanced prices. The inference is that the largest financial interests is, more important operators are united on the long side. Certainly monetary conditions appear on the face to be unfavorable as to putting up the stock market out of the question. But the fact that Morgan and the Standard contingent have facilities for raising money of which the public knows nothing is gradually preparing the street for the announcement of either a heavy deposit of bonds with the government or an import movement of gold. In the former case the bank circulation will increase quickly and materially. One report is that should the situation demand it the government will accept high class bonds other than governments from banks which may desire to take out circulation. But despite the low bank reserve it is known that the banking interests do not regard present conditions of the money market with uneasiness. The buying of stocks like Union Pacific, Atchison common and preferred, Southern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, St. Paul and Wabash is believed to be for the pull and the best bases in the street are friendly to these stocks on all reactions. It is stated on the street that the Wormsers have been absorbing Copper quietly, but steadily for over a month, and the buying is attributed to insiders and their allies.

Ridgley to W. H. Laidley & Co.: Dhen the gold imports are formally announced the market will probably boil for a day or two. Then is the time to take your profits on long stocks. I don't see much use, however, in selling your Southern Pacific as it will certainly sell near par before Christmas. I am a bull on the market for the present. I hear that Secretary Shaw is to advance money to banks on gilt edged railroad securities. If this is correct you know what it means, Coppers are going higher. Southern Pacific will advance sharply just as soon as money conditions change.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, Sept. 9.—The cotton market opened steady with prices 10 to 15 points higher on moderate buying to cover room shorts, but soon lost part of the gain on some investment support, promoted by a better class of Liverpool cables than looked for in view of the great weakness in the last hour. Following the call conservative operators eagerly bought the winter options. Again with a weekly crop and bureau report due at midday concerning which opinions were at sixes and sevens buyers were reluctant to follow former aggressive measures, but rallies turned on profit-taking. Receipts were tremendous, but the large estimates of yesterday had foreshadowed this feature and little comment was therefore aroused by the figures. Liverpool improved further after the opening here and sent a moderate number of buying orders. New Orleans and the West, as well as the commission houses contingent bought on the advance which carried January 7 to 8.25. Spot cotton in interests in the South put out hedges in fall and winter months here. Taken altogether speculation in the forenoon was fairly active and general.

Cotton spot closed fluiet; middling uplands, 8⅞; middling gulf, 9¼; sales, 250 bales. Futures closed steady: September, 8.33; November, 8.28; December, 8.29; January, 8.30; February, 8.21; March, 8.20; April, 8.21; May, 8.29.

TREASURY BALANCES.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund exclusive of $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption shows: Available cash balance, $213,247,567; gold, $122,915,757; silver, $30,260,732; U. S. notes, $5,189,711; treasury notes of 1890, $60,798; national bank notes, $15,348,446; total receipts this day, $1,533,651; total receipts this month, $14,444,121; total receipts this year, $112,355,625; total expenditures this day, $985,000; total expenditures this month, $13,206,300; total expenditures this year, $113,152,179; deposits in national banks, $126,722,213.

NEW YORK MONEY.

New York, Sept. 9.—Money on call firm, 5@8 per cent, closing bid and asked 5½ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 6@6½ per cent; sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers' bills at 486.25 for demand and at 483.50 for sixty days; posted bills 484.50@485 and 487@487½; commercial bills, 482.75@483.25. Bar silver, 51¾c; Mexican dollars, 40¾c. Government bonds stron, state bonds inactive, railroad bonds strong.

A NAVAL UPHEAVAL.

Letter Which May Stir Up Lively Breeze.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 9.—Ensign Morgan, U. S. N., discredited for promotion from gunner to ensign by Rear Admiral Sampson because he had not entered the navy over the quarter deck, bids fair to stir up trouble again in the navy department. If attention is given the 4000-word letter which he has prepared for submission to the department, there will be several court-martials and another investigation involving naval officers.

During the last week Morgan has made three trips to this city to dictate the letter to a stenographer. The letter was finished yesterday, and Morgan said it would be mailed to the secretary of the navy at once. The exact contents of the letter he would not give out, nor would he mention the names of naval officers who, he says, are circulating stories to injure his reputation. He did say, however, that a superior officer had charged him with having been drunk recently.

Ensign Morgan declares he is in a position to prove that the accusation is entirely false. Vindication is his sole object, but he says several court-martials will occur before he can gain his point.

WAS KILLED BY JOY.

Excitement Proved Fatal to an Ohio Woman.

Springfield, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Nannie Porterfield, an attendant in the I. O. O. F. home at this place, died Sunday from the effects of excessive joy over the expected visit of her uncle and aunt. She received word a few days ago that her relatives would arrive from Cincinnati on an excursion.

She kept talking about this almost every hour of the day, and Sunday morning reached such a height of excitement that she became almost beside herself. Another attendant saw her sit down on a couch in the hallway and take her head in her hands, and a moment later she cried out: "Help." Doctors were immediately called, but she died within an hour.

Scarcely had she breathed her last when her aunt and uncle came walking into the room to see her. The doctors say that the cause of her death was overjoyfulness, which brought on an attack of apoplexy.

ARKANSAS WOMAN KILLED.

Stamps, Ark., Sept. 9.—The wife of John Harper, a resident of this place, has been murdered, her slayer using an ax with which he dealt the woman two heavy blows when she was asleep. Her head was almost severed from the body. The woman's husband has disappeared.

KIDNAPED HER OWN CHILD.

Memphis, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Pearl Loos, of Chicago, wife of George Loos., a man prominent in theatrical circles in that city, was arrested here on a warrant, charging her with kidnaping her own child, a girl who is now 8 or 9 years old. The warrant was issued at the instance of her former husband, Charles Castagnino. Mrs. Loos was released on bond.

NEWS OF THE LAKES

Steamer Stevens Burning Near Long Point, Lake Erie.

No Signs of Crew When Relief Steamer Reached Her.

Steam Barge Houghton Sunk and Two Men Drowned.

Port Colborne, Ont., Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. Craigie of the steamer Ionia, which arrived here this morning reports passing the Union line steamer Stevens afire, about 30 miles off Long Point last night. The Ionia went around the burning boat and stood by her for a considerable time, but could find nothing of her crew. Capt. Craigie believed they must have left the burning ship before he sighted her. The Stevens was still afloat and burning when the Ionia left the scene.

Detroit, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. McCallum of the steamer Western States reports passing a burning ship at 10:15 last night, 38 miles west of Long Point, Lake Erie. The ship was nine miles from his course on the Canadian side, and as two or three vessels were nearer than he was, he did not go to the assistance of the burning boat. The fire finally disappeared amid a shower of sparks.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Stevens belongs to the Union Transit company, and trades between Buffalo and Duluth. She was a wooden boat, worth about $75,000. She was built in 1886, and measured 1015 tons.

BARGE SINKS.

Detroit, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steam barge H. Houghton, owned in this city, sank at her dock at the foot of Dubois street early today. Two of the crew were drowned in their berths. The names:

WILLIAM DANIEL, aged 16, no home.
EDWARD CLOSE, aged 18, Harbor Beach, Mich.

The Houghton arrived last night from Kelly Island in Lake Erie with a load of crushed stone. It is thought that the cargo of stone absorbed so much water during the heavy rain last night that the weight caused her to sink. The Houghton is owned by Capt. Degg and Henry Houghton of this city. Capt. Degg was aboard the barge last night, but managed to scramble ashore before she sank.

PASSED DETROIT.

Detroit, Sept. 9.—Special to The Herald.)

CALLER—Dear old Jack, I just read in the paper about your being sunstruck, and rushed right over. I'm awfully glad you're as well as you are. You're lucky. Now, old man, I don't want to work the old "I told you so" gag on you, but the way to prevent sunstroke is to keep the bowels clean and cool, and the blood from being over-heated, by taking a CASCARET Candy Cathartic at bed-time. They work while you sleep, and keep you safe and comfortable all day. 550

THE HEARING.

Inspectors Investigating Sinking of the Tug Carrington.

The investigation of the sinking of the tug Carrington in Duluth harbor, by the steam barge James Watt, was started yesterday afternoon before Local Steamboat Inspectors Monaghan and Chalk.

The members of the crew of the Carrington were examined and when the Watt comes up the lakes from the lower ports, which will probably be some time this week, the testimony of her crew will be taken.

Those examined yesterday were E. C. Gray, master of the Carrington, Magnus Johnson and George Eberly, firemen, and Lewis Leslie, cook.

Capt. Gray said that the Carrington picked up the tow line of the Watt about opposite the tug office and proceeded to tow her up the channel. The night was clear so that all the harbor lights could be seen and the wind was not blowing very hard. Capt. Gray claims that, in his judgment, the boats were moving too fast up the channel, probably at a speed of about eight miles an hour, and that he signalled the Watt to check, but the barge did not respond. He said that when nearly abreast of the Ohio coal dock he had not made the turn in the channel toward Superior and was not intending to do so then, there being plenty of time to make it later. The first he noticed of a change in the course of the Watt was that the barge had sheered to the port, the tug then being headed for the south end of the dock of Elevator H. He put the tug's wheel to starboard and the tow line started. He had shouted orders to let go the tow line and supposed it had been cut, so gave the signal to stop the engine. He accounts for the accident by a sheering of the barge, which tripped the rail of the Carrington. He claims that after the tug's engines had been stopped he could not get ahead of the steamer.

The tow-line, Capt. Gray said, was about 25 fathoms long, and the tug was running about 50 feet ahead of the barge. He testified that he knew of no reason why one of the firemen standing at the tow line did not cut it, instructions having been given to let go the line in time of danger.

Fireman Magnus Johnson testified that he got out of the firehole just as the tug was going over and that he did not have time to tend to the tow-line.

George Eberly, the fireman back of the tow-post, testified that a signal had been given the barge to check her speed, but no heed was given to it, and that while the tug was to take the barge, it was practically a case of the barge taking the tug. He said that he saw the engineer of the tug jumping up and down excitedly after signals had been given, shouting to the other fireman to shut her off, but was so busy with the tow line that he does not know what the signals were, or whether they were obeyed. He claims to have taken off but two or three turns of the tow-line before he had to jump for the life raft.

City National Bank's Application Granted By Comptroller.

A special dispatch to The Herald from Washington today announces that the application of A. R. Macfarlane, J. H. Upham, G. G. Barnum, A. H. Comstock, R. F. Fitzgerald, A. S. Chase and others to organize the City National bank of Duluth with a capital of $500,000 has been approved by the comptroller of the currency.

The announcement of the fact that the new bank is to be established has been received with great interest in business circles. Maj. J. H. Upham is to be president of the new institution, and A. R. Macfarlane vice president and manager.

Convinced by Printed Testimony of the hundreds of the cured, Mrs. Benz, of 418 East Eighth street, New York, who was for years a great sufferer from catarrh, procured two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder and it effected absolute cure in a very short while. One puff through the blower will clear the head and stop headache. Sold by Max Wirth, 13 West Superior street.

DROPS DEAD.

Seventeen-Year-Old High School Student Dies Suddenly.

Simon P. Cook, a popular member of the high school, died very suddenly this morning. In accordance with his custom, he took a walk after breakfast, and returning to his home went up to his room to study about 10 o'clock. About 11 o'clock his mother called to him, and receiving no answer, she went to his room and found him dead. He had evidently dropped dead while reading. He had always been healthy, and had never complained of any illness, and his relatives have no idea of the cause of death. An autopsy was to be held this afternoon.

He was 17 years of age and was a member of last year's junior class of the high school. He would have graduated this year had he lived. He took a prominent part in the class work, and was a leading member of the literary and debating societies.

The funeral will probably be held tomorrow afternoon at the house, 314 East Second street, though the arrangements have not been made as yet. His school associates are invited to attend the funeral. The dead boy left a mother, four brothers and three sisters. The sisters are Mrs. Hyman Y. Josephs, of Duluth; Mrs. A. I. Shapiro, of St. Paul, and Miss Henrietta Cook, of Duluth. The brothers are B. J., M. S., Julius and M. J. Cook, all of this city.

COUNTY FAIR.

Jean Duluth Company to Make Fine Exhibit Here.

Preparations for the St. Louis county fair which is to be given Sept. 24, 25, 26 and 27, are progressing rapidly, and the prospects are good for a complete and interesting exhibit. The contractors have started on the work of fixing up the buildings, and they will made additions that will provide more room than there has ever been.

The Jean Duluth company will have its string of black Percheron horses, which was exhibited at the state fair and which drew a number of prizes, at the county fair, together with pens of sheep and angora goats.

DISMISSAL REFUSED.

Ida Nutting Case Against the City Still Stands.

In the case of Ida Nutting against the city of Duluth on trial in the district court, a motion to dismiss was argued most of the morning.

The plaintiff claims to have been injured by going through a sidewalk on East First street and wants $4000 damages. City Attorney Mitchell in his motion to dismiss raised the point this morning that the plaintiff in giving the city notice did not state that she claimed damages. Instead the notice simply stated that she had been injured to the amount of $2999.

The question was hotly contested and Judge Dibell denied the motion to dismiss. The case was still on this afternoon.

The case of Edward F. Krelwitz against O. D. Kinney brought to recover $14,885 alleged to be due on a mining deal was concluded this afternoon.

RETIRES.

Mayor's Chair After Long and Honorable Service Disappears.

That ugly, rickety and ancient mayor's chair, which has figured so prominently in past municipal campaigns, has retired from politics permanently.

Despite the fact that the other office furniture brought great pressure to bear on it to serve out the present term, the old chair stoutly refused, saying it was a case of either getting out of politics or breaking down.

The mayor's new chair is solid mahogany, and while perfectly plain in design, it is a very fine piece of furniture. In selecting it the Republicans seem to have stolen a march on the Democrats, for the chair is very narrow—but then Henry Truelsen has retired from politics, so it does not matter much.

The mayor's new desk is said to be the finest in the city. It is mahogany with brass trimmings and of unusually large design. The three draymen that tried to carry it up stairs administered several oaths to it before it was duly installed in office.

With the new furniture and new decorations the mayor's office has ceased to be a disgrace to the city in general appearance. In fact, it is quite cozy and pleasant.

The old wall paper was so ugly at times that strange visitors used to look at it as if they were afraid it would jump down and slap them.

DEFIANT.

Dr. Ames Will Give Enemies Fight of Their Lives.

West Baden, Ind., Sept. 9.—Former Mayor A. A. Ames, of Minneapolis, received the first news today of a report that his bond had been forfeited, and that application would be made to the governor of Indiana for extradition papers. Ames said that he never intended to dodge the charge of corruption in office, but that his health at this time would not permit him to leave West Baden. He said:

"When I recover my health I intend to go to Minneapolis and give them the fight of their lives. I will resist any attempt at extradition on account of my health."

DEATH LIST.

Alliance, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Wallace H. Phelps, editor of the Alliance Review, died this morning after a short illness from typhoid pneumonia.

The Hague, Sept. 9.—Dr. T. A. J. Vanash Van Wyck, the minister of the colonies, who underwent a surgical operation a few days ago, died today.

Knoxville, Sept. 9.—Hon. W. C. Anderson, who was congressman from the Fifth district of Tennessee in 1896, died last night at his home at Newport, Tenn. He had been ill ten days of typhoid fever.

TAFT BANQUETTED.

Federal Party Expresses Appreciation of Governor.

Manila, Sept. 9.—The Federal party gave a banquet to Governor Taft yesterday, during which the native speakers complimented the governor, expressed faith in and affection for him and promised to support his administration. In responding Judge Taft denied that the Federal party was a creation of the Philippine commission and complimented the party on its organization and common sense and on its service in shaping public opinion. He said it was proposed that the legislature assembly should contribute to the education of the people and furnish means for determining the future of the country. The governor added that the people were in a deplorable condition and that it would take two or three years attention to restore prosperity. He advised all Filipinos to unite in the work and to refrain from agitation.

NEW CORPORATION.

St. Paul, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Venceder Investment company, of Duluth, has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. Its capital stock is $25,000.

HOO-HOOS IN SESSION.

Milwaukee, Sept. 9.—The annual convention of the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoos began in Milwaukee today and will continue until Friday. Ex-Governor William H. Upham, of Marshfield, Wis., in absence of Mayor Rose, welcomed the gathering. The first session was taken up with speeches and annual reports. Buffalo is in the lead for the next convention with Detroit and Birmingham, Ala., a close second.

TRAVELING ENGINEERS.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Three hundred members of the Traveling Engineers' association began their tenth annual meeting here today.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY

Company Organized to Build System on Mesaba Range.

First Line Will Be Between Eveleth and Virginia.

Surveyors Laying Out Route---To Reach Many Towns.

A street railway system is the next metropolitan feature to be given towns of the Mesaba range.

Surveyors are already out and work will be commenced as soon as a right-of-way is secured. The first step will be the building of an electric railway between Virginia and Eveleth.

A company composed of well known capitalists has just been organized and articles of incorporation were filed in the register of deeds office this morning. Those forming the corporation are: G. G. Hartley, O. D. Kinney, George W. Buck, H. B. Fryberger and H. C. Fulton. There are some Buffalo capitalists interested in the enterprise, although their names are not given.

The birth of the corporation begins tomorrow morning, and its life is to continue for fifty years. The capital stock consists of 500 shares of $100 each, making $50,000. The limit of indebtedness is $5,000,000. How extensive a new concern, which is known as the Missaba Electric Railway company, will enter the transportation business at this time is not known, but it is said that before many years have passed an electric railway system will connect all of the small towns, cities and villages on the Mesaba range.

The articles of incorporation also call for supplying commercial lighting and public lights in the towns that will be touched.

O. D. Kinney, one of the prime movers of the new enterprise, said today that there was slittle to be given out at this time concerning the new company. "Surveyors are now laying out a line between Eveleth and Virginia," said he, "and the intention is to have a system in operation next spring. The work will begin as soon as we secure a right-of-way."

It has long been thought that it was a matter of but a few years before an electric system would be found on the ranges, and it has remained for Duluth capitalists to see the importance of it. The rapid growth of the mining towns and the excellent outlook for the future appealed to the men interested in the Missabe company. The distance between Eveleth and Virginia is but four and a half miles, and the electric line connecting those two points will be a great convenience to the people living there, the traffic being very heavy.

The system will be equipped with the most modern machinery and up-to-date cars, and everything will be brand new. The announcement will be welcomed by the people of the range and the many others who have extensive business there.

A Powerful Search-Light.

The latest invention is that of a signal light which it is claimed will penetrate the heaviest fog for a distance of half a mile. If it is a success, any accidents on both land and sea can be averted. Much interest is being manifested in the discovery, the same as in any other invention that is intended to save life. That is the reason so many people have been interested in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters during the past fifty years. It is recognized as the best health maker and blood purifier in existence, and with good health and pure blood, disease cannot find a foothold. It is therefore specially adapted for persons in ill-health and who suffer from heartburn, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, or malaria, fever and ague. Try it.

ATTITUDE IS PLEASING.

Berlin, Sept. 9.—The attitude of the American press regarding the sinking of the Haytien rebel gunboat Crete-a-Perrot by the German gunboat Panther gives great satisfaction here.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

Will Only Strengthen the Testimony of Duluth Citizens.

The testimony which follows will stand the test of the closest investigation. Cross-examination of such evidence will strengthen it. Proof of this nature is plentiful in Duluth, and the most skeptical can hardly doubt the claims made for "The Little Conqueror" when placed face to face with the public utterances of friends, neighbors and local citizens. Read the experience given below, it may save you many hours of future trouble.

Mr. Charles Hendee, of 1811 Superior street west, night foreman at the Northern Pacific roundhouse, says: "I was troubled on and off for years with pains through my loins and kidneys. If I caught cold or strained myself, the pains became very severe. I attribute the trouble to the heavy jarring I received while a locomotive engineer in years past. If I sat or laid long in one position my back became so lame and sore that I could hardly straighten up, and in the morning on rising I felt tired and unrested. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended and determined to try them. Procuring a box from W. A. Abbett's drug store, I used it and was promptly relieved of the trouble."

CROOKED

Is Italian Who Was at One Time Consular Agent.

Genoa, Italy, Sept. 9.—John Girmondi, an Italian, who had been naturalized an American citizen, and was formerly United States consular agent at Santos, Brazil, but who was reported to have been dismissed on account of an alleged deficiency in the revenues in his office, has been arrested at Oneglia. When he returned to Italy from Brazil, he pretended to have been appointed United States consul in Persia, and asserted that also he was commissioned to inspect the whole United States consular service in Asia. Later he acted as a priest and had been daily celebrating mass. When arrested he was accompanied by two Italian girls. Girmondi's effects is a package of United States department stationery. The Italian authorities are awaiting information from the United States before deciding on his prosecution.

It was announced from Washington April 28, 1900, that on March 26, President McKinley had sent the nomination to the senate for consul at Santos, Brazil, of John J. Girmondi, of California. He was confirmed March 30, and had then just arrived in Washington on the way to his post. In the Washington Post that morning (April 28) there appeared a statement that the Rev. Father Girmondi, who had been a priest in Archbishop Ireland's church diocese, had stopped at the capitol for instructions prior to departing for Brazil. It was ascertained later that while Girmondi formerly was a priest and connected with the archdiocese of Archbishop Ireland, he had been "silenced" several years before and no longer called himself a priest. No senator could be found who could remember the circumstance of his appointment, or who could explain how he came to be credited to California instead of Minnesota.

POSTOFFICE AND BANK.

Burglars Work In Widely Separated Territory.

Seymour, Ind., Sept. 9.—The safe in the Freetown postoffice, fifteen miles west of Seymour, was blown open early this morning and completely wrecked. $300 worth of stamps, all the loose money and two registered letters being taken.

Citizens heard the explosion, but as it was raining they supposed it was thunder.

Russellsville, Ky., Sept. 9.—At 2 o'clock this morning the bank was robbed at Lewisburg, a town of 1000 inhabitants, twelve miles north of this place, in this conuty. The robbers got about $4000.

ST. PAUL FRIENDS

May View Remains of Late Robert Sweeny.

St. Paul, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The remains of Robert O. Sweeny, a former resident of St. Paul, who died Sunday in Duluth, will be brought to St. Paul this evening for burial in Oakland cemetery tomorrow afternoon. An opportunity will be given to friends to view the body at Dampier's undertaking establishment tomorrow morning. There will be no service, as a service has already been held at Duluth.

IN CONFERENCE?

Rumor That Stone Has Met Coal Road Men.

New York, Sept. 9.—It was reported this afternoon that Governor Stone and the anthracite coal road presidents were in conference. This was the regular day for President Baer to come to New York. President Fowler of the Ontario & Western, and President Truesdale, of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, declined to say whether there would be a meeting or not, but soon after 2 p. m. all the coal road presidents were reported to be out of their offices and this gave rise to the report that they had gone to meet Governor Stone.

EDDY AT WASHINGTON.

On His Way Homeward From the Seashore.

Washington, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congressman Eddy is in Washington today upon some minor business matters for his constituents. Mr. Eddy has been spending a few weeks at the seashore and will leave for home tonight.

The compjtroller of the currency today, authorized the First National bank of Minnesota to begin business with $50,000 capital. John Sivenson is president and Oscar L. Door, cashier.

RELEASED FROM JAIL.

Dublin, Sept. 9.Patrick McHugh, a member of parliament for the north division of Leitrim was released from Sligo jail today at the expiration of his sentence of three months' imprisonment for contempt of court. He was accorded a great reception in which the mayor, the town councillors and 2000 Nationalists took part. The streets of Sligo were decorated with flags in Mr. McHugh's honor.

TAMBLIN WILL RETURN.

Cleveland, Sept. 9.—William H. Tamblin, a former member of the house of delegates at St. Louis, who is alleged to have been connected with boodling operations in that body, called at the central police station here today, and stated that he would return to St. Louis at once, without the formality of a requisition. Mr. Tamblin, who has resided in this city for the past year, declares that he can easily prove his innocence.

CREW WAS SAVED.

Port Rowan, Ont., Sept. 9.—The steamer Stevens, of Buffalo, bound from Duluth to Buffalo, with copper and flour, burned to the water's edge off Clear Creek early this morning. The crew was saved.

FROM AGUINALDO'S DIARY.

The record of the month of January, 1900, is a reptition of evasions, escapes and forced marches in the mountains from settlement to settlement to dodge the American troops which seem to have kept up a relentless pursuit, says the Brooklyn Eagle. The month of February opens in the same way. Under the date of Feb. 5, there is this interesting entry:

"About 12 o'clock today there arrived in our camp, coming from Tuguegaro, Gen. Guzman, ex-lieutenant of Tirano's unfortunate battalion. This officer, after telling us all that occurred in the surrender of Cagayan valley, also told us that Gen. Tirano is still with the American captain to whom he surrendered and that to ingratiate himself with his master, the American captain is acting as his personal servant; now trying to secure for him exquisite meals, washing the dishes, quarreling with the cook, cleaning his writing table for him and cleaning his sleeves, in short, has been made major domo. He also stated that Tirano, standing beside his master on the day of surrender, was insulted by all the Cayagan people, especially by the officers of the unfortunate battalion. In the presence of a great public gathering they called him 'Thief,' 'Man of dishonor,' 'Coward,' etc. But Tirano, probably through ignorance of their meaning, paid no attention to the insulting remarks. When the officers of the battalion went to embark for Manila on board a ship where there were friars and Spanish prisoners, the latter on seeing the former approach in small boats or lighters, commenced cat-calling and hissing, saying:

'Away with the dishonorable officers; away with the thieves; away, lest we kill them! The unfortunate officers returned and waited for another ship. The inhabitants of Iloilo say that from the time Senor Leyba, colonel of infantry, withdrew and retired to Malolos, Gen. Tirano and all leading officers of the two battalions under his command, dedicated themselves to traffic or to trade in rice, tobacco, salt fish, matches, etc., in a word to the monopolized all business. The price of rice rose to $25 a cavasse; salt to $25, and petroleum to $25 a case. Everything went up, and in nine months Gen. Tirano gathered together $204,000 and his officers $25,000. During the governorship of Tirano in the valley, the house of a wealthy man was robbed of jewels of great value, and a considerable sum of money. The robbers were not detected, though investigations were made by Tirano. Two months after Tirano was seen wearing the jewels on his own person."

SIX STILL AT LARGE

Six Members of St. Louis Combine Not Caught.

They Are Indicted For Bribery and Perjury.

St. Louis, Sept. 10.—All but six of the nineteen members of the alleged combine of the house of delegates, who are under indictment on various counts, charging bribery and perjury in connection with the passage of measures granting valuable franchises to public corporations, are, or have been under arrest.

Those who are still at large are Delegate Charles F. Kelly and former Delegates Emil Hartman, Louis Decker, John A. Sheridan, all resting under two charges of bribery and one of perjury; former Delegate Julius Lehmann, charged on two counts with bribery and already under sentence of two years in the penitentiary for perjury, and former Delegate Adolph Madeira, charged on two counts with bribery and one of perjury. The last named is supposed to have been located in Colorado, but the authorities will not say where. It it is currently reported that a member of the local detective force has been sent to that state to bring back Madeira to St. Louis.

Former Delegate Tamberlin, who was arrested yesterday in Cleveland, is expected to reach here some time today in the custody of an officer from that city.

It was learned that Sheridan, who lived at the Hurst hotel, was last seen there Monday. He left hurriedly on that day when the Murrell confession was made public and the clerk says he is not expected to return there very soon. The whereabouts of the others is not known to the authorities, who are watching the homes of the missing men and guarding all the avenues of scap. Circuit Attorny Folk is confident he will have them all in custody soon.

The friends of Messrs. Harnigan, Schnettler, Gutke, Helms and Schumacher, who were remanded to jail yesterday because of their inability to furnish bonds to the amount of $45,000 each, are making strenuous efforts to secure their release. If sufficient surety cannot be secured today, it is stated that the matter will be taken to the supreme court, which body will be asked for writs of habeas corpus. The grounds on which these writs will be asked are not known.

Delegate Faulkner's proffer to turn states evidence and make a clean breast of all the operations of the house combine came too late and has been declined by Circuit Attorney Folk. In addition to being under indictment on two charges of bribery, Faulkner stands convicted of perjury in connection with the suburban deal.

WENT DOWN WITH SHIP

Admiral Killick Fired Gunboat's Magazine.

Surgeon and Two Sailors Also Perished.

Gonaive, Hayti, Sept. 10.—An investigation made by a correspondent of the Associated Press into the sinking of the Firminist's gunboat Crete-a-Pierrot at the entrance of this harbor Saturday shows that Admiral Killick, her commander, personally fired the after-magazine of that vessel when the German gunboat Panther attempted to capture her, and that he apparently went down with his ship. The Panther, which had previously attempted to board the Crete-a-Pierrot, the latter being moored to the shore, reversed her engines when the magazine exploded, and one hour afterwards fired thirty shots from her guns at the Crete-a-Pierrot in order to finish the work of sinking her. The Panther then left Gonaives. It is claimed here that the rifles and machine guns of the Crete-a-Pierrot have been saved.

The body of Admiral Killick was recovered Saturday afternoon and was buried the same evening.

The surgeon of the Crete-a-Pierrot, who was asleep in his cabin, and two sailors of that vessel, also perished.

The Panther is expected to reach Cape Haytien on Friday.

A newspaper of Port Au Prince, July 14, contained the following telegram from Admiral Killick to Gen. Boisrond Canal, provisional president of Hayti:

"Gonaives, July 12.—Boisrond Canal, Port Au Prince: Killick does not fear anything. Will blow up ship and company for the sake of the national honor. You alone remain responsible."

Previous to sending the message to Gen. Canal, it appears, Admiral Killick had received orders from the latter to give up his vessel to Lieut. Reid, his second in command, and it was also reported that the provisional government had requested the United States gunboat Marietta and the French cruiser D'Assas to capture the Crete-a-Pierrot, hence the defiant dispatch to Gen. Boisrond Canal.

BOERS TURNED DOWN

Conference Between Generals and Colonial Secretary Was Fruitless.

Great Britain Has Done All She Can Afford.

No Use For Boers to Press Matter Any Further.

London, Sept. 10.—A parliamentary paper issued today gives a full report of the recent conference between the colonial secretary, Joseph Chamberlain and the Boer generals, Botha, DeWet and Delarey. Prior to agreeing to the interview, which the Boers asked for Aug. 20, the colonial secretary requested a list of the subjects which it was desired to discuss and the generals forwarded a list of subjects including the following:

Complete amnesty to the rebels.

A yearly grant to all Boer widows and orphans and maimed burghers.

Equal rights for the English and Dutch languages in the schools and courts.

That equal rights with the British be conceded to burghers complying with the terms of surrender, including the right to return to South Africa.

The immediate release of all prisoners of war.

The reinstatement of the officials of the late South African republics or compensation for their loss of office.

Compensation for all loss occasioned by the British troops by the use, removal, burning or destruction by other means of all private property.

The reinstatement of the burghers in the ownership of their farms confiscated or sold under the proclamation of Aug. 7, 1901.

Compensation for the use of the properties of burghers taken by the British authorities.

Payment of the lawful obligations of the late South African republics, including those incurred during the war.

The recission of the decision to add a portion of the Transvaal to Natal.

Granting an extension of time for the payment of all debts due by the burghers to the late governments of the South African republics.

Mr. Chamberlain, in replying, expressed great surprise at the number and character of the proposals, pointing out that the conditions agreed on at Vereniging were duly accepted by the burghers and the British government and that they could not be reopened, nor could proposals rejected at that time be again discussed. If the interpretation of the agreement was open to question his majesty's government would endeavor to remove all doubts.

At the opening of the conference the Boer generals disclaimed any desire to alter the terms of surrender in any way. On the subject of amnesty to rebels Gen. Botha expressed disappointment that after the promise given by Lord Kitchener, the rebels had not been granted amnesty at the time of King Edward's coronation, in reply to which Mr. Chamberlain promises that the imperial government would not hinder any generous intentions of the governments of Natal and Cape Colony to reward rebels.

As to the return of burghers to South Africa, the colonial secretary declared it was the government's intention to retain the right to prevent the return of disloyal persons who had not frankly accepted the terms of peace, instancing former State Secretary Reitz of the Transvaal as a case in point, and saying that Mr. Reitz was using language on the continent inconsistent with the declaration he had signed at Vereeniging.

Gen. Botha said he hoped that the "sins of one man would not be visited on others," adding:

"If one man says foolish things, let him suffer therefor alone."

Mr. Chamberlain informed the generals that there was no truth in the report that the government intended to sell farms belonging to burghers. Regarding some farms sold in the Orange River Colony under the proclamation of Aug. 7, 1901, Mr. Chamberlain promised that the farms bought by the government would be retransferred to their former owners.

Gen. Botha criticised the composition of the commission appointed to allot the grant of $15,000,000 (for the purpose of assisting burghers and their families to return to their homes and for restocking their farms, etc.), and objected to national scouts serving as commissioners, but Mr. Chamberlain maintained that the government must be true to those who supported it.

Relative to the transfer to Natal of part of the Transvaal, Gen. Botha said the burghers proposed to trek therefrom. He lived there, but he saw no chance of remaining, the feeling of the British in Natal being so strongly anti-Boer.

On the subject of martial law Mr Chamberlain said it would not be continued much longer.

The colonial secretary refused to recognize as burghers foreigners who had been naturalized during or just before the war, saying they had been bribed by the resolution of the volksraad giving the burghers' rights as a reward for taking part in a conflict in which they were not concerned.

Gen. Botha concluded with an appeal for the widows and orphans, and said he considered that the appropriation of $15,000,000 was inadequate.

Replying to this, Mr. Chamberlain compared Great Britain's treatment of the Boers with the treatment of the South by the North after the civil war in America.

"I would remind the general," said Mr. Chamberlain, "that we have undertaken already more obligations than have ever before been undertaken under similar circumstances. Let me take one case in my time, I recollect very well the great civil war in America, and I appeal to that because that stands out as a case in which more than ever before, or indeed ever since, the victor, the conqueror showed a magnanimous and general feeling to the conquered. There was good reason for this, because they were brothers of the same race, the same religion, the same everything. It was a civil war, but even in that case, the Northern side, that is to say the victorious side, made no provision whatever either by way of grant, pension or allowance, to the people who had been wounded, to the side that had been conquered. They gave them their lives and their liberties, and after a period of ten years gave them votes, but did not give them any money compensation. But we have gone a step beyond that, because we have contributed in addition to all our own enormous expenses a very large sum to relieve those who are really destitute in our new colonies. We have done all that we can afford to do, and I think it would be undesirable for the generals to press us any further in this matter, either now or in writing."

Proceeding, Mr. Chamberlain reciprocated the desire expressed by Gen. Botha that they should all live in peace in future in South Africa.

"We went in this country," said the colonial secretary, "to forget and forgive, because if you think, as you well may, that you have something to forgive, we also think we have a great deal to forgive. But we want to put all that on one side. The war is over. We each fought as well as we knew how, and now there is peace. All we want is to recognize you as fellow subjects with ourselves, working as we shall work for the prosperity and liberty of South Africa. How great that liberty is, and how soon complete self government will be extended to South Africa depends entirely upon the rapidity with which the old animosities die out."

Mr. Chamberlain concluded with saying that the government would be glad of the co-operation of men like the generals, who had loyally accepted the new situation. As they wanted South Afric to be a happy abiding place for all, he felt sure that if the burghers met the British half way they would find them quite as good friends in future as they had been loyal enemies in the past.

SOLDIERS KICK ON DUTY

Trunk Full of Trophies Including Religious Images, Intended as Gift to West Point Museum, Are Held By Customs Officials.

San Francisco, Sept. 10.—Officers of the Eighth United States infantry who arrived from the Philippines on the transport Buford are at loggerheads with the customs officials over the admission, duty free, of a trunk full of trophies from the far East.

All the articles were intended as a gift to the museum of the United States military academy at West Point, but they will never reach their destination if the treasury department tries to exact duties from the officers of the Eighth.

Assistant Surveyor of the Port St. John says he cannot pass the articles without consulting higher authority, and there the matter rests.

Principal among the articles contained in the trunks are two religious images and the robes in which they were draped.

One of these is an ebony figure of the saviour, known in Southern Luzon as "The Black Christ."

These images were seized by the Eighth infantry at the province of Laguna, while the regiment was operating in that district. The religious sect was known as the Caldrun, and the images are said to have been used by the insurgent leaders to exact war revenues from the people of the district by imposing on their credulity. A Filipino ventriloquist, it is said, would apparently cause the images to speak, and order the natives to give their money so the Americans might be driven from the island. The carvings appear to have been made within the last two or three years.

HAD A LOVELY OLD TIME

St. Paul Police Commissioner Gets Drunk, Arrests Patrolmen, Discharges Officers and Thinks He Is the Whole Police Department.

St. Paul, Sept. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Police Commissioner William Foelzen, while drunk last evening, arrested Patrolman Thomas Galvin, discharged everybody at police headquarters, and, declaring himself chief of police, took possession of the central station. The commissioner made all sorts of demands upon those at the station, and whenever an officer hesitated or sought to quiet him he was immediately "fired" and ordered out of the station.

Chief O'Connor was not at headquarters, but this did not make any difference. Commissioner Foelzen discharged him just the same. After a time Commissioner Foelzen was induced to go to a nearby saloon, and after several drinks he departed for home, while those who had been "discharged" again assumed their duties. The trouble started by Galvin refusing to make an arrest at the request of the commissioner. The police department is running as usual today. Pending the action of the police commission on Mr. Foelzen's dismissal, the orders of the commissioner will have no effect.

BOY DIES FROM LOCKJAW

Minneapolis Lad Scratched His Toe on Spike of Thorn Apple Bush and Died In Spite of Medical Attention.

Minneapolis, Sept. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lawrence William Quirk, seven years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Quirk, of 2800 Plymouth avenue, died Monday night from lockjaw. His funeral will take place Thursday morning from Church of the Immaculate Conception, and the interment will be at St. Mary's cemetery. Lawrence was taken ill Sunday morning and doctors J. M. Kistler, C. M. Kistler, Nelson and Straub were summoned. He grew worse and died Monday.

A week ago while playing in the woods near his home he scratched one of his toes, on the spike of a thorn apple bush. The injury, which appeared to be a slight one, healed rapidly and he made no complaint until Friday, when he said he felt a pain in his side, but after a short time he appeared to be in good health and spirits. Saturday he played with the other children and ate a hearty supper. Sunday morning he complained of feeling ill and doctors were summoned. In spite of their efforts he died Monday afternoon.

LOVER SHOOTS RECKLESSLY

Chicago, Sept. 10.—As a result of a lovers' quarrel Rollin O'Shea, a young lawyer just admitted to the bar, shot and killed his betrothed, Emily Hoganson, here today, tried to kill the girl's mother and then turned the weapon upon himself and tried to commit suicide. He was removed to the Norwegian hospital in such serious condition that it is thought he will die. Last night the couple quarreled. Early this morning O'Shea visited the Hoganson home with a view to a reconciliation. The altercation was resumed and reached such a height that Mrs. Hoganson interfered. O'Shea resented this action and fired at both women. The shot fired at Mrs. Hoganson went wild.

WOULD LICENSE DRUNKARDS

New York, Sept. 10.—A proposition has been introduced by the Prohibition party of Cortland county, New York, which demands that every man who drinks intoxicating beverages shall take out a license costing not less than $5 a year. Every six months the names of the license holders are to be published in official newspapers of the county. The leaders also propose to introduce a measure of this nature in the legislature.

MORPHINE CAUSED TRAGEDY

Pittsburg, Sept. 10.—Maj. William D. Wilkins, a well known accountant, of Pittsburg, was shot and almost instantly killed early today, while trying to wrest a revilver from his wife, Adeline. The tragedy occurred in the apartments of the couple at 813 Federal street, Allegheny. Crazed from the effects of the excessive use of morphine, the woman tried to shoot herself and, in the struggle for the possession of the pistol, it was discharged, the bullet entering Wilkins' brain. When the police arrived Mrs. Wilkins again attempted self-destruction, but was frustrated by the officers. Maj. Wilkins was a former officer of the National Guard of Pennsylvania and was quite prominent in military circles.

STABBED HIMSELF.

St. Paul, Sept. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andrew Pearson, a laborer living at 75 South Robert street, attempted to commit suicide this morning by stabbing himself through the left breast with a large pocket knife. He is seriously injured but will probably recover. No cause for the deed is known.

SCEPTRE WINS ST. LEGER.

London, Sept. 10.—R. S. Sievier's Sceptre won the St. Leger stakes at the Doncaster September meeting today. Ising Glass was second and Friar Tuck third. Twelve horses ran.

CREMATED BABIES IN STOVE

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Cremation of living babies in her kitchen range is a charge made by Charles Early against Mrs. Paulina Taeschler, who conducts a private hospital for women in South May street. Early made this and other serious charges before the state board of health. As a result officials of the board secured a warrant against Mrs. Taeschler on a charge of practicing medicine without a license and the woman has been arrested. Mrs. Taeschler attributes the charges to motives of revenge, inspired by her refusal to allow Early to visit a woman patient in her hospital.

NO BLUFF

Taken By President Burt of Ann Arbor Road.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 10.—President Wellington R. Burt, of the Ann Arbor road, who was one of the railroad men indicted by a grand jury at Minneapolis the other day through the efforts of the interstate commerce commission for alleged rate cutting, said in an interview here yesterday:

"The Ann Arbor and the Wisconsin Central, against which these proceedings are aimed, are weak lines and they have to compete with the Northwestern, the Vanderbilts and the Pennsylvania. These great big roads want to carry all freight to and from the Northwest by way of Chicago. We want to carry it across Lake Michigan and the interstate commerce commission seems to be on the side of the big fellows. But they won't bluff me. I'll tell our freight agents to go right ahead and get the business."

IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Results of Second State Democratic Primaries.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 10.—Partial returns from yesterday's second state Democratic primary give the following figures for the nomination of governor and other state officials as follows: United States senator, John Gary Evans, 25,315; A. C. Latimer, 37,751. Governor, D. C. Heyward, 36,393; W. J. Talbot, 27,421. Lieutenant governor, Gary, 28,924; Sloan, 31,662. Secretary of state, Gantt, 30,379; Wilson, 30,028. Results from Charleston county show the election of George E. Von Kolnitz over his opponent, John T. Grace, conceded to have been backed by United States Senator Benjamin R. Tillman.

The candidates for the remainder of the state offices received a nominating vote at the first primaries held two weeks ago.

TAO MU FORCED TO RESIGN.

Tacoma, Sept. 10.—The steamer Victoria brings news that Tao Mu, the powerful viceroy of the Kwang Tung and Kwang Si provinces, has been forced to resign and retire to private life by the bitter and determined attacks made upon him by the Eunuchs of the palace at Pekin, whose hatred he has incurred.

CHOW TSZCHI

Gets Commission as Chinese Consul General at Cuba.

New York, Sept. 10.—Chow Tszchi, who has been Chinese consul at New York for three years, and who has been appointed Chinese consul general to Cuba, has received his commission and will leave shortly for his new post.

"I have not heard," he said, "who my successor is, but probably he will be one of the secretaries of the legation at Washington.

"There is much to be done in Havana. While there are 7000 or 8000 Chinamen in the greater New York, there are more than 15,000 Chinamen in Cuba. During the American military control in Cuba and before Gen. Wood left, word was given to enforce the Chinese exclusion act throughout the island. Now that Cuba has an independent government, I do not see why that law should remain in force, and one of my first duties will be to see what can be done about it.

"Another matter I shall look into will be that of a treaty between Cuba and China."

ALASKA VOLCANOES ACTIVE.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 10.—Passengers on the last trip of the steamer Bertha from Alaska say volcanoes Redoubt, Illema and Augustine mountains are in active eruption. Great volumes of steam issued from all three and Redoubt was throwing clouds of smoke miles high.

MONEY FOR MINERS.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—The first installment of money collected by the German Turners of Chicago for the striking anthracite miners, has been sent. It amounted to $1,250. This money was, in the main, given by individual subscriptions.

TEAMSTER INJURED.

St. Paul, Sept. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Bowen, teamster for Daniel Bigger, at Midway, received probably fatal injuries in a runaway accident on the transfer bridge this morning. He was thrown from his wagon by a feed wire pole and had his back seriously injured, several ribs broken and internal injuries. He was taken to a hospital.

ARE WROTH.

Russian Newspapers Object to the Indian Railway System.

New York, Sept. 10.—Russian newspapers are extremely wroth at Lord Curzon's approval of the extension of the Indian railway system to Nushki, on the eastern boundary of Belochistan, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune. They foresee uninterrupted railway communication between India and Europe. Russia means to have an outlet in the Indian ocean and this great railway which would be in British and German hands, would stop the progress of Russia toward the south. A leading journal of St. Petersburg says Russia must at once build a line through Persia right down to the Indian ocean and thus paralyze the ambition of Great Britain. There is a general desire in England for some sort of understanding with Russia about Persia in spite of Capt. Mahan's warning that any concession on England's part will imperil her naval situation in the far east, her political position in India, her commercial interests in both and the imperial tie between herself and Australia.

CORDIAL

Relations Between Visiting American and British Generals.

New York, Sept. 10.—Most cordial relations have been established between the British and American generals attending the maneuvers of 90,000 German troops near Frankfort-on-Oder, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune. Gens. Young and French naturally interest each other as cavalry leaders, and Lord Roberts and Gen. Corbin are good companions, although not well matched in stature. Gen. Hamilton, being an outspoken and racy talker, also pleases the Americans. Gens. Wood and Kelly-Kenny are practical men of fine ability as organizers. The British generals, being a field marshal and lieutenant generals outrank the two American major generals and Brig. Gen. Wood and have precedence in presentations and court functions. Gen. Corbin and the other Americans are particularly impressed with the ability of Count von Waldersee. The maneuvers probably will confirm the impressions of Gens. Corbin and Young formed at the preliminary parades, namely, that the superiority of the German cavalry is due to the systematic arrangements for breeding horses for military purposes and that the German regimental method of artillery organization is workmanlike and tends to concentrate the fire of guns with overwhelming effect. The American generals, after giving a dinner to the German and British offers at the close of the maneuvers, will visit Vienna, Paris and London, and have a short run through Scotland.

FOUND LARGEST NUGGET

Samuel Napier Who Dug a Piece of Gold Worth Sixty Thousand Dollars Is Dead In the Canadian Wilds.

New York, Sept. 10.—Samuel Hawkins Napier, who found what is said to have been the largest nugget of gold ever mined, is dead, says a Provincetown, Mass., dispatch to the Times. He died alone, except for the companionship of a faithful dog, 200 miles from any human habitation in the wilds of the Gatineau river, Canada.

Natpier's rich strike occurred in Australia in 1852. He was a purser on a Melbourne-Liverpool ship when she made a race for the Australian mines succeeding the finding of rich deposits. He joined fortunes with his brother-in-law and the two went out to the gold country. One day Napier's pick struck solidly upon a metallic mass of large proportions.

The nugget was taken to London, where it was exhibited and finally sold for $60,000. Napier settled at Bathurst, N. B., and became a member of the provincial parliament, but his share of the wealth amassed at the Kingowar diggings was lost in speculation.

AN IMMENSE TUNNEL

San Francisco, Sept. 10.—The Southern Pacific surveyors that have been engaged since last spring to find a tunnel route for the Central Pacific road through the Sierra Nevada mountains, are putting the results of their work into shape for submission to President Harriman.

It is known, says the Examiner, that the route laid out by the surveyors provides for a tunnel 34,800 feet long or nearly seven miles. The estimated cost is $14,000,000. It will cut down the summit grade 1500 feet and enable the company to get rid of all but three miles of the forty-two miles of snow sheds. The proposed tunnel will pierce the mountains at an elevation of about 5300 feet.

The tunnel is part of Harriman's plan to reduce time between San Francisco and Chicago twelve hours, or from three days, as at present, to two days and a half.

MINERS HAVE LITTLE HOPE

Tamaqua, Pa., Sept. 10.—Mine workers' leaders have said today that they had little hops that the efforts of Governor Stone, P. A. B. Widener and others to bring about a settlement of the strike would be successful. They maintain that the strike will be fought to a finish and that it will be extended into the winter. The usual number of non-union men went to work in the Panther Creek valley today. Troops were not sent out and no effort was made to stop the men. Yesterday the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company shipped about 1000 tons of coal from its No. 12 colliery and about 400 tons from its No. 4 colliery. The Philadelphia & Reading company shipped twelve 25-ton cars from its North Mahanoy colliery.

HAD WATEROUS ONLY KNOWN

New York, Sept. 10.—If D. S. Waterous, a Chicago physician, had called for a letter at a hotel here, he would not have committed suicide, says a World dispatch from Syracuse, N. Y. The letter which he failed to receive is said by his wife, who has arrived here to take charge of his body, to have explained her whereabouts and was intended to bring about a reconciliation. When Mrs. Waterous arrived to claim the body she found the letter uncalled for. It was postmarked Aug. 28. On Sept. 5 her husband ended his life.

Piano Selection

Should be very carefully made. It should be a worthy instrument at the correct price. It should be bought of a reliable and permanent house, one that can be depended on to properly represent the instrument in the first place and to stand back of it in future years, should any defects appear.

If you buy your piano on monthly payments be sure that your note contract is not turned over to the money-lender or some third party, which condition might cause you much annoyance.

We earnestly invite you to carefully investigate our stock, prices and business methods, when considering the purchase of a piano.

We are the only piano dealers in Duluth buying all instruments out and out for cash and retaining customers' note-contracts in our own possession.

All instruments marked in plain figures at their correct selling price.

N. P. LOSES.

Court Decides It Must Re-Establish Bluffton Station.

St. Paul, Sept. 10.—A special to the Dispatch from Fergus Falls, Minn., says: Judges Baxter and Searle have rendered a decision in the long contested Bluffton station case, the action being brought by the railway and warehouse commission to compel the Northern Pacific to re-establish its station at Bluffton, which was removed on account of the heavy grade and light business. The court sustains the commission and orders the station re-established within sixty days.

CALLING FOR HELP

Farmers Complaining of Scarcity of Harvest Help.

Railroads Are Being Besieged With Requests For Men.

Twin City Merchants Are Refused Usual Excursion Rates.

Again from the golden wheat fields of North Dakota comes the cry of "more help."

Nothing has been heard of this nature from the wheat fields for several weeks, and many had supposed that the danger of a shortage of help had passed. Railroad offices, however, are receiving requests for men, and while they do not run employment agencies, and therefore could not furnish the men directly, they have turned their queries over to employment agents who are doing the best they can. It is said that in some sections of the grain country there is a considerable scarcity of men. The bad weather that delayed threshing during the past week or ten days has prevented the situation from coming to light, but now that weather conditions have permitted threshing to go ahead again at full blast, the need of men is again becoming aparent. One St. Paul railroad office has just received a request from St. Thomas, N. D., for 125 men for threshing crews. Wages run as high as $3 per day, and there will be work until cold weather sets in.

One trouble now is that the harvest rates of $5 to the wheat fields are no longer in effect, and laborers have to pay from $10 to $20 to get to the work. Many of them will hesitate to do this at such a late season.

ARE BADLY CUT UP.

Twin Cities Excited Over Refusal of Excursion Rates.

Twin City merchants and commercial bodies are feeling all cut up over the action of the Western Passenger association refusing to grant the usual fall excursion rates to St. Paul and Minneapolis from points within a radius of 200 miles. Permission was asked for six reduced rate excursions, and a rate of a fare and one-fifth was asked for the round trip. These rates have always been given in the interests of the Twin City merchants, and they have resulted in great fall trade in the two cities. The excuse offered by the association for refusing the excursions was that it would antagonize local merchants, who would be the losers by the gain of the Twin City merchants. The St. Paul and Minneapolis merchants, however, profess to see in the action of the Western Passenger association the hostile machinations of the Chicago jobbers.

Narrow Gauge Road.

The owners of the Idaho-Continental Mining company, of Port Hill, Idaho, in which several prominent mining men of Duluth are said to be interested, have announced that they will next spring begin the construction of a narrow gauge railway sixteen miles long to connect their lead mine with the Great Northern railway.

Coming to Twin Cities.

C. P. Rorbach, of Minneapolis, commercial agent at that place for the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, was in the city today visiting local railroad offices. The road is a new Twin City connection, and it is just building in. Mr. Rorbach stated today that it was expected that his road would reach the Twin Cities by Nov. 1, coming by way of Faribault and Owatonna. The road recently absorbed the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern.

IS IN THE FRONT.

John T. Armstead Among the Leaders In Race For Sheriff.

John T. Armstead is making a great spurt in the race for the Republican nomination for sheriff. He has always been considered by many to be about the strongest candidate in the field, so far as the city is concerned, but his friends felt some apprehension and anxiety about his standing with the voters on the iron ranges.

During the past few days Mr. Armstead has been working among the range towns, and his apprehension and anxiety has vanished. At Hibbing, Virginia, Ely, Eveleth, Tower and Sparta his reception has been most encouraging and enthusiastic. His friends in this city regard his nomination as a certainty.

MUST PAY.

Santa Cruz, Cal., Will Settle With Its Bondholders.

Seattle, Sept. 10.—The city of Santa Cruz, Cal., will have to pay $500,000 to Eastern bondholders, according to a decision just handed down by the United States circuit court of appeals. The bonds were issued eight years ago, and were sold through a firm of New York brokers, who, it is alleged, pocketed the proceeds and then went into bankruptcy. The city sought to evade payment, but has repeatedly been beaten in the courts.

KUYPER VISITS GENERALS.

Te Hague, Sept. 10.—The premier, Dr. Kuyper, paid a long visit to the Boer generals, Botha, DeWet and Delarey, after their arrival here today from London.

FOR GOVERNOR OF WYOMING.

Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 10.—The socialist state convention nominated a state ticket, headed by Henry Bretenstein, of Laramie county, for governor.

AT WEST DULUTH

One of the local rental agents in West Duluth said this morning that the movement to this part of the city from the uptown portion and from the outside, has been particularly noticeable within the last two months. He says that he can mention three new families that have come to West Duluth from outside points this week, to find homes in West Duluth. Owners of rentable property are being urged to make repairs and fix up their houses for the winter season. Some of the rental agents have been turning away inquiries for houses, for several weeks past, a condition that a year ago was unheard of and not even anticipated. The demand for homes is one of the best stimulants for building, and the general opinion of real estate men and agents for desirable vacant property here is that this end of the city will start its building boom next spring.

CANDIDATES BUSY.

The candidates for the various legislative and county offices are beginning to fix up their fences in West Duluth, and scarcely a day passes that one or more of those seeking nomination are not out here "seeing the folks." John A. Healy, the range candidate for Republican nomination for sheriff, dropped into West Duluth with one of his workers and an armful of placards, this morning, to do a little political advertising and give the glad hand around. Mr. Healy spent about two hours meeting some of the West Duluth Republicans.

SMASHED A WINDOW.

A miniature whirlwind played a peculiar trick at the corner of Central avenue west and Gosnold street this morning by smashing a costly plate glass window in the front of the Hendrick's Dry Goods company's store. The sudden gust of wind whirled across the avenue, struck the corner of the Woodward building, tearing the iron support of one of the awnings out of the brick and hurling it through the window. The wind did not reach any of the other awnings nor create any further trouble in the neighborhood. H. A. Bentson, who was trimming the window of the store at the time, had a narrow escape from being injured by the flying pieces of heavy glass, one large piece cut a button off his coat, tearing the fabric very little.

MILLMAN DIES.

George H. Robinson, aged 44 years, died at the Red Cross hospital about 9 o'clock this morning, after a sickness of about four weeks. Death was caused by a cancer of the bronchial tubes, although he has been able to folow his profession, that of filing saws, up to within the past few weeks. Mr. Robinson came to West Duluth from St. Joe's Island, Ont., about eight months ago and has been employed as filer at the Mitchell & McClure mill. He leaves a wife and family in Canada, a sister, Mrs. Charles Gerrish, and a brother in West Duluth. The remains will be sent to St. Joe's Island for burial this afternoon, Mrs. Gerrish and her brother accompanying them.

ATTEND REGULARLY.

The local grocers are priding themselves that the West Duluth Retail Grocers' association is about one of the liveliest and up-to-date organizations of the kind in the city or the state. The association is holding two meetings a month, and thus far the attendance has been about 100 per cent. The rules and by-laws contain a provision that if a member is absent from two meetings without a reasonable excuse he shall be fined $1. The penalty for breaking any of the rules or for unprofessional conduct is heavily penalized, and if the penalty is not paid, expulsion from the association is enforced.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS.

The Foresters' entertainment at the Great Eastern hall last evening was a very large and successful event. A number of the guests came from the West End and from uptown.

The funeral of Mrs. Jens Daugaard will be held from the German Lutheran church on Raleigh street tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The foundation work has been started for the new office and factory building that is to be erected on Central avenue for J. A. Scott and Charles Sliger.

The West Duluth fraternal organizations that formerly held lodge rooms in the Odd Felolws' hall are moving into the new Wieland & Wade building. Among the organizations now moving are the K. of P., the Independent Foresters, the Odd Fellows and the Orange ladies. About one organization will be left in the old hall.

Joseph Nelson left this morning for a business visit at Proctorknott.

Louis Foucault is spending several days on his chicken farm near Smithville, fixing up the fences.

Dr. A. F. Huntoon has moved his office from the Home building into the Woodward building.

Miss Emma Emard returned yesterday from a visit at Minneapolis, Chicago and the East.

Miss Flossie Dyer has returned from a visit at St. Paul.

Mrs. Dr. Budd has returned from a trip at Two Harbors.

EVANS

Will Assume Command of Asiatic Station In October.

Washington, Sept. 10.—It was announced at the navy department today that Rear Admiral Frederic Rodgers will turn over the command of the Asiatic station to Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans at Yokohama about Oct. 29 and that Admiral Rodgers then will sail for the United States aboard his flagship, the New York, coming across the Pacific to San Francisco, instead of through the Suez. Upon her arrival in this country, it is understood the New York will be attached to the North Pacific squadron and Rear Admiral Rodgers will assume command of the navy yard.

A permanent assignment of the New York to the Pacific station will keep her from participating in the joint maneuvers of the North Atlantic, South Atlantic and European squadrons in the Caribbean next winter. The New York will bring to the United States a number of officers who are to be relieved of their duties on the Asiatic station.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Man and Woman Struck By Train and Unhurt.

St. Paul, Sept. 10.—A special to the Dispatch from La Crosse, Wis., says: The Burlington limited, southbound, last night, going at high speed, struck a buggy containing George Dittman and Lucille Seistad, killing the horse, demolishing the buggy and hurling the occupants down a twenty-foot embankment unhurt, except that Dittman has lost all recollection of any events that took place before the accident for some days back.

BURGESS BOAT

May Be Built at Boston to Defend Cup.

Hoston, Sept. 10.—The Herald says that in view of the fact that a challenge for the America's cup for next year is practically assured and a challenger is to be built by Sir Thomas Lipton on the other side, there is a movement on foot for the Boston cup defender to be designed by W. Starling Burgess.

A number of prominent yachtsmen have interested themselves, and it looks as if money enough would be forthcoming to place a Burgess designed boat in the field against the creation of the Herreshoffs or any other designed.

BURGLARS IN MISSOURI.

St. Louis, Sept. 10.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Miami, Mo., says burglars robbed the postoffice there of $90 in money and stamps last night, and also entered the Miami savings bank and broke open the door of the vault, but were unable to open the safe. All the private boxes in the vault were robbed, however, but the extent of the loss is unknown.

CANDIDATES AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION.

For Auditor.

ODIN HALDEN—The present county auditor, announces that he is a candidate for renomination at the hands of the Republican voters of St. Louis county at the primary election to be held Sept. 16. During his services as county auditor he has made a record as a careful, conservative and reliable official, one who has done what he thought to be right without fear or favor, and in asking the voters to support him at the primary election he rests his claims for support upon that record.

For Register of Deeds.

L. M. JOHNSON is a candidate for Register of Deeds. He is a member of the Typographical union, and is prominent in the West End of the city. He is a Swedish-American, and if nominated will bring strength to the ticket.

County Supt. of Schools.

SUPERINTENDENT ANDREW T. PARK asks your vote, Sept. 16, to make him the Republican nominee for county superintendent of schools.

BERT N. WHEELER, son of H. W. Wheeler, of Oneota, has resigned his position as principal of the Bryant school to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for county superintendent. His acquaintance with the needs of the schools fits him for the position. If nominated and elected he will do his duty.

W. H. STULTZ, with many years' experience in the school room, seeks the Republican nomination for county superintendent.

For Sheriff.

JOHN T. ARMSTEAD is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff at the coming primary election, and solicits the favor of voters on the ground that he always has been a consistent Republican.

JOHN R. MEINING is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and solicits the votes and support of all Republicans on his record as a persistent worker for the party and competent business man.

OLE LARSON is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and is the choice of the labor oranizations for this office. Vote for him Sept. 16.

WILLIAM J. BATES, of Duluth, at the earnest and long-continued solicitation of his friends, has become a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff of St. Louis county, and has resigned as deputy sheriff to enter the race. If he is nominated and elected he will devote his personal work to the discharge of the duties of the office, something that has not heretofore been done.

JOHN A. HEALY, of Hibbing, announces himself as a candidate at the primary election for the Republican nomination for sheriff and solicits the support of Republicans throughout the county. He is a successful business man and is unqualifiedly endorsed by the leading Republicans of the Mesaba. He has served four years as deputy sheriff, with credit.

For County Commissioner.

LOUIS R. HELBING announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in the Second district. If nominated and elected, he pledges himself to devote his attention to a careful, economical and judicious administration of the county's funds, that the best results for the people may be secured with a minimum expenditure of public money.

For Congress.

M. L. FAY, of Virginia, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth district, subject to the decision of the voters at the primaries, Sept. 16. Capt. Fay has been a resident of the district for a number of years, and his record as a citizen and a Democrat is well known. He is especially well known in St. Louis county, having been a large employer of labor on the Mesaba range in St. Louis county and Itasca county. He has the respect of the men that have worked for him, and the consideration of his business associates and acquaintances, and if nominated and elected he promises to work for the best interests of the district.

For Representative.

RAY T. LEWIS announces himself to the voters as candidate for the Republican nomination for representative for the Fiftieth district. He asks your votes and support on Sept. 16.

For State Senator Fifty-First District.

HON. GEORGE R. LAYBOURN is a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator from the Fifty-first district, which he has ably served three terms as representative. His work and standing in the legislature reflect credit upon himself and his constituents, and his nomination as state senator will be only a well deserved promotion. Vote for him on Sept. 16th.

ON THE LINKS.

Initial Play Begins In Western Golf Championship.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Initial play in the qualifying round for the Western amateur golf championship was begun early today on the links of the Chicago Golf club at Wheaton. Much interest centers about the competition for the George R. Thorne trophy, which is now held by Western Champion P. B. Hoyt, eighty-five of the best players of the crack Western clubs being entered for the event. The only prominent player who will not come is National Champion Louis James, who is at Princeton.

The qualifying round today was at medal play, 36 holes. A gold medal is the prize to the player making the lowest score in the qualifying round. It is probable that double hoxey—82 both out and in—will take the medal and that all scores up to double 91 will qualify. Thirty-two players with lowest scores today will play off Thursday and Friday at 18 holes, and the two survivors will play in the finals Saturday at 36 holes. The Wheaton course is in excellent condition and the weather favors snappy playing.

CREW DESERTED.

Fourteen Leave the Ship, County of Edinborough.

San Francisco, Sept. 10.—Alleging hardships the sailors of the British ship County of Edinburgh, which is in quarantine, have deserted. The ship was taken to Port Costa and no sooner was the vessel docked than her crew of fourteen men went ashore in a body, in thus voluntarily deserting the ship they relinquished all claims to nine months' wages. The British consul vainly tried to induce the men to return to the ship.

STRATTON WORSE.

The Colorado Millionaire Is Much Weaker.

Colorado Springs, Sept. 10.—The condition of W. S. Stratton, the millionaire mining man of this city, who has been ill for several weeks, has taken a turn for the worse. A consultation of physicians was called at 1 o'clock this morning and they authorized the statement that Mr. Stratton's condition was critical. He has been afflicted with liver trouble for several years and has recently suffered an acute attack of stomach and bowel trouble that has weakened him exceedingly. The physicians do not say the attack is fatal.

SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO.

Tailored and Walking Suits.

Charmingly new the first whisperings of tailor fashions for fall. Jackets are nearly all skirted, the postilion back has grown in prominence and favor. For walking suits there is no style better than the Norfolk and Hunting Coat effects. The jacket, semi-fitting, slips on and off readily over the dress; waist of woolen, cotton or velvet, the trim, chic effect which one looks for in a street suit is very much in evidence in these box-plaited Norfolks. We have some very beautiful walking suits at $17.50, made of fancy English cheviots, richly tailored.

And some choice styles in dress suits in a variety of materials at $16.50, $18.50 and $21.

We direct attention to our lines of—

Ready for fall dresses and dressmaking?

Everything you want—everything needed is here, and in such variety as can only be found at the S. & B. Co.'s store. Dress Trimmings, Fancy Buttons, Novelties to help trim up the gown; besides our very large and beautiful lines of High Class Dress Goods and Silks—pre-eminently superior in quality, assortment and price to anything shown at the head of the lakes—the very recent arrivals together with earlier invoices make our present stock very complete—New fabrics—novelties.

ZIBELINES in the plain and fancy effects, some quite rough, others very close clipped and silky, are taking a front rank among fashion's favorites for dressy street wear. They come in a full line of colors and black at from 85c to $3.00 the yard.

TWEEDS for plain Tailor-Suits and walking skirts are among the most desirable among the new wearers—They come in little snowflake effects, pepper-and-salt patterns, and invisible plaids, at from $1.50 to $2.25 the yard.

CANVAS GRANITES especially in black are much sought for by good dressers. There are a number of styles ranging from the very light weight to the very heavy, and are priced from 59c to $2.50 the yard.

CREPE DE PARIS will undoubtedly take the lead for very dressy gowns, suitable for reception and evening wear. The range of colors is very extensive including everything from black to the very light evening tints. They sell at $2.00 and $2.50 the yard—

MISTRAL CLOTH of the Etamine family, made of mohair and wool, is a fabric suited to both dressy wear and hard usage; that is for either house and street wear—A non-crushable nor sullable weave, and a great favorite—comes in all colors and black—sells at from 75c to $2.50 the yard—

BROAD CLOTHS will be asked for by many refined dressers. There is a richness and stateliness in a broad cloth equaled by no other fabric. We are showing a very complete line of colors and qualities at from $1 to $3.25 the yard—

Black Dress Goods.

CHEVIOTS—The indications point very strongly toward Cheviots as the proper material for street wear. In no fabric is utility and style so happily blended. We are showing a greater variety of qualities and better values than were ever offered in this market before.

50-inch EXTRA WEIGHT, 75c THE YARD—strictly all wool the best cheviot value ever offered and worth $1.00 the yard. Tomorrow's special price—75c a yard.

Black Taffetas—

BLACK TAFFETA—We direct the attention of our patrons to our stock of Black Taffetas, which is larger in variety of kinds and surpasses in quality any of our previous season's efforts. Not only that, but we have taken special pains to gather together several special lines that are popular among our trade. We have here now a special Black Taffeta with our name woven in the selvage of every yard, that we absolutely guarantee as being the best value in Black Taffeta that we know of at the present time. It is 23 inches wide and is particularly good for skirts, waists or petticoats—$1 yard.

Buy Fine Furs Now!

Have you seen our fine stock this season? Nothing to surpass it in the entire West. Some—larger city—stores may show more garments of any one kind, but no better assortment or better qualities. Our fur business has been growing larger and larger each year. This year it is the best and largest it has ever been. Buying furs is like buying diamonds or other precious stones—you must have confidence in the store—you must know their reputation for selling high grade goods is first-class—you must go to a safe store and take no chances.

Every Fur Garment or fur piece leaves this establishment with our full guarantee for quality and wear. This is a very favorable time to buy furs. The selections now are at their best, and the prices in many cases lower than they will be when the real cold weather sets in. We are taking orders now on fine Alaska Seal, Otter and Persian Lamb coats at a saving of 20 to 30 per cent under the usual fur store prices.

JACKETS made out of good quality Alaska Seal, perfect in fit and style—$200 to $250. JACKETS made from the very best quality Alaska skins, $300. This is a garment you can not duplicate anywhere less than $325. It will pay you to look at them.

The S. & B. new 19-in. Blouse Jackets made expressly for us in all furs—Seal, Persian, Broad Tail, Astrachan—very stylish and new.

SCARFS—Never was there such a large assortment shown at the head of the lakes in fine neck scarfs. Sable and Isabelle Fox are the popular scarfs. We are showing an extra fine assortment of these from $9.75 to $45.00—muffs to match.

Scarfs in Sable—Blended Stone Marten, Mink, Lynx, Bear, Marten, Sable, Raccoon, Oppossum and Beaver—at from $4.75 to $65.00—and you will find styles that can not be found in any store at the head of the lakes—muffs to match all scarfs.

Walking Skirts.

Walking Skirts have taken a decided turn to dressiness. They have become the street skirt for every day. Longer than usual, too. They escape the ground by an inch, not more. Slot seams are a stylish newness. Yoke effects are a smart embellishment. The fabrics are strapped and tailored to outline these effects over the hips. The flounces are not so much stitched, but more trimmed. New styles are constantly coming in. A few, typical of coming vogue, have been selected for today's brief word:

At $6.75—Fine man-tailored Skirts—the kilt and even-gored styles, all-wool material, in all the new shades. These are perfect-fitting garments and regular $8.75 value.

At $9.75 and $10.50—Our line at these prices are particularly strong—made of all the new mannish materials, in all colors—kilt, box pleated or seven and nine-gored styles—$11.50 and $12.50 values.

At $16.50—A very large and beautiful line of tailor-made Walking Skirts at this price—made of the fine heavy suitings, broadcloths and kersey cloths, in pleated or gored styles, all tailor-stitched. Skirts that cannot be duplicated elsewhere for less than $20.

A TENOR MISSING

Musical and Social Circles Agitated By a Scandal.

Raymond Stephens Goes Suddenly at a Husband's Command.

An Erring Wife Is Also In Temporary Retirement.

Musical circles tremble with another palpitating scandal!

Raymond Stephens, the handsome, heart-shattering tenor, has left the city suddenly—very suddenly.

It is currently reported that the pretty brunette wife of a well-known Duluthian went with him, but, as a matter of fact, she left the city twenty-four hours after Stephens and went in another direction.

Socially, the tenor has been causing joyous feminine matrimonial yearnings and breaking much "china" ever since he came here from Chicago a few months ago.

Recently business necessitated a rather prolonged trip to New York of a certain Duluth man. Mr. Stephens became acquainted with this man's wife, and they were seen in each other's company a great deal.

When the husband returned to Duluth his friends informed him of what was going on and then hurriedly sought places of safety.

The man first sought his wife. Not finding her at home, he went direct to Mr. Stephens' studio in the Columbus block, but could not gain admittance.

He stepped back into the hallway and secreted himself. A few moments afterward the singer softly opened the door and peeped out. The Duluth man butted in and demanded his wife. The tenor said she was not there. The husband pushed him aside and discovered the wife hiding behind the piano.

The husband gave the tenor twelve hours to leave town. He took three.

It is said that the husband requested his wife to make her mother in the southern part of the state a prolonged visit, which she did, and the Guess Again society immediately concluded that it was an elopement.

Stephens appeared here in several public concerts and recently has been engaging prominent local musicians for a light opera he was arranging to present during the winter musical season.

AUGUST RECORD.

One Hundred and Fifteen Children Born In Month.

One hundred and fifteen children were born in Duluth during the month of August.

This is a new monthly record in the birth statistics of the city, and it is probable that this number will be increased when all reports are in.

An unusually large number of babies died during the month—twenty-seven in all. Cholera infantum caused the deaths of eight.

The mortality statistics for August show a total of sixty-eight deaths, apportioned among the various diseases as follows:

Accidents, 8; acute meningitis, 1; acute mania, 1; acute indigestion, 1; cancer of stomach, 1; cerebral abcess, 1; cerebral meningitis, 2; cholera infantum, 8; cholera morbus, 1; chronic pleurisy, 1; consumption, 5; conges on of lungs, 1; dysentery, 1; diphtheria, 2; entero colitis, 4; gastro enteritis, 5; heart disease, 4; peritonitis, 1; intestinal hemorrhage, 4; pneumonia, 2; septicamia, 1; scorbutic enteritis, 1; suicide, 1; typhoid, 1; tuberculosis, 4; old age, 2.

CHIEF JUSTICE

Has No Intention of Retiring From Bench.

New York, Sept. 10.—Hugh C. Wallace, son-in-law of Chief Justice Fuller of the United States supreme court, was asked today whether there was any truth in the report that the chief justice contemplates resigning next winter when he reaches his seventieth year.

Mr. Wallace said: "There is not the slightest foundation for this statement. I have just returned from his summer place in Maine and left the chief justice in perfect health, and although he is sixty-nine years old, he is more vigorous than most men of sixty."

PROCLAMATION BY STONE.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 10.—A proclamation was issued today by Governor Stone recommending that Sunday, Sept. 14, the first anniversary of President McKinley's death, be reverently observed by the people of this state and that memorial services be held in the churches throughout the commonwealth.

Maude Beaumont Trying to Die at Police Headquarters.

Maude Beaumont, scintillating in stolen jewelry and her characteristic sizzling crepons, is trying to die in a cell at police headquarters this afternoon.

She was arrested on the Bowery late last night for robbing the home of Mrs. Anna Peterson, of 28 Ninth avenue east. Mrs. Peterson, not knowing who she was, took her to her home Monday evening and in return for this hospitality Miss Beaumont woke up next morning and stole some of Mrs. Peterson's clothing, jewelry and a revolver.

The police searched for her all day yesterday, and late last night after they had practically given up hope of apprehending her within the city, she turned up on the Bowery and was caught.

During the day she has had about sixteen fits and late this afternoon her illness became so violent that the police hurriedly summoned a physician.

CHEERED SARGENT.

Immigration Commissioner Given Hearty Send-Off.

Chattanooga, Sept. 10.—The only matter brought before this morning's session of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen was the departure of Past Grand Master Frank P. Sargent for Washington to resume his duties as commissioner of immigration. The convention then adjourned for the morning and forming a procession, escorted Mr. Sargent to the depot.

As the train left the station cheers for the grand master were given, and he responded with a wave of the hand from the rear platform of his car.

RUSSELL SAGE ILL.

New York, Sept. 10.—Russell Sage became ill at his office today and went to his town house, where his physician attended him. At Mr. Sage's office it was said his illness was not serious.

FIRE AT OTTAWA, KAN.

Ottawa, Kan., Sept. 10.—The new building of the Ottawa university was burned this morning, entailing a loss of $50,000. The university was to have opened today and hundreds of students were here ready to enter. There is no definite theory as to the origin of the fire. The building will be rebuilt.

LIKE A PROVIDENCE.

A Floating Box Changed a Man's Life.

Things drift into our lives in a curious way. A man was visiting the seashore while an invalid and one day a little empty Grape-Nut box floated to him. The food facts he learned, changed his whole life—but let him tell his story:

"The doctors said it was acute indigestion or gastritis. There was really nothing that I could eat and enjoy, and when one cannot enjoy his meals, he may as well be dead. There was a time when I could eat and digest anything, but for two years previous to last spring I was in a wretched state. I tried everything I heard of, took all kinds of medicine, almost enough to float a ship, but with no lasting purpose.

"Last spring I had to give up work and went to Atlantic City. One day while strolling along the beach, I noticed a box being tossed about on the breakers and finally thrown up on the sand. I sat down on the sand and looked at it idly at first, but after reading a few words on the box, I got interested. It told how Grape-Nuts food was prepared and all its good qualities, and I made up my mind then and there that I would try it.

"I have not taken a drop of medicine from that day to this, but used about a half package of Grape-Nuts each day for two months. Then I gradually began eating meat and vegetables and fruit, and now I can eat anything I care to without it distressing me, but I still cling to Grape-Nuts food, as I am fond of it prepared in various ways, and never a day passes that I don't have it in some form.

"After the first two months of using Grape-Nuts I weighed myself every fifteen days, and found I gained from three to five pounds each time. I have been working every day since, and can say I never felt better. Thanks to Grape-Nuts, I now have an appetite like a billy goat and am no more troubled with a bad stomach.

"I wish I could talk with everyone troubled as I was. I know a good many people say, 'Oh, I've tried everything. I am tired of trying,' etc., but I say, 'Don't give up until you try Grape-Nuts food and you will not regret it.'" Name given by Postum company, Battle Creek, Mich.

APPEAL

By Director Phelps on Behalf of the Normal School.

To the Editor of The Herald:

After months and years of labor, trial and tribulation, the state normal school in this city has been opened. The preparations for this event have been scant because the means provided therefor have been meager. The building is about half stocked with furniture and other equipments. That is because the legislature of two years ago provided about half the means required to do it with. But the school is organized and the course of instruction has been commenced. There are, in round numbers, about 100 students and pupils of the several grades in attendance and there are well-qualified teachers to carry forward the work of the classes. The most formidable obstacles in the way of success are domestic rather than educational. Many of the accomplished teachers even have up to this time been unable to secure suitable places for boarding. Some of them are compelled to room in one place and obtain meals in another. These are not ideal domestic arrangements for refined and cultured persons acustomed to the comforts of home life in the large cities of the East and elsewhere. The same difficulties are encountered by students from points outside of the city, and this fact has been heretofore several times pointed out. There is therefore strong reason for an appeal to the hospitable and patriotic sentiments of the people of Duluth to come to the support of this important institution.

Without comfortable and pleasant homes teachers cannot and will not remain with us. Without similar environments the students from without will scatter and go where more favorable conditions prevail. Can the people of Duluth contemplate these possibilities, nay probabilities, without an effort, such as becomes a hospitable city, to avert such a misfortune. The prosperity of an institution of this kind largely depends upon the presence of a loyal and friendly feeling among the surrounding community. I do not hesitate to express the conviction that the success or failure of this great educational experiment depends more upon the active, hearty, persistent support of our people than upon any other one condition; and in no other way at the present juncture can that support be more effectually rendered than by opening the doors of their hearts and homes to the "strangers within their gates." If this be not done, and done soon, it will be proof positive that Duluth does not deserve the prize that has been won by so much labor and sacrifice. Very respectfully,

WILLIAM F. PHELPS,
Resident Director.

Duluth, Sept. 10.

A SWEET AFFAIR.

Eighteen Western Candy Houses Enter Combine.

New York, Sept. 10.—A combinatio.. of candy manufacturers just incorporated in New Jersey under the name of the National Candy company, with a capital of $9,000,000, will, according to the Journal of Commerce, embrace eighteen Western candy houses, having an annual output, as claimed by the promoters of nearly 10,000,000 pounds of confectionary, mostly of the cheaper grades. The corporation comprises concerns at Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Buffalo, Detroit, Indianapolis, Louisville, Minneapolis, Grand Rapids and one or two other Western cities. O. H. Peckham, of St. Louis, will probably be president, and Senator Eckert of Cincinnati chairman of the executive committee.

DISAPPRVOED.

President Overrules Verdict In Case of Capt. Ryan.

Washington, Sept. 10.—It was announced at the war department today that the president has disapproved the proceedings and findings in the case of Capt. James A. Ryan, Fifteenth cavalry, who was tried by a general court-martial at Manila on the charge of conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline. There were two specifications under the charge. The first alleged that Capt. Ryan, while commanding a detachment of troops at Jiminez, Mindanao, and having in his charge as a prisoner, Uvaldo Abing, presidente of the Pueblo of Jiminez, administered the water cure to him for the purpose of extorting information.

The second specification alleged that Capt. Ryan ill-treated one Louis Girneno, vice presidente of the pueblo of Jiminez, a prisoner in his charge at Jiminez, by holding his head in a bucket of water.

The record shows that Capt. Ryan pleaded not guilty to the specifications and the charge, and that the court found him "not guilty" on the first specification, "guilty" of the second specification, attaching no criminality thereto, and "not guilty" of the charge. The court therefore acquitted Capt. Ryan.

The court-martial in this case was appointed by the president. The record of the proceedings of the court having been submitted to the president, he endorsed it simply as follows:

"The proceedings and findings in the foregoing case of Capt. James A. Ryan, Fifteenth regiment of cavalry, are disapproved.

LAID TO REST.

Last Rites Over Remains of Late William Roach.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The brief ceremony of blessing the dead was held over the remains of the late Senator William N. Roach, of North Dakota, at St. Patrick's church this morning and the remains were interred later at the congressional cemetery. Rev. Father Dolan of St. Patrick's was the celebrant at the services and the church was crowded. Senator-elect Gorman, of Maryland, and ex-Senator Butler, of South Carolina, were the honorary pall bearers. The service at the congressional cemetery was very brief, consisting merely of the ceremony of consecration of the grave.

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL

Services Are Endorsed All Over the Country.

Cincinnati, Sept. 10.—Additional responses to the Times-Star inquiries have today been received from governors, members of congress, church dignitaries and others, endorsing the movement for McKinley memorial services in the churches next Sunday. Rev. John M. Schick, president Roosevelt's pastor at Washington, and Rev. Frederick M. Bristol, pastor of the church McKinley formerly attended in Washington, both telegraph that they would speak on the life and character of McKinley next Sunday. Archbishop Elder today directed that on next Sunday after high mass the litany of the saints be publicly recited in commemoration of the occasion.

Were Emperor William's Guests After Prince's Banquet.

Frankfort-on-the-Oder, Germany, Sept. 10.—Emperor Williams guests were a tired and rather haggard lot this morning. Prince Albrecht, as the emperor's representative, entertained all of them at dinner last evening, and it was toward 12 when the party broke up. At 3 a. m., or 3:30, they had themselves called, the emperor having directed that the battle begin at 7. The field of the maneuvers is situated quite a distance by rail from here, and the princes and generals had to assemble at the station at 6:30 a. m. to catch the special train. Even then the emperor was ahead of them.

Tons of gunpowder were burned today. Sixty thousand infantry and 200 pieces of artillery were in action.

Emperor William, Maj. Gen. Corbin, Maj. Gen. Young, Brig. Gen. Wood and Roberts, Gen. French and the other visitors and the numerous staff, in all 100 horsemen, looked on from a hilltop midway between a portion of the hostile lines.

During a wait of three-quarters of an hour for the return of the special train, Lord Roberts and Gens. Young and Wood talked most of the time together.

Emperor William will camp with the cavalry tonight, occupying a wooden pavilion especially constructed for him.

Nominated By Democrats For Governor of New Hampshire.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 10.—With the opening of the Democratic state convention here today, there were two candidates in the field for the nomination for governor. The friends of ex-Mayor Nathaniel A. Martin, of this city, together with other elements of the party opposed to the nomination of John M. Mitchell, of Concord, decided last night to concentrate all the opposition to Mitchell in favor of one candidate and Henry F. Hollis, of Concord, chairman of the state committee, was settled upon to lead the opposition to Mr. Mitchell.

In his speech, which was somewhat remarkable for its partial endorsement of some of the acts of President Roosevelt, Chairman Clarence E. Carr demanded the right of suffrage for women, local option, reciprocity with Cuba, change in the tariff, the restriction of trusts and self-government for the Philippines.

The platform demands the immediate abolition of all tariffs upon trust-made articles, the most stringent enforcement of all existing laws against trusts; the passage of new laws to supplement existing statutes of this nature and especially prohibiting corporations and trusts, other than banks and insurance companies, from holding stock in other corporations, demands lower duties upon the necessaries of life; free trade with our insular possessions and a gradual reduction in all tariffs "until the revenue is reduced to the needs of an economical requirement of the government," opposes all subsidies to shipping or other special interests, demands an immediate declaration of the purpose of the United States to give the Filipinos, at an early date complete home rule and entire independence, and calls for an immediate and substantial reduction of the tariff on Cuban imports by reciprocity treaty or otherwise.

Henry F. Hollis, of Concord, was nominated for governor. Hollis received 251 votes against 146 cast for Mitchell. A plank in the platform favoring woman suffrage was voted down.

PROCLAMATION

By Governor Van Sant For McKinley Memorial.

St. Paul, Sept. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Van Sant today issued the following proclamation:

"In common with the executives of other states of the Union, I desire to call attention to the fact that Sunday, Sept. 14, will be the first anniversary of the death of our late and lamented president, William McKinley. The people of America revere his memory and hold in grateful recollection his great and patriotic life. A tribute to his memory will always find ready response in every true American heart. In recognition of his exalted life and great achievements, I earnestly urge on the above named day memorial services be held at the usual hour of worship in the churches of all denominations throughout the state, and that we then seek the inspiration which is given by the pure Christian life and character of our departed president."

FINE FAIR.

Carlton County Expects to Have a Great Exhibition.

Premium lists for the Carlton county fair to be held at Barnum Sept. 16, 17 and 18 are out, and the prospects are that this ever-successful and ever-popular fair will be more successful and more popular this year than ever before.

No efforts are being spared to make it so. There will be a fuller exhibit of the county's products, equine, bovine, agricultural, domestic, etc., than ever before. There will be balloonists to ascend, to the admiration of the crowds, a man and a woman having been retained to make perilous ascents during the fair.

Besides the varied exhibits, there will be spirited speed contests for liberal purses, and a large string of fast horses is expected to be there to compete for the prizes. Reduced railroad rates have been secured on the railroad, and it is expected that the fair will be very largely attended from Carlton and other counties.

J. S. Goodell is president of the Fair association, and to those who have seen the Barnum fair before, that is information enough. Mr. Goodell has had a large experience in managing successful Barnum fairs, and he has shown an ability to learn from each year's success how to make next year's still more pronounced. He has able assistance in his secretary, J. D. Connor.

RELEASED TOO LATE.

Frank Elliott Could Not Attend Father's Funeral.

Frank Elliott, held to the grand jury on the charge of forgery, was released from the county jail yesterday just thirty-six hours too late to attend the funeral of his father, who died at La Crosse.

The old gentleman passed away without the stinging knowledge that his son was confined in a prison cell, charged with forgery.

Elliott was arrested seven weeks ago and held to the grand jury. He was accused of endorsing another man's name on a check. No true bill was returned against him by the grand jury, and he was released yesterday. His old father died at La Crosse Sunday and was buried Monday.

The man in the jail was told of the death of his father, his brother breaking the news. However, the son had not communicated with his folks for some time, and rather than have them learn that he had been in jail he chose to remain away. He passed out of the county jail yesterday happy at the thought of being released, sad to think that his father was no more. Elliott is a sawmill sawyer, and his father is said to have been one of the largest dealers in lumber in the state of Wisconsin a few years ago.

County Attorney McClintock said that had he known that Elliott wished to attend the funeral of his father he would have been released a day earlier.

FAVORS THE LAW.

P. E. Dowling Believes In the Primary Election.

P. E. Dowling, of Eveleth, Republican candidate for the house of representatives in the Forty-ninth district, who was not in the city when the expressions of opinion on the primary election law were gathered for publication in The Herald last evening, was in the city today and gave the following opinion:

"Yes, I am in favor of the primary law. It is the people's privilege, the machine's death knell. The primary law stimulates American citizenship, gives incentive to the voter, and makes him a partner in things political in the county, state and nation. It will, of course, require amendment, where weaknesses are found, but the principle is right."

BACK FROM THE RANGE.

Sheriff Sargent Will Return to Duluth Thursday.

Sheriff Sargent, who has been conducting his energetic campaign on the Mesaba range so far this week, will be back in Duluth tomorrow morning, and the balance of the time intervening between then and the primaries he will put in at hard work in this city. Reports from the Mesaba range are that he has been meeting with the same hearty reception there that he did in Duluth and on the Vermilion range, and that he found most of his old friends, except a few that are running for sheriff themselves, lined up as solidly as ever.

Mr. Sargent's campaign has been a remarkable one, and those who had imagined that he was physically incapable, because of his recent illness, from putting up a hard fight, have been disappointed. He has made one of the most vigorous campaigns of his life, and with greater results than any other campaign. The sentiment that he has the nomination is becoming settled, and prophecies are now being made that he will get more votes than all the others put together.

FATAL RESULT

Of Forcing a Boy to Go to School.

New York, Sept. 10.—Rather than go to the schoolhouse, which he loathed, Michael Balto, 9 years of age, jumped from the fire escape of his home in the rear of 123 Henry street, and received injuries from which he will die.

"I won't go!" he cried, stamping his feet, when his mother insisted that he must spend a few more years in school. He said he would go to work and bring home all his earnings. He would do anything rather to suffer the confinement of a schoolroom, which "smothered him," he said. His mother was obdurate.

The boy ran away and sneaked back home this morning, when the pangs of hunger proved too great to be resisted. His mother met him at the door and told him he could have some breakfast if he would be good and go to school. The boy returned surly answers. She sprang to reach him, but he eluded her and ran out on the fire escape, sprang from the window and threw himself to the pavement of the yard, three stories below.

Don't delay a minute. Cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea come suddenly. Only safe plan is to have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry always on hand.

THE BIBLICAL RULE.

Church Elder Who Turned the Other Cheek.

Hereford, Pa., Sept. 10.—John G. Frankenfield, a blacksmith and an elder in a church near here, Sunday acted upon Biblical advice in a startling manner. While reading the Bible at family prayers, he read the sermon on the mount, including the command "If a man smite thee on the cheek turn to him the other also," and having closed the Bible, prepared for church. As he stepped from the door, a tramp asked for food. Mr. Frankenfield returned to the kitchen and secured some sandwiches. There he offered to the man.

"I want coffee," insisted the tramp.

"You cannot have it," said Mr. Frankenfield, and the tramp, in return for his kindness, struck him on the cheek. Remembering the Bible admonition, Mr. Frankenfield turned the other cheek and said: "Strike me again."

The tramp did so. Without any further delay than to place his hymn book on a chair, Mr. Frankenfield resented the assault and thrashed the fellow until, bleeding and blackened, he ran away, upon which Mr. Frankenfield proceeded peaceably to church.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WORKING ACTIVELY

Commercial Bodies All Over the Country Are Vigorous.

Next Meeting of Duluth Club to Be Important.

Many Matters of Direct Local Interest Coming Up.

"This is a year of remarkable activity among commercial organizations all over the country," remarked Secretary Preston of the Commercial club of Duluth yesterday afternoon.

"There is scarcely a day passes but that one or more communications are received from commercial clubs in some other city in the country asking about the organization in this city. The request is usually for a copy of the by-laws and for an outline of the work the club is accomplishing. Many requests are made of the club here for the indorsement of some project that another organization has under way, and for which it desires to memorialize congress or create public sentiment.

"A few days ago I received a letter from the Commercial club at Fort William, Ont. The secretary said he had heard that there was a commercial club organized here, and that he understood its name to be the Hundred Thousand club. He evidently got the name confused with that of the West Superior organization. The Fort William commercial organization has heard of the efforts of the Duluth club along the line of better reciprocal relations with Canada, and asked for information regarding this."

A recent article in the Commercial West, a lively publication from Minneapolis that is devoted to the interests of the West, contains an excellent digest of the work of the Duluth Commercial club, which it characterizes as a lively organization, and gives the club some good free advertising.

The next meeting of the club will take place one week from this evening, and there are many matters of importance to come up, particularly in the line of reports and recommendations from various committees. It is understood that there will be some particularly live matter in the report that will be made regarding the better lighting of streets, and some things will be developed that are not generally known by the public. The agitation for better lighted streets is creating no small stir among the business interests in the city.

The committee that was appointed some days ago to investigate the complaint regarding inadequate mail service between Duluth and points west and north of Grand Forks has been augmented by the appointment of ex-Governor John Miller and George W. Boyden, traffic manager for the Stone-Ordean-Wells company. The committee is taking the matter up with the postal authorities and the railroad company, and favorable results are expected. Postmaster Fisher says that he has made arrangements so that the mail for points west and north of Grand Forks will be transferred to the respective trains from the Duluth train at Grand Forks, providing the train from Duluth is on time. There is but 15 and 25 minutes to make the transfer if the train is on time, and there is a general impression that perhaps the train is apt to be late rather than on time.

Secretary Preston has received from H. H. Rosseau, civil engineer in the United States navy and a member of the naval board visiting Duluth in quest of a site for a naval school, an acknowledgment of the receipt of the resolutions passed by the trans-Mississippi commercial congress, indorsing Duluth as a location. Mr. Rosseau states that the resolutions will be given due consideration.

Conditions relative to the arrangements made between members of the Commercial club and the railroad companies as to the privileges that were to be extended to the people from points west of Duluth, in visiting Duluth, to or from their way to the state fair, were not exactly satisfactory. This was not due to any misunderstanding with the railroad company, or refusal on their part to live up to the agreement that the state fair tickets would be good by the way of Duluth, providing the holder paid the difference of the fare between Duluth and St. Paul. The trouble seems to be due to a neglect on the part of the companies to give their station agents and conductors proper notification of the agreement. Several instances have developed where people who were sent circulars by the Commercial club, stating that they could visit the fair going or coming by way of Duluth were turned down by the station a gents in their home towns. They claim that the agents said the tickets would not be good by way of Duluth. It is also reported that the conductors on the trains coming this way refused to honor the tickets, on the ground they had received no notice of any arrangement whereby the state fair tickets could travel by way of Duluth.

It seems that matters were somewhat straightened out by the time the fair was over, for some of the local jobbing houses report the visit of a number of the Western Minnesota customers within the past few days, on their way home from the fair.

Humane Officer Withrow left last evening for Philadelphia, where he will attend the national convention of prison officials. He carried with him an urgent invitation from the Commercial club, of Duluth, to hold their next convention in the city.

The persistent rumor that the Gustavus Adolphus college, at St. Peter, Minn., of the Swedish Lutheran denomination, is to seek another location, probably St. Paul or Minneapolis, has been an incentive to the Commercial club to renew its efforts to land the college for this city. Secretary Preston has opened a correspondence with the directors of the college, and has presented to the consideration of the directors a very favorable proposition, one that should cause them to give Duluth serious consideration.

The Immigration Restriction league has sent to the Commercial club a request for the indorsement by the local organization of a set of resolutions to be sent congress asking for stricter immigration laws, and emphasizing the importance of the illiteracy test. The communication states that the league urges the need of a further sifting out of the undesirable elements of our present immigration and the advantage of the educational test for accomplishing this result. It claims that the movement has been indorsed by commercial bodies in many cities of the country. The letter calls attention to the demand for farm labor in the West, and says that a large part of the immigration now coming in, and practically the only immigration which would be excluded by the proposed bill, does not go to the West or the South, but settles in the Eastern states, and largely near the great cities. Appended to the communication is a small pamphlet giving data regarding immigration, collected from official sources.

DEFENSE

Of the 400 By Member of Famous Philadelphia Family.

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—Miss Sarah Biddle, daughter of the late Thomas Biddle, and a member of Philadelphia's famous family, has written a book in defense of "Socity."

Her book is called "Letters of an American, Concerning Love and Other Subjects."

The book deals with fashionable life in New York, Atlantic City and abroad and is a good answer to Henry Watterson's recent bitter attack on the "400."

"Some of the shocking attacks written nowadays against what is termed the 400, are most unjust and uncalled for," says Miss Biddle. "A member of this so-called 400, this charmed circle can say that there are to be met refined men and women who abhor coarse notoriety and ostentatious display of wealth. They are people of education and high moral tone.

"Among these people one finds the true gentleman and true lady clinging tenaciously and proudly to their ancestry, but most willing to open their doors to any who have earned the right of entrance. This right is the reward of natural, noble true-heartedness, a badge of real gentility and brains.

"This is the true 400, and one does not find drinking to excess, foul speaking, or those who simply live for the dollar made. Today one sees fortunes made in a year, a month, and even in a few days. This is often done by the quick-witted American who leaves himself no time for study and culture. So he is debarred from that class of men and women who have either inherited from their forefathers the manners of the truly high bred, or have educated themselves to this point.

"Not even the countries of the Old World can show to the world a nobler or finer set of men and women than those who belong in the truest sense of the word if one may use such a term in this republic, to the aristocracy of America.

"It is well said that money is the god of the American people, and for it they would sell their souls. But whom are these people made up of? Not of the aristocracy of America, composed of the old families of the land. Many are newly risen from no social position at all save that of wealth. This is to their credit, when they learn the manners and ways of refined society.

"In 'real society' one meets quiet, refined men and women; to know them is a privilege and an education. Into this domain no questionable class can enter. They know no '400,' where virtue and intellectuality do not constitute the highest badge of man and woman. To any worthy of it, the badge is willingly given."

IDEALLY LOCATED

Is Camp Roosevelt For the Coming Grand Army Reunion.

Expected to Be Largest Gathering of Old Soldiers.

One Large Tent Capable of Holding Four Thousand People.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Camp Roosevelt, which will be located on the white lot, south of the executive mansion, and known as Grand Army place, during the last national encampment in Washington ten years ago, is to represent a great military post during the coming encampment. It is ideally located for this purpose, and Col. McElroy, who is chairman of the committee on reunions, and his assistants, have improved every moment of the time since an organization was effected in perfecting plans for this great gathering of men, who thirty-seven years ago laid down their muskets and went to their homes.

Believing that this will be the largest gathering of old soldiers in the history of the Grand Army of the Republic, the reunion committee has made elaborate preparations for entertaining them in true military fashion, the corps being the unit. The corps was the military home. It clothed and fed the soldiers who comprised it, and was the unit for all operations.

The various corps were organized, for the most part, with three divisions, each division containing three brigades and each brigade consisting of three regiments, making forty-five regiments to a corps, to which was added about nine batteries of light artillery. But this was adhered to only as a general rule, and was varied at times to meet temporary exigencies. The greatest variation occurred in the brigades, the depletion at times of some regiments, making additional ones necessary to keep up the proper effective strength.

In 1863 the regiments of cavalry were organized into a corps by themselves. Prior to that time each corps was accompanied by a brigade of cavalry regiments.

Batteries of light artillery, organized in brigades of about five batteries each, were attached to each corps, in addition to which the Army of the Potomac had an artillery reserve consisting of five brigades, twenty-one batteries in all.

Prior to the adoption of corps organizations the various armies of the Union consisted of divisions numbered in the order of their formation. This plan was adhered to in the Western armies until December, 1862. The Army of the Ohio contained several divisions, each division containing three brigades. But the exigencies of the gigantic conflict demanded heavier fighting units, and in 1863 the Western armies took the field with corps organizations similar to those which Gen. McClellan had instituted in the Army of the Potomac, and which were retained during the remainder of the war.

The corps badges, which will be conspicuous during the encampment and which will be placed upon the front of the corps tents at Camp Roosevelt, were not adopted until the spring of 1863. The Army of the Potomac had them immediately, but the Western armies did not adopt them until in 1864, and then they were only partially worn. In some of the corps they were not worn at all, although the emblem was displayed conspicuously on all corps property, such as tents and wagons. Finally the corps badge as an emblem became most popular, and the men delighted in their possession. They were usually stamped upon flannel and were worn on the cap, usually on the crown, which then tilted over the face. They were of different colors, red for the First division, white for the Second and blue for the Third. The idea originated in Kearney's division, when he ordered his own men to wear a diamond-shaped patch of red flannel so that he would be able to distinguish his men if they straggled.

The corps badges that are most familiar because of the distinguished service of these corps in the war of the rebellion are the round badge of the First corps, the trefoil or "ace of clubs" of the Second, the losenge or "patch" of the Third, the triangle of the Fourth, the Maltese cross of the Fifth, the Greek cross of the Sixth, the Crescent of the Eleventh, the star of the Twelfth and the acorn of the Fourteenth.

Camp Roosevelt has been laid off by Maj. Gilbert Thompson, formerly of the district engineers. In the center is a platform and flagstaff, upon which a flag will be raised at 4:30 o'clock Oct. 6, in the presence of the president of the United States, Gen. Torrance, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the assembled veterans and other guests of the city. The reunion committee hopes to have present to assist in this patriotic exercise an dthe dedication of the camp 1000 school children.

There will be five large tents upon the grounds for the use of the armies and the ex-prisoners of war. About the ellipse will be stationed twenty-five tents for the regular infantry corps. In addition to these will be tents for the cavalry corps of the Army of the Potomac, one for the cavalry of the Western armies, one for the ex-prisoners of war, one for the engineers, telegraph and signal corps; one for the navy, one for the colored troops of the division of the Mississippi, one for the provisional corps of the Army of the Cumberland, one for the Sons of Veterans, one for the Spanish war veterans. With each corps headquarters will be four or five other tents for reunions of divisions, brigades, regiments and other organizations.

On the southern side of the ellipse there will be one large tent, capable of holding 4000 people, which will be known as the "Grant" tent. It is hoped that this will be sufficient for the largest gatherings. On the east side of the ellipse will be the "Meade" tent which will hold about 2000 people. On the west side will be a companion tent, dedicated to Gen. Sherman. Near the north entrance are to be two tents, which will hold about 1000 each, to be known as the Thomas and the Sheridan tents. These will all be well lighted with arc lights, and will have platforms besides seats and benches for the audiences.

The corps headquarters tents will all be floored and furnished with chairs, tables and such other equipment as the particular committee may desire to place in it.

Conspicuous in front of each tent will be the well-known badge of each corps.

In addition to the arc lights already there, thirty new ones have been placed upon the grounds, so disposed about the circle as to illuminate it brilliantly.

The tents for the Sons of Veterans are just outside of the ellipse, and quarters provide for 1000 members of the organization, who will be fully uniformed and equipped, and who will furnish the garrisons for Camp Roosevelt.

Col. Israel W. Stone, who is vice chairman of the committee on reunions and chairman of the sub-committee on guards and escorts, will have this section under his supervision, and the Sons of Veterans will be under the command of the ranking officer.

There will also be a tent upon the grounds for post 138, of Allegheny, Pa., which will camp there, and there may be other posts which will take advantage of the opportunity to once more enjoy this feature of soldier life. The postoffices will be established in convenient places, and the daily newspapers of Washington will have headquarters there. All correspondents will be welcomed at the general press tent.

The endeavor will be made by all corps chairmen to get prominent speakers for the reunions, but there has been a sad diminution in the ranks of the noted men of the corps, and many of the organizations will be happy if they can have with them a division commander. There will be but two army commanders present, Lieut. Gen. Schofield and Gen. O. O. Howard.

Gen. E. W. Whittaker, chairman of the sub-committee on cavalry corps of the Army of the Potomac, and who was on the staff of Gen. Custer, hopes to have present Gen. Wesley Merritt, who commanded a division in that corps. Gen. W. W. Dudley, chairman of the first corps committee, who commanded a regiment in the famous Iron Brigade, and lost a leg at Gettysburg, has for his vice chairman Maj. R. Halstead, who was on Gen. Doubleday's staff, and by the casualties at Gettysburg on the first day, was left the ranking staff officer. It has no corps commander left among the living. The Second corps has for its chairman Col. M. Emmet Urell, who served in the Eighty-third New York. This corps expects to have present Gen. John C. Caldwell, who is its only division commander left. The Third corps, Maj. A. H. G. Richardson, who served in the Collis Zouaves, chairman will take pride in presenting to the veterans Gen. Daniel Sickles, the ranking major general in the United States army.

The chairmen of the other corps committees are: Fourth corps, Maj. Marion T. Anderson; Fifth corps, W. Howard Gibson; Sixth corps, Capt. H. M. Gilman. This corps hopes to have with it its venerable old commander, Gen. W. B. Franklin. The Seventh corps, Gen. Cyrus Busey, chairman, has in its head a man of more than common renown. He was in command of the Department of Arkansas, and had command of the cavalry in the Shenandoah and at Vicksburg. Eigth corps, Maj. Thomas McKee; Ninth corps, Amos T. Gunning; Tenth corps, Capt. G. M. Husted; Eleventh corps, Capt. Abraham Hart; Twelfth corps, Dr. Lawrence Wilson; Thirteenth corps, Capt. Fletcher White; Fourteenth corps, Capt. Henry A. Castle; Fifteenth corps, Capt. James E. Hart; Sixteenth corps, L. D. Alden; Seventeenth corps, B. F. Chase; Eighteenth corps, Rev. George W. Honey; Twentieth corps, Capt. Nathan Bickford; Twenty-second corps, Capt. M. A. Dillon; Twenty-third corps, Maj. A. F. McMillan; Twenty-fifth corps, J. W. Boucher. Colored troops of the military division of the Mississippi, chairman, Col. Richardson Henderson; cavalry of the military division of the Mississippi, Capt. J. W. Lewis.

Provisional army of the Cumberland, A. S. Taylor; engineer corps, Col. Gilbert Thompson; ex-Prisoners of War, Maj. L. P. Williams; Sons of Veterans, Maj. E. W. Campbell; Spanish War Veterans, Capt. Lee M. Lipscomb.

There will be a perfectly equipped field hospital for emergency cases, which will be in charge of Dr. A. E. Johnson, past surgeon general of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Well shod feet follow straight paths.

Well shod is half the battle—neat, tidy shoes impart an air of "go" to even an other wise unkempt attire. Especially is it true in children's shoes, and, strange to say, in these it's most difficult to get satisfactory wearing qualities. We're giving special attention to boys', girls' and children's shoes and feel sure we have the most satisfactory—all the time—but Glass Block prices, as usual, are lowest. One price to all and marked in plain figures.

"Little gents'" shoes—sizes 8½ to 13½. Made just like papa's, the same shapes—soft, firm box calf vamps and uppers and solid leather extension soles—for Thursday our $1.50 and $1.75 shoes of this class at, per pair ..... $1.39

THE REASON

Why Postoffice Department Has Yearly Deficits.

To the Editor of The Herald:

An argument largely used by many against the government ownership of our railroads is that the postoffice under the same management is a failure in that the yearly deficits run up as high as $10,000,000. Few people, however, are aware of the cause which brings about this leakage; so a few reliable statistics may shed some light on the situation.

In the year 1857 Postmaster General Vilas, in his report to congress, in brief advocated the importance of government ownership of postal cars; in which, he said, "after a careful inquiry, a new 60-foot car equal to the most complete and handsome now in the service, can be built for $4,600." The report further showed, that there were then 342 cars in ordinary use and 90 in reserve, all of which could be probably duplicated for $1,600,000; yet the department was then paying as rent for these cars in addition to eight cents per pound, or at a rate of $160 per ton for carrying the mails—the munificent sum of $1,881,680 per year, which was more than it would cost to manufacture the cars. Again the report of the postmaster general for the year ending June, 1897, shows that the government has paid as rent for cars the enormous sum of $3,361,313.76 and $28,965 763.52, for transportation of the mails. Commenting on this report, the New York World in 1897 said: "The railroads of the United States are defrauding and overcharging the government to the extent of $10,000,000 a year, and this public plundering is going on while statesmen and debaters in Washington are vacantly going about for a means whereby they may avoid a deficit of $8,000,000 a year in running the post office."

Using these data as a guide, is it not plain to every intelligent individual, that the people are being fleeced by the railroads and that with anything like reasonable transportation charges, the post office would meet all expenses, and be ahead, instead of facing a yearly shortage?

The whole question rests in the simple proposition that if the government owned the railroads, all service would be conducted on a cost basis to the public—as it should be—in precisely the same manner that municipal affairs are managed under municipal ownership. On the profit basis, however, the people pay interest at 5 per cent on bonds or mortgages, which for the most part represent the true value of the property, besides an additional interest charge on the stock issue which merely represents speculative value or water. From this it is easily seen that in twenty years the money paid out in interest alone would build and equip all the railroads; and with equal force the same principle extends to all public service and transportation.

To go into further details at this time to illustrate the benefits which would accrue to the public under government ownership, would involve too much space. Emerson said, "Truth is too simple for us; we do not like those who unmask our illusions."

THE WEATHER.

United States Agricultural Department, Weather Bureau, Duluth. Synopsis of weather conditions for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 a. m. (Central time), Sept. 10.—The Saskatchewan "low" has moved to Manitoba and the Ontario "low" has advanced to the North Atlantic coast. The Southwestern "high" has moved to the Ohio valley and another high has appeared over Alberta. It is warmer in the Central West and Northwest and cooler over Alberta and most districts east of the Mississippi river. Showers fell in districts east of the eighty-fifth meridian and at scattered points in Northwest Canada. Fair weather is the rule over most of the United States. The winds in the lake region are fresh southwesterly, but will likely increase in force today.

A New Resource For Cuba.

Heretofore Cuba has been led to believe that her two products, sugar and tobacco, measured about the whole scope of her resources, and in view of the low prices at which they sold, and the shabby treatment by the United States the Cuan farmers were well nigh discouraged. This state of affairs caused some people to try something else. Investigation has shown that sea island cotton can be grown in Cuba of a better quality and of almost double yield to the acre of any other spot on the earth of which there is any record, and the farmer is inspired with new hope. The reason for this immense profit claimed for Cuban cotton is that Cuba produces more cotton to the acre, and of a longer staple, than that produced in any other part of the world. The reasons for the greater production and excessive length of the staple are the length of the season and the humidity which permits it to grow to full maturity. The Cuban congress has a bill before it which will undoubtedly pass. This bill provides for the free admission through the Cuban custom houses of all cotton machinery and the encouragement of the industry in every possible way. Cuba may yet prosper, in spite of all the American congress has done to discourage her.

More Pay For Postal Employes.

Although congress, at its last session, persistently refused to give attention to the appeals of the letter carriers and postoffice clerks for more pay—Chairman Land, of the house committee, believing that the existing salaries were high enough—these employes have not lost hope that their case may yet receive attention. They hope that Postmaster General Payne, in his forth coming report, will express himself in favor of such increase, and if he does the clerks and carriers feel that they will win. In view of the president's order, forbidding government employes from taking the initiative in efforts to have their salaries increased, the postoffice clerks and letter carriers will be powerless to present their claims before next congress unless the postmaster general opens the proposition with a favorable recommendation. It is understood at the postoffice department that efforts are being made to induce Mr. Payne to take some step toward sanctioning the request of the postal employes for better pay, so that the latter can push their claims in the halls of congress and in the various cities without being liable to the loss of their official heads on the charge of violating the president's order. The chief of the salary and allowance division of the postoffice department has drafted a bill providing for a re-classification of postoffice clerks, with better pay. If Postmaster General Payne approves of the measure it will be sent to congress for consideration as the department bill. It consists of a modification of the measure that was introduced two or three years ago, and which was looked upon as too liberal. That bill proposed an arbitrary scale of pay for postoffice clerks running up as high as $1,400 per annum. Clerks were to be advanced in salary every year, regardless of merit, so that all that was necessary to do to get the limit was to hang on for a certain period of years. The bill proposes that the element of merit shall be considered in promotions above a certain grade. The limit of pay is fixed at $1,400, as at present. Those in the lower grades are to be increased every year until $1,000 is reached. Promotions beyond that will be made only after an examination has been passed to prove fitness. When the $1,100 grade is reached further advancement will be discretionary with the postmaster general. In this last respect the proposed law is similar to the existing custom. Promotions to the $1,400 grade are made only by order of the department. The letter carriers want their limit of pay lifted to $1,200, instead of $1,000, as at present. Several years ago the postoffice department indorsed this proposition, but Gen. Smith, in his last report to congress, failed to recommend that the advance be made. Much anxiety is felt over the action of Mr. Payne and the employes are sincerely hoping that he will recommend the advance. Otherwise they feel there is no hope at present.

PRIMARY ELECTION LAW.

Evidence is accumulating that a determined effort will be made by the machine politicians at the next session of the state legislature to secure the repeal of the direct primary law. Already leading politicians who in past years have been able by the old caucus and convention system to select the delegates and dictate the nominations are crying out that the new system is complicated and impracticable and should be abandoned. They have found that they can no longer pose as bosses and run things as in the old days, and they hate to see the people choosing the candidates without their aid and, in many instances, in direct opposition to their plans. The primary law has dealt a hard blow to party bossism and has lessened the opportunity for corrupt and unfit candidates being forced upon the political parties. Hence the determined effort that will be made by the politicians who have heretofore "run the machine" to either repeal the law altogether or to amend it so that it will be robbed of the good features that so strongly commend it to the people.

It was with a view of preventing, as far as possible, the success of the conspiracy to destroy the excellent primary system which Minnesota has adopted that The Herald interviewed as many of the local candidates for the legislature as could be reached, in order that they might be placed on record and the people understand who are the friends and who are the foes of the new system. While the general expression of views by the candidates interviewed was favorable to the retention of the law, with such minor amendments as experience might demonstrate to be necessary, there were several who manifested hostility to the new system.

The people of St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties should see to it that no man be given a nomination who does not pledge himself to oppose the attempt to repeal this excellent law, and if any, either Republicans or Democrats, opposed to the law be nominated, he should be defeated at the polls in November. It is highly essential that only friends of the law be sent to the legislature—men who will not become the tools of the ring politicians and vote to destroy the primary system which vests in the people the power to select their candidates free from the dictation of the machines and the wire-pulling and corruption of the professional politicians.

The candidate who will not take a positive stand on this question cannot be trusted. Let the Republicans and Democrats of the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first districts demand that their candidates give a definite pledge to stand firmly for the retention of the primary law.

SLUMBER AND DREAMS.

All persons dream when they are asleep. That is, they know that they dream at times and very frequently they wish that they did not. Probably if the opinion of the people of the world could be obtained, the unanimous verdict would be against having dreams, if such a thing were possible. Everyone has all kinds of dreams. Some are pleasant, but more are unpleasant and many a person has gone to bed hungry, deferring to the old but yet popular superstition that to eat before retiring will cause unpleasant dreams.

In a recent number of the Scottish Medical and Surgical Journal, Sir Arthur Mitchell, in an interesting article upon dreams, deals with the question, does dreamless sleep exist? He holds that dreamless sleep is a myth, and he quotes passages from the writings of Sir Benjamin Brodie, Sir Henry Holland, Godwin and Dr. John Reid, to show that these authorities are all much of the same opinion. In view of the popular association of dreamless slumber and childhood it is further of interest to note that the thinking and draming of infants "need a separate telling," although such "would not disturb the opinion I have been supporting." With regard to the proposition that continuous dreaming possibly occurs, the author may fairly claim to have established a case. In view, however, of the obvious difficulties attendant on the investigation of such problems, many people will probably require much more evidence before they accept the second proposition that such dreaming probably occurs.

Sir Arthur Mitchell first attacks the idea of a dreamless slumber. It is impossible, he says, to maintain that it occurs. Many persons, when awakened from sleep, indeed assert very positively that they have not been dreaming, and yet, later on, remember that they have done so after all. In a large number of cases such people may never be able to remember at all. "The absence of a knowledge of having dreamed furnishes no proof that dreams have not taken place. The watcher by the bedside of a sleeping person may have what he regards as satisfactory evidence that the person is dreaming, yet that person, when the sleep ends, may feel quite positive that dreams have not taken place."

If mental processes continue both during sleep and while we are awake, it might naturally be supposed that the brain would become worn out. Such dreaming, or "sleep thinking," however, according to the author, is not to be considered as affording no rest. On the contrary, by the withdrawal of "will" during sleep this form of thought is, so to speak, left free to sport, and accordingly refreshment actually comes from the change, not weariness. These theories may be all right, but it is safe to assert that the average mortal much prefers a good sound healthy sleep undisturbed by dreams or visions of any nature.

STARTLING DEDUCTIONS.

Probably there is no one subject that interests the general run of people more than children. Primarily it is the parents who are deeply absorbed in all matters pertaining to them, but they are not alone. Practically all mankind loves children, and naturally is interested in all that pertains to them. The national bureau of education, which has been making a study of children for the purpose of establishing facts to serve as guides for the education of the young, has discovered many things of interest. Much attention was paid to quiet and restless children, with the following deductions: "The restless child is, as a rule, a peculiarly good animal, as well as boisterous, rude, mischievous, disobedient, talkative, insensible to pain, fond of teasing, often cruel, destructive, social, bright, yet thoughtless. Restlessness in children up to 6 or 7 years of age seems to be a good sign, but a bad sign afterward. Restlessness usually disappears with mental occupation. The health of quiet children is not as good, and they are not as bright as the restless children. Fat children are nearly always inactive; overwork, mental or physical, produces quietness."

As a result of tests made in a number of schools where teachers asked the young pupils to see how long they could sit still, the conclusion was reached that "the ordinary child cannot sit still voluntarily." The restless child is described as one of the most instructive and interesting type, and also one that is very little understood. This is the child who makes the most trouble for his parents and the teacher. The restless boy should naturally develop into a man of action. The report says that many of the ills that befall young boys and girls during their early school training, are the result of overwork and worry, and enforced inactivity.

"We have seen that excessive brain work may dwarf the stature and weaken the constitution," says the report. "We know also that from 15 to 60 per cent of our children become nearsighted before leaving our schools; that a very large proportion, especially of the girls, have curvature of the spine; that a great many become nervous; that among the girls, at least, only a very small proportion leave the high school in a state of good physical health. Not all of these evils are due to the school, but at least a part are. We have seen how difficult it is for the child to sit still; that it is this which makes school disagreeable to him; that his personal discomfort makes it hard for him to keep his mind on his task; that long restraint tends to make him nervous. However, it seems probable that the lesson of quietness is one which it is necessary for the child to learn. We are suffering from a false idea of education, which has been handed down to us from the Renaissance. One can gain nothing but second hand information from books."

These deductions are surprising, almost startling. The board, however, fails to suggest a remedy. Until that is done there seems no better practice than the one in vogue.

The death of Professor Schenk, of Vienna, has called for a severe roast from the Philadelphia Medical Journel on his theory of the control of sex at will. The Journal says: "The theory never had any scientific value, or even much scientific interest, for it was too crude and transparent to interest anyone except a newspaper reporter. The incident was practically closed with Schenk's enforced retirement from his professorial chair. The authorities could not tolerate his charlatanry, and gave us here in America an example of what college professors should expect when they try to exploit themselves by advancing sensational opinions." This is pretty rough after the testimonials which the professor had from European royalty.

Tom Johnson's plans show that he is determined to make a hard as well as a novel campaign in Ohio this fall. He opened up at the lake town of Lorain in a curcus tent, and this outfit will be kept on the road until the election. Mr. Johnson has hired a gang of twenty circus men to handle the paraphernalia and tote it about from town to town. He himself will follow on the trains and his "red demon" automobile, making quick runs out from Cleveland. The mayor will not be able to speak every night, on account of his official duties, but he expects to have abundant help in the campaign. Whether he appears or not, the red automobile will always have orators chasing the tent.

At the international mining congress being held at Butte, Waldemar Lindgren, a government geologist, predicted that the output of gold would decrease hereafter, and the visible supply of gold ores would soon be exhausted. But this statement is not a sufficient cause for fright, or even much anxiety yet. Mr. Lindgren's opinion is not to be accepted without considerable doubt. Similar predictions have been made before, yet the world's output of gold has gone on increasing. There is probably a great deal of gold in the ground that Mr. Lindgren's geological eye has overlooked. Much gold, and iron ore too, has been found where the geologists never suspected that it existed.

Mascagni's American tour was relished so little by the Rossini lyceum at Pesaro, Italy, of which he is director, that the managers of the school relieved him of the management, and closed the doors shortly before the end of the school year. The young composer has been offered the leadership of several other music schools in Italy, but he feels so aggrieved that he has applied to the courts for reinstatement by legal mandate.

Records of any sort are short-lived nowadays. Hardly is time allowed for taking in the stupendous bulk of the Cedric, the largest steamer ever built, before announcement is made of another twenty feet longer and with proportionately greater capacity, which the White Star company is to lay down at Belfast. But Germany continues to hold the records for size and speed in combination.

In eighteen elections the people of Vermont have failed to make a choice of governor and the assembly has had to complete the election. And yet there does not appear to be any movement to change the law so as to make a plurality sufficient.

With the treasury receipts exceeding the expenditures, regardless of the repeal of the war taxes, the claim cannot be made in opposition to a further reduction of taxes, that the government needs the money.

The question, who won the fight between the army and the navy, has not been answered. Perhaps it may be necessary to summon a court of inquiry.

A New York dispatch reports that a St. Paul man had a thrilling experience in the Tenderloin. Probably that is what he went there for.

The street car company in Philadelphia is going to sell tickets, six for a quarter. The wholesale price in Duluth is five cents apiece.

Down in Ohio the Democrats are not calling on the people to get into the "band wagon," but into the Tom Johnson automobile.

The next polar expedition should carry a wireless telegraph outfit. Then it could find itself.

No man opposed to the primary election law should be given a legislative nomination.

The people who predicted a hot September are not so sure as they were.

Of course Maine went Republican. No one expected any other result.

FRECKLES COME HIGH.

The summer girl comes home once more
And tells with careless glee
Of conquest where the breakers roar
So constantly and free.

And there are freckles on her face
Like stars upon the sky,
Which many a youth has paused to trace
With an admiring eye.

Her father, who some sleep has lost,
Observes them with distress,
He figures that each freckle cost
Ten dollars, more or less.

FIGURING IT UP.

The captain strode the quarterdeck;
The crews were at the guns;
The powder-flames leaped fiercely out,
Lik as the lightning runs,
Afar the fortress rose, all grim,
And bellowed in reply.
Till smoke and fire and thunder sound
Shook both the sea and sky.

And the captain took
His little book,
And figured away, while his fingers shook;
"2 into 10 goes 16 times,
And the square of 12 is 4;
79 is the cube of 6,
And my deck is wet with gore.
53 is the G. C. D.,
And 7 plus 2 is 5—
And my ship is shot to battered hulk,
And I haven't a man alive!"

The other captain, in the fort,
Stood sadly on parade;
The Gatlings, siege and other guns
A fearsome racket made.
They boomed across the troubled waves,
Against the swooping ships,
And as their echoes thrilled the air
The captain bit his lips.

And the captain took
His little book,
And figured it out with a worried look:
"6 per cent, of a dozen men,
And the sine of 18 more,
All bisected by 25,
And the arc of 34,
3 plus 8, to the decimal,
And the tare and tret," he said,
"Combined with the subdivided sum,
Shows all my men are dead."

Thus each side lost and each side won,
And each side fought the fray,
And now they're figuring upon
The powder bills to pay.
Grim war is awful, at its best,
But who will lose or lick
If he relies entirely on
The old arithmetic?

Whiteman's New Role.

Minneapolis Journal: Alonzo Whiteman is now playing the role of a Methodist preacher with crowded houses and unlimited "supply" opportunities. This prodigal son, regenerated-sinner business is all right in its place, but such an accomplished rascal as Whiteman has been for fifteen years or more ought to have time for the production of a large crop of the "peaceable fruits of righteousness," before any religious society receives him as a leader in the service of the Lord.

"Strenuous" Running Abroad.

Springfield Republican: The magic word "strenuous" which our president brought into great prominence in America, is said to be having a tremendous run in England, where it surpasses in popularity even that darling word, "bloomin'." This is not the least of Mr. Roosevelt's achievements.

AT THE HOTELS

"This is an awfully quiet week," said a hotel clerk this morning, and the other hotel clerks and all of the hotel registers bore out his observation. Whether it is merely a temporary lull, or the sudden dropping off of the tourist business that does it is a question, but the registers are running light, and all three of the hotels today were as quiet as Saturday, which is the hotel's proverbial dull day. A few tourists arrived on the steamer India today, but the number is getting smaller every day, and the business will soon cease to be a factor.

"Duluth seems to be an exception to my rule that a people take their characteristics from the nature of their local surroundings," said a tourist at the St. Louis this morning. "If it was the inevitable rule the people of Duluth ought to be stern and rugged and hard, like the rocks that form the hills upon which she sets. They do not seem to be, however, as I have always found them as open-hearted, as kindly and as hospitable as any people on earth."

One of the largest and at the same time one of the latest tourist parties of the season arrived on the steamer India this morning and is stopping at the St. Louis. In the party are the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Zehender, Miss Alene L. Zehender and sister, F. B. Amor, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Chenowith, Miss Mary E Chenowith and brother, Buffalo; M. O. Cooley, Mrs. E. M. Krantz and three daughters, Niagara Falls.

E. B. Putnam, a St. Paul lumberman, was in the city today, a guest of the St. Louis.

M. H. Schussler, a Floodwood merchant, was a St. Louis guest today.

• • •

C. H. Richards, a prominent Minneapolis contractor, came up this morning and is stopping at the Spalding.

The suspicions entertained at the McKay yesterday regarding three young married couples that arrived on a boat yesterday morning from Port Arthur, turned out to be well founded, for later in the day they admitted that they were three bridal couples taking their honeymoon trips together. They were married in Port Arthur Saturday in the same church, St. Andrew's, by the same priest, Rev. Father Nault. Mrs. John Lalond was Miss Marie Bellon; Mrs. C. J. Jutras was Miss Emily Paquette, and Mrs. William Wissell was Miss Bucios. They will spend their honeymoon in Duluth.

W. D. Beslow, the Mesaba range organizer of the Italian Republican clubs, and former sleuth on the trail of blind pigs, is in the city, and is stopping at the St. Louis.

At the St. Louis: H. A. Munzer and four children, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; W. A. Hammond, St. Paul; W. J. Morehurt, Mankato; H. E. Duncan, Spring Valley, Minn.; Thomas Nelson, Ishpeming, Mich.; J. B. Bayer, Two Harbors; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Bonnell, Hawthorne, Wis.; F. F. Seaman, Deer River, Minn.; Miss Flossie McCutcheon, Hibbing; F. A. Bryan, J. Owen Bryant, Chippewa Falls, Wis.

At the McKay: S. R. Montague, Hibbing; Ed C. O'Dea, Jersey City; Fred Erskine, Ashland; K. J. Elmirk, Radcliffe, Iowa; John T. Pate, Savannah; N. D. Harding, Minneapolis; H. A. Strait, Minneapolis; J. H. Sheets, St. Louis; Jacob Stern, Cleveland; Mrs. R. S. Rogers, Cleveland; Henry Lafrelnere, Ashland.

IN A VELDT CEMETERY

Peace to the quiet dead!
Trooper and burgher there,
True to the men who led,
True to their lights fell near;
Question not gain or loss,
Brothers in death they lie
Under the starry cross.

Brave men and true alike—
Matters not creed nor race—
All are of one great kin
Here in the resting place.
Nation 'gainst nation strives
Endlessly 'neath the sun;
When the "great silence" falls
All are in rest as one.

Tears for the wrongs that keep
Far from us peace and good;
Tears that in life there is
No happy brotherhood!
Peace to the quiet and dead!
Life's errors cleared away—
Brothers in hope they wait
The breaking of the day.
—Westminster Gazette.

Trust Regulation Must Come.

Springfield Republican: Nothing is more certain to come to pass than a great popular uprising against trust domination. It will find expression in public regulation of a more or less drastic kind, according as the matter is more or less delayed.

The Heiress In Action.

Chicago Record-Herald: The heiress who hasn't driven some man to suicide or jilted a prince is finding it difficult to be accepted as the real thing.

More, Ever More!

Saturday Evening Post: Some men say that a hundred million dollars is enough. But while a lot of men get a hundred thousand and a few a hundred million, no one ever gets enough.

That Peaceful Game of War.

Chicago News: In congratulating Admiral Higginson on his well earned victory it is to be hoped the navy department will not forget to thank and compliment Commander Pillsbury for the skill with which he conducted the hated enemy's attack.

Cubans Catching On.

Chicago Chronicle: President Palma, of Cuba, is now beginning to taste the joys of his exalted position. The Havana editors have started in to "arraign" him. When they begin to "brand" him he will be due to announce his candidacy for a second term.

Limits to Money's Power.

New York World: Dying on a Pittsburg railwa station platform, Steel Magnate Henry offered $100,000 for life. Foodless and about to be homeless, Max Cohen, of New York, refuses a $500 museum offer for his deformed child. What trash these dollars are—sometimes!

No Hope For Him.

Kansas City Star: David B. Hill may now he accepted as a presidential impossibility. The fact that he never tasted liquor would mean the loss of Kentucky, and the fact that he never kissed a woman would mean the loss of Missouri.

Saving Them the Trouble.

Philadelphia Ledger: If the president keeps on talking about the Monroe doctrine the senate naval committee won't have to go any work to get ships from the next congress.

Laws Favor the Wicked.

Philadelphia Record: Under a recent ruling of the comptroller of the treasury soldiers of the United States army who are dishonorably discharged must be furnished free transportation to their homes, just as though their military conduct had been flawless and immaculate. Thus the renegade troopers who have married Filipino women and deserted them and are, therefore, menaced by Gen. Chaffee with the penalty of dishonorable discharge will be enabled without cost to put 7000 miles of salt water between themselves and their deserted spouses. Great is military discipline in its application to the social order of things!

A Prince In Plain Clothing

By H. S. Canfield.

(Copyright, 1902, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

It was from his Spanish mother that Carlos Blake got his old-world ideas of honor, loyalty and truth that made him so out of place in the upper social circles of the metropolis in which he lived. She gave him a romantic strain, too, and when she died she left him with the belief that simple faith was better than Norman blood or all of the money on the earth. His hard-headed engineering father bequeathed to him a taste for mechanics and three millions of dollars in stocks, bonds and cash.

At the age of twenty-five Carlos Blake had encountered and escaped from numerous matchmaking mammas; he had picked his way through society snares as gingerly as if walking on egg shells; once, on a yacht, a large red-cheeked girl with a small sharp-featured mother had nearly got him; once again, in the moonlight at Newport, he had come free almost by a miracle; once again, sitting on the stairs in a New York mansion while a woman's ball dress "flowed round him in ripples of white," a passionate declaration had got as far as his teeth, but a man full of champaign had stumbled upon him and rescued him. In the language of a friend, Jack Endicott, of Arizona, he had been "chased like a jack-rabbit," and only his phenomenal speed and adriotness had saved him. Now he was possessed by disgust.

"A good wife," he was saying to Jack, "is a good thing and I would give a good deal for a good wife, but I want a woman to marry me because I am I, not becauso I've got a load of money."

"Well," Jack answered, "lots of New York girls make good wives and you could have one for the asking. You could never be certain that she loved you for yourself, however, because everybody knows that you are brutally rich."

"That's true," Blake replied. "A burned child dreads the fire, and I've come near to being landed so often that my nerve is all gone. I believe that I shall take refuge in flight."

Next day it was said about his clubs that he had gone to Africa to shoot the big game; that he escaped the horns of the rhinoceri and the tusks of the elephantli, he would return in two years.

It has been said that Blake had a turn for mechanics. A month afterward he stood in the shops of the Electric Light and Power company of Fairview, Iowa. He had on a workman's overalls, coarse shirt and blouse; there was an oil-smear across his forehead; he held a monkey-wrench with a hand that was black and hardened; he was a member in good standing of Electrical Workers' union No. 208; he got $2.50 for eight hours' work; he was happy. He was one of the most industrious and capable workmen in the shop. His class had been betrayed in only one thing:

Hiring a place to sleep and eat in, he had insisted upon having a room with bath attached. For this unheard of luxury he paid nearly half that he earned. His food he found, though plain, was palatable and devoured with remarktble appetite. He had never drained a bumper of wine in Delmonico's that had the fine flavor of beer drunk from a sweaty tin bucket. He rose at 6 in the morning; went to bed at 8, was as strong as a horse and his associates voted him a good fellow, though a little precise in his language. His name to them was John Rodney and he played second base on their ball team.

It occurred to John Rodney one Sabbath morning that a little church would not hurt him, so he put on a black coat and rather gaudy tie and took a place in a pew toward the rear of the First Angelican Catholic cathedral. Sitting idly and following the sermon dully his eye was caught by the form and face of a young woman to the left. Light through a stained window fell upon her dull gold hair and a face that was beautiful with the beauty of healthy maidenhood. The forehead was low and broad, the eyes serene and gray, the lips red like a rosebud, the chin firm, the skin of clear delicate pallor, the form rounded, erect and strong. The church was not specially "high," there was congregational singing and her voice was a resonant and mellow contralto with tones like a golden bell. He felt in his soul that she had marked his cravat of green with yellow spots and blushed.

Fairview holds but 30,000 people, and it was easy to get her name. She was Ellice Dering, he found, and her father was an architect.

There came one of those charitable robberies for the relief of afflicted citizens of some other community in which people of upper and middle grades mingle, brought together for once on the plane of humaneness. It took the form of a church fair given in the town hall, and Ellice Dering, in Quaker costume, sold candies which everybody bought and nobody wanted. Among the most reckless of her customers was John Rodney, who had not dared to wear a dress suit, but had put on a plain white tie. He hung about her stand all of the evening, and had much conversation with her. She was surprised and attracted by his gentle accent and bearing and found nothing unnatural in his declaration that an honest American workingman was as good as anybody. Her father was of Virginian blood and her mother a descendant of New York Dutchmen, but she found herself more than half agreeing with him. The test of her lack of prejudice came, however, at the evening's end.

"After I get through at the shop, Miss Dering," he said, "and scrape off the oil and grime, may I call on you. You sing very beautifully and I do not get much music."

She looked at him gravely with her frank eyes. Through her mind ran thoughts of what her friends would say; of her father she had no fear. Then she answered:

"I would give a good deal for a good wife."

"Yes, Mr. Rodney, I shall be happy to see you."

He bowed gratefully in acknowledgement. "Believe me, Miss Dering, you make me more happy than I can say. You encourage me to think that there may be a time coming in this country when a man's worth and not his clothing will make or unmake him a gentleman."

He was too wise to take sudden advantage of her liberality. At first he called once a week only. It was toward the end of the summer that his visits became more frequent. He found her in every way charming, straightforward, modest, well-read. His heart was gone before he knew it. Probably the contrast between her and the things of his hard daily life accentuated her personality. The girl meantime was warring with her companions and constantly on the defensive.

She told Marye Agnus Simonton, daughter of the leading lawyer: "He is more of a gentleman than any other man I know."

She told Mae Fannye Smythe, daughter of the leading merchant: 'His hands are hard, but I do not think that they lift many whisky glasses and they never stole anything."

She told Charysse Lysbeth Perkyns, daughter of the leading doctor: "I would rather talk to a real live man, even though he does work in a factory, than waste time on a dummy all hair and clothes."

The composite answer of these young women was this: "Well, it's awfully ridiculous and awfully silly and awfully bad form, but you always were such a funny girl."

Ellice Dering was put to a severer test on the night that he asked her to marry him.

"I love you," he said, "very dearly. "You must have seen it long ago. I am a workingman, but my people are good people, and I will be true to you. If you would like it better, I will quit the tools and start a plant of my own. Then I will be a man who hires things made, instead of making them myself, and so I suppose higher up the social ladder. We need not live here, you know, and I will take such care of you that you will hardly miss your father and mother."

If she hesitated, who can blame her? Yet at last, she put both of her hands in his and said quite simply: "I will go with you, John. I love you for what you are, not for what you do. You would be the same to me, I think, anywhere, in any walk of life."

That was a strange wedding in Fairview, for on the morning of its celebration a special train rolled into the depot and from it descended a hundred people who bore names best known in New Yor. The cathedral was filled with the rustlings of rich robes and aristocratic beautiful women kissed the bride. She had been told the truth only a half-hour before the ceremony. Of course Marye Agnye Simonton and Mae Fannye Smythe and Clarysse Lysbeth Perkyns said that she had known it all the time.

He asked her to marry him.

John W. Mackay's Story.

New York Times: John W. Mackay was fond of relating this story:

Shortly after St. Patrick's cathedral was completed, a faithful devotee on his way to mass met the lukewarm Orangeman and persuaded him to enter the cathedral to admire its beauties and listen to the wonderful music. In the crowded attendance they obtained seats two or three rows apart. The visitor was so overwhelmed with the splendor of the interior that he turned and in quite an audible tone said:

"Say, Mickey, that bates the divil."

"Yes," replied Mickey, "that's the intintion."

SERENADE CONCERT.

Fine Program Given at Pilgrim Church.

The serenade concert given last evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church, under the auspices of the women of the church, and the direction of Ernest Lachmund, was a great success. It is interesting to note the styles of serenades there are, from the little national serenades to the grand Italian airs.

The first number on the program, a piano duo by Gladys Porter and Willard Matter, Katherine Chisholm and Helen Williams, was remarkable for the precision with which it was played. In fact, in all the eight-handed numbers the ensemble playing was fine. The next number, three serenades by little folks in costume, was very dainty and pretty. The little ones taking part were Muriel Prindle, Margaret Craig and Albert Porter. A quartet, composed of Mrs. Craig, Miss Peck, Mrs. Baldwin and Miss West, gave two numbers with excellent effect. The violin obligato by George Tupper added much to Schubert's beautiful serenade. The piano and organ duo by Miss Peck and Miss Hattie Peck was quite a novelty and throughly enjoyed.

The Italian serenade, "Dormi Pure," by George Tyler, was very satisfactory. It is always a pleasure to hear Mr. Tyler sing and this style of music seems particularly suitable to him. The piano duo, "Hugarian Serenade," by Miss Smith, who substituted for Miss Mary Green, Miss Emma Mueller, John Woodfill, Jr. and Miss Irene Walker was a very dainty number. The soprano songs by Miss Peck were much enjoyed, particularly the "Vesper," by Mr. Lachmund, which has been sung with great success in New York. Miss Peck's interpretation is very musical and her voice easily filled the church. The piano solo by Miss Hattie Peck was played with fine temperament. The most enjoyable number on the program was, probably, the serenade and "Miserere," from "Il Trovatore." The selection is well known and is always pleasing and is particularly appropriate for a serenade concert. The duo was sung by Miss Peck and Mr. Tyler and the "Miserere" by Mrs. Baldwin, Miss West, Messrs. Martin and Dworschak.

The last number was a stirring one, played by Miss Berenice Crowley, Miss Ruth Scott, Miss Eleanor Pineo and Fred Harris. It showed the same splendid training that was shown in all the numbers.

DUE TO ACID POISONING.

Simon P. Cook Took Carbolic Acid By Mistake.

The post mortem examination to determine the cause of the death of Simon P. Cook, the young man who was found dead in his room yesterday morning by his mother, disclosed the fact that he died of carbolic acid poisoning. A partially emptied bottle was found among other bottles in his room and it is surmised that he took the poison by mistake.

The young man was remarkably bright and a very diligent student. He was the pride of his family because of the studious tendencies and talents which he displayed, and they hoped for a bright career for him.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence and the body was interred at the Jewish cemetery. A number of his classmates at the high school attended the funeral.

GOSPEL ON THE BOWERY.

Miss Anna Smith's Successful Work There.

Sunday night was the closing of the five night gospel crusade at the Branch Bethel, conducted by Miss Anna Smith, the young woman evangelist, and Mrs. William Asher, singer.

Every night the interest and attendance steadily increased until Sunday night the entire room was crowded from front to rear, every available chair was occupied, and some were obliged to stand. With the exception of a few church people, the entire audience was made up of men off the street and from the saloons, and yet the attention and interest could not have been excelled.

Every eye seemed fastened on the "Little Sister Evangelist" as she pleaded with them to give up sin and turn to God and live better lives. And the effect was seen in the latter part of the meeting, when their hands were raised all over the room in request for prayer, and many remained after the meeting, while in tears they told of their habits of sin and their longings to be better.

Another result of the meeting Sunday night was the voluntary pledge from a man in attendance to give $100 a year toward the support of the Bethel work. He was evidently much impressed with the outlook of the mission and counted it a privilege to give it a lift.

Miss Smith believes the Bowery to be the greatest field for soul saving in Duluth, and says: "There are hundreds of men walking the streets with a deep longing in their breasts to live better lives if only a helping hand and a hopeful word were extended to them, by those who profess to be Christians. Every church in the city and every member of it ought to have an active, vital interest in the continual effort that is going on there every night for the salvation of these transient men."

Miss Smith will speak tonight at the Branch Bethel, on "The Second Coming of Christ." Tomorrow night she will begin a series of meetings in the Duluth Heights fire hall.

Two Fine Views.

In last Saturday's issue of The Herald appeared a view of the Lake Superior Mining Institute party standing in the Mountain Iron mine, and on the Saturday previous appeared one of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association party, taken on the boulevard in the course of the drive over Duluth's fine driveway. Both pictures were very fine and by an oversight the photographers were not given the credit which they certainly deserved. They were taken by Crandall & Fletcher, the Duluth photographers, located at 323 West Superior street.

A YOUNG DIPLOMAT.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Lieut. Walter Snell, of the German emperor's body grenadier regiment No. 105, has arrived in Chicago to take the position of second vice consul at the German consulate. The new attache is one of the youngest members of the German diplomatic corps in the United States. He was born in Dresden in 1881 and studied law at Heidelberg, Leipzig and Vienna. Lieut. Snell has been assistant judge of the royal "Landgericht" and connected with the German ministry of the exterior, as assessor.

SCANDAL IN CONFERENCE.

High Sounding Charges By Rev. Mr. Clithero.

Oshkosh, Wis., Sept. 10.—The Wisconsin Methodist Episcopal conference, whose history is marked by numerous sensational scandals, seems destined to have another at the session that opened at Milwaukee today. Rev. Thomas Clithero, of Portage, once a prominent member of the conference, will present some sensational charges against his fellow ministers. Briefly Mr. Clithero asserts that he has been the victim of a malignant persecution; that he was deprived of his right to preach and when he obtained secular employment as express agent, his enemies secured his dismissal; that his wife joined his enemies and that they caused him to be incarcerated in an insane hospital for five months when he was perfectly sane and that he was made a delegate to the general conference to quiet him.

Quotations are given from letters by Bishop Andrews, Rev. H. P. Haylett, Rev. H. Chynoweth and Rev. J. H. Nelson, to corroborate Mr. Clithero's statements. One of these writers says a "secret society" is to blame for the trouble, while another declares that "There is a depth of cold-blooded villainy and Satanic scheming in the case that would match the stories of Spanish Jesuitism."

Mr. Clithero, in closing, says of the Methodist conference: "A brood of greedy cormorants, attracted by the odor of corruption, are clasping the cliff with their crooked hands and fattening upon her flesh.

"The eagles are gathering about the prospective carcass of Methodism, screaming with delight in anticipation of a feast, and no man waves them away. "If these things be not so, who will make me a liar and my speech nothing worth?"

TALKS ALL THE TIME.

Other Reasons, However, For Committing Mrs. Larkind.

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Larkind, of Chicago, who recently came to Ashland with her husband, holds the record for talking. She began talking Saturday morning and up till 7 o'clock last evening was still going. She was examined for insanity and was taken to the state hospital for the insane. She imagines she is in heaven, and talks continuously about "golden chariots," golden wings" and other things celestial. In the train she insisted on kissing the whole train crew.

PRIMARY ELECTION

Many Voters Still Unaware of Its Principal Features.

Primary Election Day Is First Day of Registration.

Questions Which Voter Can Be Required to Answer.

Though the primary election law has been tried in Duluth once before, and though it has been explained many times, there are still a surprisingly large number of people who are mystified at some of its provisions and in ignorance of others.

The system replaces the convention system, and permits every voter to have a voice in the choice of his party candidates without entrusting the matter to the uncertain hands of delegates to a convention. In general it takes the same form as a general election. The voter must register first, but he can register one minute before he votes at the primary election, the primary election day being the first registration day for the general election. Of course, having registered, he need not vote unless he desires to do so. There are two other registration days.

To vote at the primary election a man must be a legal voter, of course. That means that he must have been a full citizen for three months prior to the general election, that he must be 21 years of age or over, that he must have been a resident of the state for six months prior to the general election, and of the precinct for thirty days. A man who will be qualified under the provisions to vote at the general election is qualified to vote at the primary election, as he does not need to be a citizen for three months prior to the primary election, nor a resident of the state six months or of the precinct thirty days. A man moving into a precinct on the primary election day is entitled to vote there if he intends to remain there, as he will be qualified to vote at the primary election.

Having registered he must call for the ballot that he wants to vote, and is entitled to vote. Here is where many people are at sea. He is entitled to the ballot of the party that "he then declares that he affiliated, and whose candidates he generally supported, at the last general election, and with which party he proposes to affiliate at the next general election." This bars a voter who has changed his politics since the last election from taking a part in this year's primaries. If a voter offers to take a ballot, and is challenged, he has to make the above statement under oath. Unless a challenge is interposed the voter will simply ask for the ballot he wants, and the judges will hand it to him. Whether there will be much challenging in the primary election is somewhat doubtful, as there will be some question as to who is to gain or lose the most by these changes.

The questions that the would-be voter is required to answer are as follows:

1. Which political party did you affiliate with at the last general election.
2. Did you generally support the candidate of such party at the last general election?
3. Is it your present intention to generally support the candidates of such party at the next general election?

Having successfully passed this gauntlet, and having been supplied with the ballot that he wants to vote, the citizen goes to the booth and marks his ballot just as he would in a general election, expressing his preferences for each office by making a cross opposite the name of the candidate of his choice. On the ballot every candidate is given an equal show by the law. No one candidate stays at the head of the list all of the time, for that is a decided advantage. The law requires that when the ballots are printed the names must be rotated, and each candidate must have his chance at the top of the ballot. There are ten candidates for sheriff on the Republican ticket, and that means that the forms will have to be changed ten times. As fast as a tenth of the ballots have been printed, the top candidate will drop to the bottom and another tenth of the ballots printed. Not only that, but in blocking the ballots no two can come together with the same candidate at the top. All of this makes it interesting for the county auditor, who prepares the ballots, and the printer who sets them up and runs them off.

One difference between the primary election and the general election is that the polls are open longer for the primary. They open at 6 o'clock a. m. and close at 9 o'clock p. m., and if there are voters waiting at that hour they must be kept open a reasonable time longer to get them in.

One marked change from the old system is that defeated candidates cannot run independent, by petition, though others can. Also, nobody that votes at the primaries can sign an independent's petition.

Contests can be made, but they must be filed within five days after the canvassing board makes its report.

The second and third registration days, as under the old law, are two weeks and ten days before the election; Tuesday, Oct. 21 and Saturday, Oct. 25.

Laurium Is to Have New Plant For Lighting.

Laurium—The Laurium council will undoubtedly grant John Burder, of Red Jacket, a franchise authorizing the installation of a general heating and lighting plant in the village of Laurium. This is the result of the mass meeting of property owners when several hundred citizens assembled at the city hall to discuss the proposition, which was placed before them, at the suggestion of the council, by a representative of Mr. Burder. After several speeches in regard to the question, a vote was taken. It was almost unanimously in favor of Mr. Burder's plan.

Hoghton—The Redridge Lumber company, of Ashland, is negotiating for a large tract of timber land in Houghton and Ontonagon counties. R. E. Stephenson has charge of a crew of ten cruisers engaged in estimating a tract of several thousand acres.

R. A. Leonard, of Brockton, Mass., has been appointed general superintendent of the Houghton County Electric Light company.

Sight of a side-wheel river steamer, puffing and blowing a cloud of sparks from her sieve-covered stacks, excited a deal of attention as the vessel passed through Portage lake on her way to Ontonagon. It was the river tug Balcom, owned by the Holt Lumber company, of Oconto, Wis. She had a carferry barge in tow with six cars aboard. The cars will be loaded at Ontonagon and taken to Oconto.

The verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of Edward Miller, watchman of the ill-fated Hudson, whose body was found several weeks ago in Little Traverse bay, was that Miller came to his death by drowning from the wrecked steamer Hudson on or about Sept. 16, 1901, in Lake Superior. The jury, which met in Coroner Brand's office Saturday morning, was comprised of the following: Howard Small, Abner Sherman, Charles Strobel, William Baudin, Dr. McElveen and Joseph Colombe. The evidence was sufficient to convince the jury that the remains found were those of Miller.

JUDGE STIMSON

Nominated For Governor By Democrats of Colorado.

Denver, Col., Sept. 10.—Edward C. Stimson, of Cripple Creek, judge of the Fourth judicial district, was yesterday nominated for governor by the Democratic state convention on the first ballot. An informal ballot showed him to be in the lead with 396 of the 450 votes necessary to choice. The first formal ballot was only three-fourths taken when it was seen that Stimson had gained enough votes over the informal ballot to elect him and his nomination was made by acclamation.

A PARSON'S NOBLE ACT.

"I want all the world to know," writes Rev. C. J. Budlong, of Ashaway, R. I., "what a thoroughly good and reliable medicine I found in Electric Bitters. They cured me of jaundice and liver troubles that had cause me great suffering for many years. For a genuine all-around cure they excel anything I ever saw." Electric Bitters are the surprise of all for their wonderful work in Liver, Kidney and Stomach troubles. Don't fail to try them. Only 50 cents. Satisfaction is guaranteed by W. A. Abbett, druggist.

Every day adds to the popularity of this deserving garment, and every day adds new garments to our stock. Among the latest received are some swell velvet coats—one in particular is 56-inches long with a fine marten collar extending to the waist line in front. The back at the waist is neatly braided, as are the sleeves. The style of the sleeves is exceedingly meritorious, giving style only possible with the Monte Carlo Jackets.

Another velvet coat just received is 27-inches long with double collar piped and braided. The front is appliqued over white taffeta silk—the same as the lining of the garment, giving it a most pleasing effect. Watteau pleats, one on either side in the front and one in the back—and the new "Monte Carlo Sleeve" gathered at the wrist give the garment a very "swell" appearance.

Very neat indeed is the 45-inch Kersey Coat, with graduated satin stitched bands running from the collar to the skirt of the coat, widening as they decend. Braid is used in a very tasteful manner about the collar. Lining is of fine guaranteed satin, insuring durability.

Other similar coats as well as velvet and cloth suits of splendid styles will make a visit to this department one of pleasure and profit.

A very pretty line of child's velvet coats trimmed with braids are the neatest we have for the little ones.

THE DAKOTAS.

Lafayette Toms Killed a Stranger In Drunken Row.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Wahpeton.—In a drunken row, Lafayette Toms shot and killed a stranger at Barney, twenty miles west of Wahpeton, yesterday. Toms surrendered and is now in jail. He is from Little Sauk, Minn., and was here working during the harvest season. He says he shot in self defense. It is difficult to gather the details of the affair.

Jamestown.—In a will contest involving the rights of the widow of the late John M. Joos the widow won out, but an appeal will be taken. The attorneys for the other claimants have raised an interesting legal point. Heretofore the allowance of a widow in her husband's estate has been $1500 exempt property under the law. The law provides for $1000 exemptions, and it is held that the widow's allowance in such cases is only $1000. The allegation was made that Mrs. Joos was not legally the widow of Joos, but the court ruled that she was.

Milnor.—Harry Hicks, aged 7 years, fell from a threshing machine separator, breaking both jawbones and otherwise injured himself.

Wheat is averaging about twenty bushels to the acre. Several fields averaged as high as thirty-three.

H. K. Pennington, who was shot through the leg by a Minneapolis man while hunting last week, is recovering.

Grand Forks.—A suit for $11,000 damages has been started against the Great Northern by Ole C. Johnson, of Schurmier. Johnson boarded the Great Northern at this point for his home. When the train reached Schurmier he stepped to the platform of the coach waiting for the train to come to a standstill. The brakeman told him to jump as the train was not going to stop. After being told to jump several times he did so. There was no platform and he fell to the ground with terrific force, seriously bruising himself.

A frightful windstorm has been raging. County Register of Deeds Hancock, in from the country, says there is not a bundle of grain standing. All the shocks are levelled. Trees in the city were blown down and some damage done to buildings.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Redfield.—The Press of this city, which has been owned by J. M. Miles for ten years, has changed hands, and Mr. Miles will retire with this week's issue. J. W. Sheppard, deputy insurance commissioner, is the new proprietor. Mr. Sheppard is an old newspaper man and a pioneer, having in the early days edited a paper at Leola, McPherson county, and later at Howard. He is a Republican in politics.

The Northwestern station was broken into on Sunday and the money drawer rifled of a few pennies and dimes.

Armour.—The corn crop in this portion of the state promises to mature after all. The light frosts were beneficial. They stopped the growth and the hot weather has hastened maturing, until the crop promises to ripen in first-class shape.

School opened Monday with Professor W. Addie as principal, Miss Johnson of Pierre, assistant principal, and Mrs. T. Kyte, Miss Pearl Ensley, Miss Ida Derrill and Miss DeEtta Lang. The school building will not accommodate all the scholars, so the board arranged for one grade to be taught in Sherman hall.

ANOTHER STRIKE.

Turn of the Excavating Teamsters of Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—All the excavating teamsters in Chicago went on strike this morning for an increase in wages to $2 a day. About 600 men, doing the teaming for the principal firms making excavations for new buildings, are involved. The Teamsters' Joint council last night ordered the strike.

The teamsters demand $2 a day and the doing away with taking care of their teams all day Sundays. They are now receiving $1.50 and $1.75 a day. They are willing to look after their horses Sunday mornings, and then not return until time to take the teams out Monday.

Asthma Can Be Cured

The statement of Mr. J. F. Homan, 20 E. Adams St., Chicago, proves that the worst cases of Asthma in the world are not only relieved, but are readily cured by Dr. Schiffmann's Asthma Cure. He says: "Asthma kept me in terrible misery for ten years until I used your Asthma Cure. After the first trial I was a changed man. I went to sleep that night and awoke next day much relieved and I have gotten entirely over the Asthma. It is now nine years since I was cured."

Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Send 2c stamp to Dr. R. Schiffmann, Box 894 St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package.

A $300 Seal Jacket for $225

For This Week Only

We will take advance orders for our handsome $300 Seal Jackets for $225. Our reason for this phenomenal reduction is this: We bought the skins early in the spring before the big rise in the price of furs and thereby saved from 25 to 30 per cent on the raw material. We give you the advantage of our fortunate purchase.

OUR REPUTATION

MISSING.

No Trace of Young Grady Can Be Found.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 10.—Henry W. Grady has disappeared and his friends and relatives are much concerned. Mr. Grady is the only son of the late Henry W. Grady, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, who at the time of his death was probably the most popular man in the South. Young Mr. Grady was last seen at Norfolk, Va., on Friday of last week, when he left the hotel where he was stopping with his wife and child in order to secure transportation for the return trip to Atlanta, his home. Since that time no trace of him has been found.

Mrs. Grady, prostrated with grief, has returned to Atlanta.

Eugene R. Black, a prominent attorney of this city, and brother-in-law of Mr. Grady, is now in New York in quest of him, having abandoned all hope of finding him in Norfolk.

Mr. Grady had only a small amount of money when last seen. The theory of suicide is not entertained by his family or friends. His domestic life was happy and he was in comfortable financial circumstances. The police in every city, domestic and foreign will be notified of Mr. Grady's disappearance.

The missing man has for some years been connected in various capacities with the Atlanta Constitution. Miss Grace Gould, of St. Louis, was his wife.

WILL REMAIN.

Name of Judge Durand to Head Democratic Ticket.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 10.—Despite the paralytic stroke which he suffered a week ago and from which he is now slowly recovering, Judge George H. Durand, of Flint, will remain the Democratic candidate for governor and head the party ticket in the fall election. This decision was arrived at yesterday at a special meeting of the Democratic state central committee here today. L. L. Durand, brother of the nominee, appeared before the committee and made a statement as to his brother's condition. He said that the judge's family had left it to him to decide whether or not the judge's name should be left on the ticket. All things considered, Mr. Durand said, he did not feel like requesting that the name be taken off. He left the matter to the committee to act on as they thought best after hearing of Judge Durand's condition. After a short secret session the committee adopted resolutions declaring that Judge Durand's name should me left at the head of the ticket in view of the present encouragement for his speedy recovery. The formal address accepting the nomination which Judge Durand was to have read to the committee here was read yesterday afternoon by his brother, it having been written before the judge was stricken.

MINNESOTA

Wins In Second Day's Artillery Competition With Wisconsin.

Camp Douglas, Wis., Sept. 10.—The Minnesota artillerymen won the second day's competition yesterday by the remarkable score of 42 to 31 points. The four gunners participating in yesterday's contest gave a splendid exhibition of marksmanship. Out of 40 shots fired 21 hits were made, scoring over 50 per cent of the shots. The Minnesotans got 12 hits for a total of 42, while the Wisconsin men secured 9 hits for a total of 31. The work of Corp. Fred Winne of the Minnesota team, was little short of marvelous. Out of 10 shots he hit the target 7 times, scoring 25 points, which is 6 points more than the entire Minnesota team scored in last year's competition.

The work of the Wisconsin gunners was also excellent and showed a marked improvement over last year. The score for the two days stands: Minnesota, 68; Wisconsin 58.

The total for last year's match was Wisconsin, 61; Minnesota, 29.

Today the six remaining gunners will compete, three on each side. Yesterday's detailed score was:

Wisconsin—Lieut. Guy Armitage, 5 hits for 17 points; Sergt. Phil Westphal, 4 hits for 16 points.

Minnesota—Capt. Henry Larson, 5 hits for 16 points; Corp. Fred Winne, 7 hits for 29 points.

BAY STATE SOCIALISTS

Have an Easy Solution For All Troubles.

Boston, Sept. 10.—The state convention of the Socialists came to an end with the singing of the "Marseillaise" in a vigorous manner. J. C. Chase, of Haverhill, was nominated for governor and J. Q. Adams, of Amesbury, for lieutenant governor.

The platform adopted declares against the coal and beef trusts and the civic federation is declared to be engineered by capitalists for the purpose of lulling the workshop into false security and dangerous contentment and to make the union powerless to accomplish anything for the good of the working classes. It is insisted that the Socialists alone offer a solution of the trust question, co-operative ownership of the trusts, and of the strike problem; give labor the full product of its toil. It is insisted that the Massachusetts state government is conducted solely in the interests of the capitalistic class and that the legal machinery is used to intimidate the workers. Equal civil and political rights are demanded for men and women; trial by jury of injunction cases and state insurance of working people against old age and sickness.

GOT LIGHT SENTENCE.

Effective Plea For Mercy By Young Man.

New York, Sept. 10.—Struggling for seventeen months to earn money by different and dangerous work, in order that he might pay back a few hundred dollars he had stolen, Herman Apir found accident or illness dissipating his small hoard each time that he accumulated it and finally, broken in health, he gave himself up to the authorities in Cleveland. He was returned to Brooklyn and was sentenced to one month's imprisonment.

His recital of his experience and his plea for mercy in a letter he wrote to Judge Crane was effective. Apeler is a young man and married. He was employed as a cashier in Nelson Morris & Co.'s Brooklyn house for several years. About ten months ago he stole $237 and disappeared. The police lost all trace of him until they were informed by the police of Cleveland that Apeler had surrendered himself there. A detective was sent to Cleveland and return with the prisoner. He entered a plea of guilty.

Apeler worked in the tunnel under Lake Erie, at Cleveland, at 50 pounds air pressure. Fifty-nine men were killed during the two years this tunnel was building, and he safely escaped with his life from two accidents last summer from which fourteen lives were lost. He became a sailor on the lakes and had two ribs and his knee-cap broken. Then he worked in the woods near Champion, Mich., in snow three feet deep and the thermometer 15 to 20 degrees blow zero. Next he was in the iron mines, Michigan, 3000 feet deep. A piece of ore fell on his foot and broke his ankle.

CONFESS TO ARSON.

Two Men Are Arrested at Jeffers, Minn.

Jeffers, Minn., Sept. 10.—J. G. Curtis, of Echo, and A. Hauss, who has been working on a farm near Echo, have been arrested charged with setting the Central hotel on fire two weeks ago, which caused a loss to A. A. Faust's general merchandise store and implement house, and Nels Anderson's restaurant building, occupied by Fred Trowbridge.

Hauss has made a complete confession, claiming that he was hired by Curtis to do the deed, but Curtis denies the whole story. Hauss has apparently proven his story in so many instances that it is believed a question of only a short time before Curtis will break down.

Sheriff Ness brought Hauss here yesterday to find the bottle which contained the kerosene oil with which he started the fire, and the key to the building that Curtis gave him. He found both of these without any trouble.

It is expected that other surprises will be brought out at their examinations, which will take place at Windom in a few days.

SUNDAY'S PROGRAM

Elaborate Ceremonies to Mark Dedication of Jewish Synagogue.

Furnished In Conformity With Tabernacles of the Past.

Address By Rabbi Eppstein---Others Invited To Speak.

Elaborate exercises will mark the dedication of the new synagogue, Third avenue east and Third street, erected by Adas Israel and Chevri Kadisna congregation of orthodox Jews of this city.

The program will begin at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and will be of much interest. Some time ago the basement of the building was dedicated, but the entire edifice is now complete, and the event will not be passed by unnoticed.

The furnishings of the new place of worship are unique and strictly in keeping with the old tabernacles of the past. The woodwork is carved in the same manner, and the finishing is true to the smallest detail.

At 2 o'clock the members of the congregation will meet in the school rooms in the basement, which has served as the place of worship, and the scrolls will be carried to the floor above. Rabbi Eppstein, of Wilna, Russia, who has been selected to take charge of the synagogue, will carry one of the scrolls, while the distinction of transporting the other two will go to the highest bidder.

The honor of carrying the scrolls is no small one, as these documents are the most precious in the possession of the church. This is not strange when one considers the careful work necessary in the compiling of one. The scrolls contain the five books of Moses and other Biblical parts, and the writing is done entirely by hand. The copying or making of a scroll was the work of a lifetime of the patient priests of the church. The material on which the writing is done is a kind of hide, and is very durable. The smallest blot or imperfection in the writing, such as a misspelled word, was enough to throw one scroll away and compel the beginning of another. The documents must be spotless and clean. Some of them are valued at thousands of dollars.

After the procession reaches the new auditorium, the scrolls will be placed in a canopy that is made expressly for their reception. Here on an ark beautifully carved they will be deposited, while the perpetual lamp will be lighted. This signifies that the light of the books of Moses is burning. The lamp is never extinguished or allowed to go out. Rabbi Eppstein will deliver an address in the Hebrew language, and Mayor Hugo and Dr. S. P. Long, of the First Methodist church, are among the others who will be asked to speak.

The seven candles, one for every day of the week will then be lighted, and the key will be turned over by the building committee of the church.

Little use is there for a key, however, for the Hebrew place of worship is ever open. Believers in the orthodox doctrine can come to the synagogue any time of night or day to take up the work of prayer. The entire services are of the most ancient form.

The church building cost about $20,000, and is most complete in every detail. There are 300 members in the congregation, and they are rejoicing that their hopes of having a handsome church of their own will be officially realized Sunday.

BAD WEATHER

Interrupts Threshing and Generally Retards Farm Work.

The crop reports for the week ending Monday last tell of poor weather for farm work. The North Dakota report is particularly unfavorable in that respect and tells of interrupted threshing and stacks and shocks damaged by wind. It is as follows:

"The past week has been generally unfavorable for farm work of all kinds. Showers in nearly all sections the fore part, stopped harvesting and threshing, and wet grain that was just getting dry after the rains of the preceding week. The latter part was characterized by high winds, which retarded threshing and harvesting, and did some slight damage to grain in shock and stack by blowing them over. Frost occurred in most sections the nights of Sept. 3 and 4, in most cases being light and doing but little damage; in some sections, however, it damaged late flax and corn seriously, besides killing all vines.

"Wheat is all harvested, except some of the late sown, which is still green and will take a few days yet to ripen. The early sown grain is turning out very well, both in quality and quantity, but that sown late is said to be poor and rusty, with a poor yield.

"Oats and barley are, as a rule, all harvested, and the most of them either stacked or threshed; the most of the crop has been threshed, only a small portion remaining in the stack.

"Flax cutting is general in all sections, but that sown late is not ripe, and some of it will require ten days to be safe. Early sown flax is turning out as well as expected, but the late sown still remains very poor, being short, thin and weedy.

"Most of the corn is now out of the way of an ordinary frost, but would be injured by a freeze. It is still backward, the cool weather of the past week not being calculated to promote rapid growth, and as it was behind the season before, it cannot be regarded as a sure crop.

"Threshing is general in all parts, and in the extreme southern section is nearing completion; in the northern portion it is just beginning, and the wet weather and high winds of the past week have been unfavorable for any work of this character."

The Minnesota report is as follows: "There were light showers on Sept. 2, 4 and 5 from Polk county northward, heavier rains in the eastern half on Sept. 5 and light rains in the southern half on the evening of Sept. 7 or the morning of Sept. 8. The heaviest rains during the week were in the southeastern counties on Sept. 5. Every day of the week was moderately cool, except Sept. 7, and on the morning of Sept. 4 there were light frosts, which caused no injury, except in a few much exposed places, where flax was frosted a little. There was little or no rain during the week in the middle West and Southwest, and in parts of the central portion, and there stacking and threshing have progressed well, but elsewhere in the state all work in grain was hindered and delayed by the showers. There is still a little late flax to cut in different parts of the state.

"Potatoes are being dug. The potato rot is causing considerable loss. The cool weather is retarding the ripening of corn, and the late varieties will require good weather until Sept. 20 to ripen. Some flint corn is being cut in small quantities from Crow Wig county southward along the Mississippi. There is a good deal of corn this season which will be caught by frost unless cold weather holds off unusually late. As soon as this corn is frosted it should be cut without delay, and if possible before rain, in order that it may be saved in the best condition."

RUMORS ARE BASELESS.

Anti-Imperialist League Is Actively at Work.

To the Editor of The Herald:

We are much surprised to hear of "rumors that the Anti-Imperialists will suspend litigation for the present." Nothing can show how baseless such rumors are more than a few facts of the work we are and have been doing the past year. Including those now on hand we have circulated about 550,000 pamphlets and leaflets the past year, or about 1,500,000 since the league was organized three years ago. We have nearly finished sending out 121,000 copies of Senator Hoar's recent speech and are also circulating 20,000 copies of Mr. Carnegie's recent article, "The Opportunity of the United States," 10,000 each of two pamphlets by President Schurman, 25,000 of a pamphlet by Sixto Lopez, and several others. Our work is limited—but only by our financial ability—not by lack of zeal or interest in the cause. Let those who believe show their faith—as we certainly try to do—by their works. Very respectfully,

E. W. ORDWAY,
Secretary Anti-Imperialist League of New York.

TO MAKE LOAN.

Cuban House Decides to Raise $35,000,000.

Havana, Sept. 10.—The loan bill passed the house yesterday by 48 votes to 2.

President Palma is authorized to secure a loan, in the name of the nation, of $35,000,000, the minimum price of issue to be 90 and the maximum rate of interest to be 6 per cent. According to the bill, the loan is payable in forty years, payments to begin ten years after the date of issue. Four million dollars of the loan is to be devoted to the encouragement of agriculture and the cattle industry, and the sum of $31,000,000 is for the fulfillment of obligations contracted during the revolution and the payment of the Cuban army.

HANCHETT WILLING

To Accept the Michigan Senatorial Nomination.

Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 10.—Benton Hanchett, of Saginaw, a prominent Republican attorney, is a receptive candidate for the nomination to succeed the late Senator James McMillan. D. M. Ferry and ex-Secretary of War Alger are already actively in the field. In a letter to the Republicans of Saginaw Mr. Hanchett says:

"I should neither seek to secure the office nor decline it if called upon to perform its duties. If the office should come to me, I would give to the performance of the duties involved the best services at my command."

FIVE ARE ADOPTED

Charter Amendments Are Considered By the Commission.

Five Prove Satisfactory In the Form Submitted.

Two More Will Be Drafted By the Commission.

Five of the seven proposed charter amendments will be submitted to the people as recommended by the council.

One will be redrafted by the charter commission and at least one new amendment will be submitted by the commission.

The charter makers met last evening in the council chamber. The first of the proposed amendments thy passed on was one providing that for purposes of improvement petitions, property owned by two or more persons jointly shall be considered as belonging to but one person.

This amendment was submitted at the last municipal election and though 7621 voters were in favor of it, and only 801 were against it at that time, the proposition lacked 1541 of carrying, it being necessary for a charter amendment to receive three-fifths of all the votes cast at the election.

The second of the proposed amendments considered and adopted by the commission last evening was that designed to double the usefuiness of the permanent improvement revolving fund, by permitting the levying and collecting assessments when contracts for improvements are awarded, instead of when the work is finished.

At last spring's municipal election this same amendment came the nearest to carrying, but at that it was defeated by 1336 votes despite the fact that 3076 voted in favor of it and 913 against it.

The third of the proposed amendments is simply one correcting a technical error in the Green charter. It provides that penalties and interest in delinquent city assessments shall be paid to the city instead of the county.

At the last election this amendment was defeated by 1340 votes though 3122 voters favored it as against 801 negative votes.

The fourth proposition is designed to give the council authority to order necessary trunk sewer assessments without a petition from property owners, when fourteen out of the sixteen aldermen consider the sewer necessary and proper.

This will be redrafted by the commission and presented in such a way as to give the council authority to employ person to circulate petitions for other improvements.

When the trunk sewer amendment was voted on last spring it was defeated by 1639 votes in the affirmative vote of 2923 as against 569 with an affirmative vote of 4462 necessary to carry.

A new amendment which the voters will be asked to pass on Oct. 28, provides for a bond issue of $50,000 for the permanent improvement revolving fund.

The seventh amendment is designed to stop the present leakage of the permanent improvement revolving fund. The present charter allows a rebate of 10 per cent on assessments paid within thirty days. The new proposition does away with this and substitutes a penalty of 10 per cent on all assessments not paid within that period.

At the request of Mayor Hugo another amendment will be drafted for the purpose of remedying a technical error in the present charter. One provision says that the board of fire commissioners shall receive $20 a year as compensation for their services while another provision says that the fire commissioners shall serve without pay.

Two of the three commissioners are serving under the first-mentioned provision, while the third declines to accept any compensation under the second provision.

tled for years against the mental and physical suffering of lost manhood that the Institute has decided to distribute free trial packages to all who write. It is a home treatment and all men who suffer from any form of sexual weakness resulting from youthful folly premature loss of strength and memory, weak back, varicocele, or emaciation of parts can now cure themselves at home.

The remedy has a peculiarly grateful effect of warmth and seems to act direct to the desired location, giving strength and development just where it is needed. It cures all the ills and troubles that come from years of misuse of the natural functions and has been an absolute success in all cases. A request to the State Medical Institute, 68 Elektron building, Ft. Wayne, Ind., stating that you desire one of their free trial packages will be complied with promptly. The institute is desirous of reaching that great class of men who are unable to leave home to be treated and the free sample will enable them to see how easy it is to be cured of sexual weakness when the proper remedies are employed. The institute makes no restrictions. Any man who writes will be sent a free sample, carefully sealed in plain package so that its recipient need have no fear of embarrassment or publicity. Readers are requested to write without delay.

MARCUS L. FAY,

Candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Congress.

Vote For Him on September 16.

Marcus L. Fay is vice president of the Pearce Mining company, and president of the Fay Exploration company, and is managing and operating the Laura and Winford mines at Hibbing. He supplies the West Duluth blast furnace with ore. Capt. Fay stands high with the laboring men for the reason that all of the several hundred men employed by him pronounce him fair and liberal.

His success in life has been marked and his hustling ability, affability and liberality are the causes of this success. He is widely liked and universally believed in as a sincere, upright man, and has as much influence as any single person in this county. He has always been a Democrat and has worked hard for his party in each succeeding campaign. Mr. Fay was a staunch supporter and valued counsellor of Former Senator Charles A. Towne, and during the memorable Towne campaigns championed his cause with fervor and unfailing zeal. Mr. Fay has always been of a studious turn of mind as his lofty forehead would indicate, he is well read and well versed in political economy and is a fluent and forceful speaker.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

John J. Wood, of Berlin, Wis., was nominated for congress by the second district Democratic congressional convention.

A challenge was mailed by the Minnetonka yacht club to the St. Lawrence yacht club of Montreal for the Seawanhaka cup. The challenge informs the Montreal club that four new trial boats will be built at Minnetonka after the model of the hitherto unbeaten Onawa, which has a record of having made a nautical in four minutes, eight seconds.

The body of George S. Randall, a well known druggist of Kansas City, who disappeared mysteriously a month ago, was found Tuesday two blocks from his home in a populous part of the city, where it had lain obscured from view by a clump of weeds. The decomposed condition of the body makes it difficult to ascertain the cause of Randall's death.

William Carnahan, of Eau Claire, was nominated for congress by the Seventh district Democratic convention.

F. Goebel, a resident of New York, shot and killed Annie Miller at the home of her parents in Brooklyn, Tuesday, and then killed himself. No cause known. On the man's body was found a note from the woman saying she had some important business to transact with him.

While walking on the Northwestern tracks near Kenilworth Tuesday, William Hoar and William Glitzow, both of Chicago, were struck by a passenger train and killed. The men were walking south and stepped off the tracks out of the way of a northbound train, directly in front of the passenger train.

The board of ordnance and fortification yesterday considered the reports on the field guns which have been tested with a view of selecting a gun for the field artillery of the army. The board did not accept any type, as all submitted developed certain defects.

Mr. Powell, United States minister to Haiti, has cabled the state department that he has a report that Admiral Killick and two of his officers went down with the Crete-a-Pierrot, recently sunk near Cape Haitien by the German gunboat Panther.

Mr. Ehrmann, vice consul general at Panama, advised the state department by cable that Agua Dulce has been surrendered by the government forces. Four revolutionary war vessels are now in the bay of Panama and the revolutionists are reported to be moving toward the railroad. Mr. Ehrmann consideres the situation at Colon and at Panama serious.

AN OLD SORE

Will sour the sweetest disposition and transform the most even tempered, lovable nature into a cross-grained and irritable individual.

If impatience or fault-finding are ever excusable it is when the body is tortured by an eating and painful sore. It is truly discouraging to find after months of diligent and faithful use of external remedies that the place remains as defiant, angry and offensive as ever. Every chronic sore, no matter on what part of the body it comes, is an evidence of some previous constitutional or organic trouble, and that the dregs of these diseases remain in the system; or, it may be that some long hidden poison—perhaps Cancer—has come to the surface and begun its destructive work.

The blood must be purified before the sore will fill up with healthy flesh and the skin regains its natural color. It is through the circulation that the acrid, corroding fluids are carried to the sore or ulcer and keep it irritated and inflamed. S. S. S. will purify and invigorate the stagnant blood when all sediment or other hurtful materials are washed out, fresh rich blood is carried to the diseased parts, new tissues form, and the decaying flesh begins to have a healthy and natural look; the discharge ceases and the sore heals.

GIFT OF CARNEGIE

The Classic White Marble Public Library at Washington.

Almost Ready and Will Be Dedicated In October.

Annual Outbreak of Typhoid at the National Capital.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Sept. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The classic white marble public library, the gift of Andrew Carnegie to the people of Washington, will be ready for occupancy within a few weeks and will be formally dedicated in October, at a time when the donor may be present.

The building is admiraby located in Mount Vernon square and is visible from every point of the compass through a half a dozen vistas of streets and avenues. Two broad avenues, Massachusetts and New York, cross the square diagonally. Seventh and Ninth streets ferm the eastern and western boundaries of the square, and K and Eighth streets cross the rectangular square from east to west and north to south. The library building is thus situated with respect to Washington much as Bostonians believe their city is in respect to the universe. From the avenues and streets radiating like the spokes of a wheel the mind is almost unconsciously carried toward the central hub—the "university of the people," as the institution is styled in one of the inscriptions on the main approach.

The general architectural treatment is mediaeval Greek, and the building is one of the most imposing types of Ionic architecture in this part of the country. The interior is thoroughly modern and harmonizes admirably with the classic exterior. The building consists of a central rectangular pavilion 111 feet long and 90 feet broad, with wings of equal size extending to the east and west, respectively 63 feet in length and 54 feet in breadth. The compactness of construction is much in favor of the building, and it does not look cumbersome, but is pleasing, soothing and graceful to the eye. Within the building one is surprised to find spacious rooms and corridors which breathe the air of freedom. The area of the building is 17,307 square feet, or about seven-eighths of Mount Vernon square. There is a basement and first floor, intended for the library proper. In the second floor there are balconies and rooms where meetings may be held.

The structure is the result of a donation of $350,000 by Andrew Carnegie. The conditions of the gift were the same as those usually imposed by Mr. Carnegie in other portions of the United States, wherever his mania for erecting libraries has led him. He supplied the cash and the government the property on which to erect the structure, the latter seven, yea, even tenfold more valuable. Under the provisions of an act of congress, approved March 3, 1899, Mount Vernon square was set aside as the site, on conditions that building operations begin within a year and the structure completed within three years. The foundations were laid late in 1899. On Aug. 1, 1900, proposals were invited for the general structure, and a contract was entered into with Messrs. Richardson & Burgess, of Washington city, for the erection of the library complete, except book racks, elevator and lighting fixtures and furniture, for $277,000. The foundations of the building are of Bay State stone and the superstructure of Vermont white marble. The finishing touches are now being applied and most of the interior is ready. On the exterior the only wording is "The Washington Public Library" over the main entrance, the dates "1899" and "1902," the words "Poetry," "Science" and "Art," and "The Gift of Andrew Carnegie." Around the balustrade of the main entrance of the southern approach is another inscription, "A University of the People."

Washington's annual outbreak of typhoid fever has reached large proportions. The cases now under treatment number over 300. For the first time the physicians are now required by law to report the cases, as with the contagious diseases. The absence of similar records in the past makes it hard to tell whether the epidemic is this season exceptionally severe. The general impression is that the number of cases is large, but that the resulting mortality from them, of which there are comparative records, is very light. The tax which a community of this size pays to typhoid is an amazing reflection upon our boasted civilization. When the total number of cases for the season is made up, and it is applied to the number of eligibles present at the time, excluding small children and, for practical purposes, those who have had the disease once, it will be seen that the average person's chance of suffering from it if he stays in this town a certain number of years is very large.

Whether the water of the Potomac is responsible for these epidemics is very much disputed. It has been said to be the only condition discoverable this year which was common to all the victims of record. But the use of water is so general that even the negative observation is from complete evidence. In about two years more the city supply of water will be filtered by the slow sand system, when it is hoped the dangerous contamination will be considerably reduced. When this great undertaking is completed Washington will be the largest city in the country to have water filtered so well. This is something to look forward to.

This summer in Washington has been notable for its building operations, particularly in hotels, apartment houses and office buildings. More structural iron and steel is coming here this season, it would appear, than in all the five years past, but this may be because Washington has just reached the cage-construction period in its development.

The building operations of greatest interest to the country are at the old White House, where improvements costing more than $500,000 are now in progress. The new office building for the president and the executive clerks is a gratifying surprise. It is remarkable that a structure of its size could be erected so near the White House without seeming to interfere more with the general view of the place and grounds, and the picture of the mansion so long associated in the public mind. The devices by which this new building has been obscured are very ingenious. A slice has been taken out of the high bank on the west side of the White House grounds, sloping down to the driveway between them and the war department building and the office building set into the excavation thus made. It is only a one-story affair, with the basement, so, in the range of the eye, appears not much above the level of the first floor of the White House. Then its outer wall extends so squarely to the sidewalk line on the westerly driveway as to disassociate the building entirely from the White House, and in common parlance, "One would hardly know it was there." Its general lines are harmonious with those of the White House, and its color treatment will doubtless be so, too.

The changes in the White House itself will result in a remarkable saving of the available space in the restoration in a large part of the newer partitions to their original designs. Most of the things that have seemed like fundamentals are found to be really latter-day additions and usually in poor taste. Three flight of stairs in the private part of the house, from the first to the second floor, so closely resembling the stairway on a steamboat, was such an addition. The original stairway stood where the private elevator has since been introduced, and, now, with slightly changing partition lines, the stairway will go back to its old place, releasing for general uses some very valuable space with window frontage.

The high banks on the treasury side of the White House have also been cut into for driveways to the new entrance in the basement, where carriages for receptions and other functions will now unload. There will be no more advice of the coachman who explained to his patrons on their way to a reception that if they would get out of the carriage just before it reached the White House and walk the rest of the way, they would "save an hour," and that if they would come out at its close and find him at a spot agreed upon a half block away, they would again "save an hour." Such incidents, more or less humorous, have characterized the White House receptions of the past. It looks as if they would not again be called into requisition.

GENUINE DIAMONDS

Can Be Made By Aid of Electricity.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The prospect of the manufacture of diamonds by scientific means is considered so likely as to be predicted in a government report. T. G. Martin, an expert special agent of the census office, has written a long and very interesting report on the electrical industries of the United States, in which he incidentally refers to the attempts that have been made to produce diamonds artificially. He recalls the fact Moissan, the Frenchman, pushed the employment of the electric arc so far as to produce minute fragmentary diamonds in his furnaces. Moissan also noted the production of graphite from a diamond heated in the arc and from the similar treatment of sugar charcoal purified by chlorine and of purified wood charcoal.

"In fact," says Mr. Martin, "it was due to his investigation in this field that he was led to his celebrated observations on the formation of diamonds by the sudden cooling in mercury or lead of molten iron saturated with carbon. Out of all such work it was but natural that fanciful speculations should arise as to the possibility of establishing factories for the regular manufacture of genuine diamonds at Niagara Falls, where the cheap current and other essentials would be available, but nothing has resulted within the period under consideration from these plausible and sanguine theories. The fact remains, however, that in our modern electrical furnaces diamond dust has been produced, and the steps leading to the manufacture of larger crystals will be but sequential."

STARTS ON CAMPAIGN

Made Speech at Fond du Lac to Large Audience.

Severely Criticised the Administration of Gov. La Follette.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Sept. 10.—Mayor David S. Rose of Milwaukee, nominee for governor by the Democratic state convention, opened the campaign yesterday, traveling in a special train. Mayor Rose made short speeches during the day when his train made stops at Jackson, West Bend, Kewaskum, Campbellsport and Eden.

He reserved his powers for his effort of last night. At the Armory, where Mayor Rose delivered his speech, he was greeted by a large audience which was liberal in its aplause. His speech in the main was a severe criticism of the La Follette administraton. He spoke in part as follows:

"For two years and more the social structure of our state has been disarranged by strike and turmoil. Bonds of political union have been severed, the fires of hate have been kindled and in their devouring flames, fed by avarice and selfishness and personal ambition, the spirit of the public welfare has been consumed.

"Public office has become a recruiting station for factional forces, popular rights have been forgotten in the contest for factional supremacy, and public duty has been neglected for the accomplishment of factional ends.

"Can it be said that the administration of state affairs during the last two years has been acceptable to the people? Has it been profitable in its popular results? Has the public service been improved? Have taxes been reduced?

"These and many other questions of equal importance and kindred character confront the voter at this moment. They should be considered dispassionately and honestly.

"In the conduct of this campaign I shall confine myself to honest and fair discussion of the issues and questions in which the people have an interest. The private acts of my opponent are of no interest to me or to the mass. But those things which he has done in his official capacity, his public policies and utterances, his theories which relate to administrative or governmental measures, are all common property, and these the people have the right to consider, approve, discuss or criticise."

Mr. Rose then criticised Governor La Follette for the methods alleged to have been used to secure the nomination to the office of governor two years ago, and said:

"The platform adopted by the La Follette convention contains two distinct and leading features. The first is a declaration that caucuses and conventions for the nomination of candidates for office be abolished and then all candidates for state and county offices be nominated at the primary election by a direct vote.

"The second, a demand for the enactment of such laws as will compel each individual and corporation within the state except fraternal and other dirdred corporations to bear a just share of the burden of taxation.

"The platform condemns the pernicious activity of the federal officials of this state in flagrant disregard of civil service laws in attempts to forestall and control the convention and in assisting the professional lobbyist before the legislature and elsewhere in defeating legislation.

"How consistent it is 'from a La Follette standpoint' to criticise federal officeholders for activity in ante-convention contests while every state official, from Lieutenant Governor Murphy down through the army of game wardens in the woods to the squirreltamers in the park, were spending their time by day and night in hustling caucuses and conventions and drawing their salaries from the peoples' treasury."

Mr. Rose then reviewed the history of the Stevens primary election bill and the Hagemeister substitute, the latter having been passed by the legislature and vetoed by the governor.

He dwelt at length on what he termed Mr. La Follette's taxation notions, saying:

"Supposing that the owner of a homestead desires to borrow money with which to go into business and for that purpose places a mortgage upon his home. In that event, under Mr. La Follettes reform vagaries he would pay a tax upon the full value of his home, and other tax upon the mortgage and another tax upon the business. Is this just taxation?

"There was introduced in the last legislature a bill that provided for a separate assessment of the mortgage from the real estate and provided that the mortgage should be assessed separately and the amount of the mortgage deducted from the assessed value of the real estate.

"This bill passed the legislature, but was vetoed by the governor, and this is a sample of the equality which we may expect under his theories of tax revision.

"Under Mr. La Follette's peculiar system of tax reform, the whole amount levied for the one mill school tax for common schools has been increased from $630,018.02 to $1,436,284, a difference in increase of $806,825.98, which the taxpayers of the state of Wisconsin will be compelled to pay.

"Nowhere in the La Follette platform or in his speech of acceptance have we been given assurance that any different policy is intended for the future or that different results will be obtained."

Mr. Rose characterized La Follette as the friend of trusts. Concerning the Democratic platform, he said:

"The platform upon which I was nominated and upon which I satnd expresses the position of the party I represetn upon all questions of public concern clearly and without equivocation. Should we be called upon to act in the enlarged sphere for which we have been nominated, we will return to the old conservative, safe and progressive methods which have characterized the government of our state from the moment of her admission into statehood until the hour when the reins were committed to the hands of a dreamer, a theorist, and a political dictator.

"We believe in accomplishing the greatest good for the general welfare by preserving the power to govern in the hands of the people where it rightfully belongs. It will not be our policy to make more taxes, but to make lower taxes. It will not be our policy to increase the number of state employes and subordinates, but to abolish every unnecessary office and place.

"While existing caucus laws are defective and must be remodeled and improved, let us not substitute a system which will place the power in the hands of committeemen, but let us all work together to control public offices through the sovereign people, where by right that control belongs."

Mayor Rose has started over the state with the self-imposed task of delivering 225 speeches to the people from the rear end of a passenger coach. The special leased for the campaign will consist of an engine, a Pullman coach and a baggage car, and accommodations will be supplied for several intimate friends and the newspaper correspondents.

A little life may be sacrificed to a sudden attack of croup if you don't have Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil on hand for the emergency.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.—Default having been made in the payment of the sum of eighteen hundred and thirty-one ($1831.00) dollars, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain purchase money mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Annie Wills (who signed the same Annie L. Wills) and Albert Wills her husband, mortgagors, to Matthew B. Harrison, John A. Coke and Peyton Wise, mortgagees, bearing date the 26th day of July, 1890, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 12th day of September, 1890, at eight o'clock a. m., in Book 70 of mortgages, on page 12.

Which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said John A. Coke and by Lucy Gray Harrison as executrix of the estate of Matthew B. Harrison, deceased, and as guardian of Louise H. Harrison, a minor, and by said Lucy Gray Harrison in her own right, and by Laura C. Wise as executrix of the estate of Peyton Wise, deceased, and also in her own right, (the said Lucy Gray Harrison and Louise H. Harrison being the sole heirs and devisees of Matthew B. Harrison, deceased, and the said Laura C. Wise being the sole devisee of said Peyton Wise, deceased) to St. George R. Fitzhugh and James T. Gray, by written assignment dated the first day of March, 1902, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said St. Louis County on the 21st day of May, 1902, at 2 o'clock p. m., in Book 188 of mortgages, on page 39.

Which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was assigned by said St. George R. Fitzhugh and James T. Gray, the assignees and holders thereof, to The Duluth Banking Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the state of Minnesota, by written assignment, dated the 19th day of May, 1902, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said St. Louis County, on the 31st day of May, 1902, at 2:15 o'clock p. m., in Book 188 of mortgages, on page 40.

Which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said The Duluth Banking Company, the assignee and holder thereof, to Athol Morton Miller, by written assignment dated the 14th day of June, 1902, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of said St. Louis County, on the 16th day of June, 1902, at 10 o'clock a. m., in Book 132 of mortgages, on page 319; and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: Lot nine (9), in block thirty (30), Harrison's Division of Duluth, according to the plat thereof of record in the office of the register of deeds of said St. Louis County, in St. Louis County and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis County at the front door of the court house, in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the eighteenth day of September, 1902, at ten o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said mortgage debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty ($50.00) dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

WHEAT IS STRONGER

The Market Opens Higher and Rules Fairly Firm.

Shippers Work Some Wheat Under Wet Foreign Weather.

Flax Opens Stronger But Declines Under Liberal Offerings.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 10.—The wheat market started out with slightly higher prices this morning and ruled quite strong throughout the session. The strength was due to the lightness of the receipts and higher cables, which offset the bearish influence of the favorable weather conditions in the corn and wheat belts. The strength of cables was due to rainy weather in foreign countries. Duluth shippers worked 15,000 bushels of wheat for export. Cash wheat was somewhat stronger, the September option widening its premium over December to the extent of ¼c. The Liverpool market closed ½@¾d higher. Paris ½c higher and Berlin unchanged.

Primary receipts of wheat were 1,248,000 bus, last year 1,126,000 bus. Shipments, 250,000 bus, last year 783,000 bus. Clearances of wheat and flour aggregated 567,000 bus.

Corn in the Chicago market was slightly weaker, December closing ½c lower. December oats advanced slightly. Primary receipts of corn were 355,000 bus, last year 562,000 bus. Shipments, 215,000 bus, last year 307,000 bus. Clearances were 800 bus.

Receipts of wheat at Duluth and Minneapolis 363 cars, and at Chicago, 184, a total of 754 cars, against 945 last week and 1180 last year.

Trading on the Duluth floor was light, and the market stronger. Posted receipts were light but the number of cars on track this morning was very much larger. December wheat opened ½c up at 65⅝c, sold at 65¾c at 9:25, reacted to 65⅜c at 9:30, touched 65¾c again at 11:00, sold at 65¾c at 11:25 and then fell off and closed at 65⅝c. This was an advance of ⅞c. September advanced ⅞c. In the Chicago market December was a shade higher and in Minneapolis advanced ¼c.

Cash offerings were liberal and sales aggregated 250,000 bus. The movement is expected to materially increase within a few days. Prices were unchanged at 1c over for No. 1 northern wheat in store and to arrive by September 15, and Septemoer price for straight to arrive. No. 2 sold at 2c under No. 1 and No. 3 4c under.

Flax was stronger after the opening this morning, but the flood of seed again from the country broke the price. The crushing interests were the buyers and they stood up sturdily under the offerings for some time, but finally the price yielded. September was up 1½c to $1.35¾, but fell off later to $1.33½ and finally closed at $1.33¾. October advanced ¾c to $1.31¼ early in the day, but fell off to $1.29 later and closed at $1.29½. November declined 1c. Cash seed fell under the onslaught, losing 2c. To arrive seed fell 1c. September and December and to arrive oats advanced ¼c and oats on track 1c.

Following are the closing prices:

Wheat, cash, 1 hard, 70¼c; 1 northern, 68¾c; 2 northern, 66¾c; 3 spring, 64¾c. To arrive, 1 hard, 69¼c; 1 northern, 67¾c; September, 67¾c; December, 65⅝c; macaroni, No. 1, 63¾c; No. 2, 60¾c. Oats, September, 31c; December, 30c; to arrive, 31c; on track, 32c. Rye, September, 48¼c; to arrive, 49c; on track, 49c. Barley, 42@60c. Flax, cash, $1.38; to arrive, $1.34; on track, $1.38; No. 1 Northwestern, $1.38; September, $1.33¾; October, $1.29½; November, $1.28.

Cars inspected—Wheat, 166; last year, 541; oats, 6; rye, 9; barley, 25; flax, 20. Receipts—Wheat, 227,000 bus; oats, 32,800 bus; rye, 3021 bus; barley, 33,243 bus; flax, 23,161 bus. Shipments—Wheat, 135,559 bus; rye, 29,377 bus; flax, 3224 bus.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Early Business In Grains at Steady Prices.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Early business in grains today was at fairly steady prices. Weather conditions generally were favorable, with rising temperatures in most of the corn and wheat belt. There were a few light frosts in the corn belt, but no damage was reported. The Washington crop report stated that most of the spring wheat was in and that by Sept. 20, the corn would be safe from frost damage. These factors tended toward a bearish influence, but receipts were still small and offset any early inclination to sell. Near futures were a trifle firmer than the winter months. December wheat started ⅛@⅛c down to shade higher, at 68¼c to 68⅜c. Cables were a little higher. Spring wheat was improved somewhat in grade. Lower receipts were 184 cars, 6 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth still had light arrivals at 363 cars, making a total for the three points of 547 cars, against 585 last week and 1186 a year ago.

A little buying by a prominent elevator took December wheat to 68¾c, but late trading was dull and uninteresting and December closed very steady, a shade higher, at 68⅜c.

Corn was reported offered freely in the country for December delivery, and the weather favored selling early. Predictions of frosts tomorrow, came in and there was a tendency to hedge against sales. September started unchanged to ¼c lower, at 57⅝c to 57½c, and sold at 58c, but eased off again later to 57¾c. December opened ⅜@¾c to ¾@⅞c down, at 42¾c to 42⅞c, sold at 43¼c, and steadied near 43c. Receipts were lighter at 202 cars, 29 of contract grade.

Corn trade hung fire most of the day, save for fall covering in September options. September closed firm, ⅝c up, at 58¾c, but December was easy ⅛c down, at 43⅝@43¾c.

Receipts of oats were not so liberal as of late at 162 cars, but stocks here are increasing. This with the improved weather worked against the grading that has recently been the bull incentive. Today early trading was without feature. A little covering helped prices more in September than other months, September being sold from 34½c to 35c. December opened a shade easy, at 31¼@⅜c, and sold at 31⅜c.

Provisions started dull and lower. There was a little selling by the outside on fair receipts and lower prices of hogs at the yards. January pork opened 8c off, at $14.90, and sold down 5c; January lard 2c off, at $8.35, and January ribs, 2½c lower, at $7.82½, and dipped to $7.77½.

Close: Wheat, September, 71¾c; December, 68¾c. May, 69¾@⅞c. Corn, September, 58¾c; October, 52½c; December, 42⅞@43c; May, 39⅝c. Oats, September, 25⅝c; new, 34¾c; December, 29⅝c; new, 31⅝@⅝c; May, 31¾c. Pork, September, $15.75; October, $16.87½; January, $14.87½; May, $14.60. Lard, September, $10.70; October, $9.87½; December, $8.70; January, $8.37½; May, $8.00. Ribs, September, $10.60; October, $10.05; January, $7.82½. Flax, cash Northwestern, $1.35; Southwestern, $1.38; September, $1.34½; October, $1.29½. Rye, September, 49@49½c. Barley, cash, 38@63c. Timothy, September, $4.45. Clover, October, $8.75@8.85. Cash wheat No. 2 red, 71½c; No. 3 red, 66@68c; No. 2 hard winter, 70c; No. 3 hard winter, 66@68c; No. 1 northern spring, 74c; No. 2 northern spring, 72c; No. 3 spring, 70c. Cash corn, No. 2, 59½@⅝c; No. 3, 59¼@⅞c. Oats, No. 2, 28@⅜c; No. 3, 26¾@27¼c.

GRAIN GOSSIP.

There were no unfavorable features on the weather map this morning, no frosts and no rainfall except a few showers in the Ohio valley. No better conditions could be asked by the farmer, with growing corn or by the wheat raiser who wanted to get his grain to market. Temperatures some higher. Generally clear this morning in Dakotas and Minnesota.

Lincoln, Neb.—"The past few days have been magnificent ones for maturing the late corn. Clear and warm, 87 above yesterday with strong drying wind. A few more such days will put all the corn in Nebraska out of range from frost. In fact a light frost will soon be a benefit to it. If conditions continue favorable corn ought to begin to move next month and the quality ought to be good."

Fairfield, Iowa—Seeing so many different reports as to corn conditions, I wish to get this section in line with the facts as I see them. Ninety per cent of the corn crop is out of danger from frost, and light frosts would do the balance good. Old corn is all gone and farmers feeding new corn for last ten days. Oats not over 50 per cent of crop and badly damaged. I believe our corn crop is equal to 125 per cent of average years.

Logan & Bryan, Chicago: Wheat: Considerable local effort was made to start an advance on the continued light movement in the Northwest, but the market received little encouragement from other sources. Foreign markets are not better than dull and steady, and while the export clearances continue fairly liberal, buying shows no disposition to follow advances. The local position of September wheat is still an element of uncertainty and keeps the traders guessing. It would seem that the long interests are liquidating as fast as possible. The premiums for cash wheat in the northwest markets seem operate to prevent any free arrivals of contract wheat from that source. Of course this is probably a temporary condition. Advices from the Canadian crop in the northwest are that the yield is in excess of anticipation, and that they have a very big surplus to be marketed in competition with Minneapolis and Duluth. The whole outlook continues dull, in our judgment and promises only scalping opportunities. The export business of last two days has been fairly large, but the volume seems smaller today. Estimated cars, 235.

Corn: The market was a little active at times, but on the whole very light trading. Shorts covered early on reports of frost, but the improvement was finally lost. The September option is only traded in a small scale. We think there is still quite a large scattered long interest in it. The country offerings of corn are somewhat of a nervous nature. The demand is slow and limited to absolute requirements.

Oats: The market is quiet, but steady. The cereal companies seem to be the principal buyer of contract oats. The cash demand on the whole is fair, but stocks are accumulating with considerable rapidity. We see nothing very urgent in the situation one way or the other and are inclined to think that they are selling at fair price. With accumulating stocks we are inclined to think oats may be safely sold for moderate profits on strength days. Exports 266,000 bushels. Estimated cars, 200.

THE RISE IN STOCKS

Halted When the Traders Attempted to Take Profits.

Missouri Pacific Broke Nearly Three Points From Highest.

Setback Elsewhere Ran From One to Two Points.

New York, Sept. 10.—The stock market opened active and with a general display of strength which was most pronounced in Reading, Baltimore & Ohio, Louisville and St. Louis Southwestern. These stocks made gains of from 1 to 1½ and there were some fractional advances in the Wabash stocks and Pennsylvania. Baltimore & Ohio and Reading were dealt in in very large amounts, opening transactions being individual blocks of 6000 and 5000 shares respectively.

Traders took advantage of the opening rise to realize profits and there was a general reaction in prices. St. Paul, Atchison, Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific Southern Pacific and the most prominent specialties yielded below yesterday's close. Subsequently large orders for New York Central and Pennsylvania caused a general rally in the market and prices of many stocks rose to a higher level than before. Advances ranged between 1 and 2 points for New York Central, Reading second preferred, Rock Island, People's Gas, Illinois Central, Consolidated Gas and less preferred. Missouri Pacific recovered to about yesterday's high level, but the Southwesterns generally were not so conspicuous as on yesterday.

Special stocks were steadily forced upwards, notably Erie, Delaware & Hudson and the Readings and some of the iron and steel stocks. Reading rose to 76¼ and there were also advances of from 2 to 5 points in La Clede Gas and the various express stocks. Meanwhile profit taking was going on in the trunk lines, Baltimore & Ohio, People's Gas and Amalgamated causing declines from the highest of about a point. Rock Island broke 3¼ and partially rallied. The market at noon was quiet but improving in tone. Railroad bonds were less active and firmer outside of Wabash debentures in which profits were being taken freely.

B. & O. was taken in hand again for a rise after midday and readily advanced 2¾ to 118. Norfolk & Western and the Denver & Rio Grande stocks followed its lead with a good gain, and Pere Marquette jumped 6 points. Jersey Central lost 3½. Rumors are current that the pronounced strength in Pennsylvania and the Gould stocks was due to resumption of friendly relations, which were considered to be somewhat strained through the efforts to extend the Wabash system into eastern territory.

Prominent stocks fluctuated within narrow limits during the early afternoon, but the undertone remained good despite evidences of profit taking. When large buying orders were executed for U. S. Steel, causing a rise to 42¾, the independent steel stocks also hardened, particularly Tennessee Coal, which rose nearly two points. Baltimore & Ohio and Missouri Pacific were lifted to a higher level and the market generally became active again before 2 o'clock.

The rise in prices halted when the traders attempted to realize in the leading strong stocks of the day. Large offerings of Missouri Pacific broke it nearly 3 points from the highest and the set-back elsewhere ran from 1 to 2 points in Baltimore & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Reading, St. Paul, New York Central, Amalgamated and various others. Louisville and Southern Railway made a momentary spurt in the face of the general tendency but soon fell back again. The close was active and weak.

STOCK GOSSIP.

Ridgley to W. H. Laidley & Co.: My views remain unchanged. There is nothing new and the market is all right. Southern Pacific continues strong and it will sell a great deal higher. Its advance may be gradual. I am getting suspicious of Brooklyn Rapid Transit. You might take profits on Missouri Pacific and St. Paul on rallies although they are likely to see higher prices. Illinois Central, New York Central and Pennsylvania will come out all right if you have the patience to hold them. I think there will be 20 points in Illinois Central. The Colorado Southern issues and Denver Southern pfd are likely to go higher. I continue bullish on Atchison, Union Pacific and the general list subject to reactions of a point or so at any time.

Waldorf to Edwards, Wood & Co.: While comment on the stock market tonight is rather indicative of action, it is not believed that should a setback materialize it will exceed a point or two. For the pull, sentiment continues extremely bullish and representative houses report a better time for public account than has been in evidence since the bull movement began. Much importance is given to the government's weekly crop bulletin, reporting the bulk of growing corn out of danger from frost. There is little question that the renewed buying movement in Atchison is to be attributed to the certainty of a heavy corn crop in the territory of this system, and it is felt that, barring acidents, the long standing prediction of par for Atchison will soon be made good. Union Pacific has been held back by interests which desire to make sure of the Nebraska corn crop before inaugurating the movement which according to the best opinion, is to carry that stock this year, or early next, to record-breaking prices. The strongest indications point to the persistent absorption of the Southern Pacific by substantial interests. There is also other buying by powerful operators for keeps. Gould-Rockefeller capitalists are behind the upward movement in Missouri Pacific. Apropos of this it is stated by his friends that young Frank Gould has taken the lead in the market movements of Gould stocks and that he is an able and courageous operator. In Missouri Pacific circles no serious attention is paid to the reports of rivalry, and bitter feeling between the Goulds and Pennsylvania. On the contrary in these quarters it is emphatically stated that the scheme of extending and rounding out the Missouri Pacific system will be carried through without antagonizing any of the trunk lines. Although the amount is small and will not be received till October, the shipment of $75,000 gold from Australia to San Francisco is regarded as the forerunner of other and larger shipments from other countries.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, Sept. 10.—The cotton market opened firm with prices 2 to 5 points higher on a moderate sale of shorts, and what appeared to be a fresh buying movement by prominent Wall street operators, who for several days past had been credited with unloading long cotton. The rush to buy did not cease immediately after the call and on this support the whole market further advanced to 6.36 for January, 6.25 for March and 6.38 for May. September displayed great sensitiveness to the demand from shorts and rose some 15 points before a reaction set in, touching 8.48 as against 8.33 on the close last night. The receipts were again enormous at nearly all points. The Liverpool cables were disappointing at first, but later reflected a change for the better in sentiment. Toward the close of the first hour the local market eased off to 5.31 for January under a fine weather forecasting boom holders and a lull in outside demand. Speculation was fairly active all the forenoon.

Cotton spot closed quiet, middling uplands, 8.90; middling gulf, 9¼c; sales, 521 bales. Cotton futures closed barely steady. September, 8.44; October, 8.35; November, December and January, 8.31; February, 8.21; March, 8.20; April and May, 8.21.

MAY RETURN.

Northern Boats May Come Back to Duluth Run.

The North West and North Land may run to the head of the lakes next year.

The season has not been such a good one as was expected and it is thought that the route will be changed next year. The boats have not yet ended their season but will shortly.

The Chicago Record-Herald says: "The season of the Chicago-to-Buffalo boats, the North West and North Land, has not yet ended. These vessels, which formerly ran between Buffalo and Duluth, have not had so successful a summer as had been anticipated. Whether they will continue on the same route next year is problematical. While there has been no falling off in the traffic to Michigan and Wisconsin resorts, the number of people who desire to take such long water trips is not great."

SHOE STORE BOUGHT.

Phillips & Co. and Famous Buy Newmon & Co.

An important deal in the boot and shoe business was consumated this morning, the T. C. Phillips & Co. and the Famous shoe store buying out the entire stock of A. Newmon & Co., of 111 West Superior street, for 65 cents on the dollar. Manager Day of the Famous shoe store has been in the East and is expected home tomorrow. As soon as he arrives the newly purchased stock will be divided up and will be placed on sale at the stores of the respective purchasers. Details of the sale will be announced later.

Newmon & Co. opened a shoe store at the present location last spring. Mr. Newmon, who is a practical shoe man, believing that a good field was offered for the highest class of footwear. His retirement will be made with a loss to the company, but it was deemed advisable to sell under the conditions named than by a sale direct from the new store. He carried one of the finest stocks of shoes found anywhere in the country and the sale that will be made from the stores of the purchasers promises some good things to head of the lake patrons.

Although the firm of A. Newmon & Co. will cease doing business, Mr. Newmon will still be identified with the shoe business of this city, and will hereafter be with the Famous shoe store. News of the sale made this morning came in the nature of a surprise to shoe dealers generally throughout the city.

THEY DROP OUT.

Two High School Football Stars Leave School.

Capt. Arthur Mallett, of the High School football team, has resigned and will leave the school. Edward Olsen, the left end, will also have his name taken from the rolls. What direct effect this will have on the football situation is difficult to say, although the report has gone out that harmony has found a place where discord and chaos has existed heretofore.

Harry Potter was named captain until an election can be held. The boys expect to begin practice at once, and it is hoped that the best of feeling will prevail. Professor C. A. Smith and two others of the faculty will act as a supervisory committee of football affairs.

The loss of Mallett and Olsen will be felt keenly, but it is expected that much promising material will be on hand when the school opens next Monday.

BODY FOUND.

Capt. Patrick Ryan Was Drowned Near His Vessel.

The body of Capt. Patrick Ryan was found about 3 o'clock this afternoon near his vessel, the Noquebay, by the life saving crew. There is no doubt that he fell into the water while returning to his vessel.

A NEW MOVE.

Booth Line to Have Complete Circuit of Lake Superior.

"The Booth line will have a complete circuit of Lake Superior next season," said H. H. Brigham, of Chicago, traffic manager of the Booth company, this afternoon. Mr. Brigham is here on a business trip, and will go to St. Paul to night.

"The company is now building a Canadian bottom boat," continued Mr. Brigham, "that will run next season between Port Arthur and the Sault, thus completing the chain formed by the America from Duluth to Port Arthur, the America from Duluth to the copper country, and the Hunter from the copper country to the Sault. The new boat will be of about the same class as the America, and will be handsomely fitted out. She will run in conjunction with the Argo, thus carrying out an idea we have had in mind for some time.

"The new vessel will open up a great tourist country along the Canadian shore, including the Nepigon, the Slate islands, Michipicoten, etc.

"There have been reports out to the effect that the Argo had been sold. These reports are incorrect. The vessel business is peculiar in that there is not a vessel on the lakes, probably, that has not her price, and that could not be bought for enough money, and the Argo is no exception. There is no sale in contemplation, but if the Argo were sold she would be replaced by a bigger and handsomer boat that would be the peer of any on the lake."

Interesting Case Decided.

Thomas Ryan, acting secretary of the department of the interior, has affirmed the decision of the local land office in rejecting the application of Frank Brennan to enter on lands in sections 15 and 22-67-19 and affirms the action of the local land office in permitting Stephen Gheen, a half-breed to whom the lands were formerly allotted to make entry. Brennan contested the application of Gheen on the ground that Gheen did not settle on the tract and that he did not cultivate the ground. He also held that the previous allotment of the land to Gheen because of his Indian parentage gave him no preference in making application for a homestead entry, as Gheen did, after relinquishing his allotment. The relinquishment was made by Gheen because he claimed to have settled on and improved the land for some time prior to the allotment.

EDITRESS A BRIDE.

Rush City Woman Publisher Married Again.

Rush City, Minn., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Franklyn W. Lee, editor of the Rush City Post, was married last night to Col. John F. Stone, of Pine City. The wedding occurred at the bride's residence in the presence of immediate friends. Rev. Spicer officiating. The groom became prominently known as the proprietor of the Pioneer hotel at Pine City, which he conducted many years. The bride enjoys a reputation as a leading newspaper woman, having successfully conducted the Rush City Post since the death of her first husband, Franklyn W. Lee, five years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Stone will reside at Rush City.

Hinted That Police Will Get After Them Next.

Mayor Hugo Intimates Saloons Could Be Closed Sundays.

Took Forty-Five Minutes to Close the Slot Machines.

It required but forty-five minutes for the police to suppress every slot machine in the city.

Mayor Hugo is well pleased with the speedy and effectual work of the department.

He says that saloons could be closed Sundays just as speedily as soon as public sentiment, as expressed by the council, shall demand it.

While it is not probable that the current reform movement will carry all day Sunday closing with it, there is every indication that all forms of petty and apparently respectable gambling will come under the ban.

It is possible that the society events in the near future may be written up as follows.

By far the most interesting and important social event of the season was the progressive eucher party given Friday evening by Mrs. Lester Park.

"The hostess wore a gracefully soft gown of deep crepe de chine over a foundation of white taffeta silk. The house was very exquisitely decorated, the prevailing colors being crushed unions and buff pup pink.

"Just as Miss Woodland was grabbing for the consolation prize, the hostess dashed hysterically into the room, upsetting two tables, and Miss West Superior, breathlessly exclaiming:

"'Stop the game! The house is pinched!'

"In attempting to jump through the library window, Mrs. West End, who wore a stately gown of rich brocade, softened sufficiently with falls of rarare lace, kicked Mr. Hunter Park on the wrist.

"But few of those present escaped, and the others paid dainty little fines in police court.

"A pleasant time was had. Among those present were, etc.

There is also a report current that the anti-petty gambling reform wave may cause a raid on a certain prominent West Superior street grocer, who is said to be conducting a pool room.

Detectives Terry and Mork were entrusted with the work of suppressing the slot machines in the down town district yesterday afternoon.

They had some funny experiences. In front of every machine there were several people waiting to play, but the detectives refused to allow the game.

In one news stand today there is a black crape hanging on the wall where three slot machines were formerly, and a sign on the mourning cloth reads:

"They are gone but not forgotten."

One Bowery saloonkeeper trembled perceptibly when he hard the order read, but with rare presence of mind he placed his slot machine in the ice box.

Armour Grain Man Here.

E. H. Higgins, of Chicago, representing the Armour grain interest, was on the Duluth board of trade today. As usual, Mr. Higgins was not communicative as to what brought him here, but it is surmised by grain men that he is looking into the chances for shipping grain from Duluth and Minneapolis to Chicago. The Armour interests will not do any shipping, for they are on the long side, but it will be to their interest to force the September price in Chicago as high as the price of wheat in the Northwest will permit.

TWO YEARS.

John Perschin Convicted of Assault and Sentenced.

"I might as well quit. I stand no show with those twelve men against me," said John Perschin, a Austrian, as he left the court house yesterday afternoon when the jury had been called in the case charging him with assault in the second degree.

If he thought so then he certainly did this noon for he was found guilty of the crime charged, and sentenced to two years at hard labor at the state prison.

Perschin was accused of stabbing a fellow Austrian, Peter Kusinick, at Soudan. The latter received several bad cuts about the body. Perschin is an ignorant looking foreigner and when the jury was called yesterday he thought its members had been chosen simply to give him the worst of it. The cutting, Perschin admitted having done but pleaded self-defense. On the stand he swore that Kusinick was choking him with one hand while he beat him with the other, the blows raining heavily upon his head. Then it was that he pulled the knife and slashed the victim until he fell, weak from the loss of blood.

It was at first feared that Kusinick would die, but he recovered and Perschin was charged with assault.

Charles Kersten, a young lad 16 years of age, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon to placing obstructions on the track of the Belt Line railway at West Duluth. The boy was sentenced to the reform school at Red Wing and then put on parole during which time he will be responsible to Humane Officer Withrow for his conduct. Kersten was not thought to be wholly bad but on the other hand weak minded and that he simply had been led astray.

The railway officials have had considerable trouble with wrongdoers in regard to placing articles on the track but this is the first prosecution.

The case against George Murray, charged with larceny in the second degree will be begun tomorrow. He is charged with stealing a coat and vest from a lodger at the Columbia house, 113½ West First street.

APPEALS.

City Goes to Supreme Court In Two Cases.

The city of Duluth has appealed to the supreme court in two cases in which demurrers entered were overruled.

The first is that of Roger S. Lerch against the city, in which he seeks to recover $10,000 for damages sustained by blocking the movement of his livery barn a year ago. This case attracted considerable attention at the time. Lerch had to vacate his livery barn site on the upper side of First street between Second and Third avenue, but secured permission from the council to move it across the street, which was inside the fire limits. The permit was later revoked and for a long time the livery barn was without a home, except First street, which it adorned for a number of weeks.

Lerch then brought an action against the city alleging that he had sustained $10,000 damages. The defendant entered a demurrer on the ground that the complaint did not state sufficient facts to constitute a cause for action. The appeal from the order overruling the demurrer followed.

The second case is that of Gilbert G. Dickerman against the city, in which $8000 damages are asked. The plaintiff owned a building at Garfield avenue and Michigan street, and he claims the erection of the viaduct at that point has damaged the property to the extent mentioned.

CONDITIONS ARE GOOD.

M. S. Burrows Finds Excellent Trade In the East.

M. S. Burrows, of the Great Eastern store, returned this morning from the East, where he has been spending the past month completing his fall and winter purchases for the store. The new stocks will be large and have been made largely to his order, and by his workmen in New York city.

"Business conditions among the retailers in the East, this summer," said Mr. Burrows, this noon, "have been rather peculiar owing to the generally cool summer weather that has been experienced. The retailers were looking for hot weather and stocked up accordingly and some of them have met with serious losses, as a result.

"General business conditions, as I was able to gather from the trade, are very good at the present time and retailers all over the country are counting on a big fall and winter trade. The wholesalers in the East are watching conditions in the Northwest with an eagle eye this season. They know that crops will be large and that this section of the country is in a prosperous condition. I was told by one wholesaler that the best trade of any other part of the country is coming from the Northwest this year.

"Duluth has received some new and excellent advertising in the East over its efforts to secure the naval training school here. The pluck displayed and expedients adopted by the head of the lakes interests to land the institution here have attracted attention all over the country and people that never before knew Duluth was on the map are getting their eyes opened to the importance of the Zenith City."

Mrs. Mueller Returns.

Mrs. Katrina Mueller was shaking hands with old friends at the court house this morning after another trip occupying some weeks to the Twin Cities.

She was feeling quite elated and talked with the enthusiasm of a small boy with a new green top.

She says that some persons will be punished for what they have done. During her sojourn in the capital city she paid many visits to the capitol building, the city hall and other places where people with authority are to be found. She said that the only new trouble she had was that her son had gone to Austria.

Home Visitors' Excursion to Ohio and Indiana.

On September 2, 9, 16 and 23 the North-Western Line will sell tickets to various points in Ohio and Indiana at one fare for round trip, plus $2.00. For further information call at ticket office, 405 West Superior street., Duluth, or address T. W. Teasdale,, general passenger agent, St. Paul.

$62.50 Yellowstone Park and Return.

Sept. 1st to 11th inclusive, the Northern Pacific railway will sell tickets from Duluth to Yellowstone Park and return for $62.50, final return limit, Sept. 24th. This will include transportation and hotel expenses for 5½-day tour of park. For full information and tickets call at City office, 332 West Superior street, or Union Depot.

PRESIDENT AT HOME

Returns to Oyster Bay After His Southern Trip.

Traveled Over Sixteen Hundred Miles Through the South.

Hundreds of People Greet Executive at New York.

Washington, Sept. 10.—President Roosevelt arrived here at 6:30 o'clock this morning on his special train over the Southern railroad and left at 7 o'clock via the Pennsylvania road for New York. The president and party traveled from Washington in two cars attached to the regular train. From New York the Sylph will convey the president to Oyster Bay.

During the half hour his car was in the depot a number of persons gathered around it in the hope of getting a glimpse of the president. They were disappointed, however, for the almost continuous traveling of the past three weeks had taxed his strength and he was enjoying the sleep and rest afforded by the long run from North Carolina. No incident worthy of note marked the journey during the night.

Several White House officials were on hand to meet the train and for some time were engaged in conversation with Secretary Cortelyou.

The Southern trip, which virtually ended here, covered a distance of 1966 miles, over two systems, the Baltimore & Ohio and the Southern.

New York, Sept. 10.—President Roosevelt arrived at the Jersey City station of the Pennsylvania road at 12:30 and boarded a Twenty-third stret ferry boat for New York.

The president was accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou, Assistant Secretary Barnes, Dr. Lung and two stenographers. There was a crowd of about 400 persons in and about the railroad and ferry stations, and there was applause as the president appeared. He responded by repeatedly raising his hat.

The president and his party drove across New York to the East river, where they went on board the Sylph, which started at once for Oyster Bay.

THREE LITTLE BOYS

Derailed Engine on Illinois Central Train.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 10—Developments today show that the derailing of an engine of the Omaha limited, of Illinois Central here, Tuesday night, was caused by three little boys between 10 and 12 years of age, who placed barrel staves on the track to hear the noise made by the fast train running over them. The staves were forced into a switch and opened it, the front wheels of the engine leaving the track. The passengers were badly frightened, but no one was injured. The boys have been held to the juvenile court.

BANK ROBBED.

Bank of France Loses a Large Sum.

Paris, Sept. 10.—Several of the morning newspapers today mentioned rumors that the Bank of France had been robbed of an important sum, intimating that it was the work of burglars. The Patrie this afternoon published an interview with an official of the bank who said:

The robbery amounted to $44,000 in gold. It was discovered yesterday, but kept quiet on the advice of the police. It was not the work of burglars. The gold was taken in the daytime, evidently by a person or persons having access to the cash vault, but suspicion yet rests on nobody.

FEARED CONSUMPTION.

St. Paul, Sept. 10.—A special to the Dispatch from Faribault, Minn., says: Jesse Healy, aged 22 years, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid in his room at the Commercial hotel, where he has been employed for the last year. A fear that he would die of consumption, as his mother and two sisters had done, preyed upon his mind.

CONDITION OF WHEAT

As Found By tHe Department of Agriculture.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The government monthly crop report, issued this afternoon, gives the condition of winter and spring wheat combined at 80. The average condition of corn is 84.3.

DIAMOND IS EXCITED.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Sept. 10.—The mining town of Diamond is in great excitement as a result of finding the body of Ella Clark, 21 years old, with a bullet hole in her head. Biggon Woodson, colored, has been arrested and a mob is clamoring for his life.

A Chance to See the Old Folks

A PLAN TO END STRIKE

People's Committee Waits on Governor Stone.

Only Hope Is In Session of the Legislature.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 11.—The conference committee of the People's Alliance, appointed at their convention at Hazelton last Thursday, waited on Governor Stone this morning and submitted a plan for the settlement of the strike. Their plan consists of calling an extra session of the legislature to enact laws for compulsory arbitration, better control of foreign corporations doing business in the state and enforcing the sixteenth and seventeenth articles of the constitution. Daniel J. McCarthy, of Hazelton, said the Alliance represented the business people of the hard coal districts and that its purpose was to secure a settlement of the strike.

There was no sign of a settlement and the only hope of bringing about an end to the strike is an extra session of the legislature for enactment of the legislation that will end the present strike and prevent strikes in the future. Mr. McCarthy suggested that if an extra session is held some action should be taken to curb the great foreign corporations which are doing business in Pennsylvania. He attacked the beef trust, the steel trust and other large corporations because of the alleged high prices which they charge for their products.

Mr. McCarthy said: "President Baer, of the Pennsylvania & Reading company, is the creature of J. P. Morgan, and the latter should be forced to compel Mr. Baer to arbitrate the strike. A load of coal cannot be bought in the coal region at present from the large coal corporations at any price. If the legislation is enacted which the Alliance recommends, it will bring the strike to an end and prevent strikes in future."

Mr. McCarthy argued that the present trouble in the coal region comes through the gross mismanagement of the great coal corporations. None of these corporations, he said, pays a dividend, while the individual operators are all making money and getting rich. Relief can be granted, he continued, by enacting legislation that will enforce the sixteenth and seventeenth articles of the state constitution.

T. C. Parker, of Wilkesbarre, said the conditions in the anthracite regions are horrible in a commercial way and that hundreds of people are being forced to leave that locality

KAISER WILHELM AND AMERICAN ARMY OFFICERS WHO ARE VIEWING HIS BIG WAR GAME.

Germany is this week having a big war game of her own. Over 90,000 troops are engaged, the force being divided into two armies, one of which is supposed to represent an invading enemy. The operations extend over a territory which is, roughly speaking, thirty miles wide and fifty miles long. The hostile army, the blues, is popularly assumed to be Russian. Kaiser Wilhelm is on the field in person watching the game. Besides his general staff, he is attended by officers of distinction from Italy, Austria, Great Britain, Russia and the United States. The British group alone includes Lord Roberts and Generals Kelly-Kenny, French and Ian Hamilton. The United States army is represented by Major Generals Corbin and Young and Brigadier General Leonard Wood.

ROBBED ESTATE

Mrs. Dauphin Abstracted Bonds and Securities.

Crime Remained Undiscovered Eleven Years.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—A special to the Tribune from New Orleans says: The grand jury has returned an indictment against Mrs. Rosa La Branche Dauphin, widow of Maximilian Dauphin, for many years president of the Louisiana state lottery. The action was not made public immediately, in order to enable the district attorney to get the necessary requisition papers from Governor Heard and arrest Mrs. Dauphin, who is said to be ill in or near New York. Dauphin, who was president of the Louisiana Lottery company, died in 1891. His estate was inventoried at $100,000, his widow and a friend being executors. There were other heirs, including Dauphin's mother. The estate was settled up, the heirs were paid their share, and the widow and legatee came into possession of the rest of the property.

Eleven years after the settlement, among the effects of Judge Porche, who had been Mrs. Dauphin's lawyer in the probate case, an old, badly-worn paper was found, giving a list of a large number of bonds, which apparently formed part of the Dauphin estate, but which had not figured in the inventory.

Mrs. Dauphin was called on to explain. She failed to appear before a Louisiana court, but piece by piece the trouble buried for eleven years was brought to light. Dauphin had kept his money and securities in a box in his room and was a much wealthier man than many supposed. From that box his widow, it is charged, had stolen from the estate and secreted $214,000 in securities and $40,000 in cash. In order to cover up her work she sold the bonds, invested and reinvested the money in new securities so that no trace could be found of it. She kept no bank account and frequently had $100,000 on her person in $1000 bills.

Judge Lazarus, counsel for the heirs, succeeded in tracing every bond for more than twelve years. The court awaded judgment against Mrs. Dauphin for $388,066, the entire amount with interest. Her home here was seized, only to find that she had removed everything and fled.

EXCESSIVE VALUATION

Complainants In the Hodge Case Allege That the Steel Trust Properties Are Inflated Far Beyond Real Value.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 11.—Frank Bergen, counsel for Aspinwall Hodge and other stockholders of the United States Steel corporation, who are seeking by injunction to restrain the retirement of $200,000,000 of the company's preferred stock and the issue of $250,000,000 bonds, resumed his argument in favor of an injunction before Vice Chancellor Emery today. Mr. Bergen declared that the valuation of the Steel corporation's properties was excessive, and that not a single affidavit had been produced to show in detail that the valuation was not inflated. He claimed that the affidavit of James H. Lancaster, as to detail, had not been contradicted, although an affidavit in answer had been filed by George W. Perkins, of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Richard V. Lindabury followed for the defendant company. In beginning his argument, he said that the defendants would not take up the fundamental questions as to the power of the United States Steel corporation to retire the preferred stock in the manner proposed. The appeal in the Bergen case, now under advisement in the court of errors and appeals, covered the points arising under that inquiry. It was to be assumed that the court, if it should decide the present action, would follow the previous decision in the Bergen case.

The only question to which the defendants would address themselves, on the argument of the merits, would be as to the validity of the syndicate contract with J. P. Morgan & Co. That contract, Mr. Lindabury said, was unavailable by stockholders. The complainants, he declared, seemed to rely upon the past interest of the directors as a ground for the avoidance of contract, irrespective of intrinsic fairness of the transaction, and despite the fact that the stockholders, with full knowledge of all the details of the plan, including the interest of directors, approved it by more than a two-thirds vote of all the capital stock, in strict accordance with article 2, section 9, of the bylaws, which was submitted to them.

WARSHIPS TO PANAMA

Washington, Sept. 11. — Secretary Moody today telegraphed to the commanders of the battleship Wisconsin, now at Brememton, and the cruiser Cincinnati, at Cape Haytian, directing them to proceed as soon as possible to the isthmus of Panama, the Wisconsin reinforcing the Ranger at Panama and the Cincinnati taking station at Colon. It will take the Wisconsin fully twenty days to make the long trip of over 4650 miles down the Pacific coast to Panama. The navy department had intended to send the Boston, which is now getting ready for service at San Francisco, to relieve or reinforce the Ranger, but the alarming situation which has so quickly arisen on the isthmus prompted the officials to take more extensive measures to increase the naval representation of the United States in that section. The Cincinnati will only consume a few days in her trip across from Cape Haytian, so that by the beginning of next week she should have reached the other terminal of the Panama railroad. The destruction of Admiral Killik's flagship swept away the entire naval force of Hayti and naval officials believe that the Cincinnati can relinquish her post there with safety.

NAVY CHAPLAIN ENDS LIFE

Washington, Sept. 11.—The secretary of the navy received a telegram this morning from Rear Admiral Johnson, commanding the Boston navy yard, saying that Chaplain William Morrison committed suicide by shooting himself at the naval hospital at Chelsea. Capt. Morrison was recently attached to the cruiser Olympia, which participated in the combined army and navy maneuvers, and is now at Boston undergoing repairs. He was a native of Maryland and was appointed a chaplain in the navy in May, 1881. He held the rank of commander and was assigned to the Olympia last March. No details have been received regarding his death.

EFFORTS TO SAVE ANDREWS

Detroit, Sept. 11.—The motion for a new trial for Frank C. Andrews, former vice president of the wrecked City Savings bank, who has been convicted of misapplying and misappropriating the funds of the bank was taken up today by Judge Murphy in the records court. The motion is principally based on the alleged prejudices and unfitness of Juror Bock, who is alleged on affidavits filed by several persons to have expressed strong opinions against Andrews. Riley Tilson, the first witness today, testified that Bock had said to him: "If I get on the Andrews jury and have a chance I will send Andrews up."

EXPERIMENTING IN MODELS

New York, Sept. 11.—Statements that actual work has not yet begun on Sir Thomas Lipton's new America's cup challenger are confirmed by a Glasgow dispatch to the Herald, which says: "The building shed in Denny's shipyard is empty as well as that in Thompson's shipyard. Messrs. Wilson and Fife have both been about Denny's of late. Numerous experiments have been going on in the tank there.

There is little question that Mr. Fife has plans for a new yacht prepared and that she will be similar in rig to the previous Shamrocks, but lighter in hull.

It is said that Mr. Fife would not accept the commission unless the challenge was deferred until his designs insured a speedier boat than the previous challengers.

THREE A. M.

When Democrats of Colorado Finished Their State Ticket.

Denver, Sept. 11.—It was 3 o'clock this morning when the Democratic state convention, which met here on Tuesday morning, reached final adjournment. The nomination of the candidates for governor was made Tuesday evening, but so much time was consumed in the discussion of a proposition to fuse with the Populist convention, which was also in session, that the rest of the ticket was not reached until late last night. The ticket chosen follows:

United States senator, Henry M. Teller; congressman-at-large, Alva Adams; governor, Edward C. Stimson; lieutenant-governor, Thomas Annear; secretary of state, Horace W. Havens; state treasurer, James N. Carlisle; state auditor, Harry H. Insley; attorney general, John H. Swiegert; superintendent of public schools, Mrs. Helen M. Grenfels; regents of state university, Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford and Jesse Stevenson.

GOLF ENTHUSIASTS

Watch Match In Spite of Lowering Weather.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Lowering weather threatened to disperse the gallery of golf enthusiasts who watched the opening play today in the first round of match play for the Western amateur golf championship on the links of the Chicago Golf club at Wheaton. The course was in excellent condition and it is not probable that rain will mar the playing. The brilliant record made yesterday by H. Chandler Egan, of the Exboor club, who covered the double course in 183 strokes, naturally made that player the center of attraction of the day's playing. He was matched with George C. Clingman, Jr., of Homewood, whose medal score yesterday was 180. The play of the sixteen pairs of contestants today was at 18 holes.

AS A GUNBOAT

Steamer Banning Will Act For Colombian Government.

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—The steamer Jessie Banning, under charter to the Columbian government as a gunboat, is to take on her armament in this port and she will sail south with a large cargo of arms and ammunition for the South American republics to fight the rebels. When the steamer, which is due today arrives, she will probably proceed directly to the Santa Fe wharf where she is to take on her war cargo.

Collector Stratton says that in the absence of any instructions to the contrary from the officials at Washington, the Jessie Banning will be allowed to land and to take on the munitions of war now lying at the wharf. The Colombian insurgents have not been recognized by this government.

CRANE NOMINATED.

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—A Stevens Point, Wis., special to the Dispatch says: In the Twenty-first senatorial district convention yesterday, Charles F. Crane, of Weyauwega, was nominated by the Democrats as a candidate for state senator.

DRANK CARBOLIC ACID

Minneapolis Man Secures Bottle From Drug Store and, Stepping Into Middle of Street, Swallowed Contents, Dying In Few Minutes.

Minneapolis, Sept. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jacob B. Zeigler, a young man yesterday committed suicide in front of his brother's drug store, 2500 Riverside avenue.

Zeigler entered the drug store, as he had done many times before, and while his brother was at work putting up a prescription, he went behind the counter and secured a bottle of carbolic acid. He then left the store and, walking out in the middle of the street, drank the contents of the vial. A man passing by saw the act and noticed the sudden convulsion of the man's face. He called the druggist, but before he arrived Zeigler had fallen to the ground in an unconscious condition and died a few minutes later. What the cause of the rash deed was no one knows. He had no domestic or financial troubles, and had never seemed at all despondent. He was 26 years old, and lived with his wife and child at 2612 Eighth street, south. He was employed as a packer at the Washburn mills.

SOME STARTLING FACTS

Have Been Communicated to the St. Louis Grand Jury Concerning the Dealings of the Alleged Boodling Gang.

St. Louis, Sept. 11.—William Tamblin, former member of the house of delegates, who was indicted Monday on two charges of bribery in connection with the passage of the city lighting bill in February, 1899, was brought back today from Cleveland, where he had been for two years. He is one of the members of the alleged combine that J. K. Murrell laid bare in his confession to the grand jury after his return from Mexico. Tamblin, in the custody of Detective Williams, was taken to jail and locked up, pending an attempt to secure bail.

The grand jury reconvened today and took up the consideration of the lighting scandal of the last municipal assembly. The following members of the council that passed the measure in question were summoned to testify before the jury: E. F. W. Mier, president; William H. Horton, Charles E. Carroll, Henry Gauss, Jr., Paulus Gast, Charles H. Tuner, Charles Wiggins, W. R. Hodges, Aug. Hoffman, E. E. Meyersberg, Eben Richards and Louis Schnell. Charles Kratz, a member of that body, is supposed to be in Mexico, where he fled after being indicted on the charge of bribery in connection with the suburban street railroad legislation. It has been reported that Kratz has been seen in the city during the past day or two, but this could not be confirmed.

Robert E. McMath, former president of the board of public improvements, has also been summoned to appear before the body and disclose such facts concerning the transaction as he may have knowledge of, and which, it is claimed, will be of material benefit to the inquisitors in fastening the crime of boodling upon certain members of the combine. Mr. McMath has already made some startling statements to the public.

Following a conference with Judge Sherwood of the supreme court at Springfield, Mo., Wednesday, Judge Chester H. Krum has decided to withdraw the application for a writ of habeas corpus made to secure the release of those imprisoned on the boodle charges. It was found that such a proceeding would first have to be filed before some judge having jurisdiction to try the case. The four indicted men under arrest claim that their bond has been made excessive and the habeas corpus proceedings were based chiefly on this point.

A FLY BITE CAUSES DEATH

New York, Sept. 11.—Bitten by a fly two weeks ago, George Lindhurst, of Brooklyn, is dead. The physicians pronounce it an extraordinary case. Lindhurst was bitten on the thumb of his right hand. Three days later swelling began and spread rapidly. The doctors declared the fly bite had caused blood poisoning, which they could not check, and the victim died in great agony. Lindhurst was 56 years old and in fairly good health before he was bitten.

MEN ARE DISSATISFIED

Conductors and Brakemen on Railroads Operating West of Chicago Form a Powerful Union to Secure an Increase In Wages.

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—The Call this morning says that the largest and most far-reaching union in the history of railroads has been recently formed by the railroad conductors and brakemen on roads operating west of Chicago. The men are dissatisfied with the present rates of wages and will in the immediate future make a demand for an increase of salaries of 20 per cent. The Call is in a position to announce that this union will make a test case on one of the roads. Should its request be refused by railroad officials, the conductors and brakemen are able to tie up every road west of Chicago. The organization was perfected last June in Kansas City, and W. V. Stafford, a passenger conductor of the Southern Pacific, residing at Oakland, was elected its executive head.

Circulars have been recently passed around among the men, and as a result every trainman has signed the request asking for the increase of 2 per cent and making other demands.

Chairman Stafford of the executive council of the union, when seen, confirmed all of the above statements and added: "Our organization is perfect. The circulars we have been sending out have been signed not only by myself but by E. E. Clark, grand chief conductor of the Order of Railway Conductors, and P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Trainmen. We have every trainman in the country back of us and we will win our demand."

MARTIANS ARE SUPERIOR

Prof. Hough Believes That People Who Live on Mars Are More Intellectual Than Those on the Earth.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—That a people superior in intelligence to those of the earth inhabit the planet Mars is a conclusion that will be set forth by Professor G. W. Hough, head of the deartment in astronomy of the Northwestern University, in a report which he is compiling of his summer's observations from the Dearborn observatory. He asserts this as a probability based on recent discoveries and adds that of course it can never be established positively.

The conclusion includes the acceptance of the theory of evolution, and the statements of leading astronomers that climatic conditions of Mars are the same as of the earth. The possibility of Venus and Mercury being inhabited is admitted because they have solidified, and the intense heat resulting from their proximity to the sun may have been overcome by a deeper coating of atmosphere. None of the other planets, in the opinion of the professor, could contain animal life.

ANDREWS IS LEGALLY DEAD

New York, Sept. 11.—Capt. W. A. Andrews, who twice crossed the Atlantic in a fifteen-foot cockle shell, has been pronounced legally dead by the Massachusetts courts, says a Boston dispatch to the New York American. Letters of administration upon his estate have been granted to his son. Capt. Andrews sailed Oct. 6 last from Atlantic City with his bride, to whom he had been married in the presence of 3000 people. The boat was sighted only once—about a week after it sailed.

THEIR SCHEME WORKED WELL

New York, Sept. 11.—City detectives have arrested three men on the charge of impersonating express company employes. It is alleged the prisoners have been operating nearly a year and have secured property valued at $25,000. Simple in the extreme, the methods of the swindlers seldom failed of success. One of them formerly worked for an express company. With two partners they obtained hat plates and properly clothed and armed with a shipping book, walked about town until an express call board was seen hanging before a store. There was no difficulty then in obtaining the package of merchandise which was to be shipped away.

BATTLESHIP IOWA AGROUND

New York, Sept. 11.—The United States battleship Iowa has run aground near Cape Senhora do Desterro, Island of Milo, cables the Herald correspondent at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The Iowa had just finished target practice and was returning to Friars island. The Brazilian minister of marine has ordered a warship to go to the aid of the Iowa.

Cape Nossa Senhora do Desterro, is on the island of Santa Catharina, forty-six miles southwest of Rio Janeiro. The island is about half way between Montevideo, Uuruguay and Rio Janeiro. The Iowa is the flagship of the South Atlantic squadron. Rear Admiral George W. Summer is in command of the South Atlantic station. Capt. Thomas Perry commands the Iowa. The cruiser Atlanta is the only other warship in the South Atlantic squadron.

STEALING THE WALKS

Some Duluth People Are Driven Desperate By the Coal Scarcity.

Five Hundred Feet of City Sidewalk Is Missing.

Assyrian Colony Is Responsible For the Disappearance.

The police have made a startling discovery.

The scarcity and high price of coal has caused people to burn the city's wooden sidewalks for fuel.

More than 500 feet of walk has mysteriously disappeared and investigation shows that at least three hundred feet of this was torn up and burned as fuel by poor people out in the Midway district.

Five hundred feet of good sidewalk was torn up last night on West First street, between Tenth and Eleventh avenues.

Citizens with coal in their fuel boxes witnessed part of the destruction and notified the police.

An officer hurried to the scene just in time to see a sturdy Assyrian member of the Midway population, disappear over the hillside with a big load of wood.

Efforts were made to catch the man, but he dropped the wood and got away.

The officer then went through the little hillside settlement of all nations and gave warning that if any more of the walk disappeared he would arrest the entire colony.

It seems that one man—an Arabian, was the originator of this method of competition against the coal trust. He would go out nights and steal an armful of sidewalk here and there, going up as high as Third street for it.

His observing neighbors soon tumbled to the fact that sidewalk made good fuel and was about $7.50 a ton cheaper than anthracite coal so they began sundry night expeditions for walks. They simply ripped up 20 feet on First street between Tenth and Eleventh avenues west, and would probably have taken all in the block had it not been for the arrival of the officer.

It is probable that some of those stealing the walk will be arrested as the city officers this morning instituted an investigation not only of the missing West First street walks, but on other streets of the city where sections of walk—some brand new—have strangely disappeared between days.

The Proper Treatment For a Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. # SHRIEKED

When the Physician Suggested an Injection of Water.

Pretty Maude Beaumont, the Human Sunburst and queen of pickpockets, is trying as strenuously to live today as she was to die yesterday.

The police headquarters force thought she really was dying yesterday afternoon and hastily summoned a physician.

He saw at once that only prompt and strenuous measures could save her, so he suggested the injection of a glass of water into her mouth.

Miss Beaumont, who was supposed to be unconscious, came to with a violent start, and giving the doctor a haughty look, shrieked:

"W-a-t-e-r!!! You would make a poor defenceless woman drink water, would you?—y-o-u ——! Well, I just guess you won't make me drink water!"

"If you try to die again we'll make you drink a bucket full," said the physician, and Miss Beaumont has been enjoying the best of health ever since.

She was arraigned in police court this morning for stealing clothing, jewelry and a revolver from Mrs. Anna Peterson, and was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail.

Fred Linde Meets With Fatal Accident at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Linde was fatally injured in a team accident at Seventh and Minnesota streets late yesterday. He died five minutes after reaching the hospital.

At Eighth and Minnesota streets the off horse slipped and the other horse started to run. The reins were pulled out of Linde's hands. He toppled from his seat and the forward impetus of the wagon drew him under the wheels. The wheels passed over him. He was hurried to the hospital, but before he could be taken to a cot he expired, never becoming conscious.

"BOER TACTICS"

Employed By German Army In War Maneuvers.

New York, Sept. 11.—Discussing the second day of the German military maneuvers, the special correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Boer tactics" were freely employed, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune. The troops were instructed to use their own initiative, direction by officers not being always possible on account of the extension of the firing line. Several old tactical movements were also put into use, such as the forward rush and shock attack with drums beating.

The artillery also followed a new tactical method, being no longer concentrated and massed at a single point, but placed at intervals in single batteries.

It is reported that when Lieut. McKinley was presented, the kaiser warmly shook him by the hand and said he regarded it as a special favor to meet a kinsman of the late president.

IRISH POSTULANTS.

Queenstown, Sept. 11.—The steamer Oceanic, which sailed from Queenstown today for New York, has among her passengers thirty Irish postulants, who are to enter a convent at Galveston, Texas.

QUICK WORK.

E. Bolma Kills a Bear and Is No Longer Skeptical.

Another bear has been killed within the city limits, making a total of fourteen in as many days.

The latest bear was shot by E. Bolma, of 1533 West Michigan street, on Forty-second avenue east. It was a magnificent specimen weighing in the neighborhood of 300 pounds.

Mr. Bolma was a bit skeptical of the bear killing stories he had been reading and decided to satisfy himself.

He was not out five minutes, walking up Forty-second avenue, when the bear stepped out of the underbrush and began eating berries off a bush at the roadside.

His gun was in its case and Mr. Bolma had to take it out and load. The bear paid very little attention to him, not offering to fight or run, but kept on picking berries.

One shot settled him and Mr. Bolma returned home with his trophy so soon after starting that his neighbors accused him of putting up a job on them.

HAVE A HEARING.

Ten Miners Arranged For Killing an Italian.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 11.—The ten men who are alleged to have participated in the riot at Maltby last Monday morning which resulted in the killing of an Italian striker named Castelli were given a hearing today. Three of the prisoners were discharged and the other seven were held in $500 bail each for trial on the charge of rioting. Bail was furnished. The names of the defendants are John Vanonic, Terrence Ronch, John McCarthy, David Welsh, John Sinko, Anthony Lacini and James Heffers.

JELLISON IN TOWN

Will Hold an Open Air Meeting on the Bowery.

He Thought That a Hall Was an Useless Expense.

Tells Story Illustrating His Popularity In the District.

Jesse L. Jellison, cruiser, farmer and general orator, and candidate for the Republican nomination for congress from this district, struck town last night with a hurrah and a voice of good cheer. He will deliver an address on the issues of the day this evening at Sandstone, and tomorrow and next day he will favor Duluth with his argument, his eloquence and his magnetic personality.

Down on the Bowery he will speak tomorrow night, and there will be a race between the Salvation Army folk, the gospel singers, the fake doctors and Jellison to see who gets the corner first. Mr. Jellison said he cared not even if the brass should crash on the street across the way, his voice would ring out unto the uttermost parts of the Bowery until the cornetists would quit from very exhaustion. The snake rooms in the saloons are expected to receive a shaking up like a thousand alarm clocks had been set going, when the talk begins, and there will be an outpouring of the population. The congressional candidate thought that a hall was useless expense, and he would rather get out on the corner, anyhow. Even if it snowed, he didn't care. He could stand a little hardship.

Mr. Jellison visited the court house crowd this morning, and with a cheery manner bounded into every office, peeling a campaign card off the bottom of the deck as he entered. Here is a story Jellison tells on himself which shows the popularity of the man. He was traveling through Isanti county and stopped at a farm house.

"How's election?" said Jellison, as he threw his elbows up against a fence while the man behind dropped his hoe, wiped the soil off his fingers and on to his overalls and advanced to greet him.

"Purty well," said the granger.

"Who are you supporting for congress?" queried the candidate traveling incog.

"Deon't jest know."

"Are you for Bede?"

"Naw."

"Edson?"

"Naw."

"Well, who are you going to vote for?"

"Don't know his name, a feller up here in the kentry, a farmer, b'gosh, a cruiser, that's the fellar that's a-goin' to get my vote, and there's a heap o' other folks 'bout here that be a-goin' to vote the same as me."

Then the cruising candidate would take from his pocket one of his cards, and handing it to the farmer, would say: "Is that your candidate?"

"By hickory, it be," replies the rural celebrity as he shoves the pasteboard into his jean pants.

"Well, I'm that man," says Jellison. Whereupon there was great rejoicing, and another one had been secreted into the fold. Mr. Jellison found many just such cases in his travels.

He will deliver two addresses here Saturday night, the first at Twentieth avenue west and Superior street and the other on Central avenue, West Duluth.

He will end his arduous campaign at Grand Rapids, the town where he started weeks ago. He does not claim the nomination, but a friend of his advances the theory that if Jellison does not get the nomination nobody else will. Which is quite the same.

BURNE-JONES

Dazzled By Display of Wealth at Newport.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 11.—Sir Phillip Burne-Jones, the English painter, says that the display of wealth here is like the pageant of some splendid barbaric dream. There is nothing like it anywhere else. Rome or Babylon may have seen something akin to it, but even that is doubtful. The atmosphere is oppressive to a man of moderate means, who feels as though he were in abject poverty. The extravagance of the millionaires and their wives is positively dazzling.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—A Phillips, Wis., special to the Dispatch says: The 14-year-old son of Roland Williams, of this city, was accidentally shot in the back yesterday by a boy of the same age while hunting squirrels and died a few hours afterwards.

AT WEST DULUTH

William Spencer, of the Central drug store, returned yesterday from Goodwater, Indian Territory, where he has been for the past month looking after timber interests there and in Arkansas. Goodwater is in the extreme southeastern portion of Indian Territory and belongs to the Choctaw nation. The town is about six miles from the nearest railroad. That section of the country, says Mr. Spencer, is the heaviest timbered part of the territory, consisting mainly of yellow pine. The chief pursuits of that part of the country are corn, cotton and stock raising. There are many "one-man" towns in Indian Territory. By this is meant towns where a white man has married an Indian woman and by shrewdness has acquired a large part of the improved property about the town where he resides.

Interest at the present time, says Mr. Spencer, is centered on the action that the Indians may take in regard to ratifying, on Sept. 25, the supplemental treaty the government approved in July. The Chickasaw and Choctaw Indians are to vote whether they will ratify or reject the treaty. Mr. Spencer says that the sentiment seems to be strongly in favor of ratification. One of the features of the supplementary treaty is for the sale of the government of some important soft coal mines in the Choctaw nation, and for the division of the land in the two nations among the Indians, each receiving an allotment of 320 acres average value, the rest of it to be open to settlement, subject to the control of the secretary of the interior.

The citizens of the territory who raise stock are not restricted as to number nor do they pay any taxes. This has resulted in some of them getting immensely rich. Non-residents are restricted as to the number of cattle they bring into the territory to feed. Cattle there can be fed for ten months of the year on green stuff and then taken into the cane bottoms for the remaining two months, where they are fed about as well.

Mr. Spencer says the weather was extremely warm, night and day, when he was at Goodwater, and while he did not have a day's sickness, he lost several pounds in weight. One thing that impressed itself on his memory was the respect that the people of the South have for President Roosevelt.

"They do not," says Mr. Spencer, call him Roosevelt or Teddy, as is customary in the North, but it is always 'our president,' with them. At the time President Roosevelt was injured at Pittsfield, there were many anxious inquiries as to the condition of 'our president' and joy expressed when it was learned that he was not injured.

"President Roosevelt has a stronger hold on the South than most Northerners have any idea of, and while, if he is nominated on the Republican ticket for president, the Southern states will, as usual, go Democratic, he will poll the largest vote of any man that has ever run on the Republican ticket."

Mr. Spencer says that the Chickasaw nation held an election for a governor while he was in the South and that while one candidate had nine votes more than the other, the latter was elected because the council threw out the votes of one county where the judges had not signed the returns. He says that there are a surprisingly large lot of educated Indians in the territory, while there are some who are still ignorant. The government maintains schools where the Indian boys and girls are kept free of charge, and if destitute, the government will even clothe them.

Mr. Spencer expects to return to the South in a few weeks.

FOR CHICKEN STEALING.

Erasmus Kreidler Causes Arrest of Thomas Ennit.

Erasmus Kreidler, of S. J. Nygren's drug store, is responsible for the capture of a chicken thief, who is believed to have been stealing the birds from the roosts of various West Duluth people for the past few weeks.

Thomas Ennit, a young man, who has been hanging about West Duluth for some time, with apparently plenty of money to spend for booze, but no visible means of support, was arrested this morning on a warrant sworn out by Mr. Kreidler, charging him with stealing chickens from the Kreidler coop last evening.

About 10 o'clock last evening Mr. Kreidler was on the back porch going through some gymnastic exercises before retiring for the night, when he heard a commotion in the hennery. He hurried to the building and nearly collided with a man who was just coming out with a chicken in his hands. Mr. Kreidler recognized the fellow and shouted to him to stop as he was known, but the thief dropped the chicken and started on a run.

Mr. Kreidler made a few ineffectual efforts to stop the thief, but did not give chase very far, knowing the police would have no trouble in locating him this morning.

He positively identifies Ennit as the thief and the latter will be examined before Judge Stone some time today.

One chicken was found with its neck partially wrung and another dead hen was found this morning in a ditch near the coop, where the thief threw it last night while getting away.

Tuesday evening Frank Gottwald lost all of his chickens and it is surmised that Ennit has been making a business of robbing the hen roosts and disposing of the chickens to the butchers or others.

NOTICE

The Independent Political club is going to meet in Isaacson & Kauppi's hall, corner of Sixty-third avenue west and Grand, Friday evening, Sept. 12. This meeting is called for to agree on the candidates the club is going to support at the primary election Sept. 16. It is fully understood that this is a closed meeting for members only.

CLARENCE FREEBURG.
Asst. Secy.

AN INDUSTRIOUS MAN.

Of all the building operations now going on in the city, it remains for the western part of the city to set the pace. It is claimed on good authority that one man living near Forty-eighth avenue west is erecting a new home and doing a large part of the work himself. He works even into the night hours, when most people are asleep, and can be seen every evening sawing boards and driving nails by lantern light.

GOLD MEDAL CONTEST.

A gold medal contest will be held in the Congregational church, Friday evening, under the auspices of the local branch of the W. C. T. U. An interesting program has been prepared, consisting of music by Jewell Adams; quartet, mandolin and guitar duet, Mr. and Mrs. Wisnell; recitations by five contestants, Misses Ruth Scott, Effie Brotherton, Inez Pottet, Masters Charles Towner and Clinton Loomis. A marching song will be rendered by the children, and the program will close with the singing of "America."

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS.

William Sayan, a well known longshoreman, was seriously injured at the docks yesterday by wrenching his back while loading a lumber boat. It is believed that he will be laid up for several months.

John Brotherton is sick with an attack of the grip.

William Leach is able to be out again after a several weeks' illness.

L. H. Wellington, of 113 Fifty-seventh avenue west, purchasing agent of the street railway company, is reported quite sick.

School starts Monday. Get your shoes at Lauerman's.

Oliver Olsen will leave in a few days for Minneapolis to attend the State university.

Complaints are being made by West Duluthians with gardens that the cold weather is likely to injure the late tomato crop this fall.

Harry Lammers, who is numbered among the chicken fanciers of this part of the city, has recently lost eighty out of 100 small chickens through the depredations of rats.

Mrs. Jessie Harris and Miss Mabel Smith have returned to their homes in Minneapolis, after a several days' visit with Miss Joyce Emerson.

Mrs. P. Nelson, of Two Harbors, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Cook, of Magellan street.

Mrs. Charles Sliger and son, Curtis, have returned from a visit with relatives in Minneapolis.

Pearl hive, No. 4, L. O. T. M., social dance Friday evening, Sept. 12, at Great Eastern hall. Pillow raffle. Bring your tickets.

To the Republicans of St. Louis County.

Gentlemen:—In choosing your candidate for county superintendent of schools, I presume that you will admit that we are all qualified for the position—modesty excepts the undersigned. Laws have been passed giving preference to the "Boys in Blue," but I ask no man to give me his vote on that account, unless he considers me competent. After graduating at Rutger's college, I engaged in educational work—made it my life work. Having always been a Republican, I respectfully solicit your support.

W. H. STULTZ.

MARCONI IS OPTIMISTIC.

Rome, Sept. 11.—Marconi, in an interview published here, declares he has completely solved the problem of sending wireless messages over a distance of more than 1500 miles and that he is confident that communication between Europe and America will be established in the immediate future. He is to visit King Victor Emmanuel at Ragconigi, Piedmont, Sept. 14.

CANDIDATES AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION.

For Auditor.

ODIN HALDEN—The present county auditor, announces that he is a candidate for renomination at the hands of the Republican voters of St. Louis county at the primary election to be held Sept. 16. During his services as county auditor he has made a record as a careful, conservative and reliable official, one who has done what he thought to be right without fear or favor, and in asking the voters to support him at the primary election he rests his claims for support upon that record.

For Register of Deeds.

L. M. JOHNSON is a candidate for Register of Deeds. He is a member of the Typographical union, and is prominent in the West End of the city. He is a Swedish-American, and if nominated will bring strength to the ticket.

County Supt. of Schools.

SUPERINTENDENT ANDREW T. PARK asks your vote, Sept. 16, to make him the Republican nominee for county superintendent of schools.

BERT N. WHEELER, son of H. W. Wheeler, of Oneota, has resigned his position as principal of the Bryant school to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for county superintendent. His acquaintance with the needs of the schools fits him for the position. If nominated and elected he will do his duty.

W. H. STULTZ, with many years' experience in the school room, seeks the Republican nomination for county superintendent.

For Sheriff.

JOHN T. ARMSTEAD is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff at the coming primary election, and solicits the favor of voters on the ground that he always has been a consistent Republican.

JOHN R. MEINING is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and solicits the votes and support of all Republicans on his record as a persistent worker for the party and competent business man.

OLE LARSON is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and is the choice of the labor organizations for this office. Vote for him Sept. 16.

WILLIAM J. BATES, of Duluth, at the earnest and long-continued solicitation of his friends, has become a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff of St. Louis county, and has resigned as deputy sheriff to enter the race. If he is nominated and elected he will devote his personal work to the discharge of the duties of the office, something that has not heretofore been done.

JOHN A. HEALY, of Hibbing, announces himself as a candidate at the primary election for the Republican nomination for sheriff and solicits the support of Republicans throughout the county. He is a successful business man and is unqualifiedly endorsed by the leading Republicans of the Mesaba. He has served four years as deputy sheriff, with credit.

For County Commissioner.

LOUIS R. HELBING announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in the Second district. If nominated and elected, he pledges himself to devote his attention to a careful, economical and judicious administration of the county's funds, that the best results for the people may be secured with a minimum expenditure of public money.

For Congress.

M. L. FAY, of Virginia, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth district, subject to the decision of the voters at the primaries, Sept. 16. Capt. Fay has been a resident of the district for a number of years, and his record as a citizen and a Democrat is well known. He is especially well known in St. Louis county, having been a large employer of labor on the Mesaba range in St. Louis county and Itasca county. He has the respect of the men that have worked for him, and the consideration of his business associates and acquaintances, and if nominated and elected he promises to work for the best interests of the district.

For Representative.

RAY T. LEWIS announces himself to the voters as candidate for the Republican nomination for representative for the Fiftieth district. He asks your votes and support on Sept. 16.

For State Senator Fifty-First District.

HON. GEORGE R. LAYBOURN is a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator from the Fifty-first district, which he has ably served three terms as representative. His work and standing in the legislature reflect credit upon himself and his constituents, and his nomination as state senator will be only a well deserved promotion. Vote for him on Sept. 16th.

CITY BRIEFS.

Tibbets, undertaker, 31 W. Superior St.

Parlor theater, jolly fun tonight.

John Runquist has just closed a new railroad contract with the Duluth & Iron Range road, for spur trackage to the mines at McKinley, Minn., and has already started on the work. Mr. Runquist was in the city yesterday afternoon trying to get men to send out to the work, but was not meeting with a great deal of success, owing to the scarcity of labor. He says he is paying $2 a day at the work.

There will be an interesting temperance meeting at the Grace Methodist church this evening. J. M. Skinner, grand lecturer of the Minnesota I. O. G. T., will give an address, and Rev. C. W. B. Ellis, of Taylor's Falls, grand commander of the society, will also speak. Rev. H. W. Knowles will preside.

The Yound Ladies' club of the Episcopal church will give a dance at the O-at-ka Beach pavilion this evening. A large attendance is expected. This society has given a number of entertainments and a goodly sum of money has been realized for the church. A large attendance is expected this evening.

Parlor theater, big program this week.

C. S. Prosser has brought action in the district court against the Sturgeon River Lumber company to recover $1635, the claim having been transferred to the plaintiff by O. W. Saunders, who alleges that he sold goods to that amount to the defendant company. Interest is asked from June 1, 1901, at 7 per cent.

Passengers on the Duluth & Iron Range train that arrived at noon today report that snow flurries occurred at Allen Junction this morning. Snow in considerable quantities was reported on the lake the other day by incoming vessels.

Take steady aim and shoot at the Vikings at Brautigam's garden Sept. 14. If you wish to win one of the great pleasure days of the season.

The last day for filing returns and notes of issue for the October term of the supreme court is Sept. 20. The reading of the calendar will take place at 10 o'clock in the morning of Oct. 1.

The Sunday school conducted by Mr. and Mrs. John Callahan in the Fire hall on Park Point will have a picnic tomorrow. All the children with their parents are invited and are to meet at the fire hall at 11 a. m. Mr. Callahan will give a graphophone concert. Dr. S. P. Long will address the school.

CRUSHED BY TRUCK

Fireman Phillip Stackmesser, Loses Life On a Run.

Thrown From Hook and Ladder Truck By a Hard Jolt.

Three and Half Ton Wagon Passed Over His Chest.

Responding to an alarm of fire this morning, Phillip Stackmesser, of hook and ladder company No. 2, was fatally injured.

He lived in an unconscious state for nearly six hours, death relieving his suffering at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The alarm was given while the regular driver of the hook and ladder apparatus was at breakfast.

Mr. Stackmesser took his place. The horses dashed out of No. 2 hall and onto Piedmont avenue. The street surface has been washed away at the street car rails, leaving an abrupt elevation of about five inches.

The apparatus crossing the tracks struck this elevation at an angel, and Mr. Stackmesser was thrown down between the horses.

He grasped the whiffle tree as it passed over his head and was dragged for twenty feet, when the hood of one of the galloping horses seemed to hit him, and he let go.

He fell back in such a position that the truck, weighing three and one half tons, passed over his chest, crushing it and inflicting internal injuries.

He staggered to his feet but fell down again unconscious and did not recover. He was carried back into the fire hall, and his condition was such that the physicians said he could not be moved without bringing instant death.

Dr. G. W. Davis and Dr. A. J. Braden worked over him practically all morning in an effort to save his life, but from the very first there was scarcely any chance for his recovery.

One story of the accident is that Mr. Stackmesser was pulling on his coat when the apparatus hit the street car rail, but this is discredited by the firemen that were making the run with him.

The fire, which was the indirect cause of this fireman's death, was a small blaze in the roof of the St. Clement's Catholic school, at Twentieth avenue west and Third street. Scarcely any damage resulted to the building.

Mr. Stackmesser was 38 years of age and unmarried. During the administration of Mayor d'Autremont he was a member of the police force, resigning to go on the fire department. After serving several years there he resigned and went West. Within a year he was back in Duluth, however, and has been on the fire department this time for about three years.

The dead fireman had an unusually wide acquaintance throughout the city, and was very popular among his fellow firemen and the officers of the department.

He was born in Wisconsin, and is said to have come to this city from St. Paul about sixteen years ago.

AT HIS OLD HOME.

Hunt Says Porto Ricans Are Contented Lot.

Helena, Mont., Sept. 11.—Governor W. H. Hunt of Porto Rico, formerly associate justice of the Montana supreme court, who resigned the position three years ago to accept his present one, is in Helena on a visit for the first time since he was appointed governor of the island by President McKinley. He says the Porto Ricans are satisfied with the present government and there is little discontent.

RECEIPTS ARE LIGHT

Railroads Find Grain Movement Much Below Anticipations.

Unfavorable Weather Is Principal Reason Assigned.

Soo Stockholders Hear Good News---Tourist Travel Large.

The backwardness of grain shipments is the most interesting topic to the traffic men of the grain-carrying roads just now.

Every day, until today, the car inspection figures on the Duluth and Minneapolis boards have been far below those of last year, and the railroads have been running very light. It was expected a few weeks ago that by this time grain shipments would be very lively, and it was thought that by the middle of the month the roads would be having all they could do to take care of the grain that was offered for shipment to the primary markets.

Unfavorable weather is the principal reason assigned, and in fact it is about the only reason. Weather in the grain country during the past ten days has been very bad for threshing, and at no time for a month have more than four or five good days come in succession.

Railroad men say that there is another reason for the slowness of grain shipments, too. That is the prosperity of the farmers, which makes it unnecessary for them to hurry their grain to market and take whatever the market offers for it.

Anybody unacquainted with the circumstances, and comparing last year's receipts with this year's would imagine that there had been a crop failure, but this is, of course, far from the truth. Last year's movement was early, and the crop year's receipts will be very much ahead of last year's.

The roads are using much larger cars this year than last, and this will also tend to make the receipts look smaller when they are reckoned in cars, as there are many cars in use carrying over 1000 bushels of grain.

DIVIDENDS LIKELY.

President Shaughnessy Says That of Soo Road.

Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific, has some interesting things to say in commenting upon the earnings of the Soo road, which is affiliated with the Canadian Pacific. He declares that the increase in the net revenue of the Soo is very striking, the net surplus after the payment of all charges for the year being $1,286,501. He says further that a conservative and prudent policy on the part of the directors will have the entire approval of the stockholders. He announces that dividends may be expected in the near future.

A number of Duluth people who have been experimenting with Soo stock will be interested in his statements.

HEAVY TOURIST TRAVEL.

Railroads Everywhere Report a Large Business.

While lake passenger lines have all reported light business this summer, the railroad men have another story to tell. All over the country they have observed a large tourist business on the railroad, and nowhere is this more pronounced than in the Northwest. The Northern Pacific has had a big Yellowstone Park business this year, a good proportion of the tourists passing through Duluth. They are coming back now, some by way of Duluth and some by way of St. Paul. A party of 129 passed through St. Paul yesterday. The special rates offered by the railroads have contributed largely to the increase. Travel to the East has also been very heavy.

COFFEE BLOATING.

Coffee Causes Liver Congestion In Some People.

"We drank coffee some years and it seemed an established law in our household to take refuge with some medicine or physic to make the bowels move or relieve the stomach of its pressure (coffee is generally the cause of persistent constipation as it produces more or less congestion of the liver).

"I was so nervous that my hands trembled sadly and sleep fled from me. I felt irritable all the time and unable to do much of any work. I had to force myself to do things; always felt lazy and had to drive myself to get around; the food I ate belched up and I always felt as if I were bloated, and had such a narrow and tight sensation in my chest, so that every little exertion stated hot waves running through the whole body, followed by a cold, chilly sensation.

"But after I commenced to use Postum Food Coffee, and quit coffee these complaints all disappeared. I feel well, energetic and hopeful, am better nourished and able to sleep well every night.

"My husband was often sick and the doctor and medicine were constantly needed in our house, but since we stopped coffee and used Postum, all these things are changed and that heavy feeling afound the chest has gone.

"Every wife should introduce this wholesome beverage into her family. She would discover in a few days what a rich food she had prepared for her loved ones, and would be rid of all those oppressing sensations and stomach and bowel complaints which are caused by coffee drinking." Name given by Postum company, Battle Creek, Mich.

MAKING GREAT SPURT.

J. T. Armstead's Friends Claiming Much For Him.

J. T. Armstead's friends claim he is making a sensational spurt in the race for sheriff. They assert that never before in this part of the state has a candidate seeking nomination made a more favorable impression on the big mass of voters. In Duluth, where Mr. Armstead ha sbeen known as a calne cut, level headed business man for the last twelve or fourteen years, no person has ever doubted but that he would receive strong support in his candidacy for the Republican nomination for sheriff. It is now claimed that the range towns will give his friends in Duluth a hot race when it comes to a show of strength next Tuesday.

Goes to Bay City.

As reported briefly in The Herald yesterday, the body of Capt. Patrick Ryan, of the schooner Noquebay, was found. It lay in about seven feet of water, near the north end of the Murray & Jones mill dock, at Oneota.

The theory that the popular vessel captain walked off the dock in the darkness Monday night proved correct.

The body was removed to Stewart's undertaking rooms, and will be taken to Bay City, Mich., for interment.

IS POPULAR.

F. A. Brown Tells of Colorado Candidate For Governor.

The nomination of E. C. Stimson, of Cripple Creek, Colo., as the Democratic candidate for governor of Colorado, brought much pleasure to F. A. Brown, of this city, for he has known Mr. Stimson for many years, in fact Mr. Stimson was the principal of the school from which he graduated in Portsmouth.

A short time ago Mr. Brown visited Mr. Stimson at Cripple Creek and saw him in his own home and among the people with whom he lives. He says that Mr. Stimson is one of the most popular men that he has ever known. He is much like President Roosevelt, being a great lover of sports and the strenuous life. Among the miners he is immensely popular, in fact, everybody in Colorado seems to have a good word for "Cad" Stimson, as he is generally known.

He is but little more than 40 years of age and began teaching school at Portsmouth, Ohio, when a very young man. There are said to be probably about ten or a dozen men in Minnesota who were his pupils, his "boys," they call themselves. He went to Aspen, Colo., and prospered, but finally lost all. Then he went to Cripple Creek, practiced law and was elected judge.

Mr. Brown predicts that he will have the largest majority ever received by any candidate in Colorado.

SUIT FOR INJURIES

John Cameron's Case Against Street Railway Company Is On.

Seeks Damages For Injuries Inflicted on Young Son.

Peter Harmon's Case Against Lesure Company Dismissed.

Civil cases listened to by juries and judges took up all the time in the district court today.

In Judge Ensign's room the case of John H. Cameron against the Duluth Superior Traction company in which the plaintiff seeks to recover $5500 for injuries sustained by his son last April by being struck by a street car was on. The lad is William Cameron and at the time of the accident was 4 years old. April 19 he was crossing the tracks of the defendant company with his sister and brother. The lad was struck by the car and the complaint state that he was carried under the car. The fact that he was not killed was due largely to a little depression in the street into which he rolled and prevented him from being squeezed to death. As it was he had his arm injured and his leg broken besides other injuries.

There are two cases being tried at the same time. The first is brought by the father of the boy as administrator of his estate and asks for $5000. The second action he brings himself to recover $500 which he says he expended in doctor bills, etaoin shrdlu usn(1½½ vbgkqj xzfiiff⅓⅔

The case of Peter Harmon against the Lesure Lumber company was dismissed by Judge Dibell this morning. The plaintiff acked for $2250 as his commission on a big pine deal amounting to $75,000. The defendant claimed that the plaintiff had been given authority to make a deal, but his limit was confined to ten days' time. The court thought that there were not enough facts to constitute a cause of action.

Before Judge Cant the case of George Piskur against the South Slavonic Catholic union was continued this morning. The plaintiff was insured, so it is alleged, with the defendant company and according to the agreement was to receive $400 in case of loss of a foot. His foot was badly injured while at work in the mines, but he did not recover anything from the society. The suit followed.

The case of Allen & Burns against William Scott to recover $245 alleged to be due on a bill of goods the court directed the jury yesterday to return a verdict for the defendant.

Two prisoners came into court this morning and changed their pleas from not guilty to guilty. They were William O'Toole indicted for forgery and George Murray, who admitted he stole a coat and vest. They will be sentenced later.

PRINCE INDICTED.

True Bill Found Against an Austrian Prince.

London, Sept. 11.—The grand jury in the Old Bailey today, returned a true bill against Prince Francis Joseph of Bragansea, a lieutenant in the Seventh Austrian hussars, and who was a member of the Austro-Hungarian mission to the coronation of King Edward, charged with misconduct under the criminal law amendment.

The hearing of the charges brought against Prince Francis Joseph of Bragansea and other men took place in the Southwark police court in July, and attracted much attention. Sir Edward Clarke, the former solicitor general, defended the prince. The prosecutor altered the charge from "felony" to "misconduct under the criminal law amendment." Sir Edward intimated that the defense would be conspiracy to rob and blackmail. Strict secrecy was observed by the court officials regarding the exact nature of the charges.

DEATH LIST.

Mrs. F. W. Foote Dies Suddenly at White Bear.

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. W. F. Foote, wife of Attorney Frederick W. Foote, and daughter of Attorney C. D. O'Brien, died very suddenly last night at their summer residence, White Bear. Last night Mrs. Foote complained of feeling some pain in the region of her heart. But as her physical condition was seemingly excellent and robust, the information did not create any alarm. Mrs. Foote retired at the usual time, apparently in good health. At 3 o'clock this morning she was found dead in bed. Mrs. Foote had a wide circle of friends. She was the second daughter of Mr. O'Brien. Four years ago she married Fred W. Foote, a young attorney, whose former home was at Red Wing. They had two children, one 3 years old and the other 8 months.

Newport News, Va., Sept. 11.—Wilson Hue, who supervised the construction of the Confederate ram Merrimac, is dead at his home in Hampton, aged 74. For the past ten years he had been an invalid. During the war he was stationed at the Portsmouth navy yard, until Norfolk was evacuated, when he was transferred to Richmond. Afterwards he was appointed paymaster in the Confederate army.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Jesse Cox, for nearly thirty years a member of the Chicago bar, died last night at the Presbyterian hospital of pneumonia, following an operation for appendicitis.

Cambrige, Mass., Sept. 11.—The Rev. Thomas Scully, who was well known throughout the country as a temperance advocate, died here today.

Detroit, Sept. 11.—Bostwick R. Noble, of Yale, Mich., a prominent banker, died last night at Grace hospital, in this city. He had been ill ten days and died of typhoid pneumonia. He was president of banks in six towns in Michigan. He was 54 years old.

THE DAKOTAS.

A Former Companion of Tracy Sentenced at Deadwood.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Deadwood—Robert W. Coulter pleaded guilty to assault and robbery in the circuit court Wednesday and was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment. According to his own statement, which has been verified by investigation of the sheriff, Coulter was formerly associated with Harry Tracy in the holdup business and had served a term in the Wyoming penitentiary for stage robbery committed near Green River.

Allen Walking Shield, a Sioux, was convicted of murder in the United States court and the death sentence will be passed on him tomorrow. He killed Sarah Ghost Face Bear at her home on the Rosebud reservation on May 8 last, because she objected to his marrying her daughter.

Egan—Fire was discovered in a pile of rubbish in the yard of the Depot hotel and the building had a narrow escape from total destruction. The fence around the enclosure was wholly destroyed, and the north end of the hotel scorched, but beyond this there was little damage. It is thought the fire started from a spark from a passing locomotive. The loss is covered by insurance.

Lead—The public schools opened with a larger attendance than ever known at the beginning of a term. The enrollment is 1425, and this is expected to be increased to 1600 before the close of the week.

The cars to be used on the Burlington trolley system between Lead and Deadwood have been shipped from St. Louis after a long delay, and the system will be opened to travel Sept. 15.

W. D. Rine has been installed as the Elkhorn freight agent in Lead, succeeding V. A. Hampton, who was promoted to the position of district passenger agent.

Armour—Rev. M. Sargent, the alleged Boer general, is working in this part of the state. He drove into town from the north, and is believed to be in the immediate vicinity, "working" the Dutch farmers. He is said to be gathering funds for the benefit of the Boer soldiers' orphans. He is a smooth conversationalist and can talk in several different languages, but is very careful to state his business only to the Dutch Hollanders, many of whom live in this and adjoining counties.

Rapid City—The general land office has ordered the officials of the local land office to set aside six sections of land at Battle mountain. Hot Springs, to be converted into a national sanitarium park. The site recently decided upon for the new national sanitarium is near Battle mountain.

Mrs. Eugena Juelfs, wife of Herman Juelfs, died of heart failure, aged 25 years.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Jamestown—The Soo railway has paid its school taxes in Carrington under protest. The taxes amounted to $149.84. The Soo holds that they levy was invalid for the reason that it was made by percentage instead of in specific amounts, as required by the statute.

Capt. Blodgett, who had charge of the local Salvation Army corps until recently, was married in Winnipeg to D. Croston, a machinery dealer of Cypress River, Man.

A cooking range exploded on the farm of Burleson Bros., north of Jamestown. The stove was demolished, but fortunately no one was injured. The accident was caused by the steam pipes becoming clogged.

Fargo—The city schools opened with an attendance of 1762 pupils. The attendance will probably reach 2000.

The local committee is doing some great hustling for the meeting of the good roads men next week. The roadmaking tests will be carried on at convenient hours, and there will be a big attendance from outside the city and county. All the railroads have made one-fare rates.

The tailors have secured an advance which averages from 10 to 15 per cent. All the employers have signed the new schedule.

Fargo officials have identified J. H. Long, in jail at Breckenridge, as one of the alleged accomplices of John Rooney, held here for the murder of Harold Sweet two weeks ago. Long refuses to come across the Dakota line, and requisition papers will be secured.

Steele—A prairie fire started two miles east of Sterling and burned over the best part of three townships in Eastern Burleigh county, doing much damage. Farmers Thorwaldson, Lindquist, Barnell, Randon and Colton lost hay in lots ranging from thirty to sixty tons. The Colton place had a narrow escape from being wiped out. The fire was fought all night and was put out not far from Long Lake. It is said to have caught from a locomotive spark.

A Powerful Search-Light.

The latest invention is that of a signal light which it is claimed will penetrate the heaviest fog for a distance of half a mile. If it is a success, any accidents on both land and sea can be averted. Much interest is being manifested in the discovery, the same as in any other invention that is intended to save life. That is the reason so many people have been interested in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters during the past fifty years. It is recognized as the best health maker and blood purifier in existence, and with good health and pure blood, disease cannot find a foothold. It is therefore specially adapted for persons in ill-health and who suffer from heartburn, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, or malaria, fever and ague. Try it.

New York, Sept. 11.—Figures on the public school registration, just completed, show a total for greater New York of 502,903 scholars. This is an increase of 35,000 over the preceding year. Children to the number of 5300 were refused admission for various causes.

THE NEW HOSPITAL

New St. Luke's to Be Occupied Within Two Weeks.

Complete In Every Detail and Modern In Equipment.

Six Nurses to Be Graduated From School Sept. 23.

The new St. Luke's hospital, Ninth avenue east and First street, which has been under construction for two years, and which is equalled by few and excelled by none in the county in the field that it is designed to cover, will be ready to receive patients within a fortnight. The date of opening may be a few days later, but Oct. 1 will certainly see the new institution, an admirable acquisition to Duluth, opened.

While the hospital board started out with the idea of erecting a $35,000 structure, $80,000 has already been expended, and the total outlay will reach $100,000.

This sum has not been acquired without considerable labor on the part of the members of the hospital board, and the old Biblical saying, "it is better to give than receive," has been found to be a motto of not a few people in this present age who have contributed most generously to this institution.

The St. Luke's hospital is owned and controlled by St. Paul's Episcopal church, and the present building at Second avenue east and Fourth street has been found wholly inadequate to the demands made upon it. Talk of a new building was afoot for some time back, but two years ago this fall ground was broken on the site selected at Ninth avenue east and First street. The location is an admirable one. Convalescents can gaze over the lake and the sweet breezes wafted to them will lend help and strength in bringing them back to where they were before sickness overtook them.

Only the foundation was laid two years ago, but in the spring of 1901 the contract was let for the building. The work was to have been completed last January, but delay followed delay until nine months more time was granted. Painters have been at work for some weeks and are nearly finished. The furnishing will follow and the institution will then be ready for business.

The hospital building proper is 48 by 120 feet and five stories high with the basement. The material used in the structure is pressed brick, steel, tile and cement, with the very smallest possible amount of wood. The building has been arranged with the greatest precaution against fire, and the best proofing obtainable is found in the make-up. Besides the main building there are three other smaller structures, the laundry, cottage, the home for the nurses and the isolation ward for contagious cases.

The hospital will accommodate seventy patients, and twenty more can be taken should the condition demand it. There are twenty-eight private rooms. Each has been fitted out by some individual or society interested in the hospital, and in some cases the furnishings have cost as much as $250. One person purchased everything, bed, dresser and the other furnishings, and has the privilege of naming the room. Some of the rooms are named after the donors, while others have the names of friends. The following are the donors:

Mrs. John B. Adams.
Mrs. George A. St. Clair.
Mrs. N. F. Hugo.
Mrs. William R. Stone.
Mrs. Frederick W. Paine.
St. Barnabas' guild.
Daughters of the American Revolution.
Young Ladies' club, St. Paul's church.
Miss Rosamond Patrick.
Mrs. E. Grace Graves.
Pupils of Duluth Central High School.
St. Mary's church, Tower, Minn.
Mrs. G. A. Tomlinson.
Somerset Y. Elsie Prescott room.
King's Daughters of St. Paul's church.
Mrs. W. J. Olcott.
Mrs. H. M. Peyton.
Ladies of Cloquet, Minn.
Mrs. A. M. Miller.
Mrs. A. L. Ordean.
Charles S. Hinchman.

There are a number of interesting features about the new hospital. While the board in charge of the building has taken plenty of time, it has also improved it to advantage, and scores of plans of hospitals have been examined, many institutions inspected, and the best parts of each have been put together to make one perfect whole.

The refrigerator will be well cared for, and will have three distinct departments, one for butter and milk, the other for meats and another for vegetables. In this manner the food can be kept in the best possible condition. The ventilating system is also one of the best. It can furnish enough air to refill the building every thirty minutes. The old air is taken out through the roof, being forced out by the pure and healthy ozone.

Each room is provided with ventilators, and not a crack or crevice will be found in the walls to gather up the particles of dirt that may get into the room. Adamant plaster is used, and the corners of the room are rounding. In this manner no waste matter can find its way into a corner. The walls are painted with four and five coats, and the baseboard is of molded cement.

The kitchen will resemble that very important department of a first class restaurant. The equipment is complete in every detail, including a Kny-Sherer sterilizing plant.

On the top floor of the building is the operating room. Light pours in from a skylight overhead, while on the northeast and northwest there is a large window exposure. In addition, the room is well supplied with artificial light, both electricity and gas being installed, and operations can be performed at any time of night and day. A feature of the hospital is a separate room in which the patients will be given the anaesthetic instead of waiting until being laid out in the operating room. This will save the patient the disagreeable sight of gazing about the operating room. The sight of the medicine bottles and the bright instruments placed about is likely to terrify the person upon whom the operation is to be made, and the system is likely to be weakened. The patient will not be wheeled into the operating room until all sensibility has been lost.

The laundry will be in a separate building, and most complete, the machinery, including a washer, dryer, mangler, body froner, in addition to large dry rooms. The grounds around the building will be graded and seeded this fall. In speaking of the hospital, Rev. A. W. Ryan, of the St. Paul's Episcopal church and president of the hospital board, said:

"We are very proud of the hospital, and we feel that all Duluth will join with us after an inspection has been made. There are other hospitals whose furnishings might be more elegant, but as far as we go, and considering the practical work for which it is designed, we feel that it is not excelled.

"We have planned a reception to be given prior to the opening, to which the public generally has been invited. We have been very fortunate in contributions, and will go into the new building with not more than a $25,000 debt. We will continue at the old hospital for a few days until our patients are in condition to be removed."

Another feature that will be enlarged is the training school for nurses. While the largest number heretofore enrolled has been seventeen, the class with the graduating exercises of this year's class will be held at the St. Paul's church, Tuesday evening, Sept. 23. There will be six graduates, the largest number turned out of the school in any one year. The length of study was increased from two to three years a short time ago, and the instruction is most complete.

The graduates will be: Miss Frances M. Root, Mrs. Donna C. Doney, Miss Helen Iensen, Mrs. Sophie Beresford, Miss Anna M. Gogarn and Miss Marie Forbes. The exercises will consist of an address by some well known local speaker, the presentation of diplomas by Dr. Ryan and the presentation of hospital badges by Miss M. G. Thornton, the superintendent.

Miss Thornton, who has been very successful in the hospital work here, will continue in that position, and will be given an assistant when the new building is entered.

America's Greatest Dermatologist

Woman's beauty has been the theme of poets in all ages. Woman's influence over man is paramount. Personal beauty has always commanded love and admiration. Almost the first critique one woman pronounces upon another is her complexion.

The complexion, if clouded with blotches, liver spots, superfluous hair, moth, tan, freckles, can be speedily and completely cleared and made soft, smooth and white by Madame Tully's treatment.

Removing Wrinkles in One Treatment

Madame Tully is known in most of the large cities of America from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans, and wherever she has visited her name has become a popular household word. This famous woman's representative, Miss Daralis, is now visiting in Duluth, a fact that will be hailed with delight by a majority of the female sex in this city. This scientist must not be confused with the so-called beauty doctors so common in all large cities that resort to facial massage and other equally as useless expedients to restore lost beauty or to remove the tell tale wrinkles. Madame Tully has received the most flattering notices from the press of the United States and Europe.

Miss Daralis will be in Duluth one week, and it would be well for all ladies needing her services to call at once at her parlor at the Ralston.

SARGENT IS BACK.

Sheriff Continues His Winning Campaign In Duluth.

Sheriff William C. Sargent returned this morning from the Mesaba range, where he put in the first three days of this week campaigning in the range cities. He reports that his work there was attended with great success, and that his friends there are as firm as they ever were. Other reports that have come down are to the effect that he has lined up a surprisingly large force of friends there who will work for his nomination and election. In the splitting up of the range vote he will get his share, and that is a large one.

During the remainder of the campaign Mr. Sargent will continue his campaign in this city, and he will not rest until the primaries are held. The growth of the Sargent sentiment in this city has been remarkable. His friends say that it was there all the time, and that it was not discovered until he came back and stirred things up, because there was so much talk about the large number of candidates before that Mr. Sargent's strength was obscured. The belief that he will be nominated by a large majority is growing daily.

Decision In Gheen Land Case One of Much Importance.

The decision of the department of the interior, sustaining the ruling of the local land office in rejecting the application of Frank Brennan to enter the se¼, sw¼, section 15, and the ne¼, nw¼, lot 1, and the sw¼, nw¼, section 22-67-19, and in confirming the ruling to permit Stephen Gheen, the half breed Indian, who formerly held the tract by allotment and relinquished it to make application for homestead entry, has settled an important point relative to the relinquishment of Indian allotments.

The tract in controversy was originally held by Stephen Gheen, child of a white father and an Indian mother, April 12, 1898. Gheen filed an application in the local land office to relinquish his allotment and make a homestead entry of the tract, alleging that he settled on the land in 1888, prior to the allotment, built a house and cultivated the ground. He also alleged that he was led to believe he was entitled to the allotment, being a child of a mother of Indian blood, and that on being informed that it was illegal, he desired to make homestead entry of the tract.

Prior to the filing of the application of Gheen, and when the land was covered by the allotment of Gheen, an application was filed by Simeon F. Pierce to make a timber land entry on the lands. Pierce filed an affidavit of contest against the allotment, alleging that Gheen had never settled on the land, that it was not improved, and it was chiefly valuable for the timber growing on it. He also alleged Gheen to be a white man.

A hearing was had at the local land office, Dec. 20, 1900 and on the testimony taken, the case of Pierce was dismissed and his application was rejected. The allotment was then cancelled and Gheen's homestead entry was directed. The entry was made Jan. 7, 1901.

Pierce appealed from the decision of the local office, but the department affirmed it so far as it affected the rejection of Pierce's application and his contest. This decision was rendered May 14, 1901, but was never reported. The department, in sustaining the decision of the local office, held that Pierce acquired no right by virtue of his application to make entry of the land while it was segregated by allotment, and that upon the cancellation of the allotment both applications were considered as filed simultaneously. The policy of the law being to favor those who seek to make homes on public lands, Gheen's application was given the preference.

The case was remanded to enable the local office to take appropriate action on an appeal by W. F. Pleas, from the decision of the local office, which had rejected an application filed by him to contest the allotment on substantially the same grounds. Pleas' application was denied by the local office July, 1901. Denial was also made to his application to contest the entry.

Following the action of the local land office in cancelling the allotment, and allowing the application of Gheen to make homestead entry, and pending the appeal of Pierce from the decision, Frank Brennan filed a protest against the allowance of the entry, alleging, in substance, that Gheen had not resided on or cultivated the land, and had gained no right to preference of entry through his illegal Indian allotment application; that he could acquire no special privilege by his homestead application prior to the cancellation of the allotment, and that while the land was segregated thereby, the application could have no force against the application of the protestant, filed Jan. 2, 1901.

The land officers rejected the Brennan protest, which action was approved by the decision of the Duluth office, May 15, 1902.

The application of Gheen to make homestead entry of the lands embraced in his former Indian allotment was allowed, for the reason that he had been a settler and resident on the tract as shown by the testimony in the contest by Pierce, and that it was evidently his intention to take the tract for a home. His entry was allowed against the application of Pierce, subject to future compliance with the law, and the decision of the local office was affirmed by the department, May 14, 1901, with the statement that "Gheen's application was properly given the preference by the local office." At the date of the decision of the local office, Brennan was not an applicant for the land, and has not started proceedings against the entry. The rights of Gheen under his entry, as against subsequent applications, related back to the date the local office allowed it.

The department held that whether Gheen has complied with the law since his entry is not involved in the appeal taken by Brennan.

Edward Devan Shoots Man at Ironwood In Self-Defense.

Ironwood—Ephraim Devan, Jr., manager for the W. F. Burns company, of Chicago, which is placing home savings banks in Ironwood and Hurley for the People's Banking company, shot an employe named McKellepp in front of the People's Savings bank Tuesday night. Devan gave himself up to the chief of police and claims self-defense. Paul Wicker, a young man from Escanaba, Mich., was jailed on a charge of attempt to assist Devan to escape, but will likely be released. Devan gives Louisville, Ky., as his home. He has charge of six men who came here from Iron Mountain the first of the week. He says he reprimanded three of his men, Wright DePass and McKellepp, on different occasions, for being drunk and disorderly, and in this way incurred their enmity. DePass accused Devan of carrying a gun for him and said McKellepp had told him so. Devan called McKellepp a liar and received in return a blow from three or four small iron banks which were suspended from a strap in the hands of DePass. Devan pulled his revolver and fired to the ground to scare his assailants, whereupon the three men attacked him and McKellepp was shot in the groin. He will probably recover.

Crystal Falls—The school board has served notices on all teachers that they must not attend dances or other social functions which keep them out after 11 o'clock at night if school is in session the following day. The penalty for violation is dismissal. The action of the board is in line with the general sentiment of the citizens.

Larurium—A year ago there was agitation over the fact that a building erected near one of the public schools was to be utilized for a saloon. The discussion waxed vigorous and finally the council refused to grant the necessary license. Now the structure is being fitted up for use as a school, to care for the overflow from the present school.

Escanaba—As agent for P. McArthur and P. A. Ducey, of Detroit, Mayor Gallup has closed a timber deal in California, whereby 7,040 acres of land have been purchased from a syndicate for $141,400 cash, or $12 an acre. The land is in Tuolomme county, and contains 400,000,000 feet of yellow and sugar pine. Since the transaction was made an offer of $18 per acre has been made for the tract, but has been refused.

Houghton—Alfred Shipman, aged 60, a miner in the Trimountain mine, fell 500 feet in a shaft and was killed. He is survived by a widow and one daughter.

Negaunee—As a result of a crusade started by the pastor of the Methodist church, the liquor laws are being vigorously enforced in this city. A dozen or more saloonkeepers have been bound over. It is said the liquor men will retaliate. All have signed a paper declaring in favor of a rigid prohibition of all manual labor on Sunday and calling on the authorities to enforce the laws. It is proposed to stop all Sunday work at the mines, to prevent street cars from operating, and to close all drug, confectionery and other stores. Committees have been appointed to collect evidence next Sunday.

Calumet—Twelve-year-old Joseph Agnich will recover from what was at first believed to be fatal injuries. His mishap was a peculiar one. He was waiting for a street car as a horse drawing a milk wagon was slowly trotting toward the same corner. Just as the boy started across the street to catch the car he ran against the horse. The thill of the wagon caught the boy under the chin with such force that it was run through his neck and came out behind the left ear. The lad was held suspended in the air for several moments until some of the cooler heads in the crowd had released him. The thill missed the arteries and nerves, or the boy would have died to death.

No Summer Bowel Troubles

Not for me! I'm safe from all of them and happy. The heat of summer causes organic matter everywhere to decay. All dead vegetable or animal matter rots if not kept on ice. All undigested food in the human body will ferment a hundred times as quickly in summer as in winter. Consequence—stomach, liver, bowels poisoned, thrown out of order—sour stomach, gases, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, appendicitis, and in some regions yellow fever and the plague. Little children suffer terribly everywhere. What does good sense tell you to do? You can't keep the human body on ice, and the drinking of ice-cold drinks does more harm than good because it stops digestion and chills the internal organs. The proper thing is to keep all impure and unnecessary matter out of the body every day, not give it a chance to sour and decay in the stomach and boweis, and poison the blood and the whole body. In this way you will stop all hot, feverish conditions, and keep your insides cool and healthy. To do it, use a medicine that is not offensive to the taste and not harsh and violent in its action. There is only one safe system-cleaner to take in the summer time, because it will not cause diarrhoea or griping, and that is

URGING CAUTION

Health Authorities Want Lumbermen to Fight Smallpox.

Most Cases Are Traced to the Lumber Camps.

Vigilance Now May Prevent Recurrence of Epidemic.

Local health authorities are active in a campaign to enforce state health regulations in lumber camps.

In a short time the camps will open up for the winter work, and as about 75 per cent of Duluth's smallpox cases in the past have been traced to the camps, the authorities are very anxious to begin this year's campaign by using an ounce of prevention instead of a pound of cure.

All persons in charge of lumber camps are requested to require evidences of vaccination or previous smallpox of woodsmen before hiring them.

It is also suggested that each lumber camp or convenient group of camps have some isolated building or double-walled tent, with facilities for heating and ventilation, to accommodate any employes that may contract diseases of a contagious nature.

All camps in which smallpox existed during the past season must be disinfected and quarantined until they are thoroughly fumigated and cleaned. The health authorities would prefer that such camps be burned.

The same regulations apply to the contents of all such camps. The expense of disinfection must be borne by the owner of the camp, and the work must be done by a disinfector subject to the endorsement of the state board of health.

All persons operating camps are further required to withhold the money or wages due employes that may become infected with contagious disease, until the discharge from the hospital of detention.

Money or wages must also be withheld from any employes having suspicious symptoms, until the diagnosis of the symptoms has been made by a physician.

The present outlook is for a comparatively healthy winter, so far as contagious diseases are concerned, but there is no way of accurately estimating these health conditions in advance.

Last year, with only one case of smallpox in the city, the authorities thought they had the disease well stamped out, but within three days after the announcement was made the detention hospital was filled.

This is the time to use Rocky Mountain Tea. Keeps you well all the year. Great blood life renewer. 35 cents. S. F. Boyce.

IS A FAKE.

A Lower Lake Rumor Involving Duluth People.

Secretary Preston of the Commercial club has received a letter of inquiry from a man in Jackson, Mich., relative to an article which appeared recently in the Daily Register of Sandusky, Ohio, stating that a Duluth capitalist was understood to be figuring on new lime kilns on Kelley's island, in Lake Erie. The clipping was enclosed in the letter and was as follows:

"If reports are true, a capitalist by the name of Ruth, who lives in Duluth, Minn., will soon establish a number of lime kilns at Kelley's island. It is said that he has purchased 28 acres there, including the Rehmeimer dock. The new plant, it is said, will be a large one and will result in competition with the Kelley's Island Transportation company."

The Jackson man desired to know if there was a capitalist here by the name of Ruth and his address.

An inquiry has been instituted as to the truth of the story in the Sandusky paper, and so far as can be learned it is a fake pure and simple. No Duluth capitalist by the name of Ruth can be found, nor can any other man of capital from this place be found who has invested any money in Kelley island property.

It has been learned from reliable sources that a Duluthian wrote to the Kelley Island Lime and Transportation company, stating that he was about to start some new lime kilns in West Superior, and asking the price for which the company could furnish him with limestone. The letter was referred to responsible parties at the head of the lakes, and acting on their report the lime and transportation company did nothing with the request.

One of the men interested in the lime kilns at the head of the lakes says that the story in the Sandusky paper might have been started by a runor at the lower lake ports regarding the intention of some Duluth man to start new kilns in West Superior. He also says that the proposition relative to new kilns on Kelley island is absurd, for the reason that the Kelley Island Lmie and Transportation company has swamped every other competitor that started kilns on the island, and there is at the present time many idle kilns there. He takes no stock in the report that a Duluth man expects to start new kilns in West Superior.

UNDER AN ENGINE

Fred Reed, Missabe Fireman, Killed In a Wreck.

Buried Under Wreckage and Found Three Hours Later.

Accident Occurs at Proctorknott---Open Switch the Cause.

One man was killed in a bad railroad wreck at Proctorknott yesterday afternoon.

A Duluth, Missabe & Northern train of empty ore cars crashed into an open switch, overturning a mammoth hill engine and wrecking eleven cars.

Frank Reed, fireman of the engine, was crushed under the tender and terribly mangled. The body was recovered from the bottom of the wreck several hours after.

James Martin, the engineer, stayed at his post, and went over with the engine, but escaped with only a few cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred at the south end of the Proctorknott yards just about 4 o'clock. The big hill engine, No. 301, one of the largest in existence, hauling a string of empties from the Oneota ore docks to the top of the hill, had just cleared the top of the grade and was making the run to the yards, when Engineer Martin noticed that a switch, scarcely twenty feet ahead, about half open.

Fireman Reed tried to jump just as the engine rolled over and the shock threw him off his feet. He went down to the bottom of the wreck, head first, and his body was later taken from underneath a tangle of three ore cars and a badly wrecked tender.

The conductor and a brakeman were sitting on the tender, but got warning of the approaching accident from Reed in time to jump.

The dead fireman was one of the best known and most popular railroad men on the Missabe road. He is survived by a wife and little daughter.

The wreck was one of the worst that has occurred on the Missabe since the logging train ran away on the grade above West Duluth several years ago. All traffic between Proctorknott and the docks was tied up for six hours. The passenger train for the range towns that leaves the Union depot at 3:55 was held at Missabe Junction till about 10 o'clock last night.

FAVORABLE

Weather In South Dakota Last Week Not Objectionable.

The weather in South Dakota last week was not so unfavorable to harvesting and threshing as in North Dakota, according to the crop report for the week ending Monday. It is as follows:

"The weather during the week was cool and dry, with much sunshine and considerable wind, and favorable for drying grain in shock dampened by rains of the latter part of August. Threshing, stacking and haying are again in active progress generally, with favorable weather. Grain threshed from shock shows injury in quality in southeastern counties, due to August rains, but generally the yields are good to very fair.

"A light frost occurred generally on the 4th in the James and Sioux River valleys, and in some northeastern sections it was heavy, but except in parts of some northeastern counties, where late corn, and also some late flax and millet, were more or less seriously damaged, the injury to early corn was apparently slight, if any, and to the late apparently immaterial in all sections. On the whole the crop has made fairly good progress in filling, but maturing has been retarded by cool weather. Considerable of the early corn is glazing and denting, but there is much of the crop as a whole that will apparently require from ten to fifteen days of favorable weather to mature.

"Haying is again in active progress, with prospects for a large crop of late hay. The crop is generally amply sufficient.

"There is still some flax to be cut in northern counties, where some is still green, but cutting has progressed favorably. Late flax is not on the whole promising.

"Early potatoes are ripe, a good crop of fine quality. Late potatoes have improved, and though poor in some counties, promise fairly well on the whole and are nearing maturity.

"Pastures are generally good and green. Dry weather is favoring the curing of grass on the ranges, but warmer weather would help it.

"Wild plums are yielding well in the Missouri valley and Black Hills region. The apple crop is light.

"Fall plowing is progressing well."

Chisholm "Blind Pigs."

To the Editor of The Herald:

A few days ago I noticed in the News Tribune's columns an insinuation regarding the part I took in prosecuting an offender of the law who was selling liquor without a license. Now the editor of the News Tribune must have been raised in a very hilly country for he is either "crooked" in the role of a loyal American or he must be very shallow in his ideas as to what constitutes the duties of a law abiding citizen. While I do not glory in the fact that my surname is Omtvedt, nor the fact that I read at times the News Tribune, I do glory in the fact that I have done my duty as a citizen to quell the open defiance of our laws to the extent of putting one of the many "blind pigs" hereabouts out of "biz" for sixty days. At the insinuating remarks, the revenue collectors ought to hang their heads in shame, for if their position is worth their calling their salaries are worth their duties. I am a resident of this place, try to be a good citizen, am paying $500 a year village license and if the government officials will not attend to their duties I will help them out the best I can. Yours very respectfully,

JOHN OMTVEDT.

It is a great affliction for a woman to have her face disfigured by pimples or any form of eruptive disease. It makes her morbid and sensitive, and robs her of social enjoyment. Disfiguring eruptions are caused by impure blood, and are entirely cured by the great blood-purifying medicine—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It removes from the blood the poisonous impurities which cause disease. It perfectly and permanently cures scrofulous sores, eczema, tetter, boils, pimples and other eruptive diseases which are caused by the blood's impurity. It increases the action of the blood-making glands and thus increases the supply of pure rich blood.

"For about one year and a half my face was very badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams, of 116 West Main Street, Battlecreek, Mich. "I spent a great deal of money with doctors and for different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I read one of your advertisements in a paper, and obtained a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Before I had taken one bottle of this medicine I noticed a change, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured. I can well recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to any one similarly afflicted."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

DEAD AND DOWN TIMBER.

Maj. Scott to Cut It With Indian Labor.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Secretary Hitchcock has recided that dead and down operations shall be conducted on the diminished Red Lake reservation, but that lumbermen are not to have any hand in them except to buy the logs after they have been cut and banked. Accordingly Indian Commissioner Jones has instructed Maj. Scott to cut the dead and down timber this winter, using only Indian labor and paraphernalia, to be purchased and paid for from the proceeds of the logs. Secretary Hitchcock decided to adopt this system because of the trouble experienced with the lumbermen two years ago, when they cut a large amount of timber under their dead and down contracts for which payment was demanded, but which has not been made as yet.

In a recent report to the department, Maj. Scott pointed out two methods of operating. One was to let contracts, as was done two years ago; the other to have the operations conducted under his immediate supervision, the logging outfits to be purchased by him and Indian labor employed. He said there was objection to the latter method, however, because the outfits could not be sold at anywhere near their real value next spring, and there would consequently be considerable loss. The secretary, however, decided that it would be better to take the chance of loss on the outfits rather than to have the lumbermen cut the green timber under the guise of cutting the dead-and-down. Maj. Scott has been authorized to begin work as soon as he can. He estimated that there was between 12,000,000,000 and 15,000,000,000 feet of logs on the ground for which the Indians can get anywhere from $5 to $12 per thousand feet.

ELECTRIC ROULETTE WHEEL

Stops Where the Operator Wants It to.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Sporting men are talking of an electric roulette wheel which has just been imported to Chicago from Paris. The apparatus is constructed so that the wheel may be stopped at any desired point—number or color, and with greater ease and with less chance of detection than the mechanically "fixed" wheels that in the past have been used for robing the uninitiated.

The wheel has been installed in a gambling club house in Michigan avenue, and its "promoters" are said to have an eye to the entertainment of certain Chicago men of wealth who of late have been mentioned frequently in the newspapers in connection with racing and games of chance.

The roulette wheel has bee in operation for two or three days, and it is reported that one confiding individual had already lost $7000 by wagering money on its rotations.

Now's the time to take Rocky Mountain Tea; keeps the whole family well. A great medicine for spring and fall tiredness. 35 cents. S. F. Boyce.

An Abundance of Blood

PAINE'S Celery Compound

Cleanses the Vital Fluid, Increases Its Supply, Banishes the Seeds of Localized Diseases, and Nourishes Every Important Organ.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound means an abundance of pure, vitalizing blood, a perfect regulating of circulation, and the banishment of localized diseases such as insomnia, neuralgia, rheumatism, eczema, salt rheum, blood diseases, running sores and eruptions.

If your sleep is not restful and refreshing, if your spirits are low, if you are morose, melancholic and oppressed with morbid feelings, be assured your blood demands instant attention.

Paine's Celery Compound is the one great and never-failing agent for making pure, fresh blood; for nourishing the dominant organs of the body, for recruiting the strength of young and old. Often, very often, a delay of one day proves fatal. Foul and poisoned blood carries death at every beat of the heart. Mrs. C. R. Root, Mansfield, Pa., says:

"When I began taking Paine's Celery Compound I was all run down after a severe attack of the grippe and was almost tired of life. I had salt rheum very badly in my hands, and the doctors told me there was no permanent cure for it when it had got into a person's blood so badly, but I am happy to tell you that Paine's Celery Compound cured me of salt rheum, kidney trouble and other ailments. It is always my doctor."

PEOPLE WANT IT

Will Not Hear of Repeal of Primary Election Law.

Candidates Hearing From Them In Emphatic Way.

Non-Committal Ones Are Realizing That They Made Mistake.

The publication by The Herald of a number of interviews with legislative candidates on the primary election law has disclosed a strong public sentiment on the subject.

The people are unquestionably for the law, and candidates will have to bear that in mind.

"I had no idea there was such a sentiment on the law," said a legislative candidate yesterday afternoon. "I gave The Herald an interview to the effect that I did not want to express an opinion until the law had been tried.

"Yesterday I started out on my still hunt for votes, and you should have seen the way they got after me on the primary election law. They fairly mobbed me. They wanted to know where I stood on the law, and they wanted to know quickly. They did not want to wait until after the primary election. They had no hesitation in saying that they wanted the law retained, and they wanted to vote for candidates that would work for its retention. They said it was the first time the people had had a chance to have a voice in their own affairs, and they did not propose to sit down and let the machine politicians kill the law.

"In the face of such a profound sentiment as I have met since The Herald's article came out I am decidedly for the law. It would be political suicide for me or any other candidate to be otherwise. I have always believed that the principle was right, and that it was a step in the proper direction. But I did not want to express an opinion until it had been tried in practice. However, the people want it, and I believe it is the duty of a representative of the people to give them what they want. Therefore I am unqualifiedly for the law, though it may need amendment.

"It will never be killed, however. It is here to stay. If it should be repealed this winter, I am firmly convinced that the people will, at the next election, kill off those who voted for its repeal and send down members pledged to re-enact it."

Other candidates tell the same story. The sentiment was there. All that was needed was a little stirring up. It came when the people read the interviews of a number of candidates who were undecided or who refused to discuss the matter. They read into most of these non-committal interviews opposition to the law whose expression was kept back by caution. Whether this was right or wrong, a large number of voters have been stirred up by it, and most of the candidates have heard from it since then.

The fight for the continuance of the primary election law will be one of the most interesting features of the session of the legislature next winter. All the power of what the primary elections leave alive of the machines will be out in full battle array against the law, and undoubtedly this movement will have some weight.

On the other hand the existence of a decided public sentiment will save many representatives into friendliness to the law. Besides, many successful candidates will feel that they owe their nominations to the law, and this will put them in a friendly attitude.

THE NORMAL.

Carriage For Kindergarten Children---A Wrong Impression.

In order to properly care for the little children who will attend the kindergarten department of the normal school it has been decided to have a closed carriage to take them to and from their homes.

This department of the school will open Mnnday and President Bohannon is anxious to hear from all parents who intend to send their children. As large an attendance as the school can care for is expected.

The impression has gained ground in Duluth as it does in every city where there is a normal school, that the model and kindergarten pupils are wanted for the purpose of supplying material for embryo teachers to practice upon. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The normal pupils are not allowed to practice until the last year of their course and usually not until the last term of the last year. Even then, great care is exercised in selecting those who are competent, and in no case is a pupil who has not demonstrated fitness for teaching allowed to practice. All the practice teaching is done under the constant supervision and guidance of specially trained instructors and critics. During this year it is likely that all of the teaching will be done by these instructors.

Election Law Pronounced Constitutional By Supreme Court.

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—The justices of the supreme court yesterday afternoon upheld the constitutionality of the primary election law.

The question came up from Mower county, an order being sought to compel the auditor of that county to provide blank spaces on the primary election ballot.

The supreme court refused to grant an order to correct the ballot in the manner desired.

The court also held the law in this respect to be constitutional.

The case came to the supreme court on an application from John L. Guiden, of Austin, for a writ to compel the county auditor of Mower county to leave blank spaces on the primary election ballot, in which the names of candidates not printed on the ballot might be inserted.

Attorney General Douglas contended that the insertion of these lines would in effect nullify the anti-fusion section of the election low, for Democrats could write in the name of a Republican a sufficient number of times to nominate him, or vice versa. This rule might also result in the nomination of a man who had not filed as a candidate at all.

The intent of the primary law is that each party sha.. nominate its own candidates. In Mower county the action is brought to enable the Democrats to vote for a candidate for county superintendent who has heretofore affiliated with the Democrats, but this year has filed as a Republican.

On the other hand, it was contended that if the primary election is not an election in fact, but merely a method of setting contests between members of separate parties, the primary law is unconstitutional. In so far as it provides for payment of the expenses of the primaries from the public treasury. A decision of the California supreme court to this effect is cited to prove the contention.

The court's decision is short, simply stating that the primary law does not require such blank spaces to be left on the ballot, and that in this respect the law is constitutional.

Status Of the Porto Ricans.

If Porto Ricans want to be recognized as citizens of the United States they must establish their right through the courts. Secretary Shaw is determined to stand by the first ruling of the department regarding the status of the inhabitants of the beautiful isle and they must test the case. This government forbids the admission into Porto Rico of any immigrants who could not get in at Ellis Island and at the same time subjects Porto Ricans entering our ports to the same restrictions as if they came from Belgium or Italy. This situation arises out of the organic act making Porto Ricans "citizens of Porto Rico," instead of "citizens of the United States" as the Hawaiians, in corresponding legislation, were declared to be. Porto Rican citizens, accordingly, have no privileges in entering our ports over other foreigners, even though this country has seen fit to fence the island around with immigration restrictions, for its own protection nominally, similar to our own. The Porto Ricans, according to reports received here, are greatly aggrieved over what they regard as a crying injustice. And it certainly is a gross injustice that should be corrected at the first session of congress.

Sanitary Problems of the Isthmian Canal.

George M. Sternberg, surgeon general of the United States army (retired), is the author of an article in the September number of the North American Review that should be read and pondered by every American who is interested in the purpose of the United States to dig a canal between the Atlantic and the Pacific. This article is entitled "Sanitary Problems Connected with the Construction of the Isthmian Canal." Gen. Sternberg refers to the enormous number of laborers and officials who lost their lives during the progress of the work on the Panama canal because of the unsanitary conditions prevailing there, and he indicates how these difficulties may be avoided in the future. He advocates the formation, as an organic part of the laboring army to be employed in the work, a well-trained medical corps, similar to the medical corps of the regular army, whose duty it would be to create sanitary conditions in the camps and along the line of work and to care for the health of the men; and by reference to recent successful experiments he explains how that duty could be effectively performed. Since this can be done, he urges, it would be criminal in the government of the United States to neglect it. Gen. Sternberg says: "The army of laborers which will be sent to the isthmus will require a sanitary corps having a personnel at least as great in proportion to the number employed as is provided for our army in the Philippines. At the head of this sanitary service, we should have a man fully informed as to the sanitary problems which are to be encountered and the best methods of meeting them, and also of demonstrated executive ability. Under him should be sanitary engineers, expert sanitary inspectors, and a corps of intelligent men employed especially for the sanitary service. He should be given the necessary money and autocratic power for the execution of sanitary measures for the protection of the health of the employes engaged in the construction of the canal. He should also have general direction of the medical service, including the establishment of hospitals at properly located points, the purchase of medical supplies, etc. He should select the medical staff for service at these hospitals and at the various camps or stations where work is in progress. The physicians at these stations should be required to make frequent inspection of the employes, for the purpose of placing upon sick report or in hospital any man who has fever or dysentery, or any other symptom indicating that he is unfit to work. Rest, suitable diet, and proper medication will often restore such persons to perfect health in a short time. But if left to their own devices, soldiers and laborers often fall to report for treatment in the early stages of a serious malady, when treatment would be most efficacious, and not only endanger their own chances of recovery, but, in the case of certain infectious diseases, place their comrades in danger."

THE PEOPLE AROUSED.

As a result of The Herald's interviews with the candidates for legislative nominations, giving their views on the primary election law, the candidates are hearing from the people. Public sentiment on this subject is very strong.

The expose of the scheme of the machine politicians to secure the repeal of the primary law at the next session of the legislature and return to the old system of boss-controlled conventions has stirred up the people, who are determined that the new system of direct nominations by the voters shall be retained.

No man who wants a nomination for the legislature can expect to win unless he pledges himself to oppose the conspiracy for the repeal of the primary law, and any man who goes to the legislature with that understanding and breaks his pledge may rest assured that he will not get a second term.

But the people must also turn out to the primaries and show that they appreciate to the fullest extent the power that they have secured by means of this law to name the party candidates. A light vote at the primaries would be an effective argument for the opponents of the popular system.

A CRY FROM MACEDONIA.

The troubles of the people of Macedonia had escaped the attention of the inhabitants of the Western hemisphere until the kidnaping of Miss Stone and her friend. Then the reports that the outrage was the work of political bodies attracted the attention of the Western world. Since the release of the American prisoner scarcely a thought has been given to the country, but its troubles have gone on just the same.

It is stated at Sofia that the Macedonian committee has recently addressed to the Russian government a memorial, a copy of which has also been sent to the Bulgarian government. In this paper there is demanded the carrying out of the treaty of Berlin, as well as the resolutions of the conference of Constantinople, together with a general political constitution for Macedonia based on the six following points: 1. That Macedonia shall become a self-governing province with Salonica for its capital. 2. That the governor of this province shall be elected for five years, and be of the nationality which numerically is the strongest. 3. That there shall be a provincial parliament composed of delegates elected by the population which shall have the right to discuss all questions of the interior. 4. The security of persons shall be assured and the liberty of the press guaranteed. 5. The officers shall be of the strongest nationality in the district wherein they exercise their functions. 6. The official language shall be—besides Turkish—the language of the majority, and it shall be chosen by the population of each district.

These demands certainly seem reasonable and may be granted. Whether they would serve to do away with brigandage or not remains to be seen.

THE FUTURE OF HAYTI.

The sinking of the Firminist gunboat by a German war vessel has brought to the front an issue that would have developed shooner or later, in accordance with a scheme that seems to have been fostered by unknown parties, but who are believed to be a powerful syndicate of capitalists who desire the annexation of all the islands that surround or are adjacent to Porto Rico. Without doubt they have an eye upon the sugar fields of the islands and the rich fruit fields of the tropical countries, but of course they do not care to make this feature of the case prominent.

It is said that the campaign for the creation of annexation sentiment will be conducted on entirely different different grounds, and for reasons that will appeal more directly to the Ameri can people and the lawmakers. It will be urged that the United States is in duty bound by the Monroe doctrine to preserve order in the waters of Hayti so far as the free operation of commerce is concerned. If Germany has been wronged or injured, and demands redress, there must be some government upon which the demand can be made. It is very doubtful if the Haytian navy would be able to do Germany right by punishing the piratical craft that searched a German vessel. It is generally accepted, and the annexationists will make the most of the argument, that the present condition can not maintain in Hayti; that neither this government nor the governments of foreign nations will be content to allow an island, commanding such an important strategic point, to remain in a state of anarchy.

For nearly 100 years the Haytians have been allowed to work out their own destiny. The result is that they now closely approximate the savagery of Central Africa, and the horrors of that savagery are increasing each year. The rich lands of the islands, capable of producing everything that will grow under the tropical sun—sugar, fruits, rice and all the products that flourish in Cuba, Honduras, Jamaica and Porto Rico—are now practically destitute. All industries of importance are paralyzed. The political conditions of the island are chaotic, no less than seven candidates for the presidency now being in the field with warring forces. It is argued in official circles that if such a crisis as just now exists in the island were to seriously endanger the rights of a civilized power, such a power would be justified in asking if the United States could permit such condition to longer exist, in view of its duties under the Monroe doctrine. It is claimed that Germany is in position to ask that question right now.

It may be necessary for the United States to establish a protectorate over some of these islands. Their interests are somewhat identical with those of the United States, and peace and order should certainly be maintained in some way. No other nation can do this on account of the Monroe doctrine, and it may become necessary for this country to act. Interesting developments may be looked for in the near future.

FEDERAL BUILDING SITES.

For a long time, many years, in fact ever since the plan was adopted, there has been constant complaint over the selection of sites for federal buildings in the different cities of this country. This fact was recently demonstrated in our neighboring city of West Superior. The selection of the site was highly displeasing to many of the people of that commonwealth, but there was no relief. A new plan has been promulgated by the powers in charge of sites and will prove much more satisfactory than the present arrangement, and will do away with much of the friction that has been ever present.

Hereafter the report of a special agent who selects a site will be made public at once. A notice will then be posted in the postoffice of the city interested, to the effect that thirty days will be given for the citizens to express their views on the merits of the site recommended for purchase. At the end of the 30-day period the report of the special agent, together with any protests that may have been received, will be considered. Then the site recommended by the special agent will be selected, or if the situation warrants it, another inspection will be authorized. In the selection for sites for public buildings provided by the last congress, members of congress have received strong hints that it would be politic for them to take no sides in the selection of sites for buildings located outside of their home cities. In several instances the official hint has been disregarded, and in some of them the part taken by members has engendered considerable friction. In the future it is likely that members will be requested to take no part in the controversies incident to the selection of sites by the government.

It is to be hoped that this plan will do away with many of the local troubles consequent on the selection of a site. It has already occasioned trouble enough and should be done away with.

AT THE HOTELS

"The Canadians are running down on the breeding of dogs," said J. T. Michaud, of the St. Louis this morning. Mr. Michaud has just returned from the provincial fair and bench show at Toronto. He returned several days sooner than he expected, owing to continued rains which made it unpleasant there. "The Canadians used to lead in dog breeding, but this year's show is a sad disappointment. The show was a flat failure in this respect. There were plenty of dogs there, about 500 in number, but the quality was not there. I had an idea I might buy a dog or so if I saw some that suited me, and so did others who came there, but none of them purchased. The Canadians admitted the conditions, and I understand that dog fanciers there will get together and try to devise means of improvement. The fair was a great exhibition, and it was well attended. That part of the continent is unexcelled for livestock, and exhibits along this line were marvelous." Mr. Michaud did not have any of his dogs on exhibition at Toronto.

Thoughts By Pease.

Anoka Union (Rep.): Day by day Sam Van Sant grows weaker, and the Republican party needs to hustle to elect him.

Costly is the campaign proving to many candidates.

Generally speaking the pictures of the candidates that have graced the columns of exchanges do not show handsome men, and many are homely enough to stop a clock.

Beade is always preaching about loving one another, but the little fellow loves himself better than his neighbors.

Minnesota is able to take care of itself financially or any other way. No state in the Union is gaining wealth so rapidly.

The state board of pardons is to be asked to grant a full pardon to the Younger brothers. Give it to them and get rid of them.

Everything on the Move.

New York Tribune: The railroads East and West and North and South are so busy that managers predict a shortage of cars in the near future, and they are looking ahead to such an extent that they have placed large orders with the manufacturers of rolling stock. The makers of locomotives, of everything on wheels which runs on rails, and the manufacturers of rails also will be doing as much as they possibly can do for many a month to come, with fair margins of profit for the entire production they can turn out. No one willing and able to put his hands to really productive tasks needs to remain idle under the Stars and Stripes in this era of prosperity.

"Economics" That Mean Losses.

Washington Star: The beef trust declares that the distributing company about to be organized will save hundreds of thousands of dollars annually by abolishing branch houses. If the public shared in the benefit of this arrangement it might be regarded with more favor. As it is, the beef trust's saving must be regarded as less important than the losses of the people who will be thrown out of business.

Reddy's Fake

By W. Calver Moore.

(Copyright, 1902, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

Reddy was not popular. A little wizened, sour-looking runt, who could not shoot and could not or else would not drink, had but a poor chance of being well received in a Western boom town. He had come over the trail from Laramie a few weeks before, "looking for a likely ranch," and that was about all that was known of his past history, but in those days a man seldom brought a reputation with him; he generally acquired it during his stay in any particular place. His fiery head and florid features and little brown eyes made him the butt of some not very friendly or gentle chaffing. He was sworn at, pushed around, almost walked over, but no one could draw him into a fight. These things were all against him. But Reddy had one redeeming feature, he was a gambler, and what pleased better, an unlucky one. When there was a tarantula fight Reddy was sure to bet on the wrong spider; if he sat down to a game of draw, some other player was sure to have a better hand, and Reddy suffered accordingly. He took it all coolly and made a good loser, but the boys did not like him, and so he was a marked man.

Another stranger had come to town; a big rough man, who was ready to drink, gamble or quarrel with any one, and who joined the others in annoying Reddy till it looked as if the little fellow would have shot him if he had dared.

It was pay-day and the cowboys were coming in from all the nearby ranches to buy whisky and gamble; that meant drunken revelry, shooting affrays, and last but not least—races, and the right material for a good race seemed to have come into their midst that morning's. Reddy's chief tormenter was the central figure of a group around a mare whose owner had just arrived riding on a mustang and carefully leading her with a lariat.

She was as sleek and nice a little beast as the boys had seen in years. Her owner had stepped into the store for a drink, leaving her tethered to a post. Reddy's tormenter was fondling her and she nosed around him and rubbed against him just as if they were old friends, but it was noticeable that she seemed to be less affectionately inclined toward her other admirers.

"Looks like she might know you," said a short, dark man who was known as Good Graham.

"Know me? Course she does," answered the big fellow, "why I saw this here little girl break the crowd last week over in Big Medicine."

"What?" shouted Good Graham, "Is this the animal you were telling us about yesterday? The one that beat Sharp's big gray for a cool hundred?"

"Yes, and done it neat, too. She's a beaut, boys." Here he lowered his voice so that only those nearest could hear him, "If he lets her run here, you know how to bet your dust."

"What's your expert opinion, Reddy?" asked one.

Reddy remained silent and continued to study the mare.

"What's the 'perfesser' got to say about her?" asked another.

"Not much," answered Reddy.

"Say, give me a tip, pard. Do you think she can run? This with mock solemnity from Good Graham.

"Run? That critter? Don't believe she can run worth a cuss."

"Glad you gave me the pointer. See anything around here that can beat her?" anything around here that can beat her?"

"Yes. I'll take that there hoss of Jones and beat her down to No. 40 and back. If you can find a jockey for the critter."

"Can you talk to that?"

The big stranger who had been extolling the virtues of the mare, seemed to lose control of himself with excitement. He pulled a roll of money out of his pocket and shook it in Reddy's face while he shouted:

"What do you think about it now, hey? Can you talk to that?" tapping Reddy squarely on the nose with his money. Reddy appeared to hesitate.

"Give you two to one on the mare," shouted the big fellow. "Now, what do you think about her?"

"Guess I'll take a hundred of that," said Reddy, coolly producing a roll of bills that made the other's look small by contrast. The betting was rapid and reckless as soon as it was seen that Reddy had thrown caution to the winds and was going to give them a chance to win all his money. The big man made only the one bet, but there was plenty of money ready to put up the same way.

The storekeeper was asked to hold the stakes and he had a large amount of money when the bets had all been made. Reddy had staked several hundred dollars but he was getting the odds the owners were risking twice as much on the speed of the mare. The race was to be held just before sundown so as to allow time for the horses to be fed and watered and put into as fresh condition as possible.

"I guess I'll cash in."

Good Graham had backed the mare heavily and on account of his light weight had been chosen to ride her. He picked out the lightest saddle he could find among the crowd, took off his heavy boots and even put his belt and revolvers in the hands of the storekeeper. He had confidence in his ability to win, but he had too much money risked to take unnecessary chances, knowing well that every pound counts for something in a race.

As 5 o'clock approached the saloon was deserted and the cowboys collected in a group around the two horses clamoring for the race to begin. Good Graham smiled confidently as he swung himself lightly into the saddle and asked if "Reddy was ready." During the laughter which followed this sally of wit, Reddy fumbled nervously at the saddle girth, tightened his own belt, pulled his hat down over his ears, and finally crawled into the saddle as if each foot weighed a ton; he looked like a very unlikely jockey. The horses were walked up to the line, a big six-shooter barked—they were off.

The mare seemed to be living up to the reputation the big stranger had given her. The regular rise and fall of her rider was evidence of a clean, long stride, the kind that wins—sometimes Reddy and the mustang thundered beside her until a sudden glimpse of scenery showed that the mare was leading by at least a length. At the turning point this lead had been increased and a shout of satisfaction rent the air. Reddy's money would furnish the boys with a good time that night for sure!

But something seemed to be wrong; the mare was getting "choppy;" her long stride had given place to a nervous gait which showed painful effort. It was the mustang that was taking things coolly now, and, yes, actually leading. A shout of warning to Good Graham, he rained blows with the squirt on his mount. She put forth her remaining strength in a desperate spurt which gave her the lead for an instant, but Reddy and the mustang shot ahead again and the outcome of the race was no longer a matter of uncertainty.

Reddy dashed over the line a winner by 50 yards, reined up with a jerk and bounded to the ground. He had ridden well, a creditable thing among such men; he had won a great deal of money. He would have been treated like a hero, but all eyes were turned from the victor to the vanquished. The mare had stumbled, throwing her rider and falling on him, and in a cloud of dust Good Graham and his mount could be seen struggling and kicking with equal desperation and frenzy.

The storekeeper, who knew better than to leave his whisky unguarded, and so had remained standing in the doorway while the race was being run, turned to get some of the liquor for Graham, when he was suddenly confronted by Reddy, who said in a quiet but determined tone:

"I guess I'll cash in."

"Will you take it now or wait till—"

The rest of the question was cut off sharply at the sight of a big revolver which was drawn from some portion of Reddy's clothing.

"Better listen to the man with the gun; accidents with firearms are mighty frequent," said the big stranger stepping into view. This reinforcement of his enemy from so unexpected a quarter decided the thoroughly frightened storekeeper, who pulled the money from a box and laid it on the end of a barrel.

• • • • • • • • •

The moon was just rising over the tree tops and sending her pale rays through the dusk when three tired mustangs were brought to a halt by their respective riders near a clump of trees on the prairie.

One of them was a big rough-looking man who towered above a little fellow with red hair and face and brown eyes. The third bore a striking resemblance to a certain owner of a certain mare which was led into a certain boom town in Idaho that morning, and was last seen trying to extricate herself from a tangle of loose saddle and fallen rider. The little red-headed one was fingering a bunch of stuff which almost matched the young leaves in color, but seemed to possess some strong attraction for three men, who did not look like botanical students.

"What's the haul, Reddy?"

"About eleven hundred."

"Well, it wasn't a bad day's work, but it was a durn shame to leave Lizzie behind, worth her weight in gold, she was."

"Yes, you could depend on her wind giving out if she run hard about a mile; had to push that mustang for all that was in him though; she was feeling pretty good and came near spoiling the fun. Lucky she took a fall and gave us time to slide; wouldn't want to be around when they find out her trick.

THE UNCROWNED KING.

The free-born citizen gets up when dew
Is on the grass,
And sees himself reflected in a trust-made looking glass.
A trust controls the soap he finds at length upon the stand,
And through the favor of some trust he takes his comb in hand.

His shoes, suspenders, shirt and socks,
the buttons on his coat,
His handkerchief, his necktie and the collar round his throat
All came from factories that trusts permit to operate,
A trust allows him to have coal to pile upon the grate.

By yielding to the sugar trust he makes his coffee sweet,
By bowing to the beef trust he may have a steak to eat;
The cracker trust, the flour trust, the coffee trust likewise,
Takes tribute from the man who dwells
where Freedom's banner flies.

He rises from the table which a trust
leaves in his care,
And on the trust-made hall-tree finds a trust-made hat to wear.
Now see the free-born citizen upon the trust-owned car,
By paying tribute he may ride to where his duties are.

He sits before a trust-made desk—a trust has said he may—
And being free and equal he toils for the trust all day;
At night a trust provides his light and when his prayers are said
The uncrowned king devoutly kneels beside a trust-made bed.

Thus all his trust's bound up in trusts that treat him as they please,
He lives through favor of the trusts, to them he bends his knees;
Ah, let us trust that when he dies and leaves this world of care,
Some trust will waft him to the skies and give him glory there.

Another Embargo Necessary.

Der kaiser—he has put the ban
On many things American;
On hats and shoes,
And glass and glues,
On ale and beer
Concocted here.
Der kaiser—he will never stand
For such things in the Fatherland.

Der kaiser—he has turned his frown
On Boston beans, so sweet and brown,
On jars of jam,
And tripe and ham,
And livers meats,
And pickled beets;
And honey that has known no bee
May not be shipped to Germany.

Der kaiser—he is mad today
Because his boy's in love, they say;
'Tis said the boy
Was filled with joy
And strongly wooed
And long pursued
And vowed he'd choose no brighter fate
Than forming an United State.

Der kaiser—he will now decree
Another law for Germany.
He'll claim our girls
Cause sudden swirls
And shaking knees,
And heart disease;
And so he'll clamp the royal ban
On every maid American.

LIFE'S JOURNEY

Is Burdensome to Many In Duluth.

Life's journey is a heavy burden
With a constantly aching back,
With urinary disorders, diabetes,
With any kidney ill
Doan's Kidney Pills relieves and cures.

Here is Duluth proof that it is so:

Mr. Henry D. Hibke, of 508 Third street west, employed by the Stone-Ordean-Wells company, says: "I had heavy aching pains in the small of my back, making it difficult for me to stoop or lift anything. I could not rest comfortably at night, and in the morning rose tired and unrested. The kidney secretions were highly colored, distressing and irregular, depositing a dark sediment. I was also troubled with attacks of headache. I attributed the trouble to the jarring of the wagon and to exposure. I was feeling very bad when I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, procured them at W. A. Abbett's drug store and commenced using them. They helped me from the start, and since finishing the treatment I have not had the slightest trace of my old trouble."

A New Baby.

A New Baby! What magic, what mystery, what charm these words have for us. Yet, how infinitely more they mean to the mother. A new life; short, to be sure, but full of possibilities. Some one must be patient, hopeful, watchful, proud and never discouraged. That "some one" is the mother. She has heard her baby's first cry, and whether it be her first or tenth, the feeling is the same. Her feeble arms are out-stretched; those arms that will never desert it as long as the mother shall live. And that hand which supports the head of the new-born babe, the mother's hand, supports the civilization of the world.

Is it any wonder, we ask you, mothers' that with all these responsibilities resting upon your all too weak shoulders, we urge upon you the necessity of selecting the babe's medicine with utmost care; the necessity of protecting your babe from worthless, unknown and narcotic drugs as you would protect it from the fire?

IMPORTING MUCH IRON

Poor Working of American Furnaces Makes This Necessary.

About One Hundred Thousand Tons Will Be Needed.

Canadian Foundry Iron a Factor In Central West.

Cleveland, Sept. 11.—The Iron Trade Review, discussing market conditions in its current issue, says: The prospect of a considerable importation of foreign Bessemer iron, alluded to some weeks ago, is now practically a fact. The poor working of furnaces, due to the scant coke supply, has resulted in a shortage of steel-making pig iron, which must be made up by importations in the next four or five months, the amount required being estimated at 100,000 tons. Bessemer from English west coast can be laid down in Pittsburg at $21.50 as against $22.50 to $22.75 now paid for small lots of domestic iron. Inquiries now out for English Bessemer amount to about 50,000 tons. Canadian foundry iron is now a factor in the Central West, deliveries this year being made at $22.75 to $23 for No. 2, while a high silicon Canadian iron has sold at $22.25 for next year. Scotch irons are coming into central territory and are likely to be a factor for some months, as a number of foundrymen have reached the point at which foreign iron is their only salvation from a shutdown. The continuance of the anthracite strike and the short coke supply, which latter furnaces are now accepting as a condition likely to run on for some months, will increase rather than diminish the use of foreign irons. The Southern furnaces, from the present outlook, will not be able to take on the business that will be offered for the first half of next year, and their books will probably be opened in October for deliveries in the second half of 1903. In the past week the announcement that the strike in the New river, Kanawha and Pocahontas fields gave proise of improvement in the coke supply for Southern Ohio furnaces. In the Mahoning and Shenango valleys the situation is somewhat improved, but the relief is likely to be followed by another interval of scarcity.

TAX THEM HEAVILY.

Senator Morgan's Remedy For the Trust Evils.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Gen. John T. Morgan, United States senator from Alabama, has written a letter, in which he emphatically declares that a law to tax trusts is within the power of congress and will suppress the evil. In his letter Gen. Morgan says:

"I think it is admitted on all sides that the power of congress to levy taxes extends to every description of property that is not exempted by the character of its ownership. If it belongs to a state or to the federal government, or is an instrumentality of such government, it is exempt from taxation, but all kinds of property not so exempted are subject to taxation by act of congress.

"The manufacture and sale of oleomargarine has been suppressed by the act of congress, and that tax law has been sustained by the supreme court. If the corporations can be controlled by law, so that such combinations will be severely checked, if not prohibited, the public evil will disappear. Therefore, the remedy by taxation will be effectual for the protection of the people, if it is limited to corporations.

"The plan I would suggest, in addition to the Sherman law, is a graduated tax on all business corporations, with an exemption, in whole or in part, as to such as can establish to the satisfaction of the government that they are not engaged in any agreements or combinations that are intended to control the prices or the cost of transportation of commodities that are of the description that enter into domestic or foreign commerce."

Why Thomas Josephs' Wife Wants a Divorce.

Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 11.—Does a man's going thirty months without a bath and wearing a shirt three weeks without a change entitle a wife to a divorce? This is what Judge Wakefield of the district court has been called on to decide in hte suit of Lillian E. Josephs vs. Thomas M. Josephs, a wealthy farmer of this county.

The charges were made by Mrs. Josephs. She declared her husband was a Populist, and swore at her because she was a Republican. He read continually to her from Populist papers and when she corrected some of his many mispronounced words he flew into a rage. She wants $3192 alimony.

STEEL TRUST PLANS.

Two $10,000,000 Factories to Be Built Soon.

New York, Sept. 11.—It is reported on the authority of a director of the United States Steel corporation that the company has plans on hand that will mean a big increase in the earnings, and that they are only prevented from developing them by the litigation by which they are involved. The plans include the erection of a $10,000,000 tube plant at McKeesport, Pa., and a $9,000,000 tube plant at Lorain, Ohio.

"When the plans we now have in mind are completed," said the director, "the cost of the finished material will be greatly lessened. The demand for foundry iron is now greater than ever before, and more ore was shipped last week from the great lakes than ever in the history of the country."

The Little God Wins Out In Another Instance.

Two Young People Married Under Romantic Circumstances.

Necessary Separation Delays the Honeymoon For Two Months.

'Tis an oft-repeated story that love will find a way.

It was through love that Peter Horavitz, of Ely, and Miss Jessie Skinner, of Saginaw, Mich., found their way te the court house yesterday afternoon, hurried to the cathedral and were married by Bishop McGolrick, while their friends at the St. Louis hotel grew impatient as train time approached and they were not on hand.

Within thirty minutes after the wedding, the bride was on board a train with her mother bound for Saginaw, while the groom with his people returned to Two Harbors today. It was an interesting little romance, the wooing of Miss Skinner by Horavitz, and when friends read of this they will tender their congratulations and the couple will be happy.

Miss Skinner, with her mother, has been spending a couple of months in Two Harbors visiting Mrs. Skinner's son, Harry, a conductor on the Duluth & Iron Range railway. The groom was employed as a fireman at the city pumphouse at Two Harbors. The young people grew quite fond of each other. This friendship soon ripened into love and yesterday it was decided that they should be married before Miss Skinner returned home. Mr. Horavitz, Mrs. Skinner, Miss Jessie and a couple of others came in the party to Duluth.

In the afternoon the young people communicated with friends they had here to appear at once as something of much importance was about to take place.

Miss Irene Wilson, of Superior, came over and Edward Jones, of this city, was on hand to act as best man for the groom when the time came. The young people first went to the court house and then hurried away to the cathedral, where Bishop McGolrick made them man and wife.

They returned to the hotel just in time and the bride with her mother took the 4 o'clock train for Saginaw. No mention was made of the marriage. The bride was to break the news on the cars, while the first announcement the groom's friends will have is when they read this story.

Horavitz will go back to his boilers in Two Harbors for a couple of months longer and then will start for Saginaw to begin his honeymoon, which, of necessity, had to be postponed.

WAS MONEY USED?

Charges of Corruption In Paving Contracts.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 11.—Charges of gross corruption in connection with the recent award of the contracts for asphalt paving in this city are being made. These are indiscriminate and have not simmered down to anything specific. The Barber Asphalt company, after a long campaign and a fierce fight with the brick companies, secured contracts for 52,000 yards of paving. The asphalt company has been sparing no effort to achieve this result, as Des Moines is recognized as the center of the brick industry in the state and the brick men were determined to prevent asphalt getting a foothold if possible. The asphalt supporters and agents say they have won a most important strategic victory, and that they will now be enabled to increase their business in the state rapidly. Stories are afloat of the use of large sums of money in the fight by both the brick companies and the Barber people.

RIVAL ROADS TOLD.

Indictments In the Railroad Rebate Case.

Washington, Sept. 11.—It is noted here in connection with the indictments recently returned by the federal grand jury in Minneapolis against certain railway officials for violation of the rebate section of the interstate commerce law that this is the first time in the history of that law when high railway officials ave been indicted. Many years ago C. P. Huntington was indicted for issuing somebody a pass but that was a very small matter compared with the importance of the present issue and forms no real precedent. This is also the first time that high railroad officials have combined to secure tne indictment of other officials.

It is said at the interstate commerce commission office here that the Minneapolis indictments were made possible by information given by the officers of roads outside of the Wisconsin Central agreement.

Much interest is taken in the East in these cases and when they come to trial the entire railroad world will look on expectantly.

IN DIRE STRAITS.

Aged Couple Starving In a Canvas House.

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, an aged couple, have been found lying in a tent on the West Side, without food and without bed covering of any kind. Mr. Bell is the street laborer who was injured by a street car a short time ago. At that time he sustained severe injuries to his side and had his feet crushed so that he has been unable to work since.

Both he and his wife are over 70 years old, but until he was injured the old man had been in the habit of doing any kind of work he could find.

A son of the old couple, who has been employed on the Omaha road, also had his feet crushed while at work, and is unable to work.

M. L. Hutchins, of the Relief society, found the three living in a tent and preparing to move into an old broken down boat on the shore of the river. He sent groceries out to them, and is now trying to procure fr them a stove and bedding.

"How the poor old people are going to live this winter is a question," said Mr. Hutchins. "They cannot live in the old, broken-down boat, which is so old that one can see through its sides. We are going to try to get them to the almshouse until the son is sufficiently recovered to take care of them."

ARBITRATION.

Legislative Committee to Present Drafts of Bills to Mitchell.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 11.—A committee from the state legislative board of railroad employes of Pennsylvania will go to Wilkesbarre to meet President Mitchell and the district presidents of the United Mine Workers, for the purpose of discussing certain arbitration legislation to be considered by the general assembly if Governor Stone should call an extra session.

The committee has drafted three bills to be submitted to the mine leaders, and if they are approved by them they will be presented to the governor with a request that he call an extra session for their consideration. The committee in charge of the proposed legislation has been assured by the executive that if he can be satisfied that the legislature would enact legislation that would settle the coal strike and prevent other strikes he will not hesitate to call the legislature together. The bills which have been prepared by the committee provide for compulsory arbitration in labor disputes, which shall be submitted to boards and commissions to be appointed by the courts and by the governor and whose decision shall be final. The bills are not yet completed, but drafts have been submitted to several prominent attorneys who have advised those in charge of the proposed legislation that the measures are not in conflict with the constitution.

MINNESOTA

Won the Artillery Contest From the Wisconsin Marksmen.

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—Minnesota won the artillery contest with the team from the Wisconsin militia by a total score of 137 points to 97. The highest scores made on any day of the shoot was made in the competition at Camp Douglass, Wis., yesterday, Minnesota scoring 69 and their opponents 39. Corporal Blaisdell, for Minnesota, scored 30, and Capt. Ludington, for Wisconsin, scored 21. The Minnesotans had remarkable success in scoring hits, their score being the best ever made in this vicinity. Both teams showed great improvement over their work of last year. Last year's contest went to the Wisconsin gunners by a score of 61 to 20. Since then the Minnesota team has had constant practice, and their record yesterday of twenty hits out of a total of thirty shots shows that they have profited by their experience.

The third and final competition between the teams will be held at Lake City, Minn., next year.

The total score of the three days is as follows:

MARCUS L. FAY,

Candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Congress.

Vote For Him on September 16.

Marcus L. Fay is vice president of the Pearce Mining company, and president of the Fay Exploration company, and is managing and operating the Laura and Winford mines at Hibbing. He supplies the West Duluth blast furnace with ore. Capt. Fay stands high with the laboring men for the reason that all of the several hundred men employed by him pronounce him fair and liberal.

His success in life has been marked and his hustling ability, affability and liberality are the causes of this success. He is widely liked and universally believed in as a sincere, upright man, and has as much influence as any single person in this county. He has always been a Democrat and has worked hard for his party in each succeeding campaign. Mr. Fay was a staunch supporter and valued counsellor of Former Senator Charles A. Towne, and during the memorable Towne campaigns championed his cause with fervor and unfailing zeal. Mr. Fay has always been of a studious turn of mind as his lofty forehead would indicate, he is well read and well versed in political economy and is a fluent and forceful speaker.

STRONG MARKET

Wheat Started Out Higher and Made Further Advance.

Bullish Crop Report and Heavy Frosts the Influences.

Flax Trading Was Active and the Market Strong.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 11.—The wheat market was stronger and higher this morning, starting out with better prices and making a further advance. The government crop report was regarded as bullish, as it indicated a yield of 583,558,000 bus, against the estimate of 635,000,000 a month ago and the officially declared crop last year of 748,000,000 bus. There were also heavy frosts in the extreme Northwest last night, and frosts farther south were predicted for tonight. On the other hand the Northwest receipts were larger and proved a bearish factor. There was a good foreign demand and about twenty loads were worked for export. Some c. i. f. business was also done, but the amount was not very large. The Liverpool market was stronger on wet weather in England and closed 5/@5/2d higher. Paris was 10@10c higher and Berlin 3/4c higher.

Primary receipts of wheat were 1,065,000 bus, last year 1,195,000 bus. Shipments 530,000 bus, last year 783,000 bus. Clearances of wheat and flour aggregated 970,000 bus.

December corn in the Chicago market was stronger, closing with an advance of 3/4c. December oats continued without change. Primary receipts of corn were 353,000 bus, last year 385,000 bus. Shipments 31,000 bus, last year 246,000 bus. Clearances were 1500 bus.

Receipts of wheat at Duluth and Minneapolis 647 cars, and at Chicago 138, a total of 850 cars, against 511 last week and 994 last year.

Trading in wheat on the Duluth board was active and the price strong. December opened 1/4c up, at 65 3/4c, sold up to 66c, at 9:50, reacted to 65 3/4c at 10:15, and then advanced to 66 3/8c at 10:40 and held very steady, finally selling at 66 1/4c at noon. It fell back to 65 3/4c and closed there. This was an advance of 3/4c. September was considerably stronger, selling 1 1/2c up and closing 1c up. December wheat in Minneapolis closed 5/8@3/4c higher and in Chicago 1@1 1/4c higher.

Receipts of wheat were considerably larger today and offerings were liberal, sales aggregating 250,000 bus. No. 1 northern in store and to arrive by Sept. 15 brought 1c over September and straight to arrive September price, while No. 2 brought 2c under No. 1, and No. 3 sold at 4c under No. 1.

The flax market was very broad, the liveliest seen this fall. Transactions aggregated about 400,000 bus, and prices were very strong. October sold up 12c to $1.32 and then fell off to $1.30, but again turned stronger and advanced to $1.32 1/4 and closed at $1.32. September advanced 2 1/4c and closed at its top price, $1.26. November made an advance of 3c. Cash seed and seed on track continued unchanged, but seed to arrive made an advance of 2 1/2c.

Oats on track declined 1c and rye was up 5c.

Following are the closing prices:

Wheat—Cash—No. 1 hard, 71 5/8c; No. 1 northern, 70 1/4c; No. 2 northern, 68 1/4c; No. 3 spring, 66 1/4c. To arrive—No. 1 hard, 69 3/4c; No. 1 northern, 69 3/4c; September, 65 1/4c; December, 66 1/4c. Macaroni—No. 1, 65 1/4c; No. 2, 63 1/4c. Oats—To arrive, 31c; on track, 31c; September, 31c; December, 30c. Rye—September, 42c; to arrive, 40 1/2c; on track, 40 1/2c. Barley, 42@60c. Flax—Cash, $1.28; to arrive, $1.30 1/2; on track, $1.28; September, $1.26; October, $1.32; November, $1.31.

Cars inspected—Wheat, 412; last year 389; oats, 17; rye, 16; barley, 6; flax, 74.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

All Grains Displayed Strength at the Opening.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—A bullishly construed government crop report and heavy frosts in the extreme Northwest imparted strength to all grains at the opening today. The Washington report for September made the condition for winter and spring wheat at harvest time 89. This suggests, on the basis of 16.5 bushels as par, about 583,558,000 bus. The August report indicated a yield of 635,000,000 bus and last year's crop as officially declared amounted to 748,000,000 bus. Naturally there was an inclination to cover, especially when it was reported that a high barometer in the Northwest would in all probability bring frosts farther south tonight. Foreign markets were not timorous over the crop report and many speculators thought that the spring wheat area beyond cold weather damage. There was a brisk early demand, however, especially for September. The advancing prices were tempting to long holders, and the short demand was satisfied to such an extent that some of the early grains were lost again. September wheat sold up to 7/8c up at 69 1/4@69c and held closely within these figures. An improvement in the weather in the Northwest retarded the bullish movement to a small degree. Local receipts were 18 cars, none of contract grade, Minneapolis and Duluth reported 642 cars, making a total for the three points of 830 cars, against 511 last week and 994 a year ago.

Wheat had a big rally after the small early liquidation. Those who sold early bought in their lines again on the general bullish situation and September wheat sold to 73 3/8c and December to 69 1/2c. The close was strong, September 1 5/8c up at 73 1/8c and December 1@1 1/8c higher at 69 3/8@69 5/8c.

Fears of frosts helped materially in the early upturn of corn. Light frosts were reported in the corn and more were predicted. No damage as yet appears. September options held only slightly firmer, December, however, had good support and after opening 1/4@3/8c to 3/8@1/2c up at 43 1/4@43 3/8c sold to 43 5/8c. Receipts were 139 cars, 31 of contract grade.

The visible supply statement tonight kept corn shorts in a worry. September made rapid strides and closed strong 1 3/8c up at 59 3/4c. December closed strong 3/4c up at 43 5/8@43 3/4c.

The oats crowd generally felt there would a big harvest, but of poor grade. This kept early prices only slightly firmer. December started unchanged to a shade up at 31 3/8@1/2c to 31 5/8c and sold at 31 5/8@3/4c. Receipts were 130 cars.

Hogs were higher in price today and as a result of this influence and the upturn in grains provisions made fair early advances. Trade early was not large, but some support came from influential quarters. January pork opened 7 1/2c higher at $14.35 and gained 5c more, January lard 5c up at $8.42 1/2 and sold at $8.45, and January ribs 2 1/2c higher at $7.35 and sold at $7.50.

Close: Wheat, September, 73 1/2c; December, 69 5/8@1/2c; May, 70 7/8c. Corn, September, 59 3/4@1/2c; October, 43 1/4c; December, 43 5/8@3/4c; May, 46 3/8c. September oats, 28 1/2c; new, 24 7/8c; December, 26 1/4c; new, 31 5/8c; May, 31 7/8c. Pork, September, $16.75; October, $16.90; January, $15.00@15.02 1/2. Lard, September, $10.90; October, $9.72 1/2; December, $8.80; January, $8.47 1/2; May, $8.05@8.07 1/2. Ribs, September, $10.50; October, $10.05; January, $7.92 1/2. Flax—Cash Northwestern, $1.38; Southwestern, $1.38; September, $1.35; October, $1.33. Rye, September, 49 1/4c; December, 49c. Barley, 49@56c. Timothy, $4.85. Clover, October, $8.85. Cash wheat, No. 2 red, 73 1/4c; No. 3 red, 67@70c; No. 2 hard winter, 70c; No. 3 hard winter, 69@67c; No. 1 northern spring, 75c; No. 2 northern spring, 72@73c; No. 3 spring, 70c. GRAIN GOSSIP.

Harris, Gates & Co., Chicago—Wheat: The government report on wheat must be a complete surprise to every one. All the experts have been calling the crop from 700,000,000 to 750,000,000 bus. Now the government apparently estimates the crop at less than 600,000,000 bus. If these figures are correct, wheat is cheap enough and ought to be bought by anyone who can be patient. The Northwestern movement continues surprisingly small. Some people will claim now that the government figures account in a measure for the smallness of receipts.

Corn: Government figures on corn don't vary much from what was expected. They are lower than last month and will probably be lower next month than this. We believe May and December corn are both worth the money they are selling for. It was cloudy all through the West last night and they escaped frost. Shorts continue to take wheat. September corn they can get without advancing the price too rapidly. Our receipts should be materially large within a few days.

Oats: The government makes condition fifteen points higher than last year and yield about 415,000,000 bus. The East has raised a better crop than the West. The report will generally be considered bearish. If any break results in the price of December or May we advise you to buy them.

C. E. Lewis, Minneapolis—This government report is very bullish on wheat and corn. It looks as though prices would gradually work higher.

• • •

Price Current—The corn crop is maintaining a fine average condition but a portion is still immature. The acreage of wheat seeding is belated. An unimportant change in acreage is indicated. The situation more favorable for threshing spring wheat.

• • •

Logan & Bryan, Chicago—A condition of 80 on wheat suggests a yield of 567,360,000 bus. A condition of 84.3 on corn suggests a yield of 2,319,000,000 bus. A condition of 87.2 on oats suggests a yield of 768,000,000 bus.

Logan & Bryan, Chicago: Wheat—This market was much more active and strong. The early incentive was the government crop report which was estimated to indicate a crop of 583,000,000 bus against the August estimates of 635,000,000 bus, and a crop last year of 748,000,000 bus. This quite bullish influence was helped by strong cables, based partly upon the government and partly on unfavorable reports of weather. Half of the crop is said to be unsecured. The market rather ran away from the cash demand, but the speculative feeling is on the whole quite strong. There was a disposition to follow this market, from outside markets which has been lacking heretofore. Bad weather may change the crowd at any time, speculative interest today was on a larger scale and has a more promising tone. Estimated cars, 255.

Corn—The market was fairly active and strong. Cold weather West and Northwest with indications of possible frost in Iowa and Nebraska were the controlling factors. The general character of current commercial advices remains unchanged. In the north half of this state practically the whole of Iowa and a part of Nebraska the corn is uneven and a large percentage is late. It needs warm dry weather and the present conditions are the other way. It looks as if only unfavorable conditions will prevent some disappointment in the outcome and a great deal of poor corn. For the present, therefore, we are inclined to think September and May corn should be bought. The short interest is large and the buying is on the whole better than the selling. The cash situation is every way slow. Estimated cars, 170.

Oats—While the movement is liberal, it is hardly upto expectations and the cash demand is fairly good. The interest in corn today has, however, rather detracted from the speculative interest in oats. Estimated cars, 205.

MARKET REPORT.

Received over private wire of B. E. Baker, grain and stock broker, 507 Board of Trade, Duluth, Minn.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—There was a large and active trade in wheat today and the market ruled firm on covering by shorts on the government report, which was issued last evening and generally considered bullish, also on higher cables from abroad. Liverpool reported their market as firm 3d to 5d higher than yesterday. Continental markets were also higher. Weather in England was reported unfavorable for harvesting. The government report as figured out by local statistcians estimates crop at 590,000,000 bus, but a year ago the condition was given as 82.8 and figured by the same statistcians at about 645,000,000, but at the end of the year the government told us that the crop raised was 748,000,000 but. Now the average condition given this year is 80.4 and by they will tell us at the end of the year that the crop is over 700,000,000 bus, which in our opinion would be nearer right than present figures indicate. The cash demand here was very dull, in fact, there was hardly any demand. Seaboard reported demand there very quiet. Weather in the Argentine continues favorable for the growing crop. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 255 cars.

The government report on corn showed a decline during the day of 3.4, which was about as generally expected, but there was free covering by shorts today on fear of frost tonight, and the market closed strong. Cables for the growing crop were firm. Liverpool closed 3/8d higher for the day. Country offerings were again light, while the cash demand continued good. Trade was fairly large all day, and there is a very bullish sentiment on December corn; the future course of the market will depend a great deal on the weather. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 170 cars.

Trade in oats was light today and the market ruled firm in sympathy with the strength in wheat and corn. Country offerings were light. Cash demand was fairly good. There was no special feature to the market. Estimated receipts for tomorrow 205 cars.

Provisions opened firm on slight improvement in hog market and smaller receipts. Trade today was fairly good. All the leaders were giving their specialties support openly, but the selling by brokers early of nearby options influenced some one selling under cover. Jonuary pork was freely bought by locals and outsiders, evidently on the tip that has been industriously circulated the past three days, while October pork was on tap all day from a dozen different sources. We see nothing to get enthusiastic over, and think far futures a scalping market for a while, and near futures a dangerous business. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 15,000 hogs.

DECLINE IN STOCKS

Prices Showed Generally Higher Level at the Opening.

Heavy Selling By the Bears Caused Market to Slump.

There Were Some Rallies But Closing Was Weak.

New York, Sept. 11.—Yesterday's late liquidation of stocks was not resumed this morning, prices on the contrary showing a generally higher level with the improvements running to over a point in Reading, Baltimore & Ohio, Missouri Pacific and Denver & Rio Grande. Amalgamated was a trifle easier and a few other less important stocks also made declines. Some very large blocks of the coalers and Pacifics were bought and business all around was well up to recent average.

Opening advances were not long maintained as the room traders realized freely all through the list. Declines from the best run to about a point in Reading, Missouri Pacific and Southern Pacific, while St. Paul sold as much under yesterday's close. A later upward movement in Louisville, Southern Railway and Illinois Central infused a better tone generally in the Southern and Southwestern groups, and a rally in the general list was assisted by a rise in Reading to 70 1/2. Chesapeake & Ohio, Jersey Central, Canada Southern, Colorado Fuel and Tennessee Coal were lifted from 1 to 2 points and the active list was on the upward grade at 11 o'clock.

St. Paul was sold freely on the rally and when it eventually broke 2 3/8 below yesterday's close the general list fell back sharply and in some cases well under last night. Rock Island, Great Northern preferred, Pacific Coast, Chicago Great Western preferred and Canton Oil declined a point or more and very little trace remained of the early advances in various stocks, the break in St. Paul was ascribed to the bearish feeling regarding the rumored dividend on the stock to be declared today. By noon St. Paul had workeu upwards on short covering of 190, but the recovery was unimportant. The bond market was irregular with large transactions in semi-speculative issues.

Dealings were contracted very much, traders preferring to curtail ventures pending the decision in the St. Paul dividend. That stock was firm around 180, but there were sharp depressions at other points, especially Baltimore & Ohio, and Western Union.

The general tone of the market became firmer when supporting orders appeared in Western Union, Baltimore & Ohio and St. Paul. These stocks rallied from 1 to 2 points above the lowest and there was a sharp upward movement in Reading and Louisville & Nashville, which was also stimulating to the general list. Consolidated Gas and Brooklyn Union Gas made advances of 2 and 3 points respectively and some of the usually obscure railroads were pushed up sharply. There was very little doing in the Steel corporation group and the market ruled at about the lowest of the day.

A bear raid on St. Paul dropped it to 180 3/4 again and there was heavy selling of other transcontinental stocks, all of which sold at the lowest of the day. With the exception of reading the entire list ruled lower yesterday's final figures. The announcement of the declaration of a 3 1/2 per cent semi-annual dividend and an extra dividend of 50 cents on St. Paul, thereby placing the stock on a 7 per cent basis, caused a jump in that stock from 189 1/4 to 191 1/2 on a few trades and the general market moved up slightly. Realizing in St. Paul then lowered it again to below 190 and the general market weakened. The closing was active and weak.

STOCK GOSSIP.

Logan & Bryan to Paine, Webber & Co.: We are told a bank here loaned $250,000 yesterday in Wall street at 7 per cent for 90 days. We commend the following message from the old conservative stock house of H. L. Lapsle & Co., as representing conditions on the street to careful conservation: "Would strongly urge warning your clients that we are skating here on thin ice and liable at any moment to have a parrot and monkey time, not as bad as May panic, but prolonged. Commission houses here all bringing strong pressure against buying. Conservative bankers think only relief is general liquidation in stock exchange."

New York to B. E. Baker: Tips to buy from millionaires have been good for many months. Don't let them bunco you into going long of anything just now. We are skating on thin ice and with a continuation of higher money rates we are liable to get a nasty break at any time. Many of the best houses in New York are requesting their Western clients not to send them any more buying orders than possible, except for investment, while they are anxious for all the selling orders they can get.

Ridgley to W. H. Laidley & Co.: "I really do not know what to say at present moment. Some reaction due; it is not liable to extend very far. there are few if any weak margined stocks to be wiped out. The surplus bank reserves are just about gone but as soon as gold imports are announced or the treasury increases its deposits in New York banks, stocks are likely to soar for a day or two at least. Buy some Southern Pacific, Atchisons, Baltimore & Ohio, Union Pacific and Brooklyn Rapid Transit on pronounced weakness any time today. I think coppers are on the up grade, subject to reaction of a point or two. The steels are about due to advance.

Waldorf to Edwards, Wood & Co.: The consensus of opinion in financial circles tonight is that the stock market had given another proof of its inherent strength by the firm front it displayed in the face of repeated serious illness of Russell Sage. Mr. Sage is largely interested in securities both as an investor and a lender of money, and on the news of his indisposition considerable selling pressure developed throughout the list particularly in the stocks of which he is a large owner, notably Missouri Pacific, and Manhattan. But except in the last named it resulted in little more than the reaction which bull houses had predicted. Mr. Sage's great age naturally leads to the discussion of effect on the market of his possible death. The gist of intelligent opinion tonight is that barring the temporary disarrangement of stocks, his taking off would not trouble the street any more than the death of Jay Gould medicine, etc.

that in these cases, the market was scarcely effected. Profit-taking sales have been large, an the short interest has been materially increased. Good houses, however, are disposed to advise the purchase of stocks on a scale, preferably Union Pacific, Atchison, Southern Pacific, N. & W. and the tractions. It is expected that the granger stocks will soon reflect the influence of the government crop report for September, which is regarded as a bull factor of immense importance. There is a growing feeling due to the views privately expressed by important Western railroad officials that the report considerably underestimates the yield of corn and that good non-government authorities have also made their figures too small, as they did on the crop of last year. In the soft coal stocks and Brooklyn Rapid Transit the big bull factor is increasing earnings and plans of insiders for consummation of important deals involved. Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, and the traction, Metropolitan Street Railway and Brooklyn Rapid Transit.

COPPER GOSSIP.

E. S. Hooley to Paine, Webber & Co.: I hear that something has happened that may cause a considerable advance in the price of copper metal. I see the best of buying in Amalgamater Copper.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, Sept. 11.—The cotton market opened easy with prices 5 to 7 points lower owing to selling by local longs and the bear element, this pressure resulting from weakness in Liverpool where prices were off 3-64 to 5-64 points as contrasted with an unexpected rise of 3-64 a point. Furthermore it was seen that generally fair weather prevailed in the belt with temperatures generally thus affording splendid picking conditions. The receipts at the ports and interior towns overtopped those of the same day a year ago, and the advices from the Southern spot markets were hardly as cheerful as anticipated by friends of the market. Nevertheless soon as the call commission houses became operative in the interest of the winter options and a all street appeared to be taking a hand on the bu.. side. Business was brisk all the forenoon with the speculative public operating extensively on the long side. Liverpool was a buyer here during the first hour though private cables stated that weather was emphatic there under the improved crop news from this side. The heavy receipts and large selling orders against hedges.

Cotton spot closed quiet: middling uplands, 8 7/8; middling gulf, 9 1/4; sales, 632 bales. Cotton futures closed steady: September, 8.40; October, 8.30; November, 8.21; December and January, 8.25; February and March, 8.11; April, 8.12; May, 8.14.

NEW YORK MONEY.

New York, Sept. 11.—Close: Money on call, strong, at 7@12 per cent; closing bid and asked, 8@9 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 5@5 1/2 per cent; sterling exchange, weak, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.83 for demand, and at $4.85.75@4.85.875 for sixty days; posted rates, $4.84@4.84 1/2 and $4.85 1/2@4.87; commercial bills $4.82.50@4.83; bar silver, 50 1/4c; Mexican dollars, 40 1/2c; government bonds, weak; state bonds, steady; railroad bonds, irregular.

TREASURY BALANCES.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption shows: Available cash balances, $213,623,665; gold, $126,255,108; silver, $18,981,499; U. S. notes, $5,130,071; treasury notes of 1890, $64,686; national bank notes, $16,665,142; total receipts this day, $2,101,055; total receipts this month, $18,896,686; total receipts this year, $116,808,190; total expenditures this day, $1,510,000; total expenditures this month, $16,210,000; total expenditures this year, $116,137,178; deposits in national banks, $126,646,752.

Mrs. Katherine Mueller Tears Things Loose Again.

Wants Her Attorney And Chief of Police Arrested.

M. W. Bates Forced to Call Police to Get Rid of Her.

Mrs. Katherine Mueller cut loose again today and told various persons connected and disconnected with the famous Mueller iron land litigation just what she thought of them.

She appeared at police headquarters early and insisted on having her attorney, R. R. Briggs, placed under arrest.

Chief Troyer said he could not arrest the attorney without some cause or a warrant.

Mrs. Mueller then demanded the arrest of Chief Troyer by a private citizen, and when he politely declined to lock the chief up, she announced that she would take damages against him in the sum of $5000."

She then drifted into sizzling German and became almost hysterical in her denunciation of the persons that she imagined were trying to beat her out of the mining property left by the late Johan Mueller, whom she claims was her husband, and which she says is worth $5,000,000.

She wound up her tirade with the remark: "I will go out and raise hell, yet, I will," and she did.

Going direct to the office of M. W. Bates in the American Exchange building, she sought to clean out every person in sight with what was left of the umbrella she broke over her attorney's head several weeks ago.

Mr. Bates telephoned to police headquarters, and Officer Smollett went into the building and quieted her. She seemed to like Mr. Smollett's appearance better than any man she has yet met in Duluth, and confided to him that she really did not mean to kill any person, but just wanted to scare those that had been unjust to her.

SENATORSHIP

Will Be Principal Issue In the Colorado Election.

Denver, Sept. 11.—The principal issue in the coming election in Colorado is the United States senatorship, and it is already apparent that the contest is distinctly between Henry M. Teller and Edward O. Wolcott. The Democratic and Populist members of the legislature are pledged by the state conventions of their parties to vote for the re-election of Senator Teller. There appears to be little or no opposition to Wolcott in the Republican party and should a Republican majority be elected to the legislature, the ex-senator can step into the shoes of his former collague. Th Republican state convention will meet in this city tomorrow for the purpose of nominating a full state ticket and congressman-at-large.

The sentiment among the delegates who have already arrived is strongly in favor of again giving the gubernatorial nomination to Frank C. Goudy, of Denver, who was the defeated candidate of the party in the last election. Mr. Goudy is not seeking the nomination, but his friends say that he will accept it and are claiming that he will be nominated by acclamation after a complimentary ballot has been given for the other aspirants. Franklin E. Brooks, of Colorado Springs, is the only candidate as yet mentioned for congressman-at-large.

IF CHURCH LOOT

Catholics Want Trophies on the Buford Returned.

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Catholic Truth society, it was unanimously resolved to send a dispatch to President Roosevelt regarding the ecclesiastical property and the objects of Catholic veneration discovered on the United States army transport Buford. The dispatch, which was signed by Philip O'Ryan, spiritual director of the society, requests "An immediate and thorough investigation as to the original ownership and nature of this property and the manner in which it came into the possession of the United States army officers. If investigation shows that it is church loot, we ask that it be immediately returned to the true owners and that the officers in whose possession it was found, be summarily dealt with according to army regulations."

AUTOBIOGRAPHY

Of Kruger Will Make About 100,000 Words.

New York, Sept. 11.—Former President Kruger's autobiography, soon to be published, will be a volume containing 100,000 words, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune. The book contains the story of Mr. Kruger's life from childhood to the negotiation of peace. The manuscript of the work received here brings the narrative down to the Jameson raid and the remainder will include the war with Mr. Kruger's departure from the Transvaal, and incidents of his life in Holland.

RECEPTION

By President to Neighbors at Oyster Bay.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 11.—Arrangements have about been completed for the reception which President Roosevelt will tender to the citizens of Nassau county on the 15th inst. Decorators are at work and before the day of the reception arrives many of the buildings here will be resplendent with bunting. Two presidential salutes will be fired by the Hicksville battery, one when the reception begins, and another at its close. It is probable that between 10,000 and 12,000 people will attend, and Sheriff Johnson of Nassau county will swear in 200 deputies, whose duty it will be to keep the crowd at Sagamore Hill moving during the hours of the reception. The president will receive his neighbors on the porch of his house. A number of committees have been appointed, of which Frank C. Travers will be chairman exofficio. He will have general supervision of all arrangements.

CAUSES A STIR.

Cashier of a Helena Company Arrested For Shortage.

Helena, Mont., Sept. 11.—John Andross, for several years cashier of the Helena Waterworks company, is under arrest charged with embezzling the funds of the company. The shortage is reported to amount to several thousand dollars.

Andross came here several years ago from Seattle to accept the position and has always borne a splendid reputation. News of his arrest has created a mild sensation, but this cannot be verified.

THE BOER GENERALS.

Amsterdam, Sept. 11.—The Boer generals, Botha, Dewet and Delarey, accompanied by Messrs. Wolmarans, Wessels and Reitz, arrived here today from The Hague and were given a hearty welcome. Replying to an address, Gen. Delarey said he and his colleagues did not come here in the character of political personages, but solely to obtain assistance for destitute Boer families.

MORGAN WILL NOT INTERFERE.

New York, Sept. 11.—Abram Hewitt, former mayor of New York, gave out a statement today in which he said he knew positively that J. P. Morgan would not interfere in the coal strike. Mr. Hewitt also said that the coal operators would not agree to arbitrate with John Mitchell, but that he believed they would consider grievances presented by their employes.

ROOME IS SUPERINTENDENT.

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—With the sanction of President E. H. Harriman, of the Southern Pacific company, eGneral Manager Julius Knuttschnitt has appointed A. F. Roome, of New Orleans, superintendent of all telegraph lines of the company. Mr. Roome will have his headquarters in San Francisco.

HE WANTS HIS CHILD

Lewis Owen Will Sue For His Son's Possession.

Was Entrusted to Woman Who Refuses to Return Him.

Will Go to Court to Get Back His Own.

Because the woman to whom he intrusted his two children, five years ago, refuses to give up his youngest son, who is not over 5 years of age, Lewis Owen, formerly of West Duluth, now residing in West Superior, is about to begin legal action to get possession of the boy. Mr. Owen is well known on both sides of the bay and is prominent in Odd Fellow circles.

The mother of the boys died about four years ago and the father gave them to Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, of West Duluth, to care for, their board being regularly paid by Mr. Owen. Recently the father made arrangements whereby the two children, the oldest being about 12 years of age, are to be placed in the Odd Fellow's Children's home, in the southern part of the state, for their education and future care.

Not long ago the Anderson family moved from West Duluth to a farm near Pine station, about fifteen miles from West Duluth. Yesterday, Mr. Owen, accompanied by a friend from West Superior, drove out to the Anderson domicile to get the boys. The older boy accompanied his father readily enough and Mr. Owen carried the youngest boy to the carriage. The little fellow was but partially clad and Mrs. Anderson, who walked out to the carriage, during the meantime, asked that she might take him a few minutes and dress him more warmly for his ride. The father turned the boy over to her, while he got the rig ready to return.

He claims that Mrs. Anderson made no move to put any more clothes on the boy, and that when he started to take his son she clasped the little fellow to her bosom and declared that she would not give him up. It is also claimed that Mr. Anderson seeing that his wife was determined to keep the boy, warned the father not to interfere with her.

Mr. Owens says he was disinclined to make any trouble, especially after he had settled in full for the boys' care, and he drove back to Duluth with the older boy. He says that he cannot account for the action of Mrs. Anderson in refusing to give the boy up, unless it was because she had formed such an attachment for the little fellow during the several years she had him that she could not bear to see him go, and was beside herself.

After reaching Duluth, Mr. Owen first started to get a warrant for the boy, being advised that all that was necessary was to get possession of him. After consultation with his friends, however, he decided to make another request for the boy, then, if he is refused, to begin legal action for his possession.

The friends of Mr. Owen claim that he has been paying regularly for the board of his two boys and that his determination to take them away to the children's home has been made after due deliberation, and on the advice of others in whom he has ample confidence.

UNIFORM LAW

In All States Concerning Taxes Is Desired.

New York, Sept. 11.—Following the adoption of resolutions by the taxation department of the National Civic Federation, favoring the principle of interstate comity as applicable to state and local taxation, which provides that the same property shall not be taxed at the same time in two states, and suggesting various other remedies for the existing systems, the executive committee of the department has decided upon preliminary steps with a view to bringing the matters before the state legislatures.

There will e forty-one legislatures in session this winter in the various states and territories, and it is expected that a bill will be submitted at all of them for a uniform law dealing with the subjects stated. In this work the federation will have the assistance of two committees, recently appointed at Saratoga, one by the American Bar association and the other at the meeting of the state board of commissioners of uniform laws.

THE MOON ON A TEAR

Lunar Halo Is Witnessed In the Heavens.

Of Much Interest For They But Rarely Occur.

Was Visible For Only a Short Space of Time.

Duluthians who happened to be gazing moonward last evening about 8 o'clock enjoyed the novelty of seeing a rainbow in the sky after dark.

At least they thought it was a rainbow, but as those things are not in the habit of appearing in the nighttime, it has been decided that the strange line of color was a lunar halo.

The streak extended from one horizon to the other almost north and south. There was scarcely a cloud in the sky. While the colors could be plainly seen they were not as distinct as in the case of a rainbow. Many people saw the halo and much comment was heard during the day on the subject. A man with his wife stopped two young ladies on one of the residence streets to show them the rainbow. The young folks grew scary and for a minute thought the world was coming to an end or some other dire disaster was about to fall upon the land.

The halo continued but a few minutes. The books that treat of halos and things state that they are caused by the reflection and refraction of light in the ice crystals. The ice crystals make up the cirus clouds of which there were some last evening.

While many people thought there were no clouds in the sky, the cirus clouds, thin and hazy and very high could be seen.

A few drops of rain fell just before the night rainbow appeared and some persons swore that the rain was coming from the clear sky. H. W. Richardson, the weather observer, said that he did not see the colored streak, but from the description put it down as a halo of a radius of forty-five degrees. They appear but rarely.

Some of the crews on lake boats reported this morning that it snowed on the lake last evening.

HOO HOOS.

Concatenated Order Elects Its Officers For Ensuing Year.

Milwaukee, Sept. 11.—The Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoos elected officers as follows: Snark of the universe, W. H. Norris, Houston, Texas; senior hoo-hoo, George W. Schwartz, St. Louis; junior hoo-hoo, Frank N. Snell, Milwaukee; bojum, James Wilson, Wapekoneta, Ohio; jabberwock, O. E. Yeager, Buffalo; custrat, Victor H. Beckman, Seattle; arcanoper, V. C. Davenport, Salida, Col.; gurdon, Harvey Avery, New Orleans.

The convention closes tonight with the embalming of the snark and installation of officers.

LAWS CORRECTED.

The Royer Bill Passes the Ohio Senate.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 11.—The senate this morning passed the Royer bill, introduced at the beginning of the special session, to correct the Royer act passed last winter at the regular session, the effect of which was to deprive the supreme court of jurisdiction over 95 per cent of the former business while it was the author's intention to widen the scope of its jurisdiction by removing the $200 property limitation. The bill passed in the senate today corrective of the law enacted last winter, does what the author intended it should do, viz: remove the property limitation.

FIRST FALL OF SNOW.

The Ground Is White In South Dakota.

Lead, S. D., Sept. 11.—The first snowstorm of the season set in early today. It is melting here as it falls. On Bald Mountain and other points north of here the ground is white.

ON THE BOURSE.

Berlin, Sept. 11.—On the bourse today business was quiet and prices were steady. Argentines were firmer on London advices. Spanish 4s and Turks were weaker owing to realizations.

HAS HEARD NOTHING.

London, Sept. 11.—The foreign office has heard nothing officially of the instructions sent to Paul Lesser, the Russian minister at Pekin, to the Russian commander in Manchuria, directing him to expel the British imperial customs employes who may be sent to Manchuria to resume charge of the postal service, on the ground that the presence of foreigners in Manchuria during the military occupation is objectionable. The officials of the foreign office are much interested, but they decline to discuss the possible action of Great Britain until more fully informed.

FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

Detroit, Sept. 11.—Nearly 100 delegates to the National Firemen's association convention were present at the first session in the Hotel Cadillac today. Fire chiefs from all parts of the country are among the delegates. One of the chief objects of this year's convention will be to devise means to separate politics from the management of the fire departments of cities.

FIRE AT EAU CLAIRE.

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—An Eau Claire, Wis., special to the Dispatch, says fire this morning on Seventh avenue, destroyed Mullen's barn and damaged two other barns. Loss about $500.

ALEXANDER CHEPHERD ILL.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Private telegrams received here today and late last night announce that Alexander R. Shepherd, who was vice president of the board of public works of the district of Columbia during the territorial government of the district in 1871 and who was two years later governor of the district, is very seriously ill with intenstinal troubles at his home at Batoplias, Mex. Mrs. Shepherd and Dr. and Mrs. Merchant, the latter a daughter of the former governor, left today for his bedside.

FIREMEN.

Chattanooga, Sept. 11.—The fourth day's session of the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, opened this morning with the introduction of a large number of resolutions with relation o the organization and principally intended for the strengthening of the constitution and bylaws. The resolutions were referred to a committee. Grand Secretary Arnold read a communication from Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, Ohio, extending an invitation to the brotherhood to hold its next biennial convention in that city. A telegram from the president of the Federation of Labor of New York, extended the congratulations of that body to the brotherhood.

The biennial report of Chairman Hawley of the grand board of trustees showed that the organization is in the best condition since its inception.

At this afternoon's session, Hon. L. S. Coffin, manager of the Railway Men's home of Highland Park, Ill., addressed the convention on the subject of the founding of a home for the indigent of every labor organization in the country.

TEXAS REPUBLICANS

Appoint Resolutions Committee and Indorse Roosevelt.

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 11.—The state Republican convention today appointed committees on resolutions, with C. W. Ogden, of San Antonio, chairman; endorsed President Roosevelt in strong terms for renomination in 1904, and listened to speeches.

The convention accepted the committee's report on permanent organization, making R. H. Greene, of Terrell, the permanent chairman and L. H. Simons, of Martin, secretary.

AN ALLIANCE

New York, Sept. 11.—Speeches at a luncheon given by Gen. Andre, at Toulouse, coupled with the presence of the French warships at the Bilbao fetes and with the attentions shown to the Spanish queen mother in Paris, are believed, says a Paris dispatch to the Times, by way of London, to be in the line of a Franco-Spanish demonstration.

The correspondent quotes the Madrid Correspondencie Militar, which declares that Spain is about to abandon her long standing policy of isolation, which policy cost her colonial empire. The Spanish Liberal party, says the Correspondencia Militar, will not leave office before concluding an alliance with Franec.

TOM JOHNSON'S REPLY.

Cleveland, Sept. 11.—Mayor Johnson replying to an inquiry from a Springfield, Ohio, newspaper asking if he was a candidate for governor or for president, wrote after in reply: "I am not a candidate for anything except for mayor next spring. It is my belief that my field of usefulness lies very close to the city of Cleveland. Yours truly,

TOM L. JOHNSON."

TEDDY, JR., GOES HOME.

ENGINEER IS KILLED

Hiram F. Fuller Buried Under an Ore Train.

Thirteen Cars Piled Up In Heap at Hibbing.

Hiram F. Fuller, a locomotive engineer, residing in West Superior, was killed in a horrible manner in a railroad accident near Hibbing this morning about 6 o'clock.

He was on the engine of a train of loaded ore cars, bound for the docks at Duluth. A loaded freight car had been switched out upon the main track from a siding, and it stood in the road of the coming ore train.

The ore train crashed into it at full speed, and the engine and tender left the track. Thirteen loaded ore cars piled up in a heap, burying the engineer, who had already been crushed to death beneath his engine. He was frightfully mangled and must have died almost instantly.

No other trainmen were injured.

Fuller lived in Superior, at 1212 Tower avenue. He was a single man, and he had a brother living at Warren, Pa. He was about 45 years of age and had been employed by the Great Northern about three years.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

A Dispatch From Commander Potter at Panama Says That Colombian Revolutionists Are Now Near the Railroad.

Washington, Sept. 12.—By noon today the navy department had been advised that the two warships ordered to the scene of trouble on the isthmus of Panama had sailed for their destinations. A telegram was received from Rear Admiral Casey, commanding the Pacific station, stating that the big battleship Wisconsin left Bremerton today, and after taking on coal at San Francisco will resume her long voyage down the Pacific coast. With the same promptness which characterized his prompt hurrying to the scene of the terrible disaster at Martinique, Commander T. C. McLean, with the Cincinnati, had started for Colon within a few hours after the receipt of the navy department's orders, and cabled Secretary Moody to that effect this morning. As a further indication that vigorous efforts of the navy department to relieve the situation on the isthmus are none too early, the following cablegram was received from Commander Potter of the Ranger, who with his small gunboat, the Ranger, has for the present the entire situation to look after:

"Panama (received) cipher message this morning (saying) revolutionists near railroad line. Situation serious. Transit across isthmus still open.

"POTTER."

In view of the reports that political significance attaches to this latest dispatch of naval force to the isthmus of Panama, a statement was gained today from a high and unquestionable official source to the effect that the protection of American interests and the enforcement of treaty guarantees are the only two considerations involved in the sending of additional warships to Panama and Colon.

Moreover, it is learned that the department has decided not to send the Panther, with the battalion of marines, to the isthmus unless Commander McLean, upon the arrival of the Cincinnati at Colon, informs the department that the men are needed. In the meantime the battalion will be equipped and provisioned and the ship held for an immediate departure for Colon.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE

St. John, N. B., Sept. 12.—Marriage and divorce regulations caused a lively discussion at the session of the general synod of the Anglican church, which is sitting at Montreal. Several delegates from this section proposed new legislation on the subject, but no decided changes were made. The synod, however, voted to prohibit a man from marrying his deceased wife's sister, or deceased wife's sister's daughter. This action will be binding upon all priests of the Anglican church in Canada in the solemnization of matrimony. The house of bishops declared in favor of prohibiting the remarriage of divorced persons. The bishops sent the following message to the house of deputies, asking that it be adopted:

"No clergyman within the jurisdiction of the church of England in Canada, shall solemnize a marriage between persons, either of whom shall have been divorced from one who is living at the time of such solemnization."

The clergy in the synod supported the bishops, 31 to 7, but the laymen declared against it, 15 to 9. To confirm the message an affirmative vote was necessary from both orders.

THE "BLACK CHRIST" A FAKE

San Francisco, Sept. 12.—Rev. J. C. McQuaid, pastor of the Church of the Holy Redeemer, in a lecture on the "Philippine Islands," delivered at St. Mary's Catholic cathedral, pronounced the so-called "Black Christ" brought to this country on the transport Buford, a fake pure and simple. "The real black Christ of the Philippines," he said, "is nothing more than a beautiful block of dark wood, fashioned by a sculptor to resemble the face of Christ. It is looked upon merely as such, and is not even specially venerated."

PRENTICE, WIS., IS SCORCHED

St. Paul, Sept. 12.—A special to the Dispatch from Prentice, Wis., says: Fire here early this morning burned out one whole block and part of another. The following buildings were consumed: Owen Bros. general store and dwelling house, the Columbia hotel, S. T. Nelson's shoe store, Oliver Valois' saloon, C. Myes' hotel, laundry, barber shop and millinery store, Emerson Bros.'s office and several barns and storehouses. The total loss is about $50,000, partly insured. The fire originated in the Columbia hotel, and was caused by a lamp tippling over.

AN UNEXPECTED CAPTURE

New York, Sept. 12.—Two arrests made in East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street by city detectives, resulted in the recovery, under peculiar circumstances of property valued at $6000 which is alleged to have been stolen from a house in West Twenty-third street a few hours earlier in the evening. William McNamee was the name given by the first prisoner. He was taken to the station for assaulting a restaurant employe. Upon being searched a large quantity of valuable jewelry was found. Shortly afterwards a man representing himself as Frank McNamee, brother to the prisoner, entered the station. Questions put by the police aroused suspicions and he, too, was searched. Jewelry of all sorts was found, together with $1250 in money. About the same time reports were received at police headquarters down town of the robbery in West Twenty-third street. The woman reporting the loss was at once taken to the station in One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, where the police stated, she identified the property mentioned.

COTTON PICKERS POISONED

Paris, Texas, Sept. 12.—A report has been received here of a wholesale poisoning which is said to have occurred in the forks of the Red river and the Kiamtia, Indian territory. A farmer recently applied Paris green to the cotton in his field where the worms were doing damage. There had been but little rain since the Paris green was applied. Three or four days ago seven cotton pickers, four men and three women, went to work in the patch where the poison had been applied. Late in the evening they became sick and during the night all of them are reported to have died. Their deaths were said to have been caused by inhailing the dust from the poison.

NO INDICATIONS OF SETTLEMENT

Miners Endorse Mitchell and Will Not Return to Work Until Ordered.

Indianapolis, Sept. 12.—In response to a message sent by the News, John Mitchell, president of the miners' organization, today replied as follows from Wilkesbarre:

"There is nothing to indicate an early settlement of the anthracite strike."

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 12.—A number of the local branches of the United Mine Workers in this district, at their regular weekly meetings, have adopted resolutions expressing their intention to remain on strike until ordered back to work by National President Mitchell, or by a convention of mine workers. Among those "locals" is that at Donaldson, near which place is the Good Spring colliery, which is operating with a large force of men and is shipping coal.

It is claimed by the mine officials that a number of union men who live in Ashland are employed at this colliery. This claim is denied by the men.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 12.—There was some trouble at the Prospect mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal company this morning. While a number of non-union men were on their way to work they were attacked by a mob and two of the men were knocked down and several shots were fired, but no one was injured. Sheriff Jacobs sent a number of officers to the scene and order was restored.

Tamaqua, Pa., Sept. 12.—Officials of the coal companies state that on Monday two more breakers in this section will be converted into washeries, one in the Panther Creek valley and another on the outskirts of this place. It is expected these two plants will ship over 100 tons a day. A force of deputies is being secured to guard the operations.

Nearly all the "locals" of the United Mine Workers in this vicinity have held meetings at which the strikers reaffirmed their allegiance to President Mitchell and pledged themselves to stay out until the coal companies grant concessions, no matter how long it may be. The men apparently have little hope that the meeting of Mitchell and Governor Stone in Harrisburg tomorrow will have much effect on the strike situation.

Murray, Ohio, Sept. 12.—One thousand miners are on strike at Jobs mines, in Athens county, over the question of the check-off system. The miners of both the old and new mines at Jobs went out. The companies have heretofore stood good for the check-off of miners who were behind in their store bills, but they refused to continue to do so longer and the miners went out. Jobs is the largest mine in Ohio.

ATHLETES

To Meet In Many Contests at Traverse Island.

New York, Sept. 12.—Athletic champions from Canada and the Eastern, Western and Southern states will meet in competition tomorrow at Traverse island, the country home of the New York Athletic club, in the games open to all registered athletes for the highest honors of the Amateur Athletic union of the United States.

The list includes the greatest number of out-of-town entries in the history of the union, and the majority are men who have held and hold records at their favorite games.

In the field events Flanagan, De Witt, Sheldon, Gray, Mitchell, Sheridan and others are entered, and the weight contest probably will be extremely keen.

CHICOYE WAS EXECUTED.

Port Au Prince, Hayti, Sept. 12.—Gen. Chicoye, of the Firminist forces, who was defeated at Petit Goave, Aug. 8, and set fire to that town before evacuating it, and who was subsequently arrested, near Jacmel, was executed at Jacmel, Wednesday, Sept. 10, after having been tried by a military tribunal.

MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 12.—The jury in the case of A. J. Belding, charged with killing three persons in this city two months ago, rendered a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.

STREET LINE TIED UP.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Sept. 12.—Every electric line, with one exception, was tied up today by a strike of motormen and conductors, out of sympathy with the linemen of the Ottumwa Traction Light company.

WILL SOON BE OUTLAWED

Indictments Against the Alleged St. Louis Boodlers Must All Be Made Inside of the Next Ten Days.

St. Louis, Sept. 12.—The grand jury met again today and resumed the investigation into the city lighting scandal. Eight subpoenas were issued yesterday afternoon for witnesses to appear before the grand jury today. Edgar Mepham, former delegate, who was wanted as a witness last spring, but who left the city was located at Memphis, Tenn., was the only prospective witness served with a subpoena last night. The inquiry today will continue into the house of delegates' connection with the lighting bill.

Because of the statute regulating bribery in Missouri, the lighting bill will be outlawed in ten days. Indictments must be framed within that time if they are to be effected.

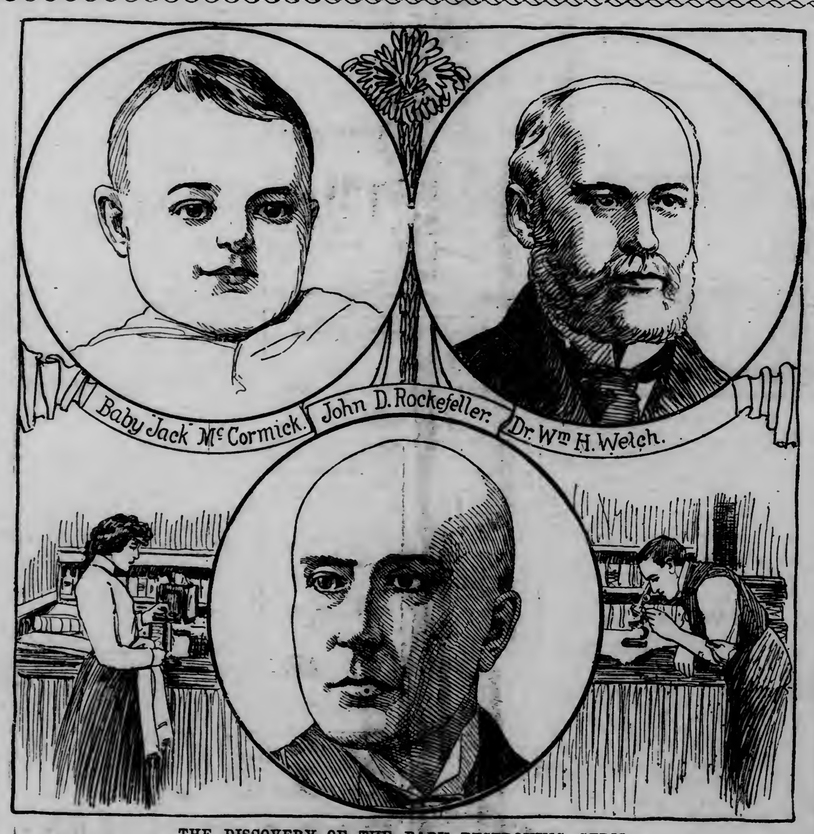

Circuit Attorney Folk may file information against them instead. The law gives him discretionary power, and there are several reasons why he might exercise it, so it is stated. Kelly, Hartman, Ecker, Sheridan and Lehmann indicted delegates, are still in hiding.

Sheriff Dickmann, who yesterday afternoon stated that he would have Delegate Charles F. Kelly under arrest within an hour, today announced that he would give $200 reward to any person furnishing information that would lead to Kelly's capture.

Delegate Kelly is the member of the combine who, according to the confession of J. K. Murrell, handled the $47,000 corruption fund.

WAS KILLED BY A BICYCLE

St. Paul, Sept. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—F. J. McCarron, a surveyor employed by the city engineer, was run down by a bicycle at Louis and Milton streets shortly after 6 o'clock last night and died soon afterwards from the injuries he received. H. T. Bartholomew was riding his wheel slowly down Milton street and in turning out of the way for a coal wagon, ran into Mr. McCarron, who was at work. He was knocked down and struck his head against the pavement. He was rendered unconscious and died at 1 o'clock. McCarron was 55 years old. Coroner A. W. Miller viewed the remains and decided that no inquest was necessary as death was purely accidental.

THE DISCOVERY OF THE BABY DESTROYING GERM.

To the grief of John D. Rockefeller over the death of his little grandson and to the researches which his wealth stimulated and made possible is due a medical discovery unequaled since Dr. Koch found the germ of tuberculosis. When little Jack McCormick died two years ago of an infantile disease which baffled the specialists, Mr. Rockefeller was told that the disease was quite common, that it carries off thousands of babies every year and that medical science not only knew no cure, but was ignorant of the very cause. Then the Standard Oil magnate drew a check for $200,000 and established, under the direction of Dr. William H. Welch of Baltimore, the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research at the Wilson Sanitarium For Children, Baltimore county, Md. Now it is announced that two students stationed there by Dr. Welch have discovered the fatal summer complaint germ. The students are Charles W. Duvall of Annapolis and Victor H. Bassett of Aledo, Ill. The next step is to find a toxin which will kill the germ, and then medical science will be equipped to save the lives of millions of babies

BIG FIRE IN OIL FIELDS

Disastrous Conflagration Among Texas Wells.

Danger to Main Field Reported as Passed.

Nederland, Texas, Sept. 12.—(Special to the Herald.)—One gusher and three tanks on Spindle Top are burning. The fire is fairly under control. It is reasonably certain that the Export Oil and Pipe Line Company's twelve wells are all safe.

J. C. MISHLER.

New Orleans, Sept. 12.—A special to the States from Beaumont, Texas, says: The fire in the oil fields is still raging. Higgins' 37,000-barrel tank is burning; Woods' gusher is shooting a column of flame fifty feet high; gas escaping from other wells is burning. The fire is confined to the Keith-Ward tract, on which all the tanks have been burned. The damage thus far is estimated to be $100,000.

Beaumont, Texas, Sept. 12.—The latest report on the oil fire was received from the agent at Gladys, the railroad station at the fields, early this morning and he telephoned that the fire seemed to have burned itself out to a great extent. At that time it was confined to one well in the Keith-Ward tract and the big Higgins tank No. 2. The oil from the latter ceased to flow and was then burning inside the tank, which will do damage only to the tank. The extent of the damage could not be told, the smoke completely obscuring a great portion of the burned district. A large number of derricks and several pumping plants have been destroyed, much oil has been burned and one gusher continues to shoot up a column of flame.

It appears that the field is no longer in danger, save that portion of it immediately south of the burning tank, as the tank might fall to pieces. But unless something of the kind happens there will hardly be another spread of the flames. The extinguishing of the burning well is still a problem, but not a hard one and if there be only one well burning, as it is believed, it can be put out in a short time after the workmen are enabled to get at it. At 2:50 a. m. communication with Gladys was completely cut off.

Beaumont, Texas, Sept. 12.—Fire started in the oil fields last night in some waste oil along the Texas & Sabine tracks and burned about sixty feet of trestle. This was put under control and it was believed that all danger had passed, but in the meanwhile the fire in some way had been communicated to the field and a number of huge settling tanks, containing thousands of barrels of petroleum, have already exploded and others are reported to be in the direct line of the fire, which has spread over a wide area already.

The ground is saturated with oil and the fire spread rapidly and it is believed that the whole field will be ignited.

A tlephone message from Gladys, which is the station at the oil field, says the whole of the Keith-Ward tract, embracing several acres and containing a large number of wells, has been burned over and it is believed that some of the wells have caught fire, though this is not as yet positively determined as no one can approach to ascertain.

At 1 o'clock the big tanks belonging to the Higgins company were burning. The runners have been sent out in every direction for the men who own or represent the companies.

The telephone service is entirely inadequate to care for the scores of calls and the streets are filled with people, thousands of whom are now on the way to the field in every sort of vehicle and on foot.

A statement issued yesterday showed that there are 410 producing wells in the field, some of which are buried under earth to safeguard against fire.

A FORTUNATE ESCAPE

Sidewalk In Anoka Crowded With Sightseers, Falls Seven Feet, But as Luck Would Have It No One Was Seriously Hurt.

Anoka, Minn., Sept. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The collapse of a sidewalk, on which a great mass of sightseers was packed, caused almost a panic just previous to the coronation of the carnival queen, Miss Kate Meyers. The walk was seven feet above the ground, over an area way, and nothing short of a miracle saved many from serious injury. Miss Goniyea, of Dayton, was the only person suffering injuries of any extent. She was bruised by the fall and fainted away.

Attendance at the Anoka street fair continues to increase, and the attractions excell those of past events of this nature here. Today the fire department run was a principal feature. Today a large number of people from Minneapolis and Princeton were in the city.

QUARREL OVER RECTOR

Bishop Declines to Remove Episcopal Minister at Fond du Lac and the Vestry Votes to Discontinue His Salary.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Sept. 2.—Bishop Grafton has decided that according to the laws of the Episcopal church, when a minister is called to the rectorship of a parish, and the call is without limitation as to time, the tenure is for life, unless terminated by mutual consent, or the pastoral relationship is dissolved, as provided for in the canons.

The decision was in the case of the Rev. Edward M. Frank, rector at Sheboygan. The vestry asked for his resignation, but he declined to tender it.

A paper, signed by sixty parishioners, complaining that Mr. Frank refused to resign, and setting forth that he had been neglectful of his parish duties, was then prepared and submitted to Bishop Grafton. Another paper, signed by 122 parishioners, asked to have Mr. Frank retained.

Bishop Granfton held that as they had shown nothing against Mr. Frank's moral character, or found fault with his doctrines, he could not be thus removed. The vestry then, by a vote of 5 to 4, decided to discontinue the rector's salary.

Mr. Frank still declares that he will remain, and Bishop Grafton holds that he can recover for services in a civil action, and cites cases where such has been done.

TAPEWORM CAUSED INSANITY

New York, Sept. 12.—After performing an autopsy on the body of Rudolph Haller, a laborer, a coroner's physician has decided that insanity, from which Haller suffered and died, was caused by a tapeworm sixty feet long. Haller's case puzzled the insanity experts at Bellevue. At times he would fall in what appeared to be an epileptic fit. At other times he would, apparently, be normal. The autopsy showed that the tapeworm had distended the organs and caused such pressure on the tendons and ligaments connected with the spinal column and spinal cord that the brain was affected.

ESCAPED PRISONER RETURNS

Butte, Mont., Sept. 12.—A special to the Miner from Deer Lodge says that "Tom" O'Brien, who escaped from the state penitentiary about three weeks ago, early this morning presented himself at the prison doors and surrendered. O'Brien's case is very unique. His object in escaping was that he might have the public on his side of the alleged crime, for which he was sent to the prison. Pursued by officers the fugitive furnished letter after letter to the Butte Miner, in which he set forth his case pleading for public sympathy. O'Brien is a graduated veterinary surgeon and was a trusty at the prison. Before he escaped he gave the prison hound opium and then mounted a well-known race horse belonging to the warden, on which he made a flying rush past the guards.

A JOLLY ROW.

Midnight Fracas Near the Court House---Quickly Quieted.

To the old saying that if you have troubles to tell seek out a policeman should be added that if you would hear troubles, see a person's neighbors.

And so it came to pass that on midnight of Monday, shortly after the clock in the high school tower had tolled the hour of 12, there was a great disturbance in the neighborhood of Seventh avenue east and Third street.

So loud was the racket that people in houses adjoining the scene of the fracas arose wearily from their beds and, walking to the window, peere dout into the stilly night to see nothing except, perhaps, a weary straggler wending his way up the avenue, or two cats singing a grand opera duet on a fence, about sixty feet away. And in many cases the people so rudely awakened would let the window down with a slam and hurry back to the feathers, where they fell again into the land of slumber.

But many times and oft the noise was begun, and finally, when the cries grew fiercer and more terrible, a woman, living a short distance away, hurried to the county jail and awakened Deputy Sheriff Fjelman, who was on duty there.

He hurriedly jumped into his clothes and, as he went, he slipped one gun into his hip pocket, while a pair of handcuffs dangled merrily from his side. With the woman as his guide he rushed to the house just in time to hear a woman's voice cry out: "Kill me, Jim, but spare him."

But that was the last. There was no killing, and apparently Jim escaped unharmed. It developed that the wife had been to the Lyceum with her husband's cousin. The play they saw was "The Tempest," but outside of the scenic effects, it was not to be compared to the tempest that had been stirred up in the husband. And then, after a few minutes, all was again quiet and still, the storm had passed away. The neighbor who gave the alarm returned home, while the deputy went back to his couch at the jail. The incident was closed.

ARE HOLDING LATH.

Manufacturers Holding on to Their Stocks.

It is said that lath shipments from the head of the lakes have fallen far below those of last season up to Sept. 1. This is accounted for by the fact that the local manufacturers are holding their stocks for better prices, and that a large stock has accumulated here during the summer sawing season.

An Eastern lumberman, who was in the city this week, commented on the size of the local lath stocks, and said that he could not understand why manufacturers all over the Northwest are holding on to their stocks, particularly with the good prices now prevailing. During the early spring and summer there was, he said, a great scarcity of lath and shingles, but the mills have been cutting large quantities of them this past summer, and while prices are quite high, there is no reason for scarcity for the trade. The better prices now received for lath and shingles are said to be in line with the general stiffening of the prices of lumber products.

TO USE GRAVEL.

Superior Will Repair Tower Avenue With It.

The Northern Pacific company has donated thirty cars of gravel to the city of West Superior to fix up its streets, and the gravel is now being hauled there, five cars arriving yesterday afternoon. The proposition to have Tower avenue paved this year did not go through, as was expected, and now the city authorities must find some way of keeping the street in a passable condition until repaving is begun. The plan adopted is to fill the holes in the pavement with gravel, as was done on Central avenue in West Duluth over a year ago.

If the Superior authorities have the same result with their methods that was experienced at West Duluth, Tower avenue will be in even worse condition by next spring. The old pavement on Central avenue is now completely covered with gravel, but the blocks are continually rotting underneath and the roadway is full of holes.

Crushed slate is also being tried on some of the West Superior streets.

PRODUCE MARKET

Prices Show Very Little Change During the Week.

Apple Raisers Are Sending Out Pessimistic Reports.

Michigan Peaches of Preserving Quality Are Plentiful.

Prices have remained about the same in the produce and commission market this week, so nothing terrifying has come to the housewives or those in charge of the commissary departments in the homes of Duluth.

However, there were some changes, though of little importance. The Jersey sweet potao fell off $1 a barrel during the week. Fifty cents was lopped on Monday, and there was a repetition of this yesterday. This puts the wholesale price of the potato at $5 a barrel.

Watermelons are again climbing upward, going from 18 and 20 to 25 cents, while Concord grapes are somewhat cheaper. Spring chickens are cheaper, selling for the same price as hens, 11 and 12 cents a pound alive, while the only change in the meat market is that of pork loins that have gone up to 14 cents.

While there are few changes, the commission men have considerable gossip that will be of interest to the consumers. Some of it deals with the apple crop. A bumper crop has been expected up to this time and it will no doubt come, but the quality of the apples is now questioned.

"You had better not figure on getting the winter apples so very cheap," said one of the Michigan street merchants this morning. As a matter of fact I don't look for any lower price than that of last year when the winter apples sold for $3.75 and $4 a barrel. True, there is a large crop, but there are other features to take into consideration. For instance from the South comes the report that bitter rock, a kind of germ, is prevalent in the apple districts this year. This germ is contagious and when it once gets into an orchard every tree is visited and almost every apple.

"It digs into the apple and while it does not spoil the taste it puts the fruit in such condition that it cannot be kept long in storage. The result will be that the apples must be moved quickly and, of course, will be cheap. The good, clean, solid fruit, the kind that can be kept for winter use will, therefore, be just as high as last year, if no higher.

"Then in New York the growers report that there is a little bug of some kind that lodges in the skin of the apples and that many districts have been affected. The insects give the apple a spotted appearance and while the taste is not hurt, the difficulty in keeping them also applies in this case. The appearance of the apple is also marred considerably."

Michigan peaches arrived in the market in large numbers during the present week. They are sold for $1.75 to $2.25 a bushel and those in baskets can be had for 25 cents. The peaches are splendid for preserving and the stock received during the week has been exceptionally good. The Albertas and the yellow free stones are considered the best for canning. The white free stone can be bought for less money, but cannot be compared with the yellow variety. The Michigan fruit is plentiful.

The commission men do not look for a big grape crop this year and claim that the price at which the Concords are now quoted, 22 cents, will not go much lower. In New York, Ohio and Michigan but 60 per cent of a crop has been grown. Storms have worked a havoc on the growing vines and that is given as the chief cause for the small crop.

The potato market while still remaining at 32 cents is growing firmer. One Michigan street merchant says that the tubers were sold as low as 28 cents a bushel a week ago and that 35 cents has been obtained in some cases during the last couple of days. He cannot account for the stiffening in the price, but says that it is general. Potatoes are generally quoted at 32 cents.

WM. H. STULTZ LEADS.

Making Strong Campaign For Superintendent of Schools.

William H. Stultz, an old resident of this city, is conducting a vigorous campaign for the Republican nomination for county superintendent of schools, and surface indications are that he is leading in the contest. His friends predict that he will be nominated by a handsome majority next Tuesday at the primary election.

Mr. Stultz is a well-known and honored citizen of Duluth, and this is one reason why his campaign is meeting with so much success. He was county superintendent for two terms, during which his record was unexcelled, and the affairs of the public schools of the county were managed in a most successful manner. His services as a soldier in the civil war, together with his well-known attainments as an educator, are strong factors in drawing support to him, and that support is so generous and hearty that the impression that he will win out is gaining ground daily.

Duluth Does Well.

A Washington dispatch says there was a net increase of 9 per cent in the receipts of the fifty largest postoffices in the country during the month of August. Duluth was not named among the fifty, but the figures from the local office show a net increase in the receipts of this office of 16 2-3 per cent over the receipts of August, 1901. The largest increase noted in the postoffice receipts of any city in the country in August was at Des Moines, where the increase was over 26 per cent. Five of the large cities showed decreases in their postoffice receipts.

TO LIMIT AMOUNT

Careless Handling of Explosives to Receive Attention.

Fifty Pounds Largest Amount Allowed In City.

Fire Commissioners Will Send Out a General Warning.

Careless handling of dangerous explosives in large quantities in the down-town business district has caused the board of fire commissioners to send out a general warning to all dealers, notifying them that all explosives in excess of fifty pounds must be stored away from thickly populated sections of the city.

It is claimed that if a fire should break out in some of the hardware stores, explosives stored in them would be sufficient to wreck an entire building and probably cause death to the firemen and others that might be in the vicinity.

The fire commissioners have determined to rid the business district of the menace to life and property, and an investigation of the amount of explosives stored contrary to the city ordinances is under way.

In this it is announced that there is no desire to antagonize the interests or interfere with the business of the merchants, but it is claimed that public necessity demands more rigid protection from explosives than has been enforced during the past.

Several years ago there was a slight agitation in this direction, but very little was accomplished. At that time there was a dangerous fire in the Chamber of Commerce building. It was discovered next day that the firemen had checked the flames within twenty feet of a little basket containing twenty-two sticks of dynamite.

It was claimed at the time that had the fire reached the explosives a terrible accident would have resulted, as fully twenty firemen were working in that vicinity trying to shut off the flames from the elevator shaft.

Should a fire break out in a building where large quantities of explosives are stored, the risk to the firemen and the adjoining property would be great.

AMUSEMENTS.

"SIS HOPKINS."

One of the brightest comedies of recent years, "Sis Hopkins," will come to the Lyceum Monday and Tuesday, and Miss Rose Melville will be seen again, for the fourth consecutive season, in the quaint character of "Sis Hopkins." Each season the play has been before the public has been a series of unbroken and ever increasing successes for the star, and J. R. Stirling, who has guided the production to fame, has this year given Miss Melville the best company and presentation she has ever had.

MUST GIVE UP ONE.

Dr. Benjamin, Editor-Preacher, In Hot Water.

Milwaukee, Sept. 12.—The preachers in the Fond du Lac conference of the Methodist Episcopal church object to having Presiding Elder A. J. Benjamin devote a portion of his time to editing and publishing a religious newspaper at Oshkosh, and for a long time they have been trying to force him to give up the paper or get out of the conference. It is said the subject was taken up last year and that the elder promised to quit his worldly work, and some months ago his name disappeared from the paper. However, it is alleged that he continued to write editorials, sign contracts for advertising and accept railroad mileage as editor or publisher.

Last January Dr. Benjamin was summoned before Bishop Joyce at Minneapolis, where, it is said, he again promised to withdraw absolutely from the newspaper business, but now the charge is made that he has not kept his word in every respect. For this reason Dr. Benjamin's annual report was not called for at the conference today, and his case was put into the hands of a committee.

It is said he was retained at the Ripon meeting last year as presiding elder of the Fond du Lac district with the explicit understanding that he would devote all his time to the church and its affairs. It is further said Bishop Goodsell is trying to patch up a peace, and that Benjamin will be reappointed only after definite knowledge has been received by the conference that he is no longer connected in any way with the Oshkosh paper.

TO INVADE PARIS.

American Dressmakers to Establish Headquarters.

New York, Sept. 12.—Dressmakers of the American Protective association will establish their first foreign headquarters in Paris. This was decided by the convention of the association now in session here. After a report from the president on its advantages and possibilities, the project was unanimously endorsed and the details turned over to a committee of three members. Paris was selected as the stronghold of the enemy, where the modistes of world-wide renown may be fought on their own ground and the grit of the American army of invasion proved before going further afield. The convention will close today.

HAS GATES GIVEN UP?

Rumor He Has Sold His Colorado Fuel.

Denver, Col., Sept. 12.—John W. Gates has transferred his entire interest in the Colorado Fuel and Iron company to persons who are supporting the Osgood interests. George J. Gould is the purchaser, or is represented as the purchaser of the Gates stock. From the guarded statements made by Mr. Gould concerning the Colorado Fuel and Iron and from the fact that since he visited the plant at Pueblo last Sunday he has kept the wires to New York hot, it is believed that he is the principal purchaser. It is said, that the Gates party will make formal announcement of the deal within forty-eight hours. President Kebler and other officers of the fuel company doubt the report.

CEASED WORK TO PRAY.

Girls Alarmed at Phenomenon Caused By Smoke.

Astoria, Ore., Sept. 12.—Smoke from the forest fires backed up from the coast in a solid bank and caused an unusual phenomenon here, the setting sun tunrning the sky a yellowish green. Business throughout the city generally was suspended, and everywhere lights were turned on. The girls employed in a packing house ceased work to pray. A steamer on the Columbia was compelled to use a searchlight at 11 a. m., and the Portland & Oriental liner was unable to leave on her trip.

PROBABLY FOOLED.

Young Woman Leaves Mother and Good Home.

Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 12.—Ethel Scott, the 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott, of this city, has eloped with professor Wilbur Long, an itinerant music teacher. She fooled her mother by saying she was doing shorthand and typewriting for the professor. The mother is sick and heartbroken over the disappearance of her daughter.

A curious bit of romance is worked out in this runaway match. Some years ago Miss Scott, then a young girl, was at Riverside Park with several companions. They climbed a spreading tree, and in a spirit of fun they took a vow to visit that scene upon each anniversary of that day and climb the selfsame tree. Last summer Miss Scott was in the tree alone, her former companions being removed from the city, one being dead. She was engrossed in thought of former days when Professor Long sauntered along and spied her. He was amused, and she pouted a little when he stopped and spoke to her. Anyway, he helped her down and they grew quickly to be friends. They are supposed to have gone to Denver.

Now's the time to take Rocky Mountain Tea; keeps the whole family well. A great medicine for spring and fall tiredness. 35 cents. S. F. Boyce.

THE BEST CLOTHES FOR YOU

There's only one kind of Suits and Overcoats better than ours, made by a few exclusive tailors, $75.00 to $90.00 for the suit or coat. The average custom tailor, city or country, doesn't make anything to compare with ours. We buy the best fabrics made, all wool and a lot of them. We examine every inch of every yard for flaws. We shrink three times by a steam-sponging process. The goods are cut to the most perfect design and in the latest styles and tailored by hand. Better tailored than the average custom tailor does it, or can do it. There are economies in cost at every step. They appear as price economies to you. If you cannot afford the exclusive tailors' prices you cannot afford to miss our qualities. Merchants, bankers, professional men, whose good appearance is a business consideration, prefer our clothes to the ordinary custom tailored, buy them of good clothiers everywhere. If you see the label H. S. & M. you are sure you're right. Sold by Kenney, Anker & Denny, you pay no more for this class of merchandise in our store than you pay for inferior makes elsewhere.

SUGGESTS NEW PLAN

Correspondent of Commercial Club Wants Summer Hotel.

Proposes That It Be Built By Public Subscription.

Club Will Take the Matter Up at Next Meeting.

Although the season for a summer hotel in Duluth is practically over for this year, it seems that some of the citizens have not yet given up the idea of a summer hotel to be built here the coming year.

Time and again the matter has been advocated but thus far no one has been found who has cared to put any money into that sort of a hotel. It was thought that the reservation of a large tract in the recent purchase of the Interstate Traction company, on Park Point, for summer hotel purposes, would at least bring out a few inquiries, but nothing came of it.

A communication on the subject of a summer hotel has been sent President Patrick, of the Commercial club, with the suggestion that it is time the matter was investigated by the club. A plan for the formation of a hotel company along lines entirely different from any heretofore suggested is presented for consideration. The next meeting of the club will be held Wednesday evening, Sept. 17, and the communication, which follows, will be taken up and discussed by the members:

"There has been for a great many years considerable agitation relative to a summer hotel.

"Local capital has done nothing in this line neither has anyone been able to interest outside capital to build one.

"Duluth is seriously handicapped owing to its limited hotel accommodations and no doubt the boat lines and railroads owing to this state of affairs have not done near what they might do if things were different.

"I think active steps should be taken at once along these lines. The Commercial club might organize a corporation under the name of the 'Duluth Hotel company,' or some such name, to erect, own and control a hotel suitably constructed, equipped and furnished.

"This hotel might be leased or run by a manager for the company, or it might be sold to private individuals if after it was built a sale could be made. It might be built by public subscriptions. Our citizens would undoubtedly donate quite liberally for a proposition of this kind and the railroad and steamboat companies would, no doubt, lend a helping hand.

"My idea would be that no dividend, or other form of profit should be declared or paid upon the stock issued by the company. It being the purpose of the company to devote all moneys or profits for the maintenance of the hotel and improvements, furnishings thereof, etc.

"The company might receive donations for any of the above purposes, but all donations for the purpose of purchasing said site, should be used for no other purpose.

"Every person donating any sum of money to the company would be entitled to an acknowledgment of the fact in such form as might be provided in the by-laws, but no donation should be deemed a debt, nor bear interest or be deemed a legal obligation of the company, or entitle the donor or any other person to a pecuniary interest in the affairs or property of the company until, possibly, the company might desire to dispose of the property.

"I think something should be done immediately on this porposition."

TUG MEN ARE UGLY

Lively Street Fight Between Union and Non-Union Men.

Union Men Get After Non-Union Court Witnesses.

Union Men Win Out In the Case on Trial.

A lively street fight occurred this morning between union and non-union tugmen.

The non-union men were on their way to the municipal court to give testimony against a union engineer charged with assaulting a non-union tug captain.

The union men patrolled Superior street between police headquarters and First avenue east, and stopped six non-union witnesses, or rather they stopped one and tried to stop the other five, but they did such lively sprinting that the strikers could not catch them.

The one man captured was given a few hard jolts and the others took refuge in police headquarters.

The headquarters force hurried to the assistance of the non-union men, but the trouble was over so quickly that the union men had all disappeared down toward the harbor front before the officers could mingle in the trouble.

The union men also won out in the court. George Barney, one of their number, an engineer on the Tom Dowling, was accused of hitting Capt. W. J. Cayo in the ribs with a stone.

Capt. Cayo is master of the trust tug Zenith and the assault is said to have occurred in the harbor opposite the Ohio coal docks.

According to Capt. Cayo his boat was passing the Dowling at reduced speed so as not to cause an accident, when the rock collided with his ribs.

According to Engineer Barney the Zenith was passing ten feet from the Dowling at a speed of ten miles an hour and looking for trouble, but he did not throw the rock.

The court after hearing all the evidence decided that the engineer was not guilty of the assault.

After the case was finished the non-union witnesses expressed the fear that they would be attacked again and Chief Troyer escorted them back to their tugs.

The New Fall Things Are Coming In Fast—

And every department in the house already shows the exit of summer and the preliminary entrance of King Frost!

The store is interesting—very—every corner of it begins to bristle with fall and winter newness. We've never gathered so largely—or so good. Nor have we ever been as busy as now so early in the year.

You'll find styles and patterns here that will not be shown at any other store in this section.

You'll find our prices no higher than you expect to pay for the "General Run" of stuff.

Come tomorrow and see the new styles in—

Handsome Tailored Suits, Walking Suits, Costumes, Coats, Jackets and Wraps of every sort—

For women and misses.

Beautiful Walking Hats—

Charming fall styles bow to you for your approval! To any other store our present display would be classed as an "opening," but the formal opening here will come later.

New hats in colors—New French millinery in black and colors—

Never mind the unsettled condition of the store. The things are just as pretty as if we were in ship shape order.

Lots of real exclusive 'smart' things in Dress Hats—

Not another store will have anything like them!

Mrs. C. W. More, of Eveleth, is in the city.

S. E. Helps, of Eveleth, is stopping at the St. Louis.

CITY BRIEFS.

Tibbets, undertaker, 31 W. Superior St.

Parlor theater, jolly fun tonight.

The hottest shot of the season will be given by the Viking Rifle club at Brautigan's Garden, Sept. 14. Come out.

The greatest diamond battle of the season will occur at West Duluth tomorrow afternoon. The city hall and court house teams will come together. The court house aggregation has the advantage of a season's practice, but it is generally understood that it will need every possible advantage to escape a shut out.

The Venceder Investment company filed articles of incorporation in the register of deeds office this morning. The incorporators are Sarah B. Stearns, of Los Angeles, Victor Stearns and Lucy L. Stearns of this city. The general business is the dealing in lands and the capital stock is $25,000.

The transcript of the case of the state warehouse and railroad commission against the Northern Pacific railway was filed in the district court this morning. The case is that in which the state wants to compel the railway company to reopen its Twentieth avenue station. The district court decided in favor of the plaintiff. The transcript is filed prior to an appeal to the supreme court.

Parlor theater, big program this week.

The Omaha will discontinue the special Sunday train to Solon Springs after next Sunday, when it will be run for the last time this season.

TO KEEP HIM.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Refuse to Produce Owen Child.

Will the law recognize love for a child that doesn't belong to a person as sufficient cause for keeping it?

That is the question that the district court will be called upon to decide within a day or two.

The Herald yesterday published a story of a man named Leslie Owens striving to get his child away from James Anderson and wife, living near Pine Station, and with whom it was left five years ago. The child's name is Elden Julius Clarence Owen, and was born June 7, 1897. Shortly after that time its mother died, and according to the petition filed this morning, Owen put the boy in the care of the Andersons and paid for the keeping. Now he wants his son, and the people with whom he has been living refused to give him up, saying that they love him too well. Owen has filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus ordering the boy to be produced in court, and the case will probably be heard this afternoon.

HE LIKES ARMSTEAD.

J. F. Harwood of Ely Talks of His Chances.

"Armstead is the man for sheriff," said J. F. Harwood, of Ely, today. "About every time there is any talk about the sheriff fight, some fellow cuts in with, 'Well ——— is strong on the ranges,' etc., but I want to tell you that there is only one man strong up in our end of the county, and that is Armstead.

"I have been down here in Duluth now for two days, and it appears to me that he is the leading candidate in this section also. That is all right, for he will make a good man in the office. You may think that I am saying all this because of some personal feeling for Mr. Armstead, but that is not the case, for I pledged my vote to another candidate before meeting Mr. Armstead."

Dead Fireman's Funeral.

The funeral of Philip Stackmesser, the fireman killed yesterday, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Tibbett's undertaking rooms on East Superior street. The remains will be sent to Tower for interment and will be escorted to the depot by a guard of honor consisting of firemen and policemen and a band.

Speaks For Itself.

Charles d'Autremont's city campaign committee, which is announced today, contains the names of a number of old-time party leaders, who are out in the field working for his nomination on the Democratic ticket for congress, which they predict will take place next Tuesday at the primaries.

GOLFERS.

Two Eagans, Moore and Dickson, Winners In Play.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Eight crack golfers of the West teed off early today in the match play on the links of the Chicago Golf club at Wheaton for the Western championship. Before nightfall two rounds at eighteen holes each will have been finished, leaving the future Western champion and his prospective runner up to contest for the honor for the honor in the finals tomorrow at 36-holes' play. The course, as during the other rounds of the tournament was in excellent condition, although the weather was so bleak that it diminished the size of the gallery that followed the players. H. Chandler Egan, who has been the star throughout the tourney and who had a tight brush with W. I. Howland in his second round yesterday, was once more the center of interest. Following are the pairings for the third round:

H. C. Egan, Exmoor, and Stuart Stickney, St. Louis; Warren Dickinson, of Des Moines, the Iowa state champion, and R. E. Hunter, Midlothian; Nathaniel P. Moore, Lake Geneva, and C. L. Hunter, Midlothian; Walter Egan, Lake Geneva, and S. O. Dugger, Hinsdale.

After a closely contested match, H. Chandler Egan defeated Stuart Stickney by one up. Walter Egan took a sensationally close match from S. O. Dugger in one up at the nineteenth hole. N. F. Moore easily defeated C. L. Hunter, leading all the way and taking the match in six up, five to play. Warren Dickinson, the Iowa state champion, took his match from R. E. Hunter, two up, one to play.

New Fall Hosiery

Bewitching in originality and daintiness, a magnificent display of the season's best sellers in lace and embroidered effects. Hosiery now absorbs quite as much attention from the fashionable women as do her boots or gowns—artistic color combinations are what she demands and will have. Originality in design, is the crowning feature of our new hosiery arrivals. This, combined with daintiness and soft and filmy texture, makes our showing of hosiery the most attractive and interesting in the city. To particularize and tell just what we have as to color, texture and designs would require too many details—however, generally speaking—lace open work—mercerized cotton—lisle and silk fabrics abound—embroidered in every conceivable color—especially the dainty lace instep patterns which will undoubtedly be the leaders of the season. Prices range from 25c to $4.50.

AT WEST DULUTH

The Hazelwood Park station, on Thirty-ninth avenue west, is no more, nearly the last vestige of the once familiar and busy little station has disappeared, only a few scattered pieces of timber and shingles remaining to mark the spot where once the St. Paul & Duluth short line did a passenger and freight business. The station went into the possession of the Northern Pacific road at the time the company absorbed the St. Paul & Duluth road and recently the company sold the station building to private parties for $40. When new it cost many times that amount, the best of timber being used in its construction, but it has been empty for many years and a constant menace to the company from the fact that sparks from passing locomotives might have fired it. It is said that the depot was first put there through the efforts of a real estate company that tried to boom Hazelwood Park property, but after the first year or two the depot was not a success.

IS FOUND GUILTY.

Thomas Ennett, who was arrested yesterday morning on the complaint of Erasmus Kreidler, charged with stealing chickens, was found guilty in Justice Stone's court yesterday and given until today to pay a fine of $10 or spend ten days in the county jail.

Ennett attempted to prove an alibi at his trial yesterday afternoon, William Burrell testifying that he and Ennett were lined up at a bar when the robbery took place, but the other testimony was very convincing and the court was satisfied there could be no mistake in fixing the crime on Ennett. It was reported this morning that Ennett would carry the case up.

West Duluthians are hoping that the arrest will have much to do in checking the depredations that have been going on among the hen roosts in this part of the city.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S RALLY.

There will be an important rally at the Baptist church this evening of all the young people's organizations of the West Duluth churches for the purpose of bringing the various societies into closer touch that they may cooperate more and accomplish greater results. It is believed that the meeting will result in much good to the societies and to the cause generally. John Callahan, of Duluth, will deliver an address on the topic "Mission Work and Soul Saving Among Young People." Music will be furnished by a choir of the young people.

STREET RAILWAY SERVICE.

The street railway traffic between West Duluth and Duluth will be facilitated again by the construction of a double track on Raleigh street. The company began work this week on the second track and it will probably be finished by Saturday evening. It is an improvement that was very much needed. The company has already a double track from Central avenue to Fifty-sixth avenue west, and the new trackage extends to the end of the line at Sixty-third avenue west. Up to the present time the westbound cars on Raleigh street have been compelled to wait at the switch at Fifty-sixth avenue west for the eastbound cars. This delay will now be done away with.

Cash Hardware!

On and after September 10 we shall do a strictly cash business except on stoves and ranges—these we will continue to sell on the installment plan.

NOTICE

The Independent Political club is going to meet in Isaacson & Kauppi's hall, corner of Sixty-third avenue west and Grand, Friday evening, Sept. 12. This meeting is called for to agree on the candidates the club is going to support at the primary election Sept. 16. It is fully understood that this is a closed meeting for members only.

WEST DULUTHIANS TO GO.

The South Shore excursion to Detroit, Buffalo and other lower lake ports, next week, will take a large number of West Duluth people. About eight or ten West Duluthians have made arrangements to leave on the Sunday evening excursion, while as many more expect to go Tuesday. The low rates have given an excellent opportunity for former Michigan people to visit their old homes.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS.

It is reported here that Mrs. Minnie Crosby, formerly of West Duluth, died Sept. 1 in Tacoma, Wash.

John McDonald, Patrick Haley and George Clark left last evening for Saginaw, where they will attend the funeral of Capt. Ryan, and will remain to visit friends for a few weeks.

The Duluth Safety Car Stake company this morning received a large consignment of stakes from the foundry in St. Paul. The stakes are to be sent to Crossett, Ark., where they will be used by the Crossett Lumber company in fitting out the cars on the company's logging road.

The teachers of the public schools in this end of the city are beginning to arrive from their homes in other parts of the state, or adjoining states, ready to assume their duties next week. Miss Florence Pond, of the Adams school, and Miss Mabel Sherrin, of the Longfellow school, returned last evening from their respective homes in Brookings, S. D., and Winnebago City, Minn.

Mrs. Fred Hazeltine, of West Duluth, has received the sad intelligence that her father, aged 75 years, residing in Merrill, Wis., has been drowned. Mrs. Hazeltine left yesterday to attend the funeral.

Capt. M. L. Fay, candidate for the nomination of congressman, has paid West Duluth two visits this week and met a large number of the local Democrats. Capt. Fay says he has not got clear around yet, and may visit this part of the city again tomorrow.

The little 7-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hicks died yesterday morning. The funeral was held from the house today.

Dr. Robert Forbes left today for a visit at Harris. Tomorrow he will visit the ranges, where he will remain until Wednesday of next week.

N. C. Bilsey is entertaining the Misses Orum, Nefvig and Meistad, of Ishpeming, Mich.

Miss Briggs will entertain this evening for her cousin, Miss Rolfe, of Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. Jessie Harris and Miss Mabel Smith have returned to their homes in Minneapolis after a visit with friends here.

W. J. BATES' CHANCES.

Indications Point to His Nomination For Sheriff.

W. J. Bates, whose strength as a Republican candidate for sheriff has been manifest from the time he announced his candidacy, has been steadily gaining until now he is regarded as the leading aspirant. Owing to the large number of candidates, and the anxiety of leading Republicans to avoid jealousy and factional strife growing out of the preliminary contest, it is not always easy to ascertain the exact situation, but from many important inside sources of information it is plain that Mr. Bates has a very strong lead at the present time. He is regarded as the strongest range candidate and he is popular in the city. Bates sentiment is increasing all along the line.

IN TO STAY.

Capt. M. L. Fay Replies Pointedly to Some Criticisms.

Capt. M. L. Fay, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress, was standing in the lobby of the St. Louis this morning surrounded by and chatting with a number of Democratic friends and telling his experience so far in the present political contest in which he is engaged.

The captain told a story about a friend of his down in Ohio who had never been active in politics, but had been a keen observer. The man was an honest, influential citizen and his friends in his own party brought strong pressure to bear on him to have him accept the nomination for congress from his district. He considered the matter for some time and finally concluded that the best adviser he could go to was his better half. So he told his wife that they were urging him to accept the nomination for congress. His wife, being somewhat ambitious herself, immediately fell in with the idea and advised him to make the run.

"But," he said to her, "my dear wife, what about my reputation?"

She replied: "Nothing can be said against you. Your character and reputation are without a blemish, and everybody in this district knows it."

He said: "That does not make any difference. They will charge me with being a horse thief if I become a candidate."

The wife replied: "Oh, well, everybody will know better."

"But," he said, "you don't know what they can do in politics. They will be sure to prove it."

"That settles it," she said. "You had better keep out."

Said the captain to The Herald reporter: "I suppose I am in a similar fix to my friend. My first vote was for Horace Greeley. Ever since that time I have voted the Democratic ticket, and for the past ten years I have attended almost every Democratic county convention in St. Louis county as a delegate. I spent five or six weeks of valuable time doing what little I could for Charles A. Towne when he made his great fight in the old Sixth district, and I had always supposed that I was a Democrat in the fullest sense of the word.

"But some good Republican, or misinformed Democrat, has circulated a report in several places in the district that I am not a Democrat. At first I did not know whether to treat it as a joke or get mad, but since a number of my friends have been joking me about it and taking it as a joke, I guess I will have to do the same. However, for the information of those in this city and throughout the district who may have received any letters from the opposition in this contest to the effect that I have at any time in the past been other than a strict adherent to the party platforms or principles, either upon the tariff question, the money question, or any other principle or plank in the platforms of the party, I desire to say that the same are absolutely without foundation, and every well-informed Democrat in St. Louis county knows it.

"I am in this contest for the nomination to win out. I have not sought this nomination and it will be a great sacrifice of my own private interests to make the run for congress, if I receive it. I told my friends so when they urged me to have my name put on the ticket, and when I consented to allow my name to be used it was with the tacit understanding and belief of myself and my Democratic friends who urged me to do so, that there would be an open field and that some Democrat had to make the run for the sake of the party.

"But now, seeing that the thing has been mixed up a little, I am in to stay to the finish, and if I secure the nomination, well, Mr. Bede or Mr. Edson—I don't care which—will not have a walk away. All I ask is for my party to stand behind me."

OMITTED MENTION

Of Cuban Reciprocity In Utah Republicans' Platform.

The "Insurgents" Win a Victory In That State.

President However Is Endorsed In Every Other Way.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 12.—The Republican state convention yesterday nominated Joseph Howell, of Wellsville, Cache county, for congress, and Judge William McCarthy, of Sevier county, for supreme court justice, and adopted a platform in which mention of Cuban reciprocity was omitted.

On this point the beet sugar interests of the state won out after a somewhat bitter and protracted debate in the committee on resolutions. Friends of Congressman Sutherland, who was one of the Republican "insurgents" on the reciprocity question in the last session of congress, was determined that specific endorsement of the president's Cuban policy should have no place in the platform, and they prevailed.

In this they were aided by the church people, who insisted that a compromise platform cordially endorsing President Roosevelt's administration be adopted, but leaving out direct reference to the proposed 20 per cent reduction.

Senator Beveridge of Idniana was originally scheduled to deliver a speech last night, marking the formal opening of the Republican campaign in Utah. This program was changed to have Senator Beveridge speak at the close of the morning session yesterday. When the beet sugar sympathizers heard of this they openly threatened to give him a hostile reception, believing it a plan to influence the convention in favor of a Cuban reciprocity plank, the result being that the program was changed, Senator Beveridge speaking last night. Then, with the platform adopted, the delegates more than made up for their refusal to hear Beveridge in the morning by greeting him with wild cheering. An amendment to the platform offered by Congressman Sutherland, declaring it to be the sense of the convention that "President Roosevelt be nominated for president in 1904 as his own successor," was carried with a whoop, the delegates standing in their seats and cheering for some time.

The platform as adopted deplores the death of President McKinley, recognizes in Theodore Roosevelt his worthy successor, and expresses unqualified approval of his administration; it endorses the Republican national platform of 1900, favors the protective tariff as it now exists, recognizes the right of labor to organize for its own protection and favors a national board of arbitration to decide controversies between capital and labor. It favors the passage of laws providing for governmental supervision and control of trusts. It condemns "unjust and oppressive aggregations of capital," but also condemns the "democratic policy of destruction" as regards corporations: Democratic assaults on the army and navy are condemned as being purely partisan and productive of rebellion and bloodshed. The government is congratulated on the final steps toward building an inter-oceanic canal. Stringent immigration laws are demanded.

Senator Kearns' efforts to open the Uintah Indian reservation and in behalf of irrigation laws are heartily commended.

The king and queen received a great ovation.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Mac MacCarthy, a sailor on the battleship Kearsarge, was turned over to the New York city police Thursday night by Rear Admiral Higginson. It is charged that a few days ago MacCarthy, while walking along the Bowery, sportively emptied a can of hot green corn over Jacob Cahn, who was selling it on the street. Cahn died of the scalds he received.

COMPLETE MYSTERY

Mary Brown Has No Knowledge of Her Parentage.

She Regularly Receives Money From Some Unknown Source.

Told That the Remittances Will Cease on Marriage.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 12.—Miss Mary Brown, pretty and 27 years old, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rives, of Thirteenth street, this city, for the past ten days, is a complete mystery to herself as to her true identity, and she would consider it a great personal favor if any person can satisfactorily inform her who her parents are and the source of a mysterious annual revenue which has kept her well supplied with funds since babyhood. Her story is a most remarkable one.

Miss Brown, as she was told to call herself, has lived a migratory existence without the positive knowledge of a single relative on earth, and has never known the necessity of performing labor or worrying about where her living would come from. She says that her first recollection is that she lived in some orphanage in a suburb of Brooklyn and was called Fanny Winters.

She was, she had been told, after she had been a few years at the place, a "doorstep waif," and had been placed in the institution by people on whose doorstep she had been left, but who were not disposed to keep and care for her. Another very remarkable feature of her existence has been and so continues that no matter where she has made her home, $50 a month has been sent to her for her care and support, and on every 30th of July and Christmas day, or very near those dates, she has received an extra $100.

When about 11 years old she was taken by a family named Martin, living near Mexico, N. Y., who sent her to school, looked after her interests and always treated her kindly. They always claimed to know nothing about her beyond what had been told them at the orphanage from which she was taken. She had lived at the Martin home about three years when a letter came to her guardian, for he had been so appointed, saying that if remittances were to be continued in the future, her name must be changed to Mary Brown. The letter had been mailed at Newark, N. J., and also made the statement that the girl's right name was Brown.

The necessary legal proceedings followed, and she became Mary Brown. She lived with the Martins until she was about 22 years of age, when Mrs. Martin died, and for reasons which she does not care to discuss she left the place that had been her home for so long, and, being well fitted by nature and educational advantages, sought and secured employment as governess to three children in a family named Hurgling, living in a suburb of Jersey City. She remained there a few years, and had in the meantime saved considerable money.

No matter where she went, her remittances followed her. She determined to travel. At first she toured the United States and Mexico. Her mail was forwarded from point to point, and the money always came. The lady in Toledo whom she visited was a schoolmate in New York state, and they had always kept up a correspondence. The Rives only moved to Toledo a few months ago from Utica, N. Y.

Once she received with her remittance about three years ago a note stating that from the date of her marriage her allowance would cease. Miss Brown says she has tried every scheme and exhausted every plot she and her friends could devise, but she has never been able to secure one bit of information as to her identity. She left the Rives home yesterday afternoon for a visit to the community about Mexico, N. Y., where she spent her girlhood days.

LONGEST

Name of Hemisphere Belongs to a Kentucky Bootblack.

Paducah, Ky., Sept. 12.—The person with perhaps the longest name of any individual, big or little, in the western hemisphere, is blacking boots on Paducah's streets.

He is the son of a preacher and some of these days he may be a preacher himself. This youngster with the wealth of title will answer to the name of Arthur or Hugh, but if one proposes to give him all that is due in the matter of cognomens, one must take a long breath, brace oneself and address the young gentleman as Arthur Hugh Thomas De Witt Talmage Hardin Ireland Marion Edward Linnie Branch Sam Jones Pague Reuben Walker Chiles.

Seventeen in all, whew!

Think of presenting a visiting card bearing that name or inscribing it over three or four lines on a hotel register.

Young Arthur Hugh etc., etc., Chiles is the 16-year-old-son of Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Chiles. His father is the pastor of the Union Rescue mission, on South Third street, which is doing an humble but noble work among the poor of the city. The boy was born near Maxon's Mill, this county, and reared in Paducah.

The lad is a familiar figure about the streets, but very few people know that he has about eight or nine times as many names as the average person.

Often by way of a joke young Chiles says to a prospective patron:

"I'll tell you what I'll do, mister. I'll tell you my name, and if you can repeat it, I'll black your shoes free. If you fail, you pay."

If the man agree the boy rattles off the whole seventeen as fast as his tongue can form the words.

He has never yet failed to get the money.

Young Chiles' father tells an interesting story of how his son came to acquire so many names.

Originally he was named Arthur Chiles. When his parents, according to the elder Mr. Chiles, announced this decision, an older sister of the baby wanted Hugh added in honor of a young man friend. His aunt, Mrs. Jim Owens, of this county chimed in an dinsisted that Thomas De Witt Talmage must also be tacked on, she being a great admirer of the famous preacher of that name.

This much having been agreed to the grandmother, Mrs. Kelly, also of this county, was invited to contribute to the infant's rapidly growing title. After considering a moment she said she would adorn him with the names of her sons-in-law, to-wit: Hardin, Ireland, Marion, Edward, Linnie, Branch and Reuben Walker. The Reuben-Walker part constituted the surnames of the boy's father.

Here the matter rested for a while. A few years ago the youngster himself incorporated the name of Sam Jones into his cognomen after hearing a sermon by the Georgia evangelist. Shortly afterward he likewise adopted the name of Pigue, in honor of the Rev. Mr. Pigue, a well-known exhorter and religious debater of this section.

It appears therefore that in his 17 names the Chiles boy has the names of four ministers of the gospel—Talmage, Jones, Pigue and his own father, R. W. Chiles.

Long names run in the Chiles family, so to speak. The grandmother of young Arthur Hugh, who contributed so much to his title, was herself singularly and abundantly blessed in this respect.

She bore the full name of Annie Maria Margaretta Virginia Elizabeth Lapin Trewalla Kelly.

She was born in America, soon after his parents emigrated from England, in accordance with a promise made before leaving the old country, the parents christened her with the first name of each of her aunts, her maiden name being Trewalla.

MANY INVENTORS

Are Now Trying to Beat Hard Coal.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The strike in the anthracite coal regions has proven an astonishing stimulant to inventors who seek to solve the problem of utilizing crude oil for general fuel purposes. The increased activity among these inventions is indicated by the large number of devices being offered for patent. At present there is a weekly average of twenty-five applications for patents on inventions for burning oil, gas and vapors to produce heat and power.

The patent office has granted up to the present time 1200 patents on machines which use oil for fuel and 2700 for those using gas and vapors.

The inventions follow two general lines of mechanical ingenuity, and patents on many of these ideas has been granted for years. One is for supplying the oil mixed with steam for combustion, and the other is for turning it into vapor and burning it in that form.

These two basis ideas are at the root of the many inventions daily coming under the consideration of the patent office examiners. The New York Central Railroad was one of the first concerns to try the experiment, but after a short trial the officials declared that the use of oil as fuel was too expensive and impracticable. Oil then cost $1.25 a barrel, and coal was cheaper than it is now. Now the whole matter is placed on another plane by the change in the relative prices of coal and oil. Texas oil is on the market in almost inexhaustible quantities at 20 cents a barrel, and coal has increased greatly in price.

PERFUME CONCERT

The Esthetic Sense of Smell to Be Cultivated.

Odors Are to Rival Music In Giving Enjoyment.

An Experimental Concert To Be Given In New York.

New York, Sept. 11.—To cultivate the olefactory nerves "by the artistic manipulation of perfumes, which will yield esthetic pleasures similar to music or pictorial art," there is going to be a perfume concert at the Carnegie lyceum on Oct. 14, "an experimental concert," as its authors modestly put it, and a succession of scents will be squirted about the hall and over the audience so adeptly that those present will think they are in Japan.

At least the management of the concern is going to present "A Melody in Odors," and will call the melody "A Trip to Japan in Sixteen Minutes," asking those present to believe, when they sniff certain aromas, that they are really transported, sensually, to the Chrysanthemum kingdom.

That the blunted olfactory nerves of the Philistines may be persuaded, if possible, the illusion will be helped out by the assistance of "two geisha and a solo dancer," who will perform while the perfumes are being squirted.

The persons in charge of the arrangements for the occasion have this to say:

"It is a well-known scientific fact that odors excite impressions in the human mind not unlike those produced by music.

"Every one has experienced that a smell suddenly appreciated—perhaps of some flower that grew in the old homestead, where we spent our childhood days—sends back one's train of thought to scenes of the past more rapidly and more vividly than any other art medium. It seems strange that a sense so easily excited has been left in a primitive and dormant state, as our olfactory nerves undoubtedly could be cultivated to such an extent that an artist's manipulation of perfumes would yield esthetic pleasures similar to musical or pictorial art.

"That this has never been accomplished has been due largely to the lack of an apparatus capable of driving odors forcibly enough into an audience, and of producing precise impressions even at great distances.

"Such an apparatus has been invented lately, and the first perfume recital will demonstrate how far perfumes can be combined to an artistic entity, similar to a melody or a piece of descriptive music. It will remain for the audience to decide whether the attempt has been a successful one."

FIFTY PUPILS ABSENT.

They Claimed One Girl Is of Color.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 12.—Fifty pupils of the Blankenberg school, three miles from this city, refused to attend, and their parents appeared before the school board and asked that Mabel Smith, aged 10, be kept from school. The teacher was on hand to take up books, but no children were there. Upon inquiry he learned that the parents of the pupils contend that the Smith girl came from colored parents, and should be sent to a colored school. The girl lives at the Home for the Friendless, her parents being dead. The matron claims her parents were white, her father having been a Frenchman. The truant officer has served notices on the parents that they will be prosecuted in case they keep their children out of school.

GOLD IN POSTHOLE

Carpenter Found Treasure His Sister-in-Law Had Buried.

She Had Concealed It Underground In Coal Shed.

Story of Thrifty Couple's Nest Egg of Gold Coin.

St. Louis, Sept. 12.—This is a true tale of buried treasure in the heart of St. Louis, the digging up of which caused the arrest of John B. Miller, of 2648 Pestalozzi street.

It is the story of a thrifty couple's nest egg of gold coin, hoarded and held in peculiar places because of inborn distrust of banks.

It tells how the elderly Mrs. Caroline Inkamp buried her $3000 in her coal shed when she went upon a trip, and how a carpenter discovered the treasure, and, though not on Treasure Island, appropriated it to his own use and advantage.

Mrs. Inkamp resides at 1725 Papin street with her family of grown-up children. Her late husband was of the thrifty sort, and during his working days accumulated much property. He had goods and lands, stocks and bonds, but was not content.

"Caroline," he said one day, "there banks may fail; our property may burn up or be lost through other means. Let us have a nest egg for an emergency. Let us have some real money."

Mrs. Inkamp assented. The couple talked over the matter further, and resolved always to have $3000 in gold in their actual possession, unbanked, unbosomed to the world, even unknown to their own children.

A few years ago Mr. Inkamp died, leaving a will in which no mention of the $3000 was made. That was Mrs. Inkamp's business.

The widow kept the secret well. One person can keep a secret even better than two. The gold coin in a canvas bag she placed in various out-of-the-way places, such as secret drawers, bedticks, retired tomato cans and stoves on their summer vacation.

Erly this summer Mrs. Inkamp received tidings from Colorado of the serious illness of a beloved friend. Thither she must go, but it was unsafe to carry the $3000 in gold.

"What shall I do with my nest egg?" Mrs. Inkamp asked herself.

"Put it in some simple place where no one would ever think of looking for treasure.

The coal shed suggested itself. Selecting a time when the children were absent, Mrs. Inkamp repaired to the shed with a spade. In the center of the earthen floor she dug a hole two feet deep.

Wrapping the canvas bag in an old fur cape and placing it in a big tin can, she buried it. Pressing the earth above it, she smoothed off the place and littered it like the rest of the floor.

Then Mrs. Inkamp went to Colorado.

The 3rd day of August a daughter of Mrs. Inkamp, having read in the newspaper that coal was rapidly advancing in price, and possessing a thrifty nature of her parents, determined to lay in the winter's supply of coal forthwith. Anthracite and bituminous coal being so widely at variance in value, Miss Inkamp desired to make sure that none of the precious hard coal should get mixed with the soft. There must be a partition in the coal shed.

She called in Miller, who is a brother-in-law of her mother.

"Uncle John," she said, "build me a partition in the middle of the coal shed."

Uncle John went to work. It was necessary to sink a post in the center of the earthen floor to support the partition. He dug a posthole. Two feet down his spade touched tin.

"What what's this?" said Uncle John. "I must disinter this quaint can and investigate."

The posthole was finished. The post was set. The partition was nailed to the post. The coal was delivered, hard on one side and soft on the other side of the partition.

Miss Inkamp was highly pleased with Uncle John's job.

Last Thursday Mrs. Inkamp returned from the state of gold to Papin street and went to the coal shed to inquire into the state of her gold.

She beheld the full shed and the partition. She beheld the post in the middle, and she preceived that there must be a posthole.

She said nothing to her children, but she sent for a man to remove the coal and the post.

At the bottom of the posthole she found—the bottom.

Then Mrs. Inkamp revealed to the police the secret of the nest egg.

Chief Desmond detailed two of his sleuths to find the treasure. Detectives Harry Frese and James Crowell were selected. They went to 818 Julia street and found that Miller had moved.

They traced him to the Pestalozi street address and found that he was living in a more stylish house, more stylishly furnished. They confronted Miller with the posthole evidence and inference.

Miller admitted that he had taken the gold. He produced $1100 of the shining yellowness and a slip of paper showing that he had deposited $1500 in the German Savings bank. The $400 he had spent for furniture and other commodities commensurate with his increased fortune.

Miller was locked up at the Four Courts.

To the Republicans of St. Louis County.

Gentlemen:—In choosing your candidate for county superintendent of schools, I presume that you will admit that we are all qualified for the position—modesty excepts the undersigned. Laws have been passed giving preference to the "Boys in Blue," but I ask no man to give me his vote on that account, unless he considers me competent. After graduating at Rutger's college, I engaged in educational work—made it my life work. Having always been a Republican, I respectfully solicit your support.

RICH JOCKEY.

The Son of Bishop Potter's Fiancee Is to Wed.

New York, Sept. 12.—A jockey worth $25,000,000, who is about to become the stepson of a bishop, who is himself soon to marry a noted beauty, and who rides for the fun of it, is one of the talked-about men in that wonderful mixed world of the local race tracks.

"Brose" Clark's riding and "Brose" Clark's romance have supplied the sentiment for the racing year of 1902. When the tall, boyish millionaire gives his farewell bachelor dinner to his chums two weeks from tonight, every denizen of Sheepshead Bay, from the society folks in the boxes to the layers in the betting ring and the stable boys in the paddocks, will drink a health to a good fellow and a plucky rider.

Sheepshead Bay is taking the deepest interest in Frederick Ambrose Clark's wedding, which occurs two weeks from Tuesday. Miss Florence Lockwood Stokes, daughter of Henry B. Stokes, the life-insurance man, is the bride-to-be. The prospect of a double wedding, in which the Episcopal Bishop Potter and Mrs. Clark would figure as the other couple, has been dispelled by the announcement that the wedding of young Clark and Miss Stokes will occur in this city and not at Cooperstown. It is believed that Bishop Potter and Mrs. Clark will be married at Mrs. Clark's summer home, at Cooperstown.

Young Clark in his riding togs is one of the figures pointed out at the race track. The novelty of a young fellow of 23, with a fortune of $25,000,000 in his own right, and of the highest social standing, jockeying just for the love of it, has not been lost in a world surfeited with sensations and celebrities. Some of the finest riding seen at the New York tracks and at Saratoga this year has been that of this interesting young man. He always rides his own horses, which are among the best jumpers on the track. His favorite mounts are Jim Meghben and Rowdy, the latter of which ran in steeplechases at Sheepshead.

A pluckier rider never was seen. Young Clark enjoys the distinction of being the finest cross-country rider in the United States. He has been brought up in the saddle, and when he is at his country place at Cooperstown he spends almost the entire day astride some of his picked saddle horses.

His approaching wedding has not detracted from his love of horses. Miss Stokes shares with him his enthusiasm fo rriding, and is his companion on his daily long rides n the country. She is frequently with him at the track and the fact that her bright eyes are waching him from the grand stand has doubtless had not a little to do with the splendid riding he has done.

The young man is counted on to become one of the great pillars of American racing in the future. He is just completing, at a cost of many thousand dollars, the finest private race track in America on his country place at Cooperstown. The estate was the gift of his mother upon the announcement of his engagement early in the summer.

Besides the race track there is to be a magnificent stable, with accommodations for all of his big family of horses. The oval inside the race track is being made into a polo field, which will beone of the best in the country, and here the daring young rider and his brothers and friends will play the strnuous game.

BUILT IN A DAY.

How a Kansas City Church Was Constructed.

Kansas City, Sept. 12.—The Baptist chapel in "Red Town," a building 36 feet long and 16 feet wide, was built in one day at a "building bee."

The congregation of the Armourdale Baptist church on May 25 began holding meetings in the homes of the members. By the latter part of August the church had a membership of sixty-two. On Aug. 2 the congregation purchased the two lots at Fourteenth street and Scott avenue. Then the problem of building a church came up. They had not the money to hire the building done, so they decided to hold an old-time "building bee."

Early in the morning the men assembled at the site of the proposed church. Some carried saws, some hammers and others what tools they could find about their homes. The men worked with a will, and by night the church was finished. The women of the congregation in the meantime, prepared a dinner, which was served on the grounds to the workmen. Next Sunday Rev. F. L. Streeter, pastor of the Armourdale Baptist church, will preach the dedicatory sermon.

BEGGED NICKELS.

Said He Was of a Prominent Family.

Akron, Ohio, Sept. 12.—A respectably dressed, intelligent appearing young fellow, who claims to be Oscar Poorman, son of C. L. Poorman, of Bellaire, Ohio, secretary of state during McKinley's first administration as governor, is under arrest here on a charge of begging. He was taken into custody while asking for nickels, and stated his identity in the police court. He told a straightforward, hard-luck story, and said he wished only to secure money to go to Springfield, Ohio, to go to work as a printer. He was locked up pending an investigation.

SOME WOMAN CONTROLS

Mind of Her Husband, Mrs. Campbell Claims.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 12.—"My husband has been under some strange influence since a year ago. If there is any such thing as hypnotism he is under a hypnotic spell," tragically explained the wife of Dr. O. B. Campbell in court. Mrs. Campbell is suing her husband for alimony pending his suit for divorce. "There is a woman who controls my husband's mind," continued the excited woman, "and he does not know what he is doing. He did not know what he was doing when he left us. I am the best friend he has in the world."

"Who is the woman?" asked his lawyer.

"I will give her name when the time comes," responded Mrs. Campbell. Dr. Campbell was on the witness stand. He refused to look at his wife and two daughters, and when not gazing out of the window, sat with his head buried in his arms. When Mrs. Campbell was on the stand the attorney accused her of trying to ruin her husband's business by circulating damaging reports to the effect that he was suffering from hallucinations, and she replied in the above tragic manner.

AMIDST WORK

He Liked Young Runaway MacDonald Was Found.

South Charleston, Ohio, Sept. 12.—On a farm where he was appreciated as a laborer, Charles MacDonald, the 20-year-old son of James MacDonald, a wholesale milliner, was found by his father. He was happy in his situation, and reluctantly consented to return home and prepare to enter Princeton university.

Last February young MacDonald disappeared, and all trace of him was lost. A few days ago the father learned that the young man was in this vicinity, and came here yesterday and learned that mail for Charles MacDonald had been taken out by the family of Dennis Bryan, a farmer. The father drove out there and found his son.

SAYS CHILDREN

Of Her Husband Have Alienated His Affections.

Vincennes, Ind., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Sarah Dellinger, aged 55, has filed suit against Henry Dreiman, his wife Emma and William Hobe for $5000, alleging that they alienated her husband's affection. The husband is Jonas Dellinger, aged 90. Mrs. Dreiman is his daughter, and Mrs. Dellinger alleges that the children are attempting to secure the old man's property. He is now living with the children, and is dangerously ill with typhoid fever.

Stylish Fall Clothing.

A few years ago a man from the city was a marked man on account of his apparel. His clothing was always the subject of remark when he got out into the small cities and towns, on account of the difference in style. Nowadays you have to get pretty far back into the woods before you are able to notice any difference of this character. William A. Abrahamson, of The Hub Clothing store, is responsible for the statement that the very latest clothing styles are now introduced almost simultaneously in all parts of the country. "Stylish, up-to-date, perfectly tailored garments, such as the Peck clothing which we handle, are now spread all over the country, practically on the same date, by the greatest clothing manufacturers. Consequently, you see in cities, towns, villages and even far back in the country men wearing the same kind of clothes. This is another example of the promptness and widespread efficiency of American manufacturing methods."

CANDIDATES AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION.

For Auditor.

ODIN HALDEN—The present county auditor, announces that he is a candidate for renomination at the hands of the Republican voters of St. Louis county at the primary election to be held Sept. 16. During his services as county auditor he has made a record as a careful, conservative and reliable official, one who has done what he thought to be right without fear or favor, and in asking the voters to support him at the primary election he rests his claims for support upon that record.

For Register of Deeds.

L. M. JOHNSON is a candidate for Register of Deeds. He is a member of the Typographical union, and is prominent in the West End of the city. He is a Swedish-American, and if nominated will bring strength to the ticket.

County Supt. of Schools.

SUPERINTENDENT ANDREW T. PARK asks your vote, Sept. 16, to make him the Republican nominee for county superintendent of schools.

BERT N. WHEELER, son of H. W. Wheeler, of Oneota, has resigned his position as principal of the Bryant school to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for county superintendent. His acquaintance with the needs of the schools fits him for the position. If nominated and elected he will do his duty.

W. H. STULTZ, with many years' experience in the school room, seeks the Republican nomination for county superintendent.

For Sheriff.

JOHN T. ARMSTEAD is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff at the coming primary election, and solicits the favor of voters on the ground that he always has been a consistent Republican.

JOHN R. MEINING is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and solicits the votes and support of all Republicans on his record as a persistent worker for the party and competent business man.

OLE LARSON is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and is the choice of the labor oranizations for this office. Vote for him Sept. 16.

WILLIAM J. BATES, of Duluth, at the earnest and long-continued solicitation of his friends, has become a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff of St. Louis county, and has resigned as deputy sheriff to enter the race. If he is nominated and elected he will devote his personal work to the discharge of the duties of the office, something that has not heretofore been done.

JOHN A. HEALY, of Hibbing, announces himself as a candidate at the primary election for the Republican nomination for sheriff and solicits the support of Republicans throughout the county. He is a successful business man and is unqualifiedly endorsed by the leading Republicans of the Mesaba. He has served four years as deputy sheriff, with credit.

For County Commissioner.

LOUIS R. HELBING announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in the Second district. If nominated and elected, he pledges himself to devote his attention to a careful, economical and judicious administration of the county's funds, that the best results for the people may be secured with a minimum expenditure of public money.

For Congress.

M. L. FAY, of Virginia, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth district, subject to the decision of the voters at the primaries, Sept. 16. Capt. Fay has been a resident of the district for a number of years, and his record as a citizen and a Democrat is well known. He is especially well known in St. Louis county, having been a large employer of labor on the Mesaba range in St. Louis county and Itasca county. He has the respect of the men that have worked for him, and the consideration of his business associates and acquaintances, and if nominated and elected he promises to work for the best interests of the district.

For Representative.

RAY T. LEWIS announces himself to the voters as candidate for the Republican nomination for representative for the Fiftieth district. He asks your votes and support on Sept. 16.

FORGETFULNESS

Of Minister's Name Embarrasses a Young Bride.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 12.—Flora Chamberlain, or Mrs. Reginald Duvall, as she insists she is, learned for the first time through a publication in a morning paper that the body of Reginald Duvall had been disinterred and taken by his family to his former home at Paducah, and there reburied.

A few days before Duvall was killed in a railroad wreck at Georgetown, Ind., Aug. 24, a secret marriage license was issued to him and Flora Chamberlain. This license has been found, being traced by Miss Chamberlain's declaration after Duvall's death that they were married. But the license has no indirsement showing that a marriage ceremony had been performed. Miss Chamberlain claims a Presbyterian minister performed the ceremony. She says she did not know the name. Later she said it was Horrigan. There is no clergyman in town by that name.

Duvall boarded with the Chamberlains at 2337 Bank street. A secret marriage was contemplated because of parental objections. It is now claimed that death prevented the marriage. However that may be, Miss Chamberlain claimed the body as that of her husband, and had the funeral held from her house. Miss Chamberlain claims a settlement from the Southern Railway company, but it refuses to recognize her as the widow. The family of Duvall is also making a claim for damages.

AN ULTIMATUM.

Stock Breeders Say Railroads Must Reduce Rates.

Milwaukee, Sept. 12.—Notice was served on the Wisconsin state fair officials that not a blooded horse, cow, pen of swine, or cage of poultry will be exhibited at any state fair in the Middle West next year unless the railroads grant a flat rate of one half the ordinary tariff charges on all exhibits. This is the edict of the National Stock Exhibitors' union. The union was organized at the state fair grounds Wednesday night, and the organization completed yesterday, every stock exhibitor of note on the grounds, numbering about seventy-five in all, signing the articles, the constitution and resolution adopted by the organization.

The officers elected were: President, G. H. Trone, Rushville, Ind.; secretary, E. M. Moore, Orchard Lake, Mich.; treasurer, W. A. Briggs, Elkhorn, Wis.

Upper Lakes—Fresh northerly winds, becoming variable Saturday. Generally fair weather.

Decrease In the Fire Loss.

The statistics of fire losses for the month of August furnish the pleasing intelligence that there was a decided decrease in the value of property destroyed by fire. The total loss in the United States and Canada for the month aggregating only $7,425,000, being the minimum for a long time. In August, 1901, the loss by fire was $8,334,000 abnormally small, but not so small by nearly a million dollars as in August, 1902. In August, 1900, the fire loss was $10,288,250. The smallest monthly loss heretofore during the present year was in July—$10,028,000. The largest was in February—$21,010,500. This year's fire loss so far has amounted to $104,539,400, while in the first eight months of last year the loss was $113,000,150, and in August, 1900, $127,206,250. The number of fires last month was only 149, and the largest of them—at Hamilton, Ohio—involved a loss of only $216,000. The cause of the desrease in losses is not definitely known, but it is believed that a more rigid observance of the conditions of safety in electric wiring is one of the chief reasons. Imperfect insulation has been a fruitful cause of fires in the past.

The Situation In Pennsylvania.

The idea of Pennsylvania being regarded as a doubtful state will appear absurd to many people who look upon the Keystone state as absolutely sure of always giving a very heavy Republican majority, yet there is some apprehension on the part of Republican politicians that the next governor of Pennsylvania will be a Democrat. Of course the chances are in favor of the Republican party, nevertheless Republican victory in November cannot be confidently predicted. For this reason the campaign in that state possesses more interest than usual. The chief danger that confronts the Republicans is a large defection of the labor vote, and this causes the Democrats to be hopeful of success. It is said that the organized railroad employes in the state, which number 68,000, are manifesting a disposition to support the Democratic ticket and there appears to be good reason to expect that a very considerable number of them will do so. It is also highly probable that many of the anthracite coal miners will give their votes to the Democratic candidates, hoping to thereby secure legislation more favorable to their interests. The Republican candidate, Judge Pennypacker, is a relative of Senator Quay and was nominated at his dictation, and the anti-Quay Republicans are anxious to overthrow the boss and may knife his candidate. Robert E. Pattison, the Democratic candidate, has twice been governor of the state, is a popular man and is particularly strong with the working classes. He will get the full Democratic vote, and with the added strength from the anti-Quay Republicans and the working classes may for the third time land in the gubernatorial chair.

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL.

The coming Sunday will be the first anniversary of the death of President William McKinley, the victim of an assassin's bullet. One year ago the whole nation was bowed in grief over the sudden taking away of its favorite son. The display of sorrow was unprecedented in the history of the republic. No public man in recent years was so generally beloved by the American people as was William McKinley. Everywhere upon the day that he was stricken down by the assassin at Buffalo, the rancor of political strife was stilled, and during the days that followed, when his life hung in the balance, the prayers of the nation ascended to heaven, asking that he might be spared, but Providence ruled otherwise, and on Sept. 14, 1901, his great soul winged its way into the company of the martyred sons of the republic. Lincoln, Garfield, McKinley—an immortal triumvirate of American martyrs.

On the day of his burial at Canton, Ohio, solemn funeral rites were said in every city and hamlet throughout the land, and words of sad eulogium, recounting his illustrious services to the republic, were pronounced. It was a day of mourning. Business was suspended for several hours, the wheels of commerce stopped, and everywhere were manifestations of sorrow, deep and sincere, as the body of the martyred president was borne to his tomb amid a tribute of flowers and tears.

Next Sunday will be observed throughout the United States as McKinley Memorial Day, and special services will be held in the churches in memory of the illustrious dead. It has also been suggested that upon that day the people in Duluth, as in other parts of the country, wear a pink carnation in memory of the lamented president. It was William McKinley's favorite flower. It is a little thing to do, but a general observance would make a pleasing observance of the day. Women as well as men are requested to pay this tribute of respect.

CANADIAN RECIPROCITY.

Reciprocity with Canada seems likely to attract considerable attention at the next session of congress, and it is possible that good results may be accomplished. The people in the West desire more favorable trade relations with the Dominion, and will work solely to that end. The manufacturers of the East have also worked hard for such a treaty in order that they might get their prodcts into Canada on a footing at least equal with British manufacturers. But the fishing interests of New England have always been strong enough to block any treaty looking to a general reduction of duty on Canadian products. At one time it looked as though the joint high commission might agree on an instrument that would be satisfactory to both sides, and in fact it had drawn up a treaty, but it was thrown aside when all negotiations were ended by the deadlock on the Alaskan boundary question.

If the state of Massachusetts will declare in favor of reciprocity with Canada it will mean much for the success of the plan that has been so long agitated. Heretofore two sections of that state have been divided on the question of Canadian reciprocity, the bone of contention being the fishing industry. Gloucester has been unalterably opposed to any reduction in the duty on Canadian fish, while Boston has been strong for such an arrangement. The reason of this is found in the fact that the people of Gloucester are chiefly engaged in catching cod, while the great Boston firms export fish. One is naturally anxious to keep out Canadian fish, while the other is just as desirous of having it admitted. At the present time Canada gives to England a tariff reduction of 33 1-3 per cent on all goods shipped to the Dominion, and American manufacturers find this a great handicap in their efforts to establish themselves on the other side of the border line. The only things that have helped Americans are the eminent superiority of their products and the nearness of Canada.

The acquisition of Porto Rico by the United States lost a good customer to Canada. Formerly she furnished the people of that island with nine-tenths of their fish supply, which was considerable. Now they buy solely from the New England exporters. It is not known whether or not the administration has taken steps to negotiate a reciprocity treaty with Canada, but it is more than likely that negotiations are under way. There is no doubt that many advantageous reciprocal arrangements can be made, and it behooves the powers that be to give the matter prompt attention.

PROHIBITION IN MAINE.

The election this week in Maine has demonstrated conclusively that the majority of the people, in the cities at least, do not desire a rigid enforcement of the prohibitory law. Cumberland county, which has just had an honest administration of the law under the late Sheriff Pearson, who by the way was not afraid of man or devil, when it came to a righteous execution of the laws which he had sworn to enforce, has elected a Democratic sheriff by a handsome majority and clearly indicated that he shall not follow the footsteps of his predecessor. In three other counties the Democrats have chosen sheriffs, the issue in each case being prohibition or its enforcement. Local sentiment exerted a good deal of influence, notably in one county where the law has practically been enforced against Democratic innholders only.

The prohibition law of Maine is a ready instrument in the hands of a local boss for safeguarding his political enemies. A sheriff who is unscrupulous enough can generally find some way of directing raids away from a hotel which is or can be made his political headquarters. Where the prohibition law is not a farce, it is oppression. Plainly a very considerable element of the people of Maine are turning over in their minds the question whether it is consistent with the state's good faith to keep on the statute books a law which in practice the community repudiates. The Maine Republicans are not prepared yet to imitate the course of their Vermont brethren, but that they are thinking in that direction is evidenced by the success of Democratic candidates for sheriff in counties which on national issues give overwhelming Republican majorities.

It has been well known that, taking the state as a whole, the enforcement of the law has been a farce for years. Public sentiment has been the guide. In many cities no attempt has been made to enforce the statutes. In others there has been a more or less feeble attempt according to local agitation. The Maine law has proven a failure. Local option or high license seem to be the only practical solutions of the liquor question.

Under the new federal "oleo" law artificial butter cannot be exported from the country except as marked "adulterated." Now the outside market can better stand a "strong" article of butter than it can stand that word, and the exporters of oleo are accordingly facing ruin to their business in so far as they are obliged to conduct it directly through United States ports. Many of them are, therefore, seeking a base of operations in Canada. Two New York houses are mentioned which have already made the change, and others are likely to follow, unless the law is moderated at the next session of congress.

The correspondent of the Washington Star, accompanying the president on his Southern tour, telegraphs that Mr. Roosevelt is not likely to go lion hunting this year. If he hunts big game at all, "he will engage in a bear hunt in the swamps of the Mississippi river in the state of Mississippi." Bears will do about as well for sport as mountain lions, and if he wants a good bear hunt he should come to Duluth.

According to the estimates of the Hungarian ministry of agriculture, the world's cereal harvests of 1902 are the largest ever known. Europe's wheat crop is placed at 152,120,000 bushels above that of 1901, in which case outside demand upon the exportable surplus of the United States will not be such as to support such prices as have prevailed in the past two or three years.

The unprecedented speed of one nautical mile in a minute and 32 seconds, which was made by Charles R. Flint's new steam yacht Arrow on the Hudson last Saturday, reminds one that increased rapidity in locomotion is not confined to land carriages. It was a wonderful pace for a vehicle that is compelled to displace water instead of air.

The Utah Republicans refused to endorse the president's policy of reciprocity with Cuba. Of course this is regarded as a victory for the "insurgents" and as it is the first one they have scored they will probably look upon Utah with a friendly eye.

Cool weather is at hand, and the coal strike remains unbroken and with little more sign of breaking up than at any time hitherto. The production is now 25,000,000 tons behindhand—about one-half of a normal year's production.

The Galveston News is anxious to know "who is going to fight the trusts while Attorney General Knox is in Europe." The News need not worry. The trusts will be here when Mr. Knox comes back—and long after he returns.

The "war game" will never displace football as a popular sport. It takes too long to get a decision.

The political game is now at fever heat, and a large vote at the primaries is predicted.

Duluth's Bear Stories.

Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: Duluth reports the killing of fifteen bears within her corporate limits and therefore makes herself the Zenith City for bear stories, and the like.

Knew the Gospel of Work.

Springfield Republican: In the great crowd that gathered to hear the president's address in Court square was one woman who plainly did not appreciate his homily on work as the great American privilege and duty. "Gosh!" she said with much emphasis, "I guess I didn't need t' come here and stand around to know t' we've got to work. Got up and did my washin', got to hoein' an' get supper, I know all I need to about work." President Roosevelt's little sermons are most sound, but they hardly come with as much force from him as from one of those who have come up from the ranks.

Advantage of Having the Price.

Speed the Improvement.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: The merciless gouge of coal operators has resulted in a boom among the inventors of methods of burning oil, peat and other materials. Hurry them up. The people are tired of dealing with a class who stir up strikes because they are profitable to a few persons.

The Grippy Giraffe.

Said the camel M. D. to the grippy giraffe
"I perceive you are having a chill.
If you'll follow my advice,
And be cured in a trice,
Take a dose of quinine in a pill."

But the shaking giraffe shook his head in disdain.
Said he: "You're a witless deceiver;
Ere your cure for the grippe
Reached the end of its trip,
I might need to be treated for fever."

Kansas City Journal: King Alfonso is right, however, about American girls being the smartest and handsomest in the world.

Something Else to Burn.

Baltimore American: The unpleasant section of the hereafter, to specify it as mellifluously as possible, will certainly be rendered doubly distasteful to any coal baron who chances to be assigned quarters there. He will gnash his teeth over . . . h waste of fuel and the possibilities for excessive profits if the place were conducted on a business-like basis.

AT THE HOTELS

Maurice E. Bain, of Sumpter, Ore., who is interested in gold mining operations there, is in the city, a guest of the McKay, and he tells some glittering tales of the richness of that section. He has several specimens that are about the richest on record, including a gold nugget with about $20 worth of gold in it, and some quartz specimens that are almost solid gold.

"As a placer mining region the Sumpter country has been occupied for about forty years," said Mr. Bain this morning. "It was first located by a number of people in 1862 that came out West rather than go to war. Quartz mining was not begun until about eight years ago, but it is flourishing now. Some of the ore runs at fabulous numbers of dollars per ton, and it will all average at least $14 per ton. Much of it runs up into the hundreds and thousands of dollars per ton. The veins are continuous, and the history of the section has been that when a man once struck a vein he had a good and steady thing. One mine that was bought a few years ago for $10,000 could not now be bought for $10,000,000, and another that was bought for $1500 is now worth $3,000,000. Placer mining is still in progress, beside the quartz operations, and the yield is large. Another thing we have there is cobalt, something that is not often found. I believe the deposits there are the largest in the world."

TERRIBLE

Disaster That Overtook a Primitive Expedition In Borneo.

San Francisco, Sept. 12.—Nine thousand dead bodies, of these 4000 bodies recovered and other thousands swept away by the waters of the Batang Lupan river, tells the awful disaster that has overtaken the military forces of Borneo, as reported by advices from Honolulu. Through the ravages of cholera an entire military corps of natives, sent to punish the notorious head-hunters of Borneo, was wiped out of existence.

Seven hundred boats, carrying 10,000 of the best soldiers of the island, started up the Batang Lupan river from Simanggang. During the first two days cholera appeared, and instead of being able to attack the villages of the head-hunters in large force, the command was able to detach only about 100 men as a flying column to advance on the enemy.

The flying column went to six villages of the head-hunters, drove the inhabitants away and destroyed the huts, but the hand of death was on the soldiers, and after the third day their ranks began to dwindle. The column hastened back toward the main body of troops. Instead of finding relief, the few hundred survivors of the column saw frightful ravages of disease.

The instant the column departed cholera attacked those who remained behind. From a dozen deaths the first day, the rate leaped to over 200 the second, to 500 the third, and when the whole column reached camp on the fourth day nearly 2000 of their comrades had died.

One by one the boats put from the place of death. They were sent down the river anywhere to escape from the plague spot. But there was not a boat where death did not claim victims.

As the remnants of the main body of troops came down the river they saw shocking sights. Lined along the banks were hundreds of the corpses of the soldiers who had deserted them in a vain effort to flee from death. Groans of the dying here heard from all sides, deserted boats strewed the edges of the river, while from the current itself were hundreds more of swollen bodies that helped to pollute the atmosphere.

Scarcely 1000 survivors reached Simanggang. It is doubtful if more than 1500 in all escaped.

CASS LAKE

Claims Will Be Reported on By Inspector Nesler.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Indian Inspector Nesler has returned to Washington and is preparing a report for Secretary Hitchcock on his investigation on the condition at Cass Lake involving the conflicting claims of Mary Lydick and her children and of the occupants of section 15 and 16 in that township. Mr. Nesler refuses to say anything about the report, but so far as can be learned he will simply submit a statement of the claims of the different parties. So far as the occupants on section 16 are concerned, they are not to be considered. They are simply trespassers and probably will not be recognized by the department. As to the property holders on the north half of 15, it is recognized that they have equities that must be recognized. The land on which this part of the town of Cass Lake known locally as the "old town," was located, was largely opened to settlement and entry and was purchased by the holders in good faith. To deprive them of their holdings would be an injustice according to the reports received here, and it is probable that Secretary Hitchcock will try to find some way to let them continue to hold their land.

Upon the return of Assistant Attorney General Vandewater these facts and claims will be laid before him and he will be requested to render an opinion which will be final and settle the controversy that has raged for the past two or three years.

Inspector Nesler reports that the Indians on several reservations who have not taken allotment have expressed willingness to do so and it is probable that this stumbling block in the way of the opening of the agricultural land under the Nelson and Morris acts will shortly be removed.

Agents of the forestry division of the department of agriculture are now at work selecting lands to be reserved for forestry purposes and he predicts that all preliminary steps necessary to be taken before the timber on the ceded reservation can be sold will be concluded within a few months.

TURTLE MOUNTAIN REDS.

How They Are Abused By White Neighbors.

Washington, Sept. 12.—J. B. Bottineau and his uncle, Charles Bottineau, who is a member of the council of Turtle Mountain Indians of North Dakota, yesterday laid before Secretary Hitchcock a complaint from a member of that tribe of fraud practiced on its members by white people in the neighborhood of the reservation. It is charged that they induce fullbloods and half-breeds to make homestead entries later on secure transfers of their rights for a very small consideration. The Indians have made contracts with a local attorney to look out for their interests before the department of the interior and have asked the secretary to approve that contract.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

Childhood Lovers Married After Each Reared a Family.

Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 12.—Hon. James E. North, of Columbus, Neb., aged 64, and Mrs. Lucinda B. Smith, of Hillsdale, Mich., aged 62, were married in this city Wednesday evening. They met here, Mrs. Smith arriving late in the afternoon. The couple were boy and girl together, but became widely separated through marriage. Mr. North's wife died some years ago, as did Mrs. Smith's husband. They began a correspondence which resulted in carrying out ideas which possessed them in their childhood—they were married. Each has several grown children. Mr. North, under the Cleveland administration, was revenue collector in Nebraska, and his son is still a deputy in the Omaha office.

GREAT INTEREST

In National Convention of Employer and Employe.

Minneapolis, Sept. 12.—Secretary G. L. Rockwell of the National Convention of Employer and Employe, to be held in this city Sept. 22-26, is busy receiving acceptances of invitations sent to labor organization officials. The program has just been issued, and an important place is given W. E. McEwen, secretary-treasurer of the State Federation of Labor. He will speak Thursday morning on "Future Relations of Capital and Labor." President Roosevelt will make an address in the afternoon.

Prominent speakers will be Carroll D. Wright, Professor Richard T. Ely, Herman Justi, F. P. Sargent, F. W. Job, Avery C. Moore, of Idaho; T. V. Powderly, Professor J. B. Clark, Professor F. L. McVey, William Robertson, of Dunfermline, Scotland; Jane Addams, Florence Kelly and William H. Tolman. The letter-carriers will turn out in great force the night that their new national president, James C. Keller, of Cleveland, will speak on "The Government as an Employer."

Great interest attaches to this convention. Especially are Eastern employers and toilers watching with interest the expected results which will proceed as a result of the deliberations. On this neutral ground arguments may be made coolly, and without doubt great good is to flow from the meetings.

A SCHENCK NEEDED.

London, Sept. 12.—In a dispatch from St. Petersburg, the correspondent of the Daily Mail relates that the commander of the Cossack station at Wertschink, anxious that his district should show a preponderance of males, has ordered the father of every girl baby born in the district shall receive fifty strokes with the knout. Several men, says the correspondent, have already been knouted under this ruling.

FORMALLY ADOPTED

Charter Commission Approves Amendments to Be Submitted.

Important Change Made In One of the Amendments.

Council May Designate Material For Paving Streets.

The charter commission formally adopted the prosed eight amendments, last evening.

To become part of the fundamental statutes of the municipality these amendments must be ratified by an affirmative vote of three-fifths of all voters voting at the special election to be held on Oct. 23.

There was a very important and far-reaching change made in the redrafting of one of the propositions by the commissioners. It gives the council the right to designate the material with which streets are to be paved.

Under the present charter that is the prerogative of the petitioning property owners, and if they should say that the streets should be paved with putty, the council would have to order the improvement according to the petition.

This leaving of the choice of paving materials to the city officers is regarded as an exceptionally good idea, for the reason that the petitioning property owners are likely to have such a wide range of choice that the city streets would look like a crazy quilt, with radically different paving materials in every other block.

Again it is generally conceded that the city engineer and other city officers that have spent years in studying street paving are better qualified to pass on the merits of the various materials than a gathering of property owners that meet for one evening only and listen to the talk of a representative of one paving manufaturing concern.

If the proposed amendment had been in effect several months ago, not a foot of asphalt paving would ever have been ordered for East Superior street. All the city officers that have examined this paving and know atmospheric conditions in this section that affect paving materials, regard the asphalt as a useless waste of time and money despite the fact that a 10-year guarantee accompanies it.

Under the proposed amendment the circulating of paving petitions would be taken out of the hands of competing paving concerns, and the council would have authority to circulate the petitions.

Another of the proposed assessments provides that 80 per cent of the cost of any street or sewer improvement can be collected before the work on the contract begins instead of after it is finished, as at present.

This increases the efficiency of the permanent improvement revolving fund as does another proposed amendment, which, if passer will put an additional $50,000 in that fund.

The council will also be given authority to order the building of trunk sewers without a property owners' petition, if the amendment is ratified, when fourteen of the sixteen aldermen consider the improvement necessary and proper.

As an encouragement to the prompt payment of special improvement assessments a penalty of 10 per cent will be added to the assessments that are not paid within thirty days of the levy, instead of giving a rabate of 10 per cent as under the present system.

Other amendments passed on were morel correcting technical errors in the present charter and have been published in detail before.

J. R. PARSHALL DEAD.

Was Trustee of the Minnesota Soldiers' Home.

St. Paul, Sept. 12.—John R. Parshall, a trustee of the Minnesota soldiers' home, died Wednesday night at Faribault, where he was an old resident. He will be buried at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Parshall came to Minnesota in 1857, but he returned to Ohio at the outbreak of the civil war and enlisted in the Sixth Ohio cavalry. He was serving his third term as a trustee of the soldiers' home and he had been an officer at Faribault of other state institutions. Whatever was public task, he displayed exceptional ability and a high sense of civic duty.

ARTISTIC ELEMENT

Effort Being Made to Increase It In Duluth.

David Ericson Devoting His Stay Here to That Purpose.

Beautiful Paintings Exhibited at the Salon In Paris.

An attempt is being made to give Duluth one thing lacking, an artistic atmosphere, and the services and production of a local artist, who has made a name for himself abroad, are being used as a foundation for the effort.

David Ericson, a Duluth young man, who has achieved unusual success in art since his studies in Paris, is home for a short time, and his services have been called in to assist the movement to arouse the dormant artistic spirit of the city. He has enlisted in the work with all his energy and he is helping it along by arranging an exhibit of his pictures in his studio in the Metropolitan block, where he has a number of his best creations, including three pictures that have achieved the distinction of being hung in the French salon. The pictures are tastefully and suitably displayed, and many people are visiting the studio daily.

"Perhaps the need of the existence of an artistic spirit is not fully appreciated by some," said Mr. Ericson yesterday afternoon. "In my judgment it is just as important as any other element that enters into city life. The impression prevails in the East that the West is all commercialism and ill-taste, and that art and the love of it are unknown quantities. This impression is being overborn in many Western cities, and Duluth will soon take steps in that direction. I think it is important that an art collection should be had for the public library. Some few years ago several thousands of dollars were spent for fireworks, that went up in one night, in order that visitors to the city might be entertained. The same amount of money spent in pictures would have provided entertainment for visitors to the city that would last for years."

Many Duluthians are familiar with Mr. Ericson's history, and with the earnestness and persistence with which he has pursued his studies for years in Paris and elsewhere. He has spent some years of late in Paris in the study of composition, and the effect of his work along these lines is plainly discernible in the pictures he is showing. His work is characterized by spirit, truth and an infinite and faithful attention to detail. Each of his pictures bears study, which only brings out its merits and beauties.

Chief among his pictures on exhibition now is a magnificent "Nativity" which has lately arrived from Paris, the salon having closed after Mr. Ericson left for home. It was hung in the middle of the large hall of the salon, in the place of honor, and it is a marvelously beautiful work of art. It is characterized by a religious sentiment that awes the admirer. It is a large picture, with nearly life-size figures, and the expression of the persons portrayed is little short of marvelous. A rich lamplight effect is shown, and a richness of tone is a prominent feature of the picture. Perhaps the most charming effect is the beatific and uplifted expression on the face of the Madonna. All of these effects are accomplished without the use of halos or other artificial means.

Another salon picture is a classic effect, a moonlight scene with nymphs and fauns dancing. A wierd and mysterious tone prevails, and the background is balanced by a great tree and the columns of a classic structure.

The third salon exhibit is Mr. Ericson's "Orpheus," picturing the subject in the depths of despair, in a dim, mysterious light, a mystic and entrancing composition. A picture of an old man, a very charming work, was a favorite with Whistler, with whom Mr. Ericson studied. There are some landscapes from Brittany, in which Mr. Ericson's mastery of technique stand out conspicuously. A remarkable lamplight effect is attaned in a picture of an old man reading.

In short, the walls are covered with pictures that Mr. Ericson has done, and not one of them can be classed with the "pot-boilers." All are earnest and faithful productions, pictures of which Duluth may well be proud as the work of a Duluthian.

Mr. Ericson has just completed a fine portrait of the late Judge D. A. Dickinson, by commisson of W. W. Bilson and Chester A. Congdon, his law partners. The portrait is to be presented to the supreme court of the state and will adorn the walls of the court room of that tribunal. Judge Dickinson having been a member of the court at one time. It is a particularly fine work, despite the fact that it was of necessity painted from a photograph. The likeness is strikingly true and the coloring perfect.

STREET RAILWAY WORK.

Status of Improvements Here and at Superior.

Among the fall improvements contemplated by the street railway company, aside from the erection of the new car barn near Third street in West Superior, is a rebuilding of the line to the Steel Plant in that city. New rails and new ties are to be put down and the line is to be extended to the St. Louis river. The line is not to be double-tracked this season, but a system of switches put in for use until next year, when the second track will be built. The new trackage to South Superior and to Old Superior has been completed, and with a new track to the Steel Plant, West Superior will have a completely new railway system.

On this side of the bay the company has still a large number of men employed on the improvements to the Woodland line, and is double-tracking Raleigh street in West Duluth from Fifty-sixth avenue to the end of the line at Sixty-third avenue west. The company has not begun to improve its tracks on East Superior street, where the new paving is being put down, it being claimed that the new rails expected have not arrived.

It is now said that the East and West Fourth street tracks will not be relaid this year and will have to go over until next year at least. President Goodrich of the company stated last spring that the plans for this year contemplated the relaying of these lines.

TRIED TO LIVE ON GRASS.

Death of Two Doukhobors In Canadian Northwest.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 12.—A report from Korkton says Nihilist agents have been busy among the Doukhobors and many of the latter are turning their horses and cattle adrift and the men and women are hauling the wagons.

One Vladimir Dler Maynowde, who professes to be a religious teacher, but is believed to be a Nihilist agent from some of the literature he has been spreading, is doing great harm. He claims that all things belong to God and that there should be no government.

He also says that the men should have no money and, acting on his words, several Doukhobors offered all the money they had to the Dominion emigration authorities.

The only effectual way to protect the Doukhobors is to deport the persons instigating the trouble. There is an unconfirmed report that two Doukhobors died from the effects of training to live on grass. The government authorities say all the reports about the Doukhobors are exaggerated.

GOES TO BROOKLYN.

Important Post With Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company.

Minneapolis, Sept. 12.—George R. Folds, for the past nine years prominently connected with the Twin City Rapid Transit company and for the past three years claim agent of the company in St. Paul, severs his connection with the company next week to accept an important position with the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company. Mr. Folds will be one of the attorneys for the immense electric railway system of Greater New York, a position of high trust and importance. He will probably leave for his new field of work the latter part of next week.

Mr. Folds first became connected with the Twin City Rapid Transit company in 1893, and for five years was assistant claim agent of the company, with headquarters in Minneapolis. In February, 1898, he was transferred to St. Paul, as general claim agent, which position he has since held.

Mr. Folds will be succeeded here by James Mattimore, who has been his assistant in the claim department. Mr. Mattimore's position will be taken by Charles R. Frost of Munn & Thygeson's office.

MAHER WINS FIGHT.

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—Peter Maher knocked out Jim Jeffords in six rounds at the Broadway Athletic club last night. The men fought at catch weights, and were to have gone six rounds. Maher brought his right flush on Jeffords' jaw, dropping the latter to the mat. After a few seconds Jeffords made an effort to rise, but again fell back. He managed to pull himself together and staggered the full width of the ring, and while hanging on the ropes Maher again sent his right to the jaw and Jeffords went down and out.

LATEST IN DANCES

The "Coronation Gavotte" Will Rule Society This Winter.

Readily Adopted By the Convention of Dancing Masters.

Of Stately Movements and Mingles Waltz With Minuet.

New York, Sept. 12.—Are you "on to" the "Coronation Gavotte?"

No? Well, then you may as well "cut out" socially this season, for the dancing masters of America, in convention assembled, have decreed that the "coronation gavotte" shall be the one and only thing in the way of dancing.

It is brand new, as its name indicates, and has been readily adopted by the convention of dancing masters at the Hotel Majestic, this city, as the 'proper caper."

Debutantes will delight in it, for it is a stately dance. The somewhat blase society devotees will revel in it because it is more restful than the romping twostep, which has had such a sway for half a decade. Those who glory in the enchanting swing of the slow-gilding waltz will find renewed pleasure in the ball room with the "coronation gavotte" as a pastime, for it mingles the minuet with the "mazy waltz" to a charm.

You take your partner upon the floor, and, while the music is droning along with some dreamy waltz, you bow to the right and the left and describe a semi-circle with the tip of your patent leather shoe. This is all mere preliminary. Your partner has been doing the same all the while, with many a glance from one side and the other, like a Spanish senorita when the orchestra plays "La Gitana" at the carnivals of Madrid.

Then you take your partner by the hand. She steps around lightly to the other side and smiles and bows some more. You are supposed to recognize these bows by "courtesying" a little yourself. Next you place your arm around your partner as in the old-fashioned waltz, holding her elbow so as to allow her arm from the elbow down to her finger tips to rest slightly upon your arm above the elbow. This is a little more loving than the old style of waltz, where you simply take the girl's hand and fly around as if you were pumping on an old-fashioned farm pump handle, but it is far more comfortable and certainly causes the young woman to look as if she was at least on speaking terms with her partner.

A few glides at the waltz step brings you back again to the minuet part of the "coronation gavotte," and you do some more smiling and bowing, just as if you had a lace handkerchief in one hand, a snuff box in the other and a white wig on your head, saying nothing of the knickerbockers and white satin slippers.

The "Coronation Gavotte" is offered to society this year by Oskar Duenweg, a dancing master of Terre Haute, Ind.

Another new one that has been passed favorably by the convention is to be known as the "Waltz Dip." Now, don't think this the old regulation "Boston Dip," which sent you dropping to the floor three times after several glides of the waltz step. It is quite different. You and your partner take two glide steps as if waltzing, that is to say, the well-known motion forward and backward, and then the lady glides off to the side with an oblique step, which further than making her appear extremely coquettish, enables her to show her tiny foot from beneath a perfect Niagara of lingerie. Recovering your composure you follow the lady and both of you, as if by inspiration, make two slight dips, which bring you back to position again, ready to repeat.

R. W. Vizay, president of the association, who is dancing instructor at the United States military academy said:

"I approve of the recent turn in dancing. Everything now is looking backward to our old dignified and stately dances. There is less of the hilarious romping around the floor, such as the two-step furnished the young people in America and Great Britain during the war campaigns recently.

"Just get a band started on a march and you would see the boys and girls fly away on a two-step as if they were all skipping off to war. Quite different from now on. The dances that are being approved now by the teachers of the art are such as bring back into play the old forms of dancing—a snatch here and there of the minuet, the gavotte, the waltz.

"After all, there is nothing more thrilling than the old snow-ride waltz, and it is gradually coming back to rule society at all big balls."

DAN PATCH FAILS

To Lower His Record at Syracuse, N. Y.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Dan Patch, with McHenry up, went a mile in 2:00¼ yesterday in a try for the record under weather conditions that were considered favorable with the exception of a slight breeze that bothered him in the final quarter. The pacer went the half mile in 59¼, which is the best he had ever done, except at Readville, and excitement reached a fever heat in the crowd of 30,000 people watching the event, for it was thought he stood a good show to beat his own record of 1:59½. The third quarter was done in good time, but facing the breeze, on the home stretch, he lost time and finished in 2:00¼. The time by quarters was 29½, 59¼, 1:30, 2:00¼.

The sensational feature of yesterday's event was an exciting race to wagons between the Monk, driven by Mr. Billings, and Lord Derby, piloted by Mr. Smathers. At the beginning of the mile-dash, The Monk had a shade the better of it, but Lord Derby soon pulled up, and from the three-eighth post to the half it was nose and nose. Lord Derby forged a bit ahead and then in the stretch was a half length ahead.

Billings failed to reach, and Lord Derby won with room to spare.

Later George Heard drove Lord Derby to a sulky to beat the trotting record of the year, but the best he could do was 2:06 flat. The Monk was also driven to a sulky in 2:06¼.

TO TRY A NEW GAME

Filibustering Tactics to Be Adopted By Asphalt Company.

Talk of an Injunction In Order to Gain Time.

Explanation of the Street Railway Company's Attitude.

Filibustering tactics have been adopted by the corporations anxious to temporarily tie up the East Superior street improvement.

An injunction suit against the city is now threatened by these corporations if an effort is made to carry out the will of the people by compelling the Barber Asphalt company to begin paving immediately.

Notwithstanding this new feature of the fight of the obstructionists, the city officers will stand pat and insist that the paving begin in time to be finished by Oct. 15 or the contract awarded to the Barber company will be annulled.

The situation is this: The asphalt company, for private business reasons, does not wish to lay the East Superior street paving till next spring.

As an excuse for not fulfilling the terms of its contract, which requires the paving to be ready for use by the middle of next month, the company says that the street railway company is unable to get rails for East Superior street in time for the paving to go ahead this year.

As a matter of fact the city officers have it on the best of authority that the street railway company had made all arrangements to bring rails up from Minneapolis, until it was known that the asphalt company did not care to go ahead with the work this fall.

The president of the street car company is one of the largest stockholders in the paving concern, hence the cooperation between the two corporations.

The city officers today learned that plans had been made by the obstructionists to stop work with injunction proceedings when the sub-contractor begins taking up the old cedar block paving next Monday morning.

The corporations are likely to gain their point even if they lose the injunction suit, for it will delay work two weeks, at least, thus making it impossible to fulfil the terms of the contract and at the same time giving the paving trust an apparently valid excuse for not getting the improvement finished on Oct. 15, according to contract.

The situation is simply a matter of whether or not the city can annul the contract and award the paving to another concern.

If the Barber company gets its way and holds the improvement over till next summer, it would mean the tying up of about $50,000 of city money that is very necessary for other and fully as important improvements.

Newest Suits and Wraps

We have now in stock more new and stylish Suits and Wraps than can be found in any three other stores in Superior and Duluth combined.

Each and every garment was bought within the last few days after Mr. Spicer had spent weeks in careful study of the styles advocated by the foremost makers in New York.

We know positively that every style in our stock is new, desirable and approved by the world of fashion.

We guarantee our styles to be absolutely correct, and agree to exchange any cloak or suit bought here at any time this fall.

That means, of course, provided the garment has not been worn—we could not take back any garment which has been worn, nor would you expect us to do so.

Those who wish to be the first to wear the new styles—those who prefer the exclusive and ultra fashionable—will find here a collection of garments beyond comparison with any other in this region—there are hundreds and hundreds of new and charming styles—and you'll not be able to duplicate them elsewhere.

One reason for the difference in styles here and elsewhere is because most of our garments are copies of imported garments which arrived only toward the end of Mr. Spicer's stay in New York. He was quick to see and appreciate their beauty and immediately had them copied and here they are—the most advanced—the newest of the new styles. This feature will be greatly appreciated by all good dressers—it is an advantage no other store in Superior or Duluth can offer you.

And there is also a price—advantage which makes our garments doubly attractive—for we will save you dollars in addition to giving you exclusive styles.

We urge you to see our present showing—it is so "different"—so far in advance of the elsewhere stocks—that you really must see it to be posted on the season's fashionable modes.

We are paying paricular attention to our Children's Department this season—it is certainly the strongest and best of its kind in the Northwest.

Welcome—All welcome to see and to examine these gems of tailors' art.

Take Interstate cars direct to our doors.

Burglars at Ishpeming Fail to Secure Any Cash.

Ishpeming—Burglars blew open the safe in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway station Wednesday night. Agent J. R. Peebles carried all the cash, amounting to over $100, home with him the previous night and a revolver was the only thing taken.

Bessemer—David Macfarlane, the leading druggist and jeweler here, also agent for the American and National Express companies, has filed a general assignment for the benefit of preferred cerditors with H. M. Norris and S. S. Coope as trustees. The preferred creditors have claims amounting to $2676.08. Other claims involving $2000 are also held against Macfarlane and litigation is in progress upon them.

Calumet—A postoffice has been established, on the Mineral Range railroad, and J. W. Alston appointed postmaster.

A raft of 1,000,000 feet of logs, owned by D. J. Norton, a lumberman, of Ontonagon, has been lost and a great deal of the timber cannot be recovered. The raft was valued at $10,000.

Chicago men are endeavoring to purchase an interest in the Calumet and Arizona mine, controlled by Calumet and Pittsburg citizens.

About 300,000 black bass fry have been received from the government at Washington and will be planted in the streams and lakes in the copper country.

Indications point to heavy logging operations in the upper peninsula this winter.

Iron Mountain—Dr. Crowell, of Iron Mountain, has been appointed surgeon-in-chief of all mines on the Menominee range owned and operated by the Oliver Iron Mining company. The surgeon-in-chief will have entire charge of the several mine physicians, who will report to him. The district extends over Dickinson and Iron counties.

Menominee—While driving through Talbot, Menominee county, the other day, W. G. Esbrook saw four bears cross the track near the pumphouse there. He hurriedly secured a gun, went after the bears and succeeded in killing one of them. The three others disappeared in the woods. The one that was killed was a female bear and weighed about 200 pounds.

While trying to steal a ride from Iron Mountain to Amasa, John Hill fell between a couple of ore cars at Iron Mountain and had a leg taken off. A week ago Hill was arrested and given a sentence of fifteen days in the Dickinson county jail. He was discharged at the expiration of five days, it is said; otherwise he would be in jail now, instead of at a hospital, and in possession of both of his legs.

Lake Linden—Henry Marcotte, of Tamarack City, was dealt a heavy blow across the face with a club by Peter George, a Greek confectionery dealer, Tuesday night, and may be disfigured for life as a result. Marcotte's companion had been annoying the Greek early in the evening. About 11 o'clock Marcotte drove up in front of the confectioner's store and while tying his horse was assaulted by the Greek. Marcotte swore out a warrant for George's arrest. The Greek was heavily fined, but Marcotte says he will sue civilly in circuit court to recover damages.

INCREASE OF WAGES

Will Be Demanded By Locomotive Engineers.

San Francisco, Sept. 12.—The Call says that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will, on Jan. 1 next, make a formal demand for an increase of wages. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, it is said, is not affiliated in its fight with the Western federation of general committees, composed of railroad conductors and brakemen.

The Pacific system of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is at present in session in this city. All their conferences are executive. In thirty days' time the locomotive engineers and the conductors and trainmen of the Southern Pacific will send deiegates to this city to meet Manager Alger, as their 2-year contracts with the company will expire and will require renewal.

HEAVY PENALTY

May Be Given to Mail Car Thief.

St. Paul, Sept. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A fine of $1000, with from one to five years in prison may be awarded by the federal court to Ray Roe, who was arrested at Tracy, Minn., on Wednesday evening by Postal Inspector H. O. Smith. Roe broke into a mail car on the Chicago & Northwestern railway, at Tracy, last February, and stole $14 belonging to the mail clerk. The postoffice authorities have been looking for the robber ever since, but only recently were they able to find a clue pointing to his identity.

NO IMMEDIATE DANGER.

Spa, Belgium, Sept. 12.—The condition of the queen of the Belgians, who was seized with an attack of asthma yesterday, is serious today, but no immediate danger is apprehended.

WAS A NEPHEW.

Berlin, Sept. 12.—A nephew of Gen. Dewet, the Boer commander, arrived here recently to be treated by Professor Bergmann for a gunshot wound. It was erroneously printed here that Gen. Dewet himself had a bullet removed from his body.

PENSIONS GRANTED.

Washington, Sept. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following pensions have been granted: Original—Henry S. Hill, of Little Falls, $8. Widows—Catharine L. Lincoln, of Wadena, $8. Minor, of Bartholomew Thorne, of Weir's Grove, $10.

MAKING PROTEST

Many Citizens Object to Removal of the Cannon.

Scoff at Principle Which Actuated the School Board.

Claim That Cannon Inspired Patriotism In the Young.

The removal of the old Spanish cannon from the Duluth Central High School grounds, which has been ordered, has resulted in protestations from a great many of the citizens of Duluth whose children attend the high school. One citizen said yesterday afternoon:

"I understand that there is talk of taking the Spanish cannon off the High School grounds and dumping it in some place in the city not so prominent, on the ground that it is not a good object lesson for the children attending the school.

"If that is the reason the cannon is to be moved, it is high time that the patriotic parents of chilren attending our public schools arouse themselves and put a stop to any namby-pamby sentimentalism on the part of the school board or anybody else who suggests taking away the cannon.

"One of the things we send our children to school for is to be taught lessons of patriotism, and I for one can see no harm if my boy or my neighbor's girl points to the old relic and exclaims with pride, 'That is the cannon we won from Spain.'

"I do not mean that children should be encouraged to talk in a spirit of braggadocio, but I do believe that a certain amount of patriotic pride in our children is a good thing.

"I know I am not alone in this way of thinking, and feel assured that there are many other parents in our city who have an idea that things are working around a little too much for a curtailment of the independent spirits of our children."

Capt. Ray T. Lews says that if the cannon is removed the proper place to put it is in the small tower in Cascade park. This is built something in the style of a small fortress, and he thinks that would be an ideal location for it.

THE DAKOTAS.

Chief Walking Shield Will Be Hanged In October.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Deadwood—Judge Carland, in the United States court, sentenced Allen Walking Shield, the Rosebud Indian convicted of murdering Mrs. Sarah Ghost Face Bear, to be hanged at Sioux Falls Oct. 24. The prisoner took the interpretation of the sentence with more than ordinary stoicism. On May 8 Walking Shield killed Mrs. Bear and carried away her daughter. Before going to trial he confessed to killing several persons.

Bryant—Andrew Holbeck, a young man working on a thresher, had a narrow escape from a horrible death. He dropped his fork into the carrier leading to the cylinder, and in endeavoring to recover it was caught and drawn into the self-feeder knives. The machine was stopped in time to save his life, but not before his left arm had been badly cut.

A stranger had a foot crushed on a local freight. He was standing on the coupler when the train moved, and his foot was caught between the bumpers.

Hot Springs—Four companies of Fort Robinson cavalry and three troops of Fort Meade cavalry are here upon their annual practice march, and will remain all the week. A military ball will be given at the Evans tonight and will be largely attended from out of town. A big polo game will be played between the teams from the respective forts on Friday. Bands are here from both places, and the town presents an exceptionally gala appearance.

Yankton—A coroner's jury in the case of Louis C. Thrane found that he came to his death at the hands of Elmer Brown and Charles Carter, or with their assistance. Information will be filed charging both with murder.

Salem—Rev. A. C. McCauley, pastor of the Presbyterian churches of Bridgewater and Canistota, celebrated his seventeenth anniversary as pastor of these churches. After the sermon at Canistota the usher handed the pastor a communication to be read, inviting the congregation to an informal reception in the church Monday evening, in honor of the pastor's anniversary. Monday a large congregation, irrespective of church affiliations, gathered and greeted the pastor. The older members of the congregation presented him with a beautiful rocker, and the children, all born since the pastorate began, gave him a beautiful souvenir spoon. Rev. Mr. McCauley has the longest pastorate of any minister in the Presbyterian church in the state.

Lake Preston—An accident causing the death of two horses occurred while three farmers were cutting hay. They were running three mowers, one back of the other, and a boy was driving the last team. His horses became frightened and ran away, running directly towards the other teams and cutting two of the horses so badly they had to be killed. The boy was not injured, but the mower was demolished.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Jamestown—The losses of the Alliance Hail association will aggregate about $30,000 this season, and all have been adjusted to date, the last being in Traill county.

Owing to windy and rainy weather, threshing in the James River valley is little more than nicely started. The delay is causing a great deal of anxiety, as the crop is so heavy that with the best of weather from now until cold weather, there will be only about time to complete the work.

Fargo—Rev. D. G. Colp, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, has resigned after three years' service here to take a post graduate course at the University of Minnesota.

There has been a great deal of agitation over the poor condition of some of the sidewalks, and the council has made a wholesale condemnation of certain districts. The effect will be to extend the cement sidewalks, of which many miles have been put in the last three or four years.

D. Cameron, who has been manager of the Singer Sewing machine interests for North and South Dakota and Montanan, with headquarters in Fargo, has been promoted to a leading position at the general agency in Milwaukee, and will remove there soon.

The good roads committee has outlined the program for the work here next week. Some of it will be in the nature of macadamizing and the rest in samples of dirt road. The speakers have been selected and will be announced as soon as their acceptance can be secured. President J. J. Hill has promised to address the convention one day if he can possibly come.

HIS VISIT IS BRIEF

President Shaughnessy of Canadian Pacific Here Forty Minutes.

Milwaukee Road Estimates Grain Movement Thirty Days Late.

Railroads Are Fined For Cutting Rates at Fair Time.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railroad, was in the city for a brief spell this morning. He came up in his special car on the morning Northern Pacific train, arriving here at 6:30 o'clock. At 7:10 o'clock, forty minutes later, a special took the private car out over the South Shore road for an inspection of that line. Sir Thomas probably did not even know he was in Duluth, for the car was dropped off the Northern Pacific train and taken in charge by the special in a very short time, and there were no signs that anybody aboard of the car got up during its stay in the city. President Shaughnessy is out doing an inspection tour of the Canadian Pacific, Soo and South Shore roads, and he is now making his way back to his headquarters at Montreal.

THIRTY DAYS BEHIND.

Milwaukee Officials Think That of Grain Movement.

General Agent Kennedy, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, has received notice from the head offices of the road that it is expected there that the grain movement will be about thirty days later than usual this year. It is already considerably delayed, and receipts are extraordinarily light, but it had not been generally supposed that it would be quite as late as that.

The Milwaukee road is to bring in its share of the grain that is arriving here now, and that is a much larger share than many local people outside of the railroad business might imagine. The Milwaukee reaches a wide area of the grain country, in Minnesota and the Dakotas, and it goes far enough south to be getting the earlier shipments there, which are considerably in advance of those in the northern part of the grain belt.

FINED THE ROADS

Convicted Of Rate Cutting at Fair Time.

Several railroads entering the Twin Cities have been convicted of cutting rates on state fair business and heavily fined for the offense. By this the St. Paul City Passenger association has conclusively proved the necessity of a joint distributing agent to prevent the secret rate cutting by roads at fair time.

Last year the association appointed Herman Brown St. Paul city ticket agent of the Wisconsin Central, to distribute the business arising from the movement of circus and midway performers equally among the various lines. This Mr. Brown did satisfactorily, and there was no complaint of any kind. This year no joint agent was appointed, but Mr. Brown, as secretary of the association, was directed to keep a lookout for secret rate cutting and the gobbling of all the business by a few roads. As a result, complaints were lodged against the Milwaukee, Northwestern, Great Western and Albert Lea lines. The two latter were able to vindicate themselves, but the Milwaukee and Northwestern were taxed heavy fines by the association yesterday for violating the rules, and trying to secure business by cutting rates.

Will Hold Meeting.

The railroads that have refused to grant the Twin City Merchants' association a series of fall excursion rates to the Twin Cities are to hold another meeting to make another statement of their position and their reasons for declining to make the required rate of a fare and a fifth for the round trip.

The railroads disclaim any intention of unfairness, and, while they are not likely to change their attitude, they want the present dissatisfaction on the part of the merchants done away with if possible. In declining he requests for these excursion rates, the railroads pointed out that such a plan would antagonize the retail merchants of the smaller communities who have put in stocks of goods to sell to their townspeople, and such antagonism, they say, would react upon the railroads and the Twin City merchants.

Railroad Notes.

There will be a scarcity of traveling passenger agents about the Northwest for a time. They are most all off on a junket to the convention at Montreal, leaving St. Paul last night on a special car, one of the handsom new sleeping cars recently received by the Great Northern. By rail and lake the party will go to Montreal to attend the convention, to take a number of jaunts to interesting spots thereabouts, and to have a good time generally. They will return week after next, leaving Quebec Sept. 21.

The Northern Pacific sleeping car service on the coast trains is to be changed. The sleeping cars will be taken off the trains going to and coming from the Yellowstone park. The last sleeper will leave St. Paul Sept. 17. Beginning Sept. 18 a local standard sleeping car service will be established between Seattle and Spokane.

The train to take the Minnesota G. A. R. representatives to the annual encampment at Washington will leave St. Paul Oct. 4 at 7:35 o'clock p. m. The headquarters of the Minnesota posts during the encampment at Washington will be the Ebbit house.

Olaf P. Stenson

Republican candidate for county auditor, is an old settler in Duluth. He was born in Norway and has done much to build up the city and strengthen the party with Scandinavian votes. He thinks that the present auditor ought to be satisfied with four terms, and kindly asks the Republican voters to support him at the primary election.

Campaign Is Active.

The campaign for the nomination of Charles d'Autremont for congress on the Democratic ticket is in full sway. The announcement today of the city committee revealed a list of old-time workers for the party that are in line for him, and this promises that the closing days of the campaign will be active ones indeed.

CORN CROP SAFE.

The Mercury Drops Below Freezing In Nebraska.

Omaha, Sept. 12.—Twenty-six degrees was the mark registered by the thermometer at the weather bureau this morning, where frost was reported throughout the state. It is believed that the corn crop generally is beyond the danger point, although in the valleys there still remains part of the crop which will be somewhat damaged. Forecaster Welsh says the conditions are favorable for continued low temperature.

CLEVER VICTORY

Scored By Jockey Danny Maher With Elba.

London, Sept. 12.—Danny Maher, the American jockey, scored a clever victory in the race at the Doncaster September meet today for the Park Hill stakes. He landed Elba a winner by half a length from the famous Scepter, on which 4 to 1 against had been laid. Elba started at 10 to 1 against.

Maher, on Pondeau, later won the Prince of Wales nursery plate handicap, scoring against twenty-five others.

COLORADO REPUBLICANS

Meet In State Convention Without a Slate.

Denver, Sept. 12.—The Republican state convention met here today with not even the temporary chairman agreed upon. The leading candidates for the gubernatorial nomination are: James H. Brown, of Denver, and James Peabody, of Canon City, with several dark horses, including Frank C. Goudy, the candidate of two years ago, and John W. Springer, president of the National Live Stock association, commanding good followings.

CLAIMS HER BABE

Emma Nelson, Who Deserted Her Infant, Recovers It.

Has Change of Heart After Leaving Little One.

Duluth People Adopted It But Cannot Retain It.

Having abandoned her babe in Superior four months ago, Miss Emma Nelson, a young woman, returned to Duluth to claim her own.

She found upon arriving here that the child had been taken by a respectable family, who refused to give it up.

Under habeas corpus proceedings the case came to trial yesterday afternoon in the district court, and as the people who had taken the child had not legally adopted it, the babe was given back to its mother.

It will be remembered that last spring a baby a few days old was found in the Commercial hotel in Superior. A man and woman registering as man and wife were at the hotel the evening before and left some time during the night. Employes in the hotel heard the little one crying at an early hour, and an investigation brought forth the fact that the parents had skipped.

No trace of them could be found, although the police worked for some time on the case, and the humane officer took the child in charge and later left it at the children's home. A short time after that Frank D. Hyatt and wife, of this city, visited the home and received authority to take the child into their family and provide a home for it.

After having it for three weeks the Hyatts refused to give the child up, and the Nelson woman applied for a writ of habeas corpus. John Jenswold represented the petitioner and Baldwin & Baldwin appeared for the people who were caring for the child. The petition claimed that the confinement and detention of the child was illegal inasmuch as it was not authorized by a decree or order of the court. The Hyatts alleged that the petitioner was not a proper person to be entrusted with the custody of the child, and in addition claimed that she abandoned it last spring.

However, the court issued an order directing the Hyatts to give up the baby to its mother. They were loath to do so, but there was no alternative. The baby was too sick to be brought into court.

A letter from a Mr. and Mrs. Todd was introduced in evidence, which shows that while the police of Superior were hunting for the couple who had left the baby there were some there who knew all about the case.

The letter is a sympathetic one, and was written to Miss Nelson at Springfield, Minn. It says: "How could you leave so dear a babe. I don't see how that J. W. Rollins, that thing who calls himself a man, could force you to do so. When the people heard the little child crying at the hotel that morning they said that its mother must indeed have a heart of stone to leave it behind. We must speak plainly with you. When you left our house that night you promised that you would take good care of the baby. The people who have adopted it did not get any papers, so if you want to get your child you must come to Duluth at once, as I heard the man say that he wouldn't give up the baby for $1000. You better go to Duluth and tell the police."

The young woman was never married to the father of the child.

There are two sides to this little story, a pathetic one from everyday life. The kind people who adopted the child feel deeply the loss of the little one. Christian people, too, will say that there is hope for Emma Nelson, whose heart has been touched and has returned to bear the shame that the world may cast upon her out of love for her offspring which she left behind.

Will Make It Lively.

The campaign for the Democratic nomination for congress will be very lively from now on. The friends of Charles d'Autremont are out in force, and they say that they are going to wind up the campaign in a very vigorous and telling manner.

ONLY MALE HEIR

To Luxemburg Has Met With an Accident.

New York, Sept. 12.—Rumors that Prince William of Luxemburg has met with an accident, or suffered a stroke of paralysis, has created uneasiness, as he is the only son of the grand duke and has no male issue, says a Times dispatch from Paris by way of London.

The grand duchy of Luxemburg, between Prussia and Belgium, is one of the smallest independent states of the world. It contains 998 square miles, and its population is 236,000. The grand duchy, by the treaty of London of 1867, is a neutral and independent state, and its crown is hereditary in the Nassau family. The treaty was the result of a diplomatic contest for possession of the country between France and Prussia.

ROSPIGLIOSI CASE.

Lawyers Request Documents Be Brought to Rome.

Rome, Sept. 12.—The lawyers of Princess Rospigliosi, who was Miss Marie Reid, of Washington, D. C., and formerly the wife of Frederick Parkhurst of Bangor, Me., have requested the propaganda to have the original registers of St. Matthew's church of Washington and the chancellory of Baltimore brought to Rome in order to support her contention that no church dispensation for her marriage to Mr. Parkhurst was granted.

EARTHQUAKE IN ALASKA.

Seattle, Sept. 12.—The steamer Humboldt's passengers report earthquake shocks occurring Aug. 17 in Alaska along the coast between Muir and Yakutat. At Dundas the shaking began about 6 o'clock, lasting several seconds. The shock broke the windows, caused the collapse of an unfinished building of a salmon cannery and badly frightened a lot of Chinese fishermen. Tailor Bay was literally filled with ice jarred from Brady glacier. Innumerable tons of ice fell in the water, choking it almost to the point of preventing navigation.

A BAD CASE.

Joseph Shier Is Afflicted With Religious Insanity.

Religion has worked havoc with James Joseph Shier's mind.

When brought into probate court this morning to be examined as to his mental condition, the first thing he did was to fall to the floor and deliver an outpouring from his soul to his Maker.

Fifty-five years old, he is an object of pity, yet at times he seems rational enough. His idea of religion he has mingled with affairs in his home county. In speaking of his insanity, Shier, who seems to be a man of no little intelligence, said:

"Yes, I belong to the Latter Day Saints. Ten years ago I was baptized in the river of Jordan. The baptism took place near the mouth of the river, where it empties into Lake Michigan. Rev. E. L. Kelley baptized me. Just five days later—five days or five dollars—the holy ghost came into my soul. Kelley didn't get it for ten days. However, the holy ghost came into my soul in five days, as I now understand it. It was Wednesday morning when I was baptized. When Kelley was preaching to the Indians on Flint river it nearly killed him because I remembered the number of days.

"No, I don't mean that it killed him, but simply that he didn't know what to make of it. At Hibbing I preached in the synagogues, for the Lord said that we should go forth unto the world and speak the gospel. I had been preaching like the Saviour when they arrested me and put me in prison."

At this stage of the recital Shier again fell to the floor, but not before removing his shoes, and uttered another earnest prayer. He carries a New Testament in his coat, of which he is loath to let go. This he reads with avidity, and says he is not familiar with the Bible as a whole, although he has read it some.

Once Shier referred to his Testament as Brigham Young's coffin. "See," said he, "the cover is black."

Shier claims to have been living at Hibbing for five years, and that he has been taking care of Powers & Simpson's camps. Between raising three acres and a half of potatoes and looking after things in general he had considerable time to devote to his Testament.

The man was adjudged insane in probate court, and will be taken to Fergus Falls.

OLD DEFENDERS' DAY.

Baltimore, Sept. 12.—Today is known here as Old Defenders' day, it being the anniversary of the battle of North Point in defense of Baltimore against the British attack in 1814. By proclamation of th governor and mayor it is a legal holiday in the state and city, all the banks, exchanges, other public institutions being closed. Commercial business was partially suspended and various patriotic celebrations took place in the public parks.

Returned From the East.

S. Bernhard, of R. Krojanker's, has just returned from the East, where he made a very fortunate purchase of skirt novelties. The complete line will be placed on sale tomorrow morning at prices that will prove a surprise to the ladies of Duluth.

O'MALLEY HELD.

Charged With Holding Up and Robbing Roach.

St. Paul, Sept. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—James O'Malley was held to the grand jury this morning on a charge of highway robbery, preferred by John Roach, who was held up Saturday night at Pleasant avenue and Chestnut street. John Wilson was discharged.

Roach failed to identify the latter, though he positively identified O'Malley as the man who went through his clothes, while another man held a revolver to his face.

Pushing His Canvass.

A number of the Democratic wheel horses of long service in this district are in the field in behalf of Charles d'Autremont, and are pushing along his campaign for the Democratic nomination for congress. They have promised vigorous support to their choice for the Democratic nomination.

KATE SHELLY A NURSE.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 12.—Miss Kate Shelly, the heroine of many poems and writings in prose, who when a child saved a trainload of people from death by creeping over a frozen bridge near Moingona, Iowa, in a raging storm and warning the engineer of the danger has been engaged by the state insane hospital at Cherokee, Iowa, as a nurse. Miss Shelly is quite old.

Receipts of wheat during the past three days 411,000 centals, including 271,000 American. Receipts of American corn, none. Weather fair.

KINGS'S HEALTH

Has Shown Marked Improvement Since Coronation.

New York, Sept. 12.—According to reports from all parts of England the heavy rains of the last three days, coming on top of an exceptionally wet summer, have seriously damaged the crops, cables the London correspondent of the Herald.

Grain has suffered severely. Owing to the weather it is of such poor quality that early samples failed to get a bid on the market. With a continuance of the prevailing weather it may be days and weeks before any considerable quantity of wheat can be put on the market.

One of the largest agriculturists in Lincolnshire states that with wheat in its present damaged condition the season would prove one of the most disastrous that has been experienced during the last 29 years.

ENGLISH CROPS

Seriously Damaged By the Recent Heavy Rains.

There has been a marked improvement in the king's health since the coronation, says a London dispatch to the Tribune. His diet is strictly regulated in quantity and character. Those who have seen and talked with him in Scotland assert that he is in better health than for many years, and that his vivacity and cheerfulness are noticeable. His June illness is now regarded by many as a blessing in disguise, which may help to prolong his life for many years.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Irondale, Ohio, Sept. 12.—The safe in the postoce here was blown open last night by robbers, who secured about $60 in money and a quantity of stamps. The cracksmen got away from town before the citizens were aroused.

SHEPHERD GROWS WORSE.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The condition of Alex. R. Shepherd, former territorial governor of the Distirct of Columbia, is alarming. Telegraphic advices today repeated by Mrs. Shepherd and her son-in-law, who are enroute to Batopilas, Mexico, the ex-governor's home, to Grant Shepherd, a son in this city, announce that the governor is steadily losing ground and his condition is growing more serious.

FILTHY AT SANTIAGO.

Santiago, Cuba, Sept. 12.—The sanitary employes have struck work, the streets are not swept and no rubbish has been moved for two days. The city is in a filthy condition. The cause of the strike is that the men have not been paid for two months.

THE PRINCE DISCHARGED.

London, Sept. 12.—At the Old Bailey today the jury announced that it had found no evidence against Prince Francis Joseph of Braganza, an officer of the Austrian army, charged with misconduct under the criminal law amendment. The prince was thereupon discharged from custody.

DOUBT ROOSEVELT'S SHOOTING.

No one who has any knowledge of the history and capabilities of the modern revolver can read about President Roosevelt's revolver shooting without amusement, says the London Mail.

Such a feat as was recorded as having been performed by President Roosevelt is absolutely impossible, for the simple reason that no revolver, even if loaded with carefully prepared ammunition and fired from a machine rest, with a mathematically unvarying aim, is capable of putting five successive shots through the same hole at fifty yards.

Fifty yards is the distance at which most of the out-of-door revolver and pistol shooting is done in the states. The innermost ring of the bull's-eye is 3.36 inches in diameter, and counts ten, and there is no certified record of any man, out of hundreds who have attempted it, ever having put ten shots running into this ring at fifty yards with a revolver and fully charged factory ammunition.

FIGHTING

The Proposed Change of a Man's Name.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 12.—Because they desire their name changed to "Hirsh," Jacob and Louis Hirsovitz have precipitated an exciting fight in the courts.

There is objection to the desired change and it comes from Jacob H. Hirsch, Sr., Jacob H. Hirsch, Jr., Joseph Hirsch, Sr., and Joseph Hirsch, Jr. The two Hirsovitz recently filed application in the courts for the shorter name and a formal demurrer was filed by the objectors.

This forms one of the most unique legal situations ever developed in the courts, and the outcome will be watched with interest. Lawyers state that they have never before heard of a similar proceeding anywhere.

The objectors gave several reasons why they oppose the petition. They state that there is a large family of Hirschs in Atlanta, who have resided here for more than thirty years, the family starting with three brothers, Henry, Morris and Joseph. Each of these brothers, it is stated, have sons grown and in business in Atlanta, and that four of them have given names beginning with J.

Another paragraph of the demurrer states that by correct living the families have acquired a good reputation in the city, and wherever known, and that they submit they have a property right in their good names. The granting of the petition, it is claimed, would cause great confusion in the delivery of mail, in business transactions, and especially in court records. The omitting of the letter C, it is claimed, would make little difference in the general name.

A further objection, it is alleged that the Hirsovitzs are living under an assumed name; that their application admits this. Their petition states that they were born in Fredrichstadt, Koorland, in the empire of Russia, their names while living there being Jacob and Louis Babin. They state that they ran away from Russia to avoid military service, and that on arrival in the United States adopted their mother's maiden name, Hirsovitz. The petitioners claim that they have been residents of Georgia and Fulton county for more than ten years, and that they have been naturalized more than five years.

COPPER MAY BE CAUSE

Of Wholesale Poisoning In a Mexican Town.

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 12.—Additional particulars from the town of Maoimi, Mexico, where the inhabitants were poisoned by a supposed arsenical spring breaking out and mixing with the water supply are to the effect that five more have died, and that a few are as yet not out of danger, but that practically all the living are on the road to recovery.

Experts in that section are of the belief that the poison is the result of copper deposits, that the vein of water struck a copper vein, and was thus poisoned, rather than that arsenic ran into the reservoir. The two poisons would have a similar effect on first examination, and would be hard to distinguish. Some poisonings have been known throughout that section frequently among miners and others, but this is the first time that so many have been victims.

In many sections where the mountain streams run through the mining regions, especially the copper region, they are tabooed until tests are made to ascertain their purity, as they are known in many instances to have been poisoned from contact beneath the ground with copper or similar mineral veins.

JIM THE PENMAN

The Cleverest Forger In the World Is Slowly Dying.

Charley Moore Nearing His End In an Indiana Prison.

Told His Wife That He Was a Traveling Man.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 12.—The greatest living forger is now at death's door in the Prison North at Michigan City, and, although a faithful wife, whose home is in Cleveland, Ohio, has interceded time and again in his behalf and has interested Senator Hanna of Ohio and Senator Fairbanks of Indiana, Governor Durbin, in whom the pardoning power is vested, declines to interfere with the recommendation of the board of parole that Charley Moore, expert bank forger, confidence man, check raiser and gentleman thief, is too dangerous a man to be outside the walls. The Pinkerton agency, of Chicago, has joined with the American Bankers' association in a protest against turning him loose, even though he is dying of an incurable disease. They regard him as a more expert check raiser and forger than Becker, soon to be released in California, and the agency has notified the board of parole that Adam Worth is a novice in skilled crime in comparison with the wasted skeleton who wants to breathe God's free air before he is carted away to a burying ground. The prisoner realizes that his time is short and that sixty days will see his life account balanced. He is attentive to the Christian counselings of Chaplain Henderson, who is making his hospital experience as comfortable as conditions permit.

The life of Charles F. Moore makes the story of "Jim the Penman" tame by comparison. He was always a man of mystery, and after his reception in prison his lips were closed against the slightest admission as to his past, until the prison physician told him but a few days ago that his days were numbered. But for his reckless career, which reads like a romance, he might today be in the prime of life, as he is less than 40 years old. He traveled a rapid gait, and, pushing his exploits, he wrecked financial institutions, drove men to suicide and broke the heart of a trusting wife and a doting mother, and while thousands upon thousands of dollars passed through his hands, all that he has to show for it is a racking cough that is tearing his vitals out, and the poor privilege of resting his emaciated body on an iron bedstead, while at all times is that surveillance which impresses upon him that he is a marked man, for whom there is no future save death.

The prisoner is a native of a little village in New York state, and his early life was uneventful, save that he was a promising student in the village school and remarkable for his skill with a pen. He was the best writer in the school, and specimens of his skill were always exhibited to visitors. He was also noted for his fastidiousness, and he always broke in a low, soft voice. In his earlier manhood he went to New York city, where his associations were bad, and finally he was arrested in Brooklyn for petty thievery, and, serving a short sentence, he branched out as a jewelry thief and confidence man.

He figured in several minor affairs, escaping the attention of the police, and then migrated westward, dividing his time between Cleveland and Cincinnati, and spending a few months in this city. During the fall of 1889, accompanied by a man named Cochran, he went to Barnesville, Ohio, for the purpose of pulling off a burglary, but they were arrested for stealing a watch before they could commit the graver offense, and Moore, under the name of George Merritt was sentenced to thirty months in the Columbus, Ohio, prison. Eighteen months later he was pardoned, but not until he had formed the acquaintance of a convict forger, who was an expert in his peculiar line, and he instructed Moore in all the niceties of the business, until the pupil was more expert than his teacher. Obtaining his parole, Moore went to Cincinnati, where he practiced on safety-paper for two months. Going from there to Cleveland he continued to perfect himself as a forger, until he became wonderfully expert in raising checks and forging names of bank officers to bogus drafts. So proficient did he become that but for the shrewdness of a bank clerk he would have torn open the business of half a dozen states in a way that would have startled the commercial world. While in Cleveland he formed the acquaintance of a handsome young woman, whom he afterward wedded, and to her he represented that he was a traveling man for Eastern houses, and this accounted for his absences from home. He installed his wife on one of the best-known streets in Cleveland, and for a time she was the happiest woman imaginable.

Along in 1892 Moore began to widen his operations, and a number of banks and buildings and loan associations in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois were victimized by a well-dressed, well-mannered man with a remarkably soft voice.

Forged drafts and raised checks were used, and the plan of operation was the same at all places. The stranger bought a small bank draft and raised the amount, after which he would go to a city or town not far away and call at the office of a building and loan association, claiming to have relatives in the town, his business being to settle an estate. He also represented that he had a small amount of money, and his relatives had advised him to invest it in the stock of this particular association. He would then purchase for less than the face of his draft, tender the draft in exchange and receive the difference in cash, these and kindred transactions frequently netting him $500 per day and more. Many of these forgeries were never made public, as the victims said nothing for fear of injuring their business, but it was not long until the bankers were terrorized by the skillfulness of his operations, and in many institutions the employes were afraid to handle a draft unless the holder of it was well-known and properly identified.

Then came the discovery that this same soft-voiced, well-dressed stranger had passer a bogus check purporting to be of the Second National bank of Erie, Pa., on J. P. Morgan & Co., of New York, for $260. This brought the American Bankers' association to the front, and every bank and post-office, with building and loan offices and police departments received circulars giving a description of the operator and calling for his arrest on sight. Special stress was laid upon his soft, low voice, and that the middle finger on his right hand was gone. On April 9, 1897, a soft-voiced, well-dressed stranger walked into the office of the Chautauqua Building and Savings association, of Jamestown, N. Y., desiring to purchase $600 of the paid-up stock of the association.

He gave his name as H. J. Sandford, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and offered in payment a draft for $500 drawn by the First National bank, of Wellsville, Ohio, on the Third National bank, of New York city, and a certificate of deposit issued by the Keystone National bank, of Erie, Pa., calling for $400; the difference, $360 to be paid him in cash. A quick-witted clerk noticed the absence of the middle finger, as described in the circular. He tipped it off to the police, and the arrest followed. Moore protested the greatest indignation, but he quieted down when the jail doors closed on him. Detectives from all parts of the country hurried to Jamestown to identify the much-wanted swindler, but the first to lay claim was the police chief of Fort Wayne, this state, and he was transferred to the Indiana authorities. A complete set of forger's tools were found in his valise, including a check perforator, a check protector, two self-inking pads, a package of erasing liquids, a rubber stamp-dating machine, a set of colored crayons, a magnifying glass, glass pencils for applying acids, three vials of acid, with bottles of red and black ink, pencils, pens, etc. There were also documents giving his address as Charles F. Moore, of Cleveland, Ohio. After his return to Fort Wayne he was tried for swindling the Hamilton National bank on a raised draft for $800, in addition to which he obtained $175 on a raised draft presented to the Allen County Building and Loan association. He also swindled Nuttman & Co., of Fort Wayne, on a forged draft for $800. He was convicted and committed under the indeterminate-sentence act, calling for imprisonment from two to fourteen years and six months ago he was seized with consumption and removed to the prison hospital.

While it is beyond the range of possibility that he will live out his present sentence, yet should he be released there are still the following indictments to answer:

Valentine School of Telegraphy, of Janesville, Wis., $80.

First National bank of McKeesport, Pa., $800.

National bank of Lawrence county, Newcastle, Pa., $1200.

Second National bank of Altoona, Pa., $1200.

D. A. Osman, of Terre Haute, Ind., $800.

Charles A. Forgy, of Marion, Ind., $800.

People's Building and Loan association, Bloomington, Ill., $900.

South Side Building and Loan association, Lima, Ohio, $900.

Fostria Building and Loan association, Fostoria, Ohio, $392.12.

Lippincott & Bain, Marion, Ohio, $294.80.

Capital City Building and Loan association, Columbus, Ohio, $286.

Dime Savings bank, Pittsburg, Pa., $86.

The Pittsburg swindle was worked on April 1, 1897, Moore going from there to Jamestown, where he was arrested eight days later. That he had planned an extensive campaign against the banks was shown by the big bundle of drafts in his valise, every one of which had been raised and was ready to be placed in circulation. Among these were the following:

Draft of Bank of Berea-Berea, Pa., on Chase National bank, of New York, $800.

First National bank, of Canal Dover, Ohio, on Western National bank, New York, $800.

People's National bank, Washington, Ind., on Citizens' National bank, Cincinnati, $905.

Ketchum National bank, Toledo, Ohio, on New York National bank, New York, $1200.

First National bank, Fremont, Ohio, on Fourth National bank, New York, $800.

Old National bank, Grand Rapids, Mich., on First National bank, Chicago, $800.

National bank, Columbus, Ohio, on Central National bank, New York, $800.

National bank, of West Virginia, Wheeling, W. Va., on Third National bank, New York, $800.

Bellefontaine National bank, on Central National bank, New York, $400.

Seven drafts of different dates by the Farmers' National bank, of Galveston, Ind., aggregating $4110, on the First National bank of Chicago.

Nineteen drafts drawn on banks at Peoria, Ill.; Ashtabula, Ohio; Shelby, Ohio; Greensburg, Ind.; Detroit and Ypsilanti, Mich., and Greencastle, Ind., aggregating $21,000, drawn on national banks at Boston, Brooklyn, New York and Chicago.

There was also eighteen certified checks on banks at Erie, Penn.; Coldwater, Mich; Mansfield, Ohio; Columbus, Cadiz, and Mount Gilead, Ohio, amounting to $12,000. With these was a promissory note purporting to having been given by Oscar Davis, of Youngstown, Ohio, to William H. Jackson for $900, and a mortgage supposed to have been given by Charles E. Forgy to George H. Howard on eighty acres of land in Grant county, this state.

In order to give himself a financial standing Moore had issued the following certificates of deposit: As D. A. Williams, $800 in the Meadville, Penn., Savings bank; W. H. Hudson, $900 in the Central National bank, Peoria, Ill.; G. H. Sanford, $400 in the Keystone National bank, Erie, Penn.; George H. Hall, $200 in the Commercial Exchange bank, Adrian, Mich.; George H. Snyder, $100 in the George H. Harter bank, Canton, Ohio; J. H. Howard, two certificates, $700 and $200, Will County National bank, Joliet, Ill., and one certificate for $200 as F. H. Edwards, on Joliet National bank.

Checks and deposit books in his possession showed that Moore had a total of $14,000 in fourteen different banks and building and loan associations, besides which he had fifteen certificates from as many different building and loan associations, making him the owner of $7000 in building and loan stocks. In every certificate he gave himself a different name. He counted upon cleaning up $250,000 on this forged paper, after which he intended to skip to Europe and settle down. He was thoroughly aware that the banks would spare no pains to arrest him when the character of his spurious paper became known, as he laid his plans with great shrewdness. Continued successes, however, made him careless in operating, and he attempted the Jamestown deal before pulling off the big game. He was not in need of ready money, but it looked so easy that he went up against it. The absent middle finger and his low, soft voice betrayed him.

Following his arrest the detectives were confident for a time that he was at the head of a syndicate of forgers, as they did not see how one man could prepare so much bogus paper on institutions scattered over half a dozen states; some of them so small that they hardly broke into the bankers' directory. But Moore had no confederates. He forged his own paper and laid it down single and alone. In his peculiarly constructed valise he carried the implements of his trade, and he was never at a loss for material wherever an opportunity offered. The authorities in time were convinced that not even his wife had been taken into his confidence. He never offered her any explanations, and she retained until after his conviction the belief that he was a commercial traveler, engaged along legitimate lines. Since his arrest Mrs. Moore has visited Governor Durbin several times, but his heart is steeled against clemency because of the representations by the Pinkerton agency, who have filed a mass of papers with the prison board of parole showing that Moore at large would be a standing menace to commercial interests. The warden of the prison is confident that the parole will never be granted, and he is extending every comfort possible to the dying convict.

STUDIES IN THE OLD TESTAMENT

LOVING AND OBEYING GOD

International Sunday School Lesson For September 14, 1902.

Deuteronomy 30:11-20: "For this commandment which I command thee this day, it is not too hard for thee, neither is it far off. It is not in heaven, that thou shouldst say, Who shall go up for us to heaven, and bring it unto us, and make us to hear it, that we may do it? Neither is it beyond the sea, that thou shouldst say, Who shall go over the sea for us, and bring it unto us, and make us to hear it, that we may do it? But the word is very nigh unto thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart, that thou mayest do it.

"See, I have set before thee this day life and good, and death and evil; in that I command thee this day to love the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, and to keep his commandments and his statutes and his judgments, that thou mayest live and multiply, and that the Lord thy God may bless thee in the land whither thou goest in to possess it. But if thine heart turn away, and thou wilt not hear, but shalt be drawn away, and worship other gods, and serve them; I denounce unto you this day, that ye shall surely perish; ye shall not prolong your days upon the land, whither thou passest over Jordan to go in to possess it. I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that I have set before thee life and death, the blessing and the curse: therefore, choose life that thou mayest live, thou and thy seed; to love the Lord thy God, to obey his voice, and to cleave unto him; for he is thy life, and the length of thy days; that thou mayest dwell in the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give them."

Golden text: "For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments." I. John 5:3.

THE NEAR END OF DUTY.

There are some people who would always do their duty, if they could only take hold of it at the other end—so they think. But, alas! for them the other end would be as uninviting as is the near end. Then, too, the other end of duty is sometimes dangerous, like the muzzle of a gun, but only his friends can recover what remains of him if he tries to handle his gun from the wrong end. Many a life is totally blown to pieces through this disposition to do things the wrong end to. Things that are done wrong have a gun-like habit of going off at the most inopportune moment. Here is a man who wants to be a physician. He ought to spend years studying the human body with its ailments and materia medica before administering medicine for disease. But instead, he starts out by fixing a dose for a friend's ailment and puts the wrong drugs into it, causing his friend's death and wrecking all his own future—because he began at the wrong end. There are people who would be saints if they could start in where Richard Baxter or Phillips Brooks left off. But they will not take the trouble to read their Bibles, cultivate the Christian graces, and practice the common virtues that do not come to them spontaneously. The pretence at being a saint in a minute is sheer hypocrisy, and results in religious and moral cant, which lead far away from true sainthood. The a b c of duty must be learned before on can spell attainment, and its literature must be well mastered before one can understand the language of moral perfection.

God never commands man to sail to the moon, nor does he require of him things morally impossible. The laws summarized in Deuteronomy illustrate this fact. The writer well said that the commands uttered were not too hard for the people. The people could understand them for they all applied to the every day life. Nothing illustrates this statement better than those precepts of Deuteronomy that enforced the general laws of human kindness. If a man built a house, he was commanded to put a rail around its roof to prevent persons from falling off if they happened to be walking thereon. Thus, in a concrete way, Jehovah enforced the duty of all men to care for one another's welfare. It was not a statement of that duty in high flown metaphorical language, but in a common sense application of it to practical social life. Likewise, the statutes against oppression for debt, abuse of servants and slaves, and cruelty to animals, and the statute of gleanings, with others that sought to ameliorate the miseries of the poor, all showed the people how the path of duty lay close to the currents of every day life. One precept is especially noteworthy because of the way in which it recognized the finer feelings and sensibilities of human nature. It said (Deuteronomy 24:10): "When thou dost lend thy neighbor any manner of loan, thou shalt not go into his house to fetch his pledge." This taught the Israelite to be gentle and kind in his delicate recognition of the embarrassing position in which a poor man was placed by having to give a pledge for a loan. It forbade the hard hearted money lender from intruding on the sacred home precincts of the borrower. In all the things here mentioned, the way of Israel's obedience lay at their very gates.

If one fails to do his duty at home, he need not expect larger duties abroad. Sometimes young Christians think they are called of God to go to India or Africa to tell the gospel story, but they have never heard the divine call to speak to their friends at home of the Christ who has redeemed them. Missionary boards do well to ask of all candidates for appointment to foreign missions evidence that they have been accustomed to do the Christian work near at hand. Jesus once said: "The kingdom of God is within you." The fourteenth verse of the present lesson seems almost a complement of the Savior's words, for it refers to duty in the kingdom of God in saying: "The word is very nigh thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart, that thou mayest do it." A person may have to go a mile to find a building in which to worship God, but he can always carry a sanctuary in his own heart and worship God in the field or at the counter or over his bench while at work. If he can go to the congregation, he ought not to forsake the assembly of God's people, but if sickness or other duty prevents, then let him remember that God is spirit and that acceptable worship is rendered in spirit and in truth to the God who is 'closer to us than breathing, and nearer than hands and feet."

There are some people who would become rich if they could make a million dollars at a single bound, but they do not know the habits of thrift, nor will they deny themselves a penny's worth of pleasure to lay the foundation of a fortune. Likewise, there are people who do not know the laws of spiritual thrift and consequently they live and die in a state of moral and spiritual bankruptcy. If any stress is laid upon their characters, they have not the reserve power to sustain them and they fall a victim of their own thriftlessness. It takes care and attention to the elements of conduct and character, to the primary duties which every person owes to himself to develop real manhood and womanhood. "To thine own self be true, and then it follows as the night the day, thou canst not be false to any man" No. nor to God, either.

THE WAY OF PROSPERITY.

It has been said that physical prosperity was the chief blessing that Jehovah promised to Israel as a reward for obedience and fidelity to him. This is not true, although there is superficial ground for the assertion. Jehovah did, however, promise the people that the land would smile on them with corn and wine if they were obedient to his laws; but such prosperity was the natural sequence of their industry and sobriety when carrying out the divine will, just as certainly as the desolation of Palestine and Mesopotama followed misrule and accumulated personal and social unrighteousness in those regions. If one asks for the great boon which Israel received for obedience to God's laws, the answer is, Sonship to God. Her religious privileges and nurture were her highest reward. A certain amount of physical prosperity was essential to furnish a basis for true spiritual progress. The national life had to be sustained and strengthened, else the truths for which Israel stood could never have had their influential place in the world.

Many times in the course of its narrative does the history of Israel tell of some crisis in the national affairs when the people were admonished to make a decisive choice of either good or evil. It is not a mere figure of speech when the passage under present study (verses 15-20) identifies "life" with the "good," for life grows out of the right use of both bodily and spiritual powers. Evil is the misuse of things which brings goods when rightly used. Evil brings death in its train, and Paul said, "The wages of sin is death." There is a just Nemesis that pursues every evil doer, and sooner or later he will fall the victim of his own misdeeds.

The choice of the right God to worship is named as the deciding element in Israel's prosperity. This linking of physical prosperity to purity of religious faith may in Israel's case be reasonably justified on the ground that the faiths which were most likely to draw Israel away from the true faith were characterized by immorality of the sort that undermines both character and physical health. Baal was the name by which the Canaanites worshipped their divinities. There was a Baal for each local district, and the danger was that Israel might yield her somewhat purified worship of Jehovah for the sensual nature worship of these local Baals. In some cases the Israelites seem to have worshiped Jehovah under the name of Baal, and in the time of Ahab a Tyrian Baal was imported and worshipped equally with Jehovah until Elijah led the people to see the inconsistency of putting Melkart, the Tyrian Baal, alongside Jehovah, the two being naturally exclusive.

The modern effort to mix the Christian religion with Hinduism and other religions is the same kind of an error that was so violently denounced among the ancient Hebrews. Christianity stands as the highest exponent of man's communion with God, and no man can be true to Christ while yielding homage to any person or thing claiming divine honors except the one true God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Fear of evil consequences in case of disobedience was not the chief motive to regulate Israel's conduct. They were taught to love God as clearly as Jesus taught his disciples that lesson. And, furthermore, the writer of Deuteronomy tried to lead them to the sort of spiritual obedience that springs from true love of the person who gives the command. This is the sort of obedience that is wanted in the kingdom of God. Jesus said, "If ye love me, keep my commandments." There is a vast difference between obedience that is yielded because of outward restraints and that which comes as the spontaneous overflowing of a heart glad at the privilege of doing something for a person beloved. God does not ask of us slavish service, but the free service of loving children. Love finds its own recompence for what it does and is itself thereby doubly blessed in all it does for the other.

Man should cleave unto the Lord at all times, for "He is thy life." This statement is as true today as it ever was. Knowledge of the ways of nature and skill in all the arts doesn't make it any the less true that our life comes from God and remains in his hands. No man has yet discovered the secret of producing life. That is God's secret. He gives physical life, and then, if the person so desires, God gives him eternal life which no one can take away. It was said of Jesus, "In him was life, and the life was the light of men." He freely gave up his own life for man, and in his resurrection brought immortality clearly to the consciousness of man. His teachings and the writings of the New Testament impress this great truth, however, that no one can have any hope of eternal life with God unless in this life the soul communes with God and the person renders to God the obedience of love. "Therefore choose life, that thou mayest live."

STORY WAS OVERDRAWN.

Doukhobors Said to Be a Good People.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 11.—General Colonization Agent Speers returned yesterday from a trip to the Doukhobor colonies and gives a version of their eccentricities different from those already published.

"There are among the Doukhobors people of all nationalities and of those who take extreme views of religion," he said. "The Doukhobors have their percentage like the rest. I may say that their form of eccentricity in this respect is not by any means so bad as some I have seen right in Winnipeg."

"You mean those air-and-dynamite Christians who hold forth in tents?"

"Yes; those shouters. I have heard them in the afist as well. The Doukhobor is quiet in his religion and would be all right if left alone. A Russian agitator from New York named Neroff came among them and commenced advocating what the average doukhobor considers the most extreme views. He got a few followers, as a crank would among any other nationality. He had, however, no following of any consequence.

"They did give away six cows that I heard of, but the reason was wrongfully attributer. The Doukhobors are eminently philan-ropic and the cows in question were given to neighbors of other nationalities who were in very needy circumstances.

"The story that they refused to use horses is also false. I saw many using horses. I don't look for any trouble among these people and from what I have seen of them I think they will make good settlers. Their crops are ripe and partly harvested.

Some of the Doukhobor villages had 500 acres of grain this year. They are building three grist mills for their own use alone on Swan river, using the water of that river for their power."

HE MARRIED HIMSELF.

Justice Bundy "And Lady" Stand Before Mirror.

New York, Sept. 11.—Standing before a mirror, Justice of the Peace Henry Bundy, of Jersey City, married himself to Mrs. Annie Brenker, at the widow's home. He is probably the only man in the world who has performed his own marriage ceremony. There was some question as to whether Justice Bundy had the right to marry himself, but he declared he was duly qualified to perform marriage ceremonies and he was no different from anybody else. In starting the ceremony Justice Bundy said:

"Do you, Annie Brenker, take this man (pointing to himself) to be your lawfully wedded husband?"

"I do," answered Mrs. Brenker, looking at Justice Bundy.

"Do you, Henry Bundy?" asked Justice Bundy (looking at himself in the mirror) "take this woman to be your lawfully wedded wife?"

"I do," answered Bundy.

"Then I, Henry Bundy, justice of the peace, do hereby pronounce you, Henry Bundy and Annie Brenker, husband and wife."

Justice Bundy, then as husband and officiating officer, kissed the bride.

AMERICAN ENERGY

Strongly Recommended From the British Educational System.

Men of Science Pay High Tribute to Americans.

Meeting of British Association For Advancement of Science.

Belfast Sept. 12.—The sectional meetings of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, which opened its seventy-second annual meeting here yesterday, were well attended to hear the addresses of their respective presidents. Many of these contained complimentary references to the United States, which was held up as the model which Great Britain ought to follow.

Professor H. E. Armstrong, of the educational section, made a strong plea for the injection of some American life and energy into the British educational system, and paid a high tribute to the imaginative insight and foresight of "our American cousin, Capt. Mahan," who had taught the nation the true meaning and value of sea power. "We need some Mahan," added Professor Armstrong, "to discuss the larger issues of national defense through education. The speech of state is of vastly greater consequence than the mere navy. Yet, those who direct attention to the insufficiency of its armament are scarcely listened to and there is not the slightest effort to secure scientifically adjusted and organically complete machinery to drill the crews, which is woefully incomplete owing to the terrible absence of organization and discipline."

Professor Armstrong contended that what British education today needed was to appreciate the value of a scrap heap. "Why can't we," continued the speaker, "follow the example of the industrious American manufacturer and agree to 'scrap' our scholastic and academic ideals, if not our schools and school masters as well, and refit along scientific lines?"

In support of his contention that boys ought to leave school at 17 and then go to college, Professor Armstrong said that much of the success of the Americans was due to the way in which republican doctrines were applied in bringing up their children, adding: "We should set our children free and encourage them to be free at an early age."

Professor Hallburton, of the physciological section, spoke highly of the work of Professor Loeb and his colleagues of the university of Chicago in the new field of physical chemistry.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WATTERSON

Tells How President Is Helping Out His Friends.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 11.—Mr. Watterson in an editorial headed "Teddy" goes for the president as a speech maker. He reviews his career, calling him a gentleman in politics in which he played the party managers as knaves. He proceeds then as follows:

"He possessed a gift that way. He had discovered a new trick of demagogy. Finally, having put his whole stake upon a single card—resigning the sub-secretaryship in the cul de sac at Washington to make a grand stand dash down the military steeplechase in Cuba—his card won all through; at Santiago where he marched up the hill, and then marched back again; at Saratoga, where he compelled them to nominate him for governor; at Philadelphia where he worked them to the queen's taste for the vice presidency; so, that, not yet four and forty years of age, we find him in the White House, president of the United States, telling the people that they may safely rely upon Boss Quay, and his man Penrose, to pour a flood of patriotism, religion and civil service reform—Pennsylvania's gentlemen in politics—into the dark recesses of the great coal strike, bringing forth sweetness and light, at least of the keystone variety.

"The cheek of it. What is it the young cannot do with impunity? Given an attractive personality, a glib tongue, and a rubber tire, and your gentlemen in politics will double discount the crophcads who run 'der masheen.' Teddy, the chauffeur, steering his own machine, civil service reformer—100 miles per—warranted to run down more voters in a day than Platt or Addicks in a year—is it not a sight for gods and men? Keep it up, Teddy; keep it up. That 'tra-la-ala' about the trusts is a good tune, since there is none other handy to tie to; a good enough Morgan till after the fall elections. The point is to get away for the time being with those that hew the wood and draw the water and pay the piper. The stupid trusts may not like it. But, when all is over and another trust congress has assembled, they will begin to see 'the cuteness of the beast.' Then, ho for 1904. Ho for the succession; each tub stands on its own bottom. One election at a time, say you, and then we'll trust to luck to tide over them next time; lord, how easy. It cannot be denied that Teddy plays a good, stiff hand. He has studied the cue papers and girded his loins and he whispered to the goat trust, that is, to Pierpont Morgan, his dearest friend: 'Don't you see, we're bound to go a bit slow here? We must confess judgment, as it were, and leave the Democrats to fetch in their execution when the goods are past discovery. Steady; leave me to throw dust in the people's eyes. After I have made the circuit you folks can pick up the tag ends in Wall street, whilst I, and the speaker with his rules committee, will do the rest. I am playing cards, Mr. Morgan; don't criticize my play until the game is over.' Meanwhile, the high-priced combines proceed to fortify themselves, and, in response to the outcry of the poor old beef trust himself, exclaims: 'Millions for self-defense, not a cent for tribute, except to the Republican campaign fund.'"

ANOTHER BOOTH OUT.

Gen. Herbert Booth Leaves the Salvation Army.

New York, Sept. 11.—Gen. Herbert Booth, son of Gen. Booth, head of the Salvation Army, has just arrived in this country, and will go into business in Montclair, N. J. He has left the salvation army for reasons that cannot be stated now. His last station was Australasia. His leaving has caused serious trouble. This makes six of the Booth family who are already in this country. They are Ballington and Maude Booth, Catherine and Arthur Booth Clibborn, and Herbert and Cory Booth. All six have cut loose from the methods of their father and have left the Salvation Army. Only one son, Bramwell Booth, who is now in London, remains in the Salvation Army. Three daughters are on the army yet, namely: Lucy, Eva and Emma Booth Tucker. Gen. Booth will sail for his fourth tour through the United States and Canada in the last week of September and be absent from England for some weeks. Whether he will see his children who have left the army fold and be reconciled with them remains to be seen.

Don't delay a minute. Cholera Infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea come suddenly. Only safe plan is to have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry always on hand.

MARCUS L. FAY,

Candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Congress.

Vote For Him on September 16.

Marcus L. Fay is vice president of the Pearce Mining company, and president of the Fay Exploration company, and is managing and operating the Laura and Winford mines at Hibbing. He supplies the West Duluth blast furnace with ore. Capt. Fay stands high with the laboring men for the reason that all of the several hundred men employed by him pronounce him fair and liberal.

His success in life has been marked and his hustling ability, affability and liberality are the causes of this success. He is widely liked and universally believed in as a sincere, upright man, and has as much influence as any single person in this county. He has always been a Democrat and has worked hard for his party in each succeeding campaign. Mr. Fay was a staunch supporter and valued counselor of Former Senator Charles A. Towne, and during the memorable Towne campaigns championed his cause with fervor and unfailing zeal. Mr. Fay has always been of a studious turn of mind as his lofty forehead would indicate, he is well read and well versed in political economy and is a fluent and forceful speaker.

STOMACH UNFASHIONABLE.

The Proper Way to Put on a Corset.

New York, Sept. 11.—The dressmakers had their innings at the annual convention of the dainty professionals, which is now in its second day's session. Miss White, the president of the Dressmakers' Protective association, gave a lecture on "The Hygienic Way of Putting On a Corset," illustrated by living models. Half a hundred of the members of the association were present. The main object to be attained in adjusting the corset as Miss White and her colleagues wish it to be adjusted, is the effacement of that commonplace organ, the stomach. In the lexicon of the contemporary dressmaker, there is no such word as "stomach."

"We must have straight fronts or nothing," they say. Some of the delegates to the present convention say that the only perfect way to put on a corset is to put it on when lying down. The body is limn and pliable then and easily adjusts itself to the shape desired. Once the corset is fastened, the body cannot get back again into its unfashionable poses.

Rheumatism

The liniment bottle and flannel strip are familiar objects in nearly every household. They are the weapons that have been used for generations to fight old Rheumatism, and are about as effective in the battle with this giant disease as the blunderbuss of our forefathers would be in modern warfare.

Rheumatism is caused by an acid, sour condition of the blood. It is filled with acid, irritating matter that settles in the joints, muscles and nerves, and liniments and oils nor nothing else applied externally can dislodge these gritty, corroding particles. They were deposited there by the blood and can be reached only through the blood. Rubbing with liniments sometimes relieve temporarily the aches and pains, but these are only symptoms which are liable to return with every change of the weather; the real disease lies deeper, the blood and system are infected. Rheumatism cannot be radically and permanently cured until the blood has been purified, and no remedy does this so thoroughly and promptly as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and sends a stream of rich, strong blood to the affected parts, which dissolves and washes out all foreign materials, and the sufferer obtains happy relief from the torturing pains.

SSS

S. S. S. contains no potash or other mineral, but is a perfect vegetable blood purifier and most exhilarating tonic. Our physicians will advise, without charge, all who write about their case, and we will send free our special book on Rheumatism and its treatment.

DECLINE IN WHEAT

Market Higher Early In Session But Falls Off.

Heavy Frosts In the West Caused Early Strength.

Flax Very Strong Early But Loses All the Gain.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 12.—The wheat market started out firm and higher this morning in sympathy with the strength in the corn pit due to the heavy frosts reported throughout the West. The receipts were not very large and there were reports of crop damage in England by the wet, cold weather, although cables were indifferent. The bullish sentiment weakened toward the noon hour and under liberal offerings the market fell off considerably. There was little foreign demand in the local market although there was a good demand for cash wheat, the September option making another advance on December. The Liverpool market closed ½@¾d lower.

Primary receipts of wheat were 1,112,000 bus, last year 1,158,700 bus. Shipments 620,000 bus, last year 1,116,300 bus. Clearances of wheat and flour aggregated 685,000 bus.

Corn was considerably stiffer in the Chicago market, September closing 1½c up and December ¼c higher. Oats declined ⅜c. Primary receipts of corn were 580,800 bus, last year 400,000 bus. Shipments 186,000 bus, last year 258,300 bus. Clearances were 19,000 bus.

Receipts of wheat at Duluth and Minneapolis, 621 cars, and at Chicago 280 a total of 87 cars, against 558 last week and 1144 last year.

Trading in wheat was fairly active this morning and the market somewhat firmer. December opened ¼c up at 66⅜c, sold at 66¾c at 10:55 and then fell to 66¼c at 11:05. The decline continued, the market selling at 65⅝c at 12:37 and closing at 65⅝c. This was a decline of 1½c. September declined 1¼c, December in the Chicago market was off 1c and in Minneapolis ⅞@1c.

Cash offerings were fairly liberal, sales aggregating 200,000 bus. Prices continued and 1,140 a year ago. Primary receipts of wheat, including 1c over September for December and to arrive Sept. 15. September price for straight to arrive, 2c under No. 1 for No. 2 and 4c under No. 1 for No. 3.

Flax was very active, especially the October option. It sold 2c up to $1.34 and then hovered between $1.33½ and $1.34 for some time, then slumping off to $1.32 and closing there. The September option was also up 2c at one time but finally closed 1c lower than yesterday at $1.35. November flax declined 1½c. Rye was off 1@2c.

Following are the closing prices:

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Cold Weather Gave Grain Prices Upward Tendency.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Grain speculators were ruled by the weather at the opening of the pits today. Killing frosts were reported in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Iowa and Nebraska and heavy frosts in Southern Kansas. Rains fell in Missouri, Illinois and the Ohio valley. These conditions all worked against the maturing corn and as a result higher prices ruled at the state of trade. Cables were indifferent both in corn and wheat and corn receipts were somewhat larger, at 218 cars, 60 of contract grade. These factors, however, were almost lost sight of in the big commission house trade that was the result of frost talk. The nearer deliveries of corn have been conceded as being in a strong position because of the lateness of the harvests. The bull argument all along has been that much depended on the weather this month. Covering was brisk at the opening and Sept. corn started ½c up to unchanged at 60¼c to 59⅝c. There was a dip to 59¼c but the higher prices were regained. December corn opened ¼@⅝c to ½@⅝c up at 44c to 44⅛c, dipped to 43⅞c and held firm at 44⅛c.

Much of the early fear from frosts was dissipated as the session advanced and fair liquidation and a break in wheat caused a loss ow the corn advance. December and May oats are practically pointing and swiped in the upturn. September started 1c to ⅜c up at 74½c to 75⅞c, and held near that higher figure. December responded sparingly, being 1½c to ⅝@⅞c up at 69⅝c to 69⅞c, but falling off to last night's figures at 69¾ @⅞c and rallying only ⅛c early. Local receipts were 57 cars, 17 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 631 cars, making a total for the three points of 887 cars, against 558 last week and 1,140 a year ago.

The Northwest sold freely of December wheat in this market and inasmuch as wheat had not bulged sharply with the rest of the grain list the result was a break all around. September closed weak, 3⅝c lower at 73¾c and December 3c off at 69⅝@⅞c.

Oats held firm in sympathy with corn, but the trade was only fair. Receipts were of poor grade and light at 218 cars, 8 of contract grade. The weather also was against the bears, but advances early were not marked. December started 1@⅝ up to be lifted 2 31¾@⅞ to 31¾, dipped to 31¼@⅝c and steadied at 31⅜@¾c.

Provisions had a fair early support and gained somewhat by the rise in corn in early trading in moderate supply and yard prices advanced 10c. January pork started 7½@10c at $15.10, sold at $15.12½ and eased back to $15.05; January lard 5c, advanced at $8.50 to $8.52½, and January ribs a shade down at $7.90 and sold to $7.92½.

MARKET REPORT.

Received over private wire of H. E. Baker, grain and stock broker, 507 Board of Trade, Duluth, Minn.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—The wheat market during the early part of the session ruled firm purely in sympathy with the strength in corn, but later the market eased off owing to disappointing cables from abroad, poor cash demand and increasing receipts at the Northwest. The close was weak at about the lowest point of the day. Liverpool reported their market quiet, ¼d to ½d lower. Continental markets were also quiet. Cash demand here continues very quiet and the seaboard reported only a moderate demand there for export. The weather throughout the spring wheat belt was generally favorable for the movement to market and receipts are beginning to increase and in a short time will be large and likely have a depressing effect on prices until cash demand improves materially. Cars tomorrow, 175.

There was a large and active trade in corn today and the market ruled strong and active on buying for both long and short account on severe frosts throughout the northern portion of country, and predictions of further frosts tonight throughout the whole of corn belt. On the advance there was more or less profit taking, which caused the market to close trifle easier. It is impossible to determine just how much damage has been done by last night's frosts, but we are of the opinion that considerable corn has been hurt—especially, in Iowa. Country offerings were practically nothing, while cash demand was good, although the advance in the market tended to restrict business. Foreign markets were firm. Liverpool closed ½d higher for the day. In our opinion sufficient damage has been done to warrant higher prices. We advise purchases of May and December corn on all weak spots. Cars for tomorrow, 215.

Trade in oats was light today and the market ruled quiet within a narrow range and with no special feature. Prices were higher early in sympathy with corn but the market later eased off and closed quiet. Country movement was light. Cash demand was rather quet. Indications point to lighter receipts in the near future and we look for the demand to increase. We advise buying both December and May oats on all weak spots. Cars tomorrow, 195.

Provisions opened strong on higher hogs and smaller receipts. Shorts took fright on frost scares and bought freely all day with sellers all good buyers. There was a heavy trade most of the day, but the market closes easier with good gain on January and May pork and moderate advance on the balance of the list. There is renewed interest in the market and unless the leaders smother the trade we expect to see a lively market with chances to play both sides. Cash trade shows improvement but the sales now are made at consuming points, and prices obtainable not made public. Hogs tomorrow, 10,000.

GRAIN GOSSIP.

Logan & Bryan, Chicago: Wheat—The market showed some strength early, but closed weak. Cables were disappointing, Liverpool is reporting poor spot demand and an increase of offerings of Russian wheat. Cash demand was also slow at the advance. Market has ruled strong, however, for several days and naturally a scalping reaction is due. The September situation is still one of doubt, although, apparently, the offerings of September wheat today were quite free. The scattered short interest is still large. It still looks to us like a scalping market. Estimated cars, 175.

Corn—There were hard frosts in Kansas and Nebraska and throughout the Northwest last night, also with indications of low temperatures throughout the Northwest. This caused some strength early, but the closing was rather soft, although an advance for the day. While the short interests in December and May is very large, yet the trade does not seem very willing to believe that frost has done any material damage. Of course, it will require several days to learn what the facts are, but we are inclined to think from our view that the damage in parts has been somewhat greater than is generally believed. We think it reasonably safe to purchase on any breaks and it may prove very profitable. Estimated cars, 215.

Oats—The market is very quiet, speculative interest is generally becoming less active and is being supersent to some extent by the increasing interest in corn. December and May oats are practically fair liquidation and a break in wheat caused a loss ow the corn advance. December fell off to 43⅞c and closed barely firm ¼c up at 43⅞c to 44c. September stiffened until it sold at 69½c but the close was only ¼c up at 69c.

Wheat had a big trade early with sharp advances in December stuff, largely out of sympathy for the corn strength. Cables were indifferent, although reports had cold, wet weather in England and crops damaged by the wet summer. The movement in the Northwest was disappointing and helped the upturn. September started 1c to ⅜c up at 74½c to 75⅞c, and held near that higher figure. December responded sparingly, being 1½c to ⅝@⅞c up at 69⅝c to 69⅞c, but falling off to last night's figures at 69¾ @⅞c and rallying only ⅛c early. Local receipts were 57 cars, 17 of contract grade. ### MARKET REPORT.

Received over private wire of H. E. Baker, grain and stock broker, 507 Board of Trade, Duluth, Minn.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—The wheat market during the early part of the session ruled firm purely in sympathy with the strength in corn, but later the market eased off owing to disappointing cables from abroad, poor cash demand and increasing receipts at the Northwest. The close was weak at about the lowest point of the day. Liverpool reported their market quiet, ¼d to ½d lower. Continental markets were also quiet. Cash demand here continues very quiet and the seaboard reported only a moderate demand there for export. The weather throughout the spring wheat belt was generally favorable for the movement to market and receipts are beginning to increase and in a short time will be large and likely have a depressing effect on prices until cash demand improves materially. Cars tomorrow, 175.

There was a large and active trade in corn today and the market ruled strong and active on buying for both long and short account on severe frosts throughout the northern portion of country, and predictions of further frosts tonight throughout the whole of corn belt. On the advance there was more or less profit taking, which caused the market to close trifle easier. It is impossible to determine just how much damage has been done by last night's frosts, but we are of the opinion that considerable corn has been hurt—especially, in Iowa. Country offerings were practically nothing, while cash demand was good, although the advance in the market tended to restrict business. Foreign markets were firm. Liverpool closed ½d higher for the day. In our opinion sufficient damage has been done to warrant higher prices. We advise purchases of May and December corn on all weak spots. Cars for tomorrow, 215.

Trade in oats was light today and the market ruled quiet within a narrow range and with no special feature. Prices were higher early in sympathy with corn but the market later eased off and closed quiet. Country movement was light. Cash demand was rather quet. Indications point to lighter receipts in the near future and we look for the demand to increase. We advise buying both December and May oats on all weak spots. Cars tomorrow, 195.

Provisions opened strong on higher hogs and smaller receipts. Shorts took fright on frost scares and bought freely all day with sellers all good buyers. There was a heavy trade most of the day, but the market closes easier with good gain on January and May pork and moderate advance on the balance of the list. There is renewed interest in the market and unless the leaders smother the trade we expect to see a lively market with chances to play both sides. Cash trade shows improvement but the sales now are made at consuming points, and prices obtainable not made public. Hogs tomorrow, 10,000.

GRAIN GOSSIP.

Logan & Bryan, Chicago: Wheat—The market showed some strength early, but closed weak. Cables were disappointing, Liverpool is reporting poor spot demand and an increase of offerings of Russian wheat. Cash demand was also slow at the advance. Market has ruled strong, however, for several days and naturally a scalping reaction is due. The September situation is still one of doubt, although, apparently, the offerings of September wheat today were quite free. The scattered short interest is still large. It still looks to us like a scalping market. Estimated cars, 175.

Corn—There were hard frosts in Kansas and Nebraska and throughout the Northwest last night, also with indications of low temperatures throughout the Northwest. This caused some strength early, but the closing was rather soft, although an advance for the day. While the short interests in December and May is very large, yet the trade does not seem very willing to believe that frost has done any material damage. Of course, it will require several days to learn what the facts are, but we are inclined to think from our view that the damage in parts has been somewhat greater than is generally believed. We think it reasonably safe to purchase on any breaks and it may prove very profitable. Estimated cars, 215.

Oats—The market is very quiet, speculative interest is generally becoming less active and is being supersent to some extent by the increasing interest in corn. December and May oats are practically fair liquidation and a break in wheat caused a loss ow the corn advance. December fell off to 43⅞c and closed barely firm ¼c up at 43⅞c to 44c. September stiffened until it sold at 69½c but the close was only ¼c up at 69c.

Wheat had a big trade early with sharp advances in December stuff, largely out of sympathy for the corn strength. Cables were indifferent, although reports had cold, wet weather in England and crops damaged by the wet summer. The movement in the Northwest was disappointing and helped the upturn. September started 1c to ⅜c up at 74½c to 75⅞c, and held near that higher figure. December responded sparingly, being 1½c to ⅝@⅞c up at 69⅝c to 69⅞c, but falling off to last night's figures at 69¾ @⅞c and rallying only ⅛c early. Local receipts were 57 cars, 17 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 631 cars, making a total for the three points of 887 cars, against 558 last week and 1,140 a year ago.

The Northwest sold freely of December wheat in this market and inasmuch as wheat had not bulged sharply with the rest of the grain list the result was a break all around. September closed weak, 3⅝c lower at 73¾c and December 3c off at 69⅝@⅞c.

Oats held firm in sympathy with corn, but the trade was only fair. Receipts were of poor grade and light at 218 cars, 8 of contract grade. The weather also was against the bears, but advances early were not marked. December started 1@⅝ up to be lifted 2 31¾@⅞ to 31¾, dipped to 31¼@⅝c and steadied at 31⅜@¾c.

Provisions had a fair early support and gained somewhat by the rise in corn in early trading in moderate supply and yard prices advanced 10c. January pork started 7½@10c at $15.10, sold at $15.12½ and eased back to $15.05; January lard 5c, advanced at $8.50 to $8.52½, and January ribs a shade down at $7.90 and sold to $7.92½.

Julius Ranta's Suit For Injured House on Trial.

There were no civil cases taken up in the district court today.

Julius Ranta is seeking to recover $1922 from the Stevenson Mining company because his boarding house was blown into the air. The eruption occurred last April, and Ranta claims that the defendant company was careless in the use of dynamite. A road was being blasted, it is alleged, when a charge of explosive was put too close to his house, causing damage to the amount mentioned.

The personal injury case of John H. Cameron against the Duluth-Superior Traction company was still on in the district court this morning.

In the case of Hogan Lindahl against the Minnesota & North Wisconsin railroad company, in his appeal from the appraisal of the commissioners in condemnation proceedings, the jury allowed the plaintiff $200. The land in question was appraised at $45.

Football Men To Meet.

A meeting of the high school football men will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms this evening. Important business will come up and it is expected that a coach will be chosen.

There is no disposition on the part of the faculty to deprive the team of a coach and it is likely that a selection will be made this evening. Gardner, farmerly fullback of the university of Chicago eleven, and later identified with the Ashland baseball nine is working in this city and his name has been mentioned for the position.

Charles d'Autremont's Campaign Being Energetically Pushed.

Announces Committee In Charge of His Forces.

Many Old Line Democrats Among His Active Workers.

A city campaign committee has been organized in the interests of Charles d'Autremont's candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth district, and it contains the names of many strong local Democrats who have put the shoulder to the wheel in his behalf.

They have begun the fight in earnest and they propose to keep it up until the votes are in next Tuesday, they say. The names on the committee list include those of prominent Democrats who have been conspicuous in the party's battles in the past, and it is said that they are working hard for the success of their choice for the congressional nomination.

There are but a few days left of the primary campaign, but they will be put in by the committee, according to its members, in vigorously pushing the interests of Mr. d'Autremont, both in Duluth and in the outside counties of the district. There is a good deal that can be done in the way of getting out the vote and lining it up, and the committee members say that they will leave no stone unturned in their campaign.

The committee is regarded as a strong one. Among its members are Democrats of much more than local reputation. Henry Truelsen, who heads it, has had the advantage of having conducted a campaign for congress himself, and T. T. Hudson has managed the Democratic congressional campaign for a number of elections. There are a number of other old Democratic wheel horsess that are included in the list. Among the members of the committee are the following:

Stirring Things Up.

The friends of Charles d'Autremont are surprising those who expected to see a quiet campaign by stepping into the fight and stirring things up in behalf of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress. They are making a warm fight, and they prophecy his nomination by a decided majority next Tuesday.

GOOD ROADS

Convention at St. Cloud Adjourned After Customary Resolutions.

St. Cloud, Minn., Sept. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The convention on good roads adjourned today, after adopting the oustomary resolutions. The train leaves here Saturday, arriving at Fargo, N. D. Sunday morning, where a stop of one week will be made, giving a road-making demonstration and holding a convention. It is authoritatively stated that the Great Northern has consented to furnish a train through to the coast, thereby assuring the trip. It will arrive at Seattle on Oct. 12.

The men struck because twenty-two men had been discharged and the employes claimed the discharges were made because the men were unionists. More than 120 employes refused to continue at work unless the discharged men were reinstated. The strike, however, was declared off without any concessions on the part of the company.

DEPOSITION

Is All County Attorney Wants From Former Mayor Ames.

French Lick, Ind., Sept. 12.—Assistant County Attorney J. S. Jelly, of Minneapolis, has arrived here. He stated today that he was here with an order of court to take the deposition of former Mayor Ames, of Minneapolis, in the case of his brother, Fred W. Ames, formerly Minneapolis superintendent of police, whose case, on a charge of corruption in office, will be heard next Monday. He added that he knew of no decided action that had been taken in the matter of extraditing the former mayor on account of the indictment recently returned by the grand jury. He said:

"It is not true that I have in my possession requisition papers for Mayor Ames' return, and I have no knowledge of such papers ever having been issued."

BREAKOUT OF JAIL.

Columbus, O., Sept. 12.—The local police department has been notified of a jail delivery at Dayton early this morning and have been requested to watch for the following escaped prisoners: Joseph Parker, colored, awaiting trial on the charge of murder; Wm. Hickey, charged with horse stealing; Edward Williams, with pocket picking and Ira Bechtel with burglary.

UMPIRES NOT HENPECKED.

"That joke about the poor forlorn umpire runs a dead heat with the henpecked husband yarn," remarked a ball player to the Brooklyn Eagle the other day. "Because there are occasional kicks in a game and once in a while the bunch surrounds an umpire and throws the hooks in him, it does not mean that he is at the mercy of the players most of the time. On the contrary, the average umpire knows his power, and does not hesitate to get back more times than once.

"Take Tim Hurst, for instance. More stories have been told about Tim than any other umpire in the business, and most of them are true. Here's one that hasn't been published before to my knowledge, and shows to a considerable extent that the umpire isn't the downtrodden unfortunate the fans have been led to believe.

"Tim always gave the visiting team a shade the best of it on the general principle that the home club always had something of an advantage. When the Cleveland club was fighting hard to beat Baltimore, a few years ago, Tim was umpiring a game at Cleveland, and Patsy Tebeau got to him before play began, and remarking insinuatingly:

"Now, Tim, there's a big crowd here today, and I won't be responsible for them, if you don't give us a bit the best of it. They might throw you over the fence!"

"Tim said nothing, but looked at Tebeau in his quizzical way, and bade the game g'wan. The first batter up on the opposing side sent a ripping grounder down along the first base line about three feet foul.

"'Fair ball,' yelled Tim, "and the runner raced to second.

"Tebeau made a bee line for the plate, but Tim met him half way, and, before Patsy could let out a bellow, said:

"Now, — —, bring down your crowd and let 'em throw me over the fence."

"Unnecessary to say, Patsy collapsed.

"Joe Cantillon is the greatest umpire that ever lived," continued the player, "but while he commands the respect of every man on the ball field, he has had his troubles. But he never played the henpecked part. I remember a game in which 'Kid' Spear was catching and Cantillon was umpiring. Joe never likes to have a player try to fool him, but Spear persisted in pulling the ball over, a habit many catchers have in trying to make umpires call strikes. Joe warned Spear a couple of times, but he persisted. The next time Cantillon brought his knee up hard against the nearest portion of Spear's anatomy to him, and said:

"'Now will you pull 'em over when I tell you not to.'

"'Of course, Spear quit."

"Bill Phillips of the Reds tells a good one on Manassau, who umpired in the American, a couple of years ago," said the yarn spinner. 'Indianapolis and Kansas City were fighting close for the pennant and they were playing a series with only two points separating them. Phillips was pitching for Indianapolis and the Hoosiers had done a lot of kicking, so much so that Manassau got sore. At any rate, the next time the Kansas Citys came to bat, Phillips sent up a perfect strike.

"'One ball, that's hook number 1,' said Manassau.

"Phillips pitched another strike.

"'Ball two. That's hook number 2.'

"'I'll be hanged if you throw any more hooks into me,' said Bill, and he threw down the ball and walked to the bench."

"Another sample of the umpire's indifference to kicking was given by Brennan, who served for a short time in the National league when the double umpire system was in vogue. Some of the players got after him one day and, after hauling him over the coals, somebody remarked that he was rotten.

"'Rotten, am I,' said Brennan. 'All right, I'll just show you how bad an umpire is when he's rotten.'

"And he did," said the player somewhat ruefully, "but he cured us for all time."

THE NEW EDUCATION.

My friend was teaching the primary class in a city Sunday school. The lesson was the story of the wandering Israelites wife were miraculously fed upon manna, says Harper's Magazine.

"I don't know," she said, in a soft aside to me, "just what manna looks like, but I have his little bottle of homeopathic pills for an illustration," taking from her pocket a tiny phial and shaking it lightly.

She made the story interesting, and every little face was turned upward expectantly as she proceeded. She told of the cloud by day and the pillar of fire at night, the coming of the quails and the fall of manna, then rapidly reviewed the whole, asking questions to test the attention of her audience.

"And what did the Lord feed the children of Israel upon?" she asked.

"Pills!" they all shouted, without a dissenting voice.

Then for a moment, there was silence, while the teacher bent low, to look into her reticule after something which was not to be found.

Will Be Put Into Immediate Circulation By Secretary of the Treasury.

Will Place In Different National Banks.

He Will Also Anticipate October Interest.

New York, Sept. 13.—The weekly statement of the clearance house banks of New York, issued today, showed that the surplus reserve of the banks was decreased during the week by $3,381,975, leaving it at $715,075 in excess of the 25 per cent of deposits required by law. During the week loans were decreased $6,575,900, and there was a decrease of deposits of $14,628,900. The statement was much better than expected, and caused stocks to advance;

Washington, Sept. 13.—Secretary Shaw today the following statement:

Secretary Shaw has made arrangements to release about $4,000,000 of the Treasury holdings. He has had a list prepared of those national banks throughout the country which held free or pledged bonds at the date of their last report and has made inquiry for others. After making allowance for changed conditions since last report he expects this will release at least $4,000,000. He has sent notice to such banks that if they will send the bonds to the United States treasurer in sums of $20,000 or more they will be designated as temporary depositaries, and face value of the bonds will be deposited with them to the credit of the treasurer of the United States. He has pursued this course in preference to designating depositaries in the ordinary way, which compels them to buy bonds in the market at a large premium, thus paying out more for the bonds than they get from the government. The customs receipts are extremely heavy at this particular season of the year and the cash bllance of the treasury has been gradually increasing.

He has also decided to anticipate the October interest amounting to about $4,200,000 and with this in view orders have been issued to the various sub-treasuries to cash such soupons as may be presented for payment, and the treasurer of the United States has been instructed to mail checks for interest on the registered bonds. All this was decided upon some days ago and letters and telegrams prepared for today. The secretary sees in present conditions no occasion for alarm. He calls attention to the fact that there is no evidence of a currency famine present or prospective elsewhere than in New York, and even there the rate is not high for commercial paper and for commercial paper he has the greater solicitude. He is well satisfied with his efforts to increase circulation, which he decided upon in the early summer when present conditions were plainly visible and has the presses busy preparing to meet an emergency which he does not expect, but which he thinks it is wise to provide against. Thus far he has made requests only of such banks as hold large deposits and have very limited circulation and he is not asking these to increase to the maximum, nor to increase at all for the present. He does not desire to force the banks into the markets to buy bonds at a rate higher than the government is willing to pay. He does desire to make the best possible use of the free bonds now held by the banks, incidentally he likes to encourage banks to hold free bonds during the dull months, believing it is much better to hold bonds that will yield ½ per cent even than to make call loans at 2 per cent. He is therefore, giving the banks that hold these free bonds an opportunity to use them to most excellent advantage. This method if pursued by the banks would give a slight element of elasticity to our otherwise inelastic currency system.

His position as regards increasing circulation is perhaps best expressed in a letter, which he recently wrote a banker that had been already buying bonds, and which he has consented to make public. It is as follows:

"Treasury Department, Washington, Sept. 10, 1902. My Dear Sir: Your letter of the 8th is received. I find it well nigh impossible to convey the purport of my request even to the banks of whom I have made the request, much less to the public.

"First. In case of imminent danger or actual disaster, I will be compelled to use government deposits to buy increased circulation.

"Second. I desire to have from $15,000,000 to $50,000,000 additional circulation printed preparatory, so that it can be issued in four days instead of forty.

"Third. I will be glad to have the banks holding deposits, arrange if they can, to borrow the bonds.

"Fourth. I desire to send no bank into the market to buy bonds at the present time.

"Fifth. I do not care to have the currency issued unless conditions make it well nigh imperative.

"I am making no damand upon any bank. The amount of their circulation must be determined by their directors, but inasmuch as the public holds the secretary of the treasury somewhat responsible for existing conditions, I deem myself justified in using the public funds now held by various banks on deposit as I think best for the public good, and in case of trouble, I may think best to use these to buy increased circulation, the banks now holding such funds having preference."

GIGANTIC COMBINE

Of the Vanderbilt System and the Pennsylvania Road.

Financial Alliance Between Two Great Railroad Factors.

Total Capitalization of Roads Amounts Over Two Billions.

Cleveland, Sept. 13.—The Leader this morning prints the following in part:

A financial alliance has been formed by the two great factors in the Eastern railroad field, the Vanderbilt interests and those of the Pennsylvania system. The working agreement has been close in the past, but it has never come to an audacious allotment of territory and division of property between two big houses such as the new arrangement entails. The new combination grew out of a competitive movement of several months ago. The two big interests were mutually interested in the bituminous coal fields and in the hard coal fields as well. The Pennsylvania system predominated in the former and the Vanderbilts in the latter. By an understanding the Vanderbilts yielded the soft coal fields to the Pennsylvania in return for a similar concession on the hard coal from the Pennsylvania. The Eastern field was threatened by an invasion first by the Goulds and later by the Grand Trunk road and these big financial interests agreed to preserve the territory for themselves and the ties that had been formed by the coal deal were strengthened in the endavor to protect the Eastern field. The interests of the two big houses were growing gradually together, and soon resulted in an undertsanding such as has been now reached.

A short time ago, just before W. K. Vanderbilt went abroad, Mr. Cassatt, the president of the Pennsylvania road, went to New York to call upon him. This is the meeting of which so much was conjectured at the time, but so little known definitely. At that time it was agreed to form an offensive and defensive alliance in the East to completely control the situation and exclude all others from that field, except the favored members of the alliance.

The combination of interests makes one of the biggest deals that has ever been seen. To consider the vested rights of the two big houses east of Chicago, to say nothing of their property west of that point, gives them a capitalization of over $2,000,000,000 and mileage of over 30,000.

The organization promises to be the most domineering that has ever been formed. The aim is to absolutely control the transportation facilities in the territory between Chicago and St. Louis, the great lakes and Ohio river and the Canadian boundary and the Potomac river, through to the Atlantic coast. In that territory they will legislate rates and conditions and do about as they please, subject only to the interference of the interstate commerce commission, and it is their aim to block the progress of every other road which tries to invade that territory. They are not content with the establishment of the supervision

NOTHING TO SAY

Profound Silence Concerning Conference of Stone and Mitchell.

Occurred at Harrisburg and Lasted Until 4:30 A. M.

The Differences Were Discussed With Best of Feeling.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 13.—The conference between Governor Stone and President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, on matters pertaining to the strike, ended at 4:30 o'clock this morning, after a discussion of two hours and a half. The others at the conference were State Senator William Flinn of Pittsburg, a political friend of the governor and a large employer of labor in Allegheny county; M. E. McMullin, of Pittsburg, a wealthy man of many interests; Col. W. P. Richardson, of Harrisburg, keeper of the state arsenal and assistant quartermaster of the National Guard, and District Presidents Thomas D. Nicholls of Scranton; Thomas Duffy, of McAdoo, and John Fahey, of Shamokin. At the conclusion of the meeting, Governor Stone gave to the waiting newspaper men a written statement, reading as follows:

"Messrs. Mitchell, Nichols, Fahey, Duffy, Senator Flinn, Col. Richardson and Governor Stone have been in conference. All the differences have been discussed with the best of feeling."

Every effort to get the participants in the conference to divulge what took place proved unavailing. Governor Stone and Senator Flinn immediately retired and refused to be seen, and the others would say nothing beyond what was contained in the non-committal statements given out by the governor. After the conference, Messrs. Mitchell, Duffy and Fahey were rapidly driven from the governor's residence, where the conference was held, to the railroad station, where they took the train for Wilkesbarre. Mr. Nicholls remained here.

President Mitchell, before leaving, would not even say whether the conference was satisfactory to him and his district. While no official information can be had on the matter, it is believed here that Governor Stone and his colleagues submitted a proposition to President Mitchell which will tend to end the struggle in the hard coal field.

The conference was the result of the visit of Governor Stone, Senator Flinn, Attorney General Elkin, Mr. McMullin and P. A. B. Widener, of Philadelphia, to New York, a few days ago, when Mr. Widener called on J. P. Morgan. The meeting was called at the instance of the governor, and Mr. Mitchell, before he met the chief executive, said he did not know what the governor wanted.

FIERCE FIRES RAGE

Great Forest Conflagrations Extend Through Pacific Northwest.

THE WIND A GODSEND

Northeasterly Breeze Has Saved the Day at Beaumont.

Spindle Top Oil Field Still a Mass of Flames.

Is One of Most Destructive Oil Fires In History.

New Orleans, Sept. 13.—A special to the Picayune from Beaumont, Tex., last midnight, says:

One acre of Spindle Top hill, in the great Beaumont oil field, is tonight a seething mass of flames and stifling smoke. At 1 o'clock this morning the fire was at a standstill. It is under control so long as the wind continues from the northeast, fanning the flames away from the hill. Thirty-five or forty derricks have been razed to the ground in the Keith-Ward tract. Across the avenue the mammoth 3700-barrel tank of the Higgins people is on fire, but the oil is being drawn from the bottom, which will eventually starve out the flames. The great Texas Flora gusher is ablaze, sending heat and smoke eighty feet into the air. The Wood well is on fire. Several smaller tanks are burning, it being impossible to tell how many. What the total loss will be is anly conjecture. It will be enormous.

The heat is the fire fighters greatest barrier. One moment the flame and smoke will rise in an impenetrable mass and blacken the heavens, then fall in smothering waves and roll along the surface of the earth, carrying all before it. From the direction of the wind the workmen have been able to advance to within 150 feet of the burning structures. The brisk northeasterly winds that swept down upon Beaumont have been a godsend and have saved the day.

This is one of the hottest, fiercest, most destructive oil fires in history.

Many Sawmills and Farmhouses Destroyed.

Several Small Villages Are In Great Danger.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 13.—The result of the forest fires which are raging in this vicinity may be summed up substantially as follows up to the present time:

Tillamook City has been saved from impending doom by a timely change in the wind.

The forests in Douglas and Jackson counties are on fire, but the damage yet is small.

Superintendent Ormsby of the Cascade forest reserve says that no fire has yet entered the reserve.

Sixty people in the town of Springwater, Clackamas county, were forced to flee for their lives and rendered homeless, and a fine timber belt destroyed.

The sawmill of the Bridal Veil Lumber company and the whole town of Palmer, situated twenty miles east of Bridal Veil, in this county, has been destroyed.

The damage in Eastern Multonomah county amounts to $40,000, and every family has been fighting fire since Monday.

Three houses and the bridge are gone in Pleasant valley.

To protect the town of Gresham, men stand guard night and day.

At Pleasant Home a sawmill was burned and four others were in danger.

Valuable timber has been destroyed near Coburg, Wilhoit Springs, Wendeling and other points.

The steamer Columbia is reported stranded in the river near Astoria. The non-arrival of grain and coasting ships is due to dense smoke at the mouth of the Columbia river.

A woman was burned to death near Vancouver and a woman and child are missing.

Mills, lumber and timber to the value of $1,000,000 were destroyed in Chehalis county, Wash.

The damage near Lentz, Ore., amounts to over $25,000. Details of various losses from numerous country districts are arriving and the record of small individual losses will not be finished until rain shall have come to quench the flames.

Seattle, Sept. 13.—The density of the smoke from forest fires in vadious parts of adjacent country districts is increasing. Transportation facilities on all sides are badly impaired and communication with many counties is cut off. Nearly all mails are late. The most serious fear is that Enumclaw, a little town just north of Seattle, will be entirely wiped out by the fires. Capt. Bryant, federal inspector of hulls and well known all along the coast, and A. P. Stockwell, a wealthy logger, had a thrilling escape thursday. For half an hour they rode through an area of timber, roaring with fire. Burning trees were on every side, but the travelers were successful in reaching the outskirts in safety. A five-minute halt at any point would have resulted in their death, so fierce was the walls of flames.

Elma, Wash., Sept. 13.—Forest fires are raging over a large area of country east of Elma. Several large mills suffered more or less loss, and some have been destroyed.

The Star mill and village have been wiped out. Wagon loads of refugees are arriving from the burning district, and people are beginning to move out of Elma. Many farm houses and barns have been destroyed. A high east wind favors the fire and gives it terrific velocity. The Odd Fellows' cemetery, one and a half miles from town, is burning. The seven big mills have an aggregate value of over half a million in their plants alone. Their total value is near the million mark. Elma citizens are taking every precaution to save their homes.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 13.—Immense brush fires are burning in the districts surrounding Victoria. The town of Alberni is threatened. several houses have been burned at Sooke, and the aerial tramway and ore bins of the Tye mine are in danger. The blue jackets had hard work to save the naval hospital.

Everett, Wash., Sept. 13.—Forest fires are raging along the Great Northern between Skihomish and Wellington. Telegraphic communication between here and Seattle is cut off. Freight and passenger traffic is demoralized from the East by the burning of a bridge at Alvin, near the Cascade tunnel. The Great Northern is patrolling the line with engines fitted with fire-fighting pumps.

Tacoma, Sept. 13.—Forest fires are now burning in every county of Western Washington and British Columbia to the Columbia river. The conflagrations are the most extensive in Mason, Thurston, Chehalis and Lewis counties to the southwest of Tacoma. Poison, in Chehalis county, has been partly destroyed. It was the center of a large logging, lumber and shingle mill industry. Other towns which are in great danger are Shelton, Mattock, Black Hills, Bucoda, Ranier and Castle Rock, in Southwestern Washington. Enumclaw and Blakely, in the Cascade mountains, are threatened.

The logging camps of Thomas Bordeau, near Olympia, are surrounded by flames. Forty men have left here on horseback to rescue the women and children. The Grays Harbor branch of the Northern Pacific is on fire, even to the ties in several places. Many farm houses about Enumclaw and throughout Southwestern Washington, together with other farm property, has been destroyed. At Enumclaw Mrs. Biles was driven from her home with her dead baby in her arms, while her husband was out fighting the fire. The burning of a bridge at Wellington on the Great Northern has stopped traffic.

WOMAN'S FIENDISH DEED

Mrs. Kennedy of St. Paul Set Fire to Tenement House In Which There Were Thirty-Five Persons, Mostly Children.

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The police arrested Mrs. May Kennedy, wife of a hack driver, about 1 o'clock this morning, charging her with setting fire to the tenement building at 81 West Third street.

She was caught in the act of setting fire to the building. She was seen by neighbors lying in wait for the purpose, bringing a cup of kerosene to the hall door, saturate a paper with it and then pour the oil on the floor. She then deliberately, it is alleged, struck the match and set fire to the saturated paper. Matron Cummings, of the central station, who resides across the hall from Mrs. Kennedy, was one of the party lying in wait, and saw Mrs. Kennedy clap her hands and smile at her work. Mrs. Kennedy was immediately seized by a dozen women who flocked into the hall from places where they had been in hiding. Officer Aynesley was called and he placed the woman under arrest.

She was arraigned in police court this morning charged with arson, and secured a continuance until Sept. 15. There are eight families in the tenement and number about thirty-five persons, mostly children.

FRIGHTFUL COLLISION

Passenger Train Ascending Steep Grade In Colorado Is Met By Heavily Loaded Runaway Freight Cars, Causing Awful Smash.

Denver, Sept. 13.—Santa Fe passenger train No. 606, known as the newspaper train, which left Denver this morning at 3:50 bound for Colorado Springs, Pueblo, St. Louis and Chicago, collided with a freight train at Struby, a small station several miles south of Littleton and three members of the passenger train crew were killed and another perhaps fatally injured.

Dead:
MACK BERNHART, engineer.
J. A. PETTINGILL, fireman.
JOHN RODGERS, fireman.

Seriously injured: Archie Stewart, engineer.

Some of the passengers were badly shaken up and bruised, but so far as known, none were killed or seriously injured.

The freight when ascending a steep grade on a sidetrack at Struby to let the passenger train pass, parted and fifteen or eighteen heavily loaded cars started back toward the approaching passenger train, which was drawn by two engines.

The engineer of the passenger train reversed and tried to back out of the way of the runaway cars, but did not succeed. The crash was heard for miles. Both passenger engines were thrown into the ditch and eight cars were piled upon them. The engineers and firemen were buried under the wreckage.

NEVADA REPUBLICANS

Favor Silver as a Money Metal; Denounce Trusts; Believe In an Eight-Hour Day; and Honor the Soldiers.

Reno, Nev., Sept. 13.—At the session of the Republican state convention last night, the report of the committee on platform was adopted. It endorses Hon. Thomas P. Hawley for the United States senate. It declares for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. It favors the largest use of silver as money metal in all matters compatible with best interest of our government and pledges the nominee for congress to exercise his best endeavors to secure the greatest possible use of silver; approves of the earnest efforts of the present administration to enforce to the fullest extent possible the permanent trust laws; favors labor laws and declares for an eight-hour law in mines, mills and smelting works and favors expansion. It holds in undying honor the heroism and sacrifices of the soldiers and the sailors of the republic and denounces the Democratic party for the hostile spirit shown to the soldiers who are giving valorous service in the swamps and jungles of the Philippines.

The Republicans of Nevada favor the policy of protection to American industries and American labor.

GEN. MILES AT ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gen. Nelson A. Miles and party, en route to the Philippines, arrived in St. Paul at 7:45 o'clock this morning and departed two hours later for the West. The party is composed of Gen. and Mrs. Miles, Col. and Mrs. M. P. Maus, the general's private secretary, Frank Flint, and Frank Hall, of Philadelphia.

After breakfast in their car, the party were taken for a short carriage ride through the city, Gen. Kobbe acting as host. Gen. Miles said:

"My visit to the Philippines is for the purpose of inspecting the different army posts there, which will require three or four months. Before going I expect to visit the posts along the Pacific coast, and will not sail for some two weeks yet."

The party is traveling in a private car, which was attached to a Great Northern train leaving for the West at 9:25 a. m. A stop of one day will be made at Fort Assiniboine, after which the party will go direct to the coast.

The short stop in St. Paul did not permit an inspection of Fort Snelling.

OFFICIALS ARE THIEVES

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—Speaking of the commercial outlook in the Orient, Gen. T. S. Sharrets, the United States commissioner who recently aided in framing a new tariff for China, and who is now en route for Washington, said:

"Reform is urgently needed in the financial policy of China and its methods of managing financial affairs, especially in collecting revenues. As matters stand, American trade with China is of little importance, and will never amount to much under the proposed new tariff, or under any tariff. The collection of the government's revenues is placed in the hands of middle men, or thieving officials if you will, who permit about 10 per cent of their collections to reach the government. China is on the eve of bankruptcy, and unless the powers get together and force the country into revolutionizing its methods within the next ten years, there will be an awful crash in the far East. China will appear in the deplorable role of defaulting in her payments of indemnity to the treaty powers, and the division of Chinese empire among the big world powers will surely follow.

Mr. Sharrets gave it as his opinion that China would attach her signature to the new tariff before long.

Mr. Sharrets was instrumental in preventing the signing by China of the proposed new British commercial treaty, which, by providing for an abolition of the likin tax, and an increased duty on all imports, he says, would have injured American trade with China.

MEN WHOSE EFFORTS MAY END COAL STRIKE.

Of the many conferences which have been held for the purpose of bringing an end to the great strike of anthracite coal miners those between the three men here shown promise to be most fruitful in results. Mr. P. A. B. Widener, who is a director in the United States Steel company, is associated with J. Pierpont Morgan in many enterprises. Governor Stone and State Attorney General Elkin of Pennsylvania have been making great efforts to bring about a settlement.

SCHLEY THROUGH WITH NAVY

New York, Sept. 13.—Rear Admiral Schley and Mrs. Schley has reached Boston after a summer outing in the Adirondacks, says a special dispatch to the Herald. The admiral said: "I never felt better in my life. Since my retirement from the service I have taken the keenest of delight in the privileges of a civilian and in the beauties of this country of ours, for I have passed more of my years afloat than ashore. You understand, I am retired and done. To me the navy is a thing of the past. Since my retirement I am out of it and done with it, after a life of service." Rear Admiral Schley and Mrs. Schley will leave Boston today to visit in Connecticut. It is their purpose to go West within a few weeks and then visit Texas, where they may remain two months.

CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire, resulting from an explosion of kerosene used to start the kitchen fire in the home of Louis Moritz this morning, destroyed the house, two children, Louis, aged 2 years, and Annie, aged 17 years, perishing in the flames. In trying to save his daughter, Mr. Moritz was badly burned, but will recover. Three other children narrowly escaped. The mother had left earlier for market and was uninjured. An adjoining house was badly scorched.

Stewart Stoves and Ranges.

Heating Stoves that heat
Steel Ranges that bake

Queer tricks this weather man plays on us. Sends killing frosts and forces us and forces you to think of stoves long before the proper time. No use complaining. It can't be helped. Commence "looking" at once. Find out where you "can do the best." We offer the first opportunity Duluth has had of viewing 1902 line of FINEST HEATING STOVES. No stoves could be more satisfactory. No other stoves as sure to please both in quality and price.

Popularity of the Stewart grows daily. The top notch of perfection. Prices screwed down to the lowest notch.

STEEL RANGES
Burn Coal or Wood.

Before we talk heaters, let us mention our Steel Ranges. Full of good points. It's a range that stands above all others. A range that bakes perfectly and does so at a minimum cost. Hundreds of them in use in Duluth. All giving perfect satisfaction. We can't begin to tell you all about them here. You'll have to see them.

Cost from $25 to $90.
Complete Scale of prices between these values.

BASE BURNER
Burn Coal.

"Radiant" Stewarts, double heaters. Prize Stewarts, single heaters. Durability, perefect operation and economy of fuel are the main reasons why all should use them. Burn any coal, have large well-arranged flues, an unequalled grate with special dumping and shaking arrangement. Beautiful stoves. All nickel is the very best.

Cost $36 to $53, large size.

Prices that defy the coal trust.

ROUND OAKS
Burn Coal or Wood.

Undoubtedly a popular stove this winter. Will burn wood as well as any air-tight. Will burn coal perfectly. Look as beautiful as our base burners. All mechanical arrangements are patented. Stoves are perfected to the finest detail. Seeing is believing.

Special sizes $13.50 to $28.00.

Cut Down Your Coal Bills.

HOT BLASTS
Burn Wood Only.

Have the high qualities of all other Stewarts. Made of best heavy gauge steel with cast iron top and base. Both top and front feed doors, best nickel trimmings. Are absolutely air-tight, consequently they burn less wood than other makes.

Very large ones $15 and $16.25.
Wood at $4.00 per cord. Coal $8.00 per ton.

AIR TIGHTS
Burn Wood only.

We have some dandies made of heavy sheet iron and with cast iron drafts. Crimped tops. Ours are lined on the interior. Take 24 and 26-inch wood.

Prices $3.60 and $4.40.

Burn pine knots, slabs or any kind of wood—smaller stoves and larger stoves—we fill all wants.

We are sole Duluth agents for the celebrated Stewart stoves and show none but these. Top any of our prices with a $5 bill and you couldn't buy a better stove.

Complete Housefurnishings.
Very Easy Payments.

HAUNTS THEM

The German Bagdad Railroad Scheme Worries the Russians.

London, Sept. 13.—In a dispatch from Odessa, the correspondent of the Standard says the German Bagdad railroad scheme appears to haunt the Russian press like a specter.

The Novosti, continues the correspondent, referring to the report that J. Pierpont Morgan has taken, or is about to take considerable interest in the new railroad, observes that although Americans, Frenchmen and Englishmen will be large shareholders, the enterprise will remain essentially German.

The Novoe Vremya, the correspondent also cables, strongly advocates a strenuous policy to offset British and German activity in Persia, saying that to wait until the Seistan and Bagdad line is completed would be nothing less than suicidal on the part of Russia. "It is through Persia only," says the Novo Vremya, "that Russia can outflank the Germans in Mesopotamia and the British in Baluchistan and India."

ECZEMA; NO CURE, NO PAY.

TO BEGIN MONDAY

Trial of Charles E. Henderson For Murder Coming Up.

Accused of Slaying Ida McCormick, His Alleged Wife.

Case Will Be Interesting. Daniel H. Waite to Defend.

The trial of Charles E. Henderson, the negro charged with murder in the first degree, will be taken up in the district court Monday morning.

Much interest centers in the case. Henderson killed Ida McCormick, a woman with whom he lived as man and wife, one evening the latter part of June. The couple lived on West First street. Henderson was in hiding in a closet when the woman appeared. He dashed for her, knife in hand, and did not stop slashing until his victim fell to the floor dead.

Jealousy is supposed to be the cause of the crime, although Henderson has declined to say anything about it until he is put on the witness stand. He claimed the woman to be his wife and had lived with her two years, although they were never legally married. From a letter found after the affair it is taken that the dead woman had been communicating with another man here and that Henderson was very jealous.

Henderson is a man of considerable intelligence and his people stand high in the colored circles of the communities in which they reside. He has many relatives in the ministry while his sisters are also engaged in the work of uplifting the negro. Henderson is a fluent talker and takes his position philosophically. He was a member of one of the volunteer Illinois regiments during the Spanish-American war and served at Santiago.

Since his confinement Henderson has been an exceptionally good prisoner. He has kept a stiff upper lip at all times and if worst comes he is prepared to meet it like a man.

It is expected that there will be considerable time taken in securing a jury. The murder created a sensation in the city at the time and has been followed closely by the public. County Attorney McClintock will conduct the prosecution while Daniel H. Waite will represent the defendant.

IS FINED.

Joe Sheehy Gets An Expensive Rap From the Court.

Joseph Sheehy mingled with more trouble today.

He was found guilty of engaging in the employment business without a license, and fined $25 and costs, amounting to $35 in all.

The complaint was made by George Boline, manager of the Globe employment bureau.

A number of witnesses testified that they had been hired by Mr. Sheehy and showed their tickets with his name on.

It is the first time Sheehy has been in trouble here since spring, he having been out of the city.

The employment agents and others doing business in the Bowery district are after his scalp and the council does not seem to think him a proper person to license.

Last spring Sheehy turned the tables on many of those that were after him by swearing out warrants for many Bowery places that kept open on Sunday. It is said that he may reorganize this one-man reform movement, retaliating with those that have been instrumental in getting him into his latest mix-up.

James Harrison, one of the tug firemen that participated in the street scrap with non-union tugmen yesterday morning, was arrested this morning and fined $1 and costs in police court.

BOODLERS.

Grand Jury Continues Investigations of St. Louis Outfit.

St. Louis, Sept. 13.—The grand jury today continued its inquiry into the city lighting scandal, for which eighteen members of the house of delegates have already been indicted on charges of bribery and perjury.

Charles F. Kelly, the much-wanted member of the house of delegates, who is credited with having personally distributed $47,500 boodle fund put up to insure the passage of the lighting bill, has decided to surrender to Circuit Attorney Folk. Kelly is indicted for bribery and perjury in connection with the lighting bill and for bribery and perjury in the suburban street railway deal. Conviction on this charge may result in fifteen years in prison.

Mr. Folk has declared that he has ample evidence, through the confessions of the Murrel brothers, ex-Delegate Robertson and others to convict the entire eighteen members of the old house combine who are indicted for bribe taking and perjury. The state's witnesses are not supposed to know the source of the money which bribed them, and the circuit attorney lacks the preponderance of evidence necessary to convict the bribe givers. Kelly is believed to be able to give this evidence.

TREASURY BALANCES.

OUTRAGEOUS

The Price of Coal Is Now Way Up In Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—The price of soft coal in Chicago has risen to $9 a ton as compared with $3.75 on Sept. 1. Anthracite is practically unobtainable and, is quoted by some dealers as high as $25 a ton. The sudden advance in prices is attributed to the demand caused by the cold weather, which, while not severe in itself, has aroused householders to a realization that their bins are empty.

AMERICANS WIN

In Eight Hundred Yard Shoot at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 13.—A drizzling rain, accompanied by a strong east wind, was failing when the American, British and Canadian rifle teams faced the targets on the Rockliffe range in the Palma trophy contest today. hTe weather conditions were so adverse that high scores were not looked for. During the early hours, the teams did some practice shooting, the Americans, however, not reaching the range until quite late.

The total score at 800 yards was: Americans, 550; Canadians, 503; British, 528.

OSTEOPATHY.

If you have failed to receive benefit from taking drugs, do not be discouraged; there is still hope for you. Go to Drs. McClaran, Osteopaths, 512-513-514 Torrey building, and give them a chance. Put youself in their hands and rest assured that they will cure you. They are curing hundreds of others and they will surely cure you. These doctors work in harmony with NATURE, and their efforts are directed by a complete knowledge of the human system. They are, as it were, expert machinists of the human anatomy. It is their aim to see that the sewerage of the system is unobstructed, and made free and that there are no impediments to the functions of the different organs of the body. Go to them reader, and let them "PUT YOU IN SHAPE." Look at P. M. Graff today, who a few months ago was lying in a state of paralysis and in four treatments was able to walk unassisted to our offices, for treatment, and there is F. W. Penwarden, of 418 South Eighteenth avenue east, who was also incapacitated for any kind of work; he, too, was a paralytic, caused as the result of an accident on the Duluth & Iron Range railway. After twelve treatments he resumed his work, after having been sick for six months. And there is Murdick Cameron, with Bright's disease, a boarding house keeper, of Twentieth avenue west, who was given up to die by his physician; he, as a last resort, went to these doctors for treatment. Look at him today. You on seeing him three months ago and today would hardly know him. HE WILL LIVE and be happy in the companionship of his family. These are but a few of the pronounced cures the doctors have made, but enough to convince the public that their claims are no idle dream, but truth unmistakable facts, and they court investigation. Go and see these doctors. We give our STAMP of approval for we know these statements to be truth.

Is a Vote Getter.

That Charles d'Autremont, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth district, is strong abroad as well as locally, is shown by the election returns for 1898, when he was a candidate for attorney general on the state ticket. In St. Paul, at that election, Cleveland carried the city by 76, and Mr. d'Autremont received a majority of 1770 votes.

HEROIC DARING

GOVERNMENT LIFE-SAVING CREW RECEIVE GOLD MEDALS.

The Overturning of a Life-Boat in the Surf on Lake Erie Ends the Usefulness of One Hardy Rescuer.

From the thirty-first day of October to the eleventh day of November, 1883, the crew of the U. S. life-saving station at Cleveland, Ohio, saved twenty-seven men and two women from vessels thrown ashore by the storms that lashed the waters of Lake Erie. To each of the nine men in the crew the government gold medal "for heroic daring" was awarded, and the story of the earning of these medals gives a glimpse of the perils that these hardy men are trained to face.

It was on the eleventh of October that the most thrilling rescue was accomplished under difficulties that would have daunted most men. The barge J. T. Janson went ashore during a howling hurricane. Through the driving spray and pounding surf, the heroic band launched the life-boat in an effort to get a line to the distressed vessel. No sooner was the boat in the water, and the men in their places, than it was capsized by an immense wave and the men thrown into the water. One of the crew was Charles L. Learned, forty-one years old and a vigorous specimen of manhood. When the boat rolled over he was caught beneath it and, pinned down by his oar, lost consciousness. The action of the waves washed him under the boat before life was extinct and his cork belt brought him to the surface. Hundreds of people had gathered to watch the work of rescue. A policeman and a laborer drew Learned from the water and took him to the customs house where he was revived by stimulants. The other members of the life crew made their way to the shore and hurried for the beach apparatus. In about one hour and a half they returned and Learned had so far recovered that he made his way to the scene of the wreck and took his place with the crew. All hands were saved, but Learned's career as a life-saver was ended. In relating the story, he said that rheumatism quickly set in as a result of the cold and exposure. This was complicated with neuralgia. "I had such pains in my back that I could hardly move," he says, "and the least excitement would cause my heart to beat violently. I had to be very careful of my diet and suffered much distress after eating. I could not sleep, my head ached, I was all run-down and discouraged. Having been disabled in the government service, I received something over six hundred dollars in addition to my gold medal."

Mr. Learned is now a prosperous farmer at Sandy Creek, N. Y., and the story of his restoration to activity is best told as he tells it. "About four years ago," he says, "I saw Dr. William's Pink Pills advertised in a newspaper. I tried them and firmly believe that if I had not I should be in my grave now. The pills began to help me in less than a week. Not only did they benefit my rheumatism, but they built up my strength, so that I was soon able to do a bigger day's work than in years before. The insomnia disappeared and sleep was sound and refreshing. I have recommended Dr. William's Pink Pills for Pale People to many and I am glad to endorse them. Everyone at Sandy Creek and Richland, N. Y., knows of my recovery and that it is due to this remedy."

Mr. Learned's address is Pulaski (R. F. D.), N. Y., and he will verify the foregoing account if letters of inquiry enclose stamped addressed envelop for reply.

Dr. William's Pink Pills for Pale People will never fail to effect a cure if used persistently for a reasonable length of time. They may be had of all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., six 50-cent boxes for two dollars and a half, postpaid, on receipt of price.

Muldoon Charged With Shooting Cleveland Policeman.

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—James O'Malley, whose right name is said to be John Muldoon, the alleged highwayman, arrested here with John Sterling, alias John Wilson, after a fierce revolver fight with Detective Frazer, is wanted by the Cleveland, Ohio, police for shooting Patrolman Kearney, of Cleveland, June 8, 1902, while resisting arrest. This information was received by Chief O'Connor this morning from Chief of Police Corner, of Cleveland.

Vote for J. B. Middlecoff, Republican candidate for Judge of Probate for a second term.

NO MERGER

Of the Nebraska Packing Houses Will Be Allowed.

Omaha, Sept. 13.—The World-Herald today quotes Governor Savage as saying that any attempt to include the packing houses of Nebraska in a merger will result in a strong fight in the courts. On account of the large Nebraska packing interests, an attempt of the state officials to prevent the combine from doing business in this state would probably have a serious effect on the proposed merger. Following is the governor's view:

"As soon as it comes to my knowledge that the merger of the packing houses has taken place, I shall instruct the legal department of the state to investigate fully. If I find that any law of the state of Nebraska is being violated, I will interfere and will throw the entire weight of the law against the combination.

"I have already given considerable thought to the question, and while I will not venture to say officially that the combination will be illegal, because that point must be settled by the attorney general, should that official notify me that the merger is against the laws of Nebraska and that the law is being violated, I will direct that proceedings be immediately brought to declare the merger void and will impose the full penalty of the law against those responsible for the combination.

FRED W. KUGLER

Candidate For Democratic Nomination For County Commissioner From the Second District.

He was elected on that ticket four years ago, carrying all but one precinct in the First and Second wards of Duluth. At that time the finances of St. Louis county were at a low ebb. County orders were being discounted on the streets, taxes were high, and taxes to the amount of $1,300,000 were overdue with little prospect that they would ever be paid or that the property they covered would ever be redeemed by the owners. The large number of delinquents made the share of those who paid regularly heavier each year. Since then these taxes have all been cleaned up, tax levies and tax rates have been reduced, and the county is in excellent condition financially.

The thing that brought about the change was a resolution of compromise originated by Mr. Kugler as chairman of the tax committee of the board, which enabled burdened property owners to clear up their tax debts and begin paying again, thus relieving those who had been bearing the burden alone. Besides this, Mr. Kugler has fought in his career on the county board for strict economy and the application of sound business principles to public affairs. A vigorous enforcement of such ideas has resulted in many reforms that have put money into the pockets of the taxpayers.

CANDIDATES

AT THE

PRIMARY ELECTION.

For Auditor.

ODIN HALDEN—The present county auditor, announces that he is a candidate for renomination at the hands of the Republican voters of St. Louis county at the primary election to be held Sept. 16. During his services as county auditor he has made a record as a careful, conservative and reliable official, one who has done what he thought to be right without fear or favor, and in asking the voters to support him at the primary election he rests his claims for support upon that record.

For Register of Deeds.

L. M. JOHNSON is a candidate for Register of Deeds. He is a member of the Typographical union, and is prominent in the West End of the city. He is a Swedish-American, and if nominated will bring strength to the ticket.

County Supt. of Schools.

SUPERINTENDENT ANDREW T. PARK asks your vote, Sept. 16, to make him the Republican nominee for county superintendent of schools.

BERT N. WHEELER, of West Duluth, seeks the Republican nomination for a second term as county superintendent of schools. He is an old resident and fully qualified for the office.

W. H. STULTZ, with many years' experience in the school room, seeks the Republican nomination for county superintendent.

For Sheriff.

JOHN T. ARMSTEAD is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff at the coming primary election, and solicits the favor of voters on the ground that he always has been a consistent Republican.

JOHN R. MEINING is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and solicits the votes and support of all Republicans on his record as a persistent worker for the party and competent business man.

OLE LARSON is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and is the choice of the labor oranizations for this office. Vote for him Sept. 16.

WILLIAM J. BATES, of Duluth, at the earnest and long-continued solicitation of his friends, has become a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff of St. Louis county, and has resigned as deputy sheriff to enter the race. If he is nominated and elected he will devote his personal work to the discharge of the duties of the office, something that has not heretofore been done.

JOHN A. HEALY, of Hibbing, announces himself as a candidate at the primary election for the Republican nomination for sheriff and solicits the support of Republicans throughout the county. He is a successful business man and is unqualifiedly endorsed by the leading Republicans of the Mesaba. He has served four years as deputy sheriff, with credit.

For County Commissioner.

LOUIS R. HELBING announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in the Second district. If nominated and elected, he pledges himself to devote his attention to a careful, economical and judicious administration of the county's funds, that the best results for the people may be secured with a minimum expenditure of public money.

For Congress.

M. L. FAY, of Virginia, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth district, subject to the decision of the voters at the primaries, Sept. 16. Capt. Fay has been a resident of the district for a number of years, and his record as a citizen and a Democrat is well known. He is especially well known in St. Louis county, having been a large employer of labor on the Mesaba range in St. Louis county and Itasca county. He has the respect of the men that have worked for him, and the consideration of his business associates and acquaintances, and if nominated and elected he promises to work for the best interests of the district.

For Representative.

RAY T. LEWIS announces himself to the voters as candidate for the Republican nomination for representative for the Fiftieth district. He asks your votes and support on Sept. 16.

For State Senator Fifty-First District.

HON. GEORGE R. LAYBOURN is a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator from the Fifty-first district, which he has ably served three terms as representative. His work and standing in the legislature reflect credit upon himself and his constituents, and his nomination as state senator will be only a well deserved promotion. Vote for him on Sept. 16th.

SENATOR F. B. DAUGHERTY announces that he is a candidate for renomination upon the Republican ticket for state senator in the Fifty-first district, which includes the First, Second and Fourth wards of Duluth, the townships of Morse, St. Louis and Duluth, the city of Ely and Lake and Cook counties. He has represented this section of the state once before the term that is now expiring, and both times he has served with distinction, and has been directly responsible for the passage of many measures of great benefit to this district and its people. His efforts in the legislature have been for the good of all classes of his constituents, and he has been able to materially help the interests of business and labor many times. In considering this matter, the attention of the voters is invited to his record as citizen and legislator.

Predict Fine Majority.

The campaign for Charles d'Autremont for the Democratic nomination for congress is said by his friends to be progressing very well, and considerable effect is claimed for the announcement of the strong list of committeemen for the city, published yesterday in The Herald. His supporters predict a splendid majority for him next Tuesday.

DITCHED.

Passenger Train on Milwaukee Road Leaves the Rails.

Milwaukee, Sept. 13.—Passenger train No. 23 south-bound on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road was ditched today at Stowell station in the southern part of the city, owing to the spreading of the rails. Engineer L. W. Rodgers is said to be fatally injured and Fireman O. E. Wagner badly hurt. An unknown man riding on the blind end of the baggage car was killed. The train was going at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The engine, two baggage cars and one coach left the track. None of the passengers were hurt.

EXPELLED AGAIN.

The Sisters Once More Removed From Landernau.

Brest, France, Sept. 13.—The subprefect of Finisterre, accompanied by a strong force of gendarmes and military, unexpectedly landed at Landernau today and again expelled the sisters, who were turned out in August last, but who returned later after discovering a decree dated 1828, which they claimed removed them from the scope of the law of associations. The sub-prefect also reclosed the school amid the protests of the people.

GROWING SERIOUS.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Sept. 13.—The street car strike is assuming a serious aspect. The blacksmiths in the employ of the company struck this morning. The city depends upon the street car plant for electric power, when may be shut off.

KNOX LEAVES FOR CHERBOURG.

Paris, Sept. 13.—Attorney General Knox and Special Assistant Attorney General Russell, left here for Cherbourg today to embark on the steamer St. Paul. Mr. Knox said he had nothing to add to his statement of Wednesday last and would reserve his opinion of the Panama canal titles for President Roosevelt himself.

ABDUCTED LITTLE GIRL.

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Adams was arrested this morning for the abduction of Mary Perrow, 15 years old, a domestic in the apartment house of Sarah Anderson, 411 Wacouta street. He will not tell where the girl is.

A SERIOUS OUTLOOK.

Vienna, Sept. 13.—A serious anti-semitic outbreak occurred at Czenstochowa, a pilgrim resort in Poland, where a mob stormed the Jewish shops and wrecked the bread shops and, according to the Slowopolski, fourteen Jews and one gendarme were killed and numbers were injured. The military were summoned to restore order.

FIRE IN COLORADO.

Cassels, Col., Sept. 13.—The largest and most destructive forest fire in Colorado is raging between Chase and Shawnee. The flames cover a space of five miles in length by one mile in width. All energies are directed toward preventing the fire spreading down the canyon from Shawnee.

Betting Even.

The bookmakers have sized up the present situation for the shrievalty, and they will place all kinds of even money on Sargent or Larson for the nomination. Ole Larson is making decided gains today. On account of personal feelings between the other candidates, he is regarded as the most logical candidate.

Normal School Promises Much Better Than Anticipated.

Ninety - Five Students Now and Hundred Next Week.

Student Almost Unanimously Select the Advanced Courses.

The normal school has now finished the second week of its career, and the start that has been made is one that gives much pleasure to President Bohannon, the faculty and everyone connected with the school.

The number of students enrolled at the close of the week is ninety-five, and Monday will see this number increased to more than 100. The students have almost unanimously selected the advanced courses. They are a very capable and promising body of young people, and are expected to develop into good teachers.

Some of the students are former pupils of the Winona school, some have been at the St. Cloud and some at the Superior normal schools. Twenty-two different places or postoffices are represented by the students and seven are from the state of Wisconsin.

Forty-one students are enrolled in the advanced professional course. Forty are taking the advanced English course of five years, twelve the Latin course of five years, and two the certificate course of three years.

Not one has enrolled in the one-year course. This course is not a satisfactory one, and the other normal schools feel that it should be abolished. As long as it exists, however, some students will adopt it, because it offers a diploma with less time and work.

No other normal school in the state has ever enrolled all those who come as graduates from high schools in the two-years' course, and no other school than the one at Winona has ever had so many in the two-years' course, including both the first and second year students.

The grammar department has almost the entire number of pupils that can be received, and it now seems that the kindergarten and lower grades will have as many pupils as is desired when the conveyance that will be provided begins to call for the children on Monday.

Altogether the outlook for the school's success is much brighter than even its most sanguine friends had looked for.

AN ODD CASE.

Boy Hurt and Does Not Know What Did It.

Allister Guthrie, the 8-year-old son of Alex Guthrie, a well known board of trade man, was the victim of a peculiar and as yet unaccountable accident this afternoon. The lad started for the dental office of Dr. Schildt and was found lying on the street near the office by a board of trade man. He was taken to the dental office and afterward removed to his home.

The boy has partially recovered, but was unable to account for himself. There was a serious scalp wound in the back of his head and indications are he had been rendered unconscious by a heavy blow. The boy does not remember how, or when he was hit, his last recollection before being rendered unconscious was that he was walking along the street toward the dentist's office.

High School Athletes Are Disposed to Crowd the War.

Just as the controversy into which the football kickers of the Central High School were launched, seemed to be closed, a fresh outbreak occurred and last night at a meeting of the men interested in the game a resolution was passed which will be presented to the board of education asking that the former resolution putting athletics in charge of the high school faculty be rescinded.

A large number of football men and other interested attended a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. room last night at which the most strenuous kind of opposition was proposed.

The result was that an appeal will be made to the board of education for relief. The boys are strictly opposed to giving the high school faculty too much power and see in it almost a ban on athletics.

It was expected that the matter of a coach would be taken up last evening but Manager Walter Dash is in communication with a couple of men and expects that arrangements can be made for securing one within a very short time.

The football chasers are rather bitter against Principal Smith of the school. It is claimed that the resignation of Capt. Mallett and his departure from the school can be laid to the trouble that is now on. Principal Smith has shown a disposition to be fair and yesterday told Manager Dash to make his game and see to getting a coach.

However, the spirit of rebellion has found its way into the hearts of the athletic young men of the school and they are now fighting the faculty just as hard as they ever contested a game on the gridiron.

The boys will even go outside of the school to show the people how they stand when it comes to athletics and a resolution giving the sentiment will be handed to the Commercial club for consideration.

Received Fine Charm.

S. L. Pierce, of the West End, keeper of records and seals of Diamond lodge, Knights of Pythias, was the recipient this week of a handsome K. of P. charm from the members of the lodge. Mr. Pierce, who is captain of the company of uniformed rank, Knights of Pythias, has recently returned from the national convention of the organization in San Francisco. He is one of the efficient workers in the order and the presentation was in appreciation of his past services. The ceremony was preceded by a little spread which was attended by a number of the Knights of Pythias from Duluth and from West Duluth.

An Expert In His Profession.

M. Z. KASSMIR.

M. Z. Kassmir, the well known Turkish bath man, has returned from an extended tour of the large cities and health resorts of the East and South, where he has been for the purpose of acquiring a greater knowledge in his profession. Mr. Kassmir has made the treatments administered at his parlors a constant study for a number of years, and believing that he could benefit his knowledge, has visited personally a number of the leading sanitariums and Turkish bath parlors, and studied carefully the methods used by the ablest and most competent physicians for the treatment of rheumatism and like diseases. He also attended lectures given at the sanitariums on the effects of the medicated bath and the different modes of treatment administered.

Mr. Kassmir says he is well pleased with the results of his trip. He visited the principal sanitariums and Turkish bath parlors of Chicago, Buffalo, Boston, West Baden, Mount Clemens and Battle Creek. It would be worth while for those who are troubled with colds, rheumatism, stomach or kidney trouble to visit Mr. Kassmir's Turkish bath parlors, at 311 West Michigan street, and see proofs of the wonderful cures he has accomplished with the special treatment he gives. He also has Turkish bath parlors for ladies at 415 West Michigan street.

ACKNOWLEDGES RECEIPT.

Naval Board Will Study Claims of Duluth.

Secretary Preston, of the Commercial club, has received a letter from Rear Admiral H. C. Taylor acknowledging the receipt of the letters from the special committees of the Commercial club, of this city, and the Hundred Thousand club, of West Superior, enclosing descriptions of the several sites recommended to the naval board for a naval training station, by the joint committees of the two clubs. The admiral also acknowledged the resolutions passed by the Minnensota Editors' association, and thanked the committee for the careful and thorough manner in which the information was compiled and laid before the board. He assures the two commercial organizations that the information will receive careful study.

TRIAL OF LOGAN.

Alleged Train Robber Is Arraigned at Knoxville.

Knoville, Tenn., Sept. 13.—The trial of Harvey Logan, the alleged Montana train robber, was called in the federal court here today, but the defense, having made a plea that the indictments against Logan were defective, court was adjourend until Monday, when arguments will be heard.

In affidavits presented to the court, Logan claims to have been in France when the express robbery was committed in July, 1901, and he claims he can get witnesses to prove his contention.

AGAIN DENIED.

London, Sept. 13.—The recurring report of the purchase of the Vickers-Maxim company by the United States Steel corporation is emphatically denied.

With some scarcasm, the court adds: "The masterly ingenuity of the plan contrived to prevent appeal to the common law courts of the state commands our admiration. Think of the long time of operation that has proved the scheme a successful one. The loser who may feel himself aggrieved and who may know himself to have been wronged by the operation of a corner or otherwise at law, can only sue to get his money back.

"Even that remedy is by the resourcefulness of the scheme abridged. For it is possible for him to do even that only after he has an award and adjudication against him by this board of trade committee or tribunal."

Will Be Possible on Chicago Board of Trade.

Important Decision In "July Oats Corner" Case.

Powers of the Board Directors Greatly Curtailed.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—A most important decision against the Chicago board of trade was rendered today by Judge Axel Chytraus in the "July oats corner" injunctions cases. Not only does the opinion of the court, if sustained by higher tribunals, put an end to all corners in commodities on this exchange, but it strikes at the very life of the institution as now organized. The directors for all time have had their powers so curtailed that they cannot longer adjudicate upon property rights of the members of the association. Judge Chytraus goes even farther, and says that under the charter of the board of trade there is no provision for succession of membership, and he asks the pertinent question: "What should become of the corporation when persons now composing the original board would be dead?"

The case in question was one brought by the commission firm of Waite, Thoburn & Co., against the Chicago board of trade, in which a temporary injunction was granted to prevent margins that were put up by the complainants from being handed down to the contracting defendants. The claim was made that the defendants had run a corner in July "standard" oats. The complainants who had sold "short" to the defendants, while not denying their contracts, and while declaring their purpose to market these same contracts, made protests against having the case adjudicated by the board of trade, as provided in the bylaws of the association.

The "standard" oats in question were of a grade and fineness almost impossible to obtain in sufficient quantity to fill contracts during July because of delay to crops by rainy weather. In the put on 'change highly fictitious prices had been put on this commodity and the complainants asked the court to set a fair price between which price and the one at which they had contracted the difference might be paid. This case was filed July 30—one day before settlements were required. Shortly after this twenty-three other cases were filed by the complainants against various defendants; ten cases by Pratt, Buckley & Co.; six cases by H. C. Avery & Co., and one case by J. Henry Norton. By common consent all cases are affected by the same ruling.

The court said in ruling that as far as the merits of the case were concerned it did not matter whether there was a corner, for it was taken for granted that an honest price was intended. This part of the matter can be decided at a further hearing, which will be held. The decision makes the injunction in force until this hearing of facts is had. The losing parties have appealed but this does not prevent further hearing. The gist of the decision is that a special committee, which, according to the board rules, would be appointed by the president to adjudicate such differences, but has no authority to act in matters where property rights are involved. The rights of the directors of the board to preserve the integrity of its rules so far as disciplining members is concerned, by fine, suspension or expulsion, is upheld by the court as their proper rights, but he rules against the question that "against the will of the complainants, the power of disposal over that money which in a sense has been placed in trust or escrow, exists in a select committee of three disinterested persons, members of the association to be appointed by the president; i. e., whether that the money can be appropriated by such a committee to the contesting defendants."

Regardless of the fact that the complaints agreed to be bound by the rules which provide for settlements of disagreements, the court ruled that they were not bound, that the arrogating of such power to such a body was against public policy and that would be introducing sovereignties with a sovereignty for the function of constructing law."

The court goes into great detail to learn the merits of the case, speaks at some length of the operations upon the board of trade, of the benefits to the community and the great influence it exerts upon the commerce of the world. It holds that as a corporation not for profit, it possesses governmental and disciplinary powers over members that are not possessed by stock corporations, where money or property rights are directly involved. The general power to pass upon the right of property in the margins question, however, is held a judicial power, which never can be considered to have been delegated or confirmed by dubious implication. "The ordinary courts of justice," said the court, "constituting one of the branches of our government ought not to be and should not sumbit to being excluded or ousted of jurisdiction by intendment."

Asked to Prevent Selling of Chicago Masonic Temple.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—The development in the Masonic Temple association tax fixing scandal today was a petition filed in the circut court for an injunction restraining the county treasurer and sheriff from selling the twenty-two story office building for the unpaid taxes for 1901, amounting to over $26,000. The bill sets up that the taxes were regularly paid and that the association has receipts. The receipt in question is the one alleged to have been forged with a view to the association escaping its taxes and for the alleged utterance of which Captain Edward Williams, manager of the association, and three others, were recently indicted by the jury. The bill also states that the entry of "paid" that was said to have been forged in the county treasurer's tax warrant book opposite the Masonic Temple item was erased without a warrant of law.

The firm will represent several railroads in New York. Mr. Searle's family will remain here and he will continue as one of the firm of Searle & Spencer.

Dead Fireman's Funeral.

The funeral of Phillip Stackmesser, the fireman killed Thursday morning, was held this afternoon. There was a short service in Tibbetts' undertaking rooms at which hundreds of friends of the dead fireman paid their last tribute of respect. The floral pieces were beautiful and appropriate.

The body was taken to Tower for interment. From the undertaking establishment to the Union depot the body was escorted by firemen, policemen and the Third Infantry band. A hose truck draped in black was used instead of a hearse.

Led In Morning Golf Match With His Cousin.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—More than passing interest was manifested at the opening of the final round of match play for the western golf championship on the links of the Chicago golf club at Wheaton today. Two cousins, H. Chandler Egan, of the Exmoor country club, and Walter Egan, of Lake Geneva country club, boon companions and each with an enviable reputation at golf, were the contestants. On form the Exmoor player seemed to be first in line, yet each had done such close work in the preliminary rounds that the result of the match today for the George R. Thorne trophy was by no means a foregone conclusion. Chandler Egan was given a hard battle yesterday by W. I. Howland, Jr., and defeated Stuart Stickney, of St. Louis, by one up on the final green. Walter Egan, out of the four matches he has played in the preliminaries, won three by the narrow margin of 1 up.

The Chicago course was still in fine condition and although the air was chill, the sunshine and the novelty of the match brought out a large gallery of golf enthusiasts.

The match in the morning was a royal battle. With the exception of two holes both played excellent golf despite the hard and raw wind blowing across the links. For the first nine holes, the lead alternated with Walter 1 up at the turn.

The medal score for the two going out were as follows: Chandler Egan out 543, 555, 744-42; Walter Egan out 535, 647, 633-42.

At the eighteenth hole, the end of the morning play, Chandler Egan was 2 up.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Fireman Stackmesser's Death Should Be Investigated.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Kindly allow me brief space for a question and a plea. We have had an unusual number of deaths this season from accidents (?) in this city. Since the death of nine sailors—nine I think—we have had nearly a dozen killed on our streets by cars, electric and steam, and by horses. The wonder is that no one seems to care at this frightful slaughter. Life seems strangely cheap. The last case, that of the stalwart fireman, Stackmesser, of fire hall No. 2, in my judgment, demands an investigation. When we ask "Who is to blame?" I want the questioners to stand at the fire hall and look at the condition of the car track where the accident occurred. Then follow that track from its junction with Piedmont avenue along to where it turns down Third street to Twenty-first avenue. The condition of that track will, I think, furnish the answer. Fireman Stackmesser would be alive at this moment but for the car track.

The wheel of the truck could not clear the four inches of exposed rail. When the wheel struck that rail it slurred and violently caused the truck to swerve from its straight course, causing the driver to be flung headlong under the horses' heels. While clinging to the whiffle tree he evidently was kicked by the galloping horses and so fell under the wheels and was killed. He was not putting on his coat. He was not thrown from his seat because he was engaged in putting on his coat, as one paper reported. Firemen driving horses do not play the errand act en route. The captain then had to risk his life in attempting to secure the trailing lines and control the running team, which had but one idea, to reach the fire as speedily as they could. In one brief minute there was a horrible tragedy and a noble heroism enacted at our doors. But "who seems to care?" I have no wish to make unnecessary complaint, but should the lives of the traveling public and especially the lives of these boys with the brass buttons who bear the inscription D. F. D. be constantly menaced by criminally neglected road beds?

Another thing. It is common talk that these men, when running at the risk of life to protect our homes and city from the fire fiend, and doing this with equal zeal, whether the fire be in a worthless shack or a wealthy home, regardless of weather or time, that they often have to expose themselves in a moment to careless drivers or loads left on the streets. To avoid these collisions these men have, in an instant, to choose between injuring some cheap load of wood, some criminally indifferent drivers, and their own lives. I have seen them take the risks with a skill and daring unsurpassed by soldier or sailor. But who cares, when to avoid the danger to others, who should not have created the condition, they are maimed or killed?

Sometimes these men, than whom none are more deserving of our constant consideration and pride, are severely criticised if the persons who made the occasion one of danger by their own carelessness, are injured. This ought not to be. The cause of Stackmesser's death should not be allowed to pass without that investigation which the calamity demands. My plea is that these men who so bravely serve the interests of the city at such a poor compensation, who take their lives in their hands whenever the gong gives its battle alarm, and who do this for 365 nights, as well as days, these men should be assured of official protection and public sympathy, not now given, though so richly merited. I write these words in hope that the proper authorities will see that something more than a newspaper paragraph, and that far from accurate, shall be the requiem of another hero fallen in the interests of the public safety.

A YOUNG DEFENDANT.

Wife Seventeen Years of Age Sued For Divorce.

Emma Kehtel needed a guardian before she could defend herself in a divorce suit.

She has been married over two years and is still not of age.

Richard Kehtel is 21 years of age, and has begun action for divorce against Emma, who is but 17 at this time. They were married July 27, 1900, and in less than three weeks, according to the complaint, the defendant had shown her infidelity by going about with other men. On June 18, of this year, a child was born, to which the plaintiff lays no claim.

When the case came up the defendant's age was learned, and the court issued an order appointing P. C. Schmidt her guardian. After all arrangements had been made to bring the case to trial it was stricken from the calendar this morning.

Conspicuous Leaders For Him.

Among the prominent names in the city committee that is supporting Charles d'Autremont for the Democratic nomination for congress, may be mentioned L. C. Harris, a leading attorney, and formerly a law partner of former Senator Charles A. Towne; T. T. Hudson, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee through several campaigns; Henry Truelsen, a prominent figure in municipal and congressional politics, and others.

RAILROAD RUMBLES

Lower Lumber Rates to East Effective September 22.

Movement of Potatoes From the Northwest Has Begun.

Great Western Gives Twin Cities Excursion Rates.

Lower lumber freight rates than have prevailed for some time are provided for by the new tariffs effective Sept. 22 from all Minnesota points to Eastern terminals. The rate will be 22½ cents from Duluth to Buffalo, Pittsburg and other Eastern points, and there will be a corresponding reduction to all intermediate points in Central Freight association territory.

Up to Sept. 1 there was a through tariff issued by Minnesota lines from Minneapolis and Duluth, making rates from northern points to points east of Chicago, to and including Buffalo, Pittsburg and other trunk line terminals. These through tariffs were originally established when the rate from Duluth to Chicago was 15 cents. But for the past year or more the rate has been 10 cents, which gave an opportunity for manipulation of the through rate as the proportion due Minnesota lines on the haul from here to Chicago was more than their reduced local of 10 cents.

This gave rise to dissatisfaction among Eastern lines, and the latter a short time ago cancelled all through tariffs on lumber. Consequently rates reverted to the sum of the locals from Duluth to Chicago and the East, which, together made a rate of 25 cents to Buffalo, Pittsburg and other points.

It has just been agreed, however, that effective Sept. 22, the lines east of Chicago will make a flat reduction on lumber rates from Chicago to all points east to about the same basis of their former proportion of the through rate, and this, with the present rate from here to Chicago, will make a 22½ cent rate from Minneapolis and Duluth to Buffalo, Pittsburg, etc., and a corresponding reduction to all intermediate points in Central Freight association territory.

MOTIVE POWER SCARCE.

One Reason For the Light Grain Movement.

A lack of motive power is now said to be affecting the receipts of grain at Duluth and Minneapolis, joining in with backward weather to make grain receipts light. There is plenty of grain at the country elevators, many of which are filled and in many places sidetracks are full of loaded cars. A shortage of locomotives is given as the reason for the blockade, but railroad men say that this will soon be relieved and that it will not be serious. They explain that the state fair taxed them to the utmost and locomotives, the freight department suffering because of the demands of the passenger department.

SHIPPING POTATOES.

Movement From the Northwest Is Under Way.

The season's movement of potatoes from Northern Minnesota and North Dakota to Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Texas and even the Carolinas and Georgia has begun, according to railroad men. Conditions are quite different from those prevailing a year ago. The demand was heavy and it was not necessary for farmers and buyers to ship beyond the more immediate local territory. This fall there is a big crop of potatoes, prices are low, and the home consumption will not take up the home production. Consequently potatoes are going afar for their market.

Will Grant the Rates.

The Chicago Great Western has bucked into the situation by refusing to stand by the refusal of the Western Passenger association to give the Twin City merchants a rate of a fare and one-fifth for fall excursions. It has announced that it will grant the desired excursions, and it may be that the other roads will have to do the same thing in order to keep up with the Great Western.

Milwaukee Selected.

The Milwaukee has been named as the official route for the Minnesota members of the G. A. R. who will attend the national encampment at Washington. This designation has been made by National Commander Ell Torrance. There was a warm contest between several lines for the business.

THE VOTE.

Town Clerks Expect Good Vote In Farming Districts.

The county auditor's office has been the Mecca for town clerks from every part of the district during the past twenty-four hours who are here to obtain the necessary supplies for the election Tuesday.

From the country districts the report comes that there will be a large vote polled. In many cases the men live far from the voting places and in case someone does not go after them it is very likely that they will not vote.

One man in a position to know estimates that the vote cast in this county Tuesday will be 7000. Of course by far the largest number of these will be Republican.

NEED NOT WORRY.

W. A. Holgate's Friends Confident of Success.

There are some Republican candidates who do not have to worry about their chances for nomination. The coroner and county attorney have a cinch. The friends of W. A. Holgate, the candidate for county treasurer, are as confident that their man is the choice of the Republican voters and they are doing their best to get out the vote next Tuesday.

Under the new primary law every voter has a better chance to name the man of his choice and it is the duty of every voter to see that his party selects a good man and also one that can do the most toward keeping the rank and file of the party in line. Mr. Holgate's record in private life is the best recommendation any man could have. To quote from the Mesaba Ore, that paper said: "There is nothing particular to say for or against his opponent for the nomination other than that he had held the office eight years (fully one-half of the time that he has been a resident of the county) and is planning to hang on eight more if the people will stand for it."

In this particular instance the people of St. Louis county will express in no uncertain way that they do not believe in life tenure in public office.

IS FOUND IN A SHED

Dead Body of Thomas Ready In Rear of Saloon.

Foul Play First Feared But Is Not Verified.

Death Resulted From Hemorrhage of the Lungs.

Thomas Ready, a well-known member of the Freight Handlers' union, was found dead under peculiar circumstances this morning.

His body was discovered in a small shed in the rear of a saloon at 324 South Lake avenue.

It was reported that two men were seen dragging him into this shed at a late hour last night, and his friends feared that his death might have been cased by foul play.

Coroner Boyer ordered a post-mortem examination, which cleared up this theory, however, for it was found that Ready died from a hemorrhage of the lungs.

Detectives traced the two men that were seen taking him into the shed last evening, and both claimed to be old acquaintances of Mr. Ready. They said they found him on the sidewalk at a late hour, and he appeared to be intoxicated, though they both knew he was not a drinking man. They took him into the shed for sheter, thinking that he would soon recover his normal condition.

Mr. Ready is about 36 years of age and unmarried. He is said to come from a family prominent in politics in New York city. These relatives are being communicated with, and the body will be held at Durkan & Crawford's undertaking rooms pending word from them.

Thomas Lynch, picked up on the streets several days ago by the police and apparently suffering from a fracture of the skull, died yesterday afternoon at the Red Cross hospital in West Duluth. Nothing can be learned regarding his relatives or past life.

A Sure Winner Is John T. Armstead For Sheriff.

The intelligent voter is getting away from the idea that "because a man is a good fellow," or "because he is hard up and needs the place," he should be elected to office. As I have demonstrated the fact that I can make a living outside of public office I do not ask your votes on that ground.

I solicit your support only on your opinion as to my fitness to fill the office of sheriff of St. Louis county. If my record during the fourteen years I have been in business in Duluth satisfies you as to my qualifications for that position, then mark your cross opposite my name.

I have never filled a political office and have always been a Republican and never more so than in '96 and '98, when the party needed loyal supporters.

He Gets the Votes.

The election returns of the past years when Charles d'Autremont, the Democratic candidate for the congressional nomination, was on the Democratic ticket, give strong evidence of his capacity as a vote-getter. In 1884 he was a candidate for county attorney, and in Tower, where Blaine got 405 votes and Cleveland only got 33, Mr. d'Autremont received 494 votes and his Republican opponent got only 43.

LIGNITE COAL.

North Dakota Mines Are Working to Their Limit.

L. M. Davis, superintendent of the Mouse River Lignite Coal company, was a visitor at the head of the lakes this week looking for men to work in the company's coal mines at Davis, N. D., about six miles west of Minot, on the Soo line.

Mr. Davis has placed several orders for men with the National Employment company and says that if he can secure the right kind of men they will have steady employment the year around at good wages. Thirty-five men are wanted for the Davis mine and the other companies that are mining lignite coal near Minot could use about 100 more.

"We have an average vein," said Mr. Davis, "of ten feet of clean lignite coal and the demand for the coal for fuel all over the Northwest has grown until the mines are being worked at their full capacity to meet it. We mine about seven feet from the bottom and leave the balance up for the roof, using 6-inch props and caps, making a splendid vein for the miners to work on.

"We pay at our mine for hand picked work, 70 cents per ton in rooms and 90 cents per ton in entries. We make the rooms eighteen feet wide and the entries seven feet at the bottom and six feet at the top.

"Compressed air is also used for machine work and good machine men are paid 14 cents per ton for room work and 32 cents for entry work.

"The loaders or miners who follow the machines are paid 40 cents per ton for room work and 45½ cents for entry work.

"In getting out the coal, it is first cut and then shot down with black powder.

"Men are so scarce that we are paying fares if the men will stay with us thirty days. If they leave before that time, part of their fare out there is deducted from their wages.

"While the scarcity of hard coal has a great deal to do in the increased demand for our production this season yet the North Dakota lignite coal is meeting with favor wherever it is used."

GUST BERGQUIST.

Candidate For Republican Nomination, Register of Deeds.

One of the most popular Swedish-American citizens of Duluth has been put forward by his numerous friends in the city and St. Louis county to seek the nomination for register of deeds. When it became known that Mr. Lofgren was not going to run for renomination some of the leading spirits among them came to the conclusion that Mr. Bergquist, who has been residing in the city of Duluth continuously for the last twenty years past and had always taken a prominent part in the campaigns and done willing and effective service for the party, was the right man for the position. Mr. J. P. Bergstrom and Charles Hagag, who have both been contemplating running, the former in fact having gone to the extent of filing for nomination, both withdrew in his favor. Mr. Bergquist has issued from the rank and file of the laboring class. He is 45 years of age and of Swedish nationality. For a number of years he was engaged in business and has always been a heavy taxpayer. For the last five years he has been the successful manager of the Duluth Posten, and has at all times shown himself a friend of organized labor, the men employed by him having all been union men. His friends predict his nomination by a large majority.

Mr. Bergquist has the support of some of the strongest men among the Scandinavian element of the county. Among them are such Republicans as Gronseth & Olsen, J. Wagenstein, M. Wesenberg, Dr. J. M. Tufty, J. J. Moe, J. J. Eklund, M. W. Ericson, C. A. Johnson, A. Lofgren, Peter Bergstrom, C. W. Wilson, Chas. Schell, Rev. J. A. Kranz, Rev. John Anderson, Dr. A. T. Elmquist, Rev. C. A. Aldeen, Rev. Albert Johnson and others. These men represent that element of the Republican party that has always added strength to the Republican party.

Not Coming This Year.

Charles A. Towne will not visit Duluth this fall, or at least nothing has yet been planned. It was expected that Mr. Towne would come to this city in August for a vacation, his wife being here at that time. She has returned home. Mr. Towne was in Buffalo yesterday, but L. C. Harris, his law associate here, received a telegram stating that he would return to New York at once.

"Florodora" Coming.

The famous "Florodora," with the great sextet, "Tell Me, Pretty Maiden," will visit Duluth next week, appearing Saturday at matinee and evening performances. It is promised that this company will be all that could be desired, that it is in fact the big company which is now on its way to the West to play the Pacific coast cities. John M. Cooke, representing Fisher & Ryleu, owners of the musical comedy, is in the city today.

FIRE NEAR DERRY, PA.

Pittsburg, Sept. 13.—Ridgeview camp meeting grounds at Milwood, a few miles east of Derry, Pa., were visited by a mysterious and fierce fire last night, which destroyed forty-four cottages, the hotel and a store. Loss about $25,000. Most of the cottages had just been built this year and were occupied, but the hotel was closed.

OPENING OF SCHOOL

Monday Will See Inauguration of the New Year.

Teachers Meet In the High School This Afternoon.

Superintendent Denfeld Expects Considerably Larger Enrollment.

The heavy oak and glass doors of the twenty-five public schools of Duluth will be thrown open Monday morning to hundreds of pupils.

Everything is in readiness for their reception, the last work being a meeting of the teachers in the Assembly hall of the High School this afternoon.

Examinations have been held during the past few days. On Thursday the out-of-town teachers and those who have been spending their vacations out of the city began arriving. The influx is said to have crowded boarding houses considerably.

Tests in arithmetic, geography, history, reading and spelling, grammar and physiology were given Thursday, and yesterday many took the examination in civics, theory and practice, latin, algebra, geometry, physics, physical, geography and kindergarten work.

Superintendent Denfeld expects that the total enrollment this year will be 100 more than last, when the attendance amounted to 11,000. The attendance the first day is not so very large, however. Many pupils have been away for the summer and every day for a fortnight, there will be many arrivals.

Superintendent Denfeld says that he expects there will be no great difficulty in caring for the pupils. The principals have been instructed as to just what is to be done while Professor Denfeld will visit as many of the buildings as possible to get affairs in working order as quickly as possible.

A MERITED ENDORSEMENT.

Charles P. Frank To Get It at The Polls.

The friends of Charles P. Frank, the present county surveyor, have no doubt that he will be selected by the voters of the Republican party at the coming primary election as their candidate. He has been a capable and efficient official, and it is not likely that the established precedent of giving faithful officials two terms of office will be broken. His administration of the office has been marked by economy and a careful protection of the interests of the taxpayers. The expenses of the office having, during his two years of incumbency, been the lowest of record, and this fact is not being lost sight of by the taxpayers.

In addition to his economical conduct of the office, Mr. Frank has the recommendation of fourteen years of active and continuous prosecution of surveying in St. Louis county, and during that time his surveys have in every instance been sustained by the courts when brought before them.

Rheumatism

What is the use of telling the rheumatic that he feels as if his joints were being dislocated?

He knows that his sufferings are very much like the tortures of the rack.

What he wants to know is what will permanently cure his disease.

That, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It promptly neutralizes the acid in the blood on which the disease depends, completely eliminates it, and strengthens the system against its return. Try Hood's.

Sweeping the District.

The friends of Charles d'Autremont, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth district, say that his name is sweeping the district, particularly in Duluth, where his long-time residence has made him a host of friends, as well as out in the district, where his state-wide reputation is bringing him strong supporters. They figure him a safe winner next Tuesday at the primaries.

AT THE HOTELS

The teachers in the Duluth public schools are returning to the city, and they find themselves up against a harder problem than last year in getting board places. This is driving them, temporarily, at least, to the hotels, where they will remain until they locate boarding places for the winter.

"It is much worse this year than it was last year," said a teacher this morning, who has failed to find a place to board so far and is stopping at one of the hotels. "Last year we had quite a time locating rooms, but this year it looks as though we were shut out entirely. I suppose that little by little we shall work in somewhere, and I certainly hope so, for hotel board is too expensive for a teachers' modest salary to keep going."

Capured Two prizes.

G. Hood Thompson, of Duluth, exhibited two silver gray dorking chickens at the state fair last week and won first and second prizes on them. Duluth has many poultry fanciers, but Mr. Thompson was the only one who exhibited at the fair.

Mr. Thompson also bought a fine thoroughbred Shropshire ram at the fair. He has a number of sheep at his place at Glen Avon. He says that dogs are worrying the sheep considerably, and that complaints have been heard from a number of raisers of sheep.

Charles d'Autremont's Campaign Being Energetically Pushed.

Announces Committee In Charge of His Forces.

Many Old Line Democrats Among His Active Workers.

A city campaign committee has been organized in the interests of Charles d'Autremont's candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth district, and it contains the names of many strong local Democrats who have put the shoulder to the wheel in his behalf.

They have begun the fight in earnest, and they propose to keep it up until the votes are in next Tuesday, they say. The names on the committee list include those of prominent Democrats who have been conspicuous in the party's battles in the past, and it is said that they are working hard for the success of their choice for the congressional nomination.

There are but a few days left of the primary campaign, but they will be put in by the committee, acording to its members, in vigorously pushing the interests of Mr. d'Autremont, both in Duluth and in the outside counties of the district. There is a good deal that can be done in the way of getting out the vote and lining it up, and the committee members say that they will leave no stone unturned in their campaign.

The committee is regarded as a strong one. Among its members are Democrats of much more than local reputation. Henry Truelsen, who heads it, has had the advantage of having conducted a campaign for congress himself, and T. T. Hudson has managed the Democratic congressional campaign for a number of elections. L. C. Harris is the former law partner of Senator Charles A. Towne. In fact, throughout the list are found the names of Democrats who have always borne the brunt of the fight for the party in this city, county and district. Among the members of the committee are the following:

Is Progress of Municipal Ownership In Great Britain.

New York, Sept. 13.—Municipal ownership and operation of street railways is making rapid progress in the United Kingdom, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune. Out of 213 undertakings, with a total mileage of 1307, about 100, with a mileage of 689, belong, according to late reports, to the local authorities. The tramways owned by Birmingham, Edinburgh, Oldham and twenty-four other towns are leased, but the tendency is toward municipal operation.

Manchester is in the transition stage, but will have in the course of a few years 15 miles of electric lines under municipal operation. About fifty new schemes for municipalization of the tramways are now in progress.

KING LEOPOLD WILL COME.

New York, Sept. 13.—It is now settled beyond a doubt that the king of the Belgians will visit the St. Louis exposition, says a Paris dispatch to the New York American. This statement, the dispatch declares, is confirmed by the king's aide de camp. Reports that King Leopold had decided to visit the United States have been circulated periodically but regularly denied.

A SIMPLE CHANGE,

Made a World of Difference.

The Health Resort does not always bring back health, but the Health Resort and proper food make a pretty sure combination.

Mrs. E. Kennett, Springfield, Mo., writes: "I was pronounced a consumptive and sent to Asheville, N. C., for my health. I just could not eat without a cup of coffee, and my stomach was in such a condition that I could not drink it. I was almost in despair when the landlady of my boarding house said that if I would drink Postum Food Coffee, I would find it would take the place of coffee and agree with me. She made it so delicious that I enjoyed every meal I ate, and gained in flesh and strength so rapidly that I was able to come back home and live.

"I give Postum more credit for my return to health than climate or anything else. I am sending you this letter for the benefit of those who are having a hard time living, and I am sure that if they will use Postum, their lives will be prolonged."

Houghton County Street Railroad Must Cut Off a Fare.

Hancock—For a long time the people of Houghton and Hancock have suffered under the exactions of the Houghton County Street Railway company. They have been compelled to pay two fares for a two-mile ride within the village limits. Aroused to the necessity of taking some action the village board has passed an ordinance prohibiting the collection of two fares for a ride one way in the village limits, whether in one car or by transfer in two or more cars.

Houghton—With flags flying at half mast the steamer Oscoda and two barges came into port. Frank, the 5-months-old son of Frank Nolds, chief engineer of the Oscoda, had died on the trip down from Ashland to Portage lake. An undertaker was called when the boats were docked here and the child buried in the Hancock cemetery.

Lake Linden—Summoned to the bedside of his mother, who lay critically ill of pneumonia, Thomas Sincock, Jr., died a victim of the disease last night, after a week's sickness, having remained at his mother's side until stricken. Sincock was 22 years old and well known both here and in Hancock and Houghton. The mother is still in a precarious condition.

Mass City.—The late C. P. Anderson, postmaster of Mass City, who died last week, left an estate valued at $100,000. So far as known there are no heirs. Mr. Anderson was one of the men who platted the townsite, he having owned the great tract of land on which the town is situated. Fortunate in real estate ventures he amassed a large fortune. What disposition will be made of the property remains for the probate court to solve.

Negaunee.—Andrew Brown, who had been batching on "Sandy" Johnson's farm since last spring, was found dead in a shanty on the farm at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The cause of his death is unknown. He was, apparently, well when last seen. Brown lived alone on the farm, of which he was caretaker for Mr. Johnson. He spent most of his time there, and seldom came into the city. Wednesday Mr. Johnson visited the place, finding Brown dead in the house. There were no marks to indicate violence. It is not known how long he had been dead when found.

AT WEST DULUTH

Another ball game has been arranged between the West Duluth team and the Hubs, from uptown, for tomorrow afternoon, and the West Duluth fans are looking forward to a hot game. Twice the Hubs have defeated the local team, but the contests were hard fought from start to finish, and the West Duluth team is not yet convinced that it cannot win the third game. It is claimed that the line-up of the local team has been strengthened since it played the Hubs and the Freimuth teams, and that three new players have been secured. Larson will pitch for the West Duluth team, with Young ready to substitute if a change is found necessary. If the West Duluths can win this game, it is thought likely that another game can be arranged with the Freimuth team.

LARGE ATTENDANCE.

The union meeting last evening of the young people's societies of the West Duluth churches, at the Baptist church, is said to have resulted in a large attendance and a great deal of interest. John Callahan gave a very interesting talk on the subject of missions and soul-saving among young people, giving experiences from his evangelistic work in other cities. Plans for the advancement of the cause of missions were informally discussed.

THE LAST MEETING.

The last meeting of the West Duluth Republican club before the primary election will be held this evening at the club rooms. An invitation has been extended to all the candidates of the ticket to be present and address the members, and it is expected that there will be a liberal response. The club has not declared itself for any candidate, nor will it pledge its support until after the primaries, when the regular party nominee will receive the indorsement of the club.

PAID THE FINE.

Thomas Ennett, who was convicted of stealing chickens, did not carry his case up, as he intended. Yesterday he borrowed the money from a friend and paid his fine of $10. In receiving the money, the court imposed a further clause to the sentence, that Ennett find employment within the next five days. This is said to have been quite a shock, more so than the money condition of the fine.

WEST DULUTH BRIEFS.

Jesse L. Jellison is scheduled to talk to the West Duluth voters in open air this evening, and the West Duluthians have their mouths all fixed for apples before the program begins.

Pearl hive of Lady Maccabees gave a large and enjoyable dancing party in the Great Eastern hall last evening. The hall was prettily decorated with the colors of the order.

The ladies of the Westminster Presbyterian church have secured the celebrated impersonator and recitalist, J. Frank Fouche, to render a popular recital at the Great Eastern hall, Tuesday evening, Sept. 16. The gentleman is highly recommended by both the pulpit and the press, which insures the public an excellent entertainment. Prices are popular and everybody is welcome to attend.

Rev. Mr. Lowry will preach at the Westminster Presbyterian church both morning and evening Sunday. The Lord's supper will be celebrated at the morning service. Subject for the evening service will be, "What Think Ye of Christ?" Sunday school at 12 o'clock and Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m.

The ladies of West Duluth hive of the Maccabees were delightfully entertained Thursday afternoon by Golden Rod hive of New Duluth.

To the Republicans of St. Louis County.

Gentlemen:—In choosing your candidate for county superintendent of schools, I presume that you will admit that we are all qualified for the position—modesty excepts the undersigned. Laws have been passed giving preference to the "Boys in Blue," but I ask no man to give me his vote on that account, unless he considers me competent. After graduating at Rutger's college, I engaged in educational work—made it my life work. Having always been a Republican, I respectfully solicit your support.

The Scarcity of Structural Steel.

Building operations all over the United States have been considerably restricted during the present summer by the scarcity of steel in structural forms. In the building industries of the larger cities it has become a serious problem. During the past decade the older quarters of New York have been in process of reconstruction on modern lines, and the industry has developed proportionally until many millions in capital and whole armies of workmen are employed. The demand for structural steel has consequently caught up with the capacity for supply, and bids fair to outrun it. The result of the consequent rise in price of structural material is shown in the falling off in the construction planned for this year from last year's record. Up to this date last year the number of buildings planned for in the three chief boroughs of Greater New York was 4366, at an estimated cost of $105,668,340, and for the entire year there were 5849 buildings, total cost $137,567,900. So far this year the construction planned for is 3211 buildings, cost $80,244,347 a reduction of nearly one-half in number and nearly one-quarter in cost from the record of the corresponding period last year. This falling off in construction is undoubtedly due to the scarcity and increasing cost of structural steel and iron. This condition of things points to a still greater expansion of the iron industries of the country.

A Census of the Philippines.

Now that the Philippines, with the exception of the island of Mindanao, are in full civil control, the taking of the census of the archipelago will soon be commenced. It is expected that the order will be made by President Roosevelt within the present month, and plans completed for an early beginning of the work, which will be conducted probably through a force of enumerators employed on the island, although the results will be tabulated and published by the census bureau in Washington.

In official circles at Washington the announcement that the census is to be taken at once is looked upon as a long step in the direction of the final settlement of the status of the islands and the establishment of local self-government, which has been pledged to the natives. Under the terms of the Philippine civil government bill, the commission is authorized, after a condition of peace has existed for two years, to establish local municipal and provincial self-government in the islands. This is already being done in many municipalities, the ultimate plan being to turn over the entire management of local affairs to the natives and residents of the towns and provinces. This can not be accomplished under two years, but the prompt preparatory steps in that direction are accepted as an assurance that the final surrender of local government to the Filipinos will not be long delayed. There has never been anything like an accurate census of the Philippines taken, and a number of disputed questions will probably be settled by the work to be soon undertaken. There is no reliable data concerning the population of the islands. The Spaniards secured this information from the assessment rolls and the church records, and upon this basis the population has been variously estimated, the accepted figures placing it at about 7,000,000. There has been nothing to furnish reliable data concerning the property wealth of the Filipinos, the resources of the islands or the development of different industries. With the completion of the census new facts of importance will undoubtedly be discovered and the moral obligation of the United States to give to Filipinos control of their own affairs will be more apparent.

ATTEND THE PRIMARIES.

This is the last edition of The Herald that will reach many of its readers in the Eighth district before the primary election day, and therefore it takes advantage of the latest opportunity to urge every voter to go to the polls next Tuesday.

The new system of direct nominations was devised in order to give the people a chance to vote for their favorite candidates without the interference or dictation of party bosses.

The machine politicians do not like the system, because it destroys their "graft" and wipes out their power to control things. They will try at the next session of the legislature to secure the law's repeal and return to the old caucus and convention system with boss-controlled delegates and prepared "slates." If the vote next Tuesday should be small, the opponents of the law will claim that it is unpopular and does not accomplish the purpose for which it was devised—a full and free expression by the people of their wishes as to the party candidates.

The people like the new system and they should prevent any such argument being used against it, by turning out in large numbers to the primaries next Tuesday.

The polls will be open from 6 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening, giving ample time to all to vote.

It is the duty of every citizen to vote at the primary election.

The system is very simple.

Each Republican will be given a Republican ticket, containing the Republican candidates for nomination.

Each Democrat will be given a Democratic ticket containing Democratic candidates for nomination.

Having received the ticket, the voter will retire to the booth and mark his ticket as he would at a general election, putting an X after the name of each man he desires to have nominated. He may vote for only one candidate for each office.

Another thing that should be remembered by every voter is to vote only the ticket of the party with which he generally affiliates.

No Republican should ask for a Democratic ticket and vote for Democratic candidates.

No Democrat should cast a vote in the Republican primaries.

Let each party settle the little disputes between their own adherents.

The direct primary election law is on trial, and every defect will be cited as a reason for repealing it. If Democrats vote the Republican ticket, and Republicans the Democratic ticket at the primary election, the law will be considered a failure. Let the voters do their duty and the law will remain on the statute books.

CHILDREN'S COURTS.

With the progress of the times the question of juvenile jurisprudence has come more and more prominently before the jurists of the age, and the result has been the establishment of special courts whereby offenses of those of tender age may be considered separately from those of the hardened criminal. A children's court has been opened in New York within the past few weeks, and great interest is naturally manifest in this departure. Children's courts already exist in many cities, but New York is the only city which has a court that holds daily sessions and has an entire building of its own. The New York court is known officially as the "Court of Special Sessions, First Division, of the City of New York, Children's Part." The five judges of the court of special sessions will preside in rotation over the children's court, each sitting for two months. The court has jurisdiction over all cases of juvenile crime, except homicide. It will deal with vagrancy, thievery, burglary, truancy, ruffianism and cases of ungovernable children. The law creating the court defines a child as any person under 16 years of age. The powers of the court over offenders under this age are absolute.

It is stated that the aim of the court will be to reclaim juvenile criminals rather than to punish them. The method of procedure will be very different from those of the ordinary criminal courts. Even the rooms are unlike the conventional court in their furnishings and surroundings. It is in no sense to be the purpose of this new court to secure convictions and to send boys to institutions. The fewer such, the greater success will attend the experiment. The underlying principle is to be to lead youth out of the way of crime, to arrange it so that imprisonment will not, if possible, follow a first offense, but that the first offense may be made such a lesson that it will be the last. Its keynote, after all, is that whoever sits on its bench shall be more than a judge in the ordinary sense; that he shall have wise far-sightedness as applied to youth, be able to see at a glance what may be made out of a boy or girl, and able to inspire those who have gone wrong with the determination to make good men and women of themselves. The court will have the assistance of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. This society will take charge of children who are arrested at night, caring for them in its rooms until their cases are called in court. Children who are placed on probation will also be turned over to this society. The agent of the society will be consulted constantly by the judges in regard to the disposition of cases. This close co-operation between the Gerry society and the court should result in saving thousands of children from drifting into lives of crime.

The advantages of this separate court are obvious. Each case will be investigated with thoroughness, and the salvation of youth will undoubtedly be far greater than ever before.

THE GREAT EDUCATORS.

Literary men are complaining that the vast majority of men read nothing but the newspapers at the present day. History, politics and economics have gone begging and the newspaper takes the place of all. Thoreau said:

"I am sure I never read any memorable news in a newspaper. If we read of one man robbed, or murdered, or killed by accident, or one house burned, or one vessel wrecked, or one steamboat blown up, or one cow run over on the railroad, or one mad dog killed, or one lot of grasshoppers in the winter—we never need read of another. One is enough. If you are acquainted with the principle, what do you care for a myriad instances and applications? To a philosopher all news, as it is called, is gossip, and they who edit it and read it are old women over their tea. Yet not a few are greedy over this gossip. • • • I seriously think a wit might write a twelvemonth or twelve years beforehand with sufficient accuracy. As for Spain, for instance, if you know how to throw in Don Carlos and the Infanta, and Don Pedro and Seville and Granada, from time to time in the right proportions—they may have changed a little since I saw the papers—and serve up a bull fight when other entertainments fail, it will be true to the letter, and give us as good an idea of the exact state or ruin of things in Spain as the most succinct and lucid reports under this head in the newspapers; and as for England, almost the last significant scrap of news from that quarter was the revolution of 1649; and if you have learned the history of her crops for an average year, you never need attend to that thing again, unless your speculations are of a merely pecuniary character. If one may judge who rarely looks into the newspapers, nothing new ever does happen in foreign parts, a French revolution not excepted."

While the newspaper business may be overdone in some cases, the fact remains that the newspapers are the great educators of the people. It is better to read even the most sensational newspaper than to read nothing at all, while the average paper is full of matters of passing interest. To go without reading a newspaper is to go without knowledge. The newspaper habit is a good one, and its rapid advancement demonstrates it.

HOLLAND'S POSITION.

Since the Boer war it has become apparent that Holland is in great fear of losing her colonies and the people have been casting about to form an alliance with some powerful country for their preservation. Holland, without her colonies, would have great difficulty in maintaining her existence, and for that reason desires the friendship and protection of some country able to care for her at all times. The Dutch alone cannot protect their colonies against the attacks of a great empire, and above all against the attacks of the covetousness of many leagued powers. While she might offer a strong resistence, the end would not be doubtful. The extent of the coast line in her colonies which would have to be guarded is immense and the country no longer possesses a formidable navy. Furthermore, it would be easy to produce revolt in a part of the population of the islands, it being merely a question of sowing a little gold among the warlike tribes, of distributing arms to them, and of giving them slight encouragement to create for Holland all sorts of trouble.

"The idea of an alliance with a powerful state disposed to guarantee the possession of these colonies has gained ground among the people of Holland," says the Courrier des Etats Unis, "the greater number extolling an alliance with Germany, whose emperor has stated that 'Our future is on the water.' It is an undeniable fact that the influence of Germany in Holland has enormously increased in the past few years. This idea of a political alliance was born and became strong because of the matrimonial alliance, but it is not to be denied that an alliance with Germany would be as dangerous for the Netherlands as a conflict with England, for the annexation of the Holland provinces by Germany is much more to be feared than the conquest of Dutch colonies by Great Britain. One should not overlook the fact that by means of the low countries the German empire could obtain the maximum of its European development, and the entrance of the Netherlands into the confederation of German states is one of the plans of the Pangermanists. At The Hague these pretensions of the Pan-germanists have produced disquietude at different times, and when Queen Wilhelmina married Prince Henry it was remarked that a political rapprochement with Germany would certainly be a great danger. At present also a certain opposition is manifested in Holland to the plan of the customs union with Germany, of which, however, the Hollanders reiterate the practical advantages."

There is no doubt that there exists a current which is favorable to German influence in the domain of Queen Wilhelmina, and the partisans of an alliance with Germany could very easily be the masters. But the legislators of Holland may take into account that the Netherlands are not menaced by any immediate peril, and may strive to maintain the present situation of the flourishing little state, a state which is so happily outside of all conflicts.

In an article contributed to Collier's Weekly, George H. Daniels, the veteran railroad man, who presides over the New York Central passenger department, draws a striking contrast illustrating the miracle of progress that has been wrought by the taming of the great plains. He says: "It seems but a very few years since I made my first trip to Colorado and stopped on my way at the home of Buffalo Bill at North Platte, Neb. At Ogalalla, fifty-one miles west of North Platte, the Sioux Indians were roaming over the prairies and making more or less trouble for the early settlers. Notice the difference today—the Nebraska corn crop averages over 8,000,000 acres and the yield over 290,000,000 bushels." And the exhibit of difference could be made with equal impressiveness in scores of other directions.

It is related that Senator Thomas Collier Platt of New York perched his frame on a chop house stool in New York recently. A stranger did likewise. The senator drafted a moderate order for internal fuel. It pleased the stranger, who, in answer to the waiter's interrogation, whispered "me, too." The senator winked a knowing wink, seized the stranger's chip and paid his bill.

THE LEGEND.

It is a legend—nothing more;
It may be false or true;
It may be but an idle tale
By one with naught to do.

Two met upon the stately steps
That led into the place
Where men were met for worshiping,
And sang the songs of grace;
One was a man of common mold—
One had a shining face.

Then side by side they reached the doors
And side by side went through;
Another met them in the way,
And barred them from a pew.
"All these are sold," he softly said,
"And not for such as you."

Then spoke the man of common mold:
"Is there no corner here,
No vacant place, nor empty seat,
Nor footstool in the rear,
Nor any place where such as I
May feel his Maker near?"

The other answered him and said:
"There is no vacant spot,
There is no empty place nor seat
For them who buy them not;
For all who worship in this house
Demand all they have bought."

Two stood upon the stately steps
That led into the street;
Within the anthem rose and fell
In melody full sweet,
And, to its lilt, away from there,
The twain then turned their feet.

Then said the man of common mold;
"Would that I had the fee,
I hear the echo of the song—
And there I fain would be."
Then said the one with shining face:
"They preach in there of Me."

It is a legend—nothing more—
By one whose heart was sad.
We know it never happened so,
But, oh, what if it had?

A War Widow's Wooing

By Ada C. Sweet.

(Copyright, 1902, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

Mrs. Stacy was a comely little woman, even on Sundays, when she wore her black gown and other widow's weeds she did not show her 40 years. Yet her face was subdued, patient, with something appearing and frightened in its expression.

She was a "war widow," that is, her husband had been a veteran soldier when she was married to him, although she herself had but a hazy remembrance of what the Grand Army men proudly call "the days of '64."

Alone lived the "war widow" in a tiny box of a house close to the roadside. Her pension of $8 a month paid her rent. Food, fuel and clothing, she earned by her needle.

"Plain sewing isn't as easy as it looks," she used to say; "but I'm not complaining. I have my cup of tea and my bit of bread and cold meat whenever I am hungry. And I've never been used to anything but hard work. If I could only keep the boys with me, I would be happy.

Her two children, Joe and Emmet, aged 10 and 14, were away from her and her mother-heart ached. Joe was working for a farmer in the country some twenty miles from the small village where Mrs. Stacy lived, and Emmett was with his father's well-to-do cousins at school in Kentwell—the nearest large town.

"Good afternoon, Mrs. Stacy," a clear youthful voice called from the gate.

The widow looked up from her work and nodded to Edith Barnett, a rosy-cheeked school girl, who was walking up the path with a letter in her hand. She seemed reluctant to give the letter to Mrs. Stacy, and still holding onto it, said:

"It isn't directed to you.

"Well, why do you bring it to me, then?" asked the "war widow."

"It's yours, I guess," the girl said. Then she read the address from the envelope:

MR. ABEL STACY,
New Livingston,
Illinois.

"Let me see it," said the widow, growing a shade paler.

How uncanny are these letters written from the living all unknowing—to the dead! No one can look at one of them without the great question pressing upon his brain:

"Where and what?"

"Thank you, my dear," Mrs. Stacy said quietly, and she laid the letter—addressed side down—upon the table and went on with her work.

That evening, after her early supper, the lonely woman read by the lamplight, her dead husband's letter:

"Blue River Camp, Ariz., July 4.

"Dear Comrade: I am writing you to see if you remember the time when Joe Williams was hurt in battle of the Wilderness, just after our last charge. His horse fell upon him and his thigh was dislocated, and he had a hard seige of it and never was much good after it, tho' he didn't get his discharge until the war ended.

"Now he is old and poor, and he's just applying for a pension. I have given my testimony, and he needs yours, to show that he contracted the hurt in line of duty.

"If you have a clear recollection of the affair, do write out what you remember of it, swear to it, and send it to me. I am helping Joe to get his evidence together, and it needs enough to sink a ship at this late day.

"How are you, yourself, old boy?

"The world has been good to me, so far as money goes—not that I am rich, but I have enough and to spare. But I have neither chic nor child and my poor wife died the first winter we came here, eight years ago.

"If I can ever do anything for you or yours, I hope I'll have a chance, for I'll never forget the comrade who saved my life by good nursing in '64.

"With kind regards to your family,

"Yours in F. C. & L.,

"EMMETT CLAY.

"My best wishes to my namesake. How is he?"

It was a week before the "war widow" found time to write the necessary reply to the veteran's letter. When she did so, she told simply the tale poor humanity is forever telling, of how some soul went out into the unknown and the great silence. She wrote, too, a fond mother's words of pride in her children, and expressed her regret that she could in no way assist her husband's old comrade. She remembered hearing the name of Joe Williams more than once, while her husband never tired of telling stories of Emmett Clay, after whom his youngest son had been named.

In a postscript she ventured to suggest that perhaps her brother, who had been a member of her husband's company, might give the desired testimony.

There came back a letter asking for the brother's affidavit, and before that had been furnished in due form, a half dozen letters had passed between the "war widow" and the Arizona veteran in as many months, for there is no lack of deliberation in the correspondence of people whose work takes up time and attention daily, to the exclusion of everything else.

Now the "war widow's" letters were most captivating. In the first place she left an inch wide margin all up and down the left side of her ruled paper, and she began half way down from its top. Then her writing was as delicate as if traced by her finest pointed cambric needle. The violet ink didn't look like any earthly blotty, smeary ink. Each letter was perfectly formed and all the y's and q's and g's had long, curly, deep-shaded tails.

Oh, those letters were fascinating, and the lonely man in the mountain mining region came to look for them eagerly.

It was Christmas, and the miner sat in his winter home in the valley, a comfortable abode house on the ranch to which he retired every year during the deep snows.

The fire of the pinyon wood burned brightly on the hearth, fanned by the ceaseless winds which forced their way through cracks and crannies of floor, and window, and door frames.

Emmett Clay laid down his pen and looked at the fire. Then he threw after his gaze the paper he had been splashing with ink in rolling letters leaning this way and that.

"How clumsy they look beside hers!" he muttered, as he pulled from his breast pocket the neatly lettered missives of his fair correspondent.

"I've a good mind to drop all this pen and paper business—go back East and see her—and maybe bring her with me for good when I strike the home trail! Kids and all. I'd like a couple of boys. Why not?"

Now, if the truth must be told, upon that very Christmas night the little "war widow" sat reading, by the light of a kerosene lamp, certain letters, written upon large squares of paper, in a flourishing masculine writing such as one would expect from the big, powerful hand of Emmett Clay.

To the lonely woman heart the lonely man had already made, unconsciously his appeal, and as unconsciously had the appeal been felt.

What was it, thought the little "war widow," that made life so much sweeter this winter than it had been the year before? Hard daily drudgery for poor dilatory payment, the absence of her children, privations such a smake most people complain bitterly, all of these were in her lot, as usual, yet there was a sense of happiness growing within her. She hummed old tunes over her work, and her boys—with her for the holidays—had been welcomed with a joyous lovingness which was quite new coming from their sad-faced mother.

She was alone, looking over the letters from the West, like a very school girl, she thought, and a faint blush stole into her cheeks.

"What if——" but she checked the new hopes that rose in her heart.

"What nonsense!" said her brain.

"What joy," said her heart.

And the lonely woman dreamed that night of acres and acres of green grass spotted with dandelions, and out of the meadows rose singing bobolinks, while overhead stretched a sky of cloudless blue.

All day, after that, she sang more than ever over her sewing, while she made ready the boys' supper. They would be hungry after skating all day, she said, and there never was before nor will be again, a better chicken pot pie, or roly-poly puding than this little widow had ready for her youngsters that evening.

A month of subsistence on bread and tea had enabled her to prepare the feasts of this golden week when the boys were with her.

The great week passed quickly. The widow's darder was beginning to look empty by New Year's day, but the boys were going back to their work and studies on Jan. 2 and the mother managed to maintain a brave appearance up to the eve of their departure; even arranging for a triumphant breakfast of buckwheat cakes and maple syrup as a final outburst of splendor on the going-away morning.

On New Year's night she sat alone, close to her small stove, listening to the wind and the sleet against the window pane. The boys, their satchels packed and ready for the morning, had gone early to bed. Taking up her work the widow sewed, and tried not to think of the morrow when she should be alone.

There came heavy footsteps upon the front step, and then she heard a knock at the door.

"Who can it be, at half-past eight, too?" she said aloud, as she went to answer the commanding signal. But she knew whom to expect before she opened the door.

Emmett Clay announced himself cheerily, respectfully and with the confident manner of a familiar friend, and the widow of his old comrade received him with simple old-fashioned womanly dignity.

It did not take the miner long to unpack his full heart, and when he left, at precisely ten minutes after ten, he had the "war widow's" promise to marry him, and the boys had been called up to ratify the agreement.

A few days after the opening of the New Year, a happy family of four journeyed from New Livingston westward toward Blue River camp. The mother and her sons should not be parted "yet awhile," said the miner.

Hope brightened the eyes of the youngsters, and the two elders held in their hearts the immortal youth which love confers.

What Organization Has Done for Labor.

By GEORGE HODGE, Secretary of the Brick, Tile and Terra Cotta Workers' International Union.

Every battle, every step taken by organized labor, is toward emancipation, education and equalization, a battle to uphold society and improve conditions that the unfortunate children of today may become noble men and women tomorrow.

Every law in the interest of the laboring classes in the various states and of the United States that has been placed on the statute books has been secured through the efforts of the intelligent workers, who, through a process of organization, gathered unto themselves sufficient power and influence to command recognition and wages that enable them to enjoy all of the necessaries of life and some of the luxuries.

The union man braves the fight for the man who has not the courage to speak for himself, for legislation thus secured benefits the non-union man as well.

Paris and Its Chaperonage.

By Mrs. GOWDY, Wife of the American Consul General to Paris.

A residence of five years in Paris convinces me that American girls coming here without a chaperon make a mistake. It is very delightful in the United States for young girls to go without an eternal chaperon at their heels, but when one comes here unaccompanied all our explanations about her independence do not save her from cruel remarks by clubmen, boulevard loungers and even from her own sex, who are not so pretty.

I believe Dr. Johnson objected not only to the use of the chaperon, but also to the word itself; nevertheless, the Latin countries have forced upon us their decision as to the propriety of girls being always chaperoned in public places. It is well enough for the girl of Indiana, New York, Illinois or California to go where she pleases unchaperoned, but in Paris it is absolutely necessary to throw a sop to public opinion. I believe young men in America do not tolerate chaperons, but I must say that chaperons in France are so well trained that their presence is scarcely observable.

Legislation for the Trusts.

By Governor ODELL, of New York.

I am not one of those who believe that all the acts of corporations are right. I believe that in harmony with our laws now upon the statute books of the state of New York they should not be permitted to monopolize certain products or oppress those who are dependent upon them for the necessities of life. So long as combinations have for their object a fair return, without injury to the great mass of people who make up our commonwealth, they are not exceeding the purposes for which they were created. They should be held in check, however, by legislation which is the result of wise and concerted action by an intelligent citizenship.

No More Royalty for France.

By M. WALDECK-ROUSSEAU, ex-Premier of France.

The expected visit of the king and queen of Italy has shown that we are capable of inspiring sympathies, and the czar's several journeys to France have shown that we are able to strengthen an alliance and increase our strength in the confidence we have succeeded in inspiring and the spirit of equality which we have shown in all foreign relations. We have thus better served the interests of the country than by a policy of bluster, which is more calculated to alarm everybody than frighten any one. Other men may have conceived loftier designs, but they could not have shown more good faith or perseverance. The work accomplished by the legislature permits us to contemplate the future confidently.

Nationalism is the name of expectancy, allowing each element to cherish the hope of duping the others. It is the monarchy of Caesarism of tomorrow, a connecting link between aristocrats who have become haughty. The clever men who sought success in this equivocation have made a false calculation. They took great care to hide themselves from the ancient parties and thus signed their abdication and gradually accustomed the country to take note of their definite downfall.

The twentieth century has forever dispersed the ruins of royalty, Orleanism and empire, and Frnech democracy is preparing to pass sentence on the vain parodies and bad foreigners of sincere patriotism and on the spirit of revolution.

The Negro Race Needs Workers, Not Leaders.

By BOOKER T. WASHINGTON.

I sometimes fear that we are in danger of producing too many leaders. We are not so much in need of leaders as workers. Before we spend any considerable part of our time giving advice to others let us remember that it is our duty to our families, our race and ourselves to secure and pay for a comfortable home or a farm or to start a business and secure a bank account. Talk after work is valuable; talk without work is valueless. I cannot have much faith in the morality or Christianity of a man whose note for $10 is not good at his home bank. The highest moral and religious progress does not go hand in hand with idleness, shiftlessness and poverty.

No race can hate another without that race being weakened, narrowed and degraded. Let us cultivate friendship and love for all races and individuals and harbor hatred for none.

H. Schildt, Page Morris, Giles Gilbert, A. W. Dutton, W. C. Winton, E. Totman, D. H. Day, S. F. Wadhams, Clinton Markell, W. G. Hegerdt, J. B. Adams, W. S. Bishop, R. M. Sellwood, J. P. Morrow, A. E. Gilbert, J. W. Hunt, W. G. Goffe, D. D. Gaillard, Whitney Wall, Victor Stearns, F. E. House, F. W. Paine, W. B. Silvey, O. H. Simonds, Hubbard, G. G. Barnum H. E. Crawford, E. E. Collins, E. W. Markell, R. C. Ray.

Misses:
Collins, Ely, Searle, Greenwood, Statham, Robinson, Gilbert,
Lydia Poirier, Mattocks, Simonds, Belle S. onds, Morris, Mary Morris, Edith Searle.

The pavilion dances are very popular and one of the most delightful of the season was given last evening by Dr. and Mrs. George Herbert Jones at the pavilion at Lester Park. The hall was very prettily decorated with the brilliant fall flowers, asters, sweet peas and sun flowers being used. A large number danced a delightful program.

Miss Phoebe Cole, of 1131 East First street, entertained at two very delightful parties this week in honor of her guest, Miss Belle Searle, of Minneapolis. Thursday afternoon progressive games were played and Miss Virginia Wilcuts won the head prize and Miss Ida Marshall the consolation. Those present were:

Misses
Cora Letteau, K. Hubbell, Esther Searle, Mabel Duncan, Lulu Magoffin, Myrtle Butchart, A. Lautenschlager, R. McLean, Ida Marshall, Ethel Farmer, Jessie Brownell, Sybilla Hartman, Katchen Geist, Florence Brewer, Grace Duncan, Lillian Brown, Mary Bartlett, G. Butchart, V. Wilcutts, Lulu Smallwood, C. Blanchard, Marian Day, Emma Gallagher.

Friday afternoon, in the progressive games, Miss Searle won first prize, and Miss Cooley the consolation. Those present were:

Misses
Addie Smith, Claire Frederick, Effie Smith, Glen Murray, May Miller, Gertrude Miller, F. Newcomb, Bessie Hoopes, Alice Cooley, V. Wilcuts, Fern Cole,
C. Partridge, Alma Kruschke, Cora Helm, Jennie Parker, Leora Fenton, Eunice Smith, Ruth Lathrop, Edna Boyle, Lulu Jones, Gladys Hiembach.

Mrs. Chester A. Congdon entertained about fifty friends at an informal musicale this afternoon at her home, 1509 East Superior street. The house was very prettily decorated with greens and fall flowers. The program was a very pleasing one with solos by Miss Elizabeth Bailey and readings by Miss Wylie, of Denver.

Mrs. C. W. Elston, of 1609 East Superior street, entertained at cards Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Edgar W. Marshall entertained at luncheon Wednesday afternoon at her summer home, Witchwood.

Mrs. C. A. Phelps and Miss Leta Phelps left Thursday for Minneapolis, where they will make their home this winter.

Miss Grace Spurbeck returned Monday from a visit with friends in St. Paul.

The members of the graduating class of St. Luke's hospital, Miss Frances M. Root, Mrs. Donna C. Doney, Miss Helen Iensen, Mrs. Sophie Beresford, Miss Anna M. Gogarn and Miss Marie Forbes, enjoyed a picnic at Lincoln park yesterday.

Mrs. R. W. Elston and daughter, of Verndale, Minn. is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Elston, of 1609 East Superior street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richardson, of Minneapolis, formerly of Duluth, spent several days this week with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Elston, of 1609 East Superior street.

The Duuth Operatic club has begun rehearsals for the production of "Il Trovotore," which will be given during the early part of November. Wednesday evening the ladies rehearsed and Thursday evening the men.

Miss Anna Flood left last evening on the steamer Iroquois for a month's visit with friends at Calumet, Mich.

Mrs. Fred Lee, who has been ill at her home, 1937 Sixtieth avenue east, is convalescent.

Mrs. Edward Gregory, of Chicago, is visiting her brother, Fred Lee, of Lester Park.

The Park Point Sunday school picnic held yesterday was a great success. A large number of children and many of the parents were present, and enjoyed a bountiful dinner furnished by the ladies of Park Point. The success of the picnic is attributed to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Shearer, Mrs. Lester, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Bruno, Mrs. Stone and others. The adress by Dr. Long was appreciated and the praphophone concert given by Mr. Callahan furnished enjoyable entertainment.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Florence J. Patterson, daughter of Mrs. Flora Patterson, of 1810 John avenue, West Superior, to J. E. Willcuts, of this city, to take place at the bride's home next Wednesday.

Miss Sybilla Hartman entertained most charmingly at a dancing party at the Oatka auditorium in honor of Miss Katchen Geist, who has recently returned from abroad. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hartman and Mrs. Nettie Geist. Among those present were:

Mrs. Michael Lutz and children have returned from a visit with friends at Grand Rapids, Wis.

Mrs. W. H. Kitchen, of Rogers City, Mich., is visiting her son, C. J. Kitchen, of 132 West Fourth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Macdonald, of 225 Fifteenth avenue east, has returned from a ten days' visit with relatives at St. Cloud.

Mrs. C. E. Adams, of 1009 East Superior street, is visiting her mother at Lake Minnetonka.

Miss Ethel B. Dwyer has returned from a two weeks' trip to Port Arthur, Hancook and Houghton.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Adams, Mrs. Neil Morrison, of Duluth, and Miss May Van Huskirk, of Eveleth, left Tuesday afternoon for Chicago.

Miss Hirsch has returned from New York.

The New York Musical Courier of recent date contained the following:

"Miss Electra Gifford, the soprano who sang the song, 'O Moonlight, Deep and Tender,' by Ernest Lachmund, of Duluth, Minn., in many American cities, has put the song on her list for the Australian tour with Gerardy. The song is written with 'cello obligato, and at the concerts in the antipodes this is played by the famous Belgian

Miss Rebecca Mackenzie.

Who will appear in a concert at the Lyceum, Sept. 24, under the auspices of the Ladies' guild of Glen Avon Presbyterian church. Miss Mackenzie will return to New York soon after this concert, and will then leave for another tour of Scotland, England and the continnent. On her previous tour she met with great success.

'cellist himself. Miss Gifford's singing of the song has increased the demand for it."

Mrs. C. W. Elston, of 1609 East Superior street, entertained the neighborhood children on Monday in honor of little Miss Frances Elston's birthday.

Mrs. O. H. Simonds and the Misses Simonds entertained at a small tea Wednesday afternoon. The house was very prettily decorated and the affair was a most delightful one.

Mrs. H. M. Peyton and Mrs. Russell Baxter will give a reception next Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Bronson Murray Peyton.

Miss Jessie Brownell, of Elmira, New York, who has been visiting Mrs. J. F. McCarthy, will return home today.

Duluth is indebted to the Saturday club for the successful effort it makes each year to get Frederick Warde to lecture here on his annual trip to Duluth. Mr. Warde's lectures are instructive and delightful in the extreme and his subject Tuesday, when he spoke at Elks' hall, was one of great interest. He spoke on "Shakespeare, an Apostle of Christianity."

He said that the element of religion in Shakespeare's work was one that had escaped commentators, but that the reverence found throughout Shakespeare's plays was of such a nature as one would expect to find in the works of a theologian or clergyman. It has been determined that the name of God appears 850 times in Shakespeare's works. This fact was verified by a life prisoner in one of the prisons who had become a convert. He had only Shakespeare to read and as he had no paper or pencil, every time he encountered the name of God in his reading he pricked a hole in a card with a pin.

Throughout his works, Shakespeare shows a familiarity with the Scriptures. Examples are many. In the "Merchant of Venice," Shylock says: "When Jacob grazed his father Lweban's sheep" and goes on and gives the story. In Henry VIII he treats with utter impartiality the exponents of the two opposing religions, Wolsey being the representative of Catholicism and the archbishop of Canterbury the head of the Protestant faith.

Mr. Warde illustrates his lectures with grand passages from the plays and when he recited Wolsey's speech ending,

"Let all the ends thou aim'st at be thy country's,
Thy God's and truth's, then if thou fall'st, O Cromwell,
Thou fall'st a blessed martyr," he told a touching little anecdote of the late President McKinley. Mr. Warde was a friend of the late president and on his annual visit to Washington always called at the White House. A year ago, in May, when Mr. Warde called on the president they discussed the play of Henry VIII and Mr. McKinley said that he considered the quoted passage a splendid motto for life. But a few months passed before the world realized that they had been his motto in life and that he had fallen "a blessed martyr."

During the lecture it was shown that in his plays, Shakespeare had portrayed Henry V, Richard III, Hamlet, Portia, even Othello, and numerous others of his characters God-fearing people. Shakespeare probably learned of the Bible from his mother and as books were few in his day, he undoubtedly eagerly devoured this book, which was in his reach. His mind reached out in all directions for knowledge, but while he was discovering "tongues in trees, books in running brooks, sermons in stones and good in everything," little did he realize that he was laying up beauties, charms and delights for countless ages. Knowledge of all sorts is found in his plays. It has been absolutely proved that he knew of the circulation of the blood before the acknowledged discoverer showed it to the world and that he recognized the law of gravitation before Sir Isaac Newton's time and one enthusiastic student says he knew of electricity because of Puck's words, "I'll put a girdle around the world in forty minutes."

The work of the Matinee Musicale is going on with enthusiasm and it is expected that the year book will be out by next week. The programs are being prepared and it is anticipated that the music will be even more interesting than in previous years. The music of the different countries will be taken up, three afternoons being devoted to German music, two to Spanish, two to Italian and so on. The first meeting will be held Oct. 6.

This morning at the library, Clarence B. Miller spoke to the children on "Andrew Carnegie, His Life and Work" Mr. Miller is a magnetic speaker and held the little ones' attention from start to finish. The hour today closed the series for this season as the children's minds will be taken up with school affairs.

These story hours were inaugurated by Miss Katherine Ensign, who took charge of the children's department of the library immediately after her graduation from the university of Chicago library school, and they have proved instructive and delightful, awakening enthusiasm in the children and parents who have known about them. But the work done in the children's department of the library is neither known nor appreciated as it should be, for strides have been made in building up this part of the library work and it is demanding notice. To begin with, the children's room itself is perfectly delightful. It is on the ground floor to the right as one enters the building. Entering the room for the first time, its cheerfulness is the thing that impresses one. This cheerfulness is due largely to the many windows facing the south and east and also to the plants in the windows. There are five tables in the room on which are found St. Nicholas, Youth's Companion and other youthful periodicals dear to childish hearts. There are also a number of artistic scrap books which they may enjoy without the trouble of making them.

The book shelves are found on two sides of the room and a part of a third side and here may be found all the old friends of childhood. There are about 280 volumes in the library. At the top of the shelves is a green matting on which are pasted posters of all sorts and conditions. One group is devoted to athletics, another to animals and the different modes of travel from the automobile to the sedan chair.

On the wall on one side of the room is the thing which probably attracts the most attention. It is a frieze of great originality of conception. In it the animals from the ark are walking sedately 't'wo by two" in unceasing solemnity.

In one corner of the room is a marble fountain, where the children may get liquid refreshment if their reading chance to be a trifle dry and sad to say, where they must sometimes be sent to wash before they may be permitted to touch a book. On the walls are one or two copies of fine pictures, but the room is woefully lacking in this respect. A few pictures would add so much to its value. In the spring new furniture is expected from the Art Metal Construction company, which will greatly improve the room, but as it is, it is a bright happy place to go and it is no wonder the children love to go there, where there is always a soft-voiced lady to help them choose a book.

Great credit is due Miss Ensign and Miss Ruth Ely, who have worked continuously to make the room and department attractive and who have succeeded so beautifully.

The Progress club gave another of its delightful dancing parties at the Lester Park pavilion Tuesday evening. A program of fifteen dances was danced, and La Brosse furnished the music. A large number were present and thoroughly enjoyed the party.

The serenade concert given at the Pilgrim church was one of the most enjoyable programs given in Duluth for some time. The shading in the solos was fine and the ensemble numbers were played and sung as by one person. Altogether the affair was a great success in every particular.

Mrs. Selma Oswald, of Evansville, Ind., who has been visiting friends in Duluth since July, returned home Thursday.

Miss Mabel Haney returned to her home in St. Cloud Wednesday, after a visit with Miss Edith Briggs, of Park Point.

Mrs. Edward Bleck and children returned to their home in Dayton, Ohio, after spending the summer with Mrs. Bleck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller.

Mrs. J. M. Stanley left for Chicago Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ross have returned from a visit with friends in Houghton and Hancock.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander D. McRae have gone to Minneapolis for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Beck, of 1123 East Sixth street, were pleasantly surprised Monday evening by a number of their friends. The evening was spent in dancing and card playing. Those present were:

GETS A VERDICT.

Stevenson Mining Company Must Pay Julius Ranta.

It was a costly charge of black powder that the Stevenson Mining company touched off near Julius Ranta's house a few months ago.

The force of the explosion gave the dwelling an awful jolt and yesterday afternoon a jruy awarded the plaintiff $540.50. The company was getting out some stumps for a roadway when a charge of powder was touched off in too close proximity to Ranta's boarding house. The roof was blown in, the sewing machine was ruined, while crockery and glassware fell about the ground like hail. The plaintiff alleged carelessness and negligence on the part of the defendant company.

The Duluth-Superior Traction company won out in the personal injury action brought by John H. Cameron to recover $5500. The son of the plaintiff was injured last spring in colliding with a car on East Fourth street.

Last of Season.

The first, last and only ball game of the season between Superior and Duluth will be played at West Superior tomorrow. The line-up will be:

| Superior. | | Duluth. |
|---|---|---|
| Gardner | catcher | Kilno |
| Hanley | pitcher | Johnson |
| Besthlaune | first | Randall |
| McDonald | second | Bennett |
| Olson | third | Girard |
| Cornell | short | Sheppard |
| Wentland | left | Geiselman |
| Wedge | center | Lambert |

A Second Misfit.

Henry Deschene for the second time expects to appear in the divorce court shortly. He yesterday began action against Alfeid Deschene alleging infidelity. He was married to her two years ago. He was 41 years of age and she 17.

Deschene was married the first time in 1889 in Quebec and in 1900 his wife got divorce on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment.

INCREASE OF PENSIONS.

Washington, Sept. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following increases of pensions have been granted: Richard Neill, of Green Prairie, $10; Andrew J. Smith, of Anoka, $12.

Business University Happenings.

The college has opened for its fall term with 118 students in the day and evening classes. Seventy-three of these enrolled on Monday, Sept. 8. This is the largest enrollment of new members the school has ever had at any opening.

Classes will be organized on Monday, Sept. 15, to accommodate many who could not begin at the opening.

The demand for Duluth Business University graduates continues to far exceed the supply, especially for young men stenographers.

Louis Myer and Eugene Richmond left the college last week, the former to act as stenographer for the American Linseed Oil company, and the latter as stenographer for the Oliver Mining company.

Miss Bottrall has accepted an excellent position in Eveleth as stenographer for the Eveleth hospital.

Julius Bergman has gone to Butte, Mont., to accept an excellent position as stenographer for a manufacturing concern in that city.

Among those who enrolled at the annual opening were: Miss E. Kotz, Evanston, Ill.; H. Bron, Jamestown, N. D.; E. Garrett, Winnipeg, Man., and C. Evans, Hamilton, Ont.

The Herald is the business man's paper, because it gives him the latest news—the news of today, not yesterday. Hence, to reach him, advertise in The Herald.

"Appropriateness—fitness to the occasion,"

is of course the essential—the essence—of good taste; whether it be dress, speech, music, art, song or story. That society bud—or blossom—making the nearest approach to a personal synonym for "apropos," is always the popular leader, in season and out.

Did it ever occur to you to note the appropriateness of the vast collections of merchandise in the "Glass Block"—to take measure of the skill and taste with which the assortments are varied to command the respect and the patronage of the lavish spenders as well as the most frugal and economical?

It's this appreciation of the needs of ALL the people, has made it necessary to add three stories to the Glass Block; may force further additions in a short time. In no city the size of Duluth is there a house even approximating the Glass Block in volume of business, in widespread popularity among rich and poor alike, without friction, jar or jostling.

Apropos: the new fall styles.

Before having your new frocks made, or purchasing from our ready-to-wear costumes, it might be wise to consider the "corset question." A correct corset must be the foundation for correct fit. We suggest the "La Greeque" as embodying the best in the new correct corset models—the prices range from $1.00 up to $12.00.

The DuBarry drape shown is but one of hundreds of beautiful new compositions displayed in our millinery section. Your will is the only price limit—within the range of $1.00 to $35.00.

The new trimming laces—the new trimming braids—the new trimming buttons—the new motifs, appliques, embroideries, supplement the completeness of our showing in new silks, dresswoolens and ready-to-wear suits, skirts, walsts, wraps.

Beg pardon for rebuilding inconveniences. We'll try to exceed ourselves in atoning courtesies.

CHARLES d'AUTREMONT,

Candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Congress—Eighth District.

Charles d'Autremont, Jr., is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth congressional district, to be voted for Sept. 16, 1902. Mr. d'Autremont removed to Duluth from Elmira, N. Y., in 1882, and has ever since been identified with the business interests and progress of this city and county.

Politically, he has always been a Democrat. He was elected county attorney of St. Louis county in 1884, and he is the only Democrat who ever filled that office. In 1888 he was the candidate of his party for attorney general of this state, and made a strong run. In 1892 he was nominated by his party as its candidate for mayor of Duluth, and after one of the hardest political fights that was ever made here, was elected by over 600 majority—being the first Democrat ever elected to that office on a contest in this city. In 1896 he was one of the Bryan electors on the Democratic electoral ticket in Minnesota, and used his best efforts for the success of his party.

Mr. d'Autremont is well known throughout this district and became a candidate for the nomination at the earnest solicitation of a large number of leading Democrats and friends in this city and district, who are anxious for party success, and who believe him to be a very strong candidate to oppose the Republican nominee on election day.

THE LAST ERUPTION

Of Mount Pelee Far Surpasses That of Last May.

The Path of Destruction Covers a Very Large Area.

Fort de France, Island of Martinique, Saturday, Sept. 6.—Professor Angelo Heilprin, president of the Philadelphia Geographical society, who is in Martinique in the interest of the international Geographical society, has made the following report of the recent eruptions of Mount Pelee:

"The scene of destruction in the last eruption of Mount Pelee far surpasses in extent that of the eruption of May 8, when St. Pierre was destroyed, and includes the broad area lying between Macouba and Carbet, and involves Haute Tours de Bourdon, Basse Pointe, Morne Balai and Ajoupa Bouillon, where alone upwards of 300 persons were killed, as well as Morne Rouge, with a death list of probably not less than 1100 persons. Morene Capot and the heights somewhat this side of Fonds St. Denis, the blast, however, leaving the last named place untouched. Great cinders fell also over the region of Grand Riviere, and Precheur is covered deep with ashes. In Carbet the ashes lie one foot deep and nearly the same abount covers the ruins of St. Pierre. All of Morne Rouge, with the exception of about four houses and the beautiful church, has been swept to the ground and the greater part of the town has been burned up. At Ajoupa Bouillon, where on-half of the town has been prostrated, there is no trace of fire of any kind.

"The destructive blast, instead of confining itself to a section or area as was the case during the first eruption, was distributed radially, crossing the low summit of the volcano near the knob of Morne Jacob and skipping zones between its rays. The danger from Mount Pelee is thus materially increased, and perhaps no position in the north of the island is absolutely safe. The government has judiciously ordered the evacuation of all points reached by a radius of about eight or ten miles from the crater.

"The recent phenomena were precisely like those of May 8, death resulting in most cases from contact with the terribly swift and hot blast, which burned and which suffocated. The sulphur emitted from the crater during the recent eruptions was comparatively insignificant, although it densely permeated the ash cloud which fell over Percheur. The electrical illuminations during the storm were wonderful, and greatly surpassed those of July 9. There was no barometric disturbances to indicate a coming eruption.

"During the time I was on the volcano on the afternoon of the eruption, Mount Pelee was in terrible activity, and refuge from flying bombs had to be sought in a hole. The great cone could not be seen. On the way down the mountain the party was enveloped in ashes and mud, the center of the ash and steam clouds being almost vertically over us.

"The destruction of the several towns and localities was simultaneous, occurring at 9:10 in the evening.

"There is much uneasiness all over the Island of Martinique and this is intensified by the knowledge that La Soufriere, on the island of St. Vincent, is again in fully activity.

"The illumination of the eruption on St. Vincent as seen from here the night of Wednesday, was most terrific and on Thursday morning the ash cloud from St. Vincent volcano carried darkness to Fort de France for a period of nearly six hours. No details of the casualties on St. Vincent have as yet been received here."

DULUTH SUNDAY CHURCH SERVICES

Passionist Fathers to Begin Mission at Cathedral---McKinley Memorial Services---Rev. Knowles Will Defend Mixing of Politics and Religion.

Tomorrow at the cathedral of the Roman Catholic church, Passionist Fathers will begin a mission which will continue for two weeks. The first week will be for the women and the following week for the men. The priests who will be here and conduct this mission devote their time to missionary work, and are men of recognized experience and ability in expounding the faith and teachings of the church. The announcement of the mission is as follows:

"The object of the mission is to offer extraordinary opportunities for hearing the Word of God and for worthily receiving the sacraments. The church enriches with wonderful favors those who make the mission well; and we should all earnestly pray to God that not one member of the parish may fail to profit by this season of grace. In the words of St. Paul, 'We exhort you, that you receive not the grace of God in vain.' For he saith: In an acepted time have I heard thee, and in the day of salvation have I helped thee; behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.—2 Cor. vi.: 2.

"The mission will open at high mass Sunday, Sept. 14. Both men and women should be present, but not children.

"The masses on Sunday will be at the same hour as on Sunday, outside of mission time.

"On week days the masses will be at 5 and 8:30 o'clock. The earlier mass will be followed by a short instruction; and after the last mass at 8:30 there will also be an instruction.

"In the evening at 7:30 o'clock there be the rosary, instruction and sermon, followed by benediction with the blessed sacrament.

"The early morning service and the evening service of the first week will be exclusively for women. During the second week services at the same hours will be exclusively for men.

"Both men and women, however, should attend the 8:30 mass and instruction of both weeks if possible.

"There will be mission exercises specially for children, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday afternoons at hours to be announced.

"During the mission, in the true spirit of charity, every facility will be afforded for the instruction or information of non-Catholics, who may be desirous of knowing the true teachings of the Catholic church. They may call at the cathedral residence.

"Confessions will commence on Tuesday evening of each week.

Save your Collars and Cuffs.

A collar and cuff worn nowadays with a high polish is far from being the latest. Go to a city of any size and you will not find this high gloss on collars and cuffs worn, but you will find a nice, white domestic finish. We have put in, at a large expense, an Improved Collar and Cuff Ironer.

Heretofore, in order to get a so-called domestic finish, it was necessary to take off the polish after it had been put on by machine, with either steam or a damp cloth, which never gave it the same even finish that a collar has when done up by an up-to-date domestic finish machine. Furthermore will save the life of a collar and cuff at least twice as long as any of the high gloss machines will on account of their not getting the hard usage by putting on the high gloss and passing them through the machine four or five times.

We would be pleased to receive a trial that you may see what the work really is. We think you will be highly satisfied. Yours very respectfully,

A UNIQUE CAMPAIGN

Jesse L. Jellison Dispenses Free Apples to Draw Crowd.

Holds Open Air Meeting Under the "Welcome Arch."

Dwells Upon Importance of Canal to the Sea.

The corner of Fifth avenue west and Superior street was well covered with apple cores this morning. At this corner Jesse L. Jellison, the Itasca county candidate for congressional honors, began his campaign last evening.

Mr. Jellison evidently believes in the tactics that former Mayor Starkweather of Superior used in one campaign to put himself in the mayor's chair, but instead of giving away candy and popcorn, Mr. Jellison gave away apples.

No sooner had the strains of music from the band, which had been playing in front of the Spalding for the Bede meeting at the Armory, died away, than an express wagon with several bushels of apples in it, drove up under the welcome arch, and the Cohasset farmer and orator, vaulting lightly over the hind wheel, began to shout to the passersby to come up and get a "lun,berjack's treat."

Some of the people were a little shy, not knowing the Itasca county candidate, and fearing that it was another patent medicine doctor fake, hung back until Mr. Jellison began with vigorous actions to toss the apples aut to Superior street. His method was very successful in drawing a crowd, and within a few minutes he had several hundred men and boys about the wagon clamoring for apples.

"Come right up close, just as you would at prayer meeting," shouted Jesse to those who hung back.

"We are going to have a little meeting pretty soon, and it won't be a prayer meeting, either. Come up and get the lumberjack's treat. I've been foraging today, just as we did in the army during the civil war. I struck an old farmer that had an apple orchard, and I swiped these I can't give you cigars, for they tell me I would have to have a license.

"Did you all hear that noise over in front of the hotel a few minutes ago? Well, it reminded me of the devil shearing a hog—a whole lot of noise and very little wool.

"Of course the first thing that you want to know about a man that gets up to speak to you is, who is he, where he came from and what he is after.

"I am Jesse L. Jellison, from Cohasset, Itasca county, and I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman, to represent the common people. You have seen in the papers that I am called the lumberjack, the Cohasset farmer, and all that, but I am here to tell you that I am for the common people, and if elected will work for them.

"I first came to Duluth in 1858, with my uncle, from the little town of St. Anthony, on the peaceful waters of the Mississippi. Duluth wasn't a town then, and from the time we left home until we reached Superior bay we saw not a soul but our Chippewa Indian guides and members of our party. My uncle predicted that some day Duluth would be a great city, but I was a boy and thought nothing of his predictions. It was thirty years before I again set foot in Duluth, and behold, here was the large city my relative had predicted. My uncle was wiser than I knew; he was able to draw aside the misty curtain of the future and see thousands and thousands peopling the head of the lakes.

"I can see in the future great things for Duluth. Within ten years there is no reason why she should not be a city of 100,000 people. There is one thing needed to make her such, and that is a deep waterway canal to the ocean, so that the products of the Northwest may be laid down at the markets of the world. There is a city in the East that is blocking this canal for selfish reasons, and that is Buffalo. Duluth and the Northwest is compelled to pay tribute to Buffalo, and it is the fear of a loss of this tribute that makes Buffalo fight the canal idea."

Mr. Jellison then proceeded to national issues, the Cuban reciprocity, etc., and paid his respects to the other candidates for congressional honors.

He intends to carry his campaign into other parts of the city this evening, holding open-air meetings.

THE DAKOTAS.

Sioux Falls Man Kills Divorced Wife and Himself.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Sioux Falls—J. P. Huntington, a sign painter, Friday night shot and killed his divorced wife, then sent a bullet into his own breast, dying instantly. The cause was an unsuccessful attempt to induce the woman to live with him again.

Deadwood—Circuit court for the Eighth judicial circuit is in session, Judge W. G. Rice presiding. Edward Stewart, who was out on bonds for assault with intent to kill, failed to appear and his bond was declared forfeited. H. H. Hoyt, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to sixty days and to pay a fine of $50.

Huron—A decree of absolute divorce has been granted George E. McEathron from his wife, Grace S. McEathron. The case was settled by agreement whereby Mrs. MacEathron relinquishes the custody of the children to her husband and receives cash to the amount of $500 and a like sum in personal property. The affair has caused no end of gossip since the exciting episode last June, when it was supposed Mrs. MacEathron had been drowned in the Jim river.

Vermillion—Professor H. J. Davenport handed in his resignation to the board of regents and has accepted the chair of economics at Chicago university. When the Chicago university requested the services of Mr. Davenport, the authorities there suggested a competent successor to him here, Professor Edmund K. Broadus, late of Stetson university, Florida. He has made a specialty of English for over five years and comes here with the very highest credentials from university circles.

Whitewood—The twelfth annual reunion of the Black Hills Soldiers and Sailor's association was held here with a large attendance. Special trains were run from the Northern Black Hills towns, and the regular trains on the main line were loaded both ways. Addresses were made by J. W. Fowler and G. G. Bennett, of Deadwood; W. V. Lucas, commandant of the Soldiers' home at Hot Springs; J. V. Gardner, of Piedmont. An athletic tournament was held.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Park River—Martin Smith was walking on top of a separator when the covering gave way. He fell into the cylinder and had both legs ground off. He was dead when a physician arrived.

Finley—Melvin Gunderson, the 9-year-old son of C. E. Gunderson, died last evening from an operation for appendicitis.

Threshing is much delayed by heavy winds. Grain is turning out well, twenty-five or twenty-seven bushels an acre of wheat having been reported.

Fargo—The school lands to be sold this fall will be in some fifteen central counties and none of the Red River valley lands will be offered. The state land office attaches are getting up the list, and expect the sale to assist in the settlement of several sections of the state into which there has been much immigration recently.

It is said besides the strict examination of the state officials, which has thrown out a thousand or more teachers in the country districts, the scarcity is also due in part to the number of teachers who have taken claims in the northwestern part of the state. Many teachers filed on land a year or so ago and remained away from it till contests were threatened and are now compelled to make good their residence in order to prevent trouble. If new schools could be established there would be no dearth of teachers in Ward, McHenry and Bottineau counties.

The Proper Treatment For a Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. For sale at Boyce's Drug store.

Olaf P. Stenson,

Republican candidate for county auditor, is an old settler in Duluth. He was born in Norway and has done much to build up the city and strengthen the party with Scandinavian votes. He thinks that the present auditor ought to be satisfied with four terms, and kindly asks the Republican voters to support him at the primary election.

VIOLINIST INSANE.

New York, Sept. 13.—Josef Bennalfo, a violinist, said to have played before Italy's king and queen and in the most noted orchestras of that nation, and who has been touring this country, has been taken to the Bellevue hospital insane pavilion by his wife. He played for nine hours, she said, without a break. The cause of the violinist's trouble is said to be homesickness. Bennalfo is a Neapolitan, 40 years old.

THE MAN WITH THE BIG HEAD—Go way! Git out! I'm sick! I want to die!
THE MAN WITH THE LEVEL HEAD—Ah, you old sinner! No rest for the wicked! You will go on a bat while your wife's in the country, will you? You ought to suffer! But why didn't you do as I told you when I left you last night, and as I did myself: take a CASCARET Candy Cathartic before going to bed? You'd feel good like I do. They work while you sleep, fix up your stomach and bowels, cool your feverish liver, and make you feel fine and dandy the morning after. 552

HAS A BIG MEETING

J. Adam Bede Addresses Voters on Congressional Situation.

Answers Attacks Made on Him In Bright Manner.

T. J. Davis Presides and John H. Norton Speaks.

Nearly 2000 people turned out at the Armory last night to hear J. Adam Bede speak in behalf of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congress, and the meeting was a complete and enthusiastic success from the standpoint of the Bede partisans.

It was a good deal of an experiment to attempt to hold a big rally in a campaign before the primaries, when the issues are personal and there is not the interest that is aroused in party meetings during the hat of a campaign, but the experiment worked well, apparently, for there was a large attendance and much enthusiasm. There were many women in the audience, a special invitation being issued to them. The Third regiment band provided excellent music on the street and in the Armory.

Thomas J. Davis, of the law firm of Davis, Hollister & Hicks, presided, and he made an excellent presiding officer. He opened the meeting with an eloquent speech, stating that he was proud to be enrolled on the side of J. Adam Bede in the present contest. He said that Duluth was larger than its boundaries, and that no matter where a man voted, if he lived in the Eighth district he represents Duluth. He spoke of Mr. Bede as a member of the fourth estate—journalism—which he said was a profession that required a wider learning and a closer affiliation with the people than any other, and he thought that a member of it would know better what the people want and how to get it than anybody else.

John H. Norton made a stirring speech in his customary eloquent and fluent manner. He said that the magnificent audience gathered there was but an earnest of what Mr. Bede will get next Tuesday, for all the loyal Republicans of the district are supporting that loyal Republican, J. Adam Bede. He said that two political parties are as necessary to the state as the positive and negative forces are to electricity. He approved the primary election law as a step in the right direction, and said that those who are elected to the legislature will not be doing their duty by the people if they work for its repeal. This sentiment was applauded. He said that Mr. Bede had no collar about his neck. He has been six years on probation, and the voters are now asked to extend him the right hand of fellowship. For six years he has fought the battles of the party in Minnesota, Ohio, Oregon and the Dakotas.

In introducing Mr. Bede the chairman said that his interest in the matter was to get the man nominated that could do the best work for the city and the district, and for that reason he was proud to be considered on the side of J. Adam Bede.

Mr. Bede received an enthusiastic greeting when he rose to speak, the demonstration continuing for several minutes. In opening he said that he approved of the primary election system. As it affected the candidate for congress, he approved of it heartily because it necessarily brings the candidate next to the people, which was not necesary under the old system, in which the candidate need not know a handful of people if he had the bosses to pull the wires for him. The congressman should know the people he is going to represent.

"I shall not make an extended political speech," he said. "I am here merely because I think it my duty to come and thank you for the votes you are going to give me next Tuesday. I shall only take up a few arguments that have been advanced against me.

"They blame me for quitting the Democratic party in 1896 and voting for McKinley. If there is any man here that thinks that is a crime, I want him to vote for the other fellow. I did what I believe was my duty, and if the circumstances were the same I should do it again today.

"I am charged with being a humorist, but I am not. I am the most serious man in the world when I am at home, and that is one reason why I stay away so much; so as to give them a chance to cheer up at home. A humorist discovered Duluth. (Laughter.) When Proctor Knott made a humorous speech in congress in 1871, there was no dot on the map to show where Duluth was. Real estate men have been using it as an advertisement for years. Now my opponents are afraid I shall go down to Washington and make another speech that they can use for an advertisement. I will do anything I can to advertise Duluth when I go to congress. They also say that because Pine City is thirteen miles below Hinckley that I shall work more for the Twin Cities than for Duluth. I shall help any part of the state that I am able to do, and then when Duluth wants anything I shall go to those fellows and say, 'I have helped you out right along, and now, you old stiffs, I want you to do a little for me.'

"Duluth is a world city, because of its situation on a great highway of the world's commerce. No matter who goes to congress, Duluth's harbor will be cared for, because the Buffalo harbor is useless without the Duluth harbor. A man wouldn't build a fine ship at Buffalo if that was the only harbor on the lakes. It is to his interests to have a good harbor at Duluth.

"I shall make it my aim to represent the Eighth district of Minnesota; not one county alone, whether it is St. Louis, Anoka or Pine, but the whole district. There will be no one man at Duluth to dictate the policies of the district. I appeal my case from the federal office holders to the firesides of Duluth.

"They say I voted for Grover Cleveland way back in the dim mists of time. What are you going to do about it? All of them have voted for a Democrat since. They voted for a Democrat ten years ago, and so did I. They have been holding office for five years, and I have been doing pennance for ten years.

"They say I am emotional, that I would run off on a tangent, that I would not vote with the president. Yet they are praising the whole seven congressmen of the state for doing just this thing. They are afraid I will be an insurgent. I will not be one. I shall be with Theodore Roosevelt, for his heart is right. When I know what you people want, I will do it; when I do not, I shall vote with the president, and be proud to do so. If I am emotional, why did I not go off on a tangent during the railway strike of 1894, when I was United States marshal? If I could get along all right with a lot of strikers, I could get along with a lot of congressmen. Good fellowship is better than genius for getting what the people of Duluth want. I shall get acquainted with the congressmen, help them out when I can, get them under obligations to me, and then when Duluth wants anything I'll go to them and make them cash in their obligations.

"They say I am not a Duluth man, but I lived here sixteen years ago and formed friendships that are yet unbroken. A man cannot go out in half an hour and form 16-year-old friendships.

"They say I am going to Washington to get advertisement that will help me in the lecture business, so they want to send somebody that can't lecure. I am not going down for advertising purposes, but to help the district.

"They say I have a wavering and wabbling mind because I resigned an office once. There is an elderly gentleman in Duluth that recently resigned an office, and by the same argument they make him out to be of a wavering and wabbling mind.

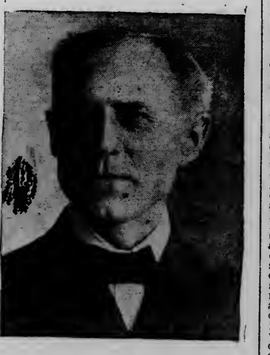

"They attack me on the tariff question, and say that I am for free wheat, free ore and free lumber. I believe in a tariff that will cover the difference in the cost of production between our country and competing countries, no matter whether it be high or low. If it is higher it forms trusts and if it is lower it discriminates against American labor. I never advocated free ore or free lumber. The iron companies say they don't care about the ore tariff, but I never advocated its abolition. I never stood for free lumber, for I think the tariff should be maintained, and never removed unless it be to get a concession that will be of equal advantage to us. The tariff should not be a political issue, as it disturbs business. Any change should be made gradually, through reciprocity treaties. I favor free wheat because it would help Duluth and hurt nobody in this country. The price of wheat is fixed in the world's markets, and it will be the same whether it goes by way of Montreal or Buffalo.

"In conclusion, let me ask you to go to the primaries next Tuesday. The primary law puts the control in the hands of the people if they want to use it. If you want to you can select all of the candidates. Choose the best candidates in all lines. There will be important legislation in St. Paul next winter, so the choice of legislative candidates is important. After next Tuesday, go out and help elect them. Go out to vote for me, also. I appeal from the federal officers to the firesides again. I leave my case with the people, believing that I shall carry every county in the district and be elected 2 to 1."

E. R. Jefferson,

Candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator in the Fiftieth district, has been a consistent and life-long Republican, and his record as a citizen and officeholder is an open book to the voters of the city and county. He came to Minnesota in 1851, locating at St. Anthony, before Minneapolis was born. He enlisted in May, 1861, in E company, First Minnesota Volunteer infantry, one of the most famous regiments of the civil war, at the age of 16. He passed through all of the engagements of the Army of the Potomac, from Bull Run to Gettysburg, numbering about seventeen and at the latter fight received four wounds and lost a leg. He was discharged in December, 1863, and became apprenticed to the harness trade in April, 1864. After serving three years at this he established the first harness shop in Duluth in 1869, which he conducted for five years. He was county commissioner for four yeara, from 1888, and the reorganization of county affairs upon a basis consistent with the county's growth was due to his efforts. He served for two years in the city council, where his record is known to everybody. He had as much to do with the settlement of the water questions and others matters that arose during this period as any other man in the city of Duluth. He has lived continuously in Duluth since he came here; all he owns is located here, and he has always been a strong factor in the upbuilding of the city, having given employment to many men. If elected he can be expected to give to the duties of senator the same scrupulous attention that he has given to the local offices he has held.

Andrew Johnson,

Republican Candidate for County Auditor.

Mr. Johnson feels very confident that he will get the nomination next Tuesday. He has canvassed the entire county from end to end, and everywhere found much stronger support than he actually expected. The voters have evidently made up their mind that a change in the auditor's office is desirable.

DR. MITCHELL'S

Treatment the Greatest Boon to the Sick and Suffering--He Performs Seeming Miracles.

Many of the best citizens of Duluth and Superior have been startled by Dr. Mitchell's wonderful magnetic power to cure disease. Even in this skeptical age people are made to believe in this man's healing power when he effects a cure after all other means have failed. At his office may be seen the paralytic, the palsied, the consumptive, the dyspeptic, among the deaf, blind and rheumatic. There is no kind or variety of disease which is not cured by this magnetic healer, every name, nature and condition of disease that all other physicians have given up as incurable seem as but play for he is so strongly endowed by nature with such magnetic power that he is able to break up congestions and cure the most obstinate of chronic diseases, sometimes with but a single treatment.

A case that attracted much attention last week was that of a lady who was afflicted with a painful goitre, the size and shape of a large orange. After a few moments' manipulation they saw the goitre grow smaller and smaller, and finally leave no trace but a little loose flesh. When the two ladies that were with her realized what a seeming miracle had been worked before their very eyes, it is needless to say that they left the healer's office filled with admiration for the man who was using his great gift for the benefit of suffering humanity. It was a marvelous scene, worth going miles to see.

Mr. Henlon was another interesting subject, who had been crippled up with rheumatism and paralysis. He had not raised his hands above his head for ten years, and was unable to walk without the use of two canes. He told a reporter that he had taken ten treatments in July, and was cured, and had not felt any pain since.

A marvelous case of deafness was that of Mrs. Balmer, who had been deaf for twenty years, and in ten minutes' treatment distinctly heard the ticking of a small watch. She says this cure is worth a thousand dollars to her. Cures like these are an everyday occurrence. People who have been suffering for years should not neglect the opportunity for being cured. No such man has ever been in Duluth. The doctor came to Duluth with the highest recommendations as to his skill as a healer, and we believe that with his system, and with the knowledge we are led to understand he possesses, he will eventually build an institution in our city that will be the pride and admiration of our citizens. DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE IN the conditions of a mortgage executed and delivered by A. E. Humphreys, mortgagor, to Alexander N. Holm, mortgagee, dated the fourth day of March, 1892, with a power of sale therein contained, recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota on the fifth day of March, 1892, at 10:30 o'clock a. m., in book 72 of Mortgages, on Page 633; Said mortgage was given to secure the payment of two principal notes, each for $3,000.00, one thereof due in one year and the other in two years from said date of said mortgage, each thereof bearing interest at eight per cent per annum, payable annually; and said default consists in the failure to pay the principal of said last named note, together with all interest thereon, excepting for one year, and said default has continued to the date of this notice and does now continue.

After the execution and delivery of said notes and mortgage, as aforesaid, said notes were endorsed and delivered to Charles F. Leland, and a judgment was entered and docketed in favor of said Charles F. Leland and against said A. E. Humphreys on the seventh day of July, 1894, in the sum of $5,549.34, in an action at law then pending in the District Court in the Eleventh Judicial District in St. Louis county, Minnesota, upon said indebtedness represented by said last-named note; An execution was duly issued upon said judgment on the 22nd day of May, 1895, unto the sheriff of said county; said execution was renewed July 20th, 1895, for sixty days, and said execution was, on the 2nd day of August, 1895, returned by said sheriff wholly unsatisfied; An execution was duly issued upon said judgment on the 26th day of January, 1896, unto said sheriff, and said execution was returned by said sheriff satisfied to the amount of $34.50, and no more, and the sum of $3,130.54, principal and interest, is now claimed to be due and is due upon said judgment. On the 31st day of December, 1901, said mortgage was duly assigned by the said Alexander N. Holm unto the said Charles F. Leland, by an instrument in writing, dated that day, which said instrument was on the 8th day of January, 1902, at 3:30 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for said county and state in book 156 of mortgages, at page 281.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage to-wit: The northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section thirty-four, township fifty-nine, north of range eighteen west, containing forty acres more or less, according to the United States government survey thereof, said premises lying and being in St. Louis county, state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the sheriff of said county at the front door of the court house in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the 12th day of October, 1902, at 10 o'clock a. m., on that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said mortgage debt and interest and $100 attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year after the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated, August 29, 1902.

DECLINE IN WHEAT

Wheat Started Slightly Off and Sold Down Further.

Cables Were Lower and the Receipts Somewhat Improved.

Flax Trading Very Active and the Market Weak.

Duluth Board of Trade, Sept. 13.—The wheat market started out rather weak and slightly lower and ruled easy throughout the session, making a further decline before the close. The cables were lower, the receipts showed some improvement, and the situation as to the weather was promising, warm weather being predicted.

Receipts of wheat at Duluth and Minneapolis, 780 cars, and at Chicago, 182, a total of 962, against 572 last week.

The Liverpool market was inactive and closed ¼@½d lower.

Primary receipts of wheat were 1,150,000 bus, last year, holiday. Shipments, 579,000 bus. Clearances of wheat and flour aggregated 482,000 bus.

Corn was weak in the Chicago market, September declining 1c and December 5c. December oats fell off 5c. Primary receipts of corn were 245,000 bus; shipments 171,00 bus; clearances, 11,000 bus.

There was no export business today, the foreigners keeping out of the market. About 75,000 bus was sold c.i.f. to Buffalo.

Trading in the Duluth market was fairly active with the December option generally stronger than September, losing 5c@c to 7c for September. December opened 1c off at 69c, sold at 69¼c, at 9:33, dropped off to 68¾c at 10:10, rallied to 69¼c at 11:10, and closed at 69¼@½c, a decline of ¾@1c. Chicago fell ¾@¾c and Minneapolis ¾c.

Receipts were larger and cash business was good, sales aggregating 200,000 bus. Prices continue at 1c over September for No. 1 northern wheat in store. September prices for to arrive, 2c under No. 1 for No. 2 and 4c under No. 3.

Flax was very active and the price weak. September sold at $1.35, yesterday's closing price, after the opening, but slumped to $1.32 and closed there at a decline of 3c. October was firm at $1.32 after opening, but declined to $1.29½ and closed there. November declined 1½c, cash flax was off 4½c and flax to arrive 2½c. Cables joined in the decline to the extent of ½c.

Following were the closing prices on the Duluth board:

Wheat—Cash No. 1 hard, 70½c; No. 1 northern, 69c; No. 2 northern, 67c; No. 3 spring, 65c; to arrive, No. 1 hard, 69½c; No. 1 northern, 68c; September, 68c; December, 65¾@¼c; macaroni No. 1, 64c; No. 2, 61c. Oats, to arrive, 30½c; on track, 30½c; September, 30½c; December, 29½c. Rye, September, 48½c; to arrive, 48¼c; on track, 48½c. Barley, 42@60c. Flax, cash, $1.32½; to arrive, $1.32½; on track, $1.32½; September, $1.32; October, $1.29½; November, $1.29.

Cars inspected—Wheat, 434; last year, 565; oats, 15; rye, 13; barley, 14; flax, 70.

Receipts—Wheat, 283,339; oats, 25,137; rye, 9991; barley, 37,274; flax, 43,224.

Shipments—Wheat, 198,856; oats, 1500.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Crowd In The Corn Pit Inclined To Sell.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—The grain trade was somewhat quiet and at fairly steady figures. Frosts were reported again over much the same country where they were noted yesterday and were of killing force as far south as Sioux City, Ia. Warmer weather, however, was predicted and inasmuch as a week of fair weather will be needed before damage can be observed well, the crowd in the corn pit was inclined toward the selling side. There was fair support, however, and after a slight recession from a fairly firm start, prices held close to last night's final figures. September corn was unchanged at the opening at 69c, dipped to 68¾c, and on the scarcity of contract stuff advanced to 69¾c. December opened ½@¾c higher to a shade lower, at 43½c to 43¾c, dipped to 43⅜c and held steady at 43⅝@44c. Receipts were fairly liberal at 256 cars, 24 of contract grade. Cables were steady.

After the early steadiness heavy selling pressure developed in corn, little or no support was at hand and September fell to a weak close, 1c down at 59c. December broke and closed weak ¾@⅞c lower at 43¼c.

Wheat cables were lower and receipts were somewhat improved. The situation in the Northwest also was very weak, and almost on a basis for shipping stuff to Chicago. Trade was not heavy, the weather situation was promising and the farther deliveries eased a trifle. September opened ⅜c up, at 73½c, sold back to 73c, and rallied to a steady position at 73⅞@¾c. December started a shade up to a shade down, at 69¼c to 69c, fell off to 68¾c, and rallied a trifle. Local receipts were 182 cars, none of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 780 cars, making a total for the three points of 962 cars against 572 last week.

Wheat felt the need of support and was sold liberally. September dropped to 72¼c but rallied somewhat. The close, however, was weak, ¾c down at 72¾c. December closed at its low point, ⅞@¾c down at 68¾c.

Oats were quiet at the opening, with trade largely of a scalping nature. The crowd was inclined to the buying side on the poor quality of receipts, but prices only held their own early. December started unchanged to a shade down, at 31½c to 31⅝@⅜c, eased to 31¾c, and rallied to 31⅝c. Receipts were 184 cars, 12 of contract grade.

Provisions were fairly active early and felt the influence of higher hog market at the yards. The outside soon sold for profits, however, and prices receded from their firm position all along the line. January pork started unchanged at $15.22½, gained 2½ and sold off to $15.17½. January lard starter 2½c down, at $8.60 and dropped to 8.55 and January ribs 2½ up, at $8, and sold to $7.92½.

Close: Wheat—September, 72¾c; December, 68¾c; May, 69½@⅝c. Corn—September, 59c; October, 56c; December, 43⅝@¼c; May, 40¼c. Oats—September, 24¾c, old 25¼c; December, 31¼c; old, 29¼@⅜c; May, 31⅝@½c; year old, 30¼c. Pork—September, $16.67½; October, $16.85; January, $15.12½; May, $14.32½. Lard—September, $11.00; October, $9.85; December, $8.85; January, $8.60. Short Ribs—September, $10.90; October, $10.22½; January, $7.97½. Flax—Cash, N. W., $1.38; S. W., $1.38; October, $1.31. Rye—September, 49½c; December, 48c. Timothy—September, $4.45. Clover—October, $8.90. Barley—Cash, 38@63c. Cash wheat, 2 red, 72¼@73½; 3 red, 69½@70½; 1 hard winter, 65@68½c; 1 northern spring, 75½c; 2 northern spring, 70½@75½c; 3 spring, 67@75c. Corn—66¾ @67c; 3, 60½@44c. Oats—2, 28½@29c; 3, 27@29c.

GRAIN GOSSIP.

Logan & Bryan, Chicago: Wheat—The market was weak and lower. The unfriendly action of cables to bullish efforts here the past few days is the principal cause, but the market has had an advancing tendency for several days and some reaction is due. The trade has about concluded that the Northwest movement will fall below last year, at least until the Manitoba wheat begins to move, which will be about the last proximo. Business in cash wheat everywhere today was light. The outlook still continues in our judgment rather dull, and favorable to scalping operations only. Estimated cars, 225.

Corn—Liverpool was unchanged to ¼d higher. There were again heavy frosts in Iowa, and frosts were general in this state as far south as the Ohio river. The trade affects the belief, however, that the frosts have been unimportant and have done little damage. We are inclined to disagree with this conclusion. The weather through the Northwest was generally fair. A large percentage of the crop over the Southwest is far from being out of the way of danger. We are inclined to anticipate therefore that the reports from those sections the coming week are likely to indicate considerable damage, if not a very serious one. May corn at 40 cents is, we think a very good purchase and we think it should be bought. The cash situation is slow and attracts but little attention. Estimated cars, 265.

Oats—The market is quiet. There is a good cash demand and the movement is free and some accumulation of stocks will gradually go on. We are inclined to think 30 cent oats, however, will not prove to be high prices and on the soft spots think December and May oats may be bought for moderate profits at least.

Broomhall estimates the world's shipments Monday next about 11,240,000 bus of wheat, of which Russia will take about 10,400,000 bus. He predicts that there will possibly be some decrease in the quantity of breadstuffs on passage. Arrivals of breadstuffs into the United Kingdom will be about 5,000,200 bus, against 4,800,000 bus previous week and 3,528,000 bus the corresponding year.

MARKET REPORT.

Received over private wire of B. E. Baker, grain and stock broker, 507 Board of Trade, Duluth, Minn.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—The wheat market ruled weak and heavy all day under free realizing by longs, owing to discouraging advices from abroad, very poor cash demand and increased receipts at the northwest. Close was heavy at the lowest point of the day. Liverpool reported their market as weak, ¾c to ½c lower for the day. Continental markets were also much lower. Weather abroad generally favorable. Spring wheat in the northwest is beginning to move freely, and we look for good rest next week, and if the demand is not increased materially prices are likely to work some lower. Cars Monday, 235.

Although there was frost in the corn belt last night, still it was not as severe as the night before, though quiet sufficient to do further damage; market, however, ruled lower on selling by small holders as well as heavy selling by local bears. Foreign markets were steady; Liverpool closed ¾c higher for the day. Country offerings were light. Cash demand was fairly good. Best posted people are of the opinion that the crop has been materially cut down. Predictions are for warmer weather after today, and this, probably had something to do with today's break. We feel very friendly to December and May corn and advise purchases on all weak spots. Cars Monday, 265 cars.

There was a fairly large trade in oats today and the market generally ruled weak in sympathy with wheat and corn. Country offerings were light. Cash demand was rather quiet. We see nothing in the situation to change our opinion and still advise purchases of December and May on all weak spots. Cars Monday, 225.

Provisions opened firm on very strong hogs but lower grain caused desire to realize profits by outsiders and the market ruled easier and closed with loss for the day on pork and practically unchanged for the nearby options of lard and ribs, but there was no opposition and the trade was perfectly indifferent to the course of the September product, as it is well known that it is for the benefit of the cash trade. Shorts have covered freely in far futures and we believe outsiders and pit traders are long considerable product. We look for liberal receipts of hogs. Hogs Monday, 27,000; next week, 115,000.

MIDWAY HORSE MARKET.

Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul.—Barrett & Zimmerman report that the market opened with liberal receipts of heavy horses, most of which having been purchased on the strength of the strong demand for logging horses from various points of Minnesota and Wisconsin. The shippers, however, have found it difficult to buy horses in the country, as the prices have advanced faster in the horse-breeding district than they have on the open market, hence several consignments were sold at losses to shippers. and that he (Mitchell) had nothing to propose to him. There was a rumor in circulation that Governor Stone wanted the miners to return to work and have the operators adjust the differences afterward. If such a proposition was made it would be rejected by the mine workers. It can be authoritatively stated that the men will not return to work on those conditions. Attorney General Elkin and Mr. Widener were invited to the conference. It was given out that Mr. Elkin could not get here in time, but no reason was assigned for Mr. Widener's absence.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 13.—Tired and worn out after his flying trip to Philadelphia and Harrisburg, President Mitchell returned to Wilkesbarre this morning. He said the interview with Governor Stone was a pleasant one. The strike situation was discussed in all its phases, but the governor had no proposition to make for a settlement of the strike. Asked whether he thought the governor would call an extra session of the legislature, Mr. Mitchell said he did not know.

Expect a Sweep.

The campaign for the namination of Charles d'Autremont for congress on the Democratic ticket is apparently meeting with much favor in the ranks of the party, and his friends say that the movement begun a few days ago in his behalf will gain until it sweeps the primaries next Tuesday by a decisive vote.

STRENGTH IN STOCKS

Caused By Secretary Shaw's Aid For Money Market.

Bank Statement Made Better Showing Than Was Expected.

Good Tone In Final Dealings and the Close Strong.

New York, Sept. 13.—Despite the higher level for prices in the London market for Americans, the local stock market showed irregularity on active dealings. Fluctuations, however, were slight either way with pressure shown against St. Paul, Missouri Pacific and New York Central. Slight gains were made by Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Atchison and Reading.

Prices generally were inclined to droop after the opening, but as there was no decided pressure at any point the bulls were encouraged to bid up the list and ultimately lifted St. Paul, Atchison, Baltimore & Ohio, Missouri Pacific, Sugar and other important stocks fractionally above yesterday's close. Business, however, was very small, operators preferring to reduce transactions until the publication of the bank statement.

The announcement of the relief measures to the money market by Secretary Shaw, strengthened prices all around, but little interest was manifested in the trading pending he publication of the bank statement. The showing of the expectations in the cash loss, but there was barely $700,000 surplus reserve saved by large reductions in loans and deposits. The bank statement was generally better than what had been looked for and caused a decidedly stronger tone in the final dealings. The closing was active and strong.

STOCK GOSSIP.

Waldorf to Edwards, Wood & Co.: Despite the rather sharp declines caused by the high money rate, commission houses agree that the stock market acts well, and say they can explain its strength only on the ground that the bull interests know of coming relief through government action or importation of gold. Otherwise, these observers admit that the market today would have been completely demoralized, for the banks have lost this week to the extent of an almost unprecedented amount of cash, and unless loans show a heavy reduction, it looks as if the surplus reserve of banks in today's bank statement would be practically wiped out. There is talk tonight of an important announcement that will put the monetary situation in a new light and cause a quick rebound in prices and ranging from current comment if stocks are weak tomorrow there will be the best kind of buying, particularly in U. S. S. shares, the grangers and the soft coalers. There has been free selling of all these stocks by bears and weak-kneed bulls on tight money and frost in the northern part of the corn belt. So any good news as to the financial situation would, it is believed, cause a stampede among shorts and small sold out speculators anvious to recoup their holdings.

Trustworthy reports from railroad sources are to the effect that while the cold weather has undoubtedly cut down the yield of corn in some locations the crop will nevertheless be a record breaker. There is a shrewd suspicion that some Western speculators bearish on stocks and bullish on grain are resonsible for much of the bad news received today about crop damage. There are persistent reports that the basis for settlement of work on the old conditions, but will soon after receive a moderate advance in wages to be voluntarily made by operators. This will be practically defeat for the mine workers, the coal men say, because it will not be mean recognition of the union.

Ridgley to W. H. Laidley & Co.: The stock market felt the strain yesterday of 20 per cent money and as insiders temporarily withdrew support from most of their specialities prices readily yielded on liquidation by the frightened public. The bears also helped matters along by short sales. Predictions were freely made that today's bank statement would show the surplus reserve to be entirely wiped out and actual stringency in the money market next week. As a matter of fact the high rates will speedily attract money to New York, both from home and abroad. Buy on a scale down if you are in a position to do so.

* * *

F. M. Dick to Paine, Webber & Co.: The market has been generally firmer today in response to the Washington news that the government will anticipate interest on government bonds and increase government deposits. The bank statement was about as expected and the surplus reserve was practically wiped out, but short covering and poor support appeared after the publication of this, and the market closed strong in tone at fractional advances from last night's final prices. There was no news of importance except what concerned the money market. Despite the treasury assurance the outlook is for higher rates next week.

* * *

New York to Harris, Gates & Co.: In the first annual report issued by the American Locomotive company, net earnings are shown at $2,107,177. President Callway points out that the American Locomotive company has no funded debt, and under terms of the articles of incorporation is protected from mortgaging its property except by purchase money, without the assent of the holders of two-thirds in value of the preferred stock.

* * *

Walker to Paine, Webber & Co.: The market today opened barely steady and the transactions were light, awaiting the publication of the bank statement. Reports of anticipation of October interest by treasury had good effect, and the tone of the market was better. The bank statement was a little better than expected and before the close prices braced up and feeling was more hopeful for relief for money market. The course of the market depends on this.

COPPER GOSSIP.

Boston to Paine, Webber & Co.—The market is still unsettled because of tightness of money. Coppers continue dull today and were among the firmest stocks on the list. The opinion is growing here that insiders are the principal buyers of Amalgamated and other active coppers and that as soon as the money situation is straightened out copper stocks will have a good advance. We strongly favor the long side of all good coppers.

* * *

Hayden, Stone & Co. to W. H. Laidley & Co.—The market is very dull and stocks inactive. Daily-West is weak, offered at 49½ but U. S. Mining is strong at 21¾. There seems to be a lack of buying orders and stocks which were bid up earlier in the week were forced down on small sales.

* * *

Houghton to Paine, Webber & Co.—Mohawk shafts Nos. 1, 2 and 3 are now connected with the levels from the first to sixth inclusive. Connections between Nos. 3 and 4 shafts are being rapidly made and aggregate mien openings are now nearly four miles. The Mohawk vein is operated at all shafts except the sixth, nor h of No. 1 shaft. The majority of the new drifts are constantly in good ground. It is the conservative opinion that the Mohawk mineral yield will excel that of Wolverine and promise more cheaply when the sopes are fully opened.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, Sept. 13.—The cotton market opened easy with prices 2 to 5 points lower under disappointing cables, heavy receipts, forecasts for warmer weather in the South and failure of last night's frost prediction to materialize. The first wave of liquidation carried January off to 8.35, and other options in accordance. Fort Smith, Ark., reported light frosts there and temperatures in the northwestern section of the belt were dangerously low. The fact that the forecast by the government indicated fair and warmer weather for tonight and tomorrow created a confident feeling among the bears and disheartened those traders who had gone long last night at the tape, in anticipation of a scare in Liverpool and New York this morning on general frost in the Western belt. Following the call the market steadied up a few points and during the balance of the early session was inclined to resist bear pressure. Wall street and the commission houses bought the January option. Europe sold January and bought March. The South and West operated in a small way on both sides of the account. The Houston estimate for tomorrow's receipts is based under the actual receipts of the same day last week and last year, contrary to general expectations and helped to rally the market. The weekly trade reviews were summed up as favorable to large consumption of cotton goods this fall and winter and the Southern spot markets held generally steady to firm on prices. Cotton futures closed quiet: September, 8.43; October, 8.42; November and December, 8.37; January, 8.38; February, 8.22; March, 8.21; April, 8.22; May, March, 8.25. Spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 8⅞; middling gulf, 8¾; sales, 206 bales.

BANK STATEMENT.

New York, Sept. 13.—The weekly statement of averages of the associated banks shows: Loans, $899,498,900; decrease, $6,-875,900. Deposits, $908,769,300; decrease, $14,-628,900. Circulation, $34,267,500; increase, $102,500; legal tenders, $72,102,100; decrease, $1,220,700. Specie, $155,775,300; decrease, $5,-818,500. Reserve, $227,967,400; decrease, $7,-039,200. Reserve required, $227,192,325; decrease, $3,657,225. Surplus, $775,075; decrease, $3,381,975.

NEW YORK MONEY

New York, Sept. 13.—Close: Money on call, at 6@10 per cent, closed offered at 6; prime mercantile paper, 5½@5¾ per cent; sterling exchange easier, with actual business in banker's bills, at $4.85.50@4.82.75 for demand and at $4.82.50@4.82.75 for 60-day bills; posted rates, $4.84@4.84½, and $4.86½@4.87; commercial bills, $4.81.75@4.82.25; bar silver, 51¾c; Mexican dollars, 40½c. Government bonds, easier; state bonds, inactive; railroad bonds, irregular.

GRIFFIN KNOCKED OUT.

Los Angeles, Sept. 13.—Big Fred Russell knocked out Hank Griffin, late of Bob Fitzsimmons' camp, in the fourteenth round last night. Hank failed to display any of the new tricks he claimed to have imbibed in Fitzsimmons' company.

NEWS OF THE LAKES

G. A. Tomlinson Contracts For Another Freighter.

Is For Zenith Transportation Company, New Corporation.

The Schooner Experiment Is Ashore Near Devil's Hole.

James C. Wallace, general manager of the American Shipbuilding company, this morning closed a contract by which his company is to build a handsome new freighter this winter for the Zenith Steamship company, a new transportation concern ,that is now being incorporated, with G. A. Tomlinson, of this city, at its head. This is the third company lately formed with Mr. Tomlinson as president.

The new boat is to be 416 feet keel, 50 feet beam and 28 feet deep, with 12 hatches and 24-foot centers. She is to be built on a new plan of construction, a design considered by its authors as the best yet devised for rapid loading and unloading of vessels at the dock. It leaves practically a clear hold by doing away with stanchions, for the operation of the clam-shell buckets that are coming into use so generally. It is also provided with the latest appliances for the rapid and safe handling of the ship, including windlass, steering gear and engines for the handling of wire mooring lines, all operated by steam. The wire mooring lines are extensively used by the latest practice in the ocean service. The steamer will be lighted throughout by electricity, making night operations as easy as day work.

The motive power consists of triple expansion engines, 20-33¼-55 by 45 stroke. There will be two Scotch type boilers, each 13 feet and 2 inches in diameter and 11 feet and 6 inches long. The vessel will be allowed 170 pounds of steam. She will be equipped with the Ellis & Eaves induced draft system, a new scheme on the lakes, though it is extensively used in the ocean service.

The vessel will cost $285,000, and it will be ready for use about July 15, 1903. It will be built at the Globe plant of the American Shipbuilding company at Cleveland.

WEEK IN DULUTH REALTY CIRCLES

Real Estate Dealers Report Immensely Improved Business---Fine Indications For Much Activity During the Winter.

There has been quite a stir in Duluth realty during the past week and dealers generally are reporting a splendid business. Several real estate men claim that they have had more business this week than during the six preceding weeks. Predictions are freely made that the fall movement has opened with a rush and that from now on there is no reason to think that matters will be dull. Real estate men have been claiming that the coming winter would witness a far better movement of realty than the summer season and they say that conditions at the present time warrant them in expressing renewed confidence in their predictions. Most of the dealers are inclined to be on the conservative side of the market, but there are a few who go even further and who predict that Duluth realty is on the verge of a boom.

"Conditions are very much different now than they have been in years," said a real estate man yesterday, after predicting a better movement this winter than at any time during the past season.

"There was a time when dealers had to hunt for buyers. Now, it is no trouble to find buyers. People are looking for property and it is a difficult matter to find property that will suit. There are purchasers for anything that is cheap, but owners of Duluth realty have got it in their heads that property here is worth more than it was last spring and the purchasers are finding that they must come up to prices. So far as I can see there is no weakening and the inclination is more for holding than for selling. It is not a question now of buying, but of delivering."

An inquiry at the various real estate offices in the city shows that there has been a large amount of property sold during the past ten days on approval the owners residing out of town. Sales have been made of some valuable properties, which cannot be closed up until approved by the owners. Several important deals are said to be pending on this basis and which may be closed or rejected by the first of the coming week. This is taken to be a straw to show the direction the wind is blowing relative to local conditions this fall, for there was a time when the local real estate dealers were advised by clients to dispose of holdings at stated prices and close the sale as quickly as possible.

• • •

T. W. Wahl reports a sale pending involving about $11,000, the earnest money having been paid down. He says that he has submitted several offers this week ranging from $8000 to $10,000 and is awaiting the approval of the owners.

"The fall season," says Mr. Wahl, "is starting in fine and there is a big demand for improved property."

Richardson & Day are about closing up some important deals in Duluth realty and report a better business during the past ten days than during any part of the summer season.

• • •

J. D. Howard & Co. report a brisk business this week. The firm has sold the East End livery barn property, owned by Louis Houchleau, to H. L. Billson, for $6500. Several other deals are pending which are expected to be closed within the next few days.

• • •

T. C. Vaughn also reports a good trade during the week and a large inquiry. Among his sales were three West End properties. Mr. Vaughn has also submitted an offer of $7500 for a centrally located property.

• • •

The Lakeside Land company reports a number of new contracts closed this week for new houses to be built at Lakeside next spring. Mr. Greenfield says that there will be a great building activity in that end of the city next season.

• • •

Mr. Lyon, of William Prindle & Co., says the market has been very satisfactory during the past week. The company has sold a lot on Fourth street and Fourth avenue west to Eastern parties for $2350; a house and lot on Seventh street and Ninth avenue east for $950; a residence property on Sixth street and Ninth avenue east for $1200. Earnest money has been paid on several other good properties.

• • •

J. J. Wagenstein is getting out plans for a new modern brick bakery building to be erected on First street, between First and Second avenues east, for Gray Bros. The structure will be three stories high and will run back to the alley between First street and Superior street. It is expected that work on the new building will begin within the next ten days. The new bakery will cost between $8000 and $10,000.

• • •

A. C. Volk & Co. have sold the property at Nos. 14 and 16 East Second street to H. H. Phelps for $7500. The company is still working on its New Duluth propositions and the outlook is very promising.

Rental agencies all over the city are being flooded with inquiries for houses and flats to rent, and scores of people are being turned down every day. One local firm that has in the past been well supplied with places for rent reported yesterday that the only thing it had left to offer was a house pretty well up on the hill. An instance to show the condition of affairs was related yesterday by a real estate man who was cognizant with the facts:

"Last Saturday evening a man who wished to rent part of his house inserted an advertisement in the columns of The Herald. That evening, almost before the ink was dry on the paper, nine people visited his place with inquiries. Sunday there were fourteen callers, while as many more who had objections to business transactions on the Sabbath walked by the house. Monday there were thirty callers. No count was kept of the number of people that called after Monday, but there were a large number of them."

Complaint is being made that of all the building operations now going on and of those planned, the greater part of them are for private residences or for business purposes. People who are compelled to rent houses claim that there is not enough building going on in the class of houses for rent as there should be, and that, with all the building that has been going on all summer the conditions for the renters who are without homes is not very much improved.

• • •

Plans are under way for some very substantial residences to be erected on Park Point this fall and winter for use the whole year, instead of just during the summer season. People owning summer cottages that have been finished off in a manner to withstand cold weather report that there are plenty of people anxious to take the cottages for the winter.

• • •

Nov. 1 is said to be the date set for the completion of the Wolvin building at the corner of First street and Third avenue west. It is understood that the offices of the United States Steel company's inerests will be moved into the building between Nov. 15 and Dec. 1.

• • •

West Duluth rental agents report a demand for houses in that part of the city which they are unable to meet. Never before in years was there such a scarcity of rentable houses in the western part of the city.

• • •

J. J. Frey, of West Duluth, has sold to R. F. Belleperche a lot on Central avenue, near the car works, for $300. M. Kremerer has purchased through Mr. Frey a house and lot on Fifty-first avenue west. He also bought a house on Sixty-first avenue west, which is to be moved on his property on Fifty-seventh avenue west.

• • •

Z. T. Mullin has purchased from S. D. Flagg, a residence property in block 5, Portland division for $3150.

• • •

The Lakeside Land company made several trades this week, including lots in London addition, belonging to Charlotte Crosby, and lots in Morris Park division, belonging to Theodore Hollister.

• • •

L. E. Fish has purchased from Netta Olson a residence property on East Fifth street, First division, Duluth proper, for $2250.

• • •

Transfers are being recorded this week of the dock property in Oneota in connection with the purchase of the Red Cliff Lumber company's purchase of the Duncan, Brewer & Co.'s sawmill plant.

• • •

George Crosby & Co. report a flattering business in West End and East End properties this week, some of the details of which are not yet closed up, but will be by the first of the coming week.

• • •

Snyder, Manley & Buck report a very busy week. Among the sales were the following:

The Sterling addition, comprising ten acres of unimproved property, to Jonathan Rees, for $15,000; also block 8, Long View addition to Duluth, to the same party, for $6000. The owners were represented by Richardson & Day.

Lots 7 and 8, block 8, Highland Park, for $1200.

Lots 1 and 2, New Endion division, for Peter Johnson, to A. E. Gilbert, for $1750.

Lot 11, block 43, Endion division, for a New York party, to A. C. Hubbell, for 9650.

No. 1318 East Second street, to Steve Stevenson, for $3000.

No. 12 Vernon street, to Ole Elgstrom, for $950.

A lot on East Fifth street, between Eleventh and Twelfth avenues east, to Mr. Oss, who will improve the property.

• • •

J. W. Sheridan has purchased the old Troy laundry property on East Superior street, the purchase price being in the neighborhood of $8000. The property is to be improved at once with a new brick, two-story building, which will be used for storage purposes by the Duluth Van and Storage company. It is said that the increased business has forced the company into larger quarters. The new building will be equipped in first-class shape for the purposes for which it will be used, the features being a special room for pianos and an all iron room, dust and moth proof, for carpets.

Meeting With Favor.

The friends of Charles d'Autremont are working for him tooth and nail, and they report that his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Eighth district is meeting with great favor, and that they can see no possible doubt of his nomination by a comfortable majority next Monday. They find his large acquaintance, his reputation as a vote-getter and his services to the party to be winning cards in the campaign for the nomination.

Winter Farming Scenes

CUTTING FLAX IN WINTER.

This view was taken at Stephen, Minn., on the 5th day of January. The field of flax which is being cut was practically given up for lost by the farmer owning it. He was unable to cut it in season for various reasons, but after he had finished all other work of the year, concluded to try and save this flax. He netted out of it eight bushels to the acre and realized better than $1.50 a bushel. The photograph from which the view was taken was not a perfect one, and the making of a cut was somewhat difficult. The snow can, however, be distinguished in the foreground. It was about six inches deep.

THRESHING IN MIDWINTER.

The threshing scene shown above is taken in midwinter in Northern Minnesota. The engine is housed so as to protect it from the cold, but the thresher works in the open air. The photographs of both the above scenes are to be sent to Chicago. They will open the eyes of the grain men there who believe that a crop not harvested when winter's icy blasts come is lost. They created considerable astonishment in Duluth, which is much closer to the scene where this kind of work can be done.

"Charlie" Schwab At His Home

What Old Neighbors Think of the Steel Magnate—A Romance That Almost Made Him Actor Instead of Ironmaster.

Loretto, Pa., Sept. 10.—In this little village on the crest of the Allegheny mountains, Charles M. Schwab is just plain Charlie Schwab. He is called that by almost all of Loretto's 300 inhabitants, who live their contemplative days in real Pennsylvania village style, scattered along a single-shaded street that runs the length of a ridge.

At one end of the mile-long thoroughfare stands a church—not the usual wooden structure of sleepy, slow-going village, but granite, large and imposing. By its side, sheltered in a grove, is a convent for Sisters of Mercy, a short distance away, down in the valley, the brick red building of St. Francis' college peeps from many trees.

There is no other than the granite church for miles around. There is no need of another. No person not a Catholic has ever been known to live in Loretto, founded 100 years ago by the famous prince-priest, Demetrius Gallitzin. It is noted in church history as the home of Catholicism in Western Pennsylvania. The people of Schwabs boyhood home have the one predominant trait of living together as one family, entirely under the spiritual and largely under the material guidance of Father Kittel, the Franciscan brothers at the college and the gentle sisters of the convent.

Their other characteristics are those of villagers whose only link with the outside world is the now famous stage line dunning twice a day to Cresson, the nearest railroad station, six miles away.

When Charles M. Schwab arrives here no one stands in awe of him, notwithstanding the fact that he has been the only man who ever went out from Loretto and amassed great wealth. When he drives along the street, "Paddy" Moran, the blocksmith, waves a forge-begrimmed hand at hi sboyhood companion, and yells, "Hello, Charlie, how be ye?" Mrs. Margaret McElhenny, Loretta's oldest inhabitant, greets him with, "Well, Charlie boy, I'm right glad you're back," when Mr. Schwab makes his usual call at the McElhenny home.

Even the whittlers in front of the store sing out, "Hello, Charlie!" and "Howdy, Charlie." Charlie Schwab replies in kind. Except for the big house on the hill, his life when he comes back here is almost as simple as in his boyhood days.

John Schwab, Charles' father, is the nabob of Loretto. He is the richest resident, its only retired merchant. All the rest have to keep right on trying to scrape in the pennies that are sufficient unto the day. Several years before his son had managed to creep very far up the ladder in Braddock, John, by means of a livery business and a farm, got together a comfortable sum for use in his declining years. John Schwab is 65 years old, but his six feet of spare body remain as straight as an arrow, and not a gray hair shows in his black hair and beard.

The mother is the opposite of her husband. She is typically German. Her figure is short and stout, her face round and full, and her complexion and hair fair. She is exceedingly affable. The villagers say that "Charlie takes after his mother in everything except his nose," which is prominent, like his father's.

The only Schwab who will say anything about "Charlie" is his uncle "Will," and he says little. "Will"—christened William C.—is a tall, thin, hollow-cheeked man who believes in taking life easy. He lives in a little frame house next to his grocery store. He says:

"What do I think of Charlie? Charlie has millions and no appetite. I have a little grocery store and a good appetite. I'd rather have the appetite."

Charlie Schwab didn't begin to make the acquaintance of his stanch friend "Paddy" Moran and other Loretta folk until he was 12 years old, when his father moved here from Williamsburg, bought out Loretto's only livery stable and ran the stage between Cresson and St. Augustine, carrying passengers and mail. Loretto is insistent on one point, and it is that Charlie didn't drive the stage nearly as much as contemporary chronicles represent. According to Loretto, he drove only when he felt like it or when his father was short of "hands." Charlie couldn't have driven regularly, or often, and attended school and college at the same time.

While he was at college Charlie learned to play the piano. Father Bohn, the college chaplain to the time of his death, was the boy's teacher. Charlie was an apt pupil and became passionately fond of the instrument. Several of the Sisters of Mercy at the convent also aided him in his musical studies, paying particular attention to his voice. Every Sunday between the time that he learned music and his going away he played the church organ and sang. At times he also assisted in serving mass.

Charlie Schwab's love of music almost kept him from being the president of the world's greatest trust.

"It was this way," one of his relatives says: "An old man of the name of Abernathy used to live here. When his first wife died no one around here would marry him, so he went away somewhere and got another. Mrs. Abernathy No. 2 had a sister who was on the stage, named Mary Russell. Mary was here on a visit one summer. Charlie got sweet on her and loafed around on old man Abernathy's doorstep all day and pretty nearly all night. Seems as if the girl was gone on Charlie, too. Well, to make a long story short, Charlie wanted to marry her. She told Charlie that the stage was the place for a nice fellow like him who could play so well and sing so sweetly.

"But all Charlie's people were dead set against Charlie's marrying an actress and going on the stage. Then the girl went away and after a little Charlie went down to Braddock."

This was Charlie Schwab's only love affair as long as he lived in Loretto.

He was champion quoit pitcher of Loretto. "Yes," says Paddy Moran, "he'd bring horses here to be shod and while waitin' he'd pitch quoits, and he'd wallop 'Bill'—that's his uncle, who keeps a grocery up the street a piece—and Joe Bengle and the other lads who loafed with Charlie. He could wallop me, too.

"But he couldn't shoe a horse. Once he wanted me to let him try. 'Paddy,' he says, 'I can shoe a horse.' 'Oh, go on, I says, 'you can't shoe yourself, your daddy has to do it for you.' I says. But Charlie thought he could, so I let him try. Well, the first whack he gave at a nail he hit the horse's leg and the horse kicked. Charlie picked himself up, 'Paddy, I believe you're right,' he says. And he never tried again, but he loafed around here often watching me and talkin' to me."

When he left college Charlie, still a boy, had no definite idea as to what he wanted to do. For a time he worked a little about the livery stable and loafed more. Then a cousin of his mother, Capt. M. F. McDonald, who ran a grocery store here, wanted to make a clerk of him. The boy was all ready to take the job when A. J. Spiegelmire came to Loretto on a visit. Mr. Spiegelmire had lived formerly at Loretto. He was part owner of a general merchandise store in Braddock. He offered Charlie a clerkship at $7 a week. Charlie accepted. But young Schwab wasn't cut out for a dry goods clerk. At the end of five months Mr. Spiegelmire's partner, W. A. McDevitt, informed him politely that as he couldn't tell calico from gingham after all these months, he'd better look for another job. Charlie "looked out" so well that up to date W. A. McDevitt has the distinction of being the only man who ever discharged him.

The INIMITABLE DOOLEY

He Offers a Few Suggestions On Swearing.

By Finley Peter Dunne.

"Did ye see what th' prisidint said to th' throlley man that bumped him?" asked Mr. Dooley.

"I did not," said Mr. Hennessy. "What was it?"

"I can't tell ye till I get mad," said Mr. Dooley. "Lave us go into ixicutive sission. Whisper. That was it. Ha, ha. He give it to him sthraight. A good, honest, American blankety-blank. Rale language like father used to make whin he hit his thumb with th' hammer. No 'With ye'er lave,' or 'By ye'er lave,' but a dacint 'damn ye, sir,' an' a little more f'r th' sake iv imphasis.

"What else wud ye have him do? 'Twas nayether th' time nor th' occason, as th' candydate said whin they ast him where he got his money, 'twas nayether th' time nor th' occasion f'r wurruds that wud be well rayceived at Chatauqua. A throlley car had pushed him an' diplomatic relations was suspinded. He was up on top iv a bus, hurryin' fr'm speech to speech an thinkin' what to say next. 'Th' thrusts,' says he to himself, 'are heejous monsthers built up be th' inlightened intherprise iv th' men that have done so much to advance pro-gress in our beloved counthry,' he says. 'On wan hand I wud stamp thim undher fut; on th' other hand not so fast. What I want more thin th' bustin' iv th' thrusts is to see me fellow counthrymen happy an' continted. I wudden't have thim hate th' thrusts. Th' haggard face, th' dhroppin' eye, th' pallid complexion that marks th' inimy iv thrusts is not to me taste. Lave us be merry about it an' jovial an' affectionate. Lave us laugh an' sing th' octopus out iv existence. Betther blue but smilin' lips anny time thin a full coal scuttle an' a sour heart. As Hogan says, a happy peasanthry is th' hope iv th' state. So lave us warble ti-lire-a-lay-.' Jus' thin Euclid Aristophanes Madden on th' quarmade be a patent incybator. They go with read in books sounds as though they was on his lips. He wint up forty, some say, fifty feet. Sicrety Cortilloo says three hundhred an' fifty. Annyhow whin he come down he landed nachrally on his feet.

"Now, Hinnissy, no matther what a man may've been wun minyit befure he was hit be a throlley car, a minyit afther 'twas so nachral. Most iv th' sayin's I've he's on'y a man. Th' throlley car plays no fav'rites. It bounces th' high an' th' low alike. It tears th' exalted fr'm their throne an' illivates th' lowly. So while th' prisidint got back to the earth he wasn't prisidint anny longer but Tiddy Rosenfelt, 180 pounds iv a man. An' he done accordingly. If it'd been Willum Jennings Bryan, he'd've 'ast th' throlley engineer was he a mimber iv th' union. If he cud show a wurrukin' card he was entitled to bump anny wan. At worst Willum Jennings Bryan wud've written an article about him in th' Commoner, or if he felt unusually vindicative, maybe he'd sind it to him through th' mails. Whin Sicrety Cortelloo came to fr'm a dhream that he'd jus' rayfused a favor to Sinitor Tillman, he hauled out a little note book an' got ready to take down something that cud be put on th' thranscarencies two years fr'm now something like—'No power on earth can stop American business entherprise.' But nawthin' that will ter deck iv th' throlley car give a twish: to his brake an' th' chief ixicutive iv th' nation wint up in th' air with th' song gin'rals an' what Grant said to Lee, an' what Cleveland said to himsilf. They're in th' books. But engraved in th' hearts iv his counthrymen is what Rosenfelt said to th' throlleyman. 'Twas good because iver be printed in th' first reader dhropped fr'm th' lips iv th' chief ixicutive. With two jumps he was in th' throlley man's hair an' spoke as follows—No, I won't say it again. But I'll tell ye this much, a barn boss that was standin' by an' heerd it, said he niver before regretted his father hadn't sint him to Harvard.

"We know what Wash'nton said to his a high hat an' a white tie. Ye can hear th' noise iv th' phonygraft. But this here jim emotion an' thought come sthraight f'm th' heart an' wint right to th' heart. That's wan reason I think a lot iv us likes Tiddy Rosenfelt that wudden't iver be suspicted iv votin' f'r him. Whin he does anny talkin'—which he sometimes does—he talks at th' man in front iv him. Ye don't hear him hollerin' at posterity. Posterity don't begin to vote till afther th' polls close. So whin he wishes to con-vey to th' throlley man th' sintiminte iv his bosom, he done it in wurruds suited to th' crisis, as Hogan wud say. They do say his remarks singed th' hair off th' head iv th' unforchnit man.

"I don't believe in profanity, Hinnissy—not as a reg'lar thing. But it has its uses an' its place. F'r instance, it is issintial to some thrades. No man can be a printer without swearin'. 'Tis impossible. I mind wanst I wint to a printin' office where a frind iv mine be th' name iv Donovan held cases an' I heerd th' foreman say: 'What gintleman is settin A thirty?' he says. 'I am,' says a pale gintleman with black whiskers who was atin' tobacco in th' rear iv th' room. 'Thin,' says th' foreman, 'ye blankety-blank blacksmith, get a move on ye. Dye think this is an annyooal incyclopejee?' he says. Ivrybody swore at ivrybody else. Th' little boys runnin' around with type prattled innocent pro-fanity, an'afther awhile th' iditor come in an' he swore more thin annybody else. But 'twas aisy to see he'd not larned th' thrade iv printer. He swore with th' enthusyasm an' inacc'racy iv an amachoor, though I mus' say, he had his good pints. I wisht I cud raymimber what it was he called th' czar iv Rooshya f'r dyin' just as th' pa-aper was goin' to press. I cud've often used it since. But it's slipped me mind.

"Swearin' belongs to some thrades like printin', bricklayin' an' plumbin'. It is no help at all, at all to tailors, shoemakers, hair-dressers, dentists or authors. A surgeon needs it, but a doctor niver. It is a great help in unloadin' a ship an' sailor men always swear—th' cap'n an' mate whin wurruk is goin' on an' th' men befure the mast at meals. Sojers mus' swear. They'se no way out iv it. It's as much th' equipment iv a sojer as cartridges. In vigorous sport it is nicissry but niver at checkers or chess an' sildom at dominoes. Cowboys are compelled to use. No wan cud rope a cow or cinch a pony without swearin'. A sthrict bringin' up is th' same as havin' a wooden leg on th' plains. Profanity shud be used sparingly if at all on childher—especially girls—an' sildom on women, though I've knowed an occasional domestic: 'Damn ye'er eyes' to wurruk wondhers in reg'latin' a fam'ly. Women can't swear. They have th' feelin' but not th' means. Westhern men swear betther thin Eastern men though I mus' say th' mos' libral swearers I iver knew come fr'm Boston.

"But it don't do to use pro-fanity th' way ye wud ordin'ry wurruds. No, sir. Ye've got to save it up an' invist it at th' right time or get nawthin' fr'm it. It's betther thin a doctor f'r a stubbed toe, but it niver cured a broken leg. It's a kind iv a first aid to th' injured. It seems to deaden th' pain. Women an' childher cry or faint whin they're hurt. That's because they haven't th' gift iv swearin'. But as I tell ye, they'se no good wastin' it. Th' man that swears at ivrything has nawthin' to say when rale throubles come. I hate to hear annywan spillin' out th' valyable wurruds that he ought to save to be used whin th' sthove-pipe come down. Not that it shocks me. I'm a Dimmycrat. But I know th' foolish man is hurtin' himself. Put a little pro-fanity by f'r rainy days, saps I. Ye won't miss it an' at th' end iv th' year whin ye renew ye'er lease ye'll be surprised to find out how much ye have on hand. But if ye hurl it broadcast, if ivry time ye open ye'er mouth a hot wan lapes out, th' time will come whin ye'll want to say something scorchin' an' ye'll have nowthin' to say that ye haven't said f'r fun. I'd as soon think iv swearin' f'r pleasure as iv liadin' money f'r pleasure. They ain't too much pro-fanity in th' wurruld. A good dale iv it has been used up since th' coal sthrike begun. Th' govermint ought to presarve it an' prevint annywan fr'm swearin' more thin was nicissary f'r to support life.

"I niver knew Father Kelly to swear but wanst. 'Twas a little wan, Hipnissy. Dhropped fr'm th' lips iv a polisman it wud've sounded like a 'thank ye kindly.' But, be hivins, whin I heerd it I thought th' roof wud fall down on th' head iv Scanlan that he was thryin' to show th' evil iv his ways. Mella Murdher, but it was gran'. They was more varchue in that wan damn thin in a fastin' prayer. Scanlan wint to wurruk th' nex' day an' he hasn't tasted a dhrop since.

"But th' best thing about a little judicyous swearin' is that it keeps th' temper. 'Twas intinded as a compromise between runnin' away an' fightin'. Befure it was invinted they was on'y th' two ways out iv an argymint."

"But I've heerd ye say a man was swearin' mad," said Mr. Hennessy.

"He wasn't fightin' mad, thin," said Mr. Dooley.

Fables By George Ade

The Modern Fable of the Periodical Souse, the Never-Again Feeling and the Ride On the Sprinkling Cart.

(Copyright, 1902, by R. H. Russell.)

Once there was an Indian who had a Way of Putting on all his Feathers and breaking out of the Reservation.

For three Weeks at a Stretch he gave a Correct Imitation of the Shining Light who passes the Basket and superintends the Repairs on the Parsonage. He was entitled to a Mark of 100 for Deportment. With his Meals he drank a little Polly. After Dinner he smoked one Perfecto and then, when he had put in a frolicsome

CORRECT IMITATION OF THE SHINING LIGHT.

Hour or so with the North American Review, he crawled into the Hay at 9:30 P. M.

At last he accumulated a Sense of Virtue that was hard to carry around. He was proud of himself when he counted up the number of days during which he had stuck to the Straight and Narrow. It seemed to him that he deserved a Reward. So he decided to buy himself a little Present, something costing about 15 cents. He picked out a First-Class Place where they had Electric Fans and Pictures by the Old Masters. He poured out a Workingman's size—the kind that makes the Barkeep stop wiping and look unfriendly for a Moment or two.

Then he remembered that a Bird cannot fly with one Wing so he gently raised the Index Finger and gave the Prescription Clerk a Look, which in the Sign Language, means, "Repeat the Dose."

It is an Historical Fact that when a Man falls backward from the Water Wagon he always lands in a Crowd. The full Stage Setting, the Light Effects and the Red Fire were all ready to make it a Spectacular Affair. Just after he had moved away No. 2 and had stopped worrying about the Winter's Coal, he began to meet Friends who were dying of Thirst. Then the Atmosphere began to be curdled with High Balls and Plymouth Sours and Mint Smashes and he was telling a Shoe Drummer that a lot of People who had been knocking him would probably be working for him before the Year was out.

Then he found himself in a four-oared

THEY WORE BLUE BADGES.

Cablet and the Sea became very Rough. There was something out of Whack with the Steering Gear for instead of bringing up at his Boarding House he found himself at another Rum Parlor. The Man who owned the place had lost the Key and could not lock up. Here he met several Delegates to a State Convention of a Fraternal Order, having for its purpose the uplifting of Mankind. They wore Blue Badges and were fighting to get their Money into the Cash Register. In a little while he and a red-headed Delegate were up by the Cigar Counter singing, "How can I bear to leave thee?" He put in an Application for Membership and then the next Picture that came out of the Fog was a Chop Suey Restaurant and everybody breaking Dishes.

Soon after, the Lights went out and when he came back to Earth he was lying the wrong way of his Bed with Blue Badges all over him trying to swallow a Bath Towel, which he afterward discovered was his tongue. By getting a Leverage under his Head he managed to pry it up and then he sat on the edge of the Bed and called himself Names. He had nothing left over except the Cards given to him by the Brothers from up state somewhere. He had a dim and sneaking Recollection that he had given his address and Phone Number to the whole Tribe and begged them to look him up.

"Not any more in Mine," said he, as he held a Towel under the Faucet. "Not for all of Morgan's would I look at any more of that Essence of Trouble. I wonder if I'll live through the Morning."

That Day he lived on Bromo and Ice and the only Satisfaction this Life offered was the Fact that he was a Reformed Man.

On the Second Day he could look at Solid Food without having a Spasm. His Hair stopped pulling and he began to speak to the People he met. When asked to step out for a little while he lost his Temper and made a little Talk on the Subject, proving conclusively that there was Nothing in it.

As he walked homeward in the Dusk he passed the Clubs and Cafes where those who Drank were rounding up, and he felt sorry for them.

"Why can't they pass it up, the same as I do?" he asked himself. "Ah, if only they knew how much more Fun it is to be Respectable."

It was an actual Mystery to him that any one could daily with a Dry Martini while there was a Hydrant on every Corner.

On the third Day he was cracking his Whip and begging people to get up on the Wagon with him. And he said it was a Queer Thing but he couldn't bear the Sight of it.

While on the fourth Evening he confessed to some nice People he met at a Church Social that at one time he had allowed himself to be coaxed into taking an occasional Nip but he reasoned it all out and decided it was a Bad Thing and simply Chopped it right off. They told him it was wonderful how much Will Power he had and asked him if he ever felt the Old Craving coming back on him and then he said he could see it splashing all around him and not have the faintest Desire to dip in.

He was so stuck on himself that he went around to call on all his Friends who kept it on the Table so that he could wave it to one side and tell how he despised it. He sat there and pitied those who were inhaling it. Every Morning when he arose he would throw kisses to himself in the Glass and exclaim: "Aha!

COULDN'T BEAR THE SIGHT OF IT.

The Head as clear as a Bell this A. M. I'll bet I'm the cleanest and nicest Young Fellow in this town. Any Girl that picks out a Sober and Steady Man such as I am will certainly be showing good Judgment.

As Narrated in the Beginning, for three weeks he worked hard at the Job of being an Abstainer. And at last he accumulated a Sense of Virtue that weighed 200 Pounds. He knew that he was entitled to a Reward, so he decided to buy himself a little Present. Just a wee Reminder of by-gone Days, and then back to Sarsaparilla. But he fell into a Crowd. There was another State Convention. It had been arranged for him so that he could get a Fresh Start.

MARCUS L. FAY

CANDIDATE FOR THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR CONGRESS.

Mr. Fay stands for the interests of St. Louis county and the Eighth congressional district. He is a man with a wide experience as a business man and an iron miner. He has been extensively engaged in the lumber business and his interests at the present time are manifold and diversified. From actual experience he is in a position to make himself a very useful member at the next session of congress from the new Eighth district of Minnesota, a district that has more diversified interests and is of more importance to the people of the Northwest than any other in the state, and there is no more important district in the United States.

Vote for Marcus L. Fay, a practical man, who began at the foot of the ladder as an explorer for iron ore and has been the employer of hundreds of men, none of whom but will bear witness to his fair treatment. Such a man the Eighth district of Minnesota will need in congress, and such a man is MARCUS L. FAY. Your interests can best be served by marking your ballot at the primaries next Tuesday for Marcus L. Fay.

MARK YOUR BALLOT FOR CONGRESS, MARCUS L. FAY!

A man of the people. A workingman himself, his sympathies are with the workingmen.

The Whirl Of Politics

Guy A. Eaton, chairman of the Bede campaign committee, predicts Bede's nomination by at least 2500 at the primaries next Tuesday.

Clarence B. Miller, manager for Judge Edson, predicts Judge Edson's nomination by 1000 to 1500.

These are the estimates issued from the respective headquarters at the request of The Herald, on the eve of the primary election.

They go to bear out the prediction that The Herald made in this column last week, that Bede would be rather an easy winner. His nomination is practically conceded, and no money is being offered to take up any of the bets offered that Bede will win.

Almost any odds can be secured on Bede. One bunch of $500 is offered against $100 that Bede will win. The ruling odds have been 3 to 1 against Edson, but they have not proved tempting enough to draw out any money.

The managers of the two campaigns differ a bit on the Republican vote that will be cast at the primaries. Mr. Eaton estimating 11,000 and Mr. Miller only 10,000. The difference is all in the country counties, the estimates for St. Louis county being about the same, 6000. Mr. Miller's guess is that the country will cast 1000 less than Mr. Eaton expects.

Here are the estimates issued by the two managers:

Guy A. Eaton, chairman of the Bede campaign committee, said: "We cannot concede Judge Edson a single county. His only possibility is Anoka county, but I believe that Mr. Bede will carry that county, as well as the other ten in the Eighth district. He will carry the district by at least 2500 plurality. I figure that the Republican vote at the primaries in the district will be about 11,000, which I consider a conservative estimate."

Clarence B. Miller, manager of Judge Edson's campaign, said: "I think the situation looks the best for Judge Edson that it has at any time, and I have the utmost confidence that he will be nominated. The best-informed men tell me that he will carry Duluth by a large majority, St. Louis county by a great big majority, and that he will carry at least three other counties. This will give him a majority of 1000 to 1500 votes. The total will be about 10,000."

It is evident from Mr. Miller's figures that he expects St. Louis county to give Edson the majority he claims for him, for even if he carried the three counties he claims, the Bede majorities in the other counties would offset them. The three counties that the Edson side of the little Republican scrap expects to get are Anoka, Aitkin and Carlton counties. They concede Lake, Cook, Isanti, Mille Lacs, Kanabec, Pine and Itasca counties to Bede. Mr. Bede's friends, on the other hand, claim a majority in Duluth, in St. Louis county and in every other county in the district.

Not a dollar has been bet upon the Republican congressional fight so far as can be learned. The offered bets on nomination have none of them drawn out any money, and there is now in the field $2000 to be bet at 3 to 1 on the nomination, or on any of the following propositions: Even that Edson does not carry three counties; at the rate of $25 to $40 that Edson will not carry two counties, and at the rate of $25 to $50 that Edson will not carry one county.

The details of Mr. Miller's estimate that 10,000 votes will be cast at the Republican primaries are as follows: Anoka, 600; Isanti, 400; Mille Lacs, 300; Kanabec, 300; Pine, 600; Aitkin, 700; Carlton, 700; Itasca, 300; Lake, 300; Cook, 75; St. Louis, 6000; total, 10,735.

The details of Mr. Eaton's estimate of 11,000 votes are as follows: Aitkin, 700; Anoka, 600; Carlton, 700; Cook, 75; Isanti, 500; Itasca, 425; Kanabec, 400; Lake, 500; Mille Lacs, 450; Pine, 650; St. Louis, 6000; total, 11,000.

The friends of Charles d'Autremont jumped into the Democratic congressional race during the latter half of the week, and started a canvass and campaign in his behalf. This was really the first work that had been done for him, while Capt. Fay had been working industriously for a week. Both men now have strong friends and hard workers back of them, and there can be little question that the finish next Tuesday will be a close one and a warm one. The fight is getting to be very interesting, and it has reached a warmth that does away with all danger of a poor turn-out of Democrats at the polls on primary election day. It was just what was needed to stir up the Democratic voters into attending the primaries.

So far as can be learned there has been little or no betting on this campaign, either, showing a delicacy on the part of sports about dipping into the primary election with their money.

All the betting that has been done is on the sheriff's contest, and much of that is due to friendship, friends of candidates becoming imbued with their partisan spirit to such an extent as to put up their money with the bookmakers. All of the ten candidates claim to be leaders, and it would be highly insulting to the other nine to pick out one and predict his success. This is the fight of years in this county, and it is attracting lots of interest.

One of the other county contests there is not so much interest in. W. A. Holgate is the outsider that is putting up the strongest battle against an incumbent, and while an incumbent has a plain advantage under the primary law, Mr. Holgate's canvass has overcome a good deal of that handicap and there is a general impression that this contest will be closer than any of the others, outside of that for sheriff.

The Herald's articles and interviews on the primary election law brought a little trouble into the lives of some of the legislative candidates during the week. They had not been very pronounced upon the subject, but many of them were so overwhelmed with evidences of a decided public sentiment on the matter that they now have no hesitation in saying that they are unqualifiedly for the law, and that they will oppose any move to defeat it. It is pretty certain that the sentiment redeath of any members of the legislaferred to is strong enough to be the ture that goes against the primary election law next winter.

• • •

One of the interesting things about the legislative contest is the issue in the Fifty-first district. It is a question there whether Duluth will get both representatives, or whether Two Harbors will get one, as most people intend. There is a hard fight on at Two Harbors between Dr. Budd and A. J. McGee, the two Lake county candidates, and if everybody does not look sharp it will result in nominating both P. C. Schmidt and N. F. Hugo.

• • •

Dr. Budd, whow as in Duiuth during the week, has put up a vigorous fight, both in Lake county and in St. Louis county. While in the city the other day he said: "My only request to my friends in Duluth is to see that the votes are divided between Duluth and Two Harbors. If they all do that, I am willing to take my chances in the result. It would be a mistake for the Republicans to cut Lake county out, as they are likely to do if they are not careful."

• • •

The Turtle River Pine Tree says: "If we don't miss our guess, a lot of staunch Republican papers will have to "eat crow" after the primaries to support the candidates they are now slandering."

This is particularly applicable to the News Tribune, of this city, and its rectangular editorials against J. Adam Bede.

The movement to put legislative candidates on the ticket, in the places left blank by the failure of Democrats to file for the primary elections, by petition, is growing all over the state, and it is probable that there will be candidates in every district by the time election day rolls around. Some Democrats claim that if they are placed on the tickets that way their names need not be followed by the word "Independent," or by any other word, and that in this way they will get an equal showing on the ticket at the general election. The Democrats are also convinced that the ruling of the attorney general that a man that votes at the primary election cannot sign a petition for an independent candidate does not apply where it was impossible for them to vote on a man for the office they seek to fill by petition.

Along this line comes another point. Attorney General Douglas has received many inquiries as to the filling of vacancies on legislative and county tickets by the committees of the several parties.

"The question of the rights of the committees to fill vacancies on the ticket is a knotty one," said Mr. Douglas, "and I am now engaged in looking up the law and the authorities. I shall not give out my opinion until after the primary election has been held, in order that there may be no advantage taken of it by any of the political parties. The election law provides for the filing of vacancies in one of the sections, but evidently this will not be in full force and effect, now that the legislature at the last regular session amended the law by making changes in the manner of nominations under the primary law. It is very likely that the question of filling vacancies will have to be passed on by the supreme court before the question is definitely settled."

The Le Sueur Sentinel, a Democratic paper, which lives in the Third district, says:

"The seven Republican candidates for congress from this district are having a 'monkey and parrot' time of it and no mistake. Some of the remarks that are being made will make interesting reading later on in the campaign.'

That situation is not by any means confined to the Third district. There are recurrences of it all through the state. The swing of the primary election campaign has carried many opposing candidates in the same party into calling each other as many names as though they were members of opposite political parties.

The Pillager Post says that:

"If a man tells you to vote your party ticket straight from top to bottom, do not take it for granted that he isn't crooked all the way up."

• • •

Says the Dassel Anchor:

"The 'crowd up at the Windsor' is already the campaign expression of the year."

"The crowd up at the Windsor" is a warm one, and it always has been. The Windsor's walls could tell some queer tales.

CAPT. J. R. RANDALL,

Candidate For Representative In the Fiftieth District.

Capt. John R. Randall was born in the town of Tyrone, Stucken county, New York. At the age of 2 years his parents moved to Hillsdale county, Michigan, where he was reared with the pioneers of that section. Late in the 50s he worked on a farm for 25 cents a day and bought his own books to attend school, the Janesville academy. Left school to to learn the miller's trade, finished this, studied in a mill office till 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning by whale oil lamp for light, re-entered school in 1860, passed through two partial terms of three months each, and passed examination second best in mathematics, first in all other studies, much to the chagrin of the other students that had attended school regularly. When the war broke out young Randall was the first boy to enlist in the town. He raised a company for the Fourth Michigan infantry, and was made captain. Older heads and business men thought him too young, and the company was disbanded. Not discouraged, young Randall entered Capt. Baxter's Company C, Seventh regiment Michigan volunteers, as fourth sergeant. With this command he served eleven months in the campaign up the Senandoah valley and McClellan's march to Richmond. He was transferred and promoted to first lieutenant of the Eighteenth Michigan infantry, Army of the Cumberland, was five months in the field, was the first to win promotion and was transferred and promoted to captain of Company F, Eighteenth regiment, in seventeen months' time from leaving home jumping eight first lieutenants that outranked him. Was slated for major in the same regiment in 1864, was also proffered a colonelcy of the Sevententh United States colored infantry, raised by Governor Andrew Johnson, of Nashville, Tenn., afterwards president of the United States. Resigned, came home and engaged in the milling business. Built two mills for himself, the last in Blue Earth county, Minn., came to this state twenty years ago, has been a resident of Duluth fifteen years, is energetic and progressive, and has quite a little real estate in this city. He will labor, if elected, for the future welfare of the people and progress of the same.

STULTZ IN THE LEAD.

Top of List For Superintendent of Schools.

The vigorous campaign that is being made for William H. Stultz by his friends for the Republican nomination for register of deeds is said to be a winning one, and it is reported that the surface indications are all that he is leading in the contest. His candidacy has met with much favor, and his friends say that there is no doubt that he will be nominated by a good majority at the primaries next Tuesday.

Mr. Stultz is a well known and honored citizen of Duluth, and this is one reason why his campaign is meeting with so much success. He was county superintendent for two terms, during which his record was unexcelled, and the affairs of the public schools of the county were managed in a most successful manner. His well-known attainments as an educator, are strong factors in drawing support to him, and that support is so generous and hearty that the impression that he will win out is gaining ground daily.

SARGENT A WINNER.

Sheriff Apparently Has Winning Combination Lined Up.

With only one more working day before the primary election, the general impression that Sheriff William C. Sargent has conducted a campaign that will give him the nomination by an overwhelming vote is deeper than ever before, and his friends say there is hardly a possibility that he will fail to get the nomination. He has continued his winning campaign daily since his return from the ranges, and most of the votes that the numerous other candidates seemed to have acquired during Mr. Sargent's absence from the city have flocked back and will roost on his trees at the election next Tuesday.

On the book makers' slates, Mr. Sargent is still the chief, and while other candidates have temporary changes, his odds continue at a point that practically bar out those that would bet upon it.

The People's Candidate.

Morris Thomas, an old-time citizen of Duluth, is coming before the Democratic voters of the Second commissioners' district to ask their support for the Democratic nomination for county commissioner. He does this, feeling that his services to the community warrant him in asking such support, all he possessed having gone up in the squeeze that stripped so many Duluth people of their holdings. If he is elected he promises to devote all of his time and attention to the interests of the county and the taxpayers. He is well acquainted with all parts of the county and its needs. He is a man of practical experience in county matters, and his contracting experience would make him a valuable member of the board in handling the county road matters. He was a county commissioner in Wisconsin and an alderman of the city of Duluth, and in both capacities he made a record that entitles him to consideration. He asks as a personal favor the votes of the Democrats of the Second district at the primaries.

ANDREW T. PARK,

Candidate for Superintendent of Schools.

VOTE FOR

Andrew T. Park | X

The Logical Candidate for Superintendent of Schools

ANDREW T. PARK,

The present county superintendent of schools, has filed for the Republican nomination for a second term. Superintendent Park has made a good official and has worked constantly for the good of the schools. He is now in the best possible position to advance the educational interests of St. Louis county, knowing as he does their wants and having the confidence and respect not only of the teachers and school people of the county, but also of the state and district. He is a member of the state Reading Circle board of the county superintendents' state committee on legislation, and is also treasurer of the Lake Superior Teachers' association. His high moral character, executive ability and educational qualifications stamp him as the man for the position.

As a Republican he stands on his record. Never has the party asked or even expected anything of him but what their wishes have been fulfilled even more than expected, both in financial help and in personal work. His vote has always been Republican, for he believes in the principles of the party, and in the people who carry the work on.

He is one of the common people and has worked his way up from the farm, forge and lumber yard. In 1896 he was honored by being elected president of the Cloquet Sawmill Workers' union No. 6711, American Federation of Labor. He understands and has confidence in the common people, and hopes you will endorse him Sept. 16.

Superintendent Park is a member of the Blue lodge and Scottish Rite Masons, a past chancellor of the Knights of Pythias order and member of Clan Stewart, O. S. C.

WILLIAM J. BATES,

One of the Leading Candidates for the Republican Nomination for Sheriff of St. Louis County, has for the past fourteen years been one of the best deputy sheriffs St. Louis county has ever known, is a native of Vermont. He was born in the Green Mountain state April 18, 1859. He came west in 1861, with his parents, who located in Chippewa county, on a farm. When he was old enough, W. J. Bates went into the woods and worked in various capacities, foreman, sealer, etc., and subsequently became a cruiser for the Cloquet Lumber company. In 1888 he was appointed deputy sheriff under Paul Sharvy, and he has been one of the most efficient and popular deputies ever since. He has always been a Republican, and says that he has ever been a friend and advocate of fair compensation for labor. Mr. Bates says that if nominated and elected he will devote all his time to the office.

J. B. MIDDLECOFF.

Republican Candidate for Nomination for Judge of Probate.

is well known to the voters of St. Louis County. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and came to Duluth in 1892 and engaged in the practice of law. He was elected judge of probate in 1898 by a large vote and served one term. His systematic administration of the office and his courteous manner made him many friends. He requests your vote at the primaries to be held September 16, 1902.

KILLED.

Wife of Senator Stewart Thrown From an Automobile.

San Francisco, Sept. 13.--Mrs. W. M. Stewart, wife of Senator Stewart of Nevada, was thrown from an automobile and killed yesterday at Alameda, Cal.

Through an accident the machine ran into a telegraph pole. Mrs. Stewart was thrown against the pole with great force, and soon died. Her home was at Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Stewart was enjoying a ride with her nephew, Henry Foote, son of W. W. Foote, an attorney, and H. B. Taylor. They were going along Santa Clara avenue, in Alameda county, Taylor sending the machine along at high speed. A vehicle approached, and Taylor swerved the motor in order to avoid a collision. At that moment he lost control of the steering apparatus or made a miscalculation. The auto ran into a telegraph pole, and the occupants were thrown violently out.

Mrs. Stewart struck her head, and was carried in an unconscious condition to a sanitarium in the vicinity, where she soon died. Foote and Taylor escaped with slight bruises.

Taylor is a cousin of Frederick Benedict, who recently was crushed to death under his automobile in New York. Mrs. Stewart was visiting her sister, Mrs. Louis Aldrich, who lives in San Francisco.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Senator Stewart is at present in The Hague, in connection with the Pius fund arbitration, in which he has taken a deep interest. The case involves title to a large amount of money claimed by the Catholic church of Lower California, to be held for it by the government of Mexico. It was due largely to the senator's efforts that the claim was submitted to the arbitration of the distinguished European tribunal now engaged in its settlement.

The senator and Mrs. Stewart, after the sale of their old home on Dunpon Circle, known as Stewart's Castle, to Senator Clark of Montana, and its subsequent destruction, lived in the winter time in an old fashioned residence on F street, near the state, war and navy department building. In the summer they spent more or less time at Ashburn, a village in Virginia, where the senator had established a large dairy farm, which he ran on scientific and sanitary principles. Of late years they had not taken so much interest in social affairs as formerly.

BROKEN

Will Be All Ore Shipping Records This Season.

Cleveland, Sept. 13.—The Iron Trade Review says: The shipments of iron ore from the upper lake ports for August were 4,078,311 tons, which was 476,306 tons more than for August, 1901, and 4925 tons more than for July this year, when all records were broken. The total movement for the season to Sept. 1 was 17,051,530 tons, as compared with 12,263,436 to Sept. 1, 1901. There is now little doubt that the total for the entire season this year will be close to 24,000,000 tons, in spite of the fact that docks are badly crowded and railroads are unable to do their part with any degree of promptness.

The financial success of the Labor day outing far exceeded expectations. Instead of clearing about $475, as first supposed, the Federated Trades' assembly has cleared $666, and this amount may be increased to about $700 by the collection of some outstanding accounts.

The receipts for the day aggregated $1179.92, which is the greatest financial success of any Labor day ever held in Duluth.

GORDON O'NEIL.

Few union men in Duluth have a wider acquaintance or are more popular than Mr. O'Neil.

He is serving his second term as president of the Longshormeen's local, No. 12, and besides this is a vice president of the International Longshoremen's association and one of the most prominent marine worker organizers in the country.

He has held many important offices in the Federated Trades' assembly, and for years has been recognized as one of the floor leaders of that central organization.

There are many of the lonshoremen in the Lake Superior district that would like to see Mr. O'Neil at the head of the international association, and this movement bids fair to spread to other lake ports.

The Typographical union of Duluth is doing much to aid other unions throughout the country. At the meeting last Sunday the union donated $5 each to the coremakers of Milwaukee, plumbers of Norfolk, painters of Norfolk and the garment workers of Jacksonville, Ill. All of these unions have hard fights on their hands.

Michael Walsh has been chosen as a delegate from the Plumbers' union to the Trades' assembly. He was obligated last evening.

* * *

John Barron, one of the assembly delegates from the Typographical union, was formerly president of the assembly at Port Huron.

* * *

The assembly is growing in strength and general organization. Three more good, substantial unions have affiliated. They are the horseshoers, printing pressmen and lumber pilers.

* * *

The Building Trades' council held a well-attended meeting Monday evening, and speaking of growing strength this central organization of the builders is now in an exceptionally prosperous condition and steadily strengthening.

* * *

The Building Laborers' union added twelve new names to its membership this week and that is the lowest number for any week since the union organized three months ago.

* * *

The labor temple project will now be pushed with all the enthusiasm that can be stirred up among 4000 wage-earners in a good cause.

* * *

President Dworschak of the assembly has been authorized to appoint a committee of five to draw up a new constitution for the Federated Trades' assembly.

The present constitution was all right at one time, but it has been amended and re-amended so many times that it is now almost impossible to conduct a meeting with any degree of parliamentary system under it.

The movement of the Labor World for a general Duluth subscription to the striking coal miners has been officially endorsed by the assembly. The cooks and waiters donated $20 to this cause and the steamfitters have put up $5.

* * *

Henry Perrault has been rendering valuable assistance in organizing the team drivers of West Superior.

* * *

The waiters' union is opposing the opening of a Chinese restaurant on the Bowery. The assembly will aid the union.

LABOR NOTES.

Grand Rapids has a reporters' union.

Denver shoemakers now receive $3.50 a day.

New York city has 150,000 organized wage workers.

Albany telephone linemen will receive $2.75 a day.

Morganville, W. Va., will have a $1,000,000 plate glass plant.

Spain has ordered the eight-hour day for government work.

The Master Horseshoemakers' union has 25,000 members.

Cleveland's new $45,000 labor temple project is assuming a definite shape.

The English Britannia metal trade dispute was settled after five months.

Rochester waiters have organized. They want $3 for day and $2 for evening work.

Greater New York's 5000 carpenters won the strike for the eight-hour day and $4.50 a day.

In Austria 70,000 miners have won a nine-hour workday. The men were on strike nine months.

The Bank of England employes, about 1000 people, pays a quarter of a million a year in wages, and £35,000 a year in pensions.

Mexican labor is so scarce as to necessitate sending for negroes from Jamaica. The latter are guaranteed employment for a year.

Edward Boyce, former president of the Western Federation of Miners, will be the candidate of the Social party for governor of Colorado.

The American Steel and Wire company is planning to build a hospital for the treatment of emergency cases on the grounds of each of its twenty-two plants.

The Journeymen Bakers and Confectioners' union of North America has 12,000 members, distributed in 223 local unions throughout the United States and Canada.

The National Association of Post-office Clerks, which held a convention in Kansas City, again declared its sympathy with the objects of the American Federation of Labor, but declines to affiliate.

A general committee of fifty-seven members of the United Brotherhood of Railway Employes has formulated a uniform scale of wages and sets of rules for its membership in the employ of the Southern Pacific company.

The arbitration board of the Chicago city railway agreed upon a 10 per cent increase in wages, a uniform working day of nine hours, and pay and one-half for all work over and above nine hours and two holidays a month.

The laws of Kansas provide that the labor unions of the state shall organize a state order, and select the labor commissioner, thus giving the unions the privilege of saying who shall represent them in so important a position.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the United Hatters of North America it was voted to levy assessments of 10 cents per week on each of 14,000 members—making nearly $6000 a month—toward the support of the striking miners.

The weavers of the American Woolen company's Saranad mills at Blackstone, Mass., who went out on a strike against the two-loom system in sympathy with the Olneyville weavers, have given up the struggle and returned to work last week.

The movement for a strict law against child labor has been taken up in earnest in Indiana, and an effort will be made to push a stringent bill through the next legislature. An educational qualification, similar to that in Massachusetts, is proposed.

The American Flint Glass Workers' union at Pittsburg, Pa., has gained a decided victory in securing from the Macbeth Evans Glass company a compromise advance for skilled men of the factories of 7 per cent in wages. This compromise is expected to put 5000 workers back to work.

The Brooklyn Plasterers' union has a rule which permits the union to fine any boss plasterer who may be discovered paying members of the union less than the union scale of wages in a very heavy penalty. This rule, it is told, has been of much benefit to the trade and has been strictly enforced for about two years, during which period, it is aso told, the treasury of the union has been enriched by nearly $2000 pair for fines by erring boss plasterers, and by delinquent members of the union.

The Iron Molders' Union of North America is making preparations for the inauguration of a general nine-hour work day. At the recent convention held in Toronto the plan was outlined and all unions instructed to make the shorter work day the paramount issue in future agreements. The different districts will be called into conference shortly so that some definite action may be taken by Jan. 1 next. In the district which comprises the local unions in Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Detrot and Milwaukee delegates will meet in conference within the next few weeks and launch the nine-hour movement.

COLONY

Of German Catholics to Locate In Saskatchewan Valley.

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—The Order of St. Benedict, which has its headquarters in Stearns county, Minnesota, yesterday closed a deal whereby it obtains possession of 100,000 acres of wheat and farming land in the Saskatchewan valley. Right Rev. Peter Engel, at the head of the order, states that the intention is to establish upon this land a German Catholic colony, for which the order will erect schools, colleges, convents and churches.

Associated with Father Engel in the promotion are Rev. Herman Bergman, of St. Cloud; John Hoeschen, of Melrose, Binn.; H. J. Hoskamp, of St. Cloud, and Moritz Hoeschen, of Freeport, Minn. German Catholic farmers, mechanics and artisans will be gathered from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and adjacent states, and it is expected that before the end of a year the colony will number at least 3000 persons. The land secured is said to be wheat land of a high quality, located on the Humboldt plains, east of Rosthorn. The consideration involved in the transaction was not made public.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Jesse Johnson, a negro, was hanged at New London, Mo., Friday. He dropped six and a half feet and was dead in ten minutes. His neck was broken. On the scaffold Johnson made a speech in which he confessed to the crime and said he had joined the church, had Christ in his soul, was the happiest man on earth and had no fear of the future, as he had made is peace with God.

Gottlieb Niegenfind, of Pierce, Neb., shot and killed his former wife, Miss Anna Peters, shot six times at Albert Beyer, her father, who died later, and shot the wife of Beyer in the shoulder, seriously and perhaps fatally wounding her. After the shooting Niegenfind left the house, and meeting Mrs. Peters' sister, Lena Beyer, attempted a criminal assault.

The Wisconsin Central management has advanced the wages of all shop men at Fond du Lac from 10 to 30 cents a day, making pay for skilled mechanics $3.20 a day. The advance was voluntary on the part of the road.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fair arrived in San Francisco and were interred Friday in Laurel Hill cemetery. The services were simple and attended by relatives and a few intimate friends only.

In a battle between revenue officers and moonshiners in McDowell county, W. Va., John Wooton, a moonshiner, was killed, and John Shuch, another moonshiner, was severely wounded. Will Denny, a revenue officer, was also seriously wounded. Eight violators were captured.

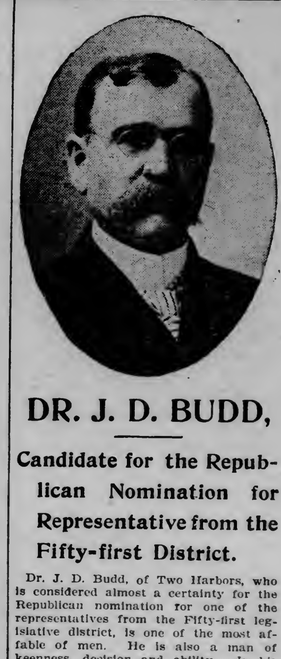

A new combination of paper manufacturers, to include all mills in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan, is being attempted. The capital stock of the proposed new concern, which, it is said, is to be called the American Consolidated Paper company, is given as $30,000,000.

DR. J. D. BUDD,

Candidate for the Republican Nomination for Representative from the Fifty-first District.

Dr. J. D. Budd, of Two Harbors, who is considered almost a certainty for the Republican nomination for one of the representatives from the Fifty-first legislative district, is one of the most affable of men. He is also a man of keenness, decision and ability. In his profession—that of a physician—Dr. Budd has been a very successful man and as a business man his progress has been marked. Dr. Budd has the endorsement of the Republican county convention of Lake, his home county, for the nomination as representative, and of the Commercial club of Two Harbors, there having been not a single dissenting vote in either case. This shows better than anything else the standing and esteem the doctor enjoys among his neighbors.

Dr. Budd was born in Wisconsin and was graduated from Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis., in 1872. Previous to that he served in the Union army in a Wisconsin regiment, enlisting at the age of 16. He is a member of and holds the office of post surgeon in the J. B. Culver post, G. A. R., of this city. Dr. Budd has been practicing medicine since 1879, since which time he has spent eleven years in Michigan, and the last thirteen years in Two Harbors. The only office he has ever held previous to this is that of coroner, his practice having been too large to allow him to accept the offices that have at different times been urged upon him. It was only after repeated urging that he consented to try for the nomination for representative, but now that he is in the fight he has his coat off and is making a fight for it.

It might be of interest to quote the resolutions of endorsement that the Lake county Republicans passed in convention a short time ago:

"We recommend the election of the Hon. J. D. Budd, who is personally well known to every voter in the district as a careful, thoughtful and thoroughly competent man, one whom we can recommend as such without any reservation, and one whom we will be proud to have as our representative in the next legislature.

GOWNS FOR CHILDREN

Fashions For the Little Maids and Men of the Golden Spoon.

The Gowns and Kilts They Wear At Play and For Ceremony—The Latest Modes In Paris.

New York, Sept. 10.—There is one difference between the gowns of the little girl of the golden spoon and those of her small neighbor of moderate means.

The former has her dresses built separately and individually and about each one there is some distinguishing feature, some decided character, while the woman of average ambitions has no time for designing dresses.

With the ordinary run of child's clothing, all the dresses might just as well be made off one piece of goods. Except for a difference in the color, and, perhaps, a slight difference in material, all the dresses are alike. There is no great distinction between them.

Over in London, where they are beginning to do things in a great way, there are now dress designing establishments where all day long sits an artist whose one sole duty it is to get up plans for the gowns of little folk.

Her instructions are to make the dresses pretty and varied as possible, but not at all expensive. He can run through all the chromatic color scale, and he can use every texture under the sun. But he must not select a style which calls for materials that are out of proportion to the child.

This dress artist studies the costumes of ye good old days, and he brings forth some very neat little designs from the Elizabethan era. He has good Watteaus, and he has adapted the Gainsborough to the small needs of his little clientele.

In the matter of making over the sailor suit, so that it is just the thing for both boys and girls, he is an expert. There were sent to her royal highness, the duchess of Fife, six sailor suits for her two little daughters, Alexandra and Maude, all different in cut and all of different colors.

Sailor brown is as serviceable as sailor blue and navy blue is a stand-by. Russian red makes a fine sailor suit and French red, while a little brilliant, is good as a trimming. Even Turkey red can be used upon children's clothing with cheerful effect and as for military and Chinese reds, bright as they are, they make good bands and belts and excellent cordings and pipings.

It is a very noticeable feature about the gowns that are made for the children of great wealth that they will wash, party gowns and all.

There is something in the up-to-date air which calls for the hygenic treatment of a child's gowns; and, after the little girl has scrubbed about upon the piazza, played upon the floor, crouched upon the sidewalk and indulged in a roll upon the gravel, her dress should be washed, be it black or white, be it silk of flannel. And the best, the most serviceable and the newest gowns for children are made in this way.

Now, there was a time when a child's play dress looked its name. It was a rough and tumble and it looked it. Plain, straight and even ugly, the child felt, and rightly, that when dressed in it she was in uniform. Often in a striped gingham, she might as well have been in prison dress as far as her own feelings were concerned.

At the first note of "company" away she flew to take off her play garb. Then, into a stiff company dress she was buttoned to be thoroughly uncomfortable forevermore.

Now, the object of the recent improvements in children's clothing is to furnish a child with a garment in which it can indulge in reasonable sports and still look pretty. Even the lay dresses are not outlandish and the cheapest of every-day suits are daintily pretty in style. Old pictures are copied with this idea in mind.

One of these dresses, built for Miss Marjorie Gould, daughter of Mrs. George Gould, illustrates this well. The child, a girl of 11, is active and fond of play. Her newest play suit, which is also a schoolroom suit, has a skirt of turquoise colored flannel of smooth teture. It comes just below her knees.

The skirt is what is known as a round skirt, but it is not so ridiculously full as "round" skirts are generally made. Its front hangs quite plain and it is almost snug upon the hips, while the back is a very little bit fuller.

There is a waist with this skirt, cut in Oxford shape, with three narrow plaits in front. The back has also three plaits. This is lined, for it is to be worn as a fall suit. A little turn-over collar finishes the neck and the cuffs are the turn-back variety.

When Miss Majorie is very much dressed up she wears a wide black velvet belt with this turquoise flannel dress, the belt fastened with a deep silver buckle in the middle of the back. Connecting with the belt are two narrow bands of sable that go over the shoulders and strap the waist in panel fashion, front and back. The whole—belt and sable bands—can be taken off.

A very pretty hat belonging to this young woman is a wide gray felt caught up at one side with a chou of blue satin ribbon. On top the wide ribbon with a little heavy lace falling over it trims the hat.

The plain skirted pattern is a very nice one for little girls, but the skirt must be not too full if it is to accord with the present fashion, and most of the fullness must be in the back.

There is the greatest amount of striving for picture effects in the clothing that is now made for children to wear. Each little garment be it for the boy of the family or the girl, seems to have what may be called a motif back of it. There is a special design upon which, and after which, each suit is constructed. This design is by no means a fantastic one, but is one that, while very pretty, is also very sensible.

Wash cashmere, wash flannel, washable serge and light cloth that has been shrunken and will tub, are the favorites among the heavy materials.

But there is more and more of a tendency to keep the child in the heavy cotton chevints and in the thick madras cottons, all wash goods, as late as possible, and to make the body comfortable by the addition of coat or cloak as the winds begin to blow.

As a matter of fact houses are well heated in winter and a child is almost warm enough in its summer wear. Many women do not put their children into heavy flannels, but make up for the lack of them by long cloaks for street wear.

The little girl's automobile and the boy's Kitchener coat will keep boy or girl warm on the stormiest days; and that is why you see so many light dresses shown for children just when you would look for the heaviest of wear. The unlined dress, too, is the rule.

A woman who studied the fashions of young people is the beautiful Queen Amelie of Portugal. This lovely woman takes all the fashion journals in the country and reads the fashion columns of the newspapers. She has two boys to dress, and that they are the most stylish in Europe is her special pride.

The future king of Portugal dresses mostly in white. He owns some very swell white silk suits, in knickers and blouse design, and his school suits are in wash silk—navy blue and white for summer and light cloth for winter.

Queen Amelie is said to have been the originator of a dress suit for boys which is now considered the correct thing for boys to wear at dinner. It can be made of white cashmere, and it is to be worn by boys from 5 to 12—boys who are too big for kilts and are not yet in long trousers.

This suit is in three parts, one part being a lace blouse with very full front and long sleeves.

Over this the boy wears a white flannel dinner coat, cut off after the fashion of a Tuxedo and buttoned at the throat but lying open the rest of the way. The neck is trimmed with a deep lace collar and the cuffs are of turned-back lace. The lace frills of the blouse fall over the hands.

The trousers of this new and very fashionable suit for boys are not gathered at the knee in bloomer style, and are cut off short just below the bend of the knee, in knickerbocker fashion. At the hips they are very full.

The full-hip cut, as now seen in boys' suits, is the style which the younger society men attempted to bring in some time ago, but which did not catch on sufficiently to insure its success.

For boys to wear in the house there are many house slippers, pumps and ties. The low-cut Colonial, with its buckle, is very becoming to the foot; and the dull finish suede is liked by the boy. The patent leather is too dressy a shoe for everyday wear, but just the shoe for dancing, and dull kid or morocco is much better form for afternoon.

Slippers are universally worn by the boy at home. The very heavy shoe which is now in style for the street is almost impossible for house wear, with its extension sole and its broad toe. Boys' shoes resemble those built for men so closely that the boy cannot tell his own shoes from those of his father.

The decorated toe is in favor and the cut-out patterns are small, but in good taste. The newest shoes for boys are shaped in the sole, similar to those of the grown-up man, and enamel, which requires some care, is now made in boys' shoes, as well as the new tan shoes that are to be worn all winter.

The square, clodhopper shoe, the shapeless mitten, the hat that did not fit the head and the impossible trousers have all been replaced by the most modern of everything for the boy's wear.

Nor are the new articles more costly than the old ones. But they are built upon more modern ideas and the boy derives the benefit. Some of the new articles for young people's wear make one long to be young again just for the happiness of new clothes.

Hats for little girls are to be large and trimmed with winter flowers. Big flat felts, caught up here or there, or left flappy in the brim, are massed on top with wintergreen leaves, gray and red, showing a wide range of color.

The small hat for a child's wear will be an article hard to find, for all of Dame Fashion's tendencies are toward the spread hat. But such a variety of hats does she provide.

There is the Chinese hat, with its flat top, to be put on perfectly level as to the head. This hat has streamers and a little flat trimming. Then there is an Egyptian hat, with its queer top, and its scant trimming of ribbon.

The Turkish fez is a hat to be worn by both boys and girls, and this is a small hat, but beyond this there is hardly a little hat to be found.

The Turkish fez is in great favor in the Roosevelt family, and Master Kermit owns one in Chinese red that is his prime joy. Archibald occasionally wears a fez, in the East, as well. The Bonkobor is and so does Miss Ethel. A red sash, or a black sash, or a white one, according to the color of the fez, finishes up the costume, which is often a very plain one and usually something that has seen the hardships of many washings.

The Roosevelt children are not mirrors of fashion by any means. They dress with great plainness, though their mother's taste in colors is that they be very bright.

Mrs. Roosevelt herself wears brown generally and a little jacket suit is about her style. She wears a blazer in brown serge and a close-fitting brown skirt these days, with a white shirt waist, trimmed with bands of needlework running up and down.

VERY STYLISH NEW CAPE.

Handsome new cape of dark green kersey, with design in shade lighter, appliqued on with dark green cord. Double cape, with high storm collar. An odd strap encircles the throat, with handsome cord and tasseled medallions.

PARISIAN GOSSIP.

Gowns of Black or White Lace Popular.

Paris, Sept. 1.—Gowns of black net, spotted or sprigged with white, are often embroidered with mother of pearl and made up over some prettily tinted silk. One of these stylish gowns of black net was made up over mauve silk, folded band of china silk in the same shade encircling the waist.

At Dieppe this week many black lace, as well as white lace, gowns, are being worn, the black ones almost universally showing a decided touch of white; the white ones displaying black velvet and sometimes black silk embroidery mingled with pearls. The hose worn with these black and white costumes are marvelously lovely, being made of black silk embroidered with white, white silk embroidered with black, or entire black embroidered with diamonds.

A charming toilet in white lace made up over cream silk had the blouse bodice portion of material made with a deep, original shaped yoke of white chiffon minutely tucked, the stock collar of white lace over cream silk being laced together in the front with black velvet, the ends of velvet forming bows and loops falling to the base of the yoke, which was outlined with a band of cream lace appliqué. The skirt portion of material over cream silk had the front breadth and the shaped flounce outlined by a band of cream lace appliqué, while the elbow sleeve of minutely tucked white chiffon was enhanced by similar lace.

A handsome evening toilet seen at one of the artistic salons on the Boulevard Haussman was made of black taffetas incrusted with black lace over white silk. This was cut in the princesse fashion, the decolletage outlined by an original shaped band of black lace over white silk, a boa of pale blue tulle enhancing the graceful shoulders. At the same time I admired a costume of white batiste, the pleated and tucked skirt of which displayed zigzag insertions of beautiful needlework embroidery over pink silk. The blouse bodice portion of material was cut away in the front and at the back to show a round yoke of fine white lace above a narrow vest of pink satin closed with diamond buttons, while black velvet ribbon caught the lace bolero at intervals to the crush belt of black velvet.

At a fashionable dinner this week I became interested in the details of a pretty costume in pastel blue mousseline over pale green silk, white lace motifs, interseted by blue satin pastilles having a pink rosebud painted on each, entirely covering the skirt, while the Louis XVI corsage was made of blue and pale green brocaded taffetas.

Sashes, I observed, were quite prevalent, many of them having the ends decorated with incrustations of painted flowers and lace; others ending in a fringe of rose petals.

Exquisitely raised embroidery and cut-out linen enhance the new summer gowns for day wear, which may be made of batiste alpaca, linon sou or serge, while stitched linon and striped batiste are still in vogue for the decoration of the highly favored linon gown.

Quite a pretty morning gown in pink toilet was trimmed with strappings of black taffetas, embroidered in white silk.

The newest yachting coats are made of wavy blue blanketing cloth, with facings of white cloth embroidered in white silk and Russia braid, closing with heavy motifs and tassels of white silk. Quite pretty coats for yachting are made of scouring cloth, closing with a double row of buttons down the front. A coat in cream scouring cloth had the overlapping revers, high turned-down collar and cuffs decorated with applique course lace, the entire coat being lined with white satin.

The Home and Its Mistress

By Emma Irene McLagan.

The cultivation of a spirit of goodfellowship is a fine principle for the mistress and mother to encourage in her home circle. Camaraderie, the French expression for this principle, or attribute, as you please, is more comprehensive than any one word in the English language, because it may be freely translated into coalition, companionship, coteric; thus expressing much that we cannot condense into one word. You must acknowledge, dear mother of two small sons or daughters, that, as a rule, they are nearly always on opposite sides when it comes to discussing simplest questions. Do you not often have to settle wrangling and disputing between the little belligerents? Is it not an almost daily occurrence that one comes to you with complaints as to injustice or abuse from the other? Indeed, I once heard a most excellent, careful mother say that she believed her boys hated one another. "They never by any chance agree," said she; "there seems absolutely no congeniality, and they are as dissimilar as one can imagine two people to be." I suggested that she watch their actions and spirit when they were not aware of her presence, and more especially in their intercourse with other boys, playmates. She was vastly relieved to find that they stood up for one another and each took his brother's part when occasion demanded.

Upon careful questioning I discovered that one of the boys was physically and mentally his brother's superior; that this difference had been injudiciously noted and commented upon in the presence of the little fellows; that the one had presumed upon his superiority, and the other had smarted under a sense of his deficiencies. There was the cause. The remedy, after the mischief was done, was to cultivate between father, mother and the boys, as well as between the latter also, a true, honest camaraderie, a spirit of goodfellowship, of comradeship, kinship, congeniality, gracious courtesy and forbearance. Nothing conduces more to the general comfort and happiness of the whole family than the practice of, to put it negatively, not disagreeing. To always agree, one with the other, is not possible, because children are individuals, crude, unformed, yet still personalities that must be allowed some scope for development. But one can disagree politely; there is not the least occasion for vehement or angry retorts; each is entitled to attention and regard. In this way only may the small tyrant and egotist of the family be taught that he is not so important as he fancies; in this way the timid, bashful child may be drawn from its painful awkwardness and become equal to its brothers.

Arugment and discussion are not wrong; those who maintain that argument breeds quarreling confound it with abuse; in reality, if governed by the laws of courtesy, there is no more beneficial course than to allow the children of the household the privilege of expressing themselves. Heat, but not anger, may be the rule for their observance, and you will be vastly amazed at the sound philosophy, if crudely worded, you hear. At the table, more particularly than at any other time, should pleasant discussion be encouraged. Perhaps you may never have known that anger, grief, nearly all the emotions, in fact, affect the digestion. Angry and sharp question and retort, disagreeable reminiscences, quarrels—all these at meal-time are likely to result in a severe attack of acute indigestion, which means a physician, a painful and dangerous illness, and possibly lasting consequences, fatal in the end.

To prevent these evil effects, then, dear mistress and mother, encourage camaraderie among the members of your family; check gently but firmly tendencies to rude interruptions and dogmatism; see that each small person is permitted his or her say and is listened to courteously. In this way your children may gain the habits of self-possession and self-restraint; learn to listen politely; to speak without raising the voice to a scream; to have ideas and opinions and knowledge of their own on such subjects as they should.

One of those homely, small economies so dear to the thrifty housewife may be found in the useful soap bag. Of course, you can make this of fine linen, embroider your monogram on it and fill it with morsels of $1-a-cake soap; also, can you make it of a strip of wash silk, embroidered in violets, and use it for bits of violet-scented soap for the tiny new baby of the family. Then you can, for all the rest of you; for the small son, whose hands are always grimy, and for your own hands, after sweeping, dusting, baking, etc., use an ordinary wash cloth made of Turkish toweling; sew it up at one end for a draw string; save all the scraps of toilet soap to go in it; tie up and use just as you would soap and a wash cloth combined. You will find this a most convenient and economical way to utilize waste bits of soap.

The New England housewife long ago invented the method of punching holes in the bottom of a tin can and using it as a receptacle for scraps of kitchen and laundry soap; you cannot do better than follow her example.

You are probably renewing your couch and sofa pillows at this season for their hard winter use; after the feathers have been washed and thoroughly aired in their plain slips of white domestic, open one end and sew in a long, soft, slender sachet of orris root, powdered. When you put on your silk or satin or cretonne or denim cover the pillow will be a doubly refreshing addition to your pretty couch.

Regarding sofa pillows! Where they are in constant use you will find zephyr gingham in checks of dark blue and white or in the plain delft blue a desirable material for covers. Make with buttons and button holes; have a supply and they can be changed when soiled, laundered and laid away with the bed linen. It is the observance of just such simple, cleanly rules that makes one woman's house so sweet and wholesome a place to visit, and their disregard that causes the stuffy, disagreeable odor of another's. Feathers absorb odors almost as rapidly as does milk, and should be cleansed and aired vigorously and often.

When you have the blues, dear mistress, instead of visiting your neighbor and talking over whatever may have caused the despondency, thereby making everything worse, go into your trunks and closets and bureau drawers; ransack all your pasteboard boxes, of which there should be many; turn out the contents and tidy up. When you have finished you will find yourself a little tired in body maybe, but ever so much brighter in spirit; troubles have taken their flight; you have rid your boxes of dust and possibly found something you thought lost. As a means to an end try this remedy for a spell of the blues; it is better than a good cry or a fit of angry rumination, and can be recommended as harmless and easy to follow.

YOUNG MOTHERS

May Need Helpful Advice at Trying Times. They Should Remember Mrs. Pinkham Freely Offers Her Motherly Advice.

"O, if my mother were only alive."
How frequently young mothers use this expression!
All through her life she has known a mother's watchful care.
She is now a mother herself and gains in strength but slowly.
She would give worlds to do everything for her babe, but cannot.

That tiny babe has unfolded in the young mother's heart new emotions; she has a living responsibility, and requires strength to enable her to perform a loving duty. At such a time too much care cannot be taken, and the greatest assistant that nature can have is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The birth of the first child is an especially trying experience and nature needs all the help it can get. A happy, healthy, young mother is a delight to herself and all who know her, and Mrs. Pinkham's medicine will build her up as nothing else can.

Mrs. Pinkham especially requests young mothers and wives to write her if they need advice. She has been mother, helper, and friend to thousands—let her help you—it will cost you nothing.

By special permission we publish below the correspondence between Mrs. Pinkham and Mrs. George Traub, of Elizabeth, N. J., which goes to prove our claims.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I will take my husband's advice and write to you, for I will not have any doctor examine me. I have one little girl. Two months before my baby was born I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and have now a fine healthy little girl. At five months she weighed twenty-one pounds, but my health is not so good. I am in such misery, pain, have dreadful bearing-down feelings, and something like a lump seems to be coming from me. Please give me your advice."—MRS. GEORGE TRAUB, 113 Miller St., Elizabeth, N.J. (Dec. 1, 1899.)

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have now taken four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I had finished the first bottle, that lump I wrote about grew smaller and has now gone entirely. I feel that I do not need any doctor beside your medicine. Your Vegetable Compound has cured all my pain, soreness and bearing down. The benefit I have received from it is wonderful. You and you alone will be my guide as long as I live."—MRS. GEORGE TRAUB, 113 Miller St., Elizabeth, N.J. (Jan. 27, 1900.)

$5000 REWARD Owing to the fact that some skeptical people have from time to time questioned the genuineness of the testimonial letters we are constantly publishing we have deposited with the National City Bank, of Lynn, Mass., $5,000, which will be paid to any person who will show that the above testimonial is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission.—Lydia E. # PREMIER

Of Newfoundland to Call Upon Acting Secretary Adee.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Mr. Raikes, British charge of embassy, who has just arrived in Washington, has made an appointment with Mr. Adee, acting secretary of state, to receive Sir Robert Bond, the Newfoundland premier, who is now in Washington. Although Sir Robert has not disguised his purpose of taking steps to ascertain what can be done toward the negotiation of a reciprocity arrangement between Newfoundland and the United States, asserting that he is acting in accordance with an understanding had with Lord Lansdowne, the object of his mission to Washington is not officially known to the state department, and he will be received as would be any other distinguished person, without reference to official business. It is improbable that Mr. Adee will be prepared to enter into any engagement with his caller upon this important subject in the absence of definite instructions from the executive.

TREATIES

Pending With Great Britain Extended For Six Months.

Washington, Sept. 13.—To save whatever chance might remain of the approval of the pending reciprocity treaties by the next congress, the British government has been steadily extending the period of the final ratification of each of the treaties which have been drafted by Mr. Kasson and are now pending on the executive calendar of the senate. Yesterday Mr. Raikes, the British charge of embassy, came to Washington from Newport for the purpose of securing another extension of the West Indian treaty. He called at the state department, and with Mr. Adee, the acting secretary of state, signed an article amendatory to the treaties in the case of Jamaica, British Guiana, Turks and Cacos islands, extending for six months the period allowed for the exchange of ratifications. This amendment will consequently carry the treaties along as pending business before the senate until next spring.

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

"Sis Hopkins" to Be Presented At the Lyceum Monday and Tuesday.

Otis Skinner Gives the First Presentation of "Lazarre," Based On the Story of a Half-Breed Indian Bourbon.

The story told in "Sis Hopkins," that delightfully novel rural play which comes to the Lyceum Monday and Tuesday, with Rose Melville, who originated the character, playing the title role, is quite out of the ordinary, dealing as it does with the life incidents of a simple-hearted country girl who is wholly ignorant of the wiles and the ways of the world. Her awkwardness, her clumsiness, her oddity of dress, her quaint sayings and her homespun philosophy have made her a prominent stage character. The strain of pathos which runs through the life of this girl does not overburden the play, but gives it an atmosphere of realism which appeals to the heart and arouses the most genuine sympathy for the childwoman. The comedy of the play is clean and of that higher type which of late years seems to have given way to the advance of lighter farce. There are many laughs in "Sis Hopkins," and the play abounds with specialties.

OTIS SKINNER'S PLAY.

"Lazarre" Given First Presentation at Green Bay.

The Connecticut valley has the distinction of furnishing the hero for the new play of one of the foremost of American actors, Otis Skinner having given the first presentation at Green Bay, Wis., of "Lazarre," a dramatization of the recent novel by Mrs. Mary Hartwell Catherwood. The novel is based on the story of Eleazer Williams, the half-breed Indian who was the great-great-grandson of the famous John Williams of Deerfield, author of the story, "The Redeemed Captive," a notable contemporary contribution to our colonial history. Eleazer, however, believed himself to be in reality the son of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette of France. And thereby hangs the tale of "Lazarre," and the novel character of an American half-breed Indian Bourbon, which is to be portrayed by one of the greatest of romantic actors. Mr. Skinner had long cherished the idea of putting on the stage the life of Eleazer Williams, and the novel gave him the long-looked for starting point. The dramatization is largely his own work, done after frequent consultation with Mrs. Catherwood. Mr. Skinner characterizes Williams as "remote, most mystic and possessed of splendid attributes for stage representation." He thinks the character will appeal strongly to the imagination and likings of the American public. Although Mr. Skinner does not need it for the part, he has secured some "props" which give a harmless little touch of realism to the presentation. His Indian costume saw service at Wounded Knee. Maud Durban will return to the stage to be her husband's leading woman in "Lazarre." "Lazarre," by the way, is French for "Eleazer."

Eleazer Williams, the putative great grandson of Eunice, the daughter of John "the redeemed captive," was born, according to accepted accounts, in Caughnawaga, N. Y., probably in 1787, and died in Hogansburg, N. Y., August 28, 1858. He is supposed to have been a grandson of Ezekiel Williams, an English physician and Eunice's daughter. Their son Thomas married an Indian woman named Mary Ann Konawatewenteta, January 7, 1773. Eleanor was sent to school at Longmeadow. He then studied three years under Rev. Enoch Hale at Westhampton. At the beginning of the second war with Great Britain he became superintendent general of the northern Indian department. At the battle of Plattsburg, September 14, 1814, he was severely wounded. He afterward officiated as lay reader among the Oneida Indians and took orders in the Episcopal church. About 1820 this tribe sold lands to the state of New York and removed to Green Bay, Wis., Mr. Williams accompanying them. In 1836 the society for the propagation of the gospel among the Indians gave money for his support as a missionary, which was withdrawn at the end of two years, the reports of his service not being favorable. He left Wisconsin in 1850 and settled at St. Regis.

In February, 1853, an article by Rev. Dr. John H. Hanson, appeared in Putnam's magazine entitled "Have We a Bourbon Among Us?" The author had seen a published paragraph to the effect that "Eleazer Williams was none other than Louis XVII, the son of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, who was born at Versailles March 27, 1785, and supposed to have died in the temple." Dr. Hanson sought an interview with Williams, who assured him that he was convinced of his royal descent. In an interview he told Dr. Hanson that until he was 13 or 14 years old his mind was a blank, but by it fell he recovered his intellect though not his memory. He then said that in 1841 on a steamboat, the prince de Joinville urged him to sign a solemn "abdication of the throne of France," which he refused to do. Later, however, the prince de Joinville, in a letter to John Jay, of New York, denied the alleged interview, and it is said that the story of Williams' French royal ancestry and the interview in question came from the interest de Joinville had shown in Williams' work as a missionary among the Oneidas.

Dr. Hansen issued a volume entitled "The Lost Prince" (New York, 1854), intended to prove the identity of Williams with Louis XVII. Hanson's argument, in favor of Williams' Bourbon descent were that his baptism was not registered, and that his putative mother once admitted that he was an adopted son. Many physicians stated that Williams was not an Indian and he had a remarkable resemblance to the Bourbon family. The belief was general that the rauphin was removed from prison and brought to America. Skandondough, an Indian, had made oath that the youth was brought by two French gentlemen to Lake George. Other evidences were the money that was sent from an unknown source to educate him, the de Joinville interview, which Williams recorded in his diary, and the marks on his body identical with those the dauphin bore. On the other hand, many Indians denied Skanandough's story, and Bishop Charles F. Robertson, William's literary executor, refutes from Williams' own papers the statement that he was educated with funds that were supplied by unknown persons, he having a notable contemporary contribution to our colonial history. Eleazer, however, believed himself to be in reality the son of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette of France. And thereby hangs the tale of "Lazarre," and the novel character of an American half-breed Indian Bourbon, which is to be portrayed by one of the greatest of romantic actors. Mr. Skinner had long cherished the idea of putting on the stage the life of Eleazer Williams, and the novel gave him the long-looked for starting point. Later, however, the prince de Joinville, in a letter to John Jay, of New York, denied the alleged interview, and it is said that the story of Williams' French royal ancestry and the interview in question came from the interest de Joinville had shown in Williams' work as a missionary among the Oneidas.

Dr. Hansen issued a volume entitled "The Lost Prince" (New York, 1854), intended to prove the identity of Williams with Louis XVII. Hanson's argument, in favor of Williams' Bourbon descent were that his baptism was not registered, and that his putative mother once admitted that he was an adopted son. Many physicians stated that Williams was not an Indian and he had a remarkable resemblance to the Bourbon family. The belief was general that the rauphin was removed from prison and brought to America. Skandondough, an Indian, had made oath that the youth was brought by two French gentlemen to Lake George. Other evidences were the money that was sent from an unknown source to educate him, the de Joinville interview, which Williams recorded in his diary, and the marks on his body identical with those the dauphin bore. On the other hand, many Indians denied Skanandough's story, and Bishop Charles F. Robertson, William's literary executor, refutes from Williams' own papers the statement that he was educated with funds that were supplied by unknown persons, he having original bills to the contrary. All this tended to confirm de Joinville's denial.

MAUDE ADAMS, WHOSE ILLNESS WILL KEEP HER FROM THE STAGE THIS SEASON.

Maude Adams, unquestionably the idol of American theater goers and perhaps the best ingenue in the world, has broken down under the strain of many seasons of acting and will not be able to appear behind the footlights for some time. She has gone to France from Switzerland in the search for health, and her manager in this country has canceled all of the time held for her. While Miss Adams has always been frail, the present breakdown is regarded as but the temporary giving away of a highly wrought, nervous temperament.

Williams became interested in genealogical research in 1822, and assisted in preparing a life of Eunice Williams, and it is probable that his tastes for investigation of historical subjects, with the knowledge of the doubtfulness of his parentage, created in his mind a sincere adherence to his singular delusion. He was an authority on Indian history, manners and customs, and was thoroughly familiar with the labors of the early French missionaries. In 1846 he became a corresponding member of the New England historic-genealogical society. He was the author of "A Spelling Book in the Language of the Seven Iroquois Nations," "A Caution Against Our Common Enemy," in the Iroquois language; a "Life of Pe-he-ra-twa-ne-gen, alias Thomas Williams," and a translation into Iroquois of the book of Common Prayer. The novel "Lazarre" assumes the truth of Williams' royal ancestry, and adds the corroborative detail, which is certainly purely fiction, of Williams' life at the French court.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO.

David Belasco Outlines An Actor's Requirements.

New York, Sept. 13.—David Belasco, whose success in making actresses and actors out of material not even regarded as promising by other managers has won for him a unique position in America's theatrical light, unburdened himself the other day of a few ideas on the subject of dramatic talent: "An actor is born, not made. He may be a rough diamond and need no end of polish, but the stone must be possessed of the ability to prosecute his art. This, in every instance, is a God-given talent. But the man who never finds his peculiar bent will always be a round peg in a square hole. Many a bad actor may have been born a good bricklayer, and I have worn shoes that were made by possible actors—they surely were not made by good shoemakers.

"Now, how is this rara avis a great actor? In the first place he must possess patience, perseverance and a genius for hard work. These are essentials. The man of ability will respond quickly to suggestion and criticism; he will have a sweet and sympathetic nature; he will be full of faith in his instructor and faith in himself. He will be known by his simplicity and modesty. The mediocre are always pompous, headstrong and unwilling to be guided or restrained. Suggestions, criticisms? These are but insults to his art.

"There are those who early in their careers have achieved a certain distinction but instead of profiting by this step, by making another in the right direction, they imagine themselves on the top rung of the ladder, and halt there forever or go ahead crab-fashion. Now, notice the difference between mediocre and real merit. The possessor of the latter is grateful for his advancement, and is quick to absorb something that makes his next step possible, and so he climbs on until he reaches the heights of the truly great, but even here instead of having more faith in himself, instead of becoming more independent, he continues until the end of his career with less confidence and greater dependence, and this is the real secret of his success, the secret of his growth, his simplicity and modesty, for affected greatness is ever arrogant and egotistical. There is but one great artist in every million of people. They may be counted on one's fingers. If this were not so the world would be flooded."

Preparations are complete for the engagement of Wesdon Grossmith, a distinguished British comedian, and his company of London players, who are to open the Princess theater here on the night of Monday, Oct. 6. Mr. Grossmith is due to arrive here on Oct. 4 on the steamship St. Louis, together with his wife, Miss May Baifrey, daughter of a renowned London surgeon. Herbert Sleath, who is known as the richest actor in the world, will also be of the party, and it now is expected that nearly every member of the company will be on the same ship. "The Night of the Party," with which Mr. Grossmith is to open the Princess, has been running at the Avenue, London, for more than a year, but there will be a few preliminary rehearsals in New York in order to familiarize the players with the stage and acoustic properties of the new playhouse. No American bookings other than that of the Princess have been made for Mr. Grossmith by Daniel V. Arthur and his partners, owing to their belief that "The Night of the Party" will easily finish the season at the pretty little playhouse.

Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger are making a careful selection of players for their coming production of Lee Arthur's dramatic version of Mark Twain's famous story, "Huckelberry Finn," which will be presented early in November. Master Web Baum, who supplied the needed cash that kept "Florodora" going until it finally won out in Gotham. Since then it has made a fortune for those concerned, and Fisher and Ryley will hardly miss the compromise money they have paid out to Dunne.

Margaret Anglin, is evidently a big favorite out in San Francisco, where she recently closed a summer stock engagement. A testimonial just before her departure for the East was tendered the leading lady of the Empire Theater company that netted her over $1000, which is rather nice in connection with the good feeling and esteem that this performance demonstrated is extended to Miss Anglin by her admirers of the Pacific metropolis.

Lionel Barrymore is to have an important part in his Uncle John Drew's company this season, as he will play the part of the Italian organ grinder of Mr. Drew's new piece now in rehearsal.

A little book just out has stirred up a furore in professional circles. It is entitled "By the Stage Door" and is the joint work of Ada Patterson, a New York newspaper woman, and Victory Bateman, the well-known actress. Mrs. Annie Adams, the mother of Maude Adams, has furnished a preface for the book, giving the stories in it her sanction and telling that she has witnessed some of the events and known the heroes and heroines in real life on the stage. The stories incidentally are said to be bold in their faithfulness to the truth, and this fact is what has caused such a stir, as it is said some of the truths told on the real principals in the story would have remained untold if they had anything to do with it. Fictitious names are used, but those who know have been able to recognize the characters.

FOOTLIGHT FLASHES.

Josie De Witt is singing in Berlin.

Hackett is to produce "The Bishop's Move."

Lole Fuller is to tour America this season.

Marie Corelli's "Temporal Power" has been dramatized.

The garden scene of "Faust" is to be acted in vaudeville.

"My Lady Virtue" is the title of a new comedy by H. V. Esmond.

Slenkiewicz is to dramatize "With Fire and Sword" for Bernhardt.

The dramatization of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's "Eleanor" is to be given in London.

Henry Miller and Margaret Anglin's "Frieser season lasted eleven weeks, ending Aug. 30.

Glen McDonough is the author of "Among Those Present," in which Mrs. Le Moyne will star.

Francesca da Rimini will be one of the characters in London's "Dante," a forthcoming Irving production.

The cast of Mrs. Genevieve G. Haines' society drama, "Hearts Aflame," includes Mrs. Felix Morris and Aubrey Boucicault.

At the Academy of Music, Chicago, the well known burglars, Sweeney and Burke, who were at Sing Sing for a run, are starring in "The Way of the Wicked."

Miss Clo Graves has written a play entitled "The Lovers' Battle: A Heroical Comedy in Rhyme." It is founded on "The Rape of the Lock," and among the characters are Pope and Swift.

The Chicago Dearborn Stock company opens its regular season next Sunday afternoon with Opie Read's new play, "The Harkriders," Emmett Corrigan and Mamie Ryan having the principal parts.

Clara Lipman's arm has become nearly useless by having been for so long encased in a plaster cast, and in its present state it is problematical how soon it will recover sufficiently for her to appear on the stage.

Hortense Neilsen, a sister of Alice Neilsen, and for several seasons leading lady of the stock company at the Lafayette Square theater, Washington, will soon be seen in vaudeville in Wilson Barrett's "Chatterton."

Brandon Tynan, who is the star of his own play, "Robert Emmet," or the "Days of 1803," at the Fourteenth Street theater, New York, has entered upon an agreement with J. Wesley Rosenquest to continue to star under his management for three years, appearing in Irish plays.

A blank verse tragedy in three acts has been written by William Robertson, a London poet, on the subject of Nero and his crimes, with Poppaea as the real evildoer and Nero as her remorseful, cowardly tool. In the last act she catches Nero wooing a slave girl, Acte, and he stabs Poppaea to the heart.

As at Orange and Beziers, an open-air theater has been started at Pont-Avon, in the fullest recesses of Brittany, where, with an old rustic mill for a background, a little piece called "Yves le Fou," by Sacha Guitry, was played on a lawn before a fashionable assemblage, the author taking the title role.

M. Truffier, one of the leading comedians of the Comedie Francaise, has accepted an offer from King George of Greece to establish in Athens a state theater modeled after France's famous play house, as well as a conservatory for actors and actresses similar to the Paris Conservatoire. All the French classical plays will be produced at this house, and at first the company will consist solely of French players.

Attila the Hun is the hero of a new four-act tragedy in verse by Moreton Hall, entitled "God's Scourge." Mr. Hall introduces the treacherous embassy from Theodosius to Attila, and the attempted murder of the latter. The death of the monarch is due to accident, a dagger on which Ildica (the daughter of Priscus the historian, whom he seeks to espouse) has seized as a means of defense, penetrating his breast. A chief agent in the tragedy is a Christian fanatic, Adrian, who finally goes mad from passion for this same Ildica.

In "The Marriage of Kitty," in which Marie Tempest is playing in London, the heroine's part enacted by Rejane in Paris, the hero is a young fellow who seeks to evade his uncle's will, prohibiting him from marrying a certain widow. He contracts an immediate wedding with another woman, who consents, on conditions of a satisfactory settlement, to leave him at the church door and permit herself to be divorced after a reasonable delay. This novel husband and wife soon discover that they really love one another, and the intended divorce never comes off, the widow in the case being left inconsolable.

The Tie That Binds

By Miriam Cocke.

(Copyright, 1902, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

Slowly Ephraim Day walked up the narrow path that led to his cabin. On the porch his wife waited, and through the open door he could catch a glimpse of their daughter Jessamine, as she moved about preparing the frugal breakfast.

As soon as he was within speaking distance he drawled:

"Waal Maria, whar d'ye reckon I've been?"

"Ye look like ye'd been tryin'," ter diskiver er gol' mine, or somethin'," she said, regarding the pick which he bore upon his shoulder.

"Right ye air," he agreed. Then coming closer, he confided mysteriously: "I hav been ter ther cabin fur ole Zeb Long's money. I mighty nigh tore his whole shack ter pieces lookin' fur hit."

"Oh, Eph!" his wife remonstrated. "En him jes burid yestiddy. I would er let him git cold in his grave, furst."

"Lord knows I've got er good excuse fur wantin' money, M'ria," he answered in self-vindication. "'Tis ether that er the prison, fur that fine must be paid, or back I goes. The jedge giv me five months ter raise the $500, en four months air gone, en jes $100 saved. An' I hev swore ter do no more moonshinin'."

"But ye ain't tol' me what ye found," his wife said to change the subject, for the memory of that time when their still had been raided by revenue officers, and Ephraim captured and taken to jail, still rankled. Eph had given his promise that I fallowed to go back to the mountains and make the money, he would return and pay the fine. The judge trusted him and allowed him to go home conditioned upon the promise that he would distil no more illicit whisky.

"Let me tell ye frum the start," he said. The pair entered the cabin, and Eph threw his pick over in one corner. "'Bout midnight last night I waked up, en the thought uv how ter raise that money gin ter trouble me. Then I got ter thinkin' 'bout that box that everybody sez is buried somers 'bout ole Zeb's cabin. I got up en dressed en stole out. It war powerful dark, but the onlies' time I wuz skeered wuz when I passed Zeb's grave. Then I walked a leetle faster. I went in, shut the door, lit my lantern, en went ter work. Every loose board I prized up, every crack en corner I looked inter. Nuthin' did I find. Then sumthin' gin ter whisper ter me. 'Tear up the floor,' I tore up several planks en lowered my lantern. Whut did I see but a flight o' stairs! Down the rickety ole things I goes thinkin' mebbe thar wuz er door er sumthin' down thar leadin' ter sommers. Ye know I allus did wonder why ole Zeb builded his shack right smang plum up agin old Copper. A door sure ernough I foun'. I beat it in, en crope through the openin', it must er been the devil leadin' me, fur whut do ye reckin' I seen?" He paused and looked at his wife. "A still! M'ria. A still hid in the innermost parts o' ole Copper, with several tubs o' mash settin' roun', jes ready ter be put on that furnace. All these years ole Zeb hev been runnin' er still down thar, en nobody never suspicioned hit, lessen little Joe Johnston did, en he'd never tell. I fell down on my knees: 'Oh, Lord,' I prayed.

"Daddy," she said, "trust me. I kin run the still an'—I'll do it."

'Lead us not inter temptation. I hev giv the jedge my word. I hev swore ter do no more moonshinin'."

An impressive silence fell upon them.

"But there be others that hain't giv ther word," Eph said at length. "E'en I could jes git somebody ter run that still fur me, 'til I'd be satisfied. Ef only," he added regretfully, "Jess hed been er boy."

The mother's face flushed with hot anger:

"Thar be one thing," she said, "I hope I may never do, en thet is ter blaspheme agin the workin's o' Providence."

"M'ria, yer know I didn't mean ——" But here he met with sudden interruption. It was Jessamine who advanced with flushed cheeks, wide open eyes and quivering lips:

"Daddy," said she, "ef people would hardly s'picion er boy er runnin' er still, they'd never think o' er gal doin' it. Daddy," she pleaded, "trust me. I kin run the still, en I will do it."

The mother stood spell-bound. The father hesitated:

"Let me run the still, Daddy," Jessamine said.

"Yer er brave gal, Jess. But it's dangerous work, en noways fitten fur er woman."

"I ain't afeared," she answered. "En I cain't let my ole daddy go ter jail." The girl was half sobbing. Impulsively she threw her arms about his neck. Ephraim drew her gently to him, and reverently kissed the yellow head that lay so close against his heart.

"Fur jest er leetle while, then," he said. "En may the lord take keer uv ye en keep ye frum harm, en wash out the sin o' hit."

Inside the cavern, the fire roared; the mash steamed; and a trickle of moonshine whisky began to flow down the rude receiver. Over it Jessamine bent, and adjusted the worm more carefully. Suddenly her attention was attracted by—what could it be? Something of the nether world about to appear, and casting a huge distorted shadow upon the walls? A scream arose to her lips. Then a voice came from out the darkness:

"Don't be skeered ,Jessie. It's only little Joe. I've kem ter holp ye. I used to holp ole Zeb, en I knows how."

The relief was so great that she caught him in her embrace. Had her eyes been able to penetrate the Stygian darkness of the passage, her relief would have been turned to terror. A dark figure crept along the narrow way, with the stealthy approach of a panther. For a while this figure continued to advance; then crouched low, gloating over the picture before him. With a suppressed chuckle of satisfaction, he finally turned and crawled away.

The next time Miss Jessamine Day flouted him and refused his company he would be able to tell her something that she did not think he knew. She might not make such a pretty picture behind prison bars as she did here, with the fire-light throwing rosy shadows on her face; but a more satisfactory one—at least to him, her rejected lover, Zeke Whittle.

"Jessie, the Revenoos!"

"Oh, Joey!" she said, half laughing and half crying. "Ye did giv me sech a turn. Don't do it any more. Call me first."

It was such a comfort to have some other living being to keep her company while at her task; and soon she and Joe were working and talking together quite happily. Joe told her wonderful stories about the fine young man who had just come to board with them:

"Is he a city young man?" Jess asked.

"Yes," Joe answered. "But so kind en friendly, not a bit stuck-up. At first Pa mistrusted him fer he a reveno; but after he tole him that he war er merchant in Bristol, en that his health had giv erway, 'count o' workin' too hard, en that the doctor had tole him ter go ter the mountains fur rest en quiet, Pa knowed he war all right."

One afternoon when they had worked until very late, Joe accompanied Jessamine home. Suddenly they heard a cheerful "Hello!" and looked up to see the stranger seated upon an old stump by the roadside. Joe answered as heartily, and the man arose and joined them. In his best manner Joe introduced his friends, and the trio made their way up the path which led to Day's cabin. Jessamine was timid and rather silent, but the situation was relieved by Joe, who chatted artlessly. At the gate Joe left them; but Mr. Miller, for that was the stranger's name, sat down upon the log beside the door, and looked as if he wished to remain awhile.

As Joe went down the big road, he soon became aware of the sound of horses' hoofs behind him, and darted aside. None too soon. The next moment a rider appeared, lashing his horse as if in great anger. Seeing Joe, he called:

"Out o' my way, dwarf! Else I'll gie down off'n my horse, en swoller ye alive."

"Ef ye did, ye'd hev more sense in yer stummick than ye've ever hed in yer haid," Joe retorted.

Zeke Whittle turned his horse aside and dealt the lad a stinging blow directly in the face:

"Take thet fur not knowin' how ter speak ter yer betters," he said. Just then Zeke was a desperately angry man, and little Joe happened to be the scapegoat upon which he vented his wrath. In riding past Ephraim Day's cabin he had seen the couple seated in front, chatting merrily, and ridden past them, vowing vengeance.

The summer days passed happily to Jessamine. That first visit of the stranger was but the beginning of many. Almost every evening Dayton Miller would find some excuse for wishing to see her; a book or magazine to lend her, or a package of city papers for her father.

Zeke Whittle had beaken himself to Bristol. The little tin box under that loose brick chimney-place was daily growing heavier. Jessamine's sky seemed utterly unclouded.

One morning a party of eight men rode up to Ben Johnson's cabin. The leader reined in his horse at the gate and called loudly. The next moment Dayton Miller appeared in the doorway. Ben was away at the mill.

"Do you know a man named Dayton Miller?" asked the sheriff.

"I'm that man," answered Miller.

"Then I hereby appoint you one of my deputies," said the sheriff. "I have heard of a still close around her—in fact, I have a pretty good idea as to its location. I want you to go on the raid with me."

"As soon as I can saddle my horse, I will be ready," Miller answered.

"Joe, will you——" But where was Joe? Only a moment before, he had been close behind him. Now, he was nowhere in sight.

Where was Joe? As fast as his feet would carry him, he was running in the direction of the cavern.

Inside the cavern Jessamine was singing over her work.

Suddenly a figure darted out of the darkness, a voice gasped:

"Jessie, The Revenoos!" and Joe sank exhausted to her feet.

Which way should she go? She hesitated, and every moment was precious. Thank God there was a bucket of water sitting near. This she dashed upon the fire. A great smoke arose, then all was dark. She remembered now. Joe had one day shown her a wonderful stalagmite formation that had formed in such a way as to closely resemble an elevated platform with a solid railing all around it, and was called "The Pulpit." Could she but reach this, she would be safe. She turned, half dragging, half carrying Joe, down the darkened passage she sped. A turn to the right, then down another passage she went. Above her towered the pulpit. From the distance came the sound of voices; the men were inside the cavern. They were coming nearer. Jessamine held her breath, listening.

Finally—it was Dayton Miller's voice:

"Didn't think to bring any torches! Ha! Ha! Among a lot of raiders you are, to be sure. Well, you'll never find anyone in all this darkness. Better go home and get your torches. I have matches," said he, striking one. By its instantaneous glare, something white at Miller's feet attracted his attention. He stooped and picked it up. It was a woman's handkerchief. Quickly he slipped it into his pocket while a vague suspicion flashed through his mind. To Jessamine's intense relief the voices now grew fainter and fainter. Yet she waited, fearing to emerge. Joe, somewhat recovered, sat up staring about him.

"Come," said he at length, "I know another way ter git out. But they like ter ketched us, didn't they, Jessamine?"

That night Jessamine sat by the window. As if in keeping with her thoughts, from the distance there came the mournful sound of the whippoorwill. It seemed to be coming nearer. Finally, could she be mistaken? She thought she heard a voice calling her:

"Jessie!"

She looked out.

"Jessie, put out yer hand en pull me up." It was Joe's voice. The moon shone full upon a box which he bore under his arm. This he handed her, saying:

"I knowed yer wuz workin' ter mek the money ter pay yer dad's fine, but 'twon't be safe fur yer ter go thar no more, so I brung ye this. 'Twuz the stuff yer dad digged fur en didn't find," he chuckled. "En I knowed what 'twuz all the time. Zeb giv it ter me, en I giv it ter yer. It's enough ter pay the fine, en buy yer some pritty clothes ter be married in," he added.

"Oh, Joe, how kin I thank yer!" she said. "But I ain't goin' ter be married. Ye must take back some uv it."

"Whose is this?" Joe asked abruptly, drawing a handkerchief from his pocket.

"Mine," Jessamine answered, "What d'ye git it?"

"Mr. Dayton Miller found it close aside the still."

"Oh," gasped the girl.

He asked me whose it wuz. Then I told him everything, Jess. En that 'yo wuz er moonshinin' jes ter keep yer dad outen prison. En when I got done talkin', he brashed his han acrost his eyes en said;

"Ef she kin luv her father that er way, thar wouldn't be much resk about her not lovin' her husband, would thar, Joe? En I think he's comin' ter see yer tomorrow night. So jes keep all the money, Jess, ye mony need it."

Then Joe slipped down out of the window and disappeared in the darkness.

From behind a cloud, the moon sailed out majestically, flooding all the world with its wonderful radiance. And what a beautiful world it was.

The county commissioners have postponed the hearing for Finn & Peppers' application for a liquor license to open a saloon at Drummond, until Sept. 23.

Harlow Andrews, who has been staying with his father here the past summer, has returned to his studies at Macalester college.

Nels Hillman has rented the Porger house on Fifth avenue and moved his family from Duluth and will make this place his permanent home.

C. S. Owens, formerly engineer on the Duluth & Iron Range, but who moved to Missoula, Mont., about a year ago, where he had secured a position on the Northern Pacific railway, was killed in a wreck near Gold Creek latter place last week. The rails spreading and his engine overturning on him.

The Royal Neighbors will give a basket social at the Iron Range hall next Tuesday evening.

Lloyd Forgy has returned from Ely where he has been working during the summer.

The rainy weather last week put the ground in such condition as to delay the logging operations at the Alger-Smith camps near here, it being too wet for the men to work.

Mrs. R. Monclaws and daughter departed for Grand Marais Wednesday on the steamer America and will make their home there during the winter, where Miss Monclaws will teach school.

Jacob Hangartner, Jr., of Beaver Bay, was in town on business Friday.

Mrs. M. K. Knauff entertained a party of ladies at tea Saturday afternoon.

The steamer Prentiss took on a cargo of lumber here the fore part of the week.

Rev. G. E. Pickard was a Duluth visitor on Friday.

The ladies of the Catholic church are making preparations for a grand fair to take place next month some time.

J. C. Lee was up from Duluth Monday looking after his business interests here.

The Scott-Graff Lumber company has completed its summer shipments of logs from Drummond two Duluth and have increased their force and are fixing up their camps and getting ready for their winter's business. They expect to cut considerably more this season than last, but in the aggregate the total cut in this vicinity the coming winter is expected to be about the same as last year.

The city fathers held a short session Monday evening, work being about cleaned up. The work done by Contractor P. G. Pastoret extending the water mains on Ninth and Tenth avenues and Maple and Cedar streets was accepted as completed and the final payment of $953 paid on same. A petition was received asking that a sidewalk be built on the south side of Tenth avenue between Maple and Willow streets. The liquor license bonds of Marren & Finn and E. F. Cook, in the American Bonding company, were approved and accepted. Other bills amounting to $363.25 were allowed.

Peter Horowitz, of Ely, and Miss Jessie Skinner, of Saginaw, Mich., were married at Duluth Wednesday by the Rev. Bishop McGoldrick. The bride is a sister of Conductor Harry Skinner, of this place, and has been visiting here the past summer, while the groom is employed at the city sprinkling station.

Preparations are being made to start the usual winter educational classes at the Y. M. C. A. next month.

J. G. Miller came up from St. Paul Thursday to spend a few days with his family. Joe has been quite ill lately and at the St. Joseph's hospital under a physician's care.

BARGAIN BABIES.

If babies were for sale the most inveterate bargain-hunting woman in the world would not look for a bargain baby. She would want the best baby that could be bought, regardless of price.

Every woman naturally craves a healthy, handsome child, and her craving can be gratified if she will but remember that the child's health is her own gift, and to give health she must have it to give. Mothers whose babies have been weak and puny have nursed in strength their first strong child after using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the best preparative for maternity, encouraging the appetite, quieting the nerves and inducing refreshing sleep. It gives the mother strength to give her child, and makes the baby's advent practically painless.

"My wife had been sick nearly all her life," says Mr. E. E. Fricke, of Petersburg, Menard Co., Illinois, Box 367, "and after trying everything I could think of I made up my mind to try 'Favorite Prescription.' I got six bottles, which my wife took, a tablespoonful three times a day, until the baby came. She felt better after taking the first bottle, and when baby was born he weighed nine and a half pounds. Today he is six months old and weighs twenty-two pounds. He is as good a child as any one could wish. The doctor says he is as healthy as any baby could be, and also says the use of your 'Favorite Prescription' was the cause of such a healthy baby."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for the use of delicate women.

Eveleth, Sept. 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Neil McInnis returned today from a two weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. F. J. Hoyt, at Cloud.

J. Adam Bede spoke in this city last Friday evening in Vail Hall to a good sized audience, which turned out in spite of the very rainy weather. His talk was well received and many comments of approval were heard from different sources. Mr. Bede's wonderful oratory, if he is "fired" the others quit too. The only way they could be induced to go to work again was to receive payment for the time they have already put in and have their pal re-hired. This was done, but still there seems to be some hitch and the work has been abandoned, and but 200 feet from goal.

DUN'S REVIEW

Industrial Activity Is Greater Than at Any Recent Date.

New York, Sept. 13.—R. C. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Industrial activity is greater than at any recent date. Many new factories and mills have been added to the productive capacity, facilities are being increased at old plants, and idle shops resumed through the settlement of labor controversies. A coke blockade still exists, the railways being unable to handle the output, which is above all records and in urgent request. Despite the rapid development of transportation facilities, the nation's needs have grown still faster, and the situation is distressing for shippers and consumers. Large crops are being harvested, and the greater abundance of food stuffs caused a decline in prices of commodities during August of 3.5 per cent as measured by Dun's Index Number. Retail trade is large with a bright outlook for the future in jobbing and wholesale.

There are few of the cancellations so numerous at this time last year, while collections are improving. An advance of 22.9 per cent in bank exchange at New York over the same week last year, cannot be explained by speculation, as dealings in stocks were also heavy in 1901. Railway earnings in August exceeded last year's by 4.2 per cent, and those of 1900 by 18.1 per cent.

Although the weekly capacity of pig iron furnaces in blastion Sept. 1 was reported at 335,180 tons by the Iron Age, it has since been appreciably curtailed by the inadequate supply of fuel, on which account numerous furnaces were blown out or at least banked. As consumptive requirements are increasing it is necessary to place orders abroad more extensively, and in some cases the entire output of foreign plants has been secured. Not only raw material, but billets and even rails are sought in other markets, German mills offering the terms in most cases. Heavy importations have prevented further advance in quotations, but domestic producers have a ready market for their output, contracts still running far into the future. Railways are in great need of new locomotives and other equipment.

New England producers of boots and shoes are insisting on full prices, and some grades that were slow to respond are now sharing the improvement. No sign of weakness is seen in leather, some selections rising still more, particularly the better grades of sole and belting butts. Slight reactions have occurred in some packer and country hides, but most lines are still firmly held. Liberal receipts have not depressed foreign dry hides. Textile mills are well occupied, with prices sustained in all cases, and moderate advance in some cotton goods, which are in demand for quick delivery. With the completion of early orders there has come a quiet market for woolens and worsteds, but mills have large contracts on hand.

Low stocks of wheat and poor grading of receipts, together with fears of frost in corn sections, sustained quotations when a decline would have been imminent if full confidence were placed in official returns of condition.

Failures for the week numbered 205 in the United States, against 193 last year, and 22 in Canada, against 18 a year ago.

CRIPPLE CREEK DISTRICT.

Remarkable Strength Developed In Stock Market.

Colorado Springs, Sept. 13.—The mining stock market has developed remarkable strength during the past week, and all signs at this time point to an indefinite continuance of the activity. With a few exceptions in the mines department, the market has about doubled in the value of the stocks; this has caused a very spirited local demand and buying in large quantities is the order of the day. Considerable Eastern money attracted by the low prices, is coming in, and the indications are that trading will be good during the fall.

A. P. Knight, of New York city, has been in the city for the past month attempting to effect a gigantic consolidation of the principal mines of the Cripple Creek district, the Colorada Springs & Cripple Creek District railway, the Colorado Midland and the Midland Terminal railways and the Portland mill. A $50,000,000 company is proposed. The negotiations have not advanced sufficiently to warrant any prediction as to their outcome.

Secretary L. E. Hill of the Golden Cycle Mining company, publishes the statement that that company produced $38,167.93 during July, the expenditures being $22,476.97, building and machinery $4238.55, dividend $11,250. The cash in bank Aug. 1 was $90,072.62.

The Ben Hur Mining and Milling company resumed operations this week on its Gold Hill property, having raised sufficient funds to drive out the sixth level entirely through the property, and also to sink a shaft to a depth of 800 feet if necessary. The company owns several hundred feet of the rich Midget vein, which will be thoroughly explored, as the showing already made in it fully justifies the proposed expenditure.

The directors of the Portland Gold Mining company met in regular session on Sept. 5, but took no action in reference to the resumption of dividends, this matter being put over until the next monthly meeting occurring Sept. 5. It is generally accepted in mining circles that a dividend will be paid on that date.

The new 500-gallon pump has been lowered to the 1000 foot point in the main shaft of the Vindicator mine, and everything is now in readiness to run out the tenth level to the main Lillie-Vindicator vein at that depth. The vein has never been opened at a thousand feet owing to the fear that a heavy flow of water might be encountered.

The El Paso Gold King company, owning the first shipping mine in the Cripple Creek district, has decided to put its shaft from 800 feet down to 1000 feet in order to open up the new body of sulphide ore discovered two weeks ago fifty feet below the eighth level.

The deferred annual meeting of the stockholders of the Prince Albert Gold Mining company will be held in this city on Sept. 29 to take action authorizing the reduction of the capitalization from $3,000,000 to $2,000,000.

THE ARENA OF SPORTS

The College Football Coaches Now Trying to Get Elevens Into Shape.

Minnesota Has Lost Several of Her Best Players—Three Big Holes In the Wisconsin Team Still Vacant.

Now that the college football man is about to don his war-like togs for another strenuous session with the pigskin, the hum of gridiron gossip is in the air.

In a little out of the way place on the shores of Lake Minnetonka, Dr. H. L. Williams and Assistant Coach Dobie are trying to develop an eleven to represtn Minnesota out of about twenty candidates.

Minnesota has lost heavily, it is true, but Dr. Williams has plenty of strong material to draw from, and the gaps made through the absence of several of last year's stars are expected to be filled with men of equal if not better quality.

Minnesota has lost Page, Lafans, Doble, Hoyt, Fee, Aune, Bidlake, Allen, Tift, Knowlton and Mueller. It has been ascertained that the following will figure on the team this fall: Capt. Flynn, Rogers, Thorpe, Schacht, Liggett, O'Brien, Harris, Boeckman, Nelsen, Jensen, Davis and Green.

Michigan's star back field will remain intact with the exception of Snow on the offense. The only veterans who will not be seen on the 1902 team are End Snow, Tackle Shorts, Tackle White and Guard Wilson. This makes the team start out with better prospects than at a corresponding time last year, although the most faithful Michigan rooter hardly hopes the team to equal last season's wonderful record.

The management is rather non-committal about the new material, but it is learned that a couple of promising youngsters from Virgina and one from Maine intend coming to Ann Arbor. Their names are not yet known.

From the present outlook Wisconsin will have a promising bunch of football recruits on hand when practice begins next Wednesday. Two good men are reported to have been secured in Finley and Catlin, of the Aurora high school team. Coach Stagg has been after them for his squad, but it is said they have determined to go to Wisconsin.

Emil Skow, last year's big center, is still doing the "coy" act, but it is believed he will be back by the time real practice begins. This leaves three big holes still vacant, at left tackle and the two half back positions. All the other old players are in good shape so far as heard from, and are expected back early, though some of them will delay their return until the week after the time set for the beginning of practice.

| Knox College | Good | J. F. McLean | Fred Ewing | Addison Elliott | 8 | 4 |
| Iowa College | Fair | Paul Tratt | Don Evans | A. P. Haines | 5 | 0 |
| Drake University | Good | G. O. Dietz | Norman Bates | Utterbach | 47 | 0 |

With a nucleus of eight old men from last year's 'varsity squad, Coach Stagg, of Chicago, has begun training his team. Ten members of last year's unsuccessful team will not return to college—a larger loss than any other college has suffered. Nevertheless Stagg and Capt. Sheldon are optimistic, for reports indicate that a record-breaking number of football players will enter the university with the freshman class which is about to matriculate.

Four of the stars of last year's team—Flanagan, the heavyweight guard; Garrey, quarterback and end; Atwood and Kennedy, strong, aggressive tackles, are among those who have given up the game. Garrey and Atwood will, however, use their experience to help develop a wining team for Stagg as assistant coaches. The old men who will be in the game again this year are Capt. Sheldon, Speik, end or tackle; McNab, a veteran tackle; Perkins, Ellsworth, Maxwell Conrad and Jennison. This hold-over material gives Coach Stagg a veteran center, two tackles, a crafty quarter back, and a number of ground-gaining half backs to begin on.

Northwestern will lose six of last year's veterans, but despite this fact Coach Hollister and Evanston rooters are expecting a strong team and a successful season. The two Dietz brothers, Johnson, "Dad" Elliott and Hanson have graduated and Paddock, right guard last year, has gone into business. The rest of last season's men will be candidates for the team, however, and Coach Hollister is expecting more good material to enter this fall than ever before.

* * *

The football outlook for Illinois is the best in years. Capt. Stahl is counting on a heavy, strong team from the advance material, and it certainly looks as if the Illinois will be heavier than in former years.

Stahl, Fairweather, Stone, Bundy, Rothgeb of the 1000 team, W. O. Fairweather, Murphy, Bronson and Becker are already at practice. The last five are new men, all over 175 pounds.

Stahl, 165; Dixon, Cline, 170; Amboy, Morley, 185; Paris and Erickson, 185; Hughes, 165; Caldwell, 185; Hoopeston, are among the new candidates to arrive next week. Davidson, tackle on Purdue, is said to be anxious to come to Illinois for Capt. Lindgren's place in the line, but the report has little foundation.

There will be plenty of heavy backs this year, Dakin and Coons of last year's team being the only missing faces to be reported so far. McCroskin, McKinley, Huntoon and Burkhart, a new man from Maine, are out at work, with a dozen other old backs expected next week.

Illinois will lose Lowenthal, center; Lindgrin, tackle; Doud, end, and Cayou, half; this fall, but with the present material at work and two weeks before the opening of school everything looks rosy.

Prospects at the university of Iowa are much better than they were at the same time last year, although Manager McClain makes no claims as to expecting a team of "world-beaters."

Manager McClain says that all but three of the regular eleven will be back, while seven or eight of the best substitutes will also return. Upon the fact that he will have fifteen seasoned men, all of whim have played together for one year or more, he bases a prophecy that the team will be at least 50 per cent stronger than last year.

The prospects of the Notre Dame 'varsity football team are good. Lawrence W. Boynton, of Binghamton, N. Y., who played guard and tackle three years at Cornell university and coached for Kansas university in 1900, will be coach. He has been an all-around athlete, being especially good in the hammer throw, and his experience in coaching will aid him greatly in filling the place left vacant by Coach Pat O'Dea. He will be the first Eastern coach Notre Dame has ever had.

Salmon, who played full back and who was one of the best line buckers ever at Notre Dame, has been elected captain for 1902-3. The right tackle made vacant by Fortin will doubtless be filled by Cullinan, and Pell will play for Winter's position of right guard. Pick's place at center and Dunn's at right half back will be open for new men. Left tackle will likely go to O'Mally. McGlue, who played quater back during the season of 1900, will hold that position.

From present indications the American league pennant race, which will end three weeks from today, will be the most remarkable in the memory of the present generation of fans. As the last turn into the stretch comes into view there is a bunching up of the leaders in the race which makes it almost a toss-up between three clubs—Philadelphia, St. Louis and Boston, with an outsider's chance for other two clubs—Chicago and Cleveland.

The last named club, which is playing by far the strongest game in the league at present, has made a plucky fight from the tail end position up throgh the bunch until it is actually within possible reach of the lead, although it is only possible and not probable.

The path of "Young" Corbett since he became featherweight of the world has been strewn with everything but roses. Before he defeated Terry McGovern for the featherweight title he was practically unknown in the world of pugilism.

Denver had been the scene of his principal battles, and his only victories over boxers of note were those with "Kid" Broad, Eddie Santry and Joe Bernstein. When he beat McGovern, who was considered the toughest piece of fighting machinery every produced in the featherweight division, he set the pugilistic world agog. Fight followers were astounded, and Terry's admirers could not and would not swallow the bitter pill administered to them by the Denver boy.

Everything appeared financially rosy to the new king of the featherweights and his lifelong friend and manager, Johnny Corbett. They refused McGovern a return match until they had gathered the monetary fruits of their victory. Terry had reaped a harvest, and they intended to do likewise. However, the sporting public did not fall over itself to get a peep at McGovern's conqueror, with the result that the theatrical venture into to which he entered did not "pan out" successfully.

Corbett, the champion, and Corbett, the manager, then concluded the public wanted convincing evidence that Corbett was no "scratch" champion, so arrangements were made to wade through the featherweight division, clean them all out, then take on Terry again.

These plans also came to naught, as, with all their good intentions, they got only one fight, and that with "Kid" Broad, whom Corbett defeated in ten rounds, but by a close margin. His fight with Dave Sullivan was prevetned by Denver and St. Louis authorities, and, with nothing but hard luck staring them in the face, they agreed to give McGovern what he was hankering after, a return match.

This settled, bids for the contest were in order, and the bout went to the Nutmeg club, at Hartford, the organization under whose auspices Corbett won the championship, for the juicy purse of $14,000. Matters began to look brighter for the champion and he went East to train for the contest. But the hoodoo which trailed him from the day he lowered Terry's colors pursued him into the Nutmeg state and bobbed up before him, clad in law and order regalia, and necessitated a shift to Louisville.

This unexpected but compulsory change of the fighting ground, it was thought, had throttled his hoodoo, but he had scarcely time to grasp the hand of good luck when he quarreled with and split out with his friend and manager, Johnny Corbett, and discharged Frank Newhouse, of Denver, one of his trainers. On top of this came the request of the Connecticut Law and Order league to the Kentucky authorities to prevent the fight taking place in their state. Fortunately for Corbett the governor of the state and the mayor of Louisville will take no hand in stopping the contest, which is scheduled to take place under the auspices of the Southern Athletic club on Sept. 22.

The champion's quarrel with his manager and his trainer, Newhouse, is to be deplored, as it leaves Corbett entirely in the hands of Easterners. There is not a Western man in his camp, and, as the coming contest is the West against the East, it strikes me the champion's interest and welfare ought to be looked after by a Westerner—a man who would see that he entered the ring in the best condition possible. I do not wish to insinuate those in his camp at present will not have him on edge on the night of the fight, as their reputation as honest men and competent trainers is at stake.

The Western betting men and Corbett's most ardent admirers would, however, much prefer to have a blue Western man to look after his interests in the coming contest.

Newhouse, the discharged trainer, is spreading reports that Corbett is negligent in his training and that unless he gets down to hard work he will be in no condition to fight. Manager Corbett has little to say regarding the training habits of his recent protege, neither would he acknowledge, while in Chicago, to the split out. The champion, however, verified the reports of the estrangement by stating he had been champion nearly a year, that only twenty persons knew of it, and that hereafter he would paddle his own canoe.

The other $10,000 race at Hartford, the famous Charter Oak purse for 2:11 trotters, went to Auzella (2.07¾), who is surely the mare of the year. She was not good at that, as she lost the first two heats, each in 2:09¾, and seemed so far off her usual form that her ultimate victory was a piece of rare luck. Auzella has not yet lost a race this year. She has started at every grand circuit meeting except that at Columbus, has won every time and enjoys the distinction of being the only trotter on the circuit that has beaten The Monk (2.05¾)—which feat she achieved at Brighton Beach after a great duel of five very fast heats.

A great many people expected to see Auzella beaten at Hartford by Susie J., who set the season's record for mares at 2:06½ at the Beach, but a few days before the race that wonderful young roan mare picked up a nail and had to be withdrawn.

The two heats lost by Auzella were both won by Idolita, whose showing has aroused much interest. Three years ago he won the Horse Review $20,000 Futurity at Dubuque, Iowa, and the New England Futurity at Readville. In the Kentucky Futurity he started a strong favorite, won two heats with seeming ease, tired in the third and lost it to Boralma, who eventually dragged off the race in the sixth heat, in which the exhausted Idolita was distanced, Boralma being driven out for that express purpose.

Since then Idolita has never started until a few weeks ago. Neither in 1900 nor in 1901 could he be brought to a race, and so little was heard of him this season that when he was named to start in the $15,000 Massachusetts purse at Readville it caused general surprise. He was not prominent in the big field of seventeen, but the race evidently did him a world of good, judging by his last week's performance. Previously his best record was 2:12, but he won two heats, each in 2:09¼, and his people say would have won the race but for a collision in the fifth heat just as he was starting to make his drive. His further performances will now be watched with keen interest. He tired after two heats at Hartford, just as he did three years before at Lexington, and some critics insist that he is only a two-heat horse. But it is still a bit early to take final judgment.

PASTEUR'S TRIUMPH.

"The use of vaccination at the Pasteur institute to avert hydrophobia shows some remarkable results, says L'Illustration of Paris.

"Last year 1321 persons underwent the treatment; 8 died of hydrophobia, but 3 of these were already suffering from this malady before the treatment was completed. This would leave 5, which gives a percentage of mortality 0.38.

"If the first three years of anti-hydrophobia treatment at the institute be excepted—years in the course of which the mortality was from 0.94, 0.79, 0.55 per cent, and the year 1893, when it was 0.55 per cent—the rate of failures has fluctuated between 0.40 and 0.20 per cent. One should consider this mortality of 2.4 on a thousand persons bitten as a great reduction, and as a proof of the great and almost absolute efficacy of the treatment due to the genius of Pasteur.

"From 1886 to 1901 the number of persons treated has varied each year from the maximum number of 2671 in 1886 to the minimum number 1308 in 1896. The average annually is about 1500."

SHOOTING PROSPECTS

Good, and the Flocks of Ducks Are Bigger Than At Any Other Time Since 1885.

Through the Middle West there has been an unusual quantity of rain during the summer, but this condition has not obtained farther north. Indeed, many of the lakes in the pine forests of Minnesota and Wisconsin are lower than they have been known to be in years.

This has not hurt the ducks, and the generally low temperatures have been of benefit to the young. Reports to the game commissioners of the various states in which the ducks nest show that an extra good crop is to be expected of all varieties which breed below the Canadian line. This includes teal, spritgails, widgeons, wood-ducks, mallards and several other varieties.

Of late years determined efforts have been made to prevent Indians and market hunters from robbing the nests of eggs. It has been impossible to check these people by force, and a better means has been found in getting people to refuse to buy the eggs. Many large dealers have refused to handle wild eggs at all and the trade has been discouraged.

Ten years ago it seemed likely that the end of duck shooting in civilized America was in sight. The birds had grown remarkably fewer. Large areas in the Dakotas and elsewhere which had once furnished good sport were almost barren.

A theory even became current that the ducks, like the passenger pigeons, had emigrated to avoid slaughter. At that time the new enforcement of the game laws began to have its effect.

There was first a checking of wholesale duck slaughter, then the number bred and reared began to offset the number slain, and then the total began to increase. It has kept on increasing, not largely, but steadily, and there are now more wild ducks in America than at any other time since 1885.

Many of the states have spared no pains to enforce their laws against egg stealing and the killing of ducks out of season, and this has had a good effect. Ducks have been increasing most largely, however, through laws passed for revenue.

In the Dakotas and elsewhere through the Northwest it costs an outside sportsman $25 before he can fire a gun. He is limited to the number of days on which he may shoot, and his skill on each day is limited.

These tariffs joined to railway fares, hotel bills, team hire, guide hire and other expenses have made the shooting of ducks on a large scale prohibitive to all except wealthy gun men, and wealthy gun men do not make exceptionally large kills, or shoot for an exceptionally long time.

The lucky ones, however, are going to have great shooting this fall. The woods and lakes will be full of fowls, and the Mississippi, that great passage-way for southward-bound ducks, will offer its usual sport to field men. Between Prairie du Chien and St. Paul are 1,000 islands, and each island has its lake and each lake will have its ducks and snipe.

The snipe may be expected down as far as the northern edge of Illinois by Sept. 20. The ducks, except the teal, will be later, being thickest along the river and in the lower woods lakes from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15.

After that date only the butterballs and ice ducks will remain.

QUAIL AND RUFFED GROUSE.

With the coming of the first of September the inhibition against shooting was taken off in most of the states and the double-barrel, which has lain idle for many months, was oiled and put into action.

Reports show that in the game sections of the country the birds have come well through the summer, and there is a good supply. It was feared that the heavy snows of last winter had killed out most of the quail in the Northwest, but the new bevies seem to be as big and numerous as ever. This will be good news to the sportsmen of Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan, Illinois and Indiana; in Wisconsin no quail shooting is permitted at any time. The total closure law has still two years to run. It is now six years old. The result has been an ennormous increase of quail in the southern and western parts of that state.

When the law passed quail in Wisconsin were practically extinct. The game commission, however, imported many thousands of pairs from Oklahoma, and the Western birds in their new and colder home did exceedingly well. Oklahoma now has a law forbidding the exportation of live quail, and the Eastern states, wherein the birds are few and growing fewer, will be hard put to it to replenish their supplies.

Prairie chickens, the hardiest members of the grouse family, continue to hold their own against shotguns and the encroachment by farmers upon their homes. The game laws have been reasonably well enforced, and all through the West there are plenty of these big flyers. They are not so plentiful in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa as they have been, but further north there has been a marked increase.

The best of prairie chicken shooting is now to be had west of St. Paul, and sportsmen who want good shooting, and any amount of it, will head in that direction. It has come to be an expensive thing to shoot chickens, as the shooter must travel hundreds of miles to reach the west territory, but men with money and time will still be able to get their fifty a day as long as they care to do slaughter of that size.

In the north woods above the home of the quail, through the great timber belt which runs along the southern shore of Lake Superior, the ruffed grouse, most beautiful, difficult and delicate of all American grouse, has bred profusely. The summer has not been too wet for the young and the covies are now fully grown. There will be plenty of ruffed grouse shooting in Minnesota and Michigan, but probably the best field for this bird is in Wisconsin, anywhere along the line of the Wisconsin Central, above the middle of the state, or in the great woods reached by the Chicago & Northwestern or Milwaukee & St. Paul road about and above Minocqua.

The man who goes after the wood grouse will need a good dog, of a light color and a pair of legs competent to cover a good deal of ground in a day. There is no form of American shooting which calls for greater endurance and skill, but the rewards of the sport are proportionate to its difficulties. In September the birds are tender and by no means so wary as they will be later in the season.

The best gun to use against them is the 16-gauge double barrel cylinder bored and loaded with smokeless powder behind a No. 10 shot. In October No. 8's will be the proper size, and in November 6's will not be too big.

The ruffed grouse is exceedingly swift of wing, flies through thick branches with a skill that is not short of the marvelous, and will fool even the quickest of shots a good deal of the time. A straight-stocked gun to get the muzzle well above rising birds and of wide pattern to allow of reasonable leeway is a necessity.

While the woods are in full leaf the shooting is almost wholly snap-shooting. The man behind the gun hears a roar and gets a glimpse of a brown body whizzing through the foliage. This glimpse is the twentieth of a second long, and no longer. It is his duty to pitch the gun to shoulder, keeping both eyes wide open, pay no attention to the barrels, but look as earnestly at the bird as he knows how and pull the trigger. More often than not he shoots a hole in the air and nothing else, but if the gun has been held straight and there is a bunch of ripped feathers floating and swirling and a thump of a fat breast on the dark soil, he will have that thrill which comes to no man under other circumstances.

Somebody said a long time ago: "If the woodcock had the partridge thigh, he'd be a better bird, say I," but it is difficult to think that he could be a better bird under any conditions. To paraphrase the good bishop, doubtless the Lord could have made something more savory than a brace of ruffed grouse saute in a Dutch oven over hemlock coals while the fire flares in the dusk and the balsam pines grow about, but doubtless also He did not think it worth while.

BOOT LAKE'S BASS.

One of the most beautiful of the smaller bodies of water in the Northwest is Boot lake, in Northeastern Wisconsin, not a great way from Lake Superior. It is deep and blue, is fifteen miles from a railway, is almost virgin to the fisherman, has every variety of cover and food that fish love, and is populous with black and green bass. The surest means of decoy to be used with them is the No. 6 spoon, trolled at a moderate speed.

Trolling is monotonous sport at its best, and even at boot lake, where a strike may reasonably be expected to occur every hundred yards, it grows wearisome fast. It has the redeeming feature in this water, however, that the man with the rod never knows exactly what he has got until the fish shows above the water.

He may hook a four-pound bigmouth, or a three-pound red-eye, or a wall-eyed pike, or a muskallonge. For this reason it is better to have the line of strong material, and to have also a short wire snell above the hook to guard against pike or musky cutting the line.

There are days when not a fish is to be taken in Boot lake by casting or still fishing, yet dozens of the finest, fattest and strongest bass fall victims to the trolled spoon. Not long ago Robert Isbell, of St. Louis, guided by William Berrig, of Minocqua, visited Boot lake in the morning, intending to stay through the day, camp on the bank at noon, fry some fish for luncheon and put in the afternoon getting more bass.

By 11:30 they had fifty-nine red-eyed bass in the boat, averaging 2½ pounds each. They quit fishing then and went back to regular camp for their midday meal.

Of course a black bass hooked upon a trolled spoon will put up as good a fight as if hooked upon cast bait, and it is the fighting of them which lends the only good element to trolling. It is the practice of some guides to drag them to death when fastened, just as they drag muskallonge, but a man with the right angler's blood in him will never permit this.

Some of Scott's red-eyes weighed more than four pounds each and one ran to 5¾ pounds, a fat, powerful fellow which fought for five minutes before he could be mastered with a stiff heavy steel rod and linen line of thirty pounds' breaking strain.

HUMORS OF THE BASS.

As a general thing lake bass of either the large-mouthed or the small-mouthed variety may be taken by casting bait, natural or artificial, but the bass of some waters are exceptions to the rule, and this peculiarity occasionally extends over an entire district. For instance, in Northwestern Wisconsin, within 100 miles of St. Paul there are possibly 50 lakes which outwardly do not differ from other lakes of the north woods.

They contain dead trees, brush heaps half submerged, weeds growing from the bottom, lily pads and other forms of cover that bass love, but it is rare to find one of them in which bass may be taken by the caster. Trolling is the only way in which the fish may be captured, the boat going slowly and keeping ten feet out from the edge of the pads, the man in the stern having out some forty feet of line, with only a bare spoon at the end of it.

This is the more singular, as the motion of a spoon that is cast and reeled in is identical with that of a trolled spoon. There is something in the splash of the spoon as it strikes the surface which scares these fish or tells them that danger is near. They hit at the spoon freely, when it is dragged by them quietly, but will have none of it if it falls near them and then starts away.

In some of these lakes neither trolling nor casting is of any avail, and something of an oddity to most sportsmen, but nothing strange to people who visit those waters year after year, only still fishing will fill the angler's sack or stringer. A small-mouthed bass which will not strike at a lure is something of an oddity to most sportsmen, but nothing strange to people who visit those waters year after year.

There is also found often a wide difference in the method of attack of bass of the same species in contiguous waters. In Vilas coutny, Wisconsin, is Priest lake. There the bass, whether big or little mouthed, take the live minnow much as a sucker or a lazy pike would take it.

They will not strike at all and casting is of no value. The still fisher drops his minnow overboard and permits the little lead to carry it twenty feet down. hTe bass takes it so gingerly that there is no perceptible jerk of the line.

The man knows that a fish has struck only because the reel revolves slowly as the line is taken out. When two or three seconds have elapsed the barb is sunk home and the angler has as pretty a fight as if the bass had struck violently from twenty feet away, but it is to be confessed that the sport lacks some charming elements to which the bass man in other waters is used.

In Sweeny's lake, only a short distance away and connected with Priest lake, the bass take the minnow with a rush. They will not rise to a cast, but when they find a minnow dangling will hit it as if they were going into the next county with it. The angler is never a moment in doubt as to whether he really has a red-eye or a small croppie fooling with him.

In neither Priest lake nor Sweeny's lake can any fish be taken by trolling. In neither lake is the spoon of any value, nor in either lake is the frog or crawfish of any good. The bass want minnows from end to end of the year and they want them put down gently into the water and sunk deep.

Life's Miseries!

Not one of life's miseries is greater than backache.

The back that's lame, or weak, or aching tells of sick kidneys—of urinary troubles—of poisons left in the blood.

Backache is simply kidneyache—the cry for help that the little filters of the blood send out when they can't do their work.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

are the sure and simple cure—take away the cause and the backache quickly disappears. There's plenty of proof of it—evidence right here in Duluth.

'Tis easily investigated.

DULUTH PROOF.

Mrs. M. McGillivray, of 1228 Superior street, says: "I was troubled with my kidneys a good deal for a year or two and had neavy, dull pains through my loins. My back tired easily especially if I reclined or sat long in one position. In the morning I felt tired and worn out. The kidney secretions were unnatural and I was troubled with persistent headaches. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, procured a box from W. A. Abbett's drug store and began to use the preparation. I received wonderful benefit from the treatment and since using Doan's Kidney Pills I have felt splendid."
